1969	7/13/2012	People misusing the library? Or, people not respecting the funding. Portland libraries are treasures that need to be supported if not financially, at least respectfully. Educate, educate, educate!!!
1970	7/13/2012	That they will lose fundings
1971	7/13/2012	Foolish budget cuts that ignore the continuous education of our people as a basic human need.
1972	7/13/2012	not having the funding to keep all the branches open
1973	7/13/2012	Under funding
1974	7/13/2012	The weak economy forcing cash-strapped citizens to vote against funding it.
1975	7/13/2012	running out of ideas to send taxpayers money.
1976	7/13/2012	lack of funding...
1977	7/13/2012	Lack of funding
1978	7/13/2012	money?
1979	7/13/2012	Wear and tear on the buildings, people disrespect for properties.
1980	7/13/2012	Crabby librarians that drive people away.
1981	7/13/2012	Variable funding.
1982	7/13/2012	Technology
1983	7/13/2012	Apathy / people not realizing their importance.
1984	7/13/2012	decreased interest in reading & funding
1985	7/13/2012	funding

1986	7/13/2012	My late fees :(
1987	7/13/2012	tax cuts, shortage of funding, technology that cuts jobs and eliminates people from helping people
1988	7/13/2012	Lack of availability
1989	7/13/2012	lack of funding
1990	7/13/2012	Lack of funds. :(
1991	7/13/2012	Cutting hours and cutting days open
1992	7/13/2012	Lack of funding
1993	7/13/2012	I'm not sure if I understand the question, but it makes me absolutely nauseous to think that funding is being cut from such an incredibly important part of our community. The public library is probably one of the most useful and meaningful and beneficial things in our society and the greatest threat is anyone who doesn't recognize this.
1994	7/13/2012	Lack of funding
1995	7/13/2012	Lack of funding. Not being able to have all branches open and staffed at times needed by patrons. Having to close at 6pm shuts out many people who work until 5pm or later. Not being open on weekends shuts out a majority of people with common scheduling while not being open midweek shuts out people who work weekends. Accessibility is highly important, especially for those of us with irregular or non-standard schedules. We need to have the library staffed and open for as many people as possible.
1996	7/13/2012
1997	7/13/2012	People not using them.
1998	7/13/2012	I'm not aware of any.
1999	7/13/2012	Stealing shortage of use and budget cutx
2000	7/13/2012	Cell phones? Shortened attention spans? School education budgets?
2001	7/13/2012	budget cuts!!!!budget cuts!!!!
2002	7/13/2012	lack of funding
2003	7/13/2012	being underfunded
2004	7/13/2012	Inadequate funding
2005	7/13/2012	Not enough support from citizens.[] On line books and movies
2006	7/13/2012	Lack of respect for people who want to learn. Closure.
2007	7/13/2012	Funding
2008	7/13/2012	lack of funding
2009	7/13/2012	I don't know
2010	7/13/2012	Tight purse-strings are the biggest threat to the local library. The true threat to the library is not a benighted populace like in some cities, but a fiscal weariness. Many in Portland are hypocritical--they like the social services but haven't the desire to really pay for them. Current funding of the library (and other services) only allows it to limp along, not thrive.
2011	7/13/2012	Treating them as expendable resources. Libraries are vital to our democracy.

2012	7/13/2012	I think the biggest threat is having the hours cut so much that people quit going to the library because 1) they cannot get there during the limited hours and 2) they find that as a result, it has become irrelevant and they lose interest in funding it.
2013	7/13/2012	short hours--I can't keep track of when it is open and when it isn't
2014	7/13/2012	Lack of consistent funding
2015	7/13/2012	I'm please with the materials and the staff at the Gresham and Rockwood locations. I can't speak to programs for seniors or resources for job seeks, business owners or English language learners. For me and my children, our biggest disappointment would be if hours were cut further or locations closed.
2016	7/13/2012	politics
2017	7/13/2012	Money!
2018	7/13/2012	Ignorance is the biggest threat to our local libraries. The sad thing is they are part of the solution to ignorance. I feel that the culture of no taxes is going to kill off programs like libraries until we spiral into the depths of ignorance. We will need our libraries and other institutions of learning to pull out of the current state of unsustainable lifestyles.
2019	7/13/2012	I think funding is a challenge and the changing media.
2020	7/13/2012	Lack of funding. Those who tend to need and use the library the most are those whose tax base doesn't generate sufficient revenue. It would be nice to have a scaled tax assessment relative to your property values. A higher percentage is assessed with the greater property value. I guess have the affluent pay a little more for the privilege of using our libraries.
2021	7/13/2012	Ability to find resources online.
2022	7/13/2012	Shorten hours/less days open
2023	7/13/2012	People reading less in general, and/or more material on-line and less in actual books. People undervaluing what libraries offer to the community.
2024	7/13/2012	Losing access. What's the point if you don't have access? People have complicated schedules; the more hours available the more people the library will be available to. I am new to the area and I don't know what the threats are. I will tell you what I notice, but know that I do not know how decisions were made or how locations are funded.[]
2025	7/13/2012	I teach literacy and English language learners in K-6. About one third of picture books I have looked for this past year were not in your stock (but that does mean that two thirds were, which is nice).[] The Northwest location is small and is not the most convenient for finding books (picture books and historical fiction for adults) to take home that day--
2026	7/13/2012	People who don't vote for referendums to fund the library.
2027	7/13/2012	cuts in funding
2028	7/13/2012	Lack of funding for current material and operating hours; Electronic books making hard copies less desirable so tax payers see less value in funding library needs.
2029	7/13/2012	Lack of stable funding.

2030	7/13/2012	Lack of current technology and multi-media. Funding
2031	7/13/2012	Reduction of hours.
2032	7/13/2012	closing branches and limited hours
2033	7/13/2012	?Funding?
2034	7/13/2012	Being Closed
2035	7/13/2012	The biggest threat is closing a library. Libraries are what complete a community.
2036	7/13/2012	Decreased or lack of funding to maintain at least what is currently available.
2037	7/13/2012	Computers
2038	7/13/2012	Republicans
2039	7/13/2012	Sounds like it's a lack of funding.
2040	7/13/2012	Stable funding, not outreaching to the public to support our libraries
2041	7/13/2012	since ebooks have become popular people do not want to hold or check out books.
2042	7/13/2012	Budget cuts
2043	7/13/2012	Lack of support and funds.
2044	7/13/2012	Trying to do too much. Really can't do it all and there are other resources that provide some of the activities.
2045	7/13/2012	cuts from state and regional administrators who always love to gut public service over administrative projects and funding.
2046	7/13/2012	Privatization of formerly public resources, which define the benchmark of a community's quality. Perhaps publishers and manufacturers who see public sources as a cut into their profits.
2047	7/13/2012	The biggest threat is that the public library is rapidly becoming daycare for Mexicans. Classes for people from foreign countries and preference given to non English speaking people is UN-AMERICAN. The self checkout doesn't make much sense to me either. Also, when I have used the computers, peoples' cell phones are always going off. [] The system and set-up is great, some of the people who go there need to learn how to behave.
		lack of funding and the use of funding for too many special programs. [] []
2048	7/13/2012	provide access to books and experienced librarians as many days as possible, first and foremost. you've got enough traffic in these libraries that you have a captive audience to make volunteer requests for story hours, senior programs, job seekers, etc. so don't waste the money on that. spend it on bricks&mortar, books and librarians.
2049	7/13/2012	support through funding. We cannot lose our libraries!

2050	7/13/2012	Probably closures and so be it if that is what is need to curb the tax and spend policy that Multh. co does so well. If the people who want to use the library want to pay for a yearly membership and the monies are collected this way what is wrong with that??? I have had two years where I received no increase on my SS check but the taxes keep going up. If it were a business and there was no money What would happen?? Multh. Co. is too liberal. It is like a socialistic county that prectically runs the whole damn state. What is wrong with the commissioners?? They are out of touch with some of their tax paying citizens. I do not want another tax.
2051	7/13/2012	Lack of support in East Portland.
2052	7/13/2012	The injustice that capitalism is readily reaping over Portland. This city is overrun by greedy policies designed to delve those in need into deeper debt like cutting the library's budget.
2053	7/13/2012	Availability of information on the internet. Being able to download books on Kindle, Nook, iBooks.
2054	7/13/2012	catering to specific groups and languages
2055	7/13/2012	The non-reading, non-thinking citizens who only care for the destruction of government functions.
2056	7/13/2012	The eradication of the book as we know it (i.e. Kindle).
2057	7/13/2012	Shutting down completely and not having a place for students to go to after achio
2058	7/13/2012	Cutting services. By closing the doors one day a week, you are limiting access to the resources available there. Perhaps you could spread the day the branch is closed so that some of the branches are open each day.
2059	7/13/2012	I am not sure.
2060	7/13/2012	Budget shortfalls
2061	7/13/2012	Our local libraries are a jewel for our county and help promote awareness of other cultures, other people. ¶ The biggest threat would be a major economic downturn where funding was impacted and the short sightedness of some popular culture at the cost of deeper relationships (like those with books). Ebooks help bridge the divide between the new culture and the old.
2062	7/13/2012	Lack of funding Lack of availability! As books transition to the electronic world, I've been horrified to see bookstores closing down, and libraries reducing their service. As that happens, I find myself buying books more often (when I can find bookstores) and using the library less often than I used to. I was absolutely floored when I visited Tillamook this week and discovered that they're open from 9 am to 9 pm on most days! I don't expect such a miracle here, but 7 days a week at least would be great!
2063	7/13/2012	apathy
2064	7/13/2012	Lack of funds
2065	7/13/2012	The Internet
2066	7/13/2012	If the funding tax measures do not pass.
2067	7/13/2012	The county asking for more tax money
2068	7/13/2012	Digital age/technology making libraries obsolete.
2069	7/13/2012

2070	7/13/2012	Politics
2071	7/13/2012	attack by wild bears
2072	7/13/2012	Lack of stable funding. The library system should not be an afterthought. A good library is a must to keep a community informed and learning new things.
2073	7/13/2012	Lack of funding.
2074	7/13/2012	People who don't believe in their importance.
2075	7/13/2012	Don't know
2076	7/13/2012	Not having enough money for all services and hours.
2077	7/13/2012	Lack of funding to support the community needs
2078	7/13/2012	Everything listed is important and makes the library important to the community. The library's biggest threat is lack of funding stability
2079	7/13/2012	Lack of funding. Because some people forget the usefulness of our libraries and don't take advantage of the resources it provides, I think some simple and inexpensive advertising would increase the flow of people.
2080	7/13/2012	Lack of consistent funding.
2081	7/13/2012	funding
2082	7/13/2012	People not reading books.
2083	7/13/2012	Lack of funding.
2084	7/13/2012	FUNDING and the fact that many people do not the the many resources the library provides The biggest threat is the money going to schools and the schools are not using the resources as well - look at the dropout rate. You go to school to learn, but reading books are faster, cheaper paths to learning, and so much of what goes on in the classroom could be put on the computer and kids love computers, and the library could be the foundation, if we had more of them. I would like to take money from the public schools and just build 50 times the amount of libraries. Our biggest threat to libraries is money from taxes going to other gov. agencies.
2085	7/13/2012
2086	7/13/2012	Funding or the lack of funding.
2087	7/13/2012	"Unknown" -- and that is the point. Do people even know that the local libraries are in trouble? I didn't, until I received this email asking me to fill out a survey. I'm glad to help!
2088	7/13/2012	not being open enough hours.
2089	7/13/2012	The flagging economy, electronic media
2090	7/13/2012	Lack of funding.
2091	7/13/2012	Budget cuts and technology replacing the hard copies of the written word.
2092	7/13/2012	Not having library locations/hours open when the public needs them. Not buying the new releases of materials. Not having enough Internet access computers for the public.
2093	7/13/2012	funding maybe?..... TV... the value we, as a society, place on entertainment over learning/education... Republicans who don't value public services? lol
2094	7/13/2012	closures and reduced hours

2095	7/13/2012	Tax cuts and lack of funding.
2096	7/13/2012	Cutting back hours.
2097	7/13/2012	Not receiving the proper support from the community.
2098	7/13/2012	Restrictions due to budget constraints.
2099	7/13/2012	Lack of funding.
2100	7/13/2012	funding, not having current materials
2101	7/13/2012	not enough funding!
2102	7/13/2012	Not enough funding to continue to keep them open and available all the time.
2103	7/13/2012	I voted for the library levy and feel extremely betrayed to have you turn around and reduce hours. I will not vote for any more money for you. Like many people already do, I will fill my library needs with non-library on-line services.
2104	7/13/2012	Cheap taxpayers who believe they can have something for nothing.
2105	7/13/2012	i feel that not enough people realize how amazing our library system is, or how easy it is to use. Narrowed-minded people who don't understand the exceptional value and critical importance of public libraries in our society. []
2106	7/13/2012	[] It is heart-breaking being asked to rank in order of importance. How can you rank?
2107	7/13/2012	Budget cutting is the biggest threat. Multnomah County really does have one of the best library systems in the US. It is a high-quality investment, and an investment made by tax paying citizens of the county. Letting those services dwindle is really a betrayal of what we've worked so hard and invested in for so long.
2108	7/13/2012	no funding
2109	7/13/2012	funding cuts
2110	7/13/2012	RIGHT WING PHILISTINES IN WASHINGTON.
2111	7/13/2012	Limited hours and programs
2112	7/13/2012	Probably money
2113	7/13/2012	Lack of money
2114	7/13/2012	republicans
2115	7/13/2012	tax cuts
2116	7/13/2012	Lack of funding
2117	7/13/2012	funding
2118	7/13/2012	funding
2119	7/13/2012	Funding. I think our libraries are some of the best used and best loved libraries in the nation. This community definitely supports the libraries, but funding has been a challenge in recent years. I know that I don't need to buy all the most recent fiction and clutter up my house with books I'll probably only read once. But I'm happy to vote yes for library funding so that the library can buy all the most recent :)

2120	7/13/2012	no funding
2121	7/13/2012	Under funding
2122	7/13/2012	Republicans.....
2123	7/13/2012	People don't want to pay taxes.
2124	7/13/2012	Funding.
2125	7/13/2012	government taken library money
2126	7/13/2012	funding
2127	7/13/2012	?
2128	7/13/2012	Lack of funding.
2129	7/13/2012	increasing wages, benefits and funding
2130	7/13/2012	Closing them down
2131	7/13/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries would be the advent of YouTube and FB and online living versus staying in the real world with print materials, lax parenting in the modern era happening to not include instilling a love of reading books in our children, and BUDGET CUTS out of taxes and Levys. We need to cut the personal pork projects and fund our libraries to the fullest extent.
2132	7/13/2012	The republicans
2133	7/13/2012	Inadequate funding?
2134	7/13/2012	Lack of money, and also a lack of support by our elected officials. I would not be opposed to paying a yearly fee such as $5.00 for the use of the library.
2135	7/13/2012	Insufficient funding. Possibly the Tea Party. Or the housing crunch resulting in people losing homes, and therefore a loss of property tax to fund libraries.
2136	7/13/2012	People don't want to be taxed for them.
2137	7/13/2012	Lack of adequate funding
2138	7/13/2012	The property tax level is too high in Portland. Another tax authority, e.g., Multnomah County Library system, is over the top. I do not support your efforts to create a Library district.
2139	7/13/2012	Underfunding.
2140	7/13/2012	Not sure.
2141	7/13/2012	Failure to prevent book theft.
2142	7/13/2012	Lack of funding
2143	7/13/2012	Closures, cutting hours
2144	7/13/2012	Dwindling resources & finances !!!
2145	7/13/2012	illiterate people don't vote!!!hard to get support for libraries without voting.
2146	7/13/2012	People not realizing the libraries' importance in the local community, on every level from providing great books, music, and learning resources to being great places for all kinds of people to gather, and allowing library funding to be cut.
2147	7/13/2012	Pension and health care costs of library employees

2148	7/13/2012	People giving up reading for other "activities" and technologies, e.g. Internetting and other such things.
2149	7/13/2012	Funding. I would pay for my membership. Too many free services. Leave it free to people who are struggling. Let others pay.
2150	7/13/2012	If people lose sight of the value of our libraries and don't see the need to keep voting yes for the levies
2151	7/13/2012	Mismanagement of tax dollars. If the money was spent wisely, there would be enough for the important things. Blah, blah, blah....
2152	7/13/2012	funding issues
2153	7/13/2012	the government takeing away funding so that they can pay off the dept that is owed, the library needs more funding to stay open for the people who can not aford any of the luxurys such as afording new books or for people like me a new book daily, as well as internet access since most jobs are going network. it is most crutial that librарys get the funding to stay open, Cuts are the most threatening to the library as of current
2154	7/13/2012	Turning a complete blind eye to overall tax problem in Oregon. We need a combination of sales, income and property taxes. This DOES mean businesses paying income and property taxes. To say that this is a "local" issue does not properly address the larger problem which is currently impacting not just the library, but all of our "social" services. As a county leader, you have a voice in speaking to the state leaders. Use it.
2155	7/13/2012	Unsteady funding.
2156	7/13/2012	Funding
2157	7/13/2012	Diminished hours and schedule juggling. One needs to be able to count on stable schedules, as for many users at Belmont, I suspect it is among the more affordable outings a family can have. Complacency. Make sure regular users understand how devastating their loss would be if necessary funds weren't available to maintain current materials.[] [] As a lifelong (70 years) I can't imagine a scanty schedule.
2158	7/13/2012	lack of funding, hands-down
2159	7/13/2012	I have no idea. Lack of funding?
2160	7/13/2012	Corporations. Don't sell out please! We need you.
2161	7/13/2012	funding- otherwise, everything seems to be going very well!
2162	7/13/2012	Republicans
2163	7/13/2012	Lack of Funding because there seems to be a lack of Interest in learning.
2164	7/13/2012	THE ABOVE RATING SYSTEM IS NOT WORKING!!!!!! IT WILL NOT ALLOW ME TO TYPE IN NUMBERS!

2165	7/13/2012	Expanding too far beyond their core mission of providing literature/other media and promoting learning & literacy. Some of the above mentioned programs, while very worthwhile, should be covered by other social services. I am willing to adjust my schedule to meet the library's needs in terms of varying hours and reduced staffing.
2166	7/13/2012	Lack of funding
2167	7/13/2012	A lack of realization that the library offers so much more than just books. Libraries provide critical programs to those in need of a variety of services. A library is a community resource and not just a place to check out books. Advertise more how much you help the community!
2168	7/13/2012	The transition from print media to paperless media (such as online, smart phones, ereaders). People must be encouraged to use both books as well as paperless media, and libraries should support both forms. Without this connection to both traditional and modern forms of reading, interest and funding will wane.
2169	7/13/2012	Less money for new materials
2170	7/13/2012	Do not know.
2171	7/13/2012	Libraries not adapting fast enough to stay relevant in the internet age.
2172	7/13/2012	Money wasted on enforcement of marijuana prohibition.
2173	7/13/2012	lack of public understanding of the resources that are provided by libraries and librarians.
2174	7/13/2012	stable funding - the lack thereof
2175	7/13/2012	IDIOTS IN GOVERNMENT. Libraries need to be maintained as resources of, by and for the people, independently audited and supervised by a board of regents comprised of volunteers appointed by, and from, area academic institutions (this means members of the faculties of academic institutions, who desire to serve [volunteer] apply to do so to their institutions and are then selected and appointed to serve on the board by the administrations of their institutions. The object is to have intellectually fit individuals with academic comprehension of library use and usefulness in library system maintenance and oversight positions, instead of idiot politicians, reformers, axe-grinders and all the rest of the riff-raff who normally seek positions from which to dominate and control communities' intellectual orientations). The object is to get controller idiots out of both fiscal and intellectual control of libraries, so that libraries can function as libraries, without being threatened with defunding or censoring to conform to any preferences. Libraries are, after all, where one should expect to be able to find information about alternative and contrary views and perceptions, historical and current.
2176	7/13/2012	Some people view the library as a thing of the past - you can access everything electronically. But they miss the important element of a book, resources, interaction, etc. Also many people do not have access to a computer
2177	7/13/2012	funding
2178	7/13/2012	Continued funding cuts
2179	7/13/2012	People who are non-library users who do not recognize how important and well-used libraries are!
2180	7/13/2012	Lack of funding, I presume.

2181	7/13/2012	funding
2182	7/13/2012	Underfunding
2183	7/13/2012	taxpayers not willing to support services.
2184	7/13/2012	Television and too much work.
2185	7/13/2012	ebooks.
2186	7/12/2012	jackasses who take away funding
2187	7/12/2012	Public apathy
2188	7/12/2012	Lack of consistent funding
2189	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2190	7/12/2012	hours of operation being cut
2191	7/12/2012	Closures. Also, drastic reductions in any area of service.
2192	7/12/2012	The 1% of people taking a lions share of the nation's gross national product leaving little money for services and benefits for the general public.
2193	7/12/2012	Funding
2194	7/12/2012	Funding
2195	7/12/2012	While I love being able to check out a "new release" blockbuster movies, I don't think the library needs to buy 80 copies. I would rather see the money put into additional books. I can rent a DVD for $1.20 at Redbox (and I do if the wait is too long at the library), but I can't rent books anywhere.
2196	7/12/2012	What you have not asked about is adding a fee for service. We pay for other valuable services [utilities, telephones, food, and just about everything]. I would be willing to pay a small charge for "renting" a book. If the charge were high enough that I decided I'd rather not pay it, then you'd find out how valuable the library service is to me. [] [] Why should someone else [taxpayers] subsidize my free "rental" of books that I don't want to buy because I can get them for free from the library? How many books does the system loan out each year? At what fee per book would the library generate enough revenues to either pay its expenses or at least cover the difference between current service levels and your ideal full service levels?
2197	7/12/2012	funding
2198	7/12/2012	Changing communication patterns, electronic books.
2199	7/12/2012	Lack of funding I guess
2200	7/12/2012	short-sighted funding policies and other mechanisms that hamstringing quality service.
2201	7/12/2012	People not returning books drives up the cost.
2202	7/12/2012	Funding
2203	7/12/2012	the summer reading and the story hours
2204	7/12/2012	The crappy economy
2205	7/12/2012	Inadequate funding.
2206	7/12/2012	Probably lack of secure and continuous funding.

2207	7/12/2012	Lack of funding given the poor economy
2208	7/12/2012	Lack of awareness of what a tremendous resource our libraries are.
2209	7/12/2012	Not having enough staff to process the items that are returned to Gresham by patrons or the new material that is delivered from the other branches that have been requested by our Gresham branch. As a volunteer (2 days a week) there is so much needed to be done behind the scenes, that it is hard to re-shelf material that is coming back through the drop slot or the daily deliveries. The staff work hard to make sure the shelves are replenished as soon as possible. With the reduction in staff, if someone is sick, it is hard to cover the check out counter, information desk, let alone processing the Hold List request. Gresham branch is receiving a lot of hold request (average 250-300 or more) per day.
2210	7/12/2012	It would seem that funding would be the biggest problem as you have now cut back on days of the week you are open.
2211	7/12/2012	Loss of funding
2212	7/12/2012	Short-sightedness of voters.
2213	7/12/2012	I don't know.
2214	7/12/2012	1. The perception that e-readers will make them obsolete.[] 2. Asking for more money in a general election when the voters have just approved the continuation of a three year levy. Raising property taxes in the 4th year of a recession just doesn't make sense to me. What are you thinking? I am a strong advocate for libraries, manned the phone bank for the primary levy for the Friends of the Library, and I will NOT be supporting a property tax hike. It is not the right time, people.
2215	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2216	7/12/2012	Homeless
2217	7/12/2012	funds
2218	7/12/2012	Cut down programs for young people/students.
2219	7/12/2012	the economy and the budget.
2220	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2221	7/12/2012	people don't understand what a wonderful resource the library is and don't know how to reserve the materials that they want. Also, will need to be able to loan more books electronically with shorter wait periods.
2222	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2223	7/12/2012	Online books...need more and faster access to read books on our iPods/Kindles/etc.
2224	7/12/2012	Funding? I don't see a lack of interest, or utilization of the library. I think people view the library as an extraneous luxury, while I think of it as a necessary luxury- vital for a balanced and thriving and healthy community. It is a vote for the future- in my book. ;)
2225	7/12/2012	The PC

2226	7/12/2012	Reduced hours
2227	7/12/2012	Ignorance, stupidity, cupidity and shortsightedness by the powers-that-be
2228	7/12/2012	I dont know
2229	7/12/2012	Budget cuts forcing limited access to knowledge.
2230	7/12/2012	I think that the confused priorities of our "leaders" puts the needed government functions in peril in favour of agendas they really should not be pursuing
2231	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2232	7/12/2012	Loss of funding, and people using them less as books become cheaper and more readily available through other means.
2233	7/12/2012	None of the above are that important to me. I do use the computers at times but mostly use library to check out books and other media. I don't need the library open all the time. I can restructure my schedule to make it to the library when it is open. [] [] When my child was young I did take him to story hours for toddlers, and he did participate in the summer reading programs. I don't see any threat to our local libraries, at least the ones I go to.
2234	7/12/2012	Lack of funding, lack of use due to increasing use of the internet for research
2235	7/12/2012	Unreliable public information. Poor management of financial resources. Terrible PR. WE ARE ANGRY. And who suffers if we respond the only way we open to us (i.e., vote "no")? WE do, of course.
2236	7/12/2012	Closures and lack of funding for programs in the community
2237	7/12/2012	Besides budget guts I have no idea.
2238	7/12/2012	Being taken over by the homeless, transient as a place to get out of the weather. Also, losing structure and use of the library because of too much noise from customers.
2239	7/12/2012	Continued adding the cost to the property taxes in Multnomah County! We need another way to fund the libraries! I never thought I would say this, but I would be in favor of a sales tax of some kind. I actually do not comprehend this question. Yet, I would think that any further cuts of monies and thus services to the community would be a crime on a human level.[] There is more than enough abundance on this planet for everyone: []
2240	7/12/2012	1) healthcare[] 2) loving homes for everyone[] 3) free education[] 4) abundant and good and nutritious food
2241	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2242	7/12/2012	not having the programs and resources that a lot of us have come to depend on. I've been taking my 2 year old daughter to the story times since she was 3 months old. we would be devastated if the library no longer offered those programs.
2243	7/12/2012	Cutting down hours.

2244	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2245	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2246	7/12/2012	You should know that better than I do.
2247	7/12/2012	in portland it's the street people out front and inside that prevent families with young children from utilizing them.
2248	7/12/2012	Misappropriation of funding monies to unknown priorities in place of increasing hours available-it must be open seven days a week, current physical materials(books, DVDs, CDs etc) need to be available as well as on-line computer access more than currently available. All are good-the public needs more access, of course, not less, as of July 1st.
2249	7/12/2012	1) E-Books. 2) Opening too many libraries. Every neighborhood does not need one. 3) Alternate weekdays within the Multnomah County Library system (i.e. Central to remain open 6 days a week and the remaining neighborhood libraries to alternate days closed with the goal that at least one is always open within a 8 to 10 mile radius (a taxpayer user-friendly option).
2250	7/12/2012	Low literacy rates.
2251	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2252	7/12/2012	Not open everyday and for open for enough hours after the work day.
2253	7/12/2012	Obviously it's the funding problem.
2254	7/12/2012	inadequate funding
2255	7/12/2012	Closures (loss of access)
2256	7/12/2012	lack of use
2257	7/12/2012	Not enough funding, possible loss of amazing resources including librarians
2258	7/12/2012	lack of funding to keep libraries open and continually updated with new media
2259	7/12/2012	Not enough funding. The attitude that all taxes everywhere should be reduced, thereby crippling essential government sponsored services.
2260	7/12/2012	Lack of funding. Ignore the choices above, I could not make the goofy system work! I know that a good programmer could do much better!
2261	7/12/2012	Our largest threat is, obviously, lack of funds. I believe that besides going to 6 days a week, libraries could open later in the AM. I could easily accommodate 5 days a week if Saturday and Sunday were included. I'd bet that very few folks need 7 days a well of open time. Lastly, I didn't check the first question since I use 2 libraries. A good programmer could accommodate that item also.
2262	7/12/2012	no funding
2263	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2264	7/12/2012	I don't know

2265	7/12/2012	The Tea Party. I'm not kidding. I want the libraries to stay open, even if it means increased taxes.
2266	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2267	7/12/2012	Some of the library patrons I see hang out in the back computer area and look unwashed/smelly. I also wonder if porn and related websites are blocked? If not, they should be! It makes me not want to use that area of the library (and I don't, mostly I order books online and come in to pick up @ the front of the library)
2268	7/12/2012	our tax dollars need to also cover so many social and civic services; at times, the library seems almost like a luxury. I admire the Mult. Co. Lib. system, and have loved being a patron for many years. I will always love coming to the library, and certainly prefer to borrow materials as opposed to buying them. (I can't afford a house big enough to keep all the books I enjoy reading!) The media that is on loan needs to keep up with the technology, I feel, e.g. electronic books, even if I don't personally use all of them.
2269	7/12/2012	County requesting inadequate levies from voters
2270	7/12/2012	not being open
2271	7/12/2012	being unused or underused, people not realizing how much is available at the library
2272	7/12/2012	Funding
2273	7/12/2012	funding cuts
2274	7/12/2012	Lack of funding. I do not think libraries are becoming irrelevant with the Internet. On the contrary. The library provides access to the internet to many people. People still want books and movies and music that they can access through the libraries.
2275	7/12/2012	Overreaching -- Multnomah County Library taking on more than is appropriate, it's past time to look at what the core services should be and start cutting out the others.
2276	7/12/2012	Budget cuts.
2277	7/12/2012	Not having actual books to check out. With more people e readers I can see the need to have "actual" books one can hold going to the land of the tape deck
2278	7/12/2012	If people don't use them we may lose them. I go every week- sometimes 2 or 3 times and I truly appreciate all that our local library offers!
2279	7/12/2012	Lack of $
2280	7/12/2012	Funding? I think Central should be open more than the smaller branch libraries. It is used more.
2281	7/12/2012	budget cuts, conflict between role as a support center/place of shelter (central library) and a learning/media resource, loss of interest in reading, increasing ease of media piracy
2282	7/12/2012	eh, if you just want one, I'll say budget cuts Taxpayers who aren't willing to support levies when needed

		Unrealistic wants pitted against realistic financial reality. [] Piss-poor money management. []
2283	7/12/2012	The continuing assumption of Multnomah County that home owners can afford to pay for all services for all people. [] A larger "hand-out" mentality that has festered into an entitlement attitude. [] (Sorry - was that more honesty than you were looking for?)
2284	7/12/2012	E readers and the internet
2285	7/12/2012	Funding
2286	7/12/2012	Lack of adequate funding to meet the needs of our citizens
2287	7/12/2012	Apathy.
2288	7/12/2012	lack of secure funding
2289	7/12/2012	i used anime books
2290	7/12/2012	poor allocation of funds
2291	7/12/2012	Short-sighted "austerity" measures.
2292	7/12/2012	Not sure, seems like they're doing pretty well.
2293	7/12/2012	The biggest threat you face is the loss of public support. You have really messed up here! What I want to tell you is that I feel absolutely blindsided by the decision to close the library one day per week! No one said anything about it as I was being asked to pay higher taxes - which I did support (now I wish I hadn't - I certainly won't next time). Why don't you just ask for the money you need to run the library? Don't ask me to pay and then withdraw services! Your actions strike me as underhanded and treacherous - probably not intentionally so, but that's how they strike me. I'm certainly not giving any more support to the library until I get some assurance of EXACTLY what services you intend to maintain in future. You've badly damaged your credibility.
2294	7/12/2012	funding
2295	7/12/2012	inadequate funding
2296	7/12/2012	budget cuts!
2297	7/12/2012	Illiteracy
2298	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2299	7/12/2012	Sounds like funding is the biggest threat - not enough tax dollars going towards the libraries.
2300	7/12/2012	lack of funds
2301	7/12/2012	Copyright expansion.

2302	7/12/2012	Cutbacks of whatever sort are hurtful, in just the same way that service reductions in public transit of whatever sort prevent people from freely getting done what needs to be done. "Public" means public and cutbacks turn that into "select" for those of us - especially the searching-for work jobless -- who need regular and full access to the Web and other resources. Frankly, I need libraries for libraries, too. I was raised to read early, starting at 5 years old, and went to Sacramento public libraries right off and have a passionate love of libraries and real books and periodicals, for reading pleasure and for research.
2303	7/12/2012	Budget cuts, as it appears, since the libraries plan to be open only six days a week.
2304	7/12/2012	When you say "open at least 6 days," Which 6 days? Being open every weekend day is vital. Having 6 and 7 day options BOTH RANKED doesn't make sense to me--If I rank 7 days as highly important, where do I put 6 days? Therefore I put 6 days at the bottom. If library hours need to be cut, I would consider delaying the opening in the morning. Being open but with fewer staff at slow times would make sense. Adding security systems to allow for safe operation with fewer employees could also make sense. I support jobs for librarians--but not to be watch dogs--to assist and interact with patrons and the community. I tried to use the electronic catalog recently and was pretty disappointed by the confusion of having material locations on two different drop-down lists etc. When you revise a search some previous choices are lost and must be re-entered. Some work needs to be done to make the catalog more user-friendly and functional. DO keep the classic AND/OR/AND NOT functionality available though.
2305	7/12/2012	funding!
2306	7/12/2012	closure
2307	7/12/2012	Lack of money to support libraries.
2308	7/12/2012	Budget issues
2309	7/12/2012	lack of funds
2310	7/12/2012	Computer access space replacing book space.
2311	7/12/2012	The Smartphone.
2312	7/12/2012	budget, but taxes can't continually be raised.
2313	7/12/2012	economic squeeze during depression
2314	7/12/2012	voter apathy. Poor economy.
2315	7/12/2012	Inadequate or unstable funding. An electorate that fails to understand how libraries add value to people's lives and to the community.
2316	7/12/2012	Having to ask for more funding in an unstable economy
2317	7/12/2012	Public apathy. Our libraries are a wonderful treasure & resource. They help bridge all sorts of gaps in other resources that are not fully effective or are far more costly.
2318	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2319	7/12/2012	Those who do not realize the incredible service that libraries provide and as a result would consider taking away funding.

2320	7/12/2012	budget
2321	7/12/2012	Stable funding.
2322	7/12/2012	Lack of funding/interest from citizens.
2323	7/12/2012	Closing them down one day a week. People still need them on Monday!
2324	7/12/2012	Homeless drug users.
2325	7/12/2012	Unstable funding
2326	7/12/2012	Less hours open.
2327	7/12/2012	Homeless and smelly people occupying space all day long. One has to disinfect everything before touching. It's gross.
2328	7/12/2012	Not being recognized for the amazing resource it is.
2329	7/12/2012	Not enough financing -- compression of property taxes
2330	7/12/2012	Ayn Rand-holes.
2331	7/12/2012	Low education levels and the popularity of more electronic media sources have people forgetting about the library and choosing other options or just not reading at all.
2332	7/12/2012	I do not like this survey Librarys must be open seven day a week , But NOT Full Hours a nd word Must VOLONTIR ! Why we shoud pay for all people from welfer ?????!!!!!!!!!!!!!! And education centr shoud be separated . More advertisent for donetion Book and materials Interwebs!! !
2333	7/12/2012	Biggest threats are funding, and poor primary education system that leads to fewer children in the library, who won't instill an appreciation for books in their own children, etc.
2334	7/12/2012	Budget cuts
2335	7/12/2012	Lack of money I would assume
2336	7/12/2012	Lack of funding. Thank you, George Bush administration. Money for wars instead of states is finally hitting home. It's not pretty.
2337	7/12/2012	closure or reduced services. Services need to be expanded, not reduced.
2338	7/12/2012	The republicans that don't want to fund anything.
2339	7/12/2012	Lack of funding to continue services at the level they are at now.
2340	7/12/2012	The internet... Amazon has low prices and the items are delivered to your door. There are also plenty of torrent sites.
2341	7/12/2012	mismanagement of funds
2342	7/12/2012	cutting programs for children
2343	7/12/2012	Digital media, although the introduction of ebooks for check out is great, the waiting period to get them is long.
2344	7/12/2012	funding cuts
2345	7/12/2012	Insufficient funding.

2346	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2347	7/12/2012	People who are out of touch with OUR lives making the decisions that are significant in our lives. Skewed questionnaires written by self-dealing county officials, that pose false dilemmas to citizens, such as "Would you like to pay:[]
2348	7/12/2012	a) too much[] b) more than that[] c) way more than that
2349	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2350	7/12/2012	Question number 5 would not let me order them. They prefilled 1 - 6 in order and won't let me modify. [] [] I don't know what the biggest threat is - probably having to pay high utility bills, rent, etc.
2351	7/12/2012	Having a building and books is still very important and you have to convince more of the public that further loss of funding & fewer hours of operation will be devastating to the community. I think libraries have to become even more internet accessible. Most of my access comes from online borrowing, and that's going to become the main way for subscribers to use their library very soon.
2352	7/12/2012	electronics
2353	7/12/2012	Not being open.[] Six days a week is plenty though.
2354	7/12/2012	Budget cuts from the local and federal governments. At a time when I believe people are relying more and more on the services of their local public library, from checking out reading material, to utilizing the computers, to story time for their little ones, these services are in danger of being cut because they don't turn a profit.
2355	7/12/2012	I am afraid people are unaware of the resources available at the local libraries. If people do not use the local libraries then they are unaware of the opportunities the library offers in the community. I do appreciate the library being open 7 days a week because I work odd hours and it is nice to go to the library any day of the week.
2356	7/12/2012	the attitude in Oregon that education is not important, and that high standards for education[] are not a goal.
2357	7/12/2012	Closers and really bad hours when library is open.
2358	7/12/2012	Funding certainty for the long term.
2359	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2360	7/12/2012	As I mentioned before I would go more often , but it is too loud with babies or highschoolers, but my needs are sufficiently met on the library website. I might not have a real answer for this question.
2361	7/12/2012	Underfunding
2362	7/12/2012	Not enough funding

2363	7/12/2012	Two things: money, of course, and forgetting your roots. If money is tight, then let's get back to basics and just be a book lender. Pause the story times and job help and classes, videos and anything that isn't directly related to checking out a book. Let other vendors offer that stuff.
2364	7/12/2012	librarians
2365	7/12/2012	Money
2366	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.[] Lack of understanding of how much the system is used..
2367	7/12/2012	the government doing budget cuts.
2368	7/12/2012	lack of funding?
2369	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2370	7/12/2012	The opportunity to advance in learning at classes and self-paced
2371	7/12/2012	library hours are cut and the branches are not big enough to accomodate patrons. I also think that there should be more computers available for people to use who cannot afford them or the internet.
2372	7/12/2012	Lack of adequate funding
2373	7/12/2012	Cuts in hours, funding and staff. I encourage the commissioners to find new ways to not only restore the service to seven days a week, but increase the budget to enable Multnomah County Library system to the top-rated system it has become. [] [] There are additional ways to raise funds, and efforts should be made to explore those ways. Get a bit more creative than just levies and taxes.
2374	7/12/2012	Apparently, inadequate budgets. But the biggest issue is the erosion of, and the appreciation for, reading skills. The final issue is the continued assault from the right--that seeks to privatize libraries and censor materials.
2375	7/12/2012	the internet and poor funding
2376	7/12/2012	Lack of funding, which stems ultimately from lack of understanding the varied, amazing role libraries play in civic life.
2377	7/12/2012	lack of funding. Usage doesn't seem to be a problem here. In Michigan, where my family is, the county libraries are closing due to lack of use. Funding[]
2378	7/12/2012	Lack of staff[] Reduced hours[] Limited programing serving the needs of the community
2379	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2380	7/12/2012	lack of funding; need a sales tax
2381	7/12/2012	People who don't want to pay for the commons.
2382	7/12/2012	Please see my comments on #4. If the public library access is diminished, the public tax payers will NO longer pay for additional tax levies.

2383	7/12/2012	Insufficient funding.
2384	7/12/2012	Property tax compression. We need to look at revenue streams other than property taxes to fund our local services. We are trying to slice a diminishing pie into ever smaller pieces. The whole public funding system in the state is screwed up, not only by tax caps, but by an over-reliance on personal income and property taxes. We need a sales tax. And we need to stop handing tax breaks to business that do not need them.
2385	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2386	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2387	7/12/2012	funding I guess, I'm not sure what you're asking here.
2388	7/12/2012	Lack of funding it would seem.
2389	7/12/2012	Kindle
2390	7/12/2012	I do not have an opinion on this, except for the obvious lack of funds.
2391	7/12/2012	Theft of materials by those who use the system.
2392	7/12/2012	I don't know. We voted to continue the bond with money coming out of the property taxes -- that amount being continued in the property taxes.
2393	7/12/2012	not aware of any
2394	7/12/2012	Budget cuts.
2395	7/12/2012	Shutting some branches down.
2396	7/12/2012	Crazy homeless people and cut funding
2397	7/12/2012	Limiting access to the library by closing, then having fewer new materials
2398	7/12/2012	short sighted people who dont understand the need to fund libraries. we need to somehow educate the current non-users of the library, so they understand its importance.
2399	7/12/2012	Downturn in public support due to worsening economic conditions.
2400	7/12/2012	An anti-government, anti-tax mindset among voting public;the political and media demogagues who encourage it; and craven and cynical leaders who give into it.
2401	7/12/2012	lack of stable and adequate funding
2402	7/12/2012	lack of public support
2403	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2404	7/12/2012	not enough money
2405	7/12/2012	Republicans
2406	7/12/2012	lack of money
2407	7/12/2012	Not enough funding
2408	7/12/2012	Probably underfunding. Electronic progress might eventually replace most physical books.
2409	7/12/2012	Cutting staff and hours
2410	7/12/2012	Stupid budget cuts and stupid people.

2411	7/12/2012	Other than current materials I don't consider any of the above important. [] We keep spending more for them and get less - fewer and older books, reduced hours and days. I wouldn't send my child to the library alone. I don't consider them safe places for children.
2412	7/12/2012	At Central Library I think the number of homeless using the library strains their budget. They also seem to occupy the computers alot. However having said that I like the fact that they have the power of books and special programs available to them. [] The above ranking (#5) system is difficult and in many ways distorts the priority ranking for me...one thought on days open would be to have maybe three centrally (by population) open on Sunday and close the others.
2413	7/12/2012	Lack of funds
2414	7/12/2012	Funding. And those who do not know or understand how important having a local and neighborhood library is. Sometimes it is a kind of sanctuary from a chaotic day or week. To go and just read, or be on the computer for a bit, or just book shop.
2415	7/12/2012	Popularity of non-print media (internet/e-readers) over print media. Lack of funding
2416	7/12/2012	Apathy. People who have reaped the benefits of having had this resource while they or their children were growing up and no longer wanting to continue this service for others because of taxes and fees.
2417	7/12/2012	Not enough funding.
2418	7/12/2012	lack of funding.
2419	7/12/2012	Probably people not realizing how important they are to communities. Libraries are a gift to lifelong learners in particular, people who could never afford to buy the many books they read. Those books educate many people who might not have another form of education. In this way, our Portland libraries are on a social justice mission. So perhaps not thinking of this important link threatens them financially.
2420	7/12/2012	budget cuts
2421	7/12/2012	Lack of funding. Noise from casual social conversations.
2422	7/12/2012	The triumph of the spectacle, the end of literacy, and the ongoing collapse of America's economic and political system.
2423	7/12/2012	Cutting back on hours. I don't understand why "immediately" after the election, and passing of the bill on budget for libraries, it is stated that it "still" isn't enough to keep them open at least for the same hours. I understand closing one day a week. I think that is fine. What was the point of the election??
2424	7/12/2012	I guess it would be money. The government needs to understand how valuable the libraries are. I had to rank the list above, but really they should all be ranked #1 in importance.
2425	7/12/2012	Constant begging for funding, unannounced cuts in library hours (as you did on June 30 this year).
2426	7/12/2012	Budget Cuts.
2427	7/12/2012	Reduced funding

2428	7/12/2012	Economy Reduced library hours is a big threat, in my opinion. I would much prefer longer library hours available than special programs. Since we have employment agencies which are free to the public like Worksource, I feel we don't need to duplicate employment services at the library. Let's get back to providing basic resources like books, magazines and longer open hours. ¶
2429	7/12/2012	¶ Thank you
2430	7/12/2012	Funding, probably. After that it is probably public perception: "who needs a library when I have Google?"
2431	7/12/2012	Current economy. Money is stretched so thin & some see libraries as luxuries or not essential.
2432	7/12/2012	Political decision makers who are not acquainted with the pleasure of reading, who see no value in providing avenues for the mind to explore, and who look for short-term fixes; when libraries need advocates who appreciate free access to knowledge, great ideas, and know the long term value of a better informed public
2433	7/12/2012	Government over spending
2434	7/12/2012	Taxpayers not wanting to fund the libraries?
2435	7/12/2012	Fewer open hours.
2436	7/12/2012	Funding. Libraries are extremely important and should be available for all citizens
2437	7/12/2012	LACK OF FUNDING, NOT ENOUGH HOURS-- Should be open 7 days a week!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
2438	7/12/2012	The downturn in the general US economy is the biggest threat to local libraries. Many people are struggling just to keep their families fed, housed and clothed. We should have more empathy for them. Right now, increased library funding is a luxury, not a need. The library should just be content to operate on a reduced budget and stop asking for more money right now. The same also for the Portland Public Schools.
2439	7/12/2012	Our biggest threat is our libraries closing and no place for the children to go. I agree that some of the libraries that don't get used much or have very few people in them should be closed to save money. We need to cut back some place. To raise money for the libraries, I suggest that the libraries have a book sale on the books that don't get checked out much. This would bring others into the library that would most likely to pass it by.
2440	7/12/2012	It appears to be lack of funding.
2441	7/12/2012	sustainable funding¶ the threat to our society if we do not fund libraries is immeasurable
2442	7/12/2012	County commissioners
2443	7/12/2012	Lack of money.

2444	7/12/2012	Lack of funding. Many people don't understand just how vital library services are to the community. They are unaware of the awesome services public libraries provide and believe that the internet makes the library obsolete. This couldn't be further from the truth. Many people rely on the library and its employees for access to computers that they may not otherwise have, assistance with electronic informational sources (the web, electronic databases, etc.), and assistance with different software applications.
2445	7/12/2012	Inadequate Funding. <input type="checkbox"/> Inability to stay current and keep up with technology due to inadequate funding The Central Library also has some problems with indigent populations using the library as housing during the day.
2446	7/12/2012	Budget cuts seem to be the biggest threat to the local libraries. Libraries are an important part of the community for all the services they provide.
2447	7/12/2012	this question scares me! hopefully none.
2448	7/12/2012	perhaps lack of funding?
2449	7/12/2012	People who are disinterested in reading?
2450	7/12/2012	People who do not understand how the library system benefits the entire community.
2451	7/12/2012	MONEY
2452	7/12/2012	lack of keeping up with ebook technology
2453	7/12/2012	Lack of money.
2454	7/12/2012	Funding cuts that strangle user access. Library use is a healthy habit and one feeds that habit by providing lots of access. Curtailing hours may well squeeze some patrons.
2455	7/12/2012	online ebooks. need more!
2456	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2457	7/12/2012	The way it is currently funded.
2458	7/12/2012	I don't know what you mean by that question.
2459	7/12/2012	Funding and the waning interest in reading actual books.
2460	7/12/2012	Probably pop culture and a general social devaluing of reading books as a primary avenue to learning and entertainment is the biggest library-specific threat. Next after that, a shortage of available funds for all things, including libraries, that used to be thought of as integrally essential necessities for the communal good. People can argue passionately all day about whether that shortage is due to changing cultural values, a declining economy, insufficient tax rates or tax bases, poor government priorities, or the knee-jerk "waste, fraud and abuse," but I don't really have any clue what the reason(s) for the shortage really may be (though I suspect the last is about as factual as the snark). Still, the shortage is real, and it makes all of our lives impoverished.
2461	7/12/2012	Poor funding.
2462	7/12/2012	Not sure. Likely budget cuts.

2463	7/12/2012	Compression. Local residents approved the library levy with what? 80 percent of the vote. Voters would pay for the library outside of the statewide property tax limitations of $10 per $1k of real market value if given the option. Multnomah County residents really support their library, but these statewide limitations prevent them from funding it at adequate levels. The public doesn't get that, and it makes the county look bad. We need to educate residents and push for more local control.
2464	7/12/2012	Funding for hours and services
2465	7/12/2012	Lack of funds.
2466	7/12/2012	more outreach to the community and funding are needed
2467	7/12/2012	Funding.
2468	7/12/2012	No funding to keep providing these services to our community.
2469	7/12/2012	Lack of a permanent funding source.
2470	7/12/2012	✓Lack of available funding[] ✓Materials that are missing or stolen. (DVD)'s
2471	7/12/2012	Closing due to funding
2472	7/12/2012	Reduced hours. Folks who need the public library most are those who will need to use it during "off" hours.
2473	7/12/2012	you seem to be spending millions on buying extra copies of dvd and blu ray. Ridiculous!
2474	7/12/2012	budget cut.
2475	7/12/2012	The economic situation
2476	7/12/2012	access
2477	7/12/2012	unsure
2478	7/12/2012	Generally underserved citizens not having access to resources.
2479	7/12/2012	Not enough money to adequately fund services.
2480	7/12/2012	not sure.
2481	7/12/2012	Lack of priority for funding.
2482	7/12/2012	Apathy
2483	7/12/2012	Funding in my opinion. I've moved to Portland from a comfortable Chicago suburb and am not impressed with most of the buildings, resources available. Libraries in our community and surrounding were taken very seriously and in general, well funded. In Downers Grove, most years a fundraising gala was held annually to raise money for projects such as outfitting the libraries with wireless access, new children's rooms, etc.
2484	7/12/2012	People who are not willing to share their tax dollars to make our libraries work. Libraries benefit EVERYONE in the community, so let's support them!
2485	7/12/2012	That the rankings above are important. They are all number one choices.
2486	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2487	7/12/2012	not being used. maybe to many, spreading the costs to thin. maybe have less but bigger
2488	7/12/2012	Budget cuts across all aspects of federal/state funded services.

2489	7/12/2012	lack of funding?
2490	7/12/2012	lack of curiosity and enthusiasm for reading. if everyone used and valued the library more they would not allow it to be underfunded. probably a lot of people who still own houses and pay property taxes that might not want a tax increase are people who have computer/internet access at home and would just buy a book because they can afford it rather than borrow it from the library. probably a lot people who need and use the library have less money.
2491	7/12/2012	library salaries, too much infrastructure, too many programs that are frivolous. could use a pay as you go scale to supplement. taxing the property owners is not the way - it's stealing from the minority of people. there are more people on the dole in Portland than those of us paying into it
2492	7/12/2012	don't know.
2493	7/12/2012	I suppose it is lack of funding. There is always talk of print medium being on the way out, but as long as the library also supports internet functions and electronic materials, that doesn't spell doom for libraries.
2494	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2495	7/12/2012	Lacking of funding -- big surprise.
2496	7/12/2012	Closures due to lack of funding
2497	7/12/2012	Balancing public funding and having to charge for services to make ends meet.
2498	7/12/2012	Clearly, funding is the biggest threat to keeping this institution open more days and longer hours.
2499	7/12/2012	That the next generation is not able to see the value in a library because reduced hours minimize the opportunities for families to go there together.
2500	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2501	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2502	7/12/2012	People who don't want to pay a fraction of a dollar more for a service we all benefit from. Additionally, government, or other types of funds that should go toward libraries, are allocated to less important areas.
2503	7/12/2012	The burden of raising property taxes on those paying the taxes.
2504	7/12/2012	Not open when people need them - making sure staffing allows for the library to ALWAYS be a safe, clean and respectful place for young children to seniors.
2505	7/12/2012	Becoming a typical government bureaucracy that cannot live within its own means. Taxpayers should mandate the elimination of libraries due to newer technologies rendering libraries obsolete.
2506	7/12/2012	bedbugs.
2507	7/12/2012	The feeling that they are undervalued not just as a resource for information but also as a public space.
2508	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2509	7/12/2012	funding
2510	7/12/2012	Students not having resources for their education.

		The economy and people's fatigue with the costs of daily living and their lower standards of living as a consequence. People are being squeezed at both ends.[] []
2511	7/12/2012	When most folks hear of another levy/tax, generally people get angry, not understanding that services for all mean that some people (property owners) will be paying for the services somehow. Nothing is free, that idea does not sustain communities.[] []
2512	7/12/2012	Do apartment owners get taxed/levied in the same way as single home owners? Budget cuts.
2513	7/12/2012	People who don't understand all the things the library does for our community! There is an impression among some that with the Internet, we no longer need libraries, and that is so not the case. The libraries provide access for everyone, support learning in the community, support the public schools, and many other things...
2514	7/12/2012	Budget shortfalls.
2515	7/12/2012	funding shortages
2516	7/12/2012	County administrators and the public not seeing it as a valuable resource.
2517	7/12/2012	Diminishing funding.
2518	7/12/2012	Unclear city/county budget policies regarding library funding
2519	7/12/2012	Asking for to much MORE money from homeowners, to the point there will be a revolt against libraries.
2520	7/12/2012	Funding.
2521	7/12/2012	Lack of independent library district.
2522	7/12/2012	internet
2523	7/12/2012	Closures!
2524	7/12/2012	loss of funding and jobs.
2525	7/12/2012	Lack of funding from what I can tell.
2526	7/12/2012	Inadequate support from the general fund. Plus we are concerned about the move to E-books. Please continue to buy & provide books & magazines printed on paper!
2527	7/12/2012	Not having the funding to provide meaningful, current programs for the patrons of all ages. Even if only some of the branches can open every day, patrons can plan to find a branch that is open when they need it.
2528	7/12/2012	don't
2529	7/12/2012	Less hours[] Not enough materials
2530	7/12/2012	Most people don't physically visit the library, but use the online resources instead.
2531	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.

2532	7/12/2012	What kind of question is this? If you mean funding as a "threat", libraries should be on a need basis. I need to use it, I can pay for it. I go to a movie, I PAY for it. NOT the taxpayer.
2533	7/12/2012	funding.
2534	7/12/2012	Funding - $$$$$$
2535	7/12/2012	Computers
2536	7/12/2012	digital media
2537	7/12/2012	Funding
2538	7/12/2012	The community not understanding the importance of libraries and so not being willing to support necessary funding.
2539	7/12/2012	Not enough funding!! Our library system is so important to the community, for equal access to all the resources it provides. Yet our priorities for spending as a community don't seem to reflect that importance.
2540	7/12/2012	Underfunding
2541	7/12/2012	Funding!
2542	7/12/2012	I'm guessing decreased funding.
2543	7/12/2012	I believe it is funding in order to keep them open.
2544	7/12/2012	those who have no idea how important the library is (Because they do not use it) therefore they have no interest in those who need it or use any branch that is the most convenient for them (such as the Raleigh st branch in NW Portland they can go downtown with their kids) thies is one of the branches that I do not use but see busy every time I drive by.
2545	7/12/2012	Conservative ideology that seeks to defund public assets in favor of privatized, for-profit services.
2546	7/12/2012	The pervasive greedy corporate run media
2547	7/12/2012	under funding
2548	7/12/2012	Funding
2549	7/12/2012	It seems funding is the biggest threat.
2550	7/12/2012	Law makers not giving it enough funding.
2551	7/12/2012	Lack of funds & resources
2552	7/12/2012	funding
2553	7/12/2012	eReaders, lack of funds and viable material for lent
2554	7/12/2012	The lack of a constant funding source dedicated solely to libraries
2555	7/12/2012	I'd like better access to zines and publications from small and alternative press like PM Press and AK Press (pmpress.org and akpress.org respectively). I'm guessing this is a funding issue.
2556	7/12/2012	Funding cuts.
2557	7/12/2012	I don't want the libraries to close branches. They provide a great service to the public.
2558	7/12/2012	Lack of stable funding. The library should not have to depend on the whims of anti-tax nuts.

2559	7/12/2012	I tried to rate this above list and I could change anything I tried to change the numbers but they rated themselves. 5(1 6 days a week open, 3 programs for children, 6 open 7 days a week, 4 programs for seniors, 2 current material, 5 information for job seekers) [] [] The biggest threat to our local libraries is budget cuts
2560	7/12/2012	The biggest threat is relying on property taxes to pay for our libraries. I would support a sales tax to fund schools and libraries but I will not support a property tax to fund these services. The assessment of homes is skewed. If you have owned a home for many years you pay substantially lower property taxes than if you upgraded slightly or purchased more recently and that's not fair. We should charge out of district users. The other districts have fewer libraries and services. I'm tired of subsidizing/paying for our libraries that others use for nothing. We all share the library system but Multnomah County tax payers pay substantially high rates and taxes for a better system that everyone gets to use.
2561	7/12/2012	The biggest threat to libraries is to me the biggest threat to books - Kindles and other electronic readers. Children will begin reading from those sources as well and the choices for children's books in libraries will dwindle. Also, schools and parents need to create readers for without them the libraries will eventually disappear.
2562	7/12/2012	Not enough funding to keep current materials available.
2563	7/12/2012	Under funding. Also, the digital age.
2564	7/12/2012	Lack of support from the county general fund; lack of protected funding; lack of adequate funding structure; lack of aggressive and creative senior library leadership
2565	7/12/2012	Inefficient use of resources. Wasteful spending on new buildings that apparently don't have enough to keep open. Wasteful resource usage such as the notion of opening a branch at park rose high school which helped pass a new high school levy that narrowly passed after having been rejected previously. The park rose branch closed shortly after opened but library left "resources" in this failed attempt and shameless pandering when they were having trouble keeping existing real branches open.
2566	7/12/2012	Budget cuts.
2567	7/12/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is the increase in e-readership. However, by having programs for the younger generation that a) promotes literacy and b) acquaints them with the library and it's wonderful staff, it is training the younger generation about what a wonderful resource the MC library system can be.
2568	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2569	7/12/2012	Maintaining a safe environment for learning.
2570	7/12/2012	Not sure. I feel people can make plans to visit library if hours are cut. I think the library offers excellent resources as listed in #5.
2571	7/12/2012	The bloat of employee benefit packages and their impact on the library's budget.

2572	7/12/2012	I don't think this is the biggest threat but one issue is the large homeless presence in the Central Library. I sometimes avoid Central, which is a true gem and the closest library to my home, due to the amount of transients there. With a small child, sometimes it just doesn't feel as comfortable as some of the neighborhood branches, even with the amazing Children's Room. We once had an issue with a transient following us around in the Children's Room. Never close enough to bother saying anything but it was uncomfortable. There is no easy answer to this as it is everyone's right to use the library and I recognize that it is an especially helpful resource to people at risk. But I do think that the large transient presence at Central keeps some other patrons away from that branch unfortunately.
2573	7/12/2012	The devaluation of education
2574	7/12/2012	I think all the free programs that are offered to the community are very important. I worry if funding is cut that those will have to go as well. I think libraries are a VITAL piece of a community.
2575	7/12/2012	#1 government...whether it's county, state, or national;not helping #2 people don't or can't support library measures on voting day. With big government don't even get me started on the rat race. But with both my answers; It's classic "robbing Peter to pay Paul" or " Do I help close another school,or loose more library access, here locally in my neighborhood."
2576	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2577	7/12/2012	Under funding
2578	7/12/2012	Funding
2579	7/12/2012	Underestimating how important a resource and support the library is to our community!
2580	7/12/2012	Lack of adequate resources and the "privatize and profit" mentality
2581	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2582	7/12/2012	I think being open six days a week and not seven is perfectly acceptable. Seriously, I don't think having to be closed one day a week is a big deal; few businesses are open seven days a week anyway.
2583	7/12/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is society's misconceptions about technology destroying books and reading.
2584	7/12/2012	People who do not understand the vitality a public library system brings to the larger community.
2585	7/12/2012	funding
2586	7/12/2012	loss of money, unable to keep and get new materials and loss of services
2587	7/12/2012	Funding
2588	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2589	7/12/2012	Poitics? Unfortunately, voters did not have the option to fully fund their beloved library this year, seemingly because of bac decisions by some of our local politicians. Ultimately, we need to take these decisions out of the hands of politicians, and make sure that our library has full funding forever. We may need to look at a better taxing structure.
2590	7/12/2012	Lack of interest on the public's part. Lack of caring. Lack of funding. Ignorance.

2591	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2592	7/12/2012	reduced funding
2593	7/12/2012	not enough money in the budget to keep them staffed on a regular basis.
2594	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2595	7/12/2012	lack of funds, of course. if the levy does not pass, i believe that alternative sources of funds should be found. the library needs to be a very high priority in all county funding decisions.
2596	7/12/2012	kindle and other e-books, and home computers for Internet searches are replacing trips to the local library.
2597	7/12/2012	All the home computers and the way people can get most information there.
2598	7/12/2012	It sounds like it's a funding issue. Outside of that I would say probably the rise of the use of ebook readers and the cheapness of buying books online. Possibly a decrease in teenagers using the library (and so not becoming life-long users). Also the increase of community activities at other local places. Very lastly, perhaps, the training of the library employees - how helpful are they? how good are that at teaching job seekers/seniors? or entertaining the babies?
2599	7/12/2012	Relevancy. Being able to strike a balance and not be swept up in an "all or nothing" mindset. I believe that new media, eg., ebooks, can be balanced with hard copy books. Plenty of media all around us. Books, maps, the written word will always be more important than fleeting images on screens, in my opinion.
2600	7/12/2012	The eroding of programs
2601	7/12/2012	Budget cuts and censorship
2602	7/12/2012	Funding cuts and difficulty accessing libraries due to reduced hours.
2603	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2604	7/12/2012	Budgets
2605	7/12/2012	funding for hours, technology and materials.
2606	7/12/2012	Lack of funding for an institution that is vital to the culture and learning in Portland.
2607	7/12/2012	Lack of funding in hard economic times! That, and electronic books.
2608	7/12/2012	The Internet and an uninformed electorate.
2609	7/12/2012	Funding
2610	7/12/2012	I feel it is using funding for current movies, music, and peripheral services like computers with Internet access for people to watch streaming videos. Honestly, I wish those items were considered to be cut before hours and other services are considered.
2611	7/12/2012	Don't know
2612	7/12/2012	budget cuts!
2613	7/12/2012	budget cuts
2614	7/12/2012	The biggest threat is the library closing down.
2615	7/12/2012	libraries operating less than 6 days a week with less money for computer access and children's programs

2616	7/12/2012	the Oregon tax system that creates stupid rules like tax compression
2617	7/12/2012	Lack of public funding, party politics and the growing media/digital literacy of our population. Libraries matter. They are gateways to learning as as our world becomes more and more dominated by corporate funded digital media empires, public sources of information suffer.
2618	7/12/2012	Lack of funds
2619	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2620	7/12/2012	The increase cost of keeping up with current technologies .
2621	7/12/2012	Limited hours/resources and availability of resources on the internet
2622	7/12/2012	Lack of literacy
2623	7/12/2012	lack of consistent reliable funding source
2624	7/12/2012	Money to operate.
2625	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2626	7/12/2012	not enough funding
2627	7/12/2012	if you lessen the hours they will be fuller which would enable the amount of resources
2628	7/12/2012	loss of funding
2629	7/12/2012	Most likely the indifference of the public and the lack of proper funding.
2630	7/12/2012	funding
2631	7/12/2012	If Library Administrators doesn't have the gumption to ask for the resources that the Library needs.
2632	7/12/2012	People dont read enough for one and two it is quickly becoming outdated as a cultural staple.
2633	7/12/2012	I don't know.
2634	7/12/2012	$$$ and hours
2635	7/12/2012	lack of funding?
2636	7/12/2012	Mis-management of funds.
2637	7/12/2012	Closing.
2638	7/12/2012	So-called average taxpaying citizens avoid the library because they become havens for anti-social individuals and groups, which leads to lack of support at the polls for more funding.
2639	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2640	7/12/2012	Those that funding the libraries not recognizing the value that it provides our community. There are certain social services in society that should not lose funding, education being the primary one and that is the direct service that the library provides. Maybe politician's salary raises can be put on a back burner until the school system is properly funded.
2641	7/12/2012	Lack of funding support, especially from East County.
2642	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2643	7/12/2012	funding reductions
2644	7/12/2012	The Voters
2645	7/12/2012	money
2646	7/12/2012	Firemen.

2647	7/12/2012	People...those who fail to see the value of a library in their community as well as those who don't really understand civic pride & civic duty. These are the same people who don't understand or value the concept of "community" & who are too short-sighted to see why we need taxes & bond measures. We have an awesome library system--one that is known nationwide.
2648	7/12/2012	Loss of funding and computerized population/ I some times find it hard to get the books I want on the e-books system.
2649	7/12/2012	Lack of proper funding. All of the programs listed above are important.
2650	7/12/2012	Cut hours. I need them to be open earlier in the day (8 would be best) even if they cut sundays to do it. They stay open in the evenings. Why can't they open earlier some of the days instead?
2651	7/12/2012	The biggest threat is the library becoming irrelevant to people's lives so that they no longer value and use it. It needs to be accessible at times that people need it, have current, up to date materials and resources, and professional staff trained to assist community members with the goal of improving literacy in our community.
2652	7/12/2012	Money
2653	7/12/2012	Budget cuts/lack of interest in supporting them
2654	7/12/2012	As with all services fundamental to democracy, funding. Knowledge is power, but unlike money, it's harder to control. It stands to reason that egalitarian access to power (the knowledge available in libraries) is constantly threatened with being strangled by underfunding.
2655	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2656	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2657	7/12/2012	Tax funding shifted away from businesses and the wealthy, and the burdon shifted to lower incomes.
2658	7/12/2012	Underfunding.
2659	7/12/2012	Technology age
2660	7/12/2012	no funding!
2661	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2662	7/12/2012	budget cutting
2663	7/12/2012	cutting hours
2664	7/12/2012	Adults with behavior outbursts that disrupt the intimate, positive, and quiet place that a library is. People in the community want to feel safe and be able to study and read in the library. Children want to safely explore and have fun on their reading journey.
2665	7/12/2012	Funding loss.
2666	7/12/2012	That they are closed down completely!
2667	7/12/2012	Cutting funding- closing branches in smaller neighborhoods and cutting library hours. I was so sad to hear that this is already happening.
2668	7/12/2012	Lack of funding. Public not fully understanding how little their taxes are affected by operating costs.[]
2669	7/12/2012	Non-return or damage of library materials.
		Lack of adequate funding.

2670	7/12/2012	Lack of credibility. The last legislation passed that we THOUGHT funded our libraries - then it was followed up by service cuts! Everyone asks the same thing, "Why didn't they ask for more money to begin with?" This rocks our faith in the managing abilities of those in charge AND in your communication skills. The poor librarians are stuck trying to answer the questions to frustrated library patrons since we STILL haven't heard an official reason why this happened. It feels like we have shoddy, incompetent managers in charge.
2671	7/12/2012	On line books
2672	7/12/2012	I don't know
		You did not list skilled librarians in the ranking - having them is key to helping folks discover and learn to love to read.[]
2673	7/12/2012	Biggest threat to libraries - the dumbing down of society. Why read a book when you can watch TV. Why read a book when you can surf the web. It is important to get kids into the library early, get them in love with reading and understanding. Continue to push the summer reading program.
2674	7/12/2012	Inadequate funding
		Internet accessibility to books cheaply or for free at locations other than the local libraries that can be downloaded onto notepads or similar devices. This will result in a decreasing visitation by a electronically connected population that is younger by nature. []
2675	7/12/2012	Decreasing tax base and or larger competition for the property tax base currently used by governmental and school districts
2676	7/12/2012	funding
2677	7/12/2012	Apathy of the community. If we don't use our libraries and maintain this asset, our youth will only be as intelligent as the resources available on the internet....a sad state of affairs. Access to numerous sources of information is vital to the intellectual development of individuals and society.
2678	7/12/2012	A lack of availability of desirable materials (current or classic) that discourages visitors from patronizing the library
2679	7/12/2012	More current resources available online.
2680	7/12/2012	apathy from those who don't use the libraries and don't realize how big a part of our lives it is
2681	7/12/2012	Books not being returned/stolen
2682	7/12/2012	Educated people cannot stay in the library because so many smelly people there without place to go, depressing....
2683	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2684	7/12/2012	People not supporting them and hours being cut
2685	7/12/2012	Loss of funding from government sources? Community/user support seems to be solid, but I'm relatively new to Portland, so my perceptions may be "off".

2686	7/12/2012	City of Portland's excessive area of tax abatement districts[] [] Over spending on new books and library staff - with self checkout there seems to be staff with little to do at every branch I visit. This is a weird one I know but 1. Theft of the art sections from the New York Times by individuals wanting to fill out the crossword puzzles.[]
2687	7/12/2012	2. The high traffic of houseless individuals using library facilities to clean, relax, learn, etc[] 3. That there aren't enough local branches [] 4. That really popular items require a year long waiting list discouraging those who go to use the library from ever going back
2688	7/12/2012	Not being used because the library is no longer relevant.
2689	7/12/2012	I dont know
2690	7/12/2012	budget cuts
2691	7/12/2012	Funding and the perception that libraries are no longer needed because of Netflix, GoogleBooks, Amazon streaming video and other online resources. The folks who need libraries the most to access free materials cannot afford computers and subscriptions to these commercial options. Yet often those in positions of power are out of touch with this specific user group and make decisions based on their own personal access to resources and ability to pay for them. Keep libraries open as much as possible to serve the needs of ALL members of the community.
2692	7/12/2012	Lack of funding for staff/programming due to voter indifference.
2693	7/12/2012	bums
2694	7/12/2012	I see the biggest threat as being the fact that the people with the most political and economic power in our society are not usually library users themselves. They trivialize the extremely important role that the library serves for a broad section of the population.
2695	7/12/2012	Without the library system, we are neglecting our community's future. Young children appreciating to read, people finding jobs and adding to our stability, and the older generation having the ability to socialize and enjoy a hobby they might not be able to do on their own
2696	7/12/2012	Lack of funding and volunteers.
2697	7/12/2012	The fact that everything is supported by homeowners through our property taxes when majority of the people using it do not own homes. There needs to be a way of supporting the libraries where everyone helps to pay and not just those who own homes. It is getting too expensive to own a home because of all the added taxes for libraries and schools. We are even thinking about not owning anymore.Which in turn, I think would mean less funding for the libraries because there will be less people actually owning homes.
2698	7/12/2012	PORTLAND DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION. When new urban renewal ares are created less tax money is available for the county.

2699	7/12/2012	Lack of funding leading to: outdated materials, resources & tools; limited hours & access; fewer staff to assist patrons & maintain functionality
2700	7/12/2012	Money, but also a lack of awareness of the crucial community building element that libraries provide.
2701	7/12/2012	Funding cuts (from those who feel tax dollars should only be spent on the military),
2702	7/12/2012	Lack of reading and access to books at home among children.
2703	7/12/2012	Limiting access and information. We need to fund libraries!
2704	7/12/2012	Revenue shortfalls due to weak economy Unwillingness of citizens to pay for services
2705	7/12/2012	Lack of funds.
2706	7/12/2012	tea party
2707	7/12/2012	I think the biggest threat is the cost of the levy. $.89 is already high and at this point I am not sure if I would support an additional $1.22. I love our library system and I didn't balk at voting for the last levy but I did not know that the library would lose a day of service. You should have been more forthcoming about that. I wouldn't vote for additional monies unless I knew exactly what services would be covered.
2708	7/12/2012	Lack of funding! Also, the rampant belief that libraries are inaccessible.
2709	7/12/2012	Lack of funding to keep branches open.
2710	7/12/2012	Apathy. I think the upper-middle class folks making the decisions for our libraries probably haven't been to one in years- they can just buy anything they want to read.
2711	7/12/2012	Just what is occurring presently. And the perception that some of the public do not appreciate what libraries give all of us.
2712	7/12/2012	Not being available!
2713	7/12/2012	Social apathy. People who don't read or who buy books instead of using the library think that it's not important, but for so many people the library is their main (or only) source for books. We need to make sure that everyone feels great about funding the libraries -- whether they use them or not.
2714	7/12/2012	closing it any more than 1 day a week.
2715	7/12/2012	Reduced funding.
2716	7/12/2012	eBooks and AudioBooks. Many bookstores have closed due to the availability of ebooks. You can get them online anytime day or night. Maybe the focus of the library should move more in that direction. King County Library System has a more extensive electronic library than Mult Co Library system.
2717	7/12/2012	Lack of funding Dated materials and resources Limited access - shorter hours, fewer days, fewer services (e.g. kids & seniors)

2718	7/12/2012	I don't know the answer to that. I do know that I used to get almost all my book reading by borrowing books from the library. Then I purchased an iPad and now find I buy books ($11 each) through Apple. ¶ ¶ I loved using the library and miss it. There may be others with similar experiences, in which case one threat may be electronic media.
2719	7/12/2012	Your planned tax increases that you'll support with this phony poll.
2720	7/12/2012	Inadequate funding.
2721	7/12/2012	lack of a political champion
2722	7/12/2012	the amount of money the county DOES NOT give us
2723	7/12/2012	Funding
2724	7/12/2012	Unknown
2725	7/12/2012	people not reading books or being too busy... and e books.
2726	7/12/2012	Reduction of hours. Reduction of funds.
2727	7/12/2012	Public apathy. Citizens who do not realize how important the library is to many people.
2728	7/12/2012	lack of sufficient funding
2729	7/12/2012	No more economy money for new things.
2730	7/12/2012	Disuse due to lack of selection.
2731	7/12/2012	How should I know? You probably know that better than I do. My guess would be a lack of funding. And people's general disinterest in reading.
2732	7/12/2012	Not keeping hours and newest materials.
2733	7/12/2012	Lack of funds.
2734	7/12/2012	I don't know that answer to that. But I do have an opinion about a particular program that I am involved in. I volunteer for the Outreach Program for the senior and disabled apartment building I live in. Certainly at my building there appears to be a high level of theft. I am coming to the conclusion that it may be better just to serve those who are truly housebound, and limit the outreach lending libraries. That could save resources that are lost to theft. Less tolerance for theft within this program might be in order.
2735	7/12/2012	Lack of funding!
2736	7/12/2012	not having up to date materials stolen or damaged materials
2737	7/12/2012	not being well maintained lack of smart management & loss of funding
2738	7/12/2012	Is there one? A lack of adequate money?
2739	7/12/2012	Lack of funding!
2740	7/12/2012	Republicans and others who don't believe in paying taxes to support the common good.
2741	7/12/2012	lack of funding

2742	7/12/2012	Some of the people are less than desirable.
2743	7/12/2012	I wasn't aware there were any threats to our libraries, but I would say a decrease in funding or perhaps more people using e-readers. But I haven't seen a lack of patronage personally, and the library has e-books, as well as computers and real books. So I think our libraries are keeping up well with the technology.
2744	7/12/2012	I think the libraries have embraced the evolving nature of media with the implementation of e-books for check out. I'm not sure if there is really a threat to libraries because of this flexibility.
2745	7/12/2012	When libraries in public schools lose funding, public libraries lose future readers. I believe school funding and library patronage are probably linked. If kids can't learn from an early age the resources libraries offer and how to use them--and how fun and relaxing libraries are--they won't use them as adults and teenagers. Improved school funding will lead in the long run to better, more well-loved libraries.
2746	7/12/2012	Lack of funding is a major problem! Another threat may be ignorance in the community regarding all that is offered at the libraries in PDX.
2747	7/12/2012	Apathy of our communities
2748	7/12/2012	Cuts to funding and that libraries are becoming extinct due to other media uses available. Libraries are vital to the growth of communities and more events should be held as Open Houses in order to explore all of library services.
2749	7/12/2012	overcrowding
2750	7/12/2012	funding ... always
2751	7/12/2012	A lack of funding and poor knowledge of it's uses and function in the community, thereby making it appear as a luxury and not a necessity in our communities.
2752	7/12/2012	Shutting down completely.... which would be horrible!!!!
2753	7/12/2012	Younger generations not taking up an interest in reading.
2754	7/12/2012	THE INTERNET!!! People now prefer to turn to their electronic devices for everything. They have forgotten how to open, hold, and read from paper. I admit myself use a NOOK ereader, but i do still LOVE to hold the paper and bindings of a real book.
2755	7/12/2012	um. republicans?[] No, really.
2756	7/12/2012	Tax payers unwillingness to pay more per year for these resources.
2757	7/12/2012	Lack of funding and republicans.
2758	7/12/2012	No funding, Republicans
2759	7/12/2012	Some of the people that need the libraries the most cannot afford the taxes needed to pay for them.
2760	7/12/2012	Lack of stable funding base.

2761	7/12/2012	Funding I would imagine. Libraries are an important part of a healthy society and should be well funded. [] Also the digital revolution.
2762	7/12/2012	Poor management of allocated resources and a lack of sufficient resources.
2763	7/12/2012	Residents who won't pay more taxes to keep the MCL system running well.
2764	7/12/2012	Money!!!!
2765	7/12/2012	Multnomah county commissioners not prioritizing library service above exiting and new "entitlement" programs and continually coming back to the citizens for special operating levies. Public safety and libraries should be basic services that are not reduced
2766	7/12/2012	funding shortfalls
2767	7/12/2012	n/a
2768	7/12/2012	Not enough funding! I give when I can, but I am currently a poor college student.
2769	7/12/2012	complacency. taking for granted that we have the best library system in the nation.
2770	7/12/2012	Too much love. (overuse of resources, more demand than services available for certain materials, computer terminals, etc.)
2771	7/12/2012	Budget cuts
2772	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2773	7/12/2012	Not enough funding
2774	7/12/2012	lack of funding cutting services/staff. I think it's okay to only be open 6 days a week (i.e., closed on Mondays), but services should stay top quality.
2775	7/12/2012	Libertarians
2776	7/12/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is the lack of funding which results in lack of services.
2777	7/12/2012	To have a reduced fundings, thus materials for kids and adults alike will be limited.
2778	7/12/2012	lack of economic recovery, sluggish housing market recovery
2779	7/12/2012	Not enough funding.
2780	7/12/2012	The idea that they aren't needed because no one reads books anymore....and everyone has a PC and netflix --- poppycock
2781	7/12/2012	Funding?
2782	7/12/2012	Ideologies unfavorable towards libraries as an institution, technological biases, apathy, negative public image, and of course FUNDING.
2783	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2784	7/12/2012	Bookstores? Amazon?
2785	7/12/2012	Lack of funds
2786	7/12/2012	Poor service by the staff, which makes the library less appealing to occasional users (who are then more likely to vote against funding initiatives). This has been a problem for years.

2787	7/12/2012	People who contribute nothing through taxes, donations or volunteering but use the services. People who give nothing in return for all the time and effort they consume. Crybabies whose livelihood is dependent on other people's money (taxes) and effort. Politicians!
2788	7/12/2012	kindle
2789	7/12/2012	Continued budget cut backs
2790	7/12/2012	mismanagement by and salary of managers.
2791	7/12/2012	Lack of funding. Also, the Digital Age. We never want to see paper books go by the wayside.
2792	7/12/2012	there needs to be more presentations given to young people so they can learn how valuable the written word is ...the kids of today don't know how to look up a business using the yellow pages, they only know how to fiddle with computers, play video games,and txt on the phone.[] so my answer to the question is our young people they are the biggest threat to the system if they don't learn to use and appreciate the written word than it and the houses that hold that sacred knowledge will disappear.
2793	7/12/2012	The perception that they're a waste of money for "regular Americans."
2794	7/12/2012	the internet and ebooks
2795	7/12/2012	Unsure
2796	7/12/2012	Funding
2797	7/12/2012	Changes in how we access information. The internet. Funding
2798	7/12/2012	Funding cuts
2799	7/12/2012	Once we start cutting, we never seem to restore the cuts during better times. Lack of funding is clearly the biggest threat and Oregon's unstable tax structure makes it impossible to have reliable funding for schools and libraries and other public services.
2800	7/12/2012	Apathy
2801	7/12/2012	I don't know. Sounds like funding issues.
2802	7/12/2012	Lack of funding, and priorities being put in the wrong place.
2803	7/12/2012	Loss of funding eliminating neighborhood branches. It is incredibly important to be able to walk to the library and for families and individuals of all ages to have a safe place to gather and learn.
2804	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2805	7/12/2012	Budget cuts[] Republicans
2806	7/12/2012	Sustainable funding. We need a permanent solution to fund our libraries without voting on a levy every few years.
2807	7/12/2012	Republicans
2808	7/12/2012	Lack of tax base- usage is high.
2809	7/12/2012	People's lack of understanding how important libraries are to our community and unwillingness/inability of taxpayers to fund libraries consistently and adequately.
2810	7/12/2012	Where do I start? (I am a teacher..) Video games, a focus on digital over print media.

2811	7/12/2012	technology obsolescence
2812	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2813	7/12/2012	Peoples assumption that everyone has a personal computer and access to the internet 24/7
2814	7/12/2012	Ignorance of how amazing a library can be. I worry about people who don't read, about parents who don't read to their children. I volunteered a few years ago with the SMART program and couldn't believe how the little first and second graders were drawn to someone reading a book to them. I was like that, as were my brother and sisters. Our mother read to us all the time. Today we all prefer reading to TV. Go figure!
2815	7/12/2012	Loss of funding.
2816	7/12/2012	Budget issues
2817	7/12/2012	Not being open when it's needed
2818	7/12/2012	Lack of funds.
2819	7/12/2012	Lack of funding - the idea that everything at the library can be found or resolved on the internet. The lack of understanding that the library provides service like internet access, book delivery and homework help for students of all kinds. That libraries are community centers, and in our state often voting centers
2820	7/12/2012	Apathy
2821	7/12/2012	Funding
2822	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2823	7/12/2012	internet and books on i-pads and kindles. not enough people using the libraries or know all that is offered. I would like to see libraries stay open with all services. If need be go to 6 days or even 5 days a weeke open and have different libraries open different days so there was a library open everyday. we might need to travel a bit further but if i needed a library one would be open.
2824	7/12/2012	Funding. . . . and the general public not realizing the importance of a central means of obtaining information and resources besides their computer and iphone. . . . Too high of property taxes in Oregon, Portland is already carrying the state of Oregon!
2825	7/12/2012	Funding
2826	7/12/2012	don't really know. sounds like lack of funding, eh?
2827	7/12/2012	I am not sure
2828	7/12/2012	Recurring need to float bond measures, concept that we will never stop rising costs
2829	7/12/2012	Funding and political support I'd say.... The public values the library system and utilizes it.
2830	7/12/2012	I am concerned that with reductions to the library staff, the added pressures of serving the community could lead to job burnout, career dissatisfaction and a higher turnover rate of employees.
2831	7/12/2012	Funding
2832	7/12/2012	The internet & slashed budgets!
2833	7/12/2012	Evil Republicans, hahaha! Any cuts to funding.
2834	7/12/2012	Books online and the kindle

2835	7/12/2012	Lack of funds
2836	7/12/2012	Competition for funding with other essential services.
2837	7/12/2012	Trying to finance libraries through ever increasing property taxes. State and local government must find a more permanent and equitable way to fund libraries.
2838	7/12/2012	The appalling thought that technology has replaced the physical book.
2839	7/12/2012	Skewed tax system a corporate subsidies/loopholes that suck funds away from public services
2840	7/12/2012	Funding should not come from voting on 'levys', that is too dependent on the whim of voters. The library is an essential part of a good social safety net. The harder the economy, the more we need the library. Yet this is exactly when people get the most selfish, and the library's levy becomes vulnerable to that selfishness. It should come from taxes, perhaps a county tax? Not property taxes, that way only part of the citizens pay. The more it is spread across the population, the smaller the burden on each individual.
2841	7/12/2012	Funding, lack of a stable tax in Oregon, and poor economy. A sales tax is needed in Oregon as a stable source of income to support services such as education and libraries.
2842	7/12/2012	Lack of funding?!
2843	7/12/2012	I assume it would budget cuts
2844	7/12/2012	overreach. The primary and most important job of a library is to provide access to media. Today, this also means providing access to the internet. The public does not need this access everyday. Having one or even two days a week of closure is inconvenient, but does not necessarily impair the mission of providing access. It just means citizens need to plan ahead and make use the library when it is open. Staggering days off so that not all of the library locations are closed on a given day will also help.
2845	7/12/2012	Adequate funding so they can continue level of service and stay current with fast changing information and computer technologies.
2846	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2847	7/12/2012	Loss of interest and value.
2848	7/12/2012	Loss of funding, not being able to replace old books and still obtain new ones.
2849	7/12/2012	Funding
2850	7/12/2012	inflation
2851	7/12/2012	Inadequate funding.
2852	7/12/2012	Lack of taxpayer support
2853	7/12/2012	i don't know. money going away?
2854	7/12/2012	budget cuts. Administrator pay

2855	7/12/2012	Schools SUCKING every last possible dime from residential homeowners and always - for generations - sucking ever more exponentially. Portland REFUSES to stop zoning residential, continues - with the state of Oregon and the Congress - to subsidize having more and more children. so big surprise, our infrastructure is impossibly overburdened and our schools are bloated with many more students than they can hope to teach successfully. We don't have the stomach for the measures that would cut breeding and increased Soylent-Green scale overpopulation, so in a choice between the state-mandated turning over of the majority of our income to the money-sucking schools, a terribly unfortunate choice has to be made. If it feeds, clothes, protects, heals or institutionally educates the Malthusian-model bloating population, that's where our relatively shrinking income has to be allocated. House and property values have what - RISEN AT THE SAME RATE THAT THE SCHOOLS NEED TO BE FED?? Not on my side of the universe. Same or smaller income, higher and higher property taxes as younger and 'civic minded' voters keep tacking on more and more Yippee Skippe Gee Whiz nicey nice bond issues and targeted feeds, I'm sorry - the libraries serve a great purpose, but you'll have to get your money poring through the leftovers after the schools get the lion's share.
2856	7/12/2012	Lack of full and sustainable funding
2857	7/12/2012	Funding
2858	7/12/2012	Lack of money is clearly a threat. But I also think that making sure to stay relevant is crucial. I think this means keeping up with technology - which is advancing rapidly all the time. I could imagine a point at which people don't have an interest in going to a library to read a book if they could instead find the book virtually from their home computer. Could libraries perform this function? - scanning entire books and making them available to be "checked out of the virtual library" from the Multnomah County Library system. Think Kindle except that you don't buy a download, you check one out of the library. I personally don't have any interest in this - being a person of the book, with a preference for paper and the smell of bookbinding glue - but I can imagine it. I think it's ultimately less important that libraries be open a certain number of days per week than that they offer the most relevant value when they are open, and that their hours of operation vary from location to location so that people can find service someplace, at some library location, no matter what their work schedule or other constraints.
2859	7/12/2012	Lack of communities' knowledge of use opportunities and site capabilities of community based libraries.
2860	7/12/2012	I do not know
2861	7/12/2012	Citizen ignorance
2862	7/12/2012	Lack of consistent funding.
2863	7/12/2012	funding cuts?
2864	7/12/2012	Funding cuts and voter apathy
2865	7/12/2012	Disinterest and modern technology. Complacency for funding, libraries are usually under utilized and therefore funding is redirected to other popular programs.
2866	7/12/2012	Having enough money to continue services
2867	7/12/2012	Another levy instead of a district.
2868	7/12/2012	Lack of funding

2869	7/12/2012	Underskilled librarians
2870	7/12/2012	unstable and insufficient funding
2871	7/12/2012	Republicans.
2872	7/12/2012	Lack of revenue from corporations and the wealthy(income over $250,000).
2873	7/12/2012	They should NEVER BE CLOSED to service, since we are taxpayers and our money should be spent to keep them open for use. We should not be TAXED TO DEATH to keep them open either, since I'm a SENIOR on a fixed income. lackluster, boring, listless, dull staff. (mainly Central Library.) One staff member on customer service desk had filthy (dirt) hands. When I commented, she said she had been working in her garden. Does she not wash her hands before she comes to work with the public?[] []
2874	7/12/2012	I have volunteered at the Hollywood Library. It is a great library with nice caring staff.
2875	7/12/2012	The economy.....
2876	7/12/2012	Trend of continually diminishing funding to local libraries
2877	7/12/2012	I miss having my branch open on Mondays (my day off).
2878	7/12/2012	Funding. I saw on the news that many people were upset over the libraries closing Mondays but I think this is perfectly reasonable and that people, including myself, can plan around the closure.
2879	7/12/2012	keeping up with technology changes and ebook demand
2880	7/12/2012	Offering more than you can afford. The purpose of the library is to offer books to read for a time and then return after a certain period of time. Improving the library and offering a better selection of books would be something to address in a "library".
2881	7/12/2012	Lack of funds. Lack of online resources, expansion of online catalogue.
2882	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2883	7/12/2012	reduced staffing
2884	7/12/2012	lack of funding, it seems.
2885	7/12/2012	poor money management
2886	7/12/2012	Decreased funding and use by the middle class--and maybe alternatives offered by Net Flicks and Amazon.
2887	7/12/2012	lack of funds
2888	7/12/2012	Lack of support from the government. The citizens are well aware of how important the libraries and the library system are. They rely on the access to materials that the libraries and the library staff supply. Libraries are an important part of education, recreation and satisfaction. The citizens know they are important. I'm not sure the politicians do.
2889	7/12/2012	Funding.

2890	7/12/2012	Not sure what you mean. The biggest barrier to me using the library is the hours - I work weekends so when weekday evening hours are cut, I never get to use the library.[] [] In terms of funding, the biggest threat is that the library funding comes from the general fund. I wish there was a fixed percentage of Oregon tax dollars that went to our libraries instead of threatening them first when budget cuts happen.
2891	7/12/2012	people who do not want to support it
2892	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2893	7/12/2012	Funding Downloadable books? [] Apathy by taxpayers?[] []
2894	7/12/2012	I personally think you get a great value for the money, and can't see why there isn't a nominal fee for the cards. The average video costs to rent at a store or netflix. How can the library afford to do what it does for free? I'm glad they finally put in the sensors to reduce thievery.
2895	7/12/2012	Looks like the same threat to everything: not enough money.
2896	7/12/2012	Citizens are unwilling to be taxed for important public services.
2897	7/12/2012	complacency
2898	7/12/2012	funding and new technology
2899	7/12/2012	$$'s
2900	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2901	7/12/2012	Obviously having the funding to stay in operation is the biggest threat. If cutting one day will keep our libraries open and functioning I am all for it.
2902	7/12/2012	Closure due to lack of funding.
2903	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2904	7/12/2012	Funding
2905	7/12/2012	I see it as the same threat to our local mass transit and our local school system: anything reducing the amount of money we put into our public infrastructure. Lower taxes, austerity programs, and a weak economy come to mind.
2906	7/12/2012	lack of funds to keep the libraries open, is what I hear via the media.
2907	7/12/2012	Funding challenges. Stable, ongoing support. The need to adapt to quickly changing technologies.
2908	7/12/2012	A lack of funding inextricably entwined with an outdated public perception of the services offered at the library.
2909	7/12/2012	Lack of funding and poor service.
2910	7/12/2012	Not enough funding.
2911	7/12/2012	Not having a dependable stream of funding and having branches close due to lack of funds.
2912	7/12/2012	Limited or reduced funding.

2913	7/12/2012	lack of adequate funding, danger of falling behind on technology and services that benefit all community members
2914	7/12/2012	not having stable funding
2915	7/12/2012	Funding being cut.
2916	7/12/2012	Internet. Not sure we will need them the same way in the future. Are we looking at an obsolete system. Should we be thinking ahead of how best to provide information?
2917	7/12/2012	Reduction in paper book usage, funding.
2918	7/12/2012	If they start to have weird hours all the time people might avoid using them because they will start to be unsure about when they are open and not want to deal with it.
2919	7/12/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is a lack of state and federal government funding. Our government has cut back on so many other social resources that I now see the local libraries being used and needed as safe havens for kids to go after school, job seekers to conduct research, a place that is hopeful and thriving with community and culture, and a place of refuge. I've been a patron of libraries my entire life and I think the library is more important now than ever before simply because there is no other place for people to go. If we cut funding for basic social services people still need a place to go and it seems libraries are the only options right now.
2920	7/12/2012	The funding process
2921	7/12/2012	Cutting programs, cutting hours, or lack of support for the libraries
2922	7/12/2012	Lack of funding, leading to limited hours, outdated books and resources, and limited resources.
2923	7/12/2012	Reduced funding
2924	7/12/2012	Decreased hours and programs which will decrease the community that is cultivated through libraries.
2925	7/12/2012	?? You tell me.
2926	7/12/2012	???
2927	7/12/2012	internet
2928	7/12/2012	If library is not open frequently enough to be convenient people will be less likely to visit.
2929	7/12/2012	People who don't understand the value of reading. Lots of people like that seem to be in power...
2930	7/12/2012	Lack of funding!
2931	7/12/2012	I truly believe that decreasing hours of operation and employees will instill a lackadaisical attitude towards the library by former patrons.
2932	7/12/2012	POLITICIANS <(SUCK))~ THE LIBRARY IS A WAY WE USE AN PRACTICE ARE FREEDOM OF SPEECH BY HAVING ACSESS TO THE WORLD AND THE ENDLESS KNOWLEDGE THAT IS OUT THERE. ~~~THROUGHOUT HISTORY ONE MAJOR THING THAT CAN DEFINE ANY CULTURE OR EMPIRE IS A CENTRAL LIBRARY. ITS ABILITY TO PRESERVE AND SHARE KNOWLEDGE THROUGH EACH GENERATION.....
2933	7/12/2012	Stable funding.
2934	7/12/2012	Not enough money to pay staff.

2935	7/12/2012	Budget cuts
2936	7/12/2012	Lack of support as a community necessity for children and families, educators, and job seekers.
2937	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
2938	7/12/2012	Republicans
2939	7/12/2012	Pay per use focus of content owners Attack on first sale doctrine Staying relevant in the face of rapidly evolving technology
2940	7/12/2012	I always vote yes on library taxes, and yet the money never seems to make it there, because I am always being asked for more tax money, and then I'm told the library is going to close its doors anyway. The streets are full of potholes, the parks are always in trouble and my taxes go up and up and up to fund schools even though school funding is the state's responsibility. I live between Holgate and Powell - a low income area that is home to crime. Our taxes are absurdly high compared to similar homes in places like Irvington. I like living in a bike-friendly city, but that's about all that ever seems to get funded. Of all the things my tax money goes to, nothing is as important to me as libraries, and that's the first place that apparently gets cut. Every damned time. Not cool. Why aren't city officials lobbying Congress for another stimulus? Why aren't they banding together with other city governments in a high profile protest? Why aren't they telling Greg Walden his party is choking the life out of Oregon's biggest city? Bottom line: I do not trust that the members of the Portland City Council are spending my tax money prudently, assessing city property rationally, or being creative and emphatic about finding more aid in Washington.
2941	7/12/2012	Not having enough electronic media.
2942	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2943	7/12/2012	Cheap-ass bastards who won't agree to pay more taxes. Also people with unpaid library fines.
2944	7/12/2012	Funding
2945	7/12/2012	without access to the library, people will lose interest, if they are not interested in going they wont be interested in funding the library an open honest discourse with the public is required to help protect our libraris
2946	7/12/2012	Funding cuts to not get new materials.
2947	7/12/2012	Closure
2948	7/12/2012	Money to maintain library and services
2949	7/12/2012	Apparently insufficient funds.
2950	7/12/2012	not sure
2951	7/12/2012	N/A
2952	7/12/2012	A lack of funding.

2953	7/12/2012	Community disinterest. Lack of adequate funding. Vandalism and destructive actions of people who don't see the value of this resource.
2954	7/12/2012	It appears to be lack of funding. And though I would hate to have our library services cut anymore than they have been, we didn't always have so much access to our libraries, (ie:open every day for long hours), and it bothers me that the burden of supporting our libraries falls upon home owners, and not the general public that uses them. I think being closed one day a week is fine. And I would be willing to pay some type of fee to have a library card, as long as it wasn't too much, in order to off-set some of the costs of the library.
2955	7/12/2012	The state of Oregon has some of the highest taxes but they can't seem to manage the money correctly. The state government is the biggest threat in my mind.
2956	7/12/2012	People who don't read. Other media grabbing their attention.
2957	7/12/2012	Lack of proper funding
2958	7/12/2012	Funding cuts
2959	7/12/2012	it seems securing appropriate funding and utilization of funds appropriately.
2960	7/12/2012	The economy makes it so difficult for people to want to part with even a few more dollars for funding, while at the same time making the libraries all the more necessary. As usual those who can most afford to help are those who either don't care or think it's a scare tactic, or mismanaged funds
2961	7/12/2012	funding
2962	7/12/2012	not having enough funding
2963	7/12/2012	The cuts to the budget. How about the woman who's in charge? Pay her less.
2964	7/12/2012	I would guess taxpayers' reluctance to spend more, though I would like to think otherwise.
2965	7/12/2012	People not willing to put public money into vital community institutions, such as libraries. The threat of a privatized library is very large. That would damage the libraries ability to provide services to all people, regardless of who they are or what lifestyle they live.
2966	7/12/2012	Inadequate funding. Hours being limited so it's difficult for working people to access the library- or closure of branches making it difficult to access libraries...important to make them in neighborhoods to make it walk able.[]
2967	7/12/2012	Closure is the ultimate threat.[] [] The ultimate threat
2968	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2969	7/12/2012	Not enough money to support hours and new materials.
2970	7/12/2012	Libraries and schools should be funded before tax breaks to the rich corporations are given...let them help the community by helping our schools and libraries!
2971	7/12/2012	Spending money on pet projects instead of critical/high priority programs; biases in choosing books/materials. I believe the libraries are doing their jobs well in these areas now.
2972	7/12/2012	budget cuts

2973	7/12/2012	I don't know, but I suspect that declining reading combined with a cost to the average homeowner of several hundred dollars a year may mean that the function of libraries is changing and perhaps their revenue sources need to change as well. Biggest threat is getting its funding from Multnomah Co. General Fund. []
2974	7/12/2012	[] Let it go back to an independent organization with an independent budget source. That way people can decide how much they can afford for that particular line item of service.
2975	7/12/2012	Funding. It is a much used but greatly undervalued asset. I'd much rather pay taxes to have unlimited access to books and media than pay to watch movie or buy books I may never read again!
2976	7/12/2012	Funding cuts.
2977	7/12/2012	Politicians using funds for unpopular programs before the library
2978	7/12/2012	People not understanding that to cut funding to the library undermines our future.
2979	7/12/2012	Fewer and fewer funding sources.and so many equally important social programs seemingly competing for the same funding.
2980	7/12/2012	lack of funding
2981	7/12/2012	Electronic media. I typically download books and materials on line now because it is so fast and easy.
2982	7/12/2012	Reduced funding. Lack of access to materials.
2983	7/12/2012	Lack of money, it seems.
2984	7/12/2012	Limiting hours which deny people access to a world of knowledge, information and experiences.
2985	7/12/2012	A shift in attitude that a library is incidental vs. essential to a community, and that it is something allowed to fend for itself: put on the chopping block or left to the whim of private support. There is a real danger in that thinking, because it is then forced to compete with food banks and other emergency services. The loss of a library is not always obvious at first; but in the long-term, it can be detrimental to a community and to a society. It is one of the few public places that is open to all and welcomes all. It ensures that everyone has access to learning. Its presence supports a commitment to an educated and enlightened populace.
2986	7/12/2012	loss of funding.
2987	7/12/2012	Theft
2988	7/12/2012	??
2989	7/12/2012	Lack of adequate funding
2990	7/12/2012	budget cuts!
2991	7/12/2012	The library is a safe place for students to go; with all sports and after-school activities it is vital that libraries stay open as a welcoming place for students to go.

2992	7/12/2012	Lack of appreciation and understanding of the huge educational role public libraries play. This leads to lack of public funding. It is the users who most need library services who are often the least likely to agitate for them because they are the most in need of education and see themselves as powerless. Therefore, it is up to the society as a whole to provide library service that is free to the user, available as much as possible and funded by public monies.
2993	7/12/2012	Budget cuts.
2994	7/12/2012	restrictive digital content
2995	7/12/2012	Funding
2996	7/12/2012	Lack of interest of the general public because of the misunderstanding that it will always be there
2997	7/12/2012	politicans apparently
2998	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
2999	7/12/2012	I'm sure money...it's the downfall of every public institution.
3000	7/12/2012	We want to be everything to everyone. We need to begin making the changes needed to continue services at reasonable levels. ¶ I would suggest cutting library hours and fitting them to actual needs versus meeting wants and desires. Weekend hours seem essential, as well as after school and evening hours to meet the needs of students and lifelong learners.
3001	7/12/2012	lack of funding, the I-Pad
3002	7/12/2012	e-books
3003	7/12/2012	Loss of funding
3004	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
3005	7/12/2012	Diminution of funding.
3006	7/12/2012	Money.
3007	7/12/2012	Loss of funding
3008	7/12/2012	money problems
3009	7/12/2012	Lack of funding, lack of attendance, books being available electronically
3010	7/12/2012	Illiteracy?
3011	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3012	7/12/2012	Spending on items to make the building look good and wastful spending
3013	7/12/2012	Amazon.com
3014	7/12/2012	Not enough taxes collected to adequately fund the local libraries
3015	7/12/2012	reduced hours and days
3016	7/12/2012	The internet. lack of pubic funding,
3017	7/12/2012	lack of funding.
3018	7/12/2012	I believe the biggest threat to our local libraries is a lack of understanding about the full range of services provided as well as the importance of those services that leads to underutilization and a lower instance of monetary support for library.

3019	7/12/2012	my guess would be funding and lack of community understanding of its importance to our young children.
3020	7/12/2012	Lack of funding, of course. In part a result of our society's decreasing interest in and understanding of the importance of creating safe, learning and community oriented places where everyone is welcome.
3021	7/12/2012	The budget!
3022	7/12/2012	Staff salaries and expanding benefits unfortunately head my list. Public apathy and ignorance of the library system is probably second. (Whatever happened to story hour in the public parks?) Failure to really push the Library District concept could be fatal.
3023	7/12/2012	This can't be a soundbite. Customers who don't use libraries much have a misconception that everything is going digital, or that everyone can/wants to afford digital access to kindles or commercially provided research / content, when really, libraries should provide hard copy. Libraries try to compete with popular bookstores when it's the long tail that makes libraries relevant, and they need to be both, popular and research/rare. Libraries don't or can't market their products to compete with commercially available content- ie no one knows how to get into the databases and even if they stumble into GVRL they'll be lost because the platforms for the Db's are so clunky and bad. Even if people use google for everything, why isn't MCL one of the first results for content searching? etc etc Also the central library still suffers from patron-brain drain, and now their patron base has become a social-ills society caretaking facility. You can't make people come to a building--or can you? Challenge.
3024	7/12/2012	My understanding of the problem is that the latest library measure we passed was limited by it not going solely to maintain the library, but was used by the county to help with administrative costs. It sounds like a library district will help to avoid this siphoning off of funding that we all thought was going to fix the problem when we passed the last measure.
3025	7/12/2012	Indifference
3026	7/12/2012	lack of funding and people who don't understand taxes are necessary for it to run
3027	7/12/2012	no idea
3028	7/12/2012	Mismanagement
3029	7/12/2012	Loss of funding
3030	7/12/2012	lack of adequate funding, outrageous cost of health insurance for employees (they should have great health insurance but costs are horrible for everyone)
3031	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3032	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3033	7/12/2012	lack of funding, overcrowding.

3034	7/12/2012	The high cost of building upgrades and maintenance and the purchase of expensive books, media and other materials. I like the offset of Tidal Wave bookstore as a revenue source, but it's still expensive to operate a library system. Also, people that don't use the library, because they aren't aware of the myriad services available, tend to vote down the levies.
3035	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
3036	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3037	7/12/2012	I think this question could be worded much better. In financial terms that would be funding. As a non-profit governmental institution you are also required to utilize funding when it is available, but do not want to keep too much in your books at the end of year. So, if I am correct about that, it becomes tricky to continue operating at maximum levels when, like now, the funding is not as flush as it is in some year. So, I sum as saying that the biggest threat is in surviving the economic hard-times that will continue.
3038	7/12/2012	people not realizing what a treasure they are and then the fools who want to privatize them (1) financial
3039	7/12/2012	(2) internet: more material found online, however I feel the library has kept up with technology and embraced those options for users.
3040	7/12/2012	Lack of use
3041	7/12/2012	Funding
3042	7/12/2012	Lack of funding so the library does not keep up with technology and new editions. Lack of funding so that the libraries are not open enough for people to truly use.
3043	7/12/2012	People not taking full advantage of them
3044	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3045	7/12/2012	The economy just like it is a threat to public safety and services for aging and disability and all other county services.
3046	7/12/2012	The notion that public libraries are less than an essential resource that should be available to all, regardless of income.
3047	7/12/2012	Ignorance.
3048	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
3049	7/12/2012	Further reduction in operating hours. Closing one day a week is ok, not great, but, being open enough hours for people who don't work 9-5 jobs to use it is really important
3050	7/12/2012	The lack of understanding of the critical services they provide to the community.
3051	7/12/2012	Having cuts that jeopardize the quality of material. It is important to have new/updated material.
3052	7/12/2012	Pressure on funding from the continuing recession.
3053	7/12/2012	Illiteracy
3054	7/12/2012	Financial cuts
3055	7/12/2012	I have no idea.

3056	7/12/2012	The outrage felt about you cutting services, AFTER, WE SUPPORTED A LEVY. I personally feel betrayed and as if I have been lied to. NEVER again will I support any Multomah County tax measures for any reason.
3057	7/12/2012	People who don't use them making decisions about them.
3058	7/12/2012	probably the digital age, in the way that it's threatening most all physical media. maybe also that people don't know about all that's offered - for example, i had no idea there were resources for job seekers and small business owners, but i think that's awesome. anyone who has traveled much in the states should know the best place to go to orient yourself in a new city is the library.
3059	7/12/2012	Losing money and not being able to get any new materials or stay open reasonable hours
3060	7/12/2012	funding problems
3061	7/12/2012	lack of funding
3062	7/12/2012	Computers making books irrelevant.
3063	7/12/2012	Apathy. People who have so much and don't want to bothered with the amazing benefits a public library offers.
3064	7/12/2012	Loss of operating funding.
3065	7/12/2012	Taxpayer apathy
3066	7/12/2012	Cutting funding - or not enough funding - at a time when we need the help that libraries give us the most!!!
3067	7/12/2012	please don't tax senior citizens
3068	7/12/2012	Perhaps mismanagement? I really don't know. How would I?
3069	7/12/2012	The open hours got cut.
3070	7/12/2012	citizen apathy
3071	7/12/2012	relying on general funds that shrink with an increase of demands for support
3072	7/12/2012	loss of funding?
3073	7/12/2012	Misuse of library funds.
3074	7/12/2012	Lack of funding and the reign of technology over actual books
3075	7/12/2012	the library is a threat to itself - its mission and vision is often murky and "selling" the library to taxpayers is more difficult if it is not clear what a library is. clarify the library as a place to obtain knowledge, study and learn, enjoy and appreciate writing, and as the ONLY public space devoted to contemplation and reflection.
3076	7/12/2012	lack of funding.
3077	7/12/2012	being closed down
3078	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3079	7/12/2012	The homeless community. The restrooms are often filthy, people are malodorous, and many people have anger issues. If the library is going to be a place for people to bathe, perhaps there should be appropriate facilities available at the library, since they are being used for this purpose any way.

3080	7/12/2012	Insufficient and unsustainable funding. Lack of a good long-term funding solution. The ramifications of Ballot Measure 5 are still being felt to this day and as the economy has slowed down drastically property values have shrunk in turn, not to mention the destruction of property values wrought by the sub-prime mortgage scandal. All this has combined to produce a library system in crisis and in need of revenue.
3081	7/12/2012	Funding shortages
3082	7/12/2012	lack of consistent funding.
3083	7/12/2012	Republicans. I don't know when this happened, but today's Republicans seem loathe to pay for anything not directly benefiting them.
3084	7/12/2012	I suppose a lack of funding. This is something that everyone will feel. It would be ideal to offer a library will early/late hours and more space to accomidate for all schedules and styles of Portland learners. However, this would need more money to achieve.
3085	7/12/2012	I have no idea.
3086	7/12/2012	Lack of funds
3087	7/12/2012	Funding, apparently![]
3088	7/12/2012	Competition with the internet/other information resources.[] People not interested in reading.[] Folks not knowing/understanding what a great place the library is/services & amenities available. Lack of funding. People don't want to pay for something shared.[] []
3089	7/12/2012	I have heard of studies that show that the most active library patrons also tend to be very active book purchasers. Perhaps such a study could be used to entice retailers to give grants to our library system?
3090	7/12/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is lack of programs to get community involved. Being under-funded. It's really important to me that the library be able to keep providing their collection to elderly or sick people like my great aunt in her assisted living home. She can't leave there physically, but she can escape with great literature thanks to the library.
3091	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3092	7/12/2012	Funding, digital media vs hard copy.
3093	7/12/2012	The computer.....
3094	7/12/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is budget cuts, and lack of funding for new books and materials.
3095	7/12/2012	lack of funding
3096	7/12/2012	To many non related library services.
3097	7/12/2012	Budget cuts
3098	7/12/2012	I do not know, but I am concerned about questionable accountability and excessive waste in all aspect of government and government funded things.
3099	7/12/2012

3100	7/12/2012	Funding when cities & counties are affected by a bad economy
3101	7/12/2012	I don't know really know much about this issue. My guess would be people's abuse of computers, stealing books and not enough people volunteering to keep the library open.
3102	7/12/2012	Funding and not getting on board the digital bandwagon. More and more people are reading and checking out books digitally- the library should continue to promote librarytogo and the Oregon digital consortium. This is a vital and growing area of need as well as a pool of potential new customers that do not use the local sites.
3103	7/12/2012	Cuts in funding!
3104	7/12/2012	Closure
3105	7/12/2012	The ranking system above does not work well, the numbers automatically reorder themselves 1,2,3,4,5,6.[] [] The biggest threat is the access that users have to online information. How can the library work with this paradigm shift and remain a relevant resource?
3106	7/12/2012	Unknown
3107	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3108	7/12/2012	Lack of funds
3109	7/12/2012	Funding cuts
3110	7/12/2012	Inactive community members not realizing the wealth in our libraries and voting against tax hikes that are steeped in value. Not all taxes are bad taxes.
3111	7/12/2012	Budget shortfalls?
3112	7/12/2012	Lack of funding and society's unwillingness to fund any sort of social program.
3113	7/12/2012	Poor spending of taxpayers money
3114	7/12/2012	Funding and technology.
3115	7/12/2012	Television and right wing anti intellecutals like Rick Santorum.
3116	7/12/2012	the finacial banking system
3117	7/12/2012	Increasing loss of education, in civic, scientific, and historical knowledge; in the humanities; and in the arts. Who will care about CONTENT if all anyone wants is a computer game, and we spend hours and hours with technology but must be entertained as if we all had attention deficict disorder? But maybe most of us already do.
3118	7/12/2012	Inaccessibility. The cuts to hours so branches are only open past 5 pm 2 days a week makes it nearly impossible for me to pick up materials.
3119	7/12/2012	County Budget Problems
3120	7/12/2012	poor funding
3121	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
3122	7/12/2012	Lack of funding. All of the above services are critically important, and all need funds.
3123	7/12/2012	Being ghettoized as places for poor people only, rather than a community resource for everyone.

3124	7/12/2012	Lack of funding to operate well enough to cater to all community needs.
3125	7/12/2012	Shorter hours and shorter days. However, with the recent passing of the Library Levy, it was my understanding that the library would not have any more problems....at least right now. Instead I find that the hours and days have been shortened I am disgusted about this. Why vote for more money to "save" our libraries, only to have the hours and days shortened? Phooey!
3126	7/12/2012	not keeping up with new technology (e book service library 2 go is limited in variety of authors and amount of books available (example: 2 copies available for kindle with 70 holds for a book that is not brand new) and not buying enough copies to meet current demand of popular books/movies (often hear people say that they don't want to wait that long for xx book so they will go to target to buy it
3127	7/12/2012	funding (lack thereof).[] censorship / dcma / politics
3128	7/12/2012	Lack of hours, lack of current materials for a WIDE range of interests, lack of librarians or volunteers.
3129	7/12/2012	Salaries.
3130	7/12/2012	lack of funding and electronic media
3131	7/12/2012	Not being there.
3132	7/12/2012	The internet, Amazon Kindle
3133	7/12/2012	Budget cuts
3134	7/12/2012	budget shortfalls
3135	7/12/2012	Money.
3136	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3137	7/12/2012	Our libraries don't have enough funding to keep current materials and interesting programs for children so they lose public interest and therefore more funding is lost.
3138	7/12/2012	People dodging their taxes.
3139	7/12/2012	Closures due to lower funding because of poor corporate tax revenues.
3140	7/12/2012	The ipad.
3141	7/12/2012	There has been a cutback in days the library is open.
3142	7/12/2012	Them being closed down.
3143	7/12/2012	Not getting enough funding forcing locations to be shut down.
3144	7/12/2012	Fire.
3145	7/12/2012	FUNDING, LACK OF STAFF
3146	7/12/2012	BUDGET CUTS
3147	7/12/2012	Funding cuts
3148	7/12/2012	Seems to be lack of funding
3149	7/12/2012	Short sighted public officials!

3150	7/12/2012	I'm fine with library being open six days a week. Other libraries throughout the United States are open six days a week (I used to use the San Francisco library system and the San Mateo library system) and it wasn't a problem at all. [] I understand that this question anticipates survey takers will likely answer , "funding is the biggest threat" and in a sense that's true. Unfortunately, for many people (students, homeowners who can no longer afford another tax increase, retired individuals on fixed incomes, families struggling to simply pay the utilities), their biggest threat is also funding - their ability or inability to pay tuition, taxes, utilities, rent, and so forth. [] Nowadays, with the exception of the upper middle-class and the wealthy, most people are struggling, and until the economy improves, most of us do what we have to do, which means tightening our belts, postponing purchases, driving less, using less heat to warm our homes and in general, living leaner. It's unfortunate but true.[] In the meantime, all of us, public agencies included, will need to employ a healthy dose of common sense and financial prudence until things improve.
3151	7/12/2012	funding?
3152	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3153	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
3154	7/12/2012	lack of money
3155	7/12/2012	Budget cuts.
3156	7/12/2012	Lack of funding.
3157	7/12/2012	Lack of funding?? Also e-books, but I use the Mult Co Library for that, too!
3158	7/12/2012	I don't know. If I had to guess it would be lack of funding. Or those with access to internet and computers not realizing this is not the case for everyone and assuming that the library is not relevant. Also library fines preventing people who can not pay them from continuing to use the library as these are likely the people who need the service the most.
3159	7/12/2012	Obviously the need for funding.
3160	7/12/2012	E-books and illiteracy.
3161	7/12/2012	Funding.
3162	7/12/2012	illiteracy, bad educational system
3163	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3164	7/12/2012	Budget Cuts.... Illiteracy
3165	7/12/2012	Trying to provide too many services and digital media. Music CDs and movies should either have a rental charge or be copy proof - the library is enabling rampant copying of artists' work. Too many physical buildings are a threat too, as infrastructure costs will continue to climb while the public will increasingly want online delivery.

3166	7/12/2012	Oregon's regressive and unstable tax structure and the unwillingness of leadership to reform it. This is obviously also a threat to schools and all other public services which receive state and local funding.
3167	7/12/2012	Lack of funding, lack of availability if hours are reduced to where people can't come in on a consistent basis as needed.
3168	7/12/2012	lack of funding and lack of community support
3169	7/12/2012	I have no clue; seems all levies are passed with a "yes" vote. Tax base shrinking?
3170	7/12/2012	Stable funding
3171	7/12/2012	The lack of awareness about how important our local libraries are and the need to support them financially and politically.
3172	7/12/2012	The worst thing that could happen is closure due to lack of funding. Folks tired of any more taxation. Particularly during a Presidential election year. We are are over stimulated with information re:[]
3173	7/12/2012	tax cuts/ tax raises. The truth is the average American citizen doesn't follow and/or understand our current political scenario.[] Therefore many who do actually vote, make choices out of fear.
3174	7/12/2012	budget restrictions. I will always vote to increase my property taxes if it keeps our libraries strong.
3175	7/12/2012	the internet and use of computer - kids desiring screen time instead of getting their noses into the books :(
3176	7/12/2012	Losing funding. I also dislike petitioners out front wanting signatures for various causes.
3177	7/12/2012	Lack of interest, lack of strong tax base. If everyone knew how great and extensive a resource our library system is, there would be no question of whether tax or bond referendums would be appropriate.
3178	7/12/2012	I'm not sure; funding?
3179	7/12/2012	Consistent funding.
3180	7/12/2012	Underestimating how important they are, so not asking enough funding from public (taxpayers)
3181	7/12/2012	Instability of funding coupled with people taking them for granted.
3182	7/12/2012	Lack of Funding
3183	7/12/2012	Lack of funding
3184	7/12/2012	The tea party mindset.
3185	7/12/2012	I have no clue.
3186	7/12/2012	The internet, television, Republicans, Democrats, the Military Defense Complex, War...
3187	7/12/2012	Funding
3188	7/12/2012	Insufficient funding
3189	7/12/2012	State funding
3190	7/12/2012	The lack of funding.
3191	7/12/2012	Funding

3192	7/12/2012	not open enough late hours to accommodate working people.
3193	7/12/2012	Fire.
3194	7/12/2012	Budget cuts.
3195	7/12/2012	Closure!
3196	7/12/2012	funding
3197	7/12/2012	Apathy
3198	7/12/2012	Lack of consistent funding?
3199	7/12/2012	I'm no expert, but I find the general saying, "you are your own worst enemy." works for most scenarios.
3200	7/12/2012	Survey-writers who think they're being spiff when they use auto-reorder in a selection process. It took thrice as long as it should have because it kept second-guessing my next response and screwing up my previous ones. Just let people make their selections and have an error-catcher for duplicate rankings.
3201	7/12/2012	Unstable funding. Hard to make long term plans without a secure source of funding.
3202	7/12/2012	lack of funding and the closure of any branches
3203	7/12/2012	Nothing can replace the local library
3204	7/12/2012	lack of funds
3205	7/11/2012	Not being open seven days a week.
3206	7/11/2012	Kindles and other electronics. Lack of regular hours and money for current materials.
3207	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
3208	7/11/2012	Perceived lack of need with increased internet use.
3209	7/11/2012	Lack of innovation in services provided and ability to change/innovate.
3210	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Libraries with reduced staff and limited hours will negatively impact the community as a whole.
3211	7/11/2012	Not being open as they provide a valuable resource.
3212	7/11/2012	going to less than 6 days open each week
3213	7/11/2012	lack of public support
3214	7/11/2012	Ignorance. Selfishness. Politics
3215	7/11/2012	I don't know
3216	7/11/2012	Maybe, like everyplace else, the libraries need to cut salaries and benefits. Do people who re-shelve books still get $14.00 an hour? I don't want to pay $1.22 per $1000. Sorry, but this is what is happening in the private sector so ...
3217	7/11/2012	?
3218	7/11/2012	not having secure funding...
3219	7/11/2012	Everything going electronic, such as books, lectures, programs, teaching, etc.
3220	7/11/2012	lack of sufficient funding
3221	7/11/2012	Closure due to lack of funding

3222	7/11/2012	homeless people occupying it during all hours.[] communicable diseases such as TB that can be spread.
3223	7/11/2012	The potential to have to close branches.
3224	7/11/2012	Services and hours being cut in light of budget crunches.
3225	7/11/2012	Lenghthening closing hours
3226	7/11/2012	Lack of vision and lack of funding.
3227	7/11/2012	funding stream
3228	7/11/2012	I'm not sure, but plan to look in to it.
3229	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3230	7/11/2012	Online resources
3231	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, I assume. Im 12 so i dont know much but i think that computers,nooks,kindles and and thing with an i before it (ipad i pod) are making it easier for people to just look up books and buy them. People think why go all the way to the library and put a book on hold when i can just ge it on my (all of the above).
3232	7/11/2012	Increased defense spending.
3233	7/11/2012	Increased defense spending.
3234	7/11/2012	Trying to be all things to all people. I would rather not have had to rank the programs for special interest groups. I would have given them no ranking rather than 4, 5, and 6. People need to learn how to use library materials most effectively, not to think of themselves as a member of a special interest group. When people join a group, they make noise, and the library branch that I use most regularly is much too noisy already. Why do they call them "quiet rooms" when that is where the noisy groups should be put?
3235	7/11/2012	The inequity of public schooling and lack of quality affordable preschool, which can lead to a growing cult of uneducated, where dumb = sexy, and reality television is "good" entertainment.
3236	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Once cutbacks happen, it is difficult to reverse the trend
3237	7/11/2012	Theft and possiblity of closing
3238	7/11/2012	The electronic trend has younger people using other sources for information. Please don't let our libraries go "paperless". The feel of a book in your hands should not be lost. I believe that there is a good balance now.
3239	7/11/2012	Republicans
3240	7/11/2012	They will have so many noisy programs that you can't even read.
3241	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3242	7/11/2012	Funding
3243	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding.
3244	7/11/2012	Funding
3245	7/11/2012	The belief that availability equals quality and that all branches are equal. I'd much rather see Central open 24 hrs a day, 7 days and all other branches open 4 days a week with varying hours. Perhaps one day with business hours, one day with early morning, another with evening etc.

3246	7/11/2012	Focus should be on books vs dvd. Too much pressure to use the limited money for non-reading purposes. Computer access is important since so many folks don't have it
3247	7/11/2012	Republicans
3248	7/11/2012	People don't realize all that a library can do, from digitally downloading a variety of materials to borrowing video games. It's all "free" or already paid for by taxes, so why bother with Amazon or Barnes and Noble?
3249	7/11/2012	Not having enough money to run.
3250	7/11/2012	I don't know. Probably money.
3251	7/11/2012	Is the library still relevant? There is a perception that fewer books are read due to increasing competition for time from electronic media. Following that path leads to libraries as community centers. Community centers do not get people out to vote for bond sales.
3252	7/11/2012	That they won't be accessible for people, programs will be cut out and that new materials wouldn't be acquired.
3253	7/11/2012	Apathy
3254	7/11/2012	Unstable funding. As its many other services, with the economic downturn, demand for library services has increased. I have Internet access at home, but I see many people trying to apply for jobs who exceed their time limit and have to wait for another opportunity. In the twenty plus years I have lived in Portland, I believe every single time voters have been asked to pass a library measure, they have. Very few agencies provide so much help to so many varied groups, certainly not for free.
3255	7/11/2012	all the crooks in the local government
3256	7/11/2012	I don't perceive a threat, but your question probably seeks the answer, "funding."
3257	7/11/2012	Lack of sustainable funding.
3258	7/11/2012	underfunding
3259	7/11/2012	it appears to be funding.
3260	7/11/2012	Non-support by county residents that do not use the library and do not value it.
3261	7/11/2012	That they'll be closed or hours cut down dramatically
3262	7/11/2012	Not sure, maybe shorter hours?
3263	7/11/2012	bears
3264	7/11/2012	The economy and way too many people do not read.
3265	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.

		The internet. We are in an age where the value of information is being downgraded, as we google our way through life, we forget what an important and valuable resource a trained librarian is. UC Berkeley is phasing out it's Librarian degree, which is a shame. ¶
		¶
3266	7/11/2012	But besides the above rant, the biggest threat is turning away from excellence in staffing/procedures in an move to be more tech-current. Since the new dvd security system has been in place, there is never a time when I check-out more than one DVD that a disc doesn't play correctly. ¶
		¶
		Running out of time on my library computer, but I do want to say it's less important for the branch libraries to be open everyday. But it is helpful to have the Central library open.
3267	7/11/2012	Republicans who would rather decrease "Government" by removing the very programs that decrease stupidity, homelessness, and an inability to connect to the World.
3268	7/11/2012	All of the items mentioned above are important to me and my family, but somethings are going to have funding cut. I found it hard to put a numerical value on their importance.
3269	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3270	7/11/2012	funding
3271	7/11/2012	funding
3272	7/11/2012	there is nowhere to comfortably read in our libraries.
3273	7/11/2012	keep funding high enough so that service levels don't continue to decline,
3274	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. It is bizarre to me that a permanent funding solution does not exist.
3275	7/11/2012	Wimpy taxpayers who won't support libraries.
3276	7/11/2012	I do not know.
3277	7/11/2012	Offering too many services, should be books only.
3278	7/11/2012	vandalism and theft
3279	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3280	7/11/2012	Funding
3281	7/11/2012	Funding as reading and information are fundamental to a democracy.
3282	7/11/2012	No idea.
3283	7/11/2012	We think it must be financial, and the loss of staff, open days and hours
3284	7/11/2012	constant requests for more money
		I would guess it is lose of funding from the lose of tax revenue. The state of Oregon is such a screwed-up mess and does not seem to attract large Fortune 500, 1,000 or top employers. Two Fortune 500's (Nike and Precision Cast Parts) does not make for a good healthy economy. ¶
		¶
		And, idiots in Washington, DC.
3286	7/11/2012	I don't know what the biggest threat is. I would assume funding.

3287	7/11/2012	Lack of funding[] Use of internet vs books
3288	7/11/2012	to many staff
3289	7/11/2012	funding
3290	7/11/2012	Lack of funding?
3291	7/11/2012	Budget cuts and ignorant public
3292	7/11/2012	RED tape and Government building things like statues, rather than putting to where it is most used and needed. Yes and Light rail too. What a waste according to there own statistics.
3293	7/11/2012	Don't really know, lack of funds is probably the biggest issue. I use the electronic library to download books to my nook, very important to me, I would say local libraries "spending" is out of control especially in multnomah county given the amount each multnomah county resident is "required" to pay via property taxes. Multnomah county libraries ought to be swimming in cash and if they are not those libraries need to figure out why they have no money rather than attempt to request public voters to pay more.
3294	7/11/2012	the internet
3295	7/11/2012	Unstable budgeting. It's like a bonus tax about every year. It must feel like there's a keno table in charge of the budget for the people most effected.
3296	7/11/2012	Funding for a full program meeting the needs of our citizens. Since Portland Public Schools no longer have proper funding for school libraries the public library is extremely important for both teachers and students.
3297	7/11/2012	Voter apathy
3298	7/11/2012	Bdget cuts. Without the funding the library services get cut back and in some cases are non existent. People who don't use the library forget how much it does for so many others. It's easy to forget about programs when they are not part of your routine.
3299	7/11/2012	funding
3300	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3301	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3302	7/11/2012	Funding & lack of support. I think to counter this, the library needs to do better marketing & PR to demonstrate the value of library services. I LOVE the library and have at least one library book at home at all times. I would be willing to pay more in the form of taxes or a monthly (small) fee to use the library.
3303	7/11/2012	Funding
3304	7/11/2012	Funding. Gentrification.
3305	7/11/2012	Funding.
3306	7/11/2012	Don't know
3307	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3308	7/11/2012

3309	7/11/2012	Funding!!!! Books matter and the powers that be need to understand that a lending library is essential to a free and well-informed society.
3310	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding from the Multnomah County.
3311	7/11/2012	Lack of consistent funding, obviously. Not so obviously, though, is remaining relevant for younger generations in an all-digital world.
3312	7/11/2012	Money and cutting the children programs
3313	7/11/2012	momey or lack thereof
3314	7/11/2012	I hope there is no threat to the libraries. I suppose a threat is the economy and people who aren't willing to pay their fair share of taxes to support important resources. But even that shouldn't be an issue if the county simply understands the library system as a priority in its budget.
3315	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to address the needs of under served populations like the homeless.[] The more that the libraries (I speak about downtown) serves as a drop in warm and safe place to be, the harder it is to serve the needs of everyone else. It costs more for security, etc and that takes away from other operating funds.
3316	7/11/2012	I do not know.
3317	7/11/2012	Homeless squatting
3318	7/11/2012	That people don't realize that the funding is still tied to property values it can shift signifcantly even though the levy was just renewed. We need to find a more stable permanent way to fund our libraries. Maybe we need to keep the reduced hours but change them a little so they are open later in the day. Our library is too essential a tool to lose.
3319	7/11/2012	Recession ends
3320	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3321	7/11/2012	not getting enough funds to stay open
3322	7/11/2012	The library is wasting money purchasing too many copies of the same book. So many copies are being purchased that the libraries are constantly having to discard copies of other books that aren't that old or out of shape. [] [] Also, too much money is being spent on foreign language materials. Books and things that are bi-lingual and help people to learn English or even books that help English speakers to learn other languages are great, but we don't need a multitude of foreign language materials that enable foreigners to live here and never learn English.[] [] Many other people that I have spoken with feel the same way and will not support the library unless things change.
3323	7/11/2012	It seems to be finding a sustainable source of funding.
3324	7/11/2012	That their hours will be shortened..
3325	7/11/2012	Budget cuts

3326	7/11/2012	Those who do not return books, or return them damaged; and those who do not pay their fines.
3327	7/11/2012	As for local public education, the loss of funding: it's too bad they're made to compete for said funding, in some budget schemes, as both are absolutely necessary for a healthy modern society to function, much less thrive.[] [] This threat is seconded by legal efforts at censorship of what the library can carry.
3328	7/11/2012	Electronically accessing the same information. While it is nice that the library offers an electronic option; it is not the same. Having a tangible book to turn pages is the preferred approach for reading for a # of people.[] [] (*If cutting libraries to 6 days a week; please consider staggering the closed day per a library and posting where the nearest open library is so people can easily find an open library that day)
3329	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and usage cut.
3330	7/11/2012	Loss of funding.
3331	7/11/2012	Of course, lack of funding to keep them open and providing needed programs.[] I would prefer 6 days a week of full service with no cuts to current programs than open more hours with less programs.
3332	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3333	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3334	7/11/2012	Funding
3335	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3336	7/11/2012	misusers of public funds
3337	7/11/2012	Lack of Funding
3338	7/11/2012	The lack of reliable & steady funding is the top problem. [] It's very frustrating to have library hours & open days changing so frequently. [] Every few years (or more often!) we re-visit the issue. I've lived in Portland for 34 years & the Mult. Co. libraries ALWAYS seem to be at-risk of closing! [] [] There is likely a perception by the non-library-using public that the branches are simply places for borrowing books. There needs to be a nuanced public understand that our libraries are MUCH more than that. There are (free) community meeting rooms (which I have utilized many times), the reference librarians are a GREAT resource for all kinds of questions (I've used this service, too) and the library is a wonderful place to pick up copies fo the (free) community newspapers (The Bee, The Hollywood Star, etc). I have also made use of the N. Portland library for an art exhibit of works by local artist Charlotte Lewis that was part of the Walls of Heritage, Walls of Pride: African American Murals exhibit that held at the Oregon History Museum (in fall 2010 & winter 2011). Honoring her artwork that way in the North Portland neighborhood was very important.

3339	7/11/2012	Insufficient use.
3340	7/11/2012	idiot politicians
3341	7/11/2012	Lack of appropriate funding.
3342	7/11/2012	funding problems
3343	7/11/2012	Reduced funding.
3344	7/11/2012	Politics and money!! " Shouldn't we realize by now that education is very important for any sane society, yet we treated so poorly. Library's in neighborhoods plays a very important part of our education. Money seem to always be available for private enterprises to make a profit. Our health and education should be left alone when it comes to budget cuts. With a well educated society we would have less problems and more ways to meet our local, state, federal,budget demands.
3345	7/11/2012	Losing money and not being able to open enough hours/days for everyone to access material. That would be the biggest threat.
3346	7/11/2012	funding I suppose. I am worried about libraries closing or too restricted hours. I also don't like all the starbucks cafe commercial stuff in the lobbies
3347	7/11/2012	Not having them any more, and it would be a shame. I loved the library as a kid and my children love to go too. Would be a huge loss socially and educationally. Worth doing whatever it takes to keep them open even if it's reduced hours and days.
3348	7/11/2012	budget cuts!
3349	7/11/2012	onlineonly is the future? brick and mortar passe'. What will the future libraries look like and offer? How will they abe funded? With people such as myself being forced into retirement by the economy, we will be on fixed incomes with no COLA raises, thus increased taxation probably no the best answer.
3350	7/11/2012	Funding cuts and shortfalls limiting their ability to maintain themselves or expand.
3351	7/11/2012	Republicans
3352	7/11/2012	Lack of funds
3353	7/11/2012	Not sure, my guess would be online books taking away the need for brick and mortar libraries. Should you prepare to be a virtual library? What would that look like?[] [] The othe threat is funding. I am a big supporter of libraries and can't imagine living in a community without one but I am also concerned about my property taxes. I am now on a fixed income and can no longer easily vote for rate increases.
3354	7/11/2012	The global economy coupled w/ the oil industry...decreasing jobs, and thus increasing unemployment, increasing very conservative spending and tight taxation. Seems pretty obvious to me
3355	7/11/2012	budget cuts and instability
3356	7/11/2012	Funding
3357	7/11/2012	Obama!!!!

- 3358 7/11/2012 Insufficient funds, unreliable funding.
- 3359 7/11/2012 Electronic books. We use both, but have used the library less since getting Kindles. :(
- 3360 7/11/2012 Cut funding
- 3361 7/11/2012 Lack of funding
- 3362 7/11/2012 Funding
- 3363 7/11/2012 Funding, clearly.
- 3364 7/11/2012 Funding cuts! Days and hours open cuts!
- 3365 7/11/2012 Less funding because advances in technology.
- 3366 7/11/2012 Book burning, budget cuts and zombies!
- 3367 7/11/2012 Inadequate funding. Not seeing the future.
- 3368 7/11/2012 lack of funding
- 3369 7/11/2012 Losing funding!
- 3370 7/11/2012 Ignorance
- 3371 7/11/2012 lack of funding
- 3372 7/11/2012 budget cuts/underfunding
- 3373 7/11/2012 funding, i suppose, and print media gradually becoming out of fashion.
- 3374 7/11/2012 ???
- 3375 7/11/2012 Non-return of materials.[]
People hogging the computers.
- 3376 7/11/2012 The Internet
- 3377 7/11/2012 capitalism and conservatives.
- 3378 7/11/2012 Budget cuts
- 3379 7/11/2012 If any of the libraries are forced to close.
- 3380 7/11/2012 unstable funding.
- 3381 7/11/2012 Reduced use caused by home-based media, translated into reduced support for funding

3382 7/11/2012 The biggest threat to our local libraries is the lack of state funding to support a valuable and inimitable public service. Hearing about the change of the library to be open at six days a week worries me because of the large effect this has upon growing students and communities members that utilize and appreciate our library system. With schools adding more in-service days (less in-classroom days) and elementary schools with classes over 30 students, there is a clear lack of importance for education in the state of Oregon. A sad message to present to Oregon families as live through struggles of taking longer shifts at work to put food on the table, buy school supplies and put clothes on their children's back. For many families in Oregon, education is a big priority for the development and progress of their children and family. And Salem Legislator's need to be honest for their experience and the impact local libraries had for their success and development.

3383	7/11/2012	? For me, the 1-hour limit on computer use! But I realize the necessity. Sometimes I am just "getting into" some research point and my time is up at that computer station -- back when there was a 2-hour limit, I was "growing tired" of staring at the screen by the time my limit was nearing.
3384	7/11/2012	Diminishing the number of opening hours obviously reduces the overall use of the library. As with Trimet and the US Postal Service, if you cut enough services and reduce the frequency of your service to the public, you dramatically undermine the number of your potential clients and you soon might find your operation spiraling out of any business at all.
3385	7/11/2012	Community not realizing what a great resource we have and therefore not properly funding and supporting it.
3386	7/11/2012	I am distraught when people misuse such a valuable resource in the neighborhood. Books and materials need to be returned in good or better condition than when they were checked out. Also the libraries should not be a haven for the homeless, alcoholics, etc.
3387	7/11/2012	shortage of funding sources, requiring reduced support of library services
3388	7/11/2012	Lack of use and understanding what it can do for people. Also, it is not keeping up with the electronic changes happening in the world.
3389	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3390	7/11/2012	Anti-tax sentiment during a time of economic hardship.
3391	7/11/2012	homeless in the downtown library makes me not want to visit that branch.
3392	7/11/2012	Loss of funding. Closed branches. We need all aspects of the library system! It is important for people to have a place to go and feel welcome to spend time without spending money.
3393	7/11/2012	Funding and retaining library users. Libraries serves an educational second environment outside of the home and should be protected to ensure children receive the opportunities to grow and learn.
3394	7/11/2012	we need to use library evening(-19ish) time. Because I have a job, so can't go the library day time.
3395	7/11/2012	???
3396	7/11/2012	No idea. Possibly the greed of corporate imperialist... budget cuts. Less prisons - MORE LIBRARIES! Selfish shortsightedness masquerading as progressive idealism. Passive citizenry - yes, even in Oregon. Augh, now i'm peeved... Thanks Library ;)
3397	7/11/2012	less hours, less resources, less free classes and education for all individuals.
3398	7/11/2012	Not enough money to purchase current materials

3399	7/11/2012	Those who refuse to acknowledge that libraries are about more than checking out books. I hear from conservative relatives that "nobody needs the library because nobody reads books anymore." Aside from the fact that this isn't remotely true (THEY don't read books anymore, but probably never really did), this ignores a library's importance to children (how many learn to read on a Kindle?), Somehow the word needs to get out to the people who say that, that libraries are about much more than checking out books. Emphasis on resources for job seekers (where else is there a better place for people to help themselves?), adult and child education, computer access for those who don't have them, etc. I couldn't afford to buy a small fraction of the books my daughter reads every week. Thank GOODNESS for Multnomah County Library!!!
3400	7/11/2012	Funding (or lack of).
3401	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3402	7/11/2012	Loss of funding.
3403	7/11/2012	Don't know.
3404	7/11/2012	I do not mind the fact that the library is only open 6 days a week. I think there is not enough current books at the library. I would also like to see more e-book selections that do not require you to wait 3-4 week to get them.
3405	7/11/2012	Funding
3406	7/11/2012	adequate operational funding
3407	7/11/2012	The desire of the library to everything to everybody causing bloated budgets and unreasonable property tax burdens - especially on seniors and low income property owners.
3408	7/11/2012	not enough money
3409	7/11/2012	not sure
3410	7/11/2012	Video games
3411	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3412	7/11/2012	From my perspective, the biggest threat is over-taxing for services in a negative and unstable economy. Clackamas County for the most part, offers excellent services, hours and programming with a service district @ $.39 per dollar. If MU county needs over three times that amount, there would appear to be a true insensitivity to the taxpayers, or at the very least, a need to be more responsible in how the funds are spent. I will vote NO on all library levies until the board and professional staff offer a more reasonable cost to the public.
3413	7/11/2012	No opinion.
3414	7/11/2012	Underfunding/unstable funding

3415	7/11/2012	Caring more about extended hours than good materials. I looked up a book at the library, saw that the library did not have it bought a $30 copy for myself and the library, went to donate it to the library only to find out that they do not take books from donations and put them on the shelves. It was disheartening. The library should be extending its "library" at any opportunity. Please take donations seriously. The more resources you have, the more likely I will want to support you and use the wonderful public "service".
3416	7/11/2012	diminished funding
3417	7/11/2012	To me it is not having the ability to come in at least six times a week to pick up reading material.
3418	7/11/2012	Capitalism.
3419	7/11/2012	Robbers
3420	7/11/2012	Lack of funds. Although I think that hours could be cut back - if a branch within a certain mile radius is open Saturday for example, the other branches within that radius could be closed that day. E.G. If the Holgate branch is open Saturday, close Midlands, Belmont, or Woodstock. Open Woodstock on Sunday, close the other three. And so on. That way, there's a branch open not TOO far away, but we don't need seven days a week service at all branches, all the time!
3421	7/11/2012	Not enough funding/resources to keep libraries actively engaged, able to provide all kinds of books, and having good hours in local communities.
3422	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to cover the purchase of new books. If you want my opinion, you have too many small branches and need to consolidate so that the main libraries can remain open and provide full service.
3423	7/11/2012	De-funding by county commissioners.
3424	7/11/2012	Sustained funding and a sense that in the time where information is ubiquitous and often low cost that the mission of the library is compromised politically.
3425	7/11/2012	lack of funding and electronic media
3426	7/11/2012	Outdated materials with reduced programs and hours so that families are unable to access materials.
3427	7/11/2012	The amount of money being spent on the military

3428	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is their tendency to participate in so many "programs" that they neglect the first reason they are there--to provide materials for others to use and learn from, as they choose. ALL needs cannot be met; it is important that the library not try to meet them. There are many who would volunteer (myself included) to read stories to little ones or deliver books to older folks who cannot get out to get them. If funds are lacking, then the library should return to its main goal of providing materials and a safe haven to enjoy them. Cut corners; people who are truly interested in learning will come to the library to find the materials. People interested in finding jobs will come to the library to look for work on the computers. People interested in reading to their children will come get books and find a quiet place to read to them--and others. Volunteers can help with this as they could with helping those who would like to learn English. And if there are not enough volunteers, you cut back on those services until the economy allows you to reinstate them. You're not the only entity that is feeling the pinch. The homes and families who are supporting you (as we are glad to do) are feeling it as well. Our pocketbooks are hurting, too. Please keep this in mind when you want to raise anything to keep going
3429	7/11/2012	the inability or unwillingness of many to pay more in taxes, leading to difficult choices
3430	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3431	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3432	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3433	7/11/2012	Non-reading politicians!
3434	7/11/2012	Escalating costs to maintain the current level of service. I am a strong advocate for the library system, but based on priorities in the community the current level of service should be reduced to reallocate tax dollars. I will not vote for increased funding of public employee benefits, operations or related expenses. Downsizing is the right thing for all public entities. Taxing us to death.
3435	7/11/2012	Not having funding for current materials would be more distressing as a patron than the unfortunate circumstance of cutting a library day, if only slightly more distressing. My experience with other city library systems has made me very proud of what Multnomah County has offered all these years in bringing the newest covers and media to our shelves.[] [] I don't know what day of the week you would consider cutting though - having the flexibility all this time has been such a privilege.
3436	7/11/2012	not having the funds to keep them open
3437	7/11/2012	Shorter hours.
3438	7/11/2012	The reduction or loss of many of the programs offered.
3439	7/11/2012	lack of money
3440	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to the Central Library are the inordinate amount of homeless people in the library with all their bags and stuff. I love that library. I do know libraries should be open to everyone, but this has gotten ridiculous, to the point I don't go there very much anymore. I really would like to see more control over entry and over the front entrance.

3441	7/11/2012	Of course, it is lack of funding. I think there are a lot of people in the area who are not aware of everything that is available through the library. I think that there needs to be a broader campaign to educate the people of the metro area of all that the library offers. I think apathy and ignorance are at the top of the list of threats to the survival of the library system in Portland, Multnomah County. I was surprised by how many people don't know what a huge resource for watching dvd movies the library is. They pay to rent or get netflix, not even aware that they could be getting them for free from the library. This is true of music cd's as well.
3442	7/11/2012	that it is open six days a week. i love going to the library i go almost every day and when i have a hold on sunday and can not get to the library that day i have to wait until Tuesday. :(
3443	7/11/2012	Inflated budgets
3444	7/11/2012	apparently funding issues since the library is now closed one day a week and barely open past 5pm
3445	7/11/2012	Closure of selected branches due to low usage.....this would tend to impact low income and ethnic minority users
3446	7/11/2012	Less use of actual books - as things become more electronic, it seems like it will be harder to convince taxpayers of the need for well-funded libraries
3447	7/11/2012	Funding cuts and lack of support.
3448	7/11/2012	Keeping up with electronic ways to read. However I still prefer the acutal book.
3449	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding.
3450	7/11/2012	Lack of funding due to poor (short-sighted) funding allocation decisions by state and local government is the obvious one. [] [] Prevalence of poor English skills and evolving technologies could be addressed appropriately if the funding were there.
3451	7/11/2012	Lack of civic pride in other than wierdness.
3452	7/11/2012	The relentless "cut taxes" attitude.
3453	7/11/2012	Failure to fund.
3454	7/11/2012	Minimal hours making it difficult to access
3455	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3456	7/11/2012	Keeping the focus on the value for the dollar.
3457	7/11/2012	Funding
3458	7/11/2012	All I ever hear about is funding.
3459	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is that the library tries to do too much. The great majority of library patrons need one main thing from it: to be able to research and check out materials. Everything else is secondary -- especially the programs and classes.
3460	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
3461	7/11/2012	The anti-tax/pro-ignorance crowd.

		Closure during hours when people are off work. Leads to people being frustrated and resorting to buying materials on their own, conducting research over the Internet, paying for their own computers and Internet access. An increasing sense that the library is irrelevant to meeting their needs and future unwillingness to support it. ¶
3462	7/11/2012	¶ I guess the most important point here is that you need to be open more during non-work hours. Have you considered adjusting the schedule so that all days you are open on the Tuesday and Wednesday schedules? Or perhaps early morning and late afternoon/evening hours with a "siesta" in between? Convenience for library staff should not be the determinant for open hours.
3463	7/11/2012	Funding.
3464	7/11/2012	The Internet¶ censorship¶ People can't read.
3465	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
3466	7/11/2012	public apathy, employee indifference to patrons, undesirable persons hanging around outside the entrances and taking up tables for sleeping, etc.
3467	7/11/2012	getting closed due to shortage of budget!
3468	7/11/2012	Funding
3469	7/11/2012	Ignorance
3470	7/11/2012	I don't know, but I am a nanny and I really value taking my charges to storytime. I think that it is important to for libraries to stay open and accessible for who aren't rich-- libraries are such an important part of equality in education. I also like a variety of children's books & media, and quality classics, fiction and nonfiction books for myself.
3471	7/11/2012	Funding.
3472	7/11/2012	lack of use due to everything going electronic
3473	7/11/2012	N/A
3474	7/11/2012	Not enough public funding
3475	7/11/2012	I imagine funding. Homeless dayshelter aspect sometimes detracts.
3476	7/11/2012	Kindle and all other e-books. also lack of tax dollars to keep them opened; staffed; and, current
3477	7/11/2012	Cutbacks. Reducing of hours, particularly on Mondays!
3478	7/11/2012	republicans
3479	7/11/2012	funding
3480	7/11/2012	Measures 5 and 47/50. And Measure 11.
3481	7/11/2012	i feel that underunding is our biggest threat

3482	7/11/2012	People who don't pay taxes represent a large number of people taking advantage of the library system. I am tired of paying my taxes to support entitlements to people who pay nothing in return. Many people in Oregon pay no federal income tax, no property tax (because they rent) and pay no sales tax. Yet they all want "free everything" and they pay for nothing and have no skin in the game. Please tap into those people for extra money for the library systems and stop taking more money from people who are property owners and actually working and paying taxes. Enough is enough!!! If you closed the library for the whole weekend it would be fine with me. You should save a lot of money right there.
3483	7/11/2012	A culture of anti-intellectualism?
3484	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding
3485	7/11/2012	I guess stable funding. Libraries serve as community centers and are a resource for so many people. In bad economic times that need is greater.
3486	7/11/2012	People not reading enough. Or realizing that the library has more to offer than books. Government spending on less important, long-term things instead of educational services.
3487	7/11/2012	Competing entertainment forms. People are used to having everything at their fingertips and ordering what interests them online. Our library is right across the street. It is an easy, approachable excursion for our 2 year old.
3488	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3489	7/11/2012	Funding is the biggest threat. I use the library even more now in this economy and have turned more people on to using it as well because of that. I thought it was a waste of resources to open the Troutdale library with Fairview being only a few miles from that location. Bad move and one of them, don't care which, should be closed. ☐ ☐ Personally the Fairview library should close since it is small and really serves the people who live in downtown Fairview. It is not as convenient as the Troutdale library from the interstate and really can't believe who made the judgement to put the libraries so close together.
3490	7/11/2012	I'm sure it is probably the programs, like story hour for children. For me, I depend on the later hours that the library is open. If the library closed earlier, at 6pm instead of 8pm, I would not be able to use the library as a resource and haven.
3491	7/11/2012	Underfunded
3492	7/11/2012	The internet.
3493	7/11/2012	I think the biggest threat is that you are behind the times with online checkout and ebooks. Your online process was difficult to figure out and your kindle book offerings are very poor. You also need a more current selection. Suggest you try to privatise your services to improve them as you appear very slow and bureaucratic.
3494	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding
3495	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.

3496	7/11/2012	I guess funding is the biggest threat.
3497	7/11/2012	Under funding; fewer professional librarians
3498	7/11/2012	Not being open or access to computers when I need them. Not everyone is able to be there in the day time and when the library is closed early it is hard to get all my work done. I don't like to be rushed while at the library.
3499	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3500	7/11/2012	MONEY, or lack there of. Politics...cut money at the TOP not services.
3501	7/11/2012	Funding
3502	7/11/2012	Not sure.
3503	7/11/2012	Current materials & access.
3504	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
3505	7/11/2012	Adequate financial support
3506	7/11/2012	Stop-gap funding model that relies on voter-backed initiatives.
3507	7/11/2012	Lack/loss of funding.
3508	7/11/2012	devaluing of librarians and library services
3509	7/11/2012	competition for tax funds and efforts to reduce government services in general
3510	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. I have a library card for Multnomah County and a library card for Clackamas County because I live in the City of Lake Oswego. However, my experience in Clackamas County as a Library Advisory Board member and Chair, and now as the Chair of the Lake Oswego Library Advisory Board is that what funding that presently comes from the governing body (read County Commission or City Council if the library was first a city library) will lessen, or disappear completely after a Library District is voted in allowing the county or city to those monies that formerly went to the libraries to use those monies for other use, I will actively oppose the creation of an independent Library District for Multnomah County presently and in the future. Some voters have learned from the change in Clackamas County.[] David Short, 503-652-2749
3511	7/11/2012	Unreasonable budget cutters and "no tax" people!
3512	7/11/2012	Not sure. Maybe theft of materials, people not paying fines. Not enough taxpayer funds to keep the libraries open.
3513	7/11/2012	Lack of funding for sufficient staffing and hours open.[] Inability to continue to purchase a sufficient number of books. 1) Raising a generation of children that don't have the appreciation for books, libraries, and most importantly the pleasure and necessity of good reading skills. []
3514	7/11/2012	[] 2) Allow the spread to our Library System the deterioration we have allowed our Portland School System physical plants to suffer.
3515	7/11/2012	Loss of funding.

3516	7/11/2012	People in the community not understanding the wide range of offerings available -- that it's not just a lending library.
3517	7/11/2012	Not enough funding I guess.
3518	7/11/2012	I don't see any threat
3519	7/11/2012	Stable tax base to fund operations.
3520	7/11/2012	money and budgeting
3521	7/11/2012	Not getting the funds for books, and not having a place for kids to go after school.
3522	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3523	7/11/2012	closure and restructure
3524	7/11/2012	Ignorant, complacent voters.
		I am not that impressed with your library. I am from Massachusetts and even a small town library is superior there. They have similar book types,(for instance, short stories,) stacked together. Here, so many books are NOT at the library, that everyone has to order them to pick-up after they have requested them. This is rare back home, as most books are right there where you want them, on the shelf: current, new releases, and best sellers.[]
3525	7/11/2012	[] Also, I could not believe that STATE tax forms are not just available at the library, as they are in other states. What the heck?[] [] Lastly, no good seats, like couches to read on, or anything, just a library the size that a middle school would have, with study tables. I miss my old quality library.
3526	7/11/2012	Money, or lack thereof, always seems to be the axe waiting to fall. Libraries are the last truly great institution this country has left and it would be crippling should they be taken away.
3527	7/11/2012	lack of funding and other monetary concerns.
3528	7/11/2012	The fact that because an economic theory that does not work, our nation is becoming a "third world country with a sick tax base.". Taxes are the price a society pays for civilization.; taxes are not the end of personal freedom. Even in the Gilded Age, libraries were thought to be the way the average person could learn skills and knowledge to move up the economic and social ladder. Now our culture seems to have very little "us" and too much "me" in it. A rich pimp has more social status than government employees.
3529	7/11/2012	Lack of support by tax payers and the public. People will not see the benefit of a physical place such as a library as books become obsolete being replaced by digital media and the internet in our lives.
3530	7/11/2012	lack of access/availability of materials and good programs :)
3531	7/11/2012	Ignorance, and the current 'no taxes on anything' climate.[] The idea that helping society is 'socialist'.

3532	7/11/2012	Budget constraints imposed at the behest of people interested in money rather than disseminating knowledge.
3533	7/11/2012	funding
3534	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3535	7/11/2012	failure to provide financing by short sighted voters
3536	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3537	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. High cost of materials.
3538	7/11/2012	Libraries must be able to keep up with demand for new materials. They can serve as local gathering places for neighborhoods, and are critical as depositories of job-related information.
3539	7/11/2012	Economic recession
3540	7/11/2012	I'm afraid I don't keep up with current events, but I would imagine lack of funding, either reduced funding or stagnant funding, which the price of everything else increases.
3541	7/11/2012	Funding shortfalls
3542	7/11/2012	people expecting all media to come in soundbites and all research to be done on wikipedia
3543	7/11/2012	I am not educated enough about this issue, but I am sure it is most likely funding.
3544	7/11/2012	reduced access and hours.
3545	7/11/2012	That one day, the general public will stop passing ballot measures.
3546	7/11/2012	There are too many programs and not enough materials. I believe that the libraries should be focusing on having an extensive selection rather than using funds for so many other community related programs. I also would like to see the heads of departments really listen to what people ask for when it comes to requesting materials for the libraries. I always thought that the library system was meant for having an extensive catalog that reflected the best of the arts of the world so that everyone in the community has the opportunity to enrich themselves no matter what their economic status is. One can teach themselves so much from using the library system in their community. In short, my answer is focus on obtaining more materials and figure out how to get non-profit organizations to help with the community related programs.
3547	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3548	7/11/2012	?
3549	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Idiot parents.
3550	7/11/2012	Funding, of course.
3551	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. People don't seem to realize what a valuable resource it is.
3552	7/11/2012	tax lies - we just voted to maintain funding, but now you are telling us that there will be cuts anyway - what happened?
3553	7/11/2012	That libraries won't be available when people need them.
3554	7/11/2012	I'm not sure.
3555	7/11/2012	lack of available tax funds combined with a population that doesn't value education/learning.
3556	7/11/2012	over crowding & theft I imagine. Also, use of internet access is always a wait anymore ?

3557	7/11/2012	Lack of revenue.
3558	7/11/2012	continual erosion of funding
3559	7/11/2012	e-readers! Losing the love of reading and passion for BOOKS!!!! Feel of them, smell of them, the joy of them... Touching their pages and really 'getting in touch' with a story. Audio books are great for many reasons, but e-readers discourage reading and it's bad for your health and eyes to constantly be in front of a 'screen'. It's better for eye health to 'read' the natural way!
3560	7/11/2012	Underfunding and theft.
3561	7/11/2012	The cost of keeping up with technology and theft.
3562	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3563	7/11/2012	Lack of mass appeal due to ubiquitous Internet access and overpopulation of homeless people
3564	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and inability to keep pace with collections, services, meanwhile maintaining facilities.
3565	7/11/2012	Limiting access to them.
3566	7/11/2012	Unpredictable funding....same threat as to our schools, police, road repairs, etc. etc.
3567	7/11/2012	The stupidity epidemic, it crosses all social and economic barriers. Or maybe they aren't exciting enough for children, which is the group that needs it most. Libraries feel a bit like a hospital sometimes.
3568	7/11/2012	Conservatives and Republicans. The very dumb and affluent.
3569	7/11/2012	to be open only few days a week
3570	7/11/2012	Not having them open enough
3571	7/11/2012	n/a
3572	7/11/2012	CLOSED MONDAYS? Why not close Sundays in the summer, and if you have to close on a week day would Friday make more sense? Don't Portland school children need access to do homework on Mondays? And Media. Really, 15 media for three weeks?
3573	7/11/2012	Funding.
3574	7/11/2012	Lack of public empathy!!!!!!!!
3575	7/11/2012	Cutting back the hours too significantly.
3576	7/11/2012	Not enough money. I think educating people on how much savings happens by being open 1 day less might be something to consider
3577	7/11/2012	Public apathy in a weak economy.
3578	7/11/2012	Cuts in funding which requires libraries to reduce their hours and I would imagine, the volume of materials each purchases. This continued decline has a eroding effect on society as a whole, and in particular, populations that are of low income whc rely on the library more than other populations. I am not low income and yet I still rely on the library.
3579	7/11/2012	besides lack of funding?
3580	7/11/2012	not charging a small user fee, anybody can pay .25 cents per checkout. I am tired of funding all these programs through my property taxes.

3581	7/11/2012	lack of funding lack of interest
3582	7/11/2012	The economic recession, lack of funding and people who have time to volunteer due to their financial obligations (family,rent,bills,etc.) results in a lack of support from the community... people are understandably worried about their well-being and don't necessarily think of the leisure activities of our former country. (dining,shopping,reading,etc.)
3583	7/11/2012	no money to buy new books.
3584	7/11/2012	Libraries are extremely important to our communities. The Multnomah County library is one of the best libraries I have ever known. Cutting off resources and hours for libraries to be open could potentially cause harm to communities that rely on the libraries resources. People who, for example are unemployed, or who are employed and need to find another job, but dont have a computer.
3585	7/11/2012	Nothing
3586	7/11/2012	Computerized reading seems threatening to libraries: devices such as Kindles, e-Books, and Nooks.
3587	7/11/2012	Top on the list is the budget cuts that caused the Monday closings. Next would be lack of funds to keep up current materials.
3588	7/11/2012	Afraid I don't feel aware enough to offer anything here. Perhaps the increasing availability of Internet-based materials and how that might lead people to consider or presume that libraries, in their role of enabling public access to good information combined with informed expertise is somehow obsolete. Along with good, free public education, I do think that libraries, in a broad sense, are essential to a well-functioning democracy.
3589	7/11/2012	politicians?
3590	7/11/2012	funding
3591	7/11/2012	Complacency
3592	7/11/2012	Disinterest which leads to lack of support.
3593	7/11/2012	poor funding
3594	7/11/2012	Branches closing down the lack of books offered is shocking. I think most people would rather sit at Starbucks to get internet access than in a stuffy library.␣
3595	7/11/2012	what's the deal with the crappy book selection, anyway? ␣ the only place in the system one can find a decent publication is the central library. unfortunately I very rarely have an opportunity to spend time downtown
3596	7/11/2012	Funding and under utilization. The biggest threat is that the typical taxpayer does not take advantage of services. It has become a place where The homeless take shelter, low income devour the laptops. It is noisy and crowded. Some of the books are unpopular and outdated. I read classics and want more Great writers. The library feels a bit like a department of social services. This is a threat.
3597	7/11/2012

3598	7/11/2012	The rising cost of technology and salary/benefit packages for the employees.
3599	7/11/2012	No stable funding; having to hold levies every few years.
3600	7/11/2012	I am very sorry any time I hear about funding cuts to the libraries. The Multnomah County Library system is one of the things that makes Portland a wonderful place to live.
3601	7/11/2012	I come from a place that the budget for libraries was so bad, there weren't enough books, the library wasn't open when we were off work, etc. Our libraries in Portland are awesome, and maybe the worst threat is people taking that for granted.
3602	7/11/2012	wasteful spending and over taxing homeowners
3603	7/11/2012	A lack of funding.
3604	7/11/2012	The loss of our value of the resources that the library makes available is our biggest threat, more people need to use the library more and share with the other citizens of the county. There are people who are hoarding rare items in bulk in their home libraries, I personally give most items that the library might use to the library so that others can use it also. [] [] Multnomah County Library is a rare jewel in the fight against ignorance and a resource that is so undervalued by far too many people. Thank you and Kudos to the Multnomah County Library!
3605	7/11/2012	Underfunding, both near term and long term, and lack of a permanent funding source. This hybrid general fund and levy is like playing Russian roulette, and makes no sense. .
3606	7/11/2012	I am not sure... I would assume cutbacks in funding and closing down libraries due to cutbacks.
3607	7/11/2012	Inconsistent funding.
3608	7/11/2012	Dont know
3609	7/11/2012	TO return a book when u finish
3610	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. I am not a job seeker or small business owner but I think its very important to help these people in our current economy.
3611	7/11/2012	Laid of civic commitment to maintain libraries. Failure to view libraries as a priority for a civilized society.
3612	7/11/2012	E-reader books that aren't available and makes people think the library is useless. The internet is more popular and easier to get to. A lack of funding is bad, but it can be hard when families are stretched on a budget enough as it is.
3613	7/11/2012	Limiting funding and access means the library isn't the go-to place for information and reading. The priorities I selected may not indicate how important I believe the library is. If the library doesn't stay current with resources and technology than those resources, become only for the affluent who can buy them elsewhere. It should remain a place where everyone in our community can stay current and on an even playing field with respect to learning,

3614	7/11/2012	There are several ways to answer this. Economically, the availability of operating resources is critical -- the more stable our funding is, the better we're able to maintain the system. Physically speaking, it's very important that we protect the library's buildings and collections against natural disaster; earthquake and volcanic activity are the two most obvious threats, but as more of the collections and infrastructure are stored digitally, we should also be mindful of disasters or attacks that would cripple the library's computers and electronic systems (EM pulse; solar flare, etc.). And electronically, the library's digital collections and resources should be protected from outside threats such as viruses, denial-of-service attacks, and the like.
3615	7/11/2012	Lack of funding!
3616	7/11/2012	Funding/budget cuts.
3617	7/11/2012	Disappearing. Lack of funding;[]
3618	7/11/2012	Amazon;[] Lack of smooth integration of e-resources into the library's collection.
3619	7/11/2012	Need paid staff
3620	7/11/2012	Their existence! Shorter hours, fewer days, or closed altogether are the threats. Computer access for all. Online database. Programs are valuable, but secondary.
3621	7/11/2012	Scarcity of funding.
3622	7/11/2012	Losing ability to buy new material.
3623	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3624	7/11/2012	Becoming irrelevant due to being out of date with technology and desires of the public.
3625	7/11/2012	Funding.
3626	7/11/2012	ensorship
3627	7/11/2012	funding
3628	7/11/2012	Greedy, fearful people who feel the need to cut funding on social programs in order to save everything they can for themselves.
3629	7/11/2012	Inaccessibility is the biggest threat to our local libraries. I, personally, am irritated with the truncated hours that have been introduced this July. Despite posted hours, I am constantly arriving at the library only to find locked doors because it just so happens that Wednesday the building opens at 11AM instead of the 'usual' 10AM. Consistent hours every day mean high rates of visitation, especially for those of us with young children who sometimes plan our days around library activities.
3630	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3631	7/11/2012	Adding some many non library oriented programs that there is insufficient funding for the core program, being a library
3632	7/11/2012	Cutting funding...the library is not only an essential info source for all, but such a valuable, worthwhile place for kids to start their love of reading/books/learning and to give kids with limited resources at home/with family a safe and educational place to go and build themselves up.

3633	7/11/2012	The Digital Age.
3634	7/11/2012	lack of funding, lack of marketing/stakeholder (the public, small businesses) awareness
3635	7/11/2012	People who don't understand what an amazing resource it is and so don't want to vote for levies or funding.
3636	7/11/2012	being closed, mismanaging funds
3637	7/11/2012	Overcrowded
3638	7/11/2012	E-readers, internet
3639	7/11/2012	Convenience, high-tech obsession, people working too much
3640	7/11/2012	I suppose it would be people who are adamantly against any tax increase.
3641	7/11/2012	Ignorance,lack of funds
3642	7/11/2012	apathy
3643	7/11/2012	Republicans
3644	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3645	7/11/2012	same threats as to all government - lack of funding.
3646	7/11/2012	impression that technology cancels the needs for libraries
3647	7/11/2012	How to maintain our current excellence in service in the face of budget issues
3648	7/11/2012	I'm guessing it is a lack of funding. Not sure what else it would be.
3649	7/11/2012	lack of adequate funding
3650	7/11/2012	Robbers, threats, or murders can happen?
3651	7/11/2012	N/A
3652	7/11/2012	the lack of reality by the public employees that the days of the past are no longer. To expect land owners to pay for all cost is flat out unfair in this day of fairness. how about a birth tax upon issuance of a birth certificate people have to pay of a fee based on what that child will cost society...The day of free riders are over.
3653	7/11/2012	funding!!!!
3654	7/11/2012	Keeping our libraries safe for all users given the amount of people that come in and use them.
3655	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3656	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3657	7/11/2012	Lack of proper funding.
3658	7/11/2012	I think closures and shortened hours are the biggest threat. Working full time I have limited options for getting to the library and the monday closure makes that even tougher for me. I like evening hours because I have the time to walk to the library after work and enjoy my neighborhood and library. The libraries need to be open at convenient times for everyone not just kids during the day. They also need to keep up with current materials (including ebook and other online resources) to meet the community demand.
3659	7/11/2012	funding
3660	7/11/2012	The cuts in the budget.

3661	7/11/2012	Evolution of media, decline in reading
3662	7/11/2012	Poor economy- so people do not want to put money toward the library/lending services because they feel that it is not a high priority.
3663	7/11/2012	Loss of revenue of course, however, I believe the influx of young who haven't spent time combing through the reference books; electronic books being relatively inexpensive and easy to access; many in the public not understanding that the writing on the interenet are net necessarily factual (basically, uninformed).
3664	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3665	7/11/2012	Lack of permanent funding to maintain resources, and (apparently) lack of funding to improve and update physical facilities at high-demand branches in neighborhoods where residents may not be able to purchase resources for themselves. Multnomah County should be very supportive of local resident's strong desire for library resources, at a time when high school graduation and literacy overall are not as high as they should be.
3666	7/11/2012	Budget constraints.
3667	7/11/2012	Funding, I guess.
3668	7/11/2012	Paying administrators and management for creating a useless beaucracy. The library system is meant to loan people books. The library system lies to people and says that 'the sky is falling'. You just did it in the most recent election, telling everyone that kids wouldnt have any more books if you didnt get your millions of dollars. what are you using the money for/? what do you use the money for? You dont even tell us then you expect us to give you millions more 'for the kids'. People buy your bull shit and here we are.
3669	7/11/2012	Funding or informing the general public the key alliance that our public library with our public schools...teachers, administrators, parents, and students.
3670	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3671	7/11/2012	funding
3672	7/11/2012	Funding!
3673	7/11/2012	Hours of operation
3674	7/11/2012	unwise use of funds
3675	7/11/2012	Regarding the Central Portland library, the biggest threat is the unpleasant smell from homeless people who frequent the library. This is why I don't visit the library, but would like too otherwise.
3676	7/11/2012	Children and students not being educated about library services and how apply to them .
3677	7/11/2012	Reduction of the days or hours, reduction of the services that are crucial for educators and students, reduction of the books that are purchased regularly, as well as the ordering of books from other sources.

3678	7/11/2012	It is important to remember to live within our means.[] [] So the biggest threat would be to try to do more[] [] than what is sustainable for the current and short term.[] [] Currently there are many cities, counties, and states[] [] in our country that are facing bankruptcy.[] [] It is in our long term best interest live within our means until the [] [] economy improves and we can afford to return a time when[] [] a broader range of services can be provided.[] [] Thanks for your thoughtful consideration of this[] [] important issue.
3679	7/11/2012	I do not have much knowledge of city politics, but I would think that libraries tend to be in the "middle area" of importance for most people. That means that when the going is good or even a bit rough, people tend to maintain the idea of libraries as a necessary institution, but when funding becomes less and less, libraries look more and more like a place no one will notice a few budget cuts. This is entirely untrue. If we allow ourselves to begin to believe that educational systems and public libraries are something we can shave to the bone, we end up hurting ourselves in the end. We must have the means for the public to educate themselves. Those who can't afford school or simply wish to educate themselves have a right to these places of learning. An informed, well educated society makes better decisions and holds stronger, wiser morals and values. Children learn their love for books and knowledge in libraries. I know I did. Libraries help us find our interests, learn about the world and learn about ourselves.
3680	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3681	7/11/2012	budget cuts Besides Homeland Security? Funding, especially since school librarians are getting cut drastically across the state! Not that public libraries can replace them-- they can't-- but students' needs become even more imperative for the public librarians, such as the Homework Help Center. My kids are using it more and more, especially now that I'm being routed from the school library to the classroom!
3682	7/11/2012
3683	7/11/2012	lack of revenue

3684	7/11/2012	reduced popular fiction book budget reduced hours of operation
3685	7/11/2012	The attitude by some that a library is only for small children and old people.
3686	7/11/2012	Funding
3687	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3688	7/11/2012	Insufficient revenue.
3689	7/11/2012	lack of funding!
3690	7/11/2012	Over expenditure of resources on things that are not the highest priority like disability services
3691	7/11/2012	funding
3692	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3693	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3694	7/11/2012	Competition from the internet...
3695	7/11/2012	lack of stable funding.
3696	7/11/2012	correctly funding them. I am not sure if they have too much or too little money. Making the needs relevant to the non-users of the library (which I assume are more than the ones who use them)
3697	7/11/2012	Lack of funding will close some of them down.
3698	7/11/2012	The right-wingers who don't see the community importance of a great library system, as well as people who don't use the library. If folks don't take advantage of everything the library offers, they might not agree about its importance.
3699	7/11/2012	Lack of funds.
3700	7/11/2012	Apathy through too much screen time. If the library could somehow partner with the schools to get more kids reading, researching, and learning at the library, we might be able to combat this. Also, budget cuts are the biggest problem- nothing is more important than a literate populace.
3701	7/11/2012	Image problems: people abusing their rights to library space: drug use especially in bathrooms, sleeping in reading areas, viewing pornography on computers, etc.. I also hesitate going to libraries, especially in winter, due to threat of communicable disease.
3702	7/11/2012	Decreased funding due to economy.
3703	7/11/2012	Money
3704	7/11/2012	decreasing funding
3705	7/11/2012	locked doors.
3706	7/11/2012	loss of resources and funding
3707	7/11/2012	Funding cuts that effect access to all. Difficult to rank importance...I don't have young children now, but feel it is so important for young families to have resources and programs to start literacy at a young age.
3708	7/11/2012	Lack of public information and involvement in library function and mission. Hence requiring a dependable budget allocation.

3709	7/11/2012	That you wont have the latest books for the teens to read
3710	7/11/2012	Funding.
3711	7/11/2012	??
3712	7/11/2012	by closing, you keep the disadvantaged from access to information and knowledge - closing, even one day a week, is a threat to a free society
3713	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding.
3714	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3715	7/11/2012	Seems to me to be loss of funding...
3716	7/11/2012	I don't know.
3717	7/11/2012	the bond measure fails and there are not sufficient funds to keep the library open.
3718	7/11/2012	Lack of funding!
3719	7/11/2012	under funding - lack of community support
3720	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding to keep branches open, pay staff and serve more people.
3721	7/11/2012	Lack of permanent, stable funding. Multnomah County Libraries are award wining and just plain awesome. It's amazing what they've been able to accomplish. It is really unbelievable that we dont have permanent stable funding for them already.
3722	7/11/2012	Funding-as always. We want it all but don't want (can't) pay for it. I worry about the education bonds not passing this time
3723	7/11/2012	Budget cuts and apathy
3724	7/11/2012	reduce of materials.
3725	7/11/2012	budget cuts and sex offenders using our libraies to seek children
3726	7/11/2012	I think current materials are good, but electronic versions of books and access to computer games for children and internet searching in general if provided should be in a different location, perhaps one on the west side and one on the east side is a better option. The biggest threat to the libraries in my opinion is the outsourcing of humans for computer checkout scanners, children appreciating computer usage and movie checkout more than books, librarians behind the computers when we walk in instead of amongst the people and DVD movies other than educational available. I think cell phones should be prohibited inside the building, instead I hear other people talking loudly every time I go there. I have told my local librarians and the manager said they are just serving the demands of the mainstream, but I have never demanded any of these and the mothers I know haven't either. Quit trying to keep up with the latest technology and remember where you came from, because it was a really beautiful and artistic place at one time. Also please research the thousands of studies especially by universities in Europe on the effects of electromagnetic waves on humans, especially people. Quit spending my tax dollars on IPADS for children's games in the library---my #1 request!!!!
3727	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
3728	7/11/2012	Lack of founds
3729	7/11/2012	Paying for continual upgrades in the digital /technology areas and making this available to everyone in the community.

3730	7/11/2012	Funding
3731	7/11/2012	Our libraries are most threatened by lack of funding. We have a community that cares about the library enough that I hope this threat is subverted.
3732	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3733	7/11/2012	funding
3734	7/11/2012	The limited sources of funding and how volatile they are.
3735	7/11/2012	closure
3736	7/11/2012	Lack of funding?
3737	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3738	7/11/2012	cuts in funding. this provides a crucial resource for those who live w/in the confines of the city & utilize this great resource. the library experience is one i enjoyed growing up in town & hope to pass along to my son in the age of social media/newer is better, etc
3739	7/11/2012	Decreased hours.
3740	7/11/2012	not spending money wisely
3741	7/11/2012	Funding
3742	7/11/2012	Not being open enough for those who work 8-5.
3743	7/11/2012	funding
3744	7/11/2012	Political campaigning that appeals to greed and labels any tax levy as bad by default
3745	7/11/2012	Unknown...
3746	7/11/2012	Lack of public interest.
3747	7/11/2012	People loitering in libraries and creating an unfriendly unenvironment that deters other patrons from visiting.
3748	7/11/2012	Funding
3749	7/11/2012	Republicans.
3750	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3751	7/11/2012	closing down
3752	7/11/2012	Indifference.
3753	7/11/2012	Loss of funding.
3754	7/11/2012	The government an social program that are out dated
3755	7/11/2012	Advocacy of higher taxes that results in disfranchisement of the taxpayers.
3756	7/11/2012	Not sure what you are looking for here...
3757	7/11/2012	lack of money to replenish books, magazines and cd's.[] lack of personnel.
3758	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
3759	7/11/2012	Not enough funding.
3760	7/11/2012	I don't really know, but I would guess funding.
3761	7/11/2012	being closed

3762	7/11/2012	Funding.
3763	7/11/2012	slowly slipping away
3764	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3765	7/11/2012	That people forget how important they are in this very difficult economy and vote to reduce funding.
3766	7/11/2012	Good question. The biggest threat to our local libraries may be the Internet and e-readers. It seems like a trend is developing which involves individuals using a device like an I-Pad to do everything from read her newspaper to reading her favorite novel.
3767	7/11/2012	Not having a real library district with stable funding. The blame for this falls squarely on the Board of Commissioners for not putting it to a vote of the citizens of Multnomah County.
3768	7/11/2012	budget cuts
3769	7/11/2012	Digital Media
3770	7/11/2012	Library administrators. Why are you cutting hours when funding passes?
3771	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Personally, I do not think they are threatened. Having to deal with a little less service than we are accustomed to is not, in my min, a threat. It's part of life. Multnomah county offers an incredible array of services via its library system. I've been continually blown away by the resources and services it offers to the community -- if these were cut by 20%, I still would be proud of what we offer as a library sytem. Thanks for asking our opinion and thanks for all you do to make the library here so fantastic!!!
3772	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3773	7/11/2012	ignorance
3774	7/11/2012	ignorance
3775	7/11/2012	funding causing resources to diminish
3776	7/11/2012	Failure to find a clear role/function in a changing world.
3777	7/11/2012	The assault on Federal fund participation from the Republican party. Social services to the population, and especially middle and lower class citizens, was erased during the Reagan administration to the benefit of large corporations and military budgets. It has retarded American society as a whole and it is necessary that our senators and elected reps know that the restoration of these programs is vital if we are to have an educated population instead of pushing us towards a society of indentured servants. Education is of vital importance to all parts of American society and strong libraries are a must to pursue this ideal. The federal govt must resume participation in library funding and the military budget should be where the money comes from. America has become a much worse place for the general population in the last 30 years or more.
3778	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3779	7/11/2012	question 5 does not work, as you probably are finding out □ is the community sufficiently used? for building maintainance, reshelving, setting up for meetings, etc?

3780	7/11/2012	funding, budget cuts, inappropriate computer content, drunk/mentally disturbed people, ballot signature gatherers
3781	7/11/2012	no money
3782	7/11/2012	Cost.
3783	7/11/2012	Lack of access.
3784	7/11/2012	Loss of funds.
3785	7/11/2012	If there is a lack of funding, the libraries might not be able to acquire new books (and replace current ones), which could ultimately squash a love of reading for those who can't afford to buy the books they'd like to read.
3786	7/11/2012	Shortage of $.
3787	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
3788	7/11/2012	.
3789	7/11/2012	No one using them.
3790	7/11/2012	I have no idea. They seem like a treasured part of the community to me.
3791	7/11/2012	Scary people using the facility; people not reading as much as they used to
3792	7/11/2012	The public not understanding how vital funding the libraries is, and also how little the financial impact is on each individual, yet how strong the total is. Like people's taxes may go up a small amount to pay for library services but it's not going to make a significant difference to their wallet, but it is SOO important when everyone's contribution is put together!
3793	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3794	7/11/2012	A lack of funding compromising their services.
3795	7/11/2012	Funding! I also think people going towards electronic media is a problem. I love good old-fashioned print books!
3796	7/11/2012	non literate populace, handheld devices
3797	7/11/2012	Our biggest threat is lack of funding and interest from our community.
3798	7/11/2012	ipads, kindles, and other digital media
3799	7/11/2012	Loss of funding. You can't pay library employees, run literacy programs like Summer Reading, or invest in new or updated media without funding, period.
3800	7/11/2012	The internet.
3801	7/11/2012	Funding
3802	7/11/2012	funding I don't think we get enough money to support our libraries, and staff. I wish we could find a way to enforce the fines that our owed being paid, because every little bit helps! when I have a fine, if I cant pay it all at once, I will at least make a $1.00 for every time I use the library.
3803	7/11/2012	Funding
3804	7/11/2012	Google.
3805	7/11/2012	I worry that if services are cut the library may be seen as less valuable to voters voting on future leavys.

3806	7/11/2012	The library is the only public space in Portland where one is encourage to engage and enrich one's individual understand o the world, while not be required to "make a purchase". It's truly remarkable the services libraries provide in the face of on-going privatization of public space. It is also where one encounters the most diverse mix of community member. The library is a truly civic space, and one that should be maintained. When I moved back to Portland in 1999, branches of the library where opened 7 days a week from 9 am to 9 pm M-F with shortened hours on weekends. I watched as hours and days where cut, then restored, and now cut again. To truly serve the greatest number of people the library should maintain longer hours of operation, or shift hours into the evenings so working people can visit the library 7 days a week.
3807	7/11/2012	ignorance and the tea party/no tax proponents
3808	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3809	7/11/2012	I don't think enough people understand all the services available at our local libraries or see them as vibrant work spaces, and at the risk of making a HUGE generalization, I don't think rich people understand (or care) that not everyone can afford to simply purchase all the books and movies they want. Granted, using the library seems to be more a part of the culture of Portland than other cities in which I've lived, but I poled my (parochial) high school English classes this year, and only 4 out of 125 students use their local library to do homework, work on research papers, or find new books/media.
3810	7/11/2012	A lack of funding?
3811	7/11/2012	The internet and computers
3812	7/11/2012	Budget cuts to acquire/update library materials. Reducing more the number of service hours.
3813	7/11/2012	I'm not sure I have an answer for this question.

		Misleading County officials. The public is not in the mood to approve additional taxes or fund a "district" after the deceit exhibited over recent years -- especially in the wake of the May library funding measure followed within weeks by the announcement that branches will now be closed one day a week. I can't conceive of a more irresponsible, short-sighted, ill timed move in my 30 plus years of observing area governments in action. ¶ ¶ The upshot is that libraries are one of the few essential county services. Time and again the public has said this is a priority, and approved multiple funding requests. But, as a County priority, libraries should be fully funded out of the County budget (as now augmented by the approved extra funding).¶ ¶ It's a cynical effort to grab extra money from County residents whenever "popular" services are pulled out of the budget for extra funding. But it's a genuine lapse of good faith, eroding ongoing trust, when popular "core" services are constantly waived before the taxpayers under threat of cuts if new taxes dedicated to such service aren't approved.¶ ¶ Why not try to see if the public would support new, extra funding for your elections -- another core county service?¶ ¶ The County Board should look elsewhere for cuts -- and not the libraries, a well-used much-needed resource for residents, especially during these troubled economic times.
3814	7/11/2012
3815	7/11/2012	Republicans Lack of consistent funding, which leads to reduced hours. If people are not able to access the library on a consistent basis, then it becomes more likely that they will not support the library as much. It becomes a vicious cycle that I have seen in other cities I have lived in, like Springfield, IL.
3816	7/11/2012
3817	7/11/2012	Small minded selfish people who don't vote for the levies.
3818	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, and too much reliance on television for entertainment. We rely on audiobooks and library books. We got rid of our TV 8 years ago.
3819	7/11/2012	The overall tax property situation in Multnomah County is out of control but it is not the libraries that have caused this situation. My family and I are very supportive of libraries but an additional to our property tax would be insupportable.
3820	7/11/2012	In my opinion, the library is used mostly for people to have a place to get indoors.
3821	7/11/2012	the extremist organizations - the anti-intellectuals - the duds - the white supremacists - the anti-government organizations - the rugged individualists who don't see the interdependency of social and political needs
3822	7/11/2012	anything or anyone that doesn't want them to continue as they have!
3823	7/11/2012	The community not being convinced that the library is still extremely important.
3824	7/11/2012	miss management of the current asset.

3825	7/11/2012	North Portland is next to a high school & during the school year, there is a threat of gang violence, the library should have programs that give young people a better option than gangs, programs that teach computer & job skills, perhaps an intern program where they can learn to work with the public & gain work experience,
3826	7/11/2012	The capricious funding strategies of local governments as the governing bodies of a library system. I thought, more than ten years ago, that the library system should be a stand-alone service district with its' own tax base and governing board - one that is beholden only to the voters/taxpayers/users. Politicians with other agendas and priorities aren't fit to be the ones in charge of governance of a library system.
3827	7/11/2012	Probably the ease of being able to do research at home online, and use e-readers.
3828	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3829	7/11/2012	Invisibility. By that I mean libraries, and all they provide, being taken for granted and that "someone else" will pick up the tab.
3830	7/11/2012	Less new materials and less hours.
3831	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Lack of appreciation of what an important role they play in all of our lives, and in supporting public and private education on all levels.
3832	7/11/2012	lack of funding and support
3833	7/11/2012	The complacent attitude of the staff.
3834	7/11/2012	Not enough funding and not enough publication of the offerings. There needs to be a wider net thrown for library offerings. Not just what you will see posted when you are physically in the library or on their website.
3835	7/11/2012	Television, and advertising, and parents who fail to teach their children that books are wonderful things. Oh, and greed - thinking that 'tax' is a bad word, and one's own money should not be used to support such basic necessities as schools, libraries, music and the arts, etc.
3836	7/11/2012	Decrease in interest in reading
3837	7/11/2012	Decreased funding however with the PPS Bond measure on the ballot in November I don't see how you can ask for additional funding for the library beyond what you passed last May.
3838	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is that our lawmakers have their priorities in the wrong places concerning our local budgets. The money that we DO have for these programs is not always well distributed and spent wisely. It is a tough combination.
3839	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and resources.
3840	7/11/2012	Lack of money?
3841	7/11/2012	Deficiencies in state revenue resulting in less money for libraries as the state tries to meet other more pressing needs.
3842	7/11/2012	The internet
3843	7/11/2012	Loss of funding and as a result loss of the quality professionals that make up the libraries staffs.
3844	7/11/2012	Open less hours and not having popular new books.

3845	7/11/2012	Tax cuts/rising costs for maintenance
3846	7/11/2012	lack of ability of the government to prioritize spending based on what will help most people rather than special interest groups
3847	7/11/2012	A lack of funding to continue services that the community relies on is an incredible threat.
3848	7/11/2012	Spending cuts.
3849	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to maintain hours and services.
3850	7/11/2012	Funding.
3851	7/11/2012	Funding, like everything else. And e-books, but i think community programs should be enough to keep the funding in place (in my opinion anyway),
3852	7/11/2012	lack of financial resources, lack of interest in public libraries, and downloadable books to e-readers
		Lack of information/public exposure.[]
		[]
		We tend to socialize with people like ourselves. Because I am a library user and most of the people I know are library users and know about their many resources, it is easy to assume that every one does. My work, however, brings me in to contact with people outside my social circle and I am amazed that people still envision the library from their childhood.[]
3853	7/11/2012	[]
		The library system has done a better job of staying relevant than many realize. I think if they knew that you can access and order books and media on-line, have them delivered to your local library with an email alerting you etc. people would be more likely to see their value. I am always surprised that people do not know this. I do not know how you get this information out but I think it would be helpful.
3854	7/11/2012	Lack of funding that does not allow libraries to stay open almost every day and stay up to date with current materials and technology.
3855	7/11/2012	I believe it is funding. (hence, the budget cuts).
3856	7/11/2012	insufficient funding
3857	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3858	7/11/2012	I don' t know.
3859	7/11/2012	We have to many branches. The money would be better spent to have fewer building and the keep those branches open 7 days a week. I have three libraries that I pass daily running errands I don't think that is necessary.
3860	7/11/2012	Misinformation about funding and spending for it.

		I have sadly heard a steady increase in the amount of noise allowed in what use to be a very quiet environment of hushed tones. As a child in the fifties and sixties I remember well that no inappropriate loud noise was ever allowed in any library I used, Librarians would quickly put a stop to anything other then hushed voices. []
		It now seems children are allowed to make almost any amount of noise they please short of screaming, though screaming is not at all unusual. []
		I have spoken to library staff members on several occasions about this and every time without exception I have been told there is nothing that can be done unless the noise reaches the level of screaming and even then it is often not addressed unless the screaming does not stop on its own. []
3861	7/11/2012	We are empowering a lack of respect so the library staff does not have to do the job that was appropriately done by the them in years past. []
		I have literally been forced into the quiet rooms if was is available or out of the library by the noise. I have spoken with other people in the library about the this and have never had one of them say anything other then they also would like the noise kept at a much lower level. []
		I visit our libraries much less often then I like because of the noise and I am still willing to help keep them open. []
3862	7/11/2012	We are being asked to keep funding for the libraries up and I fully agree with this however if we keep the funding up the Not enough money to go around.
3863	7/11/2012	i don't have any idea about it..
3864	7/11/2012	internet, kindle
3865	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
3866	7/11/2012	Funding
3867	7/11/2012	Lack of certain funding.
3868	7/11/2012	Portland needs a world class library. It's outrageous that funding for libraries are constantly being cut. Libraries are constantly under the knife with more patrons using them daily.
3869	7/11/2012	funding it seems.
3870	7/11/2012	I would say funding.
3871	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is probably mis-allocation of gov funds, but you knew that. The library should also be cautious of becoming outdated. For example, more people would use the library if there were free wi-fi, or more tables and places to sit.
3872	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3873	7/11/2012	Seems like we are always being asked if libraries are important. I feel that this should be a non-issue. Libraries provide the community with resources that no other institution provides.

3874	7/11/2012	digital media? e-books?
3875	7/11/2012	I think that one threat to libraries is a lack of caring from the public: In the internet age, sometimes people forget what an important resource a library is... and how, even if you have nothing else, you still have everything when there is access to the stacks of books and the information available at the library.
3876	7/11/2012	Number one threat is government cutting funding for only services people see (or poorer people use) and [Beginning Rant not looking for other ways to save money by reducing politics, red tape and use of administrative consultants] [] Number two is probably use of electronic services like the internet. (download books, watch movies, do research with online periodicals on a smart phone, tablet (ipad) or other personal computer.) [] Number three. undervaluing our children, seniors. and "poor economy" based citizens who work hard but still remain financially destitute.
3877	7/11/2012	My guess would funding.
3878	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3879	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is Library mis management...Library should be open on Saturday. Think about the tax payer access for the one day they might visit on their day off. Instead of taxing more and delivering less. [] Taxex are being voted down because value is going down.
3880	7/11/2012	I'd guess insufficient funding but I don't know what possible other threats exist.
3881	7/11/2012	Reduced access to current books, media, and resources.
3882	7/11/2012	Families being scared to use them. People taking them for granted.
3883	7/11/2012	probably lack of funding
3884	7/11/2012	I would think it is reduction in funding.
3885	7/11/2012	Lack of sufficient funding to help support local libraries.
3886	7/11/2012	I like to hold a book in my hands when I read it and I worry that libraries will be phased out as more material is converted to electronic versions. Not everyone owns a Kindle or has access to the internet.
3887	7/11/2012	Free information on the internet.
3888	7/11/2012	disappearing

3889	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. We need enough funding to maintain a budget that allows the local libraries to stay open on hours and days according to the needs of the patrons, and be able to provide books/media and programs to the people of the community. Without my local library open at least six days a week, I would have to buy many books for my kids, which would be prohibitively expensive. In addition, they greatly benefit from readings/story hour from people other than me, and we don't have a computer so the library allows me and my kids to have free internet access.
3890	7/11/2012	Inertia the smell at the central library. I was thinking that the last time I was there, that it would be great if the library had some showers - like the larger airports...[]
3891	7/11/2012	[] Also, I'm ok with the library going down to 6 days a week (with full hours) but it would better that the closed day was a week day.
3892	7/11/2012	The ever-broadening access to knowleege and search engine capability "at your finger-tips" from the comfort of your home and 24/7. closing some days and losing patron support because they drift away from library. I think it is also important to keep
3893	7/11/2012	materials up to date and current so the library can stay as relevant and important in our lives as the great resource it is now.
3894	7/11/2012	You tell me...I have absolutely no idea
3895	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3896	7/11/2012	Mandatory minimum sentencing sending too many people to prison & stripping all other programs of much-needed funding.
3897	7/11/2012	I think that the biggest threat is funding cuts from the government and having to ask people to pay more to have libraries in service. I am willing to contribute my share and I hate to see the library system suffer due to lack of money. If the community needs to pay more I hope that people in our community will support that.
3898	7/11/2012	Republicans
3899	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and support.
3900	7/11/2012	electric media
3901	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding, it seems to me.
3902	7/11/2012	reduced funding, lack of public support I don't know what the biggest threat is--maybe a trend in which people are increasingly unwilling to pay taxes to provide community services. Also, people are losing their sense of the importance of books. Libraries are really important for creating an informed, educated public, and for creating a sense of community. I think we should be increasing our funding for libraries, not decreasing it.
3903	7/11/2012
3904	7/11/2012	People getting tired of paining more and more[] Waeooo
3905	7/11/2012	Money...

3906	7/11/2012	peoples expectations for greater online access to materials. I would like to see more digital materials available and would be willing to pay a small access fee for download rentals.
3907	7/11/2012	lack of funding
3908	7/11/2012	The internet
3909	7/11/2012	Kids becoming addicted to smart phones and computers and computer games and losing touch with the real world and books.
3910	7/11/2012	Can not get question #5 to work
3911	7/11/2012	Anonymity: everyone -including non-users- need to know the vital role our libraries play in the well-being of our communities past, present, and future.
3912	7/11/2012	They have lost sight of their original purpose. There are other agencies for Senior Citizens, job seekers, small business owners. Every special program adds operating expenses. As a library user I beleive it is time to revisit the goals of the library, define what its primary purpose is and get back to the basics.
3913	7/11/2012	underfunding and ebooks
3914	7/11/2012	lack of operating funds.
3915	7/11/2012	ideologists who do not believe in the public good and the Commons.
3916	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3917	7/11/2012	I don't have enough information to answer that.
3918	7/11/2012	The funding structure and levy system prevent the library from being able to do long range planning!
3919	7/11/2012	Funding cuts!
3920	7/11/2012	Not having enough funding to be open for a majority of the week. Also, not enought funding to have plenty of copies of new materials like books, dvds, cds, ect.
3921	7/11/2012	A decrease in hours open
3922	7/11/2012	Perhaps people's lack of knowledge of all the resources and programs they can access for free at the library.
3923	7/11/2012	Lack of support for funding. I think people take the library for granted, but would miss it terribly if the services were cut. Our library system is one of the greatest things about living in America! When I lived overseas, not having access to a library was one of the things I missed the most.
3924	7/11/2012	Dont sense any threats
3925	7/11/2012	Short hours, unable to purchase new material.
3926	7/11/2012	I don't know.
3927	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3928	7/11/2012	People that are self centered
3929	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is the County Beauracracy continuing to use the library system as all hostage to their personal agendas. The library needs to be funded through an independent tax base and district to assure that it continues to be one of the best in the country.
3930	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.

3931	7/11/2012	the poor economy
3932	7/11/2012	Not enough support from the government.
3933	7/11/2012	Decreased funding.
3934	7/11/2012	I don't know but I think the growing cultural illiteracy of our population is a huge threat to our society that free libraries can counter. Although there are fewer parents able to do the programs for babies and toddlers, I believe that early imprinting or children of the library as a wonderful place, a treasure chest, is very important even though I was not able to rank it due to the other needs as high as I would like. I also think the summer reading program for youngsters is very important.
3935	7/11/2012	There is a new perception among many in Portland that the Library is taking all of the city resources, and not leaving anything for other important services, such as youth programs through the Portland Children's Levy, which will be decimated if this library measure passes. I believe that the Library deserves adequate funding to keep branches open 5-6 days a week, but I don't believe the library should be funded in full at the expense of other extremely important city-funded programs. When resources are limited, they should be shared, not taken by the biggest, most powerful entity.
3936	7/11/2012	Not sure.
3937	7/11/2012	budget cuts richer neighborhoods getting better services
3938	7/11/2012	Hours open- I work so I cannot come during the week days.
3939	7/11/2012	Not having enough books. Cut in operation hours.
3940	7/11/2012	Politics; specifically elected officials not adequately funding the libraries and instead trying to hold voters hostage by constantly referring levies and special district proposals. There will ultimately be a backlash to higher property taxes.
3941	7/11/2012	The fact that we are being continually asked by so many programs for an additional tax to helpso many organizations that are in trouble. Incomes are limited, jobs are scare, everything is going up ib cost, so oe has to pick and choose what is most important to obe to support.
3942	7/11/2012	Republicans
3943	7/11/2012	Funding
3944	7/11/2012	Don't know.
3945	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3946	7/11/2012	People wanting services but refusing to pay for them
3947	7/11/2012	Less funding!

3948	7/11/2012	Libraries not using the funds well that they already receive and have received for many years from generous taxpayers!!! I remember around 10 years ago the library system wanted yet another levy, tax increase, which the voter approved. About a month after the levy was approved I went to the Belmont branch to find the library had all new flat screen computers and granite counter tops! What a way to spend money, I don't see those items on your survey! Please start being more accountable with funds and stop wasting money! This is by far THE biggest threat to our local libraries, out of control spending!
3949	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
3950	7/11/2012	The Internet
3951	7/11/2012	Withdrawal of funding
3952	7/11/2012	Same as for all government-funded agencies: funding during an extended economic downturn.
3953	7/11/2012	Funding and interest being taken away. The library is a very precious place to me, and, as a college student and a prolific reader, allows me to save money by borrowing books through them.
3954	7/11/2012	Funding
3955	7/11/2012	I've lived in communities in Southern Oregon where the libraries were closed completely (at the same time as Juvenile Hall was closed and lesser term criminal offenders released into the population). It was like the end of the world as I knew it. Funding is the biggest problem, obviously. It is a small tax, and a necessary one, deserving priority over some other programs. I would rather have reduced hours than none at all.
3956	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, along with the emergence of so much digital media.
3957	7/11/2012	Access
3958	7/11/2012	no funding
3959	7/11/2012	Funding
3960	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3961	7/11/2012	Funding, apparently!
3962	7/11/2012	Reduced funding and increasing expenses
3963	7/11/2012	Lack of state and federal money. Political climate nationally remains generally hostile to public spending of any kind. Hopefully that will change after the next national election.
3964	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
3965	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3966	7/11/2012	Unsure.
3967	7/11/2012	Closing access bit by bit. If each year, libraries hours are shortened - even if it's only by a few hours per week, the public will become used to them not being open, and will eventually find alternatives - good and bad. Those who can afford it will pay for services; the rest of us will become less and less informed, entertained, socialized, educated. That's too high a price to pay for a so-called civilized society.
3968	7/11/2012	lack of funding

3969	7/11/2012	the internet!
3970	7/11/2012	Lack of hours and activities. Giving school-aged a place to go after school if they are not well looked after is very important If the library is closed one day a week, kids are going to find trouble.
3971	7/11/2012	Not sure how to answer. I was dismayed to see the reduction to 6 days, after voting and seeing the bond measure approved.
3972	7/11/2012	Funding!
3973	7/11/2012	Not sure
3974	7/11/2012	The ongoing, 30 year assault on the social contract - the long term effort to defund of public goods and services. Lack of understanding by the public about funding options and their consequences, not just to the library system but also to other jurisdictions (e.g., because of compression). The library should join with other jurisdictions to raise awareness to hopefully undo the madness created by the hodge-podge of initiatives & laws that have created an unfair system with many unintended (at least by the public) negative consequences. Raising awareness about the inequity in the taxes paid by comparable properties due to the Changed Property Ration (CPR) is critical to changing the system. A new library district and new property taxes that compound the situation for other jurisdictions is NOT the answer; we need to think longer-term and make a more equitable funding system.
3975	7/11/2012
3976	7/11/2012	Money being drained off to other uses with the result of more closures and fewer materials available.
3977	7/11/2012	funding and not being used enough. It is challenging for the library to provide the materials, services and programs at times when demand is so heavy -- it's not like the library sees any more revenue because of increased use, or has ability to hire more staff to handle the influx of patrons. A solid, ideally diversified, revenue stream is needed to support the library's operations, to ensure that it can continue to meet the community's needs in the ways that we've all come to depend on, and be able to be flexible enough to meet new or emerging community needs.
3978	7/11/2012
3979	7/11/2012	Lack of understanding by voters that libraries are an indispensable resource that require the financial support of the community.
3980	7/11/2012	Funding. Political winds blowing against the common good.
3981	7/11/2012	Lack of funding - or inability to hire good employees.
3982	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and lack of understanding about the importance of libraries to many groups in the community.
3983	7/11/2012	Non use. People who don't use it don't want to fund it.
3984	7/11/2012	Cd's and DVD's should go into a separate slot. less damage from large books.
3985	7/11/2012	Ignorance and greed.
3986	7/11/2012	Internet kindle
3987	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
3988	7/11/2012	Lack of Money and information available online.

3989	7/11/2012	That people who use the library for internet services will be unable to do so and further in peed there job search abilities and inability to access community services they may need.
3990	7/11/2012	challenge of local funding
3991	7/11/2012	I would guess funding since there has been a reduction in hours of operation due to funding problems.
3992	7/11/2012	People not realizing what value they provide to our communities. We have very few gathering places in our society, where people really come together, and I feel that libraries are such a valuable resource to EVERYONE, regardless of age or income level.
3993	7/11/2012	Television and disengaged Internet usage.
3994	7/11/2012	snakes
3995	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
3996	7/11/2012	Budget cuts leading to sparse hours and fewer library employees with more automated services. I appreciate being able to borrow electronically but I would not like to see more people lose their jobs and the community lose access to real people working in the library.
3997	7/11/2012	Funding and ignorance
3998	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to keep the library open and accessible.
3999	7/11/2012	Threat of closure of smaller branches.
4000	7/11/2012	Lack of revenue resulting in decreasing access to the libraries.
4001	7/11/2012	ebooks
4002	7/11/2012	underfunding?
4003	7/11/2012	Carpenter Ants? Schools that let children graduate without being able to read?
4004	7/11/2012	It sounds like it may be the funding.
4005	7/11/2012	Politicians
4006	7/11/2012	Online resources
4007	7/11/2012	The funding base.
4008	7/11/2012	Budgets are obvious. DRM technologies and lawsuits that threaten fair use. See current MPAA and RIAA undertakings as examples. Currently they are even going after your ability to sell things that you have bought outright as copyright infringement.
4009	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4010	7/11/2012	Funding.
4011	7/11/2012	Apathy.
4012	7/11/2012	no funds?
4013	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4014	7/11/2012	Cost of staffing, maintance of facilities & operation of the existing programs, building and staff.
4015	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4016	7/11/2012	Facebook and the culture of apathy

4017	7/11/2012	Many people are not aware of the programs at the Library. I think it is so important for kids to grow to love the library! More marketing is needed.
4018	7/11/2012	It scares me when old men are by themselves in the childrens book section. Also I've seen a couple of times people with what I assume have mental problems, causing enough problems that security has to escort them out
4019	7/11/2012	Rising costs, funding issues and voter apathy.
4020	7/11/2012	Cutting costs and resources for the populations that need it most.
4021	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is the political philosophy of the Republican Party which argues that social services and entitlement programs undermine the health of the economy. The truth is that social services and entitlement programs function as a safety net that supports the economy which is persistently weighed down by the preposterous imbalance in the distribution of income and wealth. The only way the general population can offset the imbalance is by going into debt to meet its consumption needs. When the economy sputters, employment layoffs further weaken the purchasing power of the general population. Calling for a reduction in social services and entitlement programs to balance the budget when the economy founders is a penalty imposed on the weakest members of society by the strongest members of society. The truth is that monetary and fiscal policy are engineered to protect the wealth of the strongest members of society. Honest recognition of this by the strongest members of society should make them supporters of social services and entitlement programs. Regretably, they are not capable of behaving accordingly.
4022	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4023	7/11/2012	uncertain/inadequate funding
4024	7/11/2012	Open during human times. Afternoons, evenings, and weekends.
4025	7/11/2012	Not enough resources to maintain the excellent service, current materials, and a neighborhood amenity for all.
4026	7/11/2012	Cuts
4027	7/11/2012	Funding
4028	7/11/2012	Politicians!
4029	7/11/2012	Unstable and uncertain funding is no doubt the biggest threat to the libraries.
4030	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4031	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is that they would close.
4032	7/11/2012	The possibility of them being closed. People without jobs need our libraries, the elderly who cannot afford to buy the books. We need the training classes for people to be able to use the library to it's fullest.
4033	7/11/2012	The current economy.
4034	7/11/2012	Al significant lack of funding and support.
4035	7/11/2012	Budget
4036	7/11/2012	Republicans

4037	7/11/2012	Lack of funding? Or, perhaps, limited access to ebooks? I have been using our library more for ebooks and DVDs and other electronic media than for print media.
4038	7/11/2012	Not enough money to support it
4039	7/11/2012	At some point, unless the growth in income disparity can be reversed, those that really need all public services, not just libraries, will be unable to help fund them. At that point the wealthy, who can afford to purchase anything they want and have lost a sense of social/ community responsibility, will allow the funding and support for libraries to gradually vanish. [] [] We are fortunate that in our county we have an adequate property base to provide taxes to support our library system. In the counties that have depended on timber payments or federal support, the libraries are already closing.
4040	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4041	7/11/2012	Not having enough money.
4042	7/11/2012	Well, it sounds like funding is the biggest problem, thus the tax levy.
4043	7/11/2012	Television. Because it sucks people's minds in and then bulldozes their creativity with crappy, uninspiring programming. It makes people mentally lazy, and eclipses reading.
4044	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4045	7/11/2012	Indifference to illiteracy.[] Dependence on internet.
4046	7/11/2012	Funding
4047	7/11/2012	closures and budget cuts.
4048	7/11/2012	I would love to see the online library expanded more. Then space will be available for other options. If the library cuts back hours I would suggest to close Tuesday or Thursday or reduce morning hours a few days a week. It would be sad to close when the majority of the public can us the facility (afternoon and weekends).
4049	7/11/2012	public employees union
4050	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4051	7/11/2012	closure
4052	7/11/2012	funding
4053	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4054	7/11/2012	Computers for personal use.....[] Trying to load up the library with ethnic stuff.....we ONLY need to have 'learn English' books
4055	7/11/2012	funding, due to poor economy.
4056	7/11/2012	lack of funding and ppl thinking cheap property taxes are some how more important than community building

4057	7/11/2012	The unwillingness of people to pay for goods and services that benefit the entire society. The tax structure in Oregon needs to be more progressive and Libraries, Schools, Family and Social Services should be the priority.
4058	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4059	7/11/2012	Restricted hours Not having access when needed and properly staffed.[]
4060	7/11/2012	[] Education is MOST important and the Library assists in teaching all visitors.
4061	7/11/2012	apathy and $
4062	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is budget cuts.
4063	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Libraries help all within the community, not just school-aged, elder or low income. ALL people in the community benefit, personally, and as a whole because reading and self-improvement better our community in general.
4064	7/11/2012	People who don't take it seriously and vandalize or steal material.
4065	7/11/2012	lack of funding. also, must keep up with changes in how people receive media -ie electronic
4066	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
4067	7/11/2012	nobody reads anymore...Kindles...no sales tax
4068	7/11/2012	Not maintaining useful information and thereby losing public support
4069	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4070	7/11/2012	The Republican party.
4071	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4072	7/11/2012	funding
4073	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and not adapting well to the digitization of information.
4074	7/11/2012	laziness and apathy. not by the library staff, but people in general who don't care enough to read and keep supporting the library system. free books? yes! please! we need it! we need to learn, but too bad so many people are so apathetic.
4075	7/11/2012	Lack of funding apathy in general public to the importance of a public library []
4076	7/11/2012	[] reduced hours making it difficult for working people to use the library
4077	7/11/2012	Funding cuts and politicians who fail to see that a thriving library system is essential to the health of the community. The challenge some pundits have is that they're unable to see the many side-benefits of access to library resources, not only to culture and life-long learning, but also to the long term economic growth.
4078	7/11/2012	Permanent funding.
4079	7/11/2012	lack of funds
4080	7/11/2012	loss of hours, accessible times

4081	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to continue providing all the excellent resources the library currently provides.
4082	7/11/2012	enough funding and apathy
4083	7/11/2012	supporters not voicing their opinions and policy makers not being aware of usage
4084	7/11/2012	Lack of community involvement and funding.
4085	7/11/2012	theft ... not paying fines ... easy access/sign up even to those who abuse lending policies
4086	7/11/2012	The false choices that pit the schools and libraries against each other for funding. It saddens me to realize that the country we live in today, wouldn't create a free library or public school system.
4087	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4088	7/11/2012	Decreased funding.
4089	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4090	7/11/2012	Funding cuts and technology! Don't ever get rid of books and replace them with electronic books.[] This would be part of the downfall of our society.
4091	7/11/2012	Over-reliance on property taxes to fund the library and other programs. Such reliance over time and combined with other hits to property owners will result in rampant gentrification. Then, new property owners will be more likely to consult and support booksellers and other media purveyors before thinking about the library.
4092	7/11/2012	The recession; lack of funding.
4093	7/11/2012	Funding Cuts!
4094	7/11/2012	Urban renewal, and the way the local governments are spending money on unnecessary projects that we can't afford.
4095	7/11/2012	Low funding
4096	7/11/2012	Not enough money to fund properly.
4097	7/11/2012	The internet nah kidding because library can hook you up with online databases that kick everybody else's butt. Biggest threat is probably reduced income from sources that support it
4098	7/11/2012	Lack of consistent, predictable funding. Lack of interest on the part of voters who don't choose to fund library initiatives.[]
4099	7/11/2012	Folks who think it's not important for everyone to be well informed and to have access to thought-provoking and multi-source reading materials.
4100	7/11/2012	We are facing parking problem at kenton library as they are many business around.
4101	7/11/2012	Internet replaces the need for libraries
4102	7/11/2012	Funding cuts!!
4103	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, it seems.
4104	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding paired with inefficient use of funds available.
4105	7/11/2012	My fear is that people who attack government do not understand how efficiently our libraries use their resources. I would hate to see them start victimizing library employees for their pay and benefits. I am a retired public employee who gave thirty years of service, and I get a stomach ache every time I read in the Oregonian that it's all my fault that TriMet has money problems.

4106	7/11/2012	Apparently it's funding
4107	7/11/2012	decreased funding for new materials
4108	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. The library is a valuable resource for families, individuals, and a source of personal enjoyment and enrichment for the community.
4109	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding
4110	7/11/2012	Apathy
4111	7/11/2012	the republican party
4112	7/11/2012	Health insurance costs for employees
4113	7/11/2012	Home internet/technology --- online news/resources[] [] Multnomah County taxes already getting too high; stretched tax dollars for country/community infrastructure.
4114	7/11/2012	Our sluggish economy is the biggest threat to our local libraries!!! We are living though Depression 2.0. The level of joblessness in our community is unheard of (and previously unthinkable). Let me say it another way ... We need economic growth to fully support our libraries. When people have jobs and money, they are more willing to fund public activities. THESE ARE VERY TOUGH ECONOMIC TIMES FOR MOST PEOPLE & HOUSEHOLDS. The library is a wonderful public resource. I love the Multnomah County library, and I believe that it SHOULD be appropriately funded. I also believe it deserves to have an independent source of revenue so it does not compete directly with other general Multnomah County programs & priorities. HOWEVER, without economic growth & more JOBS, our libraries face very, very tough choices. Those tough choices, however, are not unlike what households are facing in light of declining incomes. Without a doubt, the biggest threat is the weak economy and pathetically weak "recovery." I realize the "economy and jobs" are out of the control of the library's leadership, but those are the biggest threats.
4115	7/11/2012	Voters who vote to NOT FUND libraries in the community.
4116	7/11/2012	Funding. Going to 6 days per week is not ideal. I do not use the library every day but would like it to be open seven days per week so I can go to it. We already have shortened hours, I can remember when in the recent past the library was open until 8-9 pm. This was great for kids who needed to do homework and for local college students to find a place to study and do research.
4117	7/11/2012	Lack of funding support
4118	7/11/2012	lack of funding.
4119	7/11/2012	not be able to access the library when you need to,
4120	7/11/2012	The biggest threat that I perceive to the local libraries is a loss in funding.
4121	7/11/2012	The poor quality of some books, CDs, DVDs.. ect.
4122	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4123	7/11/2012	Individuals unfamiliar with the importance and value of public libraries who are unwilling to support improvements and updates to the County library system.

4124	7/11/2012	Closing library branches
4125	7/11/2012	no $$
4126	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4127	7/11/2012	Funding, e-books
4128	7/11/2012	Not enough hours of operation. The libraries need to be open longer!
4129	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4130	7/11/2012	Funding I think that right now so many people need the resources - but it's hard to get funding. [] []
4131	7/11/2012	Libraries should not ALL be closed on the same day. The closures should rotate so two libraries closest to one another would not be closed on the same day.
4132	7/11/2012	The lack of funding because of people ignorance and not understanding how integral the libraries are in assisting in educating, supporting, and moving our communities forward.
4133	7/11/2012	Funding shrinking while demand continues to rise; ever-expanding expectations for the kinds of materials and services the library should provide.
4134	7/11/2012	That financial fears undermine the significance of literacy and community.
4135	7/11/2012	TV and Social Media, and the current educational process. Today's students (K-12, and beyond!) are consumed with celebrity, reality, and social hype, and far less interested in reading. It's a shame, and I don't know where to even begin for formidable suggestions!
4136	7/11/2012	electronic media
4137	7/11/2012	not spending money well.
4138	7/11/2012	branch closures Not enough funding[]
4139	7/11/2012	People not realizing/taking advantage of all of the wonderful programs that are available[] Our culture doesn't value the printed word as much as before
4140	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4141	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
4142	7/11/2012	Maybe people taking advantage of getting to check out books for free.
4143	7/11/2012	lack of funding....
4144	7/11/2012	None
4145	7/11/2012	Corporate villainy and the need of the power structure to promote ignorance.
4146	7/11/2012	Funding and resources.
4147	7/11/2012	Not having the money to keep them running
4148	7/11/2012	CUTTING FUNDING-
4149	7/11/2012	lack of adequate taxes or funding

4150	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is the same as the biggest threat to anything in our country- our general disregard for the importance of providing good education for the next generation. The selfishness of Americans in this regard can be astounding.
4151	7/11/2012	The biggest threat would be not enough money to pay for them to stay open, and not be able to buy new books as they come out.
4152	7/11/2012	Ignorance.
4153	7/11/2012	closure
4154	7/11/2012	Biggest threat is to have money to sustain very valuable community services that library is providing.
4155	7/11/2012	Not enough funding! Keep us informed and connect with the community to insure proper funding for this wonderful resource.
4156	7/11/2012	Funding challenges.
4157	7/11/2012	Stupid people.
4158	7/11/2012	non-stable funding
4159	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4160	7/11/2012	Proliferation of electronic media in "bite-size" portions, increasingly shorter attention spans and reduced appreciation of the written word, particularly in "hard copy." These among other things result in less personal connection to books generally and less appreciation of the incredible power of ready public access to the knowledge contained there. This in turn results in less political will to fund.[] [] The need for political will stems from funding through tax initiatives. Having returned to Oregon after living for long periods in other states, I was startled to realize that funding the library wasn't simply a given part of public budgeting.
4161	7/11/2012	The computer and tax funding
4162	7/11/2012	Lack of controlled funding.
4163	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4164	7/11/2012	having to scale back or eliminate programs due to lack of funding
4165	7/11/2012	Them not being available to those who supply the majority of the funding. Also the distrust we as the public have when we vote to fund the libraries and then they are closed only to find out that the levy is now going to cost homeowners more if in fact it passes. I would say the biggest threat is not communicating and being honest to the public when you rely on us to fund the libraries.
4166	7/11/2012	Funding
4167	7/11/2012	Closure. Free to read books; reading makes the mind strong.
4168	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4169	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4170	7/11/2012	Appears to be funding. I don't think the library, as important and vital as it is, stands alone in needing funds to operate.

4171	7/11/2012	privatization
4172	7/11/2012	closure through lack of funding
4173	7/11/2012	Cuts in funding.
4174	7/11/2012	Not enough funding
4175	7/11/2012	funding
4176	7/11/2012	Funding and lack of outreach programs to ensure awareness.
4177	7/11/2012	jobs
4178	7/11/2012	Not enough money to keep them open and running.
4179	7/11/2012	Hand held devices that give information such as google and wickopedia etc.
4180	7/11/2012	The lack of interest in reading. It's not a huge value to the next generation and many people only think of the library as a place for books, so if books don't interest them, the library doesn't matter to them.
4181	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Perhaps education. Our libraries are invaluable, does the new generation of electronic readers know this?
4182	7/11/2012	money to support them
4183	7/11/2012	voters not voting for funding and hopefully for library districts when it is on the ballot
4184	7/11/2012	I think the biggest threat is Measure 5 property tax increase limits and the fact that people don't seem to understand that they have to pay for public services.
4185	7/11/2012	diminished hours and services would make the libraries inconvenient. At that point, people will stop thinking of the library as an available option
4186	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4187	7/11/2012	Lack of awareness by decision makers of the contribution that libraries make to the sustainability of communities. It's a safe zone in an era where everything else is stressful and not secure. There is a legacy in the US for our libraries and books in general that doesn't seem to carry over into this new generation.
4188	7/11/2012	There is none
4189	7/11/2012	Lack of money or nonefficient use of current funds.
4190	7/11/2012	dunno
4191	7/11/2012	Less funding.
4192	7/11/2012	It sounds like budget cuts and lack of funding are a big threat.
4193	7/11/2012	The general public not getting involved with the future of our libraries. Even if a person does not utilize any of the opportunities offered, I believe that they should be supportive of the libraries programs that are so important to others.
4194	7/11/2012	Not enough money to run the Library even though people vote for taxes. Like myself who is on a limited income vote for the tax every time. So if the "powers that be" quit using the money for which it was intended on other things that have nothing to do with the Library, the wouldn't have this problem.
4195	7/11/2012	Limitting access.

4196	7/11/2012	Not enough $$ to keep them open.
4197	7/11/2012	Less emphasis on reading, more emphasis on visual media
4198	7/11/2012	Republicans
4199	7/11/2012	Rising costs, an revenue stream and increasing demand. That school funding issues will crowd out support for libraries.
4200	7/11/2012	Excessive cost cutting. The perception by some that libraries are not needed since a growing number of the population reads material online or buys books rather than checking them out of the library. The library closures in Southern Oregon comes to mind. People need to be educated about all the services a library provides and that not all of us can afford to buy books whenever we want something to read.
4201	7/11/2012
4202	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
4203	7/11/2012	Cutback of hours due to lack of funding.
4204	7/11/2012	The diminishing ambition, intelligence and drive of our general population & the associated decline of the U.S.
4205	7/11/2012	Lack of permanent funding. Since the county's contribution is a fairly substantial part of the library's budget, when county resources decrease it harms our library.
4206	7/11/2012	Republicans who want to privatize everything.
4207	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4208	7/11/2012	Lack of funding by short-sighted voters.
4209	7/11/2012	Steadily diminishing sources of funding, whether it be from government or community coffers, is probably the biggest threat to our libraries. It's part of a seemingly intentional dismantling of the commons driven by conservative forces in society. There's also a general lack of use and interest, which is most likely the result of the prevalence of internet resources. We're slowly being dumbed down.
4210	7/11/2012	It would have to be lack of funding, if that's the cause of reduced hours, etc.
4211	7/11/2012	Funds being cut.
4212	7/11/2012	?
4213	7/11/2012	too many computers
4214	7/11/2012	The lack of funding and the negative impact that has had on not only the reduced hours and staff but how that severely impacts the community. I have many clients that are unemployed and underemployed that using the internet at the library and other library resources is a crucial part of their job search, without it I do not know how people will be able to access the basic necessities in life. Many clients use the library's internet to look up shelters, food banks, apply and search for employment positions, this goes way beyond people not having equal access to literature and knowledge the library's resources are extremely vital to the livelihoods of many people.
4215	7/11/2012	Money,closing libraries (only 6days a week)

4216	7/11/2012	lack of access- best bet would be to rotate days of closure between area libraries so users have an option to visit another local branch if they need service that day.
4217	7/11/2012	Funding
4218	7/11/2012	Funding cuts, misunderstanding of uses and values and misappropriated resources as a result.
4219	7/11/2012	Funding.
4220	7/11/2012	EBOOKS. THE NET.
4221	7/11/2012	Adequate funding for building upkeep and staffing.
4222	7/11/2012	I think "threat" is too strong an adjective, but perhaps the general public has no idea how large a segment of the population depends on having access to library materials.
4223	7/11/2012	Loss of funding. I don't believe the user base is going anywhere, anytime soon.
4224	7/11/2012	Funding.
4225	7/11/2012	Poor management of funds. When taxpayers see waste or get asked too often to increase funding, it makes them feel discouraged about the entire institution of public libraries.
4226	7/11/2012	budget
4227	7/11/2012	funding and use
4228	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4229	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4230	7/11/2012	People believing books aren't important.
4231	7/11/2012	Personal computers and electronic books
4232	7/11/2012	Funding!
4233	7/11/2012	Not enough money. We have a premier system; let's not blow it!
4234	7/11/2012	cutting hours[] eliminating access
4235	7/11/2012	closing them or limited hours!
4236	7/11/2012	The self-interest of people with no regard for the needs of the community at large.
4237	7/11/2012	closing. losing funding, classes for children because our schools are underfunded. The library is almost the last thing we have!
4238	7/11/2012	?? I'm ok with the 6-days a week schedule. Less than that would be concerning.
4239	7/11/2012	the internet?
4240	7/11/2012	budget cutting.
4241	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4242	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4243	7/11/2012	Inconsistent funding due to Multnomah County's inconsistent budgets and priorities.
4244	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. Even this current change makes the library less convenient due to the days closed and the change in hours open. If it is not convenient I think less people will use it and it will become threatened.
4245	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.

4246	7/11/2012	Underfunding due to our society's refusal to pay for public services.
4247	7/11/2012	1. Can't say I'm completely current on the details, but privacy and the "Patriot" act, information sharing terrifies me... 2. Funding issues/shortfalls in the current political climate - small government groups hacking at everything they are pointed toward without thinking.
4248	7/11/2012	funding
4249	7/11/2012	kindle
4250	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4251	7/11/2012	Resources to fund updated books, and other research materials/tools.
4252	7/11/2012	Stable funding is necessary in order to keep programs and materials and times open available to the broadest range of people. So lack of stable funding is the biggest threat.
4253	7/11/2012	I'm not certain. I'm unclear on the context of the word "threat". From my frame of reference, it is the potential that the voting public at large forgets how important a good library system is to the growth and well-being of a community.
4254	7/11/2012	funding
4255	7/11/2012	Kids and young adults stop reading hardcopy books.
4256	7/11/2012	Government red tape
4257	7/11/2012	Not being open during after work (4p-7p) and full weekends. For working parents with children these are the times that they can get tot the library with their kids. Without these times those library moments will be gone.
4258	7/11/2012	I'm guessing, being under funded. Not being able to provide the amenities and people dropping off. Technology is probably a threat as well. Media is the way to reach people now. Not books, magazines, articles, etc. Creating an interest in books again.
4259	7/11/2012	?
4260	7/11/2012	Lack of political will on the part of both the people and our elected officials to act to preserve this most important of our civic institutions.
4261	7/11/2012	Funding based only on property taxes means that only a few people pay for a resource the whole community uses - there needs to be a way to expand the base of taxpayers - it shouldn't be only the small portion of people who own homes that pay for the library.
4262	7/11/2012	to close 2 days a week
4263	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
4264	7/11/2012	Evidently it's funding and I hope to the high heavens it's legitimate and not crying wolf nor because too much operating capital is being funneled into administration.
4265	7/11/2012	Funding issues, I believe are the biggest threat, with the second being theft and loss of materials. I don't have a solution to the problem. Everywhere, public programs are reducing their services. It is a shame.

4266	7/11/2012	Less hours. This would mean people in the community would not know what a library was anymore. That it is part of the "American Way of Life". A library is part of the cycle of life where as a child you learn how to raise your child by reading those important books that help so much. School comes around and you notice that you can be your own person, a free thinker, out of the box yet team player. The authors of books past, present and future say it all. In College you realize the evermore importance of the library, your library - to have different views on life from your teachers and it is OK. In my library I find acceptance of all people, old, young, sick, intellectuals or just plain folks trying to make it. The library helps all together. We need our Libraries to keep America Together!!!!
4267	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, staying current with technology and community needs is expensive.
4268	7/11/2012	closures[] shortened hours that prevent access by citizens whose work hours clash with library hours
4269	7/11/2012	budget issues
4270	7/11/2012	Affluent people not understanding how much service to the community libraries provide.
4271	7/11/2012	e-books
4272	7/11/2012	Ending up like the newspaper industry.
4273	7/11/2012	Loss of funding.
4274	7/11/2012	short sighted viewpoints on financing and procurement I don't think that people understand all the library has to offer and how much that costs. I think this might lead to people no voting for more money and could lead to people not wanting to approve more money because they think the current money is being wasted.
4275	7/11/2012
4276	7/11/2012	Funding. Right wing groups hoping to close public libraries.
4277	7/11/2012	I'm not sure. All I hear about is the lack of a permanent funding source going forward.
4278	7/11/2012	lack of funding, i imagine. what can i do to help ??
4279	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, lack of marketing / underuse
4280	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, ignorant, short-sighted voters.
4281	7/11/2012	Deletion of programs and services for our more needy and our English-language-challenged populations.
4282	7/11/2012	FUNDING The economic downturns make people cautious about funding for "the arts." Perhaps the public needs to more fully realize
4283	7/11/2012	the many ways the library helps the economic vitality of the community through programs and computer access for everyone.
4284	7/11/2012	I think to cut the hours is a great idea, but not the service. I'd rather be able to go to the library less and have more material content instead. I like the downtown branch a lot, that being said It has become a homeless shelter.
4285	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, I think. Everyone loves the library. I use it all the time

4286	7/11/2012	In my opinion, technology. You used to be able to ask a librarian everything, and now they've been for the most part replaced with the automatic check-out. While this system is a bit easier and no doubt saves local libraries money (in the long run), I miss talking to librarians and know I am not alone in this.
4287	7/11/2012	Lack of materials, or difficulty finding what I'm looking for.[] [] The last couple times I've been in it's been very hard to find what I'm looking for. The computer search system is not intuitive at all. Checking the shelves directly doesn't usually have better results. Either it's not there or I just can't find it.
4288	7/11/2012	Poor management to funds available - trying to do too much.
4289	7/11/2012	loss of funding.
4290	7/11/2012	That the resources available do not allow the library to purchase current publications.
4291	7/11/2012	Apathy, limited resources to stay current with trends, and ready access to all media via other sources by the consumer.
4292	7/11/2012	budget cuts
4293	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and resources Closure of any branches due to lack of funding.[] []
4294	7/11/2012	Losing staff due to more "mechanization." Libraries already reflect society at large with more people staring into their own screens, checking things out electronically, becoming more isolated individuals. I'm sure most people see this as "efficient" and "cost saving" which it is in monetary terms, however, there is a social cost to the community. I'd like to see libraries as a small haven where people can still meet people. I imagine this will actually be seen as forward-thinking in the near future.
4295	7/11/2012	Obviously funding is a huge issue. I feel that libraries contribute strongly to community quality of life as well as helping disadvantaged groups (elderly, unemployed, etc.). I wanted to put number one on all the priorities in question 5!
4296	7/11/2012	Not maintaining the investments previously made for new and renovated libraries.
4297	7/11/2012	People selling and panhandling in front of the library making it unpleasant to approach the library and those inside who seem to live inside.
4298	7/11/2012	Budget cuts! Voters not understanding the connection between paying taxes and services for the public good, like libraries.
4299	7/11/2012	Books are becoming a thing of the past. It is really easy for people to download material and then there is not a reason to visit the library unless there is a speaker/event that goes beyond the book.
4300	7/11/2012	funding cuts
4301	7/11/2012	closing
4302	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding

4303	7/11/2012	Funding I think, also the fact that more and more people are turning to ebooks
4304	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding
4305	7/11/2012	lack of interest
4306	7/11/2012	Don't know but would guess money.
4307	7/11/2012	money and that more and more people are not reading
4308	7/11/2012	I am not quite sure, but although there is a huge population that uses the library system as my family does, there is also a huge population that never uses it. I doubt that portion of the population doesn't support the funding the way that I do. I guess that we need to get everyone on board...but how?
		Abuse of public funds required (or so we are told) to operate and KEEP open what is the PUBLIC's library. ¶
		¶
4309	7/11/2012	Poor management and zero accountability of the public's mandated tax dollars collected in order to operate the PEOPLE's library system. Shell game of levy's needed, taxes collected here and there and everywhere - which in the end appear to never satisfy corrupted PUBLIC UNION's need to keep on keeping on -when public union contracts need to be tamped down and personnel costs brought into line with what the people can afford. Over-spending and corruptly overbudgeting the operating "costs" of the public's library system. Expecting a dumbed down LIED TO public to keep on keeping on - handing over more and more and more of their money. ¶
		¶
		The COUNTY is not fully and ethically accounting for personnel costs, union negotiated personnel overages, and excessive technology overreaches. The COUNTY needs to be taken over in regard to ineptly operating, managing and publicly accounting for all things pertaining to the PEOPLE's library system.
4310	7/11/2012	not enough $
4311	7/11/2012	Poor funding
4312	7/11/2012	Funding is the biggest threat. At the same time, some of the employees at the library could be more pleasant. They are the public face of the system and many do not have good customer service skills. These are the things people remember when voting.
4313	7/11/2012	no idea
4314	7/11/2012	IGNORANCE AND APATHY
4315	7/11/2012	Idiots. Libraries and access to information are not just a privilege, but a right. They are under appreciated places of growth and learning, places where people grow and develop. They are places to escape, relax, enjoy, and most of all learn. ¶
		¶
		The internet is great, but nothing replaces libraries.
4316	7/11/2012	Limited hours
4317	7/11/2012	closing ever

4318	7/11/2012	If libraries are not well used, and do not offer resources valuable to the community, then funding will probably be cut.
4319	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding
4320	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4321	7/11/2012	I love libraries and run a corporate library, but we have moved completely to a virtual model and everything is electronic. We no longer have a physical space. That won't work with public libraries because there are so many people who don't have access to computers and the Internet and need the physical space to improve their lives. The biggest threat may be from those who do consider libraries unnecessary because of the access to information through the Internet.
4322	7/11/2012	It certainly is NOT under-usage- ☐ Funding and censorship are my concerns
4323	7/11/2012	Non-readers.
4324	7/11/2012	Not getting new materials.
4325	7/11/2012	Lack of financial support and the reduction of open hours. It seems that libraries are closing earlier, as well, which makes it hard to get to them after work.
4326	7/11/2012	people not using it and not knowing what a great ressources it has to offer.
4327	7/11/2012	Republicans
4328	7/11/2012	Reducing hours & Closing
4329	7/11/2012	Funding cuts. Not being able to keep funding At pace with growing costs of operation.
4330	7/11/2012	No funding, no resources, library closures, and the impact it gives to people when library is not available.
4331	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4332	7/11/2012	funding, I presume
4333	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4334	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is that they are undervalued.
4335	7/11/2012	Lack of public support due to a misrepresentation of public services as a form of socialism.
4336	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4337	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
4338	7/11/2012	Funding
4339	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4340	7/11/2012	Non-awareness and ignorance of how THE LIBRARY can be so useful for everyday life. This in turn leads to lower education levels in the community.
4341	7/11/2012	I think the library running on a 6 day week is ok as long as that closed day will not be counted for late fees for returning books
4342	7/11/2012	closure
4343	7/11/2012	Competing tax needs; other ready access to media and books

4344	7/11/2012	Lack of funding from property taxes. I'm not sure if general county funding is more at risk, or if the library-specific tax is.
4345	7/11/2012	lack of funding, apparently.
4346	7/11/2012	Being short-staffed. I've been in libraries like that and it wasn't pretty. If you didn't know exactly where what you were looking for was, you had a small chance of getting help to find it. This defeats the purpose of a library as a collection of knowledge and information, especially for public use. There's a reason the conquerors of ancient times destroyed libraries as a first priority; knowledge is still power.
4347	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4348	7/11/2012	Reduced hours. As soon as you establish that the library isn't a fun safe place with regular daily hours you eliminate all the hard work that's been done to promote the use of publicly available materials and services. Regular patrons will probably figure it out, but for example, I made a special trip on a Monday to pick up a book, forgetting that the libraries are now closed. I ultimately ended up buying the book since I didn't have the time to come back another day.
4349	7/11/2012	free browsing of internet porn on the library computers,[] digital media outside of the library
4350	7/11/2012	People tend to take libraries for granted, as if they're always going to be there, so they don't pay enough attention to funding and staffing requirements until there's a shortage and hours are cut back. The public needs to understand how critical libraries are as community resources and adequately fund them.
4351	7/11/2012	misplaced budget cuts!!
4352	7/11/2012	Underfunding.
4353	7/11/2012	Please keep it open at least 6 days a week.
4354	7/11/2012	I worry most about losing the programs and morning hours. I would also hate to see the influx of new materials disappear.
4355	7/11/2012	e-readers, probably, and a low economy
4356	7/11/2012	People just think the library will never go away ; so they donot get involved and speak up. Apathy is the enemy.
4357	7/11/2012	The promulgation of the idea that libraries are obsolete, and the timing of that idea with reduced availability of municipal / county funds. Also LIBOR (i.e. the reduction in financial support because of banks siphoning off funds to municipalities through falsified interest rates).
4358	7/11/2012	making them too fancy and losing support for their funding
4359	7/11/2012	Funding (or lack thereof).
4360	7/11/2012	budget cuts
4361	7/11/2012	Not adopting to digital age
4362	7/11/2012	I would say that really almost the entire use of a library for research purposes has been shot down by the internet. Persona readers and digital books also pose a threat, in my opinion.

4363	7/11/2012	The Homeless that mess up the restrooms and not having the hrs to read a book or ?
4364	7/11/2012	The misconception that the Internet renders libraries irrelevant; they serve different functions. Also, in this economic climate of cutbacks, it is vital to have a resource for self-education and for borrowing -not purchasing- books.
4365	7/11/2012	Funding
4366	7/11/2012	Lack of Adequate and stable funding
4367	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4368	7/11/2012	Funding! In my dream world there would be way more branches- or at least some small depots where you could return items and pick up holds. And in my dream world there would be tons of copies of new items and popular items (there is such a long wait for popular DVDs, like Downton Abbey. Then again, getting to rent movies for free is not really one of the main purposes of the library, so I shouldn't complain!) Also I wish the library still had the space and resources to provide books on cassette (and LPs for that matter)!
4369	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding.
4370	7/11/2012	funding via property tax. We are already paying over $50 / month for library services, and this is too much.
4371	7/11/2012	losing funding
4372	7/11/2012	FUNDING. The population is unaware of the danger to "OUR" libraries.
4373	7/11/2012	Decline in economy reducing property values and tax revenue for public services. Public ignorance of public issues. Screen face addiction to digital devices.
4374	7/11/2012	They're trying to expand the library into something beyond what librarians should be doing. (see my other response for details). This will cause them to need a bunch of additional funding. If they don't get it, I expect them to run the library only part-time. Maybe you should be giving them some direction, or better yet change the management. They are operating like "empire builders" in very hard times. Typical government bureaucrats.
4375	7/11/2012	not enough revenue for books and programs
4376	7/11/2012	Bond measures as a source of funding. Libraries should be permanently funded.
4377	7/11/2012	Lack of sustainable funding.
4378	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. This is an important resource now more than ever with cuts in school funding and so many people looking for help in getting a job.
4379	7/11/2012	electronic research & entertainment venues
4380	7/11/2012	No money...I also think those fancy new checkout systems are excessive, so maybe waste of resources? I also think that since the library is publicly operated, there are a lot of underqualified people working there based on seniority rather than merit.
4381	7/11/2012	Public perceptions of what constitutes original source/reference material and the transformation of librarians into daycare providers and computer/software user support technicians.
4382	7/11/2012	Economy, reticence of taxpayers to fund services

4383	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
4384	7/11/2012	Not having enough or any of some current materials.
4385	7/11/2012	DK
4386	7/11/2012	Personally, having as much access to the library is most important now but overall, the other issues noted are more important. 6 days being open is fine if the other programs remain.
4387	7/11/2012	All of the above services are necessary and it is difficult to rank them in importance.....
4388	7/11/2012	Not being funded well enough to keep up with technology and current trends, therefore becoming irrelevant to younger generations.
4389	7/11/2012	KINDLES
4390	7/11/2012	funding
4391	7/11/2012	More reduced hours of operations or closures
4392	7/11/2012	Funding cuts and limited resources.
4393	7/11/2012	A sense of apathy from the population, and an unwillingness to acknowledge and pay for the use of it. I would be willing to pay a reasonable annual fee for use of the library, which could be waived for people of low income.
4394	7/11/2012	Clearly the lack of funds and the lack of understanding at higher levels of just how important a resource it is for our community. So many people make excellent use of the library and it supports a higher quality of life for everyone.
4395	7/11/2012	Funding.
4396	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
4397	7/11/2012	Lack of funds. Short attention spans?
4398	7/11/2012	Not enough funding.
4399	7/11/2012	Lack of Funding
4400	7/11/2012	Too few staff members to help with questions, research suggestions, etc.
4401	7/11/2012	Lack of political support / governments cutting funding, loss of library "culture" due to school funding being cut and students' reduced access (habit forming) to school libraries that will translate to public library use later in life.
4402	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4403	7/11/2012	Limited selection of ebooks and overall reduced funding.
4404	7/11/2012	Over-reaching at a time when public schools are truly under-funded
4405	7/11/2012	The closures
4406	7/11/2012	Privatization
4407	7/11/2012	Just like OUR SCHOOLS, it's the instability of the funding structure.

4408	7/11/2012	I worked in a library in California and feel that the biggest threat to libraries is that they are not always seen as a complete community resource, which they are. There is a modern misconception that books and therefore libraries are out of date. In reality, with today's overwhelming information access, we need libraries more than ever; libraries and librarians have changed with the times, but that is not always appreciated. And of course lack of money continues to be a threat.
4409	7/11/2012	Funding...stupid!
4410	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and decreased hours and lack of funding for new materials.
4411	7/11/2012	lack of public interest, our youth is no longer "book " oriented
4412	7/11/2012	Closing them.....
4413	7/11/2012	i guess its funding...???
4414	7/11/2012	relevance
4415	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
4416	7/11/2012	A poorly informed, tv watching electorate. The decline of reading.
4417	7/11/2012	Funding cuts, proliferation of e-books
4418	7/11/2012	Technology.
4419	7/11/2012	decreasing sources of $$$
4420	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, it appears.
4421	7/11/2012	Funding
4422	7/11/2012	Not enough money--both for the libraries and the school system (which could either put more pressure on libraries for providing books/materials that aren't available in schools, or decreased demand as school services and education become restricted).
4423	7/11/2012	Cutting hours of operation.
4424	7/11/2012	Probably funding, although I'm not certain.
4425	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to keep the doors open and the services available to serve the public. I don't necessarily think 7 days a week is required, but a floating schedule between closely positioned branches to cover when the other is closed might be an option for those that want full coverage.
4426	7/11/2012	people who don't understand what they provide, don't want to fund them
4427	7/11/2012	Lack of resources
4428	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
4429	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4430	7/11/2012	Closing down
4431	7/11/2012	Not enough funding
4432	7/11/2012	Municipal funding
4433	7/11/2012	Under funding
4434	7/11/2012	I don't Know.
4435	7/11/2012	budget shortfalls
4436	7/11/2012	Lack of fundings...

4437	7/11/2012	Online books, Nooks, Kindles, etc.
4438	7/11/2012	None community support.
4439	7/11/2012	budget cuts? internet?
4440	7/11/2012	Lack of funds!
4441	7/11/2012	politicians
4442	7/11/2012	Funding?
4443	7/11/2012	People who do not realize the value of education and learning. Since libraries try to fight ignorance, those who feel threatened by education cannot appreciate them.
4444	7/11/2012	Funding
4445	7/11/2012	inadequate funding
4446	7/11/2012	Public Employee Pensions
4447	7/11/2012	funding cuts
4448	7/11/2012	Funding!
4449	7/11/2012	Reduced funding
4450	7/11/2012	I think they do a great job. I'm very pleased with their service and would be happy to continue with additional funding if they need it.
4451	7/11/2012	Fear of access to information
4452	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4453	7/11/2012	Reduction in hours and staffing.
4454	7/11/2012	Dependence on property taxes
4455	7/11/2012	The poor economy and the inability to provide full funding for these needed services. In these economic times, having access to free computers, job seeking resources, books, magazines, research tools, and all the others services the library provides is even more essential than in boom times. These are vital resources to make available to the community.
4456	7/11/2012	Apparently lack of a committed funding source. I'm not sure why, though, since the physical library would theoretically get smaller as e-books become more popular
4457	7/11/2012	Valuing entertainment above the quest for knowledge.
4458	7/11/2012	Not being valued for what they provide to the community
4459	7/11/2012	Don't know
4460	7/11/2012	ATTENTION-Question #5 did not automatically reorder my selections!!!!
4461	7/11/2012	Funding
4462	7/11/2012	IMF & World Bank
4463	7/11/2012	I believe it is the kindels where people can download books and other new kind of electronic gadgets.
4464	7/11/2012	The republican party! The "tea party & top 2%" Want us to be totally ignorant. So they can keep thier wealth & we can starve in the street with ignorance!!!
4465	7/11/2012	budge cuts

4466	7/11/2012	No money available.
4467	7/11/2012	I think that people don't know that you have more than just books. I've told a few people who needed to use a computer, but didn't have one or it was not working, to go to the library.
4468	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is probably funding. I would also add that in order to stay relevant libraries need to expand more into e-book lending. E-books that are offered need to be current, and easily downloadable onto the majority of e-readers.
4469	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4470	7/11/2012	Money and people not using them
4471	7/11/2012	Probably funding
4472	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4473	7/11/2012	Reduced hours.
4474	7/11/2012	I'm sure the biggest threat is funding which in turn effects hours and staffing.
4475	7/11/2012	Loss of funding
4476	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4477	7/11/2012	Sounds like it is funding but it is also apathy, our social system valuing education and public services.
4478	7/11/2012	Don't know that there is one.
4479	7/11/2012	The Internet, which is really a world-wide library. Local libraries should now strive to take on the role of community educator and gathering-place for community-minded activities, without, of course, abandoning books!
4480	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4481	7/11/2012	Ignorance and lack of awareness of their place in the social fabric of a community and a democracy. By extension, lack of funding.
4482	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
4483	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. I don't use the libraries for much outside of online reservations and check out, but understand people need it for much more. I hope there isn't cuts, as we don't need more people/employees with less work.
4484	7/11/2012	Funding and possible crowd contral
4485	7/11/2012	Funding cuts due to a lack of priority from the federal government down to our local leaders.
4486	7/11/2012	ignorance about programs, funding and costs
4487	7/11/2012	I guess not understanding their importance in our day to day life. I can open up a whole new world to myself or my children just by opening a book. The library is FREE for all the public and I want to keep it that way. If I had to BUY every book I wanted to read I'd be broke. I have no problem paying a slightly higher tax if it means keeping my library open as much as possible and still having community resources and new materials. ¶ I fear that many adults don't see the beauty of a public library and are not teaching that to others. It's sad times when our community won't stand up for our libraries and education system.

4488	7/11/2012	noise
4489	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to maintain facilities and staffing. Also, maintaining relevance of libraries as a cornerstone of a community, especially in an electronic world.
4490	7/11/2012	lack of foresight
4491	7/11/2012	funding and technology
4492	7/11/2012	Not having the libraries open when we need them.
4493	7/11/2012	budgets, no one reading anymore
4494	7/11/2012	unstable funding
4495	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4496	7/11/2012	Not promoted enough...some advertising company here could offer some free time and energy to promoting library use...if they can mandate PSA's, they can add libraries!
4497	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4498	7/11/2012	lack of funding to open 7 days a week.
4499	7/11/2012	petition gatherers who stand outside the doors, and the vagrants who stand outside the Central Library...the reason I don't use that particular library..and why I don't like the Hollywood library.
4500	7/11/2012	overhead
4501	7/11/2012	People not coming in because of the media
4502	7/11/2012	Electronic books. As more people use electronic books, fewer people will access the books in the library. When libraries cut the number of books available, people of lower socioeconomic classes will suffer the most.
4503	7/11/2012	The biggest threat may be too few versions of popular books, it can drive people to buy books as opposed to waiting for long periods of time. Not tracking the current addresses of users. As an example, when I was working downtown there was one co-worker that talked a lot about their use of the library--what they checked out and how they enjoyed being able to select where they could pick-up their materials. I later learned that this person did not live in Oregon but in Washington. I think that if local property tax is being used to support the library that those resources should be for the local community. IF we extend lending to outside the local area then maybe there should be a small fee (this could be a yearly or per item basis) to those outside the area to be able to check out items that they would like to borrow. A simple verification of driver's license or Oregon ID, every couple of years might be enough. Just a thought.
4504	7/11/2012
4505	7/11/2012	lack of funding
4506	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding
4507	7/11/2012	Technology and the belief that the Internet and digital information can replace the local library thereby the local community is replaced.
4508	7/11/2012	idiots who don't value this service
4509	7/11/2012	unstable funding

4510	7/11/2012	Closure
4511	7/11/2012	could be this very skewed survey!
4512	7/11/2012	Reserving books on line is not logical. Quite frustrating.
4513	7/11/2012	Funding, and we need to increase access to ebooks.
4514	7/11/2012	funding
4515	7/11/2012	computers
4516	7/11/2012	It's important to make sure there is enough funding to keep the valuable staff in each library. though I appreciate the upgrades made in the last couple of years and the self-checkout option they do NOT take the place of real people there to provide the valuable service librarians provide. I hope that libraries never become a do it yourself service -- we need the people connections they provide as much as the physical resources.
4517	7/11/2012	constant budget woes.
4518	7/11/2012	Underfunding
4519	7/11/2012	republicans
4520	7/11/2012	Lack of ongoing stable funding source.
4521	7/11/2012	Funding, apparently. I would have voted for a stronger, long term funding package on the recent election. Based on the results, so too would have many of the voters in Multnomah County.
4522	7/11/2012	The lack of funding.
4523	7/11/2012	Lack of definite and firm funding.
4524	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4525	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4526	7/11/2012	kindles
4527	7/11/2012	Funding must be the biggest threat... having sufficient funding to stay open seven days/week and into the evening hours... and employ excellent staff...
4528	7/11/2012	Ghetto, misbehaved barbarian children that are rude and obnoxious[] At rock wood libraru
4529	7/11/2012	Ebooks
4530	7/11/2012	If people in the community no longer have access to the library and its services
4531	7/11/2012	loss of weekend hours
4532	7/11/2012	Under funding.
4533	7/11/2012	insufficient funding
4534	7/11/2012	One of the biggest threats to our libraries is closing them off from the public.
4535	7/11/2012	funding
4536	7/11/2012	I am guessing that funding is the biggest threat, or rather lack of funding.
4537	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
4538	7/11/2012	Possible closure due to the ineptitude of politicians to balance the budget and provide resources for needed and important social programs and other community services such as the library.

4539	7/11/2012	We need a sales tax in Oregon! We cannot continue to raise additional funds by increasing property taxes. We could have a fair sales tax, for example, that excludes food, diapers, clothing, etc. As a senior on a fixed income I now understand why seniors have been against raising property taxes. ☐ As someone who continues to work part-time in the social service field, I refer clients without computer access to the library every day! These clients need help to find employment and housing and the library is a necessity, I also remember the joy I experienced when my grandmother helped me to obtain my first library card about 65 years ago!☐ ☐ We need the libraries but we also need to find a permanent financial solution. How about a sales tax that specifies the income will be spent only for education and libraries?
4540	7/11/2012	Lack of ability to offer a community consistency. Making sure library hours are common knowledge and predictable, for example, I think it was handled well to make a district wide "Closed Monday" policy rather than some branches open some days and other branches open others. We know, as library patrons, to schedule our library days to be one of the other six days of the week. ☐ ☐ Being a dependable library system is important for us as voters, teachers, and parents.
4541	7/11/2012	Libraries are very important to neighborhood communities.It's a place where everyone in the community can get access for help and growth in their lives. Books are very important and having computer☐ access for those who don't have computers. Libraries are needed and should be brought to full services as soon as possible.
4542	7/11/2012	Internet
4543	7/11/2012	Funding predictability over the long term, and the threat of censorship by special interest groups.
4544	7/11/2012	Sustainable funding.
4545	7/11/2012	Public libraries are so important and Portland has a fantastic network. We have to fund them and keep all the branches open. I do believe in these economic hard times we can get along with the library being closed one day a week. Our public school can't take any more cuts.
4546	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4547	7/11/2012	Funding
4548	7/11/2012	Lack of interest in continuing to educate ones self.
4549	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Lack of support of community, misunderstanding by the public of the role of libraries in our communities (thinking libraries are only about books),
4550	7/11/2012	budget

4551	7/11/2012	The Central Library attracts a large number of undesirables. No doubt that the homeless are entitled to use the library. But to to have to run a gauntlet of street kids,acting out with their pit bulls and obstructing the sidewalk does not create a safe or welcoming environment. Last week I was treated to the sight of a man projectile vomiting in front of the library. I also have felt intimidated by shady characters lurking in the restrooms. I think we are allowing one of our most valued resources be hijacked by a minority of undesirables who have no legitimate reason to be in or near the library.
4552	7/11/2012	funding uncertainty
4553	7/11/2012	Unavailability - when the library is not open, people cannot access it!
4554	7/11/2012	Previous question did not work right!! #6 - too much support for the small minorities! - Back to basics: books.
4555	7/11/2012	lack of funding, I think a modest card/use fee (need based exemptions offered, and for kids) is appropriate to supplement the budget.
4556	7/11/2012	don't know.
4557	7/11/2012	So much information is available online that people don't bother to read non-fiction books as much as before. This, along with Redbox, Netflix, and the fact that many adults don't find time to read at all, makes people unwilling to fund the library - if they don't use, it they don't want to pay for it.
4558	7/11/2012	The usual battle over money.
4559	7/11/2012	Noise inside the libraries
4560	7/11/2012	Republicans.
4561	7/11/2012	reduced funding
4562	7/11/2012	Apathy by the citizens. Everyone needs to understand how important it is to have a vibrant and dynamic library.
4563	7/11/2012	I believe the biggest threat to our libraries is funding.
4564	7/11/2012	internet
4565	7/11/2012	the previous question .. all those programs are crucial to learning and information. aside from that it is the priority of funding by politicians i.e. ... bike roads and light rail (and other pet projects) seem more important than education and knowledge!
		The Tea Party!
		!
4566	7/11/2012	Just kidding. (Well, kind of.) But misconceptions about Taxes vs Community Services. They shouldn't be pitted against each other. I think you're running another, fall ballot measure on this -- figure out a way to keep the conversation on LIBRARIES (the community they serve, they needs they fulfill, their roles as culture, their existence nearly defining the essence of civilization...) and not TAXES.
4567	7/11/2012	Pushing for more programs, new construction, etc. which cannibalize the core function of the library
4568	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and a growing disinterest in paying for library services

4569	7/11/2012	I think it was stupid to have me vote on both the library being open 7 days a week and 6. I placed seven days as priority #1 so it's only natural I'd place six days at #2, right? -that would be the next best if I couldn't have my first choice. But I didn't. I placed open six days as #6 because it's really not important as long as I get my first wish (open 7 days). □ The biggest threat to our libraries is junkies overdosing in the bathrooms and people being under the influence of drugs/alcohol. I've seen fighting, bathing in the bathrooms is pretty gross and there have been issues with sex offenders lurking around.
4570	7/11/2012	loss of funding
4571	7/11/2012	Clearly, under-funding. I was away from Portland when all this happened. I don't know why the funding measure failed. Whatever reason it was, it isn't good enough. Our library system is one of the city's gems.
4572	7/11/2012	Losses to funding public education and libraries threaten our democracy and civil society. Libraries and schools must continue working together to build lifestyles for responsible citizenship by all. Create citizens who care enough to keep on reading, learning and participating in Democracy. Get the word out. Make the connection between learning and recreating in ways that promote health, growth, strong communities and sustainable futures for the planet and all inhabitants. Is this too political? How else will the county get funding for essential services if the leadership does not make politics a priority? Thanks for helping us to "teach our children well".
4573	7/11/2012	lack of funding?
4574	7/11/2012	The economy.
4575	7/11/2012	Non users realizing that the library is more than just about tangible books. Letting the public know about all of the resources available and how much they are needed by a large portion of our population.
4576	7/11/2012	Technology and laziness. There seems to be a why read a book when I can download a movie on my phone or go to YouTube and be entertained approach. Even commercials supporting this. With these, seemingly more readily available alternatives, the support for Libraries financially becomes less of a priority. □ Apple wants to convert textbooks to electronic books to enable instant Internet content.
4577	7/11/2012	Ebooks and the availability of digital media
4578	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4579	7/11/2012	People not realizing how important they are in all the ways listed above and more. Hence the lack of funding, and local political lack of importance.
4580	7/11/2012	Not enough funding for them
4581	7/11/2012	continued funding cuts
4582	7/11/2012	lack of funding

4583	7/11/2012	Loss of hours and locations
4584	7/11/2012	Funding.
4585	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4586	7/11/2012	People live in an online not book-inhabited world
4587	7/11/2012	like any other public service... funding
4588	7/11/2012	Budgetary concerns. too many competing demands on taxpayers. Property owners can only pony up so much money and also other city services keep going up;
4589	7/11/2012	funding
4590	7/11/2012	Overpaid administrators
4591	7/11/2012	digital technology
4592	7/11/2012	No funding.
4593	7/11/2012	lack of money
4594	7/11/2012	The misunderstanding that they aren't valuable or important. The lack of awareness from the public what services the library offers.
4595	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4596	7/11/2012	It appears funding is!
4597	7/11/2012	Lack of will to fund public interests like the library - this stemming from the privatization zeitgeist that is infecting our public psyche.
4598	7/11/2012	All libraries open on weekends, even if a weekday is closed in staggered branches. That way at least some libraries are open on any day. Important to offer computer access for those people needing access that otherwise is unattainable. Not everyone has a computer at home, especially lower income population who are trying to find a job. Some companies only accept job applications online.
4599	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is the misconception that a library is no more than a giant bookshelf which can be replaced by a computer. Our libraries provide so much more -- opportunities for education, career development, community involvement, etc.
4600	7/11/2012	insufficient funding
4601	7/11/2012	Ebooks and
4602	7/11/2012	Need for stable funding (endowment or ?) that does not require going to the voters every year or two. That makes it very difficult to do long range, effective planning.
4603	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4604	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. People are confused about the recent levy. They thought it meant there would be no changes to the Library schedule. This was not well explained to the public. You needed to go full bore for what you needed. Big mistake not to do so.
4605	7/11/2012	City budget cuts.
4606	7/11/2012	Apparently budget cuts.
4607	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.

4608	7/11/2012	funding
4609	7/11/2012	I think we have a wonderful library system and the people of Multnomah County are enthusiastic and supportive of it. I hope the library gets the funds it needs to do what it feels the community needs, but even with some cut backs, we will still have one of the best systems in the country. I don't think the library will be forced to tighten it's belt too much further because people will step up to support it. But even if the funding doesn't come through, I don't think of minor temporary cut backs as a serious threat to the long term success of our library system.
4610	7/11/2012	open less hours, not staffed enough and programs cut
4611	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding to support community demand
4612	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. It's a shame because learning is so important.
4613	7/11/2012	Not having reliable funding
4614	7/11/2012	Vandalism and Natural Disaster
4615	7/11/2012	limited access
4616	7/11/2012	Continued increase in property taxes on homeowners. I hope at some point fellow homeowners will reject more taxes.
4617	7/11/2012	No access to proper funding.
4618	7/11/2012	Lack of public funding.
4619	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries are the budget cuts that come from state and local government. Amongst other threats are the lack of current books and electronic book download options for those who have kindles or nooks.
4620	7/11/2012	I don't know.
4621	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4622	7/11/2012	Lack of financial resources.
4623	7/11/2012	I'm not sure--having enough funding to keep the collection current (I find fewer and fewer new and relevant titles) Serving diverse population--reach multi-lingual and low-resource families like the ones I teach and serve high-resource, high-demand population who might want electronic compatible resources.
4624	7/11/2012	Funding
4625	7/11/2012	Not having them available. I use my library a lot usually with electronic versions of books, but in the past have used it to update my job skills as well as look for a job. It's the one place people can go to and find help without paying at the door.
4626	7/11/2012	Lack of funding because it surely isn't lack of use. I'd like to see no services cut. More fundraisers?
4627	7/11/2012	I'd have to say the biggest threat would be ignorance of taxpayers, who vote down anything that will cost them anything more immediately. I think if Multnomah County libraries made a greater effort to inform community members of the issues and everyone's position and power relative to them, that would be a simple yet effective solution.

4628	7/11/2012	funding
4629	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4630	7/11/2012	?
4631	7/11/2012	Someone in upper management not doing their job.
4632	7/11/2012	Republicans
4633	7/11/2012	Apparently, lack of funding is the biggest threat to our libraries. It's so uplifting to see our neighborhood branch (Greggory Heights) always bustling with a very diverse crowd; it would be a shame for the library to be unable to provide the materials, space, programs and support for such a wide swath of our community's population. It would also be a shame to see any of the helpful folks behind the desks no longer there, due to budget-cuts.
4634	7/11/2012	Funding
4635	7/11/2012	Funding, (t he above question was hard to rank the way I wanted- it moved the questions but not in the way I wanted.
4636	7/11/2012	Losing focus on providing a source of education & information. The priorities seem to be unfocused & all over the map. Just be a library (access to books & info) & not a community entertainment or activity center. In tough economic times, priorities need to focus on core, traditional library services...the nice-to-haves are the first things cut. The people that want all these expanded things & services are not typically the ones paying much, if anything tax-wise to pay for them.
4637	7/11/2012	don't know
4638	7/11/2012	lack of funding, of course. but this is only a representation of our changing values. don't get me started on where this country spends all its money!
4639	7/11/2012	I guess not being able to be open daily. I attended the library Tuesday July third, the first day after it being closed on that Monday, and I was astonished how busy it was that day. I had to circle around twice for a parking spot and still ended up struggling to find parking on the street! I guess because the library was closed the day before, everyone was there the next day?! Thus, it seems like people really depend on the library being open!
4640	7/11/2012	being closed down or denied funds for new books
4641	7/11/2012	apathy, lack of funding
4642	7/11/2012	Homeless people constantly bothering people on the doorstep. Thats why I stopped visiting as often.
4643	7/11/2012	To not have the doors open and to have people wanting to use what is inside of the locked doors.
4644	7/11/2012	The Internet.
4645	7/11/2012	Funding
4646	7/11/2012	don't really know
4647	7/11/2012	Financing
4648	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding[]

4649	7/11/2012	Cost of doing business.
4650	7/11/2012	complacency
4651	7/11/2012	I think the libraries have done an excellent job of staying current and relevant. I have to say the biggest threat is the current economy: loss of jobs, loss of tax revenue. Really, the economy in general, and then our ridiculous boom or bust system in Oregon. The biggest threat to all public services is the economy; fewer people with resources, and a lot more people with need. Let's just say the libraries have done a MUCH better job of coping with that than Trimet!!! California is a third world nation, due to Prop. 13, property tax reform. I lived in California when Prop. 13 passed and watched the public libraries fall into the toilet. So, I would say: Be bold. Let people know how much the libraries mean to our community, and don't ever start the spiral of: reducing services, so fewer people come or use, leading to less money, so more cuts, and pretty soon you're like Trimet, who should be deeply ashamed of themselves. FIGHT for our Multnomah County library remaining EXCELLENT!!!!
4652	7/11/2012	clearly the budget.
4653	7/11/2012	funding
4654	7/11/2012	Not enough funding. They will be closed.
4655	7/11/2012	Multnomah County Commission.
4656	7/11/2012	Funding I suppose.
4657	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding
4658	7/11/2012	Funding, under-use.
4659	7/11/2012	Appears to be lack of funding
4660	7/11/2012	Funding priorities.[] Lack of education around the joys and value of reading books!
4661	7/11/2012	Shortened daily hours make it hard for me to make it to an open library. I also find that the expense of computers (vagrants on there, kids on there, noises, crowds) make Holgate and other libraries an increasingly less pleasant place to be.
4662	7/11/2012	Making them dispensable
4663	7/11/2012	"threat" lack of money
4664	7/11/2012	the internet and media
4665	7/11/2012	Losing fuding
4666	7/11/2012	Not having what we need. Not keeping up with technology. Funding.
4667	7/11/2012	Not enough funding to keep current resources and acquire new as well as staying open six or seven days per week.
4668	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4669	7/11/2012	Improper allocation of funds. There does not seem to be a consistent way to providing this on a regular basis without going through too many hoops
4670	7/11/2012	Lack of use, lack of funding.

4671	7/11/2012	Lack of proper funding and priority as a societal asset.
4672	7/11/2012	Funding
4673	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4674	7/11/2012	Lack of. Financial resources
4675	7/11/2012	Funding structure at the state level. Library and school and social services are all threatened becUse of poor funding structures.
4676	7/11/2012	national politics
4677	7/11/2012	Pers
4678	7/11/2012	there are other resources for jobseekers provided by the state
4679	7/11/2012	Runaway costs.
4680	7/11/2012	Over paid library administrators that add little added value
4681	7/11/2012	Funding.
4682	7/11/2012	People thinking they don't need the library because they can do their research on Wikipedia.
4683	7/11/2012	computers & technology
4684	7/11/2012	Funding! When people stop reading, they lose brain power.
4685	7/11/2012	budget cuts
4686	7/11/2012	Adequate funding.
4687	7/11/2012	Budget cuts and homeless people peeing in them.
4688	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4689	7/11/2012	A perception that it is needed less because of access to the internet.
4690	7/11/2012	That the quality of service provided would decrease.
4691	7/11/2012	Not enough funding to accomplish its goals.
4692	7/11/2012	funding I imagine Under funding like our schools and road and bridge maintenance.[]
4693	7/11/2012	We just don't seem to care about things the way we used to.[] Where is the money going?
4694	7/11/2012	Not having availability is critical in some lives. They may only have the one resource and some people have to shuttle around just to get to their local library. Limiting their access could cause potential hardships among an already difficult time
4695	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and the lack of interest of young people in reading.
4696	7/11/2012	Being ubder staffed
4697	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4698	7/11/2012	closure not enough money for funding. stopping paying overpriced politicians so much money and use it for programs. any politician should be a volunteer.
4699	7/11/2012	everybody wants something for nothing -- referendums kill tax levy's again & again

4700	7/11/2012	The fact that it has to abide by Multnomah County's banking strategy. [] I was appalled that Bank of America services the Multco Library system.[] Also, what are you talking about? Threats to the library? Who's writing this?[] Are we to expect terrorist attacks at the library? What threats are you imagining?
4701	7/11/2012	That they will continue to have day/hours reduced, as have already. Even tho I just voted to continue with a new levy!
4702	7/11/2012	Funding. We vote for all of the ballots but we can no longer continue to increase our Portland Property taxes. We would like to continue, but we just cannot. We cannot be the base for schools, libraries, emergency services...on and on. There are only so many dollars in our household budgets. We can no longer vote for our school fundings and bond projects. Jus not enough money!
4703	7/11/2012	Depressed economy means fewer tax dollars available, especially property tax dollars. Libraries are our adjunct to public schools. They also draw non-English-speaking people, which is a good way for them to get some familiarity with spoken English. Students get more used to self-starting research for assignments, which they have to do in college anyway. The biggest threat I see is funding, balanced against the services we receive from our libraries. When open days and times are reduced during the non-school months, that's a reasonable way to address this, but closing branches, eliminating outreach programs etc., is not only painful to the community but is the equivalent to "shooting oneself in the foot" as people seek alternatives for entertainment and education. This is especially true for school-age children, but also for adults who need more education in order to work.[] It's about the money. I don't have the answer, but when the money is there, we seem to see it put to good use by the library system. Can the county library system partner with Portland Parks? Also, what about the time when Clackamas County had a tiny library at Sunnyside Mall, and would check out books to Multnomah County residents as well? That was a great idea, but the mall owners raised the rent, you could say. I guess that's all for now.
4704	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, pure and simple.
4705	7/11/2012	Competition for tax dollars. Competition to remain relevant,
4706	7/11/2012	Amount of money spent on DVD movies.
4707	7/11/2012	1. Closed libraries. All members of our community need free access to the resources public libraries provide. We currently have a very wide split between the rich and the poor and it is the poor who need the computers, programs and help that library staff offer. It is a huge mistake to intellectually impoverish our community even more by not providing resources to the people who need them and cant get them anywhere else. This is what i pay my taxes to support, not benefits to property developers and such.[] [] 2. Underestimating the value and importance of trained librarians. There is a reason it requires a Master's degree.[] [] 3. Crap consortium book buying that only brings in 'popular' easy reads.

4708	7/11/2012	Underfunding by local government.
4709	7/11/2012	The cutting of funding.
4710	7/11/2012	vote
4711	7/11/2012	lose of library materials. and the indifference of Multnomah county to the wishes of the voters.
4712	7/11/2012	A lack of funding, as well as people not utilizing library resources as much as they would, usually to a lack of knowledge of their existence.
4713	7/11/2012	Dirty bathrooms, homeless people.
4714	7/11/2012	Nothing comes to mind at this time.
4715	7/11/2012	Non-use by home owners and possible desire to reduce property taxes and thus funding for libraries.
4716	7/11/2012	all very important
4717	7/11/2012	Keeping up with technology. E-books will likely largely replace printed books; current e-media procedures are unwieldy (waiting lists?!). Physical library spaces will likely be able to be much smaller than they are now.
4718	7/11/2012	Apathy.
4719	7/11/2012	The people in charge not making the right decisions
4720	7/11/2012	Failure to keep up with the computer and on-line media age.
4721	7/11/2012	Under funding.
4722	7/11/2012	Lack of understanding of the importance of the library system , the need to fund it fully and look for ways to expand these services, not contract them.
4723	7/11/2012	American political right wingers who have low value of education and high value profiteering by corporations for the benefit of the few.
4724	7/11/2012	Technology. I am a traditionalist when it comes to books yet many of my peers are now exclusively using devices such as the Kindle or the Nook. This is not necessarily a bad thing, but rather a sign of the times.
		Technology, for personal use, like Kindle's, on-line books, and information capable of being retrieved on the net. []
		[]
4725	7/11/2012	[] Having enough computers available.[] [] Also, having current materials available.
4726	7/11/2012	Costs vs funding
4727	7/11/2012	Erosion of funding by other social service needs? Actually, It's not clear from the description in the preface why funding is up for discussion again so soon after the levy was passed.
4728	7/11/2012	People will stop reading books

4729	7/11/2012	I think the widespread use of electronic reading devices is slowly changing the way that people get information and now that books are becoming digitized, it creates a huge issue.
4730	7/11/2012	Being closed, and not enough books.
4731	7/11/2012	Cutting down hours and losing extremely useful resources such as computer access, and up to date materials.
4732	7/11/2012	Republicans
		When homeowners are having problems keeping their homes, more funding for libraries is a difficult choice to make. []
4733	7/11/2012	None of the options above are extremely important to me at this stage in my life. I no longer have small children, I am not a senior citizen, I am not looking for a job, my schedule is flexible, so the modified hours do not bother me, I am from CA where libraries have not been open 7 days a week in 20 years.
4734	7/11/2012	Funding
4735	7/11/2012	I think the biggest threat to our local libraries is loss of material and overdue fees not being paid by card holders. I think losing community engagement/events is also a threat to our local libraries.
4736	7/11/2012	The increased usage of electronic media distribution systems like Amazon, Netflix, or illegal downloads. Additionally, poor education systems reduce the demand for libraries in general.
4737	7/11/2012	Ebooks
4738	7/11/2012	Illiteracy, and a loss of value on the printed word.
4739	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4740	7/11/2012	Allowing smelly, unkempt patrons to spend excessive amounts of time living in the library causes us to use the library less. Having standards of personal hygiene that can be enforced is an acceptable social practice in a public institution.
4741	7/11/2012	Closing lack of funding and well paid staff.[]
4742	7/11/2012	[] How about being open until 9pm 2 nights a week?
4743	7/11/2012	dwindling hard copies and unbalanced amount of electronic copies, too many people clicking computers throughout the library-no quiet space, not being open,

4744	7/11/2012	Theft and the feeling that when one goes into a library there are so many violent people who need help. I would say theft is a real problem because it impacts everyone. Too me it does not matter if the library closes on Monday. I think it is a good idea. What is important is that the library continues to serve the young, students, families, and that finances are available to continue to purchase books and media. I do wish the libraries were safer. I avoid the Central library. ¶ There is another problem. Many people who work in the libraries-Woodstock feel that they are special and look down at the citizens who need to use the library. They are contemptuous. I see it all the time. I go to the library once or twice a week-usually to return or check out something. I am glad the Sellwood library is near. Even though I live within a half mile of the Woodstock I often choose to go to the Sellwood.
4745	7/11/2012	I see fewer days open as the greatest threat to our communities. Six to seven days minimum in my opinion. Much pride is taken when I visit other states and see how other systems have been so much less than ours. Also the greatest risk of loss would be for children young adults and seniors.
4746	7/11/2012	Any cuts at all. Increase access to Multco resources!
4747	7/11/2012	ignorance, video games.
4748	7/11/2012	Funding... lack of reaching out to the public to make them aware of ALL you offer: computers, up to date movies, books, etc.
4749	7/11/2012	A lack of funding. I am new to Portland, and I am sad to see that a lack of support of libraries is an issue. My impression of Portland, and all the academic research I have seen, suggests that it is one of the few cities in the US that has seen steady increases in library usage, and that it is one of the more literate cities in the US. I would hate to see these trends threatened because of state budget concerns. Free and public learning, isn't that what is supposed to make a difference in our communities?
4750	7/11/2012	The short sighted self- interest of those who do not know, or who willfully are trying to undermine, the powerful role libraries have had in helping to educate the masses and even the playing field with the privately educated elite.
4751	7/11/2012	lack of funds
4752	7/11/2012	Not staying open long enough, e.g., all days and extended hours into the evening.
4753	7/11/2012	Lack of public funds, and large fires. Perhaps moths?
4754	7/11/2012	Not enough funding and the ability to stay open the hours needed.
4755	7/11/2012	Underfunding ... and not seeming to think beyond, step outside the holy grail of "public". Please see my response within question #4.
4756	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. I do not know about other branches, but the ones I go to and others I stop into occasionally are well-used.
4757	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
4758	7/11/2012	I don't know.
4759	7/11/2012	Lack of funds

4760	7/11/2012	Closing them down
4761	7/11/2012	The out of control spending by our state and federal officials, elevating money above morals. Electronic versions of books will dramatically change the way libraries operate. I hope books in print don't go extinct. In our particular state/county budget, it just seems that things/life has gotten so expensive that everything is out of reach and then we end up with short falls in all directions. How did we used to pay for roads, libraries and schools and now we can hardly afford any of it?!
4762	7/11/2012
4763	7/11/2012	I was not aware of there being a threat to my local library. Aside from budget cuts of course. Re: Q 5: [] []
4764	7/11/2012	To me, of course, this is a VERY UNFAIR question--all are EQUALLY important. [] [] ABOVE ALL programs for children & parents MUST NOT be discontinued or short-changed. [] [] 6. The biggest threat to our local libraries? "DEFUNDING!"
4765	7/11/2012	I think the biggest threat is lack of funding, although, during these financial times with people out of work and others losing their homes, I don't appreciate being asked for more funding. I get the impression that even though a lot of the middle class and lower classes have less money at this time, the library and other businesses think we can handle an increase in our taxes and other expenditures as if we can afford it; which is an unrealistic frame of mind.
4766	7/11/2012	The Kindle.
4767	7/11/2012	I'm not sure what really threatens our libraries the most---a culture that fails to value how much education and information can pave the way for a more just, democratic, and satisfying future? Or maybe just the drop in property values, influencing our tax revenue?
4768	7/11/2012	Voters who vote against library levies
4769	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4770	7/11/2012	Theft of books and media.
4771	7/11/2012	funding
4772	7/11/2012	Less new materials.
4773	7/11/2012	THE INTERNET! DUH!!!!
4774	7/11/2012	The lack of importance placed on access of information within local communities. Libraries function as a social hub for communities, especially those who are disenfranchised due to financial restrictions which constricts their ability to access learning resources. Communities fall into delegated states when a value isn't placed on the education of all its citizens. Libraries fill a need that enables those lacking the financial resources to have access to potentially life altering and uplifting resources.
4775	7/11/2012	funding cuts
4776	7/11/2012	Lack of public interest...directly leads to lack of funding...

4777	7/11/2012	bears. In addition to cuts to library funding.
4778	7/11/2012	Employee costs including benefits. Costs cannot keep going up above the rate of inflation.
4779	7/11/2012	Reduced funding.
4780	7/11/2012	Lack of money.
4781	7/11/2012	Homeless and mentally ill make patrons feel unsafe and afraid to spend time at the library, so use is limited to dashing in and out to pick up reserved materials.
4782	7/11/2012	The same as education, politicians who chose to use funds for other projects rather than using the funds for important programs.
4783	7/11/2012	I am a researcher and the problems that are facing all of us are linked to our jobs going overseas and the globalist who want to destroy our country, as well as the bankers and their ponzi schemes, unless we band together things will just get worse, and the constant wars and excessive taxation have depleted our funds as well. I know that the patrons would perhaps pay into a monthly fund for our local library if it gets worse which it may, everyone needs to help to save our country by holding our local and national governments responsible and accountable for their actions our congress is not following the Constitution, and they are getting rich making back door deals with those who don't have America's interest before their monetary gains.
4784	7/11/2012	Not sure
4785	7/11/2012	Funding.
4786	7/11/2012	e-readers and the internet....
4787	7/11/2012	C
4788	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4789	7/11/2012	increase in reduction of hours and services
4790	7/11/2012	Lack of new material, mainly books (Manga).
4791	7/11/2012	Kindle-type readers. A fad that may just end; or may kill the printed word....
4792	7/11/2012	The internet.
4793	7/11/2012	Over spending by our libraries.
4794	7/11/2012	closing doors more days of the week
4795	7/11/2012	Loss of funding, I think, would be the biggest threat. It would be a shame to ANY library lose funding and shut down or something. Libraries honestly should receive any and all funding necessary to remain open with a large variety of programs: ran out of them.
4796	7/11/2012	Budget cuts that prevent the library from being open and usable to the community and if the funds aren't available they will not be able to continue to purchase new materials and a wide range of materials to appeal to the wide range of people that value and use the facilities.
4797	7/11/2012	decreased funding means decreased access to our libraries, ie less hours or days open
4798	7/11/2012	Budget cuts and people not realizing how important the library is to our entire community.
4799	7/11/2012	Inappropriate web sites.[] Sex offenders.

4800	7/11/2012	we need them to be opened 7 days a week so we can get our books media other activities.
4801	7/11/2012	Funds being cut.
4802	7/11/2012	People here are active library-goers, so prob no major threat. But efforts should be made to maintain out-of-the-way branches, so that local people can still have access even if standards must be lowered a bit.
4803	7/11/2012	Lack of funding?
4804	7/11/2012	Not enough funding
4805	7/11/2012	Underfunding to the point where they are not heavily used.
4806	7/11/2012	I don't know. Becoming extinct?
4807	7/11/2012	funding challenges
4808	7/11/2012	funding from the state your survey doesn't work- it didn't let me re-set the order of the previous question.[] []
4809	7/11/2012	So poorly programmed surveys would be a big threat.[] [] I think a lot of people aren't aware of what a valuable resource libraries are. A lot of my co-workers don't even think to go to the library. Most people don't know they can check out e books. Most people aren't aware that libraries are not just for homeless people.
4810	7/11/2012	budget cuts
4811	7/11/2012	Computers.
4812	7/11/2012	Current economic conditions due to bad policies that encourage people to give up working.
4813	7/11/2012	voter apathy
4814	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4815	7/11/2012	Republicans!
4816	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and political support are the biggest threats. Over the years Multnomah County has increased in population. Our state funding does not cover the expenses of running the libraries. We need our tax dollars going to the right places: schools, libraries etc. services that will benefit the community in a wholesome and educational way.
4817	7/11/2012	Apathy.
4818	7/11/2012	I don't know
4819	7/11/2012	Stable funding and over-extending resources.
4820	7/11/2012	Being neglected. Perhaps a decrease in volunteerism to help support them.
4821	7/11/2012	increased access to e-books, online info, etc It was difficult to prioritize as all these are important. The biggest problem is funding. It would be nice to find a different
4822	7/11/2012	source than increase in property tax. What taxes are we paying on our Internet/tv service. Would it be possible to tap into that?
4823	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding.

4824	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and free educational resources
4825	7/11/2012	Lack of funding?
4826	7/11/2012	Predictable and adequate funding.
4827	7/11/2012	Lack of funding is the biggest threat to our libraries. and therefore, so are the idiots who run the government and spend money on other stupid stuff like bombs and missiles. those weapons have limited uses and often don't get the job done. But a library educated person becomes more and more useful and can do more and more jobs. Its amazing. Libraries are the most important public resource to keep our communities active and thriving. So who is gonna fund the libraries? the poor people who need them to remain an open and free resource? I wish a larger chunk of all the taxes I pay would go to the library.
4828	7/11/2012	Reduction in budget so there are cuts to early reader programs for kids, and cuts to materials. Also, cuts to hours.
4829	7/11/2012	I would guess budgets.
4830	7/11/2012	Not encouraging our young people to use them.
4831	7/11/2012	People looking to save a tiny amount of tax money, and not looking at the larger picture. As our society becomes less literate, less curious and less able to investigate things - we become less competitive and less human.
4832	7/11/2012	lack of funding. homelessness. smokers. Libraries must catalog all books online and keep the stacks open as well.
4833	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4834	7/11/2012	Tax Payers.
4835	7/11/2012	Space
4836	7/11/2012	Not having them at all.
4837	7/11/2012	Clearly, lack of funding.
4838	7/11/2012	Apathy.
4839	7/11/2012	When materials and media are lost or stolen, or when computers are misused to view pornography in the library.
4840	7/11/2012	Politicians' manipulation of budget priorities and information concerning library funding, which resulted in reduced library hours and closures in some communities. Lack of funds, and lack of interest. []
4841	7/11/2012	[] Summer reading programs really got me excited to read when I was a kid. I hope they don't end!
4842	7/11/2012	The Internet - the assumption (however incorrect) that all information is available online. The more that public libraries limit their services the more that patrons will look elsewhere.
4843	7/11/2012	Ebooks at amazon, and other online resources for books. That are convient
4844	7/11/2012	No consistent source of operating funding.
4845	7/11/2012	Unpaid bills

4846	7/11/2012	Counties that fritter their money away on stupid other expenditures and then don't have enough money left to properly fund their libraries.
4847	7/11/2012	Not enough money
4848	7/11/2012	Not having access, shortening hours,
4849	7/11/2012	Lack of secure funding.
4850	7/11/2012	Funding
4851	7/11/2012	Not being open.
4852	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
4853	7/11/2012	Apparently, it is a lack of funding.
4854	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, lack of Public interest
4855	7/11/2012	Less funding for new books, less resources for programs and such, less hours.
4856	7/11/2012	funding
4857	7/11/2012	People who like services but aren't willing to pay for them!
4858	7/11/2012	unstable funding sources
4859	7/11/2012	Balancing cost versus service
4860	7/11/2012	Digital revolution. The Kindle, an e-reader, the internet; these will take over paper. I love the written word, and I am patient enough to wait till my turn on the waiting list for my literature. People no longer need to wait more than 30 minutes to download any material and access their stories and legends, facts, figures. No waiting lists. Instant access. ¶ ¶ We need to make the library a place people want to be now. Get some couches/daybeds with bolsters/comfy chairs and promote some impromptu reading. More people and stronger literary community provide their own magic through the written word. I like a library that makes me feel free to relax and enjoy the space and the words.
4861	7/11/2012	Funding.
4862	7/11/2012	Funding. Depriving kids of joy of reading. A lifelong gift.0
4863	7/11/2012	It appears to be the funding for them. It's a shame that such a wonderful service is under threat.
4864	7/11/2012	Reluctance of Oregonians to accept need to pay taxes for services.
4865	7/11/2012	the room for kids to read so small, so they can't sit to read if there are a lot kids in summer.

4866	7/11/2012	Those who manage the library system pose the biggest threat: #1 A county of only a half-million people does NOT need 19 branches. #2 You are wasting money on non-library services ... why is Interlibrary Loan underfunded, for example? #3 Your dishonesty. We voted to continue your funding to prevent cuts in services, and immediately after we did so, you cut services by 14%. Your reasons and excuses for doing so = your blind spot. #4 Generally speaking, declining literacy, not declining revenues. 20% of Americans are functionally illiterate, and this is not limited to immigrants, but to the failure of the American school systems overall. It is not the responsibility of libraries to remediate illiteracy. #5 How the library system is run reminds us too much of how poorly Tri-Met is run. One has to define a mission and fulfill it and continue to expand it within budgeted means. Your dreams will always be larger than your budget. Tri-Met's mission was to provide affordable transit for the working lower class, elderly and students, and to relieve traffic congestion, yet they designed a system that does not even collect fares on MAX and the streetcar, while it wasted millions on frivolities like computer tracking of buses beamed to cell phones. Does the library system have a defined mission, and are you capable of meeting it within a budget without additional levies? Why should the library system, instead of, say, the county health system, be funding, I assume
4867	7/11/2012
4868	7/11/2012	Because of shortening hours, budget cuts on materials- that there may not be as many patrons or new patrons.
4869	7/11/2012	Funding cuts. When are they going to stop funding the damn war??!
4870	7/11/2012	Not being able to stock the latest materials.
4871	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding, especially due to "haves" who would get by okay without the library system, not understanding the utter necessity of the library's services to everyone else in the community.
4872	7/11/2012	internet. which i'm using right now, Bwahahahaha!! Sorry, uncalled for evil laughter.
4873	7/11/2012	Censuring[] Limiting access of materials to anyone[] Misunderstanding the need for public support[] Forgetting that we now have the freedom to read whatever we want to (and to publish whatever we want to)
4874	7/11/2012	none
4875	7/11/2012	If we take it for granted, and do not fund it, these great services will be gone.
4876	7/11/2012	Funding.
4877	7/11/2012	Not enough open hours to be usable by the people that need it most: children and lower income families.
4878	7/11/2012	Lack of awareness of the library's services. Actual or de facto privatization by for-profit interests. Services deteriorating (going down hill) and not keeping up current books, updated materials.[]
4879	7/11/2012	Computer access for children we need to have better screening for younger children, and no computer access for pronoun material! (Adult material)
4880	7/11/2012	Our local government funding.
4881	7/11/2012	The government cutting budgets to libraries and schools.
4882	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. People depend on libraries and librarians.

4883	7/11/2012	The libraries need enough money to stay open. We and our kids love the traditional books -- reading is such a nice way to spend time with them. They are always happy when we bring back new (to us) books.
4884	7/11/2012	Shrinking constituency.
4885	7/11/2012	Lack of steady funding.
4886	7/11/2012	Consistent stable funding.
4887	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, and inconsistent funding, so it's difficult for the library to plan, and energy and personpower is used in stopgap funding efforts that should be used to keep the libraries open and doing all the very, very important work they do for all of us: kids, families, individuals; elders, immigrants, jobseekers - the whole community. The library is a crucial resource, and it's terrible that there isn't stable and decent funding for it.
4888	7/11/2012	Funding, people taking it for granted. Other than budget cuts? ☐
4889	7/11/2012	Patrons stealing books and media. ☐ Crazy homeless people attacking patrons and employees
4890	7/11/2012	money
4891	7/11/2012	The economy.
4892	7/11/2012	not sure
4893	7/11/2012	funding
4894	7/11/2012	A lack of funding.
4895	7/11/2012	Digital copies of books, magazines, etc. Everything can be found online or in digital format these days.
4896	7/11/2012	this is unknown to me
4897	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local ones is when they do not have enough books or DVD to rent home ,we have to wait
4898	7/11/2012	Costs are too high; I'm tired of adding to my property taxes to keeping funding. Research diff ways to be more cost effective.
4899	7/11/2012	trying to too much for too few
4900	7/11/2012	Loosing relevancy due lack of easy access an current materials.
4901	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding! As well as lack of knowledge about the need for public libraries for everyone.
4902	7/11/2012	The people who would be most influential to the funding of the libraries not caring at all.
4903	7/11/2012	it's only open during work hour's when working people cant go and to tired or no time right after work. being open during the weekend's or evening would help. it's alway's closed when i have the extra time to go .. maby you could shorten morning hour's and be open on weekend when people and family's can go and have the time to .
4904	7/11/2012	Budget cuts

4905	7/11/2012	The economic recession.
4906	7/11/2012	funding resources
4907	7/11/2012	the 1%
4908	7/11/2012	the inability of local government officials to stand up to waste fraud and abuse by federal officials at the federal level. this negligence on the part of local officials should result in charges of giving aid and comfort to enemies of the US.[] the doD lost $2.3 trillion sept 10, 2001 and is now deemed un auditable. i made $20,000 last year, and including property tax, my tax rate was 20%, now my house is for sale so i can move out of the county. multnomah county was ranked 107 out of 108 US counties because of high taxes.[] there is a economic war being waged against people in which the county is not being effective in our defense. reducing services to those that use them is the same as raising taxes on the poor.
4909	7/11/2012	sunny days
4910	7/11/2012	underfunding
4911	7/11/2012	Incompetent employees
4912	7/11/2012	Funding issues and lack of support from businesses and individuals that can support it financially.
4913	7/11/2012	The economy being in the trash at the moment.
4914	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
4915	7/11/2012	To me the biggest threat is lack of relevancy. Already I have to go to academic libraries to find books that are science-oriented but not academic in the strictest sense. I fear that diversifying into movie and music loans and general computer use will cut into the libraries selection of high quality, relevant books. That people forget how important they are. Libraries are the only place that many have to go for so many resources. They serve all ages, races, economic classes. I hear people talking about how libraries aren't necessary now that information is online. Those people are not considering the fact that not everyone can afford a computer/smart phone and internet access or the fact that not all information is online. We should remind the public of all of the things that their library can do for them.
4916	7/11/2012
4917	7/11/2012	uncertain funding. if one vote can take us from a fully-funded institution to one where most branches are closed, something is very wrong. there should be a way of securing funding.

4918	7/11/2012	Funding. As a whole, educational budgets are the first to be cut. Many who believed in The American Dream, myself included, found hope splintered in 2008. The worse part of this realization is this trauma that has happened to me is also happening everywhere. So I propose weaning our institutions from federal funding. Currently, it is the biggest chunk of money that keeps old buildings in my neighborhood (barely) running and functioning and keeping the doors of my church open. Still, I propose we divorce it the way we should with oil, really come together as a community, helping the homeless get connected and so on. Many of these programs you already engage in which is why it is time for us to give something back. Find funding from community share programs and co-ops for example and perhaps we all can truly live free-er lives.[] Jeremy J Chase
4919	7/11/2012	I'd guess lack of funding, which in turn means a lack of support from the voting public. That, and some sort of ink-devouring microbe.
4920	7/11/2012	Lack of funding I suppose. Confused priorities. Gathering funds for some sport related field or arena rather than funds usec to access information, provide the miracle of classics and open minds to current ideology. The escape that fiction provides in such stressfull economic times, and all available to everyone. This service is magic. Nothing as important.as a library.
4921	7/11/2012	Funding
4922	7/11/2012	Maintenance costs. [] People are under a pretty high taxation already. Hours are not broad enough for many people to be able to use the library.
4923	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to keep libraries open and to keep materials current.
4924	7/11/2012	Don't shut any branches! To close branches would devastate that local community and leave a hole in terms of improving community literacy
4925	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. And the loss of physical books and spaces to read quietly in favor of computers. I use computers at home, but I would use the library more if it was more like what I remember as a kid, a place of quiet study full of books.
4926	7/11/2012	theft and apathy
4927	7/11/2012	budget cuts.
4928	7/11/2012	Lack of $$$
4929	7/11/2012	Television and internet culture, lack of funding
4930	7/11/2012	Apparently, funding. The real problem is that anyone with property pays more and more taxes, but with NO sales tax, we are bearing the whole burden. I think we should have a sin tax on cigarettes/liquor, and a small tax so that WA still shops with us. Personally, my fixed income dropped 10% this year, and my taxes seemed to go up by about 12%, so I am getting to the point of no return. I've borrowed against my property and have no alternatives.
4931	7/11/2012	Lack of community understanding/support.
4932	7/11/2012	Funding?

4933	7/11/2012	Lack of community support.
4934	7/11/2012	Short-term thinking. People who vote against libraries and education. Those who do not realize the repercussions of under-educated citizens.
4935	7/11/2012	Not enough community events. Lack of funding, obviously. []
4936	7/11/2012	[] Seriously though, libraries provide such a HUGE service to such a large part of the community. Has anyone ever done a study showing cost vs social impact?
4937	7/11/2012	Lack of funding The library tries to do too much extra stuff that duplicates services provided elsewhere. Schools can teach children to read and story hours for babies is nice but totally unnecessary. The employment department has programs for jobseekers. The library should go back to basics and provide books, including ebooks and other media.
4938	7/11/2012
4939	7/11/2012	Apathy and an active war on intellectualism in the United States.
4940	7/11/2012	Short-sighted legislators and voters. don't know[]
4941	7/11/2012	[] Lack of adequate funding
4942	7/11/2012	Government funding cuts
4943	7/11/2012	The perception that they are not crucial.
4944	7/11/2012	Less people reading books
4945	7/11/2012	Teacher's union being inflexible and over-administrated.
4946	7/11/2012	Not being open when you need it Lack of funding.[]
4947	7/11/2012	PS>
4948	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
4949	7/11/2012	General public's misconception that libraries are obsolete in the age of internet.
4950	7/11/2012	lack of availability.
4951	7/11/2012	Not financing it properly. My Property taxes have not gone down, but up, so I don't see why the income has gone down! the inadequate funding which subsequently affects many things including hours, availability of materials, access to free resources and supports, access to librarians. In the times of tight economy and limited resources, free public libraries are one of the few resources available. Having access to computers, books, teaching/learning materials, events and all the other necessary and vital resources libraries supply is vital to supporting and creating a vital society. Our public education system is going down the tubes, libraries fill in some of the gaps and especially allow disadvantaged and marginalized folks access to educate and to improve their lives.
4952	7/11/2012

4953	7/11/2012	Unstable funding
4954	7/11/2012	The economic crunch
4955	7/11/2012	cutting staff
4956	7/11/2012	The illusion that it is a free service.
4957	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
4958	7/11/2012	funding cuts
4959	7/11/2012	lack of funding and support, therefore decreased book buying capabilities, fewer hours open, and fewer resources
4960	7/11/2012	PERS
4961	7/11/2012	nothing at the moment.
4962	7/11/2012	It's easier and more affordable to buy (used) books that we are interested in reading. There don't seem to be enough of the books higher in demand (including children and adult books).
4963	7/11/2012	government priorities and tax cuts
4964	7/11/2012	Losing voter/community support
4965	7/11/2012	Young people don't read as much as they use to.
4966	7/11/2012	?
4967	7/11/2012	electronic media
4968	7/11/2012	cutting funding
4969	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and general interest in books.
4970	7/11/2012	Selfish, anti-tax, idiots.
4971	7/11/2012	I have no idea what you mean by threat. Best guess - lack of public funding.
4972	7/11/2012	The threat of privatization and inadequate funding.
4973	7/11/2012	Reliance solely on property tax levies. We need a sales tax on non-food items.
4974	7/11/2012	Unstable funding
4975	7/11/2012	Obviously funding. It's important to keep the library open as many hours as possible. I feel that tutoring is something that should be handled in the schools, not by the library.
4976	7/11/2012	Not sure. Maybe lack of use?
4977	7/11/2012	budget cuts
4978	7/11/2012	Fear of raising taxes to support them
4979	7/11/2012	Funding
4980	7/11/2012	The Internet & the latest technology. Maybe funding too, but I don't have a clue about our city funding. Why would someone have to go to his or her Library when they can 'do it all' on line? That's sad too, because there's nothing like the feel of holding an actual book, not an iPad, Nook, Kindle...
4981	7/11/2012	I think the biggest threat is technology . A lot of people want it easy and fast but the library is more than just a place to get a book. It is a true experience, a portal to many worlds,one of this city's fine arts that is slowly being squeezed out. It is something that you can't get on your tablet or computer.

4982	7/11/2012	Lack of taxes on the rich and corporations. No more tax cuts. They need to pay their fair share; lord knows we are.
4983	7/11/2012	Budget cuts due to misinformation. Multnomah county's library system is something that is useful to every member of the community should they choose to utilize it, and nearly every person I know on a personal level does.
4984	7/11/2012	Complete loss of funding. Closures to neighborhood branches, especially those that need it most.
4985	7/11/2012	funding
4986	7/11/2012	Lack of funds
4987	7/11/2012	The union employees who hold taxpayers hostage.
4988	7/11/2012	The biggest threat in my opinion is that it would be forced to either shut down branches or continue to reduce the number o days they are open. The library has always been an option for me to go to when I had time to kill after school. I would hate to have it not be an option at all for some or to have to continue to limit days the branches are open.
4989	7/11/2012	budget cuts
4990	7/11/2012	Internet and lack of funding.
4991	7/11/2012	Transition to electronic media.
4992	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
4993	7/11/2012	not everyone in the community taking advantage of what they have to offer.
4994	7/11/2012	$$$
4995	7/11/2012	government funding.
4996	7/11/2012	television
4997	7/11/2012	??
4998	7/11/2012	Lack of use by low-income communities
4999	7/11/2012	Services and hours being cut because of money hungry politicians.
5000	7/11/2012	Funding seems to be the biggest problem. Also, many people can use the internet from home now to access information and do research, making the need for actual books less necessary. Also the book industry itself seems to be on the wane.
5001	7/11/2012	Expanding your services beyond print media to encompass so many areas that you then can't afford any of them. Concentrate on keeping the basics and then expand when the economy improves.
5002	7/11/2012	Lack of funding! I would be more than happy to pay a bit more on my taxes if I knew it was going to a good cause like funding libraries and the programs and services they provide to the public.
5003	7/11/2012	Lack of funding

5004	7/11/2012	Limitations on hours and services becoming so great that folks stop going there because they can't count on it being open and offering valued services.[] [] Lack of understanding of what it truly costs to operate this incredible library system (if libraries described how much each service at each branch cost in the same way that OPB and KBOO do during pledge drives it might help...)
5005	7/11/2012	Not being able to go to the library if you need something right away.
5006	7/11/2012	Central Library: to be frank, it's become daycare for transients. I used to love being in the library, but no more. How to promote both access for all and an environment that isn't depressing and odoriferous? Hard to say. [] Branch libraries: reduced hours and reduced programs of interest to the neighborhood.[] [] Holdings: a frustrating system of periodical "holdings" online which are often virtual and as yet unattained. Thus the John C Public researcher without special access to university libraries is really out of luck in looking at many publications, which are promised online but have not yet been fully digitized--some more than one year's worth.
5007	7/11/2012	I think the ever-growing ability to access things online, from home, is the biggest threat to our local libraries. I still see libraries as a hub for community and an important point of engagement for people (especially youth) to access resources and develop a love for reading and knowledge/information-gathering. I think we have to keep access, programming, and marketing about what the library system has to offer at the forefront of library operations for local libraries to be sustainable.
5008	7/11/2012	New advances in technology replacing books for many people (ex. ipads, kindles, internet, etc.)
5009	7/11/2012	The fact that as a home "owner," (in Oregon you never really "own" your home) I cannot tolerate any more bonds , etc put on my property taxes. I think most of us do, and the school are coming after more money for their buildings, too.
5010	7/11/2012	The dissolution of public education, which leads to less interest in garnering knowledge.
5011	7/11/2012	Decreased access to library and materials not available to the community
5012	7/11/2012	Books downloaded from the internet. I haven't looked, are books available for the ipad from the library?
5013	7/11/2012	I suppose the biggest threat would be lack of funds. For a library to survive it needs the most up to date materials and equipment, and without the money for those items, a library becomes outdated and less-attended.
5014	7/11/2012	LACK OF use through lack of knowledge and increasingly insular tech while bureaucracy makes libraries less flexible to community needs due to funding guidelines
5015	7/11/2012	People not caring if the library stays or is gone.

5016	7/11/2012	Lack of funds. Libraries are in need of adequate funding to remain current, staffed, housed and accessible. At the same time, library users lacking funds (or urged by their employers to work longer) probably are unable to take time away from work to advocate for libraries.
5017	7/11/2012	section 5 isn't working properly and I was not able to rate my levels of importance. tax cuts would be the biggest threat to libraries, sad.
5018	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5019	7/11/2012	poverty and recession
5020	7/11/2012	Becoming obsolete because everyone thinks of them as places to store physical books, magazines, etc. Libraries need to do something about the fact that most current reading material isn't published on paper any more. Maybe need to have more space (comfortable seating, good access to WIFI, plenty of plugins) for people to use their laptops, tablets and e-readers rather than more bookshelves, etc.
5021	7/11/2012	People moving to Kindle and education systems in Portland area not well supported so literacy rates fall.
5022	7/11/2012	lack of funding for materials and staff/services?
5023	7/11/2012	Those who see taxes as the enemy.
5024	7/11/2012	Complacency.
5025	7/11/2012	People being unwilling to pay taxes/levies to keep the library running, and thus not voting for them or supporting them.
5026	7/11/2012	Technology. Kindle etc.
5027	7/11/2012	The ongoing corporate privatization of public spaces and public discourse, and the unwillingness of corporate entities and wealthy individuals to contribute appropriately to the public good. Libraries are unequivocally popular and are rarely threatened directly, but they are part of "the government" that we are constantly told must be starved and minimized in general, in order to extend the wealth of private entities.
5028	7/11/2012	cuts in funding
5029	7/11/2012	loss of funding
5030	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5031	7/11/2012	Lack of funding- libraries are an important community resource and important to our democracy. Funding cuts affect both our democracy and our communities
5032	7/11/2012	Not enough money to keep current and pay the amazing folks who work at the library.
5033	7/11/2012	Losing funding and broad based community support.
5034	7/11/2012	That they become less available. And that they do not stay current with the latest books and references. As an example, in trying to fix my car, I was checking all over the Internet, but could not get all the data I needed in one place. I went to the library and there was not only the manual to fix my particular model but also books that covered all angles on the subject and I understood and was able to fix the problem. No library, no fix. The Internet is just too random, too incomplete.

5035	7/11/2012	Republicans
5036	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5037	7/11/2012	We need a sales tax. We can no longer afford to use general funds and property taxes to raise income. We need a dedicated school fund and a dedicated library fund.
5038	7/11/2012	Funding
5039	7/11/2012	funding dependent on levies
5040	7/11/2012	County citizens too damn selfish to vote yes on library levy. Oregonians need to suck it up and put money where it matters... In education, reading, teaching
5041	7/11/2012	Financing
5042	7/11/2012	cuts in services to young and old
5043	7/11/2012	Our elected officials thinking tax brakes to lure companies to Oregon are more important than the education our library provides.
5044	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5045	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5046	7/11/2012	Budget cuts/lack of funding
5047	7/11/2012	Lack of support from the community.
5048	7/11/2012	print books are declining like the post office delivery due to email and electronic books. Maybe we will eventually not need so many print books as more computer access for folks w/o computers at home. We used to borrow DVD, now we can just get them on netflix. Ebooks are much more portable than print and I can indulge myself immediately when I finish one book and need another.
5049	7/11/2012	Right now the biggest threat to our local libraries is lack of funding. Portlanders not only like to read, they thrive on reading. It's not about electronic publishing or mass-discount retailers like Amazon and Barnes & Noble, because Portland loves its physical books.
5050	7/11/2012	Public distaste for funding community resources.
5051	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5052	7/11/2012	Losing funding and inturn threatening, in my opinion, society's most valuable resource.
5053	7/11/2012	Not being able to find the right books for a particular idea.
5054	7/11/2012	Underfunding [] []
5055	7/11/2012	Being used as hangout for the homeless , not related to actual use of library
5056	7/11/2012	lack of funding I would guess? Or perhaps lack of people actually reading books.
5057	7/11/2012	lack of money. people not understanding why they need to pay for them. Kindle :) Half.com. I couldn't find what I needed at a different library and through the online system found that mine didn't have it either - no one had it. so I got it on half.com.
5058	7/11/2012	ignorant voters
5059	7/11/2012	The Tea Party
5060	7/11/2012	Not enough funding to keep all the branches open with all the materials and programs they offer.

5061	7/11/2012	The current tax structure offers inadequate and unstable support for libraries!
5062	7/11/2012	Lack of understanding and appreciation for the importance of the Library to the community.
5063	7/11/2012	The internet is replacing brick and mortar libraries and books/media. Digital divide = those with internet access at home are going to be less supportive of more taxes for libraries. This is balanced by those on the other side who think that voting taxes on property they don't own is a free ride.
5064	7/11/2012	The dumbing down of America. Where there is no interest, there will be no tax money.
5065	7/11/2012	Library service cut-backs so severe hours open would not well serve the community and a reduction in current publications/materials.
5066	7/11/2012	People not being able to enjoy the library because of screaming kids and annoying teenagers!
5067	7/11/2012	Not getting the funding they need to have an clear community presence. It's so critical that we have a highly accessible system open every day of the week to ensure an enlightened, engaged, and connected community.
5068	7/11/2012	More technology involved in checking out books. It cuts out librarians, but they are a huge, important part of going to the library. Also, out of date computers, bad selection of books, and hooligans in libraries.
5069	7/11/2012	Helping tax payers understand the value our libraries provide the community. The library might consider focusing on a stronger public image via regular public relations. Let's see more articles in the news (print, TV, radio) about how the library is benefitting the community. Also, it's time for library employees to break away from considering themselves government employees. Instead I'd like to see employees focus on better customer service.
5070	7/11/2012	Lack of funding is obviously the biggest threat otherwise this survey would not be necessary. Why do we have this issue every few years?
5071	7/11/2012	Not sorting out the transition from paper books.
5072	7/11/2012	competition for limited funding with well financed business interests such as developers
5073	7/11/2012	A lack of funding caused by ballot measures, elections, and politics.
5074	7/11/2012	Nothing
5075	7/11/2012	lack of funding to keep the libraries open, clean and efficient.
5076	7/11/2012	Budget cuts!
5077	7/11/2012	Short hours! not enough funds to get current materials
5078	7/11/2012	Cutting funding for libraries & librarians. They're such amazing resources & I'm so thankful to live in this area.
5079	7/11/2012	Resources not matching the pace of growth in the community.
5080	7/11/2012	Funding
5081	7/11/2012	Other funding needs within the community
5082	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and use.

5083	7/11/2012	They are not often recognized as the truly vital part of our community that they are. They are often regarded as "extra" when they should be treated as a necessity.
5084	7/11/2012	An unelected, out-of-touch library board, not responsible to library users or to taxpayers.
5085	7/11/2012	Textards
5086	7/11/2012	lack of willingness to be taxed
5087	7/11/2012	I don't know.
5088	7/11/2012	People who don't realize that the library is a public service there to serve them. I think people forget that the library isn't free, but is created by a community and meant to serve the community.
5089	7/11/2012	funding? fear of taxes
5090	7/11/2012	lack of funding that curtails services, hours, and material currency. All of these can make the library irrelevant (due to abundance of digitized media) and make people forget how useful/important the library is to society.
5091	7/11/2012	Apathy and lethargy. Lack of focus on the importance of reading, research, and critical thinking skills.
5092	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, lack of qualified/talented staff especially in specialty areas (too often the reference librarians are not knowledgeable enough to be helpful), over-reliance on automated materials selection,
5093	7/11/2012	Cleanliness, security.
5094	7/11/2012	I guess funding.
5095	7/11/2012	Not enough funding to stay open and keep important community programs running.
5096	7/11/2012	Insecure sources of funding
5097	7/11/2012	You guys are doing really great job, keep going :) !!! but we need some more about like to help home school supplies like book or homework book and some basic language popular in Portland like Chinese, Vietnamese, Japanese, Korean... to help, thank you, that's my opinion ! One of the biggest threats is the Multnomah county library trying to be all things to all people. For instance, we do not need to teach babies library habits. Can't the library wait until they are toddlers? Is that program really that successful? Teaching parents to relate to their children is not a job for the library story times are. [] The library is not a homeless shelter. As much as I care about the homeless, they are often disruptive; such as singing out loud because they are mentally ill, getting in fights, sleeping at computers, spreading their food and drink over a large space of the reading table--I see all of these things frequently, and they staff has either been told not to intervene, or they do not do so as a matter of course. At the NW library a person was singing so loud she could be heard throughout the library--for a half hour-- and people at the reading table were getting very irritated--I finally asked a librarian to intervene and she said she was just a sub. Another man from the reading table followed me and said "this place is like a lunatic asylum!" Finally a librarian intervened. This is nothing compared to the problems at Central where librarians routinely ignore serious disruptions. [] []
5098	7/11/2012	For all of the money that is spent at our library (a high rate of taxation, esp for Portland) we need to examine what is REALLY going on, and have the Library Administration and County Commissioners worry less about awards and more

5099	7/11/2012	Lack of proper funding.
5100	7/11/2012	Evidently it's budget cuts. But I also think it's people not realizing just how much the library has to offer.
5101	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate, ongoing funding
5102	7/11/2012	funding through continued taxation of property owners. I vote anything down that would increase my taxes. I pay 4,500 annual in Laurelhurst. Tax businesses or find another way!!
5103	7/11/2012	The Tea Party crazies who think all government is bad. They're wrong.
5104	7/11/2012	Stupid ignorant tax revolt tea-party no-nothings. Pardon my frustration, but libraries should be considered essential services like cops firefighters and teachers.
5105	7/11/2012	Ignorance of the value of community libraries and their resources. They are not only resources but community neighborhood zones where families, business owners, friends, non-profits and community groups congregate to gain knowledge and exchange ideas.
5106	7/11/2012	Funding.
5107	7/11/2012	I really don't know Sorry....
5108	7/11/2012	Not sacred enough.
5109	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5110	7/11/2012	Lack of access and lack of current resources for everyone.
5111	7/11/2012	People who don't use libraries not understanding how valuable they are to the rest of society. (Same issue for schools, etc.)
5112	7/11/2012	Ignorance. It's the same with the public school system. People who don't have kids, or use libraries, don't realize (or want to) all the values libraries offer their communities.
5113	7/11/2012	So many distracting and very entertaining materials are available a mouse's click away, especially with smartphones becoming more and more common. People will come to libraries less when they are able to access movies, music, and books online and with e-readers. A lack of attendance will lead to less business and income, and will put libraries in danger.
5114	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is the failure to recognize libraries as a public good. Low income and at risk populations NEED the libraries for all of the above-job searches, ESL help, computers, educational and recreational reading. [] Ebooks, Kindles, etc are a threat as well, but there ARE people like me who although I can afford one, will NEVER buy one. I believe knowledge should be shared and the library is all about sharing. It makes information and knowledge available to those that might not otherwise be able to afford it. I don't want to buy an ebook that can NEVER be shared, never given away, is expensive and can only be read/enjoyed by me.
5115	7/11/2012	Right wing lunatics in local, state, and federal government.
5116	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5117	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.

5118	7/11/2012	Cutting hours and accessibility, and limiting the materials available, will make the library less available and less of a "go to" for families and individuals. It is a great community resource, especially for kids, and I'd hate to see it become less available to them.
5119	7/11/2012	State & federal government out of control spending
5120	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
5121	7/11/2012	funding cutbacks
5122	7/11/2012	Push surveys that give limited options. Poor fiscal management. We were told the levy we approved would operate at the same level. Then hours were restricted.
5123	7/11/2012	This reflects badly on the library.[] Take care, randy Dickinson
5124	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5125	7/11/2012	The political (corporate) right wing (those who mean to take control of all levels of government, to defund and privatize all public services, and to privatize them).
5126	7/11/2012	Funding issues
5127	7/11/2012	under funded
5128	7/11/2012	People who dont read and dont underarand the importance of knowledge
5129	7/11/2012	too many electronic books. It is assuming every one has the appropriate devise to use to read
5130	7/11/2012	Miss understanding of what it does for our community.
5131	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5132	7/11/2012	I would say Washington County libraries because they are so much bigger with a wider selection.
5133	7/11/2012	Loss of funding.
5134	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5135	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
5136	7/11/2012	Loss of revenue
5137	7/11/2012	Our dwindling funds, and the causes of that.
5138	7/11/2012	not being able to get more funding from taxpayers, who have seen home values decrease and have many hands out for ta; dollars. using existing fund amounts VERY wisely would be best, I think.
5139	7/11/2012	it appears to be financial investment.
5140	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
5141	7/11/2012	Diversion of funds away from the library
5142	7/11/2012	I don't know what the biggest threat is right now.
5143	7/11/2012	I think it would be not having enough funding, and not enough of that going to getting better books.

5144	7/11/2012	Lack of information about what it provides for FREE. I get movies for free, instead of paying Netflix. I get books for free, instead of hunting for them used and then selling them back. If I am interested in a vocal artist, I reserve one of their CDs, for free. I don't think people in the community really know about ALL the resources available to them, not just books. I avoided the library for years because I was too busy to read books before they were due--I had NO idea that all these other things were available until I was laid off and started using the library again. Now that I'm working again I still love the library and use it all the time.
5145	7/11/2012	Funding. People that don't believe in the value of free, public education and community resources.
5146	7/11/2012	General Funding and to sustain staff
5147	7/11/2012	Lack of funding for libraries to be open a full week. I feel bad for job seekers who don't have their own computers/internet to look for jobs with who will not be able to look for jobs on Mondays.
5148	7/11/2012	Shortened hours, low funding
5149	7/11/2012	Not enough income?
5150	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5151	7/11/2012	Privitization.
5152	7/11/2012	Funds. County should provide adequate funds for the libraries to run seven days a week. It's closure would impact the "haves not" the most.
5153	7/11/2012	Lack of funding!
5154	7/11/2012	Unsteady source of funding.
5155	7/11/2012	People who expect services without taxes.
5156	7/11/2012	inadequate funds to keep high quality librarians and IT people on the payroll and maintain services and keep them current and relevant as the community's needs change and technology develops
5157	7/11/2012	Closing of branches in minority neighborhoods. These areas need the resources that the library provides the most.
5158	7/11/2012	lack of understanding of how important access to information is to maintaining an informed democracy... our system of governance does not work unless people have access to information from a variety of sources. Free public schools and free libraries are essential components of our society.
5159	7/11/2012	Lack of interest in the value of local libraries on the part of many residents.
5160	7/11/2012	sounds like lack of funding....we always vote for library funds.
5161	7/11/2012	People not knowing all the different things you can use the library for
5162	7/11/2012	i dont know
5163	7/11/2012	Property values
5164	7/11/2012	Bureaucrats. Politicians. Small-minded people who don't understand that a book can contain the entire world.

5165	7/11/2012	Diversion of capital, e.g., to barely essential paving with patio bricks recently at Rockwood Branch, wasting money on purchased art, rather than displaying works on-loan.[] Being gathering points for gangs, dopers, transients. Let me just say the above list I would rate #1 for importance because they are all important in my opinion.[] []
5166	7/11/2012	Now the biggest threat to our local libraries is of course the internet for publications and media stuff. But with that aside, it's always funding...there is never enough money for things that matter such as these. (at least that's what they keep telling us) America has got to get it's priorities straight. A good education is no longer getting us anywhere, we need a GREAT Education in order to succeed in these times. And in order to do that you must have the resources available to you and that would be the LIBRARY...no other source can services such a wide variety of men, women and children and the various cultures.[] I love the volunteers and just being able to speak to a real person instead of an automated voice or computer generated person who talks...give me a break.
5167	7/11/2012	Financial support.
5168	7/11/2012	Hard to say. Instability of funding seems like a big one, but it might suddenly seem secondary if sheets of lava were pouring into the city off of Mt. Hood. In which case, the big threat would be lava. People thinking that electronic hoo-ha has made literature irrelevant will be an increasing challenge, looks like. Ayep.
5169	7/11/2012	E-Readers could be a threat to our libraries, and home computers. These things take away a good portion of people that just read their news and information at home. [] [] Lack of funding due to the recent four years of economical crises has also been a threat to our libraries.
5170	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5171	7/11/2012	Cutting hours and resource material
5172	7/11/2012	apathy
5173	7/11/2012	stable funding
5174	7/11/2012	A) Funding; B) Book burners
5175	7/11/2012	Funding
5176	7/11/2012	funding cuts
5177	7/11/2012	Poor funding.
5178	7/11/2012	being in an anti-knowledge culture
5179	7/11/2012	I'm rather unsure on this. All that comes to mind is taxpayers unwilling to pay for services.
5180	7/11/2012	Lack of resources and space constraints (some branches simply aren't big enough to handle the demand).

5181	7/11/2012	the internet - on line access. The same as the threat to newspapers
5182	7/11/2012	Funding and the general move away from bound books.
5183	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. There are other challenges, like the changing nature of reading material, but the library seems able to adapt to meet these challenges. It needs its own funding so it doesn't have to compete with all of the county's other responsibilities.
5184	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and public resistance to increased tax to support library. Some say E-books - but I they can not replace the value of a good local library.
5185	7/11/2012	People who wont pay taxes
5186	7/11/2012	Less and less people use the library for actual books and resources everything is at home or on their phone. Libraries have less relevance because people can use other things to read and research.
5187	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is the failure to adapt to changing times. The role of community libraries as the primary source of printed materials and a central location for knowledge and study is changing. With the surfeit of knowledge stored on the internet and the availability of electronic forms of text, printed books are seeing a reduced role. I think that the library as a community resource should focus more on community programs (especially for young children; establishing reading habits is more important than ever). Trying to maintain the fullest catalog of media--while an admirable goal--does not make sense at this point in time. Instead, the library should maintain a large core catalog and be able to provide information and guidance for those seeking items not in the catalog.
5188	7/11/2012	Lack of understanding from the community at large at the importance of library and the significance of the resources they provide for diverse groups.
5189	7/11/2012	People whose goal is just to cut taxes without considerations of what is important.
5190	7/11/2012	People who are selfish and don't want a small tax increase to support one of the most important things our government does - promote reading and education!
5191	7/11/2012	Being paid for by levies
5192	7/11/2012	underfunding
5193	7/11/2012	I don't know.
5194	7/11/2012	Being closed on Mondays instead of being closed on Sunday. I don't believe that there is more demand for library services on Sunday than there is on Monday.
5195	7/11/2012	We cannot plan to continually increase property taxes. This is not sustainable for schools, libraries, etc. There was the expectation that passing a funding levy would maintain services and now that funding has been passed services are cut anyway. With automated check-out and e-books it seems there should be some efficiencies that would reduce costs without cutting days and hours.

5196	7/11/2012	I'm mostly concerned about the fact that Portland seems to put little priority on education. And in particular equal education for all no matter ones income level. That has effected the quality and funding of our schools. Now it seems that also is effecting the lack of interest in making Libraries a priority in our city. Portland as a city tends to talk a lot about knowledge and schooling and Powell's books. But, if we don't provide a place for a wide spectrum of people to access knowledge and for children to be inspired to learn and adults can get information. What are we left with? A city catering to upper class white people? Oh wait, that is pretty much is how it goes here.
5197	7/11/2012	Public hostility because of Library policies on pornography access.
5198	7/11/2012	the stock market
5199	7/11/2012	Government.
5200	7/11/2012	Not sure
5201	7/11/2012	Too many issues related to taxes on the ballot this Nov.
5202	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5203	7/11/2012	This ranking is artificial to me. I have 3 children age 5 and under. We use the library a TON, but the most convenient thing for me is to put books/music/dvds on hold and go pick them up. I do appreciate the hours and we often spend time reading children's books, but the most important thing is to have a library that HAS books, media, access to electronic books (I use the Library 2 Go constantly as the mother of 3 young kids it is very hard to find time to read, but I can listen to audio books when I drive, exercise, nurse the baby or use the breastpump!). It is also important to provide books/electronic materials tc seniors or other citizens who physically can't get to the library. ☐ It is NOT as important, however, to pay for plastic prizes for summer reading, or even to be open every single day. All the bells and whistles programs are EXTRA and should only be paid for with surplus money. If you need to cut, cut those discretionary things, but do not cut on having the latest and greatest, state-of-the-art materials and electronic versions/search engines, etc. If people/parents are motivated, they will get what they need from having those things available more than offering free classes, programs, or plastic prizes for kids reading.
5204	7/11/2012	Funding
5205	7/11/2012	The County Commission not providing enough general fund money, due to urban renewal, enterprise zones and other tax give aways.
5206	7/11/2012	E-books, kindle app, less subscriptions to newspapers/magazines
5207	7/11/2012	lack of resources, cutting hours.
5208	7/11/2012	The high cost of PERS that takes so much of our tax money.
5209	7/11/2012	Not keeping up with digital information
5210	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
5211	7/11/2012	Not enough funding. Electronic devices instead of real books.

5212	7/11/2012	#5 is broken. #6 It would be threatening to only have evening or daytime hours since I can only make it in the evening. I need the computer availability and the online access to the database.
5213	7/11/2012	They are a very important of each community, for all ages, and need to remain available to all that use our libraries.
5214	7/11/2012	Lack of a job base that supports enough people who can pay the taxes needed to pay for all the services and materials.
5215	7/11/2012	Funding. The internet.
5216	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to keep libraries open and services available.
5217	7/11/2012	neglect
5218	7/11/2012	Not being current or having updated technology
5219	7/11/2012	Underfunding
5220	7/11/2012	I feel the biggest threat is the closing of some of the libraries. That would make it more difficult for mothers with young children as well as senior citizens to take advantage of this marvelous resource. The real threat is that people will not read as much and children will not be given the opportunity to explore the world of books.
5221	7/11/2012	I have concerns that the highly qualified staff might have to look for different employment if their hours are cut.
5222	7/11/2012	I haven't really thought about that, so I don't have an answer for you. I guess on some level I feel libraries are so important, on so many levels, that it's unimaginable to think they could be threatened. E-books might be a threat, but I think the bigger threat is having your funding come from tax dollars. As the economy and jobs continue to do poorly people are less apt to want to raise taxes on themselves.
5223	7/11/2012	STUPIDITY ON THE PART OF MANAGEMENT. WE ARE GETTING AWAY FROM THE DEFINITION OF LIBRARY: A PLACE WHERE BOOKS ARE KEPT FOR USE. SEE ANYTHING IN THAT ABOUT COMPUTERS? WHY NOT GET BACK TO BASICS?
5224	7/11/2012	Closing all together, not staying open everyday, and hour changes.
5225	7/11/2012	lack of funds
5226	7/11/2012	Not knowing what the hours of operation are.
5227	7/11/2012	Lack of education - people are less and less likely to be readers these days.
5228	7/11/2012	Electronic books and not maintaining the library resources

5229	7/11/2012	the man
5230	7/11/2012	The survey didn't work. I cannot rate question 5, as the machine keeps the same set as soon as I ticked my number one choice
5231	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and landsharks (they might come and eat the books).
5232	7/11/2012	Modern media and technology, kindles etc.
5233	7/11/2012	mis appropriated funding; poor accessibility communication for public use information; value prioritization
5234	7/11/2012	Not being open sufficient hours/days to be a reliable resource for community members.
5235	7/11/2012	People who don't read, and don't value any print longer than a text message.
5236	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5237	7/11/2012	That we are paying for quite a few employees to not work very hard and we are also in a time when programs simply have to be cut back or even more of us will be losing our homes due to exorbitant taxes. This city is full of young, intelligent people who are renting. They're oblivious to the effect of increased property taxes. Bit by bit by bit through the years taxes go up for the library and for other services, yet we see waste everywhere. You don't even offer the option above of, "All branches and Central Library open AT MOST six days a week." Yet, I'm sure if I check that one instead of 7 days, you'll present it as us wanting the library open AT LEAST six days a week. You've built up mistrust.
5238	7/11/2012	Money or lack thereof. Duh
5239	7/11/2012	People don't understand how important libraries are and so they don't give them enough funding.
5240	7/11/2012	having it be closed, especially if the closure happens for there being a shortage of resources and funding after the people had all thought that they had passed the election issue FOR library funding when they voted for it recently..
5241	7/11/2012	Looks like funding :(Maybe electronic books. Would be nice to see the library loan open format books for the kindle and other devices (mobi etc).
5242	7/11/2012	the internet and electronic world. Books and other resources are easily accessible on the internet and through other electronic sources. I think this will deplete a lot of the resources the library now offers.
5243	7/11/2012	I'm not sure I understand this question, but I'd probably say losing funding
5244	7/11/2012	Budget cuts that would decrease availability.
5245	7/11/2012	Lack of steady funding.
5246	7/11/2012	Not sure
5247	7/11/2012	The library needs to attract more teenagers and young adults to keep it viable in the future.....Why not ask them (teenagers and young adults,,,,,,,,,,,,,what would attract them and how they see themselves using the library.....
5248	7/11/2012	Digital material available to check out online makes the physical building irrelevant for me now. Love it!! More budget should go towards digital offerings.

5249	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding.
5250	7/11/2012	decreasing hours and programs due to budgetary constraints
5251	7/11/2012	don't know
5252	7/11/2012	access to books and information on the internet
5253	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5254	7/11/2012	Too many demands on public money, making people choose between two things they value.
5255	7/11/2012	too many paid staff
5256	7/11/2012	money i imagine
5257	7/11/2012	lack of budget to keep them open
5258	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and resources I would guess.
5259	7/11/2012	People who don't appreciate that our library is a critical community element.
5260	7/11/2012	Funding
5261	7/11/2012	Financial support to stay w/ the times in regards to information accessibility.
5262	7/11/2012	Funding. Funding. Funding. Perhaps also the perception that while technology advances books become obsolete.
5263	7/11/2012	Slow death of print media
5264	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
5265	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5266	7/11/2012	I would imagine it is inadequate funding.
5267	7/11/2012	Inconsistent funding.
5268	7/11/2012	Lack of finances and the shortsightedness of those who don't realize the importance of the library system to health of this country.
5269	7/11/2012	Lack of money?
5270	7/11/2012	Not enough Funding
5271	7/11/2012	Hopefully, not closure. Smaller libraries are ties that hold the community together. The smaller they are the more important they are.
5272	7/11/2012	I'm not sure, but it is probably funding. There are few resources left around that are not controlled by money, business, and large corporations. The library is open to all, is free, and a place where everyone is treated equally and has equal access to information. Library funding should be a priority for our community.
5273	7/11/2012	Competition for funding? anti-tax initiatives[] []
5274	7/11/2012	employee pensions (I'm an old Democrat, but in tight times even unions need to give a little)[] [] privatization

5275	7/11/2012	Not enough money , need more volunteers, possibly some of the retired community could volunteer a few hours a week to work to keep the library open .
5276	7/11/2012	Lack of funds
5277	7/11/2012	not being open
5278	7/11/2012	Ebooks
5279	7/11/2012	lack of funds
5280	7/11/2012	Not sure
5281	7/11/2012	Ebooks. Lack of funding. Low reading comprehension, people not reading as much, and people having increasingly short attention spans.
5282	7/11/2012	Lack of interest and willingness to fund.
5283	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and aging buildings.
5284	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5285	7/11/2012	Loss of funding. The library provides so many valuable services to the community and it would be a tragedy if it suffered even more for lack of funding.
5286	7/11/2012	Limited financial resources.
5287	7/11/2012	lack of community support (funding)
5288	7/11/2012	No funding
5289	7/11/2012	Electronic media and electronic devices (kids aren't encouraged to read!)
5290	7/11/2012	Our economy which is threatened by outsourcing of American jobs.
5291	7/11/2012	People who don't think libraries are important. People who think everything is going electronic.
5292	7/11/2012	Closure! Electronic books replacing hand-held books.
5293	7/11/2012	Theft of books and videos.
5294	7/11/2012	closing
5295	7/11/2012	computers!!! do we need so many? kids dont need so many game computers!!! computers should be restricted to almost only practical uses!!!
5296	7/11/2012	Jeff Cogen's fumble about the library district has really thrown the library off course. The library needs secure funding -- and apparently it would be good for it to be free of the county commission!
5297	7/11/2012	Apathy from those who most need the resources --
5298	7/11/2012	Gross misuse of tax dollars. It seems to me that sufficient funds are being collected, but that those in charge of budgeting and allocating funds are not doing so in efficient manner. I think the libraries have fallen victim to government wastefulness. Our libraries are very important to our communities. It frustrates me that we are always having to beg for funds to keep them open. They should be a priority, but until our governing bodies learn to create realistic budgets and then adhere to them, I'm afraid we will always be begging for money. More libraries, fewer bike lanes.
5299	7/11/2012	money
5300	7/11/2012	Lack of funding risks closing branches or cutting down on available materials.

5301	7/11/2012	Regressive tax structures. Lack of real taxes for corporations. []
5302	7/11/2012	Misspending on remodeling and technology upgrades. No threats, best to spend and plan within the means that are allocated so you don't get overstretched beyond resources available--libraries are great!
5303	7/11/2012	Cutting back on available hours
5304	7/11/2012	Funding, we need libraries.
5305	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5306	7/11/2012	Short term political budgets and seeming loss of relevance. There is very poor advertising about functions other than having books and a wide variety of quality related to these additional services. This inconsistency makes it hard to keep people engaged or excited about the next opportunity.
5307	7/11/2012	Lack of funding causing cutbacks in hours, staff and materials.
5308	7/11/2012	Under funding, we need even more services & and keep updating the technology.
5309	7/11/2012	funding
5310	7/11/2012	funding being taken away from the library
5311	7/11/2012	Fear
5312	7/11/2012	Short-sighted mentality in politics, lack of funding
5313	7/11/2012	Money to continue in a full way.
5314	7/11/2012	Overspending and obstinately pressing the WORKING TAXPAYERS for more funds and operating levies. Taxpayers are tired, maxed out, broke, and 4 years into a depression. But government keeps coming to the well, and are very devious in getting the NON-TAXPAYERS to vote to spend OTHER PEOPLES MONEY. At some point, either enough taxpayers will move out of the state, or they will get fed up and start voting NO to every government program.
5315	7/11/2012	Although I ranked 7 day a week a lower priority, I actually feel all 6 are critically important to a thriving community. I think the biggest threat is those who consider libraries to be a non-essential luxury with no understanding on how many rely on their community library for life resources or worse don't feel it necessary to provide our neighbors with help resources in a safe environment. These are the people who will not to want pay any more tax because they do not use.
5316	7/11/2012	Limited hours
5317	7/11/2012	Unstable funding.
5318	7/11/2012	Lack of support and recognition for what the library represents for poor and working class folks who otherwise would not have access to books or computers.
5319	7/11/2012	Cutting back hours
5320	7/11/2012	seems like lack of funding
5321	7/11/2012	Stable funding! Our libraries need to know they can stay open and not have budget crunches every few years.

5322	7/11/2012	Lack of societal concern Lack of community funding
5323	7/11/2012	It would be great if there could be a way to support the library system without rapping the property tax paying families who are barely getting by.
5324	7/11/2012	Our libraries enjoy tremendous community support. Funding could be an issue but it was not clear that supporting the latest bond measure would result in reductions in service/hours.
5325	7/11/2012	Economy Not keeping up with new books on the market.
5326	7/11/2012	 And I can't read an ebook in the time given. Longer check out times for those are needed.
5327	7/11/2012	Resource overload: having too many volumes, whether print or electronic, without staff who can effectively curate the materials.
5328	7/11/2012	Keeping them open as much as the budget will allow. Tax payers must pay in order to keep them open as much as we want.
5329	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5330	7/11/2012	Advancement of technology and lack of funding
5331	7/11/2012	Funding.
5332	7/11/2012	Continued lack of funding!
5333	7/11/2012	loss of materials
5334	7/11/2012	Cutbacks to the point where there are not enough staff /materials to make it worthwhile to go
5335	7/11/2012	The possible decline of the value of the printed book. Reducing staff, shortening hours, closing completely. The funding is critical and it's a real drag we are in this boat year after year. Another threat is how few people seem to know how dire the situation is. Why is this? Is this another funding issue-- there's not enough money to publicize the problems?
5336	7/11/2012
5337	7/11/2012	Loss of funding
5338	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
5339	7/11/2012	Funding.
5340	7/11/2012	Trying to provide funding for and encourage interest in print media even though so much is available in digital form.
5341	7/11/2012	cutting hours, I feel like the continually decreased hours have made the library much less accessible for busy people The question 5 was tough.
5342	7/11/2012	 Lack of funding.
5343	7/11/2012	Lack of funding will kill the libraries. Most people will not have access to a lot of resources needed, especially students and the low income group.
5344	7/11/2012	Funding to keep libraries open during hours that are helpful and relevant to families.

5345	7/11/2012	Little funding.
5346	7/11/2012	It seems to me that the biggest threat to our local libraries is the lack of funding. I can't see a time when people will ever stop needing libraries. They enhance the quality of our lives. If they aren't there, the communities will be lacking.
5347	7/11/2012	Lack of awareness regarding the opportunities (classes, etc), and ease of use (website for searching for materials and placing holds). Hello? No money! ☹
5348	7/11/2012	If people don't think the library is useful, that's because they have no idea what you offer. Why are you not out at local events, showcasing your services? You should have a rotating booth at Saturday Market, all of our Farmer's Markets, neighborhood grocery stores. People who have no idea about the fabulous services and access that is provided with a library card.
5349	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
5350	7/11/2012	A voting population that doesn't value free access to print- and web-based media, and that doesn't recognize the importance of programs to increase both traditional and technological literacy skills regardless of income or background.
5351	7/11/2012	Closing. The library should be a community center.
5352	7/11/2012	people holding the purse strings don't understand the importance & significance of the library in our community
5353	7/11/2012	Lack of necessary funding and ignorance. I fully support a library district, but have concerns that current proposals aren't asking for enough money to fund the library adequately into the future.
5354	7/11/2012	First, I'd like the libraries open 7 days a week, but I'm willing to give that up in order to save other programs. I think a threat is not having state-of-the art resources and technology and not being able to maintain broad, up-to-date collections. I worry about staff losing hours and jobs.
5355	7/11/2012	Budget cuts; people not being able to get transportation to library; loss in interest in print media
5356	7/11/2012	Apathy? Austerity? I feel like the demand for libraries is thriving and the willingness to fund the local library system is there as demonstrated by the overwhelming support behind the passage of the recent library ballot measure. I guess I don't know enough about the big picture to pinpoint the biggest threat. Maybe we need to rally some funding to create an endowment for the library. I know there are millionaires and businesses in Portland that might be willing to throw down some cash/donate a portion of sales. New Seasons? Eileen Brady? The Schnitzers? Can we do a Kickstarter?
5357	7/11/2012	I suspect it's funding, given the financial challenges that all government services are facing.
5358	7/11/2012	lack of funds
5359	7/11/2012	lack of money
5360	7/11/2012	Lack of literacy in the community.
5361	7/11/2012	Continued budget cuts

5362	7/11/2012	Too few hours and not enough material. PLEASE NOTE THAT THE RANK ORDERING OPTION IN QUESTION 5 DOESN'T WORK. NO MATTER WHAT I DID IT NUMBERED 1-6 IN ORDER
5363	7/11/2012	Curtailing their resources to attract taxpayer attention, rather than taking austerity measures at the upper admin levels. Also, fallaciously designed surveys such as this one: "at least six days" is a flawed option, as it's not an acceptable alternative to seven days per week, and it skews the results, irrespective of where it's placed. Patrons aren't as ignorant as we're thought to be.
5364	7/11/2012	Budget cuts I guess or we wouldn't need this survey. In a more pragmatic sense, I suppose things like kindle or a dwindling interest in reading in the next generation. With all the distractions kids are inundated with these days, it is amazing you can get them to sit still to do anything let alone read or listen. I also think it is the lack of understanding that libraries are more than just books, but movies, CD's, online reading, computer access, community, sharing of ideas, and more. If you ask my dad, it is his need to own everything he reads, but really we all "own" the library. He just wants his own things. That type of option is also a threat.
5365	7/11/2012	Lack of secured funding
5366	7/11/2012	Lack of hours. This prevents people from being involved with the library. When this happens people forget how important it is.
5367	7/11/2012	1)Maintaining technology; 2)people taking it for granted and not caring that its there.
5368	7/11/2012	Apparently funding. Is that largely due to the cost of health care?
5369	7/11/2012	Republicans.
5370	7/11/2012	Funding! Officials are trying to make do with budget cuts, but DON"TARGET OUR LIBRARIES!!!! Belmont library is like my second home!
5371	7/11/2012	Funding threats
5372	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5373	7/11/2012	Funding?
5374	7/11/2012	lack of funding? that is a guess...
5375	7/11/2012	General maintance
5376	7/11/2012	loss of future readers in the young people. Then possibly theft.[] I did not mention loss of funding as I dont see that as an option.
5377	7/11/2012	It's hard to locate the book that you want.
5378	7/11/2012	Lack of funds
5379	7/11/2012	Underfunding
5380	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5381	7/11/2012	Funding to keep materials new and current.
5382	7/11/2012	Decreased funding
5383	7/11/2012	Closing
5384	7/11/2012	Online books and resources.

5385	7/11/2012	The Internet making almost everything in terms of textbooks available to the general public. Because of this, many might not see the need to visit their local library for access to books and other research or fun material.
5386	7/11/2012	Unstable funding and anti-intellectualism on the right.
5387	7/11/2012	Decrease in services due to ever increasing costs and level or decreasing tax funds. Let's face it: the two primary funding sources are property taxes and the state income tax, with an emphasis on raising property taxes -- but you can only raise property taxes so high (this isn't New York, you know). A sales tax would be a good first step toward rectifying this situation, but I know that isn't going to happen in this state.
5388	7/11/2012	Reducing days open
5389	7/11/2012	No money - no regular funding. This levy business is ridiculous. We need permanent tax dollar support.
5390	7/11/2012	loss of funding. republicans.
5391	7/11/2012	Lack of understanding of the importance of libraries to the general population, which seems to result in unwillingness of legislatures to fund them adequately. Along with the schools they are the most important foundation of democracy, and people just don't seem to get that.
5392	7/11/2012	Lack of funds which cause days and hours to be limited. With limited days and hours, people often aren't sure when the library is open, or it isn't open when they need it, so people get out of the habit of using the library and I believe overall usage will gradually drop -- just like with a restaurant or store that isn't open enough regular hours that people can depend on it being open..
5393	7/11/2012	I would hate to see branches close.
5394	7/11/2012	Lack of serviceable hours and locations
5395	7/11/2012	In my view, the risk is that the library try to do too many things, thus spreading itself too thin. In this case, the funding will not be sufficient, and none of the endeavors will be excellent. Of course, once an institution provides any service, people will become accustomed to it and advocate for its continuance. I would suggest that the library really assess what is it that libraries are meant to do at their core, and to focus on providing that at an excellent level. There are often other resources out there for the enhanced services, even though the library may also be good at them.
5396	7/11/2012	1 lack of govt funding obviously. 2 majority of public, doesn't use and therefore fully appreciate/value services.
5397	7/11/2012	Decreased funding, hurting public access to its resources.
5398	7/11/2012	That the libraries may close permantely.
5399	7/11/2012	Not keeping up with new media -- electronic books vs. paper.
5400	7/11/2012	Funding.
5401	7/11/2012	Labor costs
5402	7/11/2012	E-Readers, tablets and books online
5403	7/11/2012	Lack of funding

5404	7/11/2012	Funding deficits and loss of staff.
5405	7/11/2012	lack of use
5406	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5407	7/11/2012	Government greed and misappropriated funds
5408	7/11/2012	I don't see any threat, as long as taxpayers are willing to keep them operating.
5409	7/11/2012	not enough money
5410	7/11/2012	Cutting hours and closing libraries
5411	7/11/2012	You are attempting too much. Having a story hour is fine! I think very important to parents who support the library! I think you could be open 7 days a week, and cut costs! Do away with your computers! They are in the schools & Community Colleges. Do the old 'Book Mobiles' to senior centers! Maybe also close a few branches; & do a book mobile in those areas if usage is down. Rockwood; should be renamed!
5412	7/11/2012	lack of funding for staff and materials
5413	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5414	7/11/2012	People not understanding the value of public libraries, even if they don't (or rarely) use them themselves.
5415	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
5416	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5417	7/11/2012	We never like any tax increasing for library budget. I am struggling to pay my bill. If library fund is based on tax increasing, it is better to closed all. After all, we can not eat books to survive.
5418	7/11/2012	Funding and voters not fully valuing the presence of this community based resource in our community
5419	7/11/2012	Reliance on web-based access to materials and entertainment
5420	7/11/2012	Low tax revenues and low priority of education & education-related institutions like the library. Without an excellent library, a city cannot be excellent.
5421	7/11/2012	lack of money
5422	7/11/2012	Lack of funding[] Book worms :)
5423	7/11/2012	E-books. A lot of people are into book-buying rather than borrowing from the library. Still, there are great programs worth attending and the number and quality of books is great. One of our hurdles is that we don't have a library within walking distance. We could still bike there, but it does play into our decision making.
5424	7/11/2012	Lack of awareness of the community about the importance of a highly functioning library to every age group and every socio-economic level.
5425	7/11/2012	Lack of continued funding support.
5426	7/11/2012	lack of funding over the long term
5427	7/11/2012	Defunding.

5428	7/11/2012	fundibng problems that reduce hours and staffing.
5429	7/11/2012	Not sure, but maybe budget cuts would be the greatest risk.
5430	7/11/2012	Mitt Romney
5431	7/11/2012	too much overhead cost. The internet.
5432	7/11/2012	Budget cuts I would imagine. I can't imagine having grown up without a library, and even though I have a tablet and smartphone that I can read books on, I still love having a physical book to read.
5433	7/11/2012	not sure
5434	7/11/2012	I'm not sure. Ebooks maybe?
5435	7/11/2012	People who are unwilling to pay taxes!
5436	7/11/2012	lack of adequate funding
5437	7/11/2012	Cutting of hours. ---- Also a bit worried about keeping the 'hard copy' book collection current and large.
5438	7/11/2012	lenguages exchange
5439	7/11/2012	Technology - Books are becoming something of the past.....to keep readership up you will need to provide more electronic versions for a large portion of the population. Still, sadly, there are those who cannot afford technology, and they need somewhere to access it as well....the Public Library...yeah!
5440	7/11/2012	Funding cuts and illiteracy/a population of non-users.
5441	7/11/2012	Lack of personal involvement with the process of keeping them up and running.
5442	7/11/2012	Not being current in technology and in books.
5443	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding
5444	7/11/2012	People thinking libraries have to do everything...
5445	7/11/2012	The inauthenticity of politicians who are willing to fund their pet projects rather than the most valuable services to the community.
5446	7/11/2012	anti-tax advocates

		Obviously according to you it is funding. But you walk into the library and there are employees standing around trying to look busy - but not succeeding. You ask for advise, you are referred from one to the next and so on, and no one knows the answer. Particularly with checking out our own books, these people do nothing and then you are cutting hours and wanting more money? What for? []
		[]
		You have e-books available - can anyone tell me how to program them into my Kindle?[]
		I need to do some genealogy, but there are set times to use the computer and are there any available? Not without sitting and waiting in line and then there are a certain amount of minutes to use it. []
5447	7/11/2012	[]
		I'm not happy about this latest cut in hours, especially when we were uninformed. There are lots of students who rely on the library to help them with homework and studies. Seniors who use it as a place to get out and about, borrow books that they can't buy. Lots of folks for which it is a preferable place to be, than on the street or at home. What is wrong with you people? []
		[]
		One more thing - is it only the property taxpayers that have to fund the library? And in doing so, we are paying for all the employees, the ones who stand around, and are we paying PERS/retirement benefits for each one too? How much more are you going to demand from us, by simply closing the doors? The Library belongs to the people, and we are already Expending resources to entertain the masses is the biggest threat to libraries. Public libraries should be a repository of information for those who want to improve the themselves and thereby our community. Providing a refuge to the income challenged to hangout and play games online for free probably weakens their resolve to be productive, civic minded, tax payers.
5448	7/11/2012
5449	7/11/2012	Another tax increase.
5450	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
5451	7/11/2012	Funding seems to be a struggle to get, judging from recent articles in the local popular press.
5452	7/11/2012	I'm not really sure.
		Failure to stay relevant by not keeping a changing inventory of media and books. Long time users have specific interests but will loose interest after reading or using the limited items at the branch. There should be a better way to navigate the library sites for current material.
5453	7/11/2012
5454	7/11/2012	Lack of understanding - why is there declining budget and reduced hours?
5455	7/11/2012	Funds being diverted to other projects
5456	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
5457	7/11/2012	No funding.
5458	7/11/2012	Cuts to funding. Privatization, without a doubt.
5459	7/11/2012	libertarian greed = funding cuts
5460	7/11/2012	Lack of consistent funding.
5461	7/11/2012	I am not sure.
5462	7/11/2012	more reduction of hours

5463	7/11/2012	Adequate finance
5464	7/11/2012	Loss of funding for purchase of new materials or leading to branch closures/shortened hours
5465	7/11/2012	Closures due to inadequate funding.
5466	7/11/2012	Lack of funding? Please go ahead and tax me, I am more than happy to pay more than I currently am to fund our awesome library system.
5467	7/11/2012	Tough for me to pick between making resources available to everyone (small children AND elderly) and people turning to their computers instead of their local library. It seems like there are already programs in place to make the library material accessible to all ages, so I am going to go with meeting the needs of citizens in the computer age. I am so glad that I can now check out Kindle books, however I rarely do because you have only purchased a couple versions of each book so it can take several months for a title to become available. I would suggest purchasing more electronic copies as these are a one time purchase that will never be lost, stolen, or damaged. No lose.
5468	7/11/2012	? Lack of public support==appreciation of ideas, mostly written here, but also speakers, leading to research, books, papers..... and lack of secure funding with public support.
5469	7/11/2012	Censorship
5470	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
5471	7/11/2012	Underfunding
5472	7/11/2012	decreased funding
5473	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5474	7/11/2012	duh, lack of funding!
5475	7/11/2012	lack of funding.
5476	7/11/2012	The internet.
5477	7/11/2012	Funding! Our librarians were replaced with silly machines that are somewhat sloppy to use. We love our Librarians!
5478	7/11/2012	Spending too much money on buildings, losing voter support, and underfunding books, hours and people. How can you open all seven days w/o increasing the budget? That is what we are all needing to figure out how to do, like it or not.
5479	7/11/2012	People losing interest in printed books.
5480	7/11/2012	funding
5481	7/11/2012	I am always concerned when I see every few years that voters have to approve new funding measures for the libraries, as I worry that household economic hardships will cause people to vote against funding. I feel that this would be a tragedy. We need a stable funding base for the libraries that does not have to be approved by voters every few years and be subject to the economic ups and downs. Libraries are one of the most important public institutions that we have.
5482	7/11/2012	Not sure. Illiteracy? But definitely lack of knowledge on how to use the library is a big threat.
5483	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
5484	7/11/2012	lack of funding

5485	7/11/2012	The chintzy outlook of a lot Portland, epitomized by the mantra "no new taxes".
5486	7/11/2012	Impersonalization of learning and knowledge by overuse of technology.
5487	7/11/2012	Lack of funds. Don't think the facilities will ever go unused or unappreciated.
5488	7/11/2012	budget cuts
5489	7/11/2012	computer reading. texting. funding. illiteracy. short attention span of americans.
5490	7/11/2012	Reduced funding!
5491	7/11/2012	Other sources to get information that may not be accurate. Information provided by library that is not true or severely limited.
5492	7/11/2012	Funding
5493	7/11/2012	Health care, PERS costs, criminal justice (including prisons). It is a guess, but I think these costs are squeezing the tax base so much that libraries, parks, and many other important aspects of our civic life are being crowded out.
5494	7/11/2012	Funding
5495	7/11/2012	The possibility that misinformation about privatization will be believed and acted upon. [] [] The framing of public services as burdens on the citizenry rather than investments that pay long term dividends is a powerful idea that undermines confidence in the institutions that manage the public services. [] [] The library and similar public goods and services providers need to get a little more proactive and sophisticated about knowing the moral foundations that justify their existence and communicating with the public from those foundations.
5496	7/11/2012	Less interests in public educational level.
5497	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5498	7/11/2012	Irrelevance due to free or very cheap digital media.
5499	7/11/2012	possibly theft
5500	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5501	7/11/2012	Don't know.
5502	7/11/2012	obviously lack of funding.
5503	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5504	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5505	7/11/2012	People not taking advantage of the opportunities the local libraries offer!
5506	7/11/2012	Apathy
5507	7/11/2012	funding
5508	7/11/2012	Mismanagement, theft, and PERS.
5509	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5510	7/11/2012	Funding

5511	7/11/2012	don't know
5512	7/11/2012	People who do not value knowledge and education- or services that benefit the community as a whole.
5513	7/11/2012	Inconsistent funding.
5514	7/11/2012	not sure how to answer this question.
5515	7/11/2012	If the voting public doesn't realize how important libraries are, the levies won't get passed.
5516	7/11/2012	Funding-it needs to be a priority, so much tax money is wasted, if it were used more judiciously there would be money for these educational programs.
5517	7/11/2012	Lack of funds
5518	7/11/2012	closure
5519	7/11/2012	lack of funding; ignorance about the vital role they play
5520	7/11/2012	Internet and ebooks. Funding.
5521	7/11/2012	Loss of hours, budget cuts...I dunno?
5522	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5523	7/11/2012	Staying relevant in an electronic age
5524	7/11/2012	I don't know.
5525	7/11/2012	Funding?
5526	7/11/2012	Becoming obsolete and therefore unused
5527	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
5528	7/11/2012	Gangs. Punk kids. No filters on the internet. Safe area dor kids.
5529	7/11/2012	lack of funding to maintain this precious community resource.
5530	7/11/2012	the public taking library services for granted.
5531	7/11/2012	For the younger generation not having enough opportunity to explore reading.
5532	7/11/2012	So many people seem to have forgotten the feeling of holding a real book in their hands. Last time I flew on a plane I was the only person for rows reading from a real book. I find it quite alarming.[] (Though I also see online books, available through the library, an option for people in this electronic era.)
5533	7/11/2012	Biggest threat = The public's perception that public libraries are becoming irrelevant and therefore shouldn't be funded.
5534	7/11/2012	I am not sure.
5535	7/11/2012	Lack of resources
5536	7/11/2012	The internet and ebooks.
5537	7/11/2012	The Tea Party!
5538	7/11/2012	Thinking that libraries aren't a critical and essential service to the community
5539	7/11/2012	Loss of funding, resources, people knowing what these funding sources are and what kind of resources libraries provide.
5540	7/11/2012	lack of funding. On-line books.

5541	7/11/2012	Funding deficits.
5542	7/11/2012	Not having enough access due to budget cuts
5543	7/11/2012	Republicans.
5544	7/11/2012	Being replaced by all digital assets. Not sure if this is even a threat. I have been going to the library less now that I can loan books on my kindle.
5545	7/11/2012	a capitalist government. losing hours of operation and resources are both significant threats.
5546	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is the minority who do not use library and do not understand that it is a vital part of the community as a social hub, learning hub, place for homeless to use resources, place to use a variety of materials, place to have access to people who can point you in the right direction for information.
5547	7/11/2012	Haviing No hours...being shut down
5548	7/11/2012	I am not able to "rank" importance (above) due to computer problem. My fear for our local libraries include not having enough educational programs and having them open enough days/hours.
5549	7/11/2012	Citizens who do not realize the assets and the priviledge of public libraries.
5550	7/11/2012	I don't know.
5551	7/11/2012	losing funding
5552	7/11/2012	I'm not aware of any threat to our local library. This community is lavish in its support of libraries.
5553	7/11/2012	No stable source of funding. It needs to a priority. We have a library system with the about 3rd highest circulation in the country. Multnomah County residents depend on the libraries being open, well-stocked and stably funded. Temporary levies are not sufficient. Tax is an inflammatory word, but we need a steady tax to fund our libraries.
5554	7/11/2012	Books going digital
5555	7/11/2012	Apathy.
5556	7/11/2012	Taxpayers voting to cut funding/ apathy.
5557	7/11/2012	Wasted money spent on paying people to read to toddlers. I am a mother and I think it should be a parent's job, not poor use of tax payers money
5558	7/11/2012	?
5559	7/11/2012	Lack of finances
5560	7/11/2012	Lack of trust in library management. Lack of funding.
5561	7/11/2012	they keep getting rid of old classics
5562	7/11/2012	Lack of money.
5563	7/11/2012	funding

5564	7/11/2012	I don't know. I guess it's budget since you're having us take this survey.[] Maybe it's these Kindle things - I hate them myself. Kids should appreciate the joy that books can bring - color, pictures, how the pages feel, what the cover looks like, etc. Much better than looking at another screen.
5565	7/11/2012	Tax cutting anti government sentiment.
5566	7/11/2012	Not being funded to offer all that it offers now.
5567	7/11/2012	Lack of Funding
5568	7/11/2012	The growing demand for computer driven media. It's a very tough task master.
5569	7/11/2012	Reducing the days of the week it is open - it's a slippery slope, once a day of the week is eliminated, it is hard to get it back.
5570	7/11/2012	complacency: "ah, it's always been there. probably always will be."
5571	7/11/2012	??
5572	7/11/2012	The taxpayers. The lack of a sales tax.
5573	7/11/2012	inadequate funding - and i might add, threatened libraries absolutely threaten the nation in so many ways.
5574	7/11/2012	I'm guessing, but my biggest fear is that at some point people will believe that the libraries are expendable, and will try to eliminate them altogether. I'm shocked at how some people believe that the internet can somehow replace library's content. CRAZINESS! I think many people also don't understand the sheer amount of resources available only through the library (out of print material, research material, etc.) Access to free information and knowledge is precious and should always remain to ensure an educated population.
5575	7/11/2012	Cutting open hours back too far. Not realizing the importance of the education that the general public receive from libraries.
5576	7/11/2012	apathy and lack of funding
5577	7/11/2012	Competing levy priorities such as funding PPS replacement bonds. Jobs for those within the tax base.
5578	7/11/2012	Continued economic malaise which impacts public finances.
5579	7/11/2012	Money
5580	7/11/2012	Funding
5581	7/11/2012	Don't know
5582	7/11/2012	Poor selection of materials and books leading to poor prioritized spending.
5583	7/11/2012	People who don't believe that educating one raises us all; those who feel each individual deserves only as much education as she/he can afford.
5584	7/11/2012	google and video entertainment, short-sighted bureaucracy
5585	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
5586	7/11/2012	Funding
5587	7/11/2012	not keeping up with new books and wide range of materials

5588	7/11/2012	Poor economy.
5589	7/11/2012	Funding. Politicians.[]
5590	7/11/2012	[] People not knowing what a great thing we've got going.
5591	7/11/2012	unemployment
5592	7/11/2012	People who do not read (for recreation or checking out books for school use) not realizing how much many people appreciate and use the libraries.
5593	7/11/2012	Services being cut due to under use and lack of promotion. Getting the word out about what the library does helps community members understand why funding the library is important. Hopefully the libraries in the under served areas aren't the branches that are losing services and hours. That would be the biggest threat to our community.
5594	7/11/2012	Funding
5595	7/11/2012	not enough funding[] electronic readers such as Kindles
5596	7/11/2012	I don't know Insufficient funding. My concern is that as a senior on a fixed income, I will be nickled and dined to death by various municipalities as budget shortfalls continue.. I would love to see the library services remain "free" and not susceptible to fees, but that may very well happen.[]
5597	7/11/2012	[] I am also concerned that I just voted for the continuation of the bond levy. Now, I understand that there will be efforts made for a more stable funding through a separate library district.tax. I would like to see a minimum level of taxes levied as long as the bond levy is in effect. If such language is not included in the propoasal for a library district, I will not support that. The economy+Kevin Mannix & co. A huge percentage of state funds are going to prisons, and we have no income from sales tax. The right wing wants to run the state into the ground. Meanwhile we have so many people without jobs and resources, who desperately need a good library system.[]
5598	7/11/2012	[] First priority is full hours, six days a week. Limited hours six days is too hard for working folks. If you can get full hours six days, I'd put seven days last. Second priority is having current materials (including large print and audiobooks for accessibility), but frankly I'd much rather see the library fund programs for jobseekers, ELL folks, kids and seniors than sponsor paid search engines or put money into the e-book system. Those are luxuries compared with the rest, and I speak as a researcher who uses them.
5599	7/11/2012	ebooks!!!
5600	7/11/2012	Lack of public funding?
5601	7/11/2012	Budget cuts

5602	7/11/2012	Lack of funds.
5603	7/11/2012	Don't know.
5604	7/11/2012	Reduced hours
5605	7/11/2012	Funding and the cost of new technologies
5606	7/11/2012	The shrinking number of readers.
5607	7/11/2012	Lack of funds.
5608	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5609	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding
5610	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Possibly e-books, but we're not sure if this has impacted the library yet. It seems that it will, considering the impact they've had on bookstores. I understand funding is key!
5611	7/11/2012	But if the library was open 5 days a week, I'd adjust my going there & schedule accordingly! I have been to libraries in other states that were open 5 days with one as a half day & it worked
5612	7/11/2012	Not being able to buy enough new books. Not being able to fund denough edicated, high quality staff.
5613	7/11/2012	Funding; however, I personally think theft of materials is a problem.
5614	7/11/2012	Budget
5615	7/11/2012	Technology that reduces need for hard copy books.
5616	7/11/2012	Technology.
5617	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5618	7/11/2012	Non use
5619	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5620	7/11/2012	I think the Multnomah Library demonstrates a good ability to adapt to our changing world. I think a big threat is if future generations aren't taught to love reading and the library. Funding seems the obvious answer, but really it's values. We fund what we value. With technology and ebooks so readily available, I hope libraries continue to stay a priority for our community. As someone who loves real books, I hope we continue to love our libraries!
5621	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, and therefore appropriate staffing and access to materials.
5622	7/11/2012	Internet, e-books. Also taxpayers failing to see the big picture, just wanting to reduce taxes without thinking of community impact.
5623	7/11/2012	Closure and short hours
5624	7/11/2012	The way that funding is tied to property taxes.
5625	7/11/2012	LACK OF MONEY
5626	7/11/2012	Money?
5627	7/11/2012	Not enough government funding.
5628	7/11/2012	BUDGET CUTS!
5629	7/11/2012

5630	7/11/2012	I don't know. I thought we approved the financing for the libraries at the recent election, so I don't understand the problem. assume the threat is the Tea Party and/or the Republicans who want to divert the money to something else.
5631	7/11/2012	lack of money
5632	7/11/2012	Funding cuts! I believe all of the above items are incredibly important to the library. It is something we should value and fund as a community.
5633	7/11/2012	Becoming out-of-date and irrelevant. Yes, I know that requires money. Loss of staff and resource people to assist patrons in accessing library resources.
5634	7/11/2012	Shutting them down.
5635	7/11/2012	funding and theft
5636	7/11/2012	Maldistribution of public funds.
5637	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, poor management. If expensive programs do not provide a strong ROI, then cut it. The most important feature is good facilities, with access to current materials and resources.
5638	7/11/2012	Besides funding?
5639	7/11/2012	Not being open the hours needed and not having some of the more current materials to reach out to readers.
5640	7/11/2012	lack of funding, overuse by unclean people driving away broader use
5641	7/11/2012	Lack of knowledge about what library provides. inefficient tax structure, people who don't use library and dislike government
5642	7/11/2012	Ignorance
5643	7/11/2012	Illiteracy. Many people erroneously think that the Internet and other computer-related information feeds have made books and magazines, and by extensions libraries obsolete or redundant. The result is a growing segment of the population that does not realize how the inability to read/listen critically is condemning them to eventual second-class citizenship.[] This is not a Luddite diatribe against computers; I make my living with those and automation logics.[] I believe that if people knew more about the active roles that libraries have in information technology, the libraries would receive more political support; the pols may listen to their constituencies (we can hope).
5644	7/11/2012	Corporations.
5645	7/11/2012	Not being open during after work hours
5646	7/11/2012	our biggest threat is lack of funding and reduced hours.
5647	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5648	7/11/2012	Funding issues - somehow not all of us understand the need to pay for these services that benefit the entire community.
5649	7/11/2012	Hours being cut. Everyone is busy, and we need our local branches to be open when we have the time to use them.

		Trying to maintain and keep current too many branch libraries given the funding limitations.
5650	7/11/2012	6 days a week scheduling is perfectly acceptable, closing a few libraries to keep the remaining ones current and serviceable is also acceptable.
5651	7/11/2012	stable funding
5652	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding. It is imperative that our youth have access to books research materials and computers so that they will have a strong base from which to learn throughout their life.
5653	7/11/2012	Apathy and/or ignorance of the importance of free public information and literacy help. Assumptions about access to technology (not everyone has access to information via computers, internet, higher education).
5654	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5655	7/11/2012	funding and accessibility at certain days/hours
5656	7/11/2012	Funding. You can't keep asking property owners for more money. Every agency wants to keep adding levys to our property taxes and we just can't afford it. Plain and simple we can't keep our properties when it costs more. Not in this economy.
5657	7/11/2012	That people see online resources as available elsewhere. Libraries are the only place that make these resources available freely to the public no matter who they are.
5658	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and increasing need to provide basic social services to an a growing population of homeless, underserved patrons.
5659	7/11/2012	loss of materials
5660	7/11/2012	Cutting funding.
5661	7/11/2012	Limited budget
5662	7/11/2012	I have no idea.
5663	7/11/2012	budget
5664	7/11/2012	Becoming irrelevant.
5665	7/11/2012	Question 5 forced a ranking that does not accurately reflect my views, although the #1 ranking of All branches and Central Library open with full hours - seven days a week is of most importance of the options above.
5666	7/11/2012	Not being able to keep up with current media and current educational texts.
5667	7/11/2012	Technology -- Ipad, Kindle Fire; however, nothing can replace a "book". Nothing can replace knowledgeable staff in researching any project.
5668	7/11/2012	Public perception that the library is on the ballot every time asking for money.
5669	7/11/2012	Short-sighted taxpayers. Need more community involvement. Need outreach to involve more and diversr people, especially seniors- if involved more they will build support/volunteers cheap and overcome their natural oppossion taxes and bonds.
5670	7/11/2012	The state of the economy.
5671	7/11/2012	Lack of participation

5672	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5673	7/11/2012	That they won't have sufficient funds to provide great access to well-stocked libraries with services desired by Multnomah county residents of such diverse ages, interests, and needs.
5674	7/11/2012	funding
5675	7/11/2012	Lack of funding that will reduce the resources our libraries are able to provide to the community
5676	7/11/2012	theft of materials and community support
5677	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding source
5678	7/11/2012	Operation hrs. New books along with variety of new material.
5679	7/11/2012	Not being open during hours when the most people will need it.
5680	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5681	7/11/2012	I assume it's lack of funding.
5682	7/11/2012	In the current economic climate, the biggest threat is if the community becomes short-sighted and reduces library funding to a point that the services do not meet the community and individual needs.
5683	7/11/2012	Not enough funding.
5684	7/11/2012	fiscal shortfall
5685	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding
5686	7/11/2012	being closed one day a week - must be 7 days per week
5687	7/11/2012	People who don't read.
5688	7/11/2012	I fear if we remove service days from our library they won't come back, even if they economy has stabilized. Once services go on the chopping block and life goes on, it seems that reduction in service becomes a go-to for budget cuts.
5689	7/11/2012	Funding! I am always happy to vote for more funding for my library.
5690	7/11/2012	Anti-intellectual ignorance. Greedy "I've got mine, you get yours" attitudes. A short-sighted perspective on the importance of freely available access to information being a cornerstone of education and society as a whole.
5691	7/11/2012	First, my items ranked 3, 4, and 5 are of equal import to me. We cannot place one segment of our society above another in need. The public library is to provide resources for all. It may be the last public place that many, many of our residents all use. It may be one of our last unifiers. [] []
5692	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is lack of funding for a full use library. Shrinking tax base reducing limiting funding as the need to provide "new media grows.
5693	7/11/2012	It is people's attitudes about paying taxes to support the Library. There are some people who are unwilling to support our community institutions. They want to spend their money wherever they wish. It is necessary to engender a sense of social responsibility and sharing, This is a step that our schools can take. This will help the stability of our society from schools, to the fire department, from the police to the our local government.

5694	7/11/2012	I'm not sure, but I think public libraries should be important community hubs that serve as wide of a slice of the community as possible. Keeping libraries open in low-income communities is also very important. Allowing access to quality, current information is the backbone of a free-thinking, idea driven society.
5695	7/11/2012	The biggest treat is non funding by the citizens.
5696	7/11/2012	Funding, I guess, but I thought we just passed a levy - why are we seeing budget cuts if the levy passed.
5697	7/11/2012	Lack of funding!
5698	7/11/2012	Money.
5699	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5700	7/11/2012	Unknown
5701	7/11/2012	Funding, right?
5702	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and access is threatened if the funding is too low.[] People want to use them.
5703	7/11/2012	The transfer of money, including tax dollars from the public sector to the private sector. The Republican agenda to privatize everything including libraries, prisons and government services in general.
5704	7/11/2012	Something this is helping to address: not having an explicit conversation about what we want libraries to be, especially given finite community resources.
5705	7/11/2012	funding
5706	7/11/2012	Jeff Cogen. Tax compression.
5707	7/11/2012	lost materials
5708	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding of education --> decreased literacy and civic values.
5709	7/11/2012	in my opinion, none.
5710	7/11/2012	clearly, the budget. As a local homeowner who is lower-middle income (home value about 300,000 and annual income about $40,000) I want to see the library well funded, but I think it is time to spread the responsibility for funding the budget to the population of multnomah county in the form of a sales tax. My choice to consume is more flexible than my ability to pay more in property taxes.
5711	7/11/2012	Citizens who don't value reading, education, self-improvement, and equal access for all.
5712	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
5713	7/11/2012	Being a small annex it may not be as important to the county as larger branches.
5714	7/11/2012	Funding
5715	7/11/2012	Lack of funds for librarians, materials and programs.
5716	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5717	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5718	7/11/2012	Funding cuts as well as a lack of early and continued use of libraries. Though many resources can (and should) be offered online, the social aspect of libraries should be funded and preserved.

5719	7/11/2012	Being closed would be a catastrophic! I Pad and Nook able to download books for free, more access to computer materials.
5720	7/11/2012	For families like our that can not afford to go to movies and other out of the home fun...the library is the best. I love the childrens time, at thier school they havw visisting librarians that bring in a new world for many children. It never amazes me that the things that embelish our lives (especially low income) They want to cut this or that touches all races, the rich and the poor, young and old. I believe the library in one of our top resources for everyone.
5721	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5722	7/11/2012	Republicans and their tax cut mentality.
5723	7/11/2012	Lack of funding due to the permanent war economy.
5724	7/11/2012	Republicans.
5725	7/11/2012	Stagnation. Libraries need to move away from large physical structures. Focus more on E-materials and small kiosk like libraries for picking up reserved material which would be store housed at a large central building with a small staff.
5726	7/11/2012	The unhygienic
5727	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
5728	7/11/2012	Apparently funding...
5729	7/11/2012	Lack of funding!
5730	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5731	7/11/2012	Selfish individuals who can't spare a few pennies' tax to help fund the education/enrichment of our society are the biggest threat to our libraries, in addition to other vital services a functioning society must have.
5732	7/11/2012	? Lack of funding for resources
5733	7/11/2012	Mismanagement of funds.
5734	7/11/2012	Closures
5735	7/11/2012	The above question (5) assumes we value each (and only each) of the six options. There should be an N/A column and an option to fill in our own value. Those ranked 1-5 are most important to me as a library cardholder, 6 (in my opinion) is a duplicate community service (there are other organizations in the county that offer those sevices). The Library should stick to its core competencies.¶ Biggest threat = staying relevant by offering services and materials patrons want. This includes keeping pace with change, including the addition of more digital content and services to help patrons (of all ages) use digital media.
5736	7/11/2012	don't know
5737	7/11/2012	E-books!
5738	7/11/2012	?
5739	7/11/2012	Limited hours and books

5740	7/11/2012	those in upper government to think that the libraries are a waste of funds and to not understand how library access is a staple to many Gresham families.
5741	7/11/2012	I don't know.
5742	7/11/2012	Republicans! Just kidding. Loss in funding.
5743	7/11/2012	There are too many proposed tax increases in a depressed economy. Something has to give. Property taxes are going up while incomes are not. Most people are happy to make the amount of income they made in 2007. I know I am.
5744	7/11/2012	Libraries work because they are accessible and patrons can utilize so many resources. Libraries open doors. The biggest threat is that the libraries doors are closed too often or that they are seen as obsolete in an age of digital access to everything.
5745	7/11/2012	The drain on resources that is caused by individuals who are not using the library for reading books.
5746	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding.
5747	7/11/2012	costs for acquisitions and labor
5748	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5749	7/11/2012	Funding, people not thinking books are important or realizing everything the library offers
5750	7/11/2012	e-books. kindles, etc.
5751	7/11/2012	Hours getting cut while most people are turning to the internet for information. Libraries are an important asset of our community. None of the best internet sites can replace it.
5752	7/11/2012	Bdget cuts, lack of foresight, people reading less, people don't know about all the programs and items the library offers.
5753	7/11/2012	Lack of funds that force choices like those above. I personally would love to have the libary open full hours, seven days a week. Not only would it serve my needs better, it would provided living wage jobs, but I also need to live my values and consider the needs of others in the community. I know the commissioners have tough choices, but the library is a resource that is not wasteful or wasted.
5754	7/11/2012	Lack of funding?
5755	7/11/2012	lack of private funding
5756	7/11/2012	lack of funding it seems
5757	7/11/2012	I would say it might be a tie between funding and the shift to digital media, though libraries have been fairly good at offering audio books, etc.
5758	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, it seems! We don't have a deep or long enough cultural connection here (and in the US, as a whole) to civic resources such as libraries, so people don't always put much value on them, and thus aren't willing to allocate much money to them. It's a shame.
5759	7/11/2012	Pit bull's running at large through the aisles and small unattended children with matches.
5760	7/11/2012	It appears to be funding. They are such a good resource and heavily used, but funding doesn't seem to keep up with the demand of patrons.
5761	7/11/2012	electronic reader options like the kindle

5762	7/11/2012	Trying to do too much with too little. Let's stick to basic services. Library + books & media + open doors.
5763	7/11/2012	To be closed. Senior reduction. Less community involvement
5764	7/11/2012	People that don't understand their value. People that don't use them.
5765	7/11/2012	funding
5766	7/11/2012	Funding. This is a great library system and should be fully funded.
5767	7/11/2012	I don't know. Stinky homeless people?[] []
5768	7/11/2012	I'm not really sure because I don't know if the PERS system will drain library financing.[] [] I'm also not really sure about how reduced hours/days of service will affect my family. I'd like to see how it goes for a few years.
5769	7/11/2012	if the library is not used.
5770	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, competing for funds with the MCSO and failure to change as needed to meet the needs of the public in the age of google. I think the library tries to do the latter, although it is a challenge.
5771	7/11/2012	It's own excellence. More exactly the associated money needed to maintain that excellence. Ambivalence/apathy[]
5772	7/11/2012	People often associate taxes as a negative, forgetting what valuable services they help pay for libraries, police and fire, to name a few. Limiting how many hours they are open will quickly phase them out. If they are inconvenient then soon they will be forgotten and then they will become extinct. If they are only open during business hours that will be silly and drastically reduce the size of the audience they can reach. Keep them open so they keep open! No one will remember if they don't use them!!
5773	7/11/2012
5774	7/11/2012	Funding.
5775	7/11/2012	Republicans
5776	7/11/2012	Too much emphasis on computer usage.
5777	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5778	7/11/2012	Funding.
5779	7/11/2012	Mismangement.
5780	7/11/2012	I imagine it is funding to sustain it's programs, hours of operation, purchasing media, etc..
5781	7/11/2012	tax cuts? Troutdale just voted and is paying taxes on a library that is now closed Mondays and is cutting hours!
5782	7/11/2012	Lack of public funding.
5783	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5784	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.

5785	7/11/2012	Closing it's doors completely.
5786	7/11/2012	losing funding
		City tax revenue is prioitizing other causes. Why do we have this incessant problem today and did not have it 20-25 years ago when tax revenues covered budget for schools, library police etc. Why not charge small amounts to use faciities $10/year for card, an extra $10/year for computer usage. etc.
5787	7/11/2012	Since when did the library system decide it should be teaching babies to read (or maybe just entertaining babies for their mothers/fathers. Since when did the library take responsibility for seniors ... are deliveries made by other more active retired seniors as a volunter service?
5788	7/11/2012	e-readers - but I appreciate access to electronic books via the library - it's great!
5789	7/11/2012	funding
5790	7/11/2012	Funding
5791	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5792	7/11/2012	E-books, the buildings won't be that necessary.
5793	7/11/2012	Cuts to funding.
5794	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding
5795	7/11/2012	internet and kindle
5796	7/11/2012	not enough funding
5797	7/11/2012	dk
5798	7/11/2012	??
5799	7/11/2012	Budget cuts, not only in the form of reduced operating hours, but in hiring qualified staff. Librarians need to be qualified and need to be paid competitive salaries!
5800	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5801	7/11/2012	Funding. Under utilization.
5802	7/11/2012	lack of educational standards in Oregon
5803	7/11/2012	predatory perverts
5804	7/11/2012	Trying to do too much. The library's job is to make information available to people but not to compete with educational institutions that offer classes and/or training. The library could operate more frugally if it didn't stretch so far beyond its original mandate.
5805	7/11/2012	Not enough funding to buy all different kind of books that suits variety of interest..
5806	7/11/2012	staffing
5807	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5808	7/11/2012	Funding,but a raise in property taxes will force me out of my home.

5809	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5810	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5811	7/11/2012	money
5812	7/11/2012	Not keeping current. Not keeping up with digital media.
5813	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5814	7/11/2012	money
5815	7/11/2012	I'm guessing most (myself included) are ill-aware of what all services are offered, and so funding requests are seen as being similar to a national endowment for the arts.
5816	7/11/2012	Not having good enough access with the reduced hours. Not providing good programs to encourage kids and young adults to read. Not giving people in need (low or no income) access to books and computers.
5817	7/11/2012	Lack of funding because people fail to understand how important broad-based literacy and information resources are to the future of the democracy
5818	7/11/2012	Losing the funding to stay open.
5819	7/11/2012	cutting back hours that they're open
5820	7/11/2012	Administrators who continue to cut our library services after we just passed the levy they claimed would keep all of our library services available. When I voted for the levy in may I was under the impression that are current levels of service were being maintained. It was never made clear on the ballot that our services were being cut no matter what. It seems very misleading.
5821	7/11/2012	I see no threat
5822	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5823	7/11/2012	Lack of sufficient funding
5824	7/11/2012	American's culture of promoting illiteracy.
5825	7/11/2012	Mission creep - providing access to media/materials should be the primary goal of the library. Improving user's ability to use media materials should be second and in many cases could be better supported through collaborative efforts with other groups.
5826	7/11/2012	I don't know. They seem wildly popular and extensively used by the public. I certainly do. I don't buy books or DVDs, opting instead to check them out, which has saved me a lot of money and also allowed me to meet new friends who I bump into at the library.
5827	7/11/2012	Funding!
5828	7/11/2012	unsure
5829	7/11/2012	Funding.
5830	7/11/2012	I believe our library system is one of the best in the country
5831	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5832	7/11/2012	Most people aren't interested in reading or keep books they take.
5833	7/11/2012	Low usage and lack of funds.
5834	7/11/2012	revenue

5835	7/11/2012	complacency
5836	7/11/2012	Funding decreases.
5837	7/11/2012	Not enough funding.
5838	7/11/2012	Ebooks and lack of funding.
5839	7/11/2012	Freedom of information.
5840	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5841	7/11/2012	People aren't aware of all the great resources that the library offers and so they may not want to continue to fund it, which is, of course the greatest threat of all. Also, decreased hours doesn't allow as many people to use the library and this will discourage engagement.
5842	7/11/2012	Staying relevant in the age of the internet
5843	7/11/2012	Lack of access to its meaningful array of services.
5844	7/11/2012	Lack of dependable ongoing funding
5845	7/11/2012	Lack of consistent funding
5846	7/11/2012	Funding?
5847	7/11/2012	Putting resources into directions/programs/services that don't match the needs of the community.
5848	7/11/2012	Kindle and other electronic forms of media, poor society priorities (military & big oil vs. education & healthcare)
5849	7/11/2012	Underfunding that results in reduced number of copies available for circulation.
5850	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
5851	7/11/2012	Becoming irrelevant, which would lead to even less support. Critical to stay current with technology, information and to have relevant, accessible programs.
5852	7/11/2012	underfunding
5853	7/11/2012	Economic situation slowly reducing resources for all "non-essential" government facilities, including local libraries.
5854	7/11/2012	Not sure.
5855	7/11/2012	Homeless people using libraries as hangouts, the bathrooms as their showers, the computers as their porn hubs. Funding cuts would be the biggest threat though.
5856	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5857	7/11/2012	Neo-facists who want to choke off access to information.
5858	7/11/2012	Keeping them relevant in an age of electronic media. [] Keeping a free public resource for those of lower economic means to have access to media of all types. [] Dealing w tightening municipal budgets and impacts to providing this public service
5859	7/11/2012	Cash flow- the demand is certainly there I think
5860	7/11/2012	funding
5861	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.

		Often it appears that the librarians / library aides are surfing the net or generally not really active assisting or doing anything worthwhile at the library - like providing assistance with research, shelving books, getting people off their cell phones inside the library. Why not limit the number of positions and have those individuals working, actually doing things.
5862	7/11/2012	□ □ Secondly, how many security guards do you need at the Central library location? I know that situations could arise there due to the clientele, but usually it feels like a police state with all those guards around eyeballing you for no damn reason. know those guys can be cheap.
5863	7/11/2012	Not enough money.
5864	7/11/2012	Obviously it is underfunding according to you
5865	7/11/2012	Uneducated poorly informed voters
5866	7/11/2012	TV, apathy,
5867	7/11/2012	Increased costs.
5868	7/11/2012	Cost of living in Portland is getting to be so onerous that people are moving out. My adult children can barely afford to rent in the Belmont area and we are starting to consider moving out of the area upon retirement. As salaries don't keep up with cost and expenses go up, people will start moving to the suburbs just like the old days. As more and more taxes and fees are added, the straw will eventually break the camel's back. (Have you seen the price of gas and groceries lately?)
5869	7/11/2012	not having enough current material on the shelves.
5870	7/11/2012	Apathy
5871	7/11/2012	Lack of funding lack of stable funding from county.□
5872	7/11/2012	□ Poor leadership of politicians on library issues.
5873	7/11/2012	Apathy.
5874	7/11/2012	Budget cuts to children's programs, storytime, etc. If the kids grow up loving the library, they will continue to love the library as they grow, you will have patrons for life.
5875	7/11/2012	The fact that people want the branches open but are not willing to pay for what that costs. It is incumbent upon the library staff to ensure that people understand what is necessary for the branches to remain open.
5876	7/11/2012	lack of interest in the library
5877	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5878	7/11/2012	Not being open/accessible to the community
5879	7/11/2012	the size of them. Most of them are small.
5880	7/11/2012	Funding to keep library open and renew resources regularly.
5881	7/11/2012	People losing interest in spending time at the local libraries due to access to internet at their home.

5882	7/11/2012	The internet. As sad as it may seem, computers will eventually replace books. Unless libraries become centers of the digital age, they will become anachronisms of the printed age.
5883	7/11/2012	People using libraries for free internet, hanging out, public restrooms, causing disturbance and even committing crime requiring security guards. There should be content restrictions on the internet access.
5884	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5885	7/11/2012	Mission-creep. Mission-creep results in needless expansion of services that increases labor and other costs. Could cut back on programs that are only loosely related to a functioning lending library and on services like lending entertainment DVDs which I understand are often stolen. Pension and other employee benefits that are much more generous than those offered to private sector librarians.
5886	7/11/2012	I don't know. I presume you are looking for the obvious. Downloading less or inexpensive e-books, getting resources over the internet, and lack of money for the library system.
5887	7/11/2012	Not enough money.
5888	7/11/2012	Redution of hours for people to use the library
5889	7/11/2012	state government, local politicians, and citizens misunderstanding how libraries, despite frequency of use, benefit communities. it should not matter if a small library does not check out many books, having the resource available is more important than statistics.
5890	7/11/2012	I am afraid our libraries will fall victim to the "trickle down effect" of our ongoing economic woes.
5891	7/11/2012	Incremental chipping away at the ours our branch is open. The difference between 5 pm close and 6 pm close is quite significant to a working patron like myself; the Thursday and Friday 5 pm close is for me the same as if the library was closed all day, it's just not available to me.
5892	7/11/2012	Thieves and vandals.
5893	7/11/2012	I don't know.
5894	7/11/2012	They seem well supported. I don't think there is a threat.
5895	7/11/2012	Theft.
5896	7/11/2012	Funding
5897	7/11/2012	lack of consistent funding.
5898	7/11/2012	Apparently, reductions in funding.
5899	7/11/2012	like everything else, funding.
5900	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
5901	7/11/2012	unstable and inadequate funding
5902	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. However, it would be nice to share the tax burden by implimenting a sales tax instead of always taxing property owners. I support the library but my young family already pays $7,000 a year in property tax :-(
5903	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and awareness of programs. Also, increased availability of the Internet seems to be lessening the library's perceived importance as a research resource. People don't realize the library's important role in the local community, and all the great things that the library brings to us.

5904	7/11/2012	People wanting to censor Library to meet their narrow standards.
5905	7/11/2012	Lack of funds
5906	7/11/2012	The internet and digital age.
5907	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5908	7/11/2012	Keeping up with electronic media.
5909	7/11/2012	Wasting money on books that suck and computers and automated self checkout machines.
5910	7/11/2012	politics/budget cuts
5911	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Illiteracy, TV and video games, general brain rot.
5912	7/11/2012	I don't know :(
5913	7/11/2012	starting to close them one day a week and shorten hours
5914	7/11/2012	lack of funding and poor access.
5915	7/11/2012	PERS offsets and guaranteed payouts.
5916	7/11/2012	Apathy is the biggest threat to our local libraries. If the general population knew about the value each one brings to their local community, I am almost certain that people would have a different opinion about the cost-effectiveness and value each one brings. If hours are substantially cut we will lose a vital resource for everyone. Small children depend on the libraries for developing a lifelong love of books and learning. Students need a place to study, find information. Seniors need a safe place to read and checkout books.
5917	7/11/2012	developing a lifelong love of books and learning. Students need a place to study, find information. Seniors need a safe place to read and checkout books.
5918	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5919	7/11/2012	Funding.
5920	7/11/2012	not accessible with hours of operation to serve the close community public/users
5921	7/11/2012	Not taking advantage of technology to reduce operatin expenses.
5922	7/11/2012	Television
5923	7/11/2012	Libraries are undergoing a profound transformation as more and more ebooks and reference materials are coming on line. How this will impact their physical premises is yet to be known but it is likely libraries will gradually employ fewer staff members and utilize a larger percentage of the volunteer talents of the public at large.
5924	7/11/2012	1. Tea party notions of privatization of access to information, coupled with right-wing notions of controlling the distribution of knowledge.[] 2. General threat to the notion of the public good in today's political climate. The false idea that good only comes from the private sector and personal interests.[] 3. General misconception that everything is available online and is "objective and true", and therefore the local library is antiquated. Why pay for a local library at all (levies vs. permanent tax rates are quibbles) when all knowledge is available via Google?
5925	7/11/2012	Lack of funds to purchase new books.
5926	7/11/2012	Funding, overhead costs

5927	7/11/2012	People with low incomes who are dependent on the library for internet access and library resources for education and leisure not have access to them.
5928	7/11/2012	That's a funny question. From what I understand, budget cuts are the biggest threat.
5929	7/11/2012	Funding. The library needs stable funding that will allow for growth.
5930	7/11/2012	Dumbing down of the populace through media "addiction." And, of course, government funding cutbacks. My opinion is that since the two MOST fundamental core foundations of democracy are public schools and libraries, and since schools are already pretty much screwed (I know--I'm a teacher!), we MUST defend libraries!!
5931	7/11/2012	Narrow interests dominating decisions without looking at serving the whole community.[] For example, we do not have children yet place high value on the library providing services for children. Too often people don't look past their own individual, immediate needs, concerns, wants, issues.
5932	7/11/2012	lack of funding, probably. But underlying that is a general disconnection between people and their communities and how important libraries are or can be to supporting the community. This disconnection leads to poor choice making regarding supporting libraries financially.
5933	7/11/2012	Closure
5934	7/11/2012	I have no idea but I am sad that they are not funded more
5935	7/11/2012	lack of funds?
5936	7/11/2012	Need long-term stable (not related to tax base and vagaries of economy) funding.
5937	7/11/2012	If hours are not cut, then cuts will be made in other areas of library use.
5938	7/11/2012	Loss of funding to pay for hard copies of magazines and books.
5939	7/11/2012	E-reader plus coffee shops. The library has to be subversive and hip again. The only time I hung out at the library was when I was unemployed. It seems like that's who hang out there now. And, now that I have a job, I don't. There is purpose in that, but it's hard to drive profitability when your customers are retired or unemployed. Good luck. I hope you're still there when I retire (or lose my job). Underfunding.[]
5940	7/11/2012	People who do not understand the need for educated readers, especially pertaining to workplace performance, job acquiring, and voting.
5941	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
5942	7/11/2012	I don't know.
5943	7/11/2012	lack of jobs
5944	7/11/2012	Budget Cuts.
5945	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5946	7/11/2012	Inefficient management growing complacent with repeated special tax supports.
5947	7/11/2012	Reduced funding.
5948	7/11/2012	Library budget used for things other than books. No reason to stock movies, magazines etc.
5949	7/11/2012	Bears

5950	7/11/2012	I'm not sure. I was taken by surprise by the cuts after the levy passed. I will ALWAYS vote in support of libraries.
5951	7/11/2012	ignorance of people who want to ban books; not enough money to supply books
5952	7/11/2012	that they will close for good due to lack of funding
5953	7/11/2012	Closing or reduced hours for public use.
5954	7/11/2012	Budget cuts :(
5955	7/11/2012	Charging customers for actually checking out materials (whereas it is currently free). And increasing late penalties. As well as cutting hours, or programs (such as children's story time, etc).
5956	7/11/2012	Technology speeding up making books and librarians obsolete.
5957	7/11/2012	Lessening the hours, especially on the weekends, will make it harder for full time workers to enjoy the library.
5958	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5959	7/11/2012	The internet and the apathy of the privileged class. The library is an important community gathering place, as people become more isolated by technology, they will need the library even more.
5960	7/11/2012	Doing too many things and increasing non essential services. Many of us are already feeling taxed to death by the many needs of the county and can't support all the grandiose ideas even though I love our libraries.
5961	7/11/2012	Like all other services supported by tax dollars, the biggest threat is lack of funding to support the resources & services it provides. For those of us who enjoy & use the library, having books & resources readily available to educate & opens up a gateway of knowledge for various topics for various age groups is so worthy. Would be saddened by people who either have never used or don't use the library or think it doesn't have anything to offer for them, or don't feel it needs supporting (by either their time or $$) are missing out. The library, as said before, has a plethora of "doors" to all sorts of information, fiction or non-fiction. Especially in a time where technology has expanded at a rapid pace, holding a book or magazine is still a tactile activity we must never lose. Despite the various advanced computer based reading sources available.
5962	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5963	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. . .
5964	7/11/2012	I would guess a lack of city funding
5965	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
5966	7/11/2012	Increased use of digital mediums is probably the largest "threat."
5967	7/11/2012	buggit cuts
5968	7/11/2012	I don't like central library's small, I know why it is smell bad and I understand that, but sometime, it is really bad, I don't want to stay there long.
5969	7/11/2012	Unsure at present
5970	7/11/2012	Loss of funding/lack of stable revenue.
5971	7/11/2012	Underfunding

5972	7/11/2012	lack of use
5973	7/11/2012	Not sure - more loss of funding so they are not open as much?
5974	7/11/2012	The new technology that threatens the joy of reading the written word. There is nothing like holding a "real" book in ones own hands.
5975	7/11/2012	Not providing these services to our community.
5976	7/11/2012	Reduced services
5977	7/11/2012	levy campaigns immediately followed by reduced hours, leading to greater cynicism and indifference.
5978	7/11/2012	closure
5979	7/11/2012	The obvious answer to give in "funding". We have the greatest library system in the world. Let's keep it that way.
5980	7/11/2012	Unstable funding. Just like our schools.
5981	7/11/2012	lack of funding
5982	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
5983	7/11/2012	Lowered interest in reading, lack of funding, less hours
5984	7/11/2012	Lack of funding that would limit purchase or access to new materials.
5985	7/11/2012	TV
5986	7/11/2012	a complacent electorate
5987	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
5988	7/11/2012	budget cuts?
5989	7/11/2012	Electronic books
5990	7/11/2012	Silverfish.
5991	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. Nothing will wipe out our resources faster than inadequate funding.
5992	7/11/2012	Indifference and the poor economy.
5993	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
5994	7/11/2012	not having the resources (staff and pay) to be able to support the full needs of our community. We all love our library system and would hate to lose any use of it as it is such a great resource to our whole family.
5995	7/11/2012	Always money but more and more people don't read newspapers or books. all from internet sources for information which makes the population stupid...you don't put all your eggs in one basket....true knowledge comes from open honest information...books that inspire stay with you for a life time.....If the library can only be open 6 days keep the weekends open and close one day during the week...that would be acceptable.
5996	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
5997	7/11/2012	Limited resources?

5998	7/11/2012	The internet and tech readers like the kindle. Having to wait so long for e books is pretty hard, and some e books are not very expensive. I feel that a better e book scope may draw more people into the library borrowing system, and therefore keeping the library up with the times. My fear is that print is dying and electronics are taking over. If the library can't keep up with that, it's not going to survive in the long term.
5999	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Short sighted politics.
6000	7/11/2012	Lack of stable, consistent funding
6001	7/11/2012	That they will cease to exist or have high costs so only the privileged few can access it.
6002	7/11/2012	Lack of money or lack of support by those higher up.
6003	7/11/2012	closing down because of too many different programs which should not be the scope of a library.[] Let social services do social services not libraries
6004	7/11/2012	Becoming obsolete, are rather, being perceived by too many voters as obsolete or not needed in the community.
6005	7/11/2012	citizens not going
6006	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding to maintain the access needed for all ages.
6007	7/11/2012	Loss of public funding.
6008	7/11/2012	Funding
6009	7/11/2012	Gave this some thought and the only threat I can come up with is trying to be equally all things to all persons. You can't do everything 100%; you just don't have the budget, time, or quantity of trained people available. You need to set priorities. Shortier hours and maybe a full closure day can be lived with if it keeps the Library functioning in a good way.
6010	7/11/2012	not enough funding.
6011	7/11/2012	If they fall behind in a key community service, people will find it less relevant and more difficult to fund.
6012	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6013	7/11/2012	lack of continuous funding
6014	7/11/2012	Losing funding
6015	7/11/2012	lack of financial and community support. those with resources may not appreciate the value of a strong community library
6016	7/11/2012	Funding.
6017	7/11/2012	I think that the biggest threat is apathy and lack of financial support. We may not be able to solve the issue of apathy, but we can oppose the powerful interests that seek to strangle financial support of the library and its value to the community that we call our home.
6018	7/11/2012	losing funding

		That they may be crowded out of the budget and/or cut back so they cannot afford newer books and publications. This is an ESPECIALLY rich resource for the community while things are tough for so many families. Many Spanish speaking people who are trying to engage their children in the joy of learning.¶
6019	7/11/2012	I cannot read regular print books, so I ESPECIALLY APPRECIATE LARGE PRINT BOOKS. They have allowed me to keep reading through 2 major eye surgeries.¶ ¶ A lot of the poorer people cannot afford computer service, nor can they afford purchasing books. This is¶ a central service that enables people to keep learning all through their lives!!
6020	7/11/2012	Misdirected funds due to misinformation or lack of information concerning votable library measures. The public rarely understands these measures. It worries me voters might vote against tax measures, etc. because they do not understand the situation and/or it's severity.
6021	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6022	7/11/2012	Funding
6023	7/11/2012	Stupidity
6024	7/11/2012	Not being fully funded. Not being seen as the resource they are. Resource for knowledge and community. It is a dangerous slippery slope. You must reverse the 6 days a week.
6025	7/11/2012	The economy - also the biggest threat to all of our valuable government services, including funding schools, assisting those with mental and physical disability, and adequate public safety.
6026	7/11/2012	Public. ignorance and reluctance to fully fund resources needed for now and the future
6027	7/11/2012	Funding.
6028	7/11/2012	Poor program management.
6029	7/11/2012	I would think in this technological age, people would be using the library less, but that is not what I see happening at the Sellwood branch. The Multnomah system seems great - diverse offerings, services. Pleasant staff.
6030	7/11/2012	Unstable funding due to shrinking property values, poor economy.
6031	7/11/2012	you guys shutting them down
6032	7/11/2012	Not enough funding to stay open during the "after hours", ie. after school and on weekends, type of services.
6033	7/11/2012	poor funding
6034	7/11/2012	Inaccessability. We need to find ways for the library to keep serving the neighborhoods they are in, and one of the main ways that will happen is the library is open and available.
6035	7/11/2012	Underfunding
6036	7/11/2012	Personal income way too high, and above all, the person at the top. I know that sounds rough, let's just say that I love the downtown library but can't stand the crowds I have to walk through to get to that so nice of space.

6037	7/11/2012	Lack of reliable, continuous funding; lack of political will at the county commission level.
6038	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. Not enough funding. I don't think people fully understand that all these "free" resources actually cost a lot from funding to be provided to the community at no charge.
6039	7/11/2012	Declining tax base. lack of funding
6040	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6041	7/11/2012	Funding. People making libraries a priority.
6042	7/11/2012	Library hours will be cut back. I moved here from a place where the libraries were only open 5 to 6 days a week and not full hours. It is challenging for employed folks who work during the hours the library is open and are not able to go there during their lunch hour to pick up materials or after work before the library closes. Again, difficulty in attending any lectures/programs/events that the libraries offer during the day.
6043	7/11/2012	I can only speak about the Central Library, which I visit regularly. My neighbors refuse to visit the library because they feel intimidated by the large number of homeless. This really hurts the building support for the library. Too many times I have witnessed drug deals happening or unruly people being evicted from the building. It makes it hard to build support when people are afraid to visit the library. We need the support of community to fund the system, so we need to make the system more inviting to the public.
6044	7/11/2012	I've lived in 3 countries, 5 states, and 1 territory. Portland has the best library system of all of those places. The death (or slow demise) of the libraries in other systems was the age of materials. The libraries attempted to maintain their hours, but sacrificed funding new technology and new reading material. Finding books in the children's section that proclaimed, "one day we will make it to the moon," was disheartening. People did not use the library because the materials were so out of date. I would prefer to see fewer hours and days while maintaining a regular review and replacement of technology and material. When the material becomes obsolete, the library dies.
6045	7/11/2012	The economic downturn and its effect on people's income and ability to pay /interest in paying to support libraries. ¶ ¶ And it seems, a lack of other funding sources, in addition to property taxes. ---Such as corporate tax, which is down relative to past rates. We need healthy economic activity, but also responsible sharing of our community costs.
6046	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6047	7/11/2012	Lack of consistent funding - having to vote over and over again for library levies.
6048	7/11/2012	Lack of support
6049	7/11/2012	Mismanagement, computers instead of books, computers instead of librarians (even though those same librarians are there behind the desk), and cut hours. I don't think cutting hours is a beneficial way to manage the funds available. I would rather wait several extra weeks for that newest book I have on hold than not have the library open every day. The current hours are just ridiculous.

6050	7/11/2012	It's complete and total reliance on passing bi-annual bond and levy measures to ask property owners to pay for funding.
6051	7/11/2012	Godzilla. And privatization.
6052	7/11/2012	We need to have current materials.
6053	7/11/2012	money honey $$$$$$$$$$$$ FOLKS WANT THE SERVICE BUT NOT ENOUGH WANT TO PAY
6054	7/11/2012	inadequate funding
6055	7/11/2012	people just using the internet. Not using it for learning, reading, discussions.
6056	7/11/2012	unstable public funding based on serial levies which is opposed by the Cascade Policy Institute and their paymasters who want to privatize the library system
6057	7/11/2012	Jerks that think everybody can afford a computer or that libraries aren't used. Too expensive to keep at their current level of service. Resources needed in other areas are more important than libraries.
6058	7/11/2012	Libraries are less important due to the prevalence of the internet. I view libraries and the post office as very similar services. Important, but less so than 10-20 years ago.
6059	7/11/2012	Not sure
6060	7/11/2012	Lack of new material.
6061	7/11/2012	The greatest threat to our local libraries is the possibility that government funding could be cut more drastically than it has been in the past.
6062	7/11/2012	not having them.
6063	7/11/2012	Not enough funding!
6064	7/11/2012	Not staying current with media and technology
6065	7/11/2012	I would imagine lack of funding and possibly public unwillingness to pay higher taxes to support libraries - though I think the library has a high degree of support by Portlanders.
6066	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and people not realizing what we will lose if we don't do our fair share to support these services. Continued services are vital to the growth of our communities.
6067	7/11/2012	Apathy,
6068	7/11/2012	ignorant voters!
6069	7/11/2012	Attitudes that only people who use it should pay for it. We have a phenomenal library system, however we need greater access to it earlier in the mornings, on weekends, and in the evenings. Ebooks, online books, online reading materials that can be downloaded from the internet and from home. The more people
6070	7/11/2012	do this the less books are checked out of the library and then less people will visit the library and use the resources that it offers.
6071	7/11/2012	Demand is greater than resources.
6072	7/11/2012	Not realizing the impact of possible loss to each community. Education and the arts are non-negotiables.

6073	7/11/2012	Unfortunately, the biggest threat to our local libraries is the contracting economy. Lack of funding seems a pretty obvious problem. That's why we're here, right? I don't claim any knowledge of library funding, but are all revenue/donor resources being explored?
6074	7/11/2012	Republicans
6075	7/11/2012	not having enough money to run
6076	7/11/2012	funding cuts
6077	7/11/2012	Not enough funding. I would like to see all of the things above continue at the library.
6078	7/11/2012	probably lack of money.
6079	7/11/2012	Low tax revenue.
6080	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is the libertarian point of view that taxes are a bad thing and that the privatization of public goods is a viable solution.
6081	7/11/2012	Funding
6082	7/11/2012	Not prioritizing community resources when budgets are allocated and an inconsistent tax base.
6083	7/11/2012	Stupidly reduced hours and materials that aren't on audio/cd
6084	7/11/2012	the lack of revenue from a poor economy
6085	7/11/2012	Not keeping up with the times with respect to better access to new forms of media and current materials. For example, the selection of electronic books available is quite poor and the wait to get a book via the online system is EXTREMELY long. Further, you can't renew your check-out if you aren't finished with a book.
6086	7/11/2012	Becoming obsolete due to not keeping current.
6087	7/11/2012	Being closed. Having money cut. Not being able to get new books.
6088	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6089	7/11/2012	Lets answer question number 5... I could care less about everything on your list!!!! The biggest threat to our libraries is the new digital age....
6090	7/11/2012	e books. low funding
6091	7/11/2012	Probably lack of funding
6092	7/11/2012	funding and misuse because there are not enough services for the homeless and mentally ill
6093	7/11/2012	Reading magazines
6094	7/11/2012	I don't know - funding most likely. That's the biggest threat to all public institutions.
6095	7/11/2012	People who lack the understanding of the impact that access to educational resources and tools have on our community. The current pay to play mentality (not necessarily in Portland but across the country). [] The rising costs of library materials and technology without accompanying revenue to support it.
6096	7/11/2012	Closures.
6097	7/11/2012	Probably funding.
6098	7/11/2012	lack of funding

6099	7/11/2012	funding cuts vagrants
6100	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6101	7/11/2012	not having access for all as often as we would like.
6102	7/11/2012	lack of taxpayer support
6103	7/11/2012	Lack of a secure funding base
6104	7/11/2012	Losing well qualified librarians.
6105	7/11/2012	Loss of funding from a dwindling tax base.
6106	7/11/2012	Funding cuts.
6107	7/11/2012	A social/cultural de-valuing of books and education
6108	7/11/2012	I have no idea.
6109	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6110	7/11/2012	Reduced Internet access
6111	7/11/2012	E-Readers and the younger generation not having access to a local library and it's resources.
6112	7/11/2012	Apparently budget.
6113	7/11/2012	Financial crises that are caused by choices that don't reflect our values. Taxpayers overwhelming want services, libraries, health care, infrastructure, and education, but we overwhelmingly vote to cut taxes for the wealthy, send troops to foreign countries, lock up any and all criminals, and to privatize and thereby reduce many services instead.
6114	7/11/2012	Funding of course!
6115	7/11/2012	I suppose not having a tax base to support the library,
6116	7/11/2012	Lack of resources
6117	7/11/2012	Loss of funding. Free libraries have been in my life since I started to read, and give much to people that are lower income. Libraries give access to information to all.
6118	7/11/2012	Closure!
6119	7/11/2012	You are paying the senior management way too much. People have limited time to get to the library - making the resources available on line and accessible in an efficient manner are key- otherwise we will just go to Powell's and buy what we need.
6120	7/11/2012	Becoming irrelevant and overlooked in a changing information and media environment.
6121	7/11/2012	Reduced hours! If libraries become limited, people will slowly stop using them, and cause the library to make more and more cuts. It's a vicious, downward cycle. In order to stay relevant, the library needs to stay available, even in times of hardship. Day and night, all days, for everyone.
6122	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6123	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6124	7/11/2012	funding cuts!

6125	7/11/2012	I feel like the libraries get a lot of community support.
6126	7/11/2012	Having them closed down.
6127	7/11/2012	Not sure
6128	7/11/2012	Not being open when needed.
6129	7/11/2012	E-mail and the 'net replacing real reading; E-mail lowering writing standards to about 3rd grade level. Lack of reading will lead to less willingness to support libraries financially.
6130	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6131	7/11/2012	Fewer books and Less days open and shorter hours.
6132	7/11/2012	No funds.
6133	7/11/2012	Societal change away from printed reading material, less people reading, illiteracy, shrinking public resources.
6134	7/11/2012	don't know
6135	7/11/2012	Taxes are already too expensive in Multnomah County. Cannot afford more levies.
6136	7/11/2012	Funding
6137	7/11/2012	Funding..More taxes levied against homeowners that they can not afford. Because of cut backs in staff and hours, many staff members may suffer. ☐
6138	7/11/2012	Also cut backs in special programs will diminish the effectiveness of the Libraries, especially☐ in St Johns. The biggest threat to our local libraries is that if there is no fund available to support the good services. People have no places to go. Especially the economic is down. People cannot afford to go any where, In order to avoid any sad things could happen to the community such as crime, violence, please continuing to have this place available for everyone to enjoy of learning, to have fun with one another so that people can gain more knowledge. ☐
6139	7/11/2012	☐ We, the community must have all libraries available to gain wisdom, knowledge and healthy nutrition in mind and in spirit. Please continuing to support our library so that we have a good environment resources are available for everyone in the community.
6140	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6141	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6142	7/11/2012	Cutting hours.
6143	7/11/2012	ignorance and indifference about the roles that libraries play and can play in the community.
6144	7/11/2012	Lack of resources. Not being able to maintain good quality and current materials.
6145	7/11/2012	Budget cuts, disabling individual libraries' ability to remain open, staffed, and stocked with current media.

		Number 5 wasn't working correctly.[] [] Closing down needed programs and hours, new books.[] [] [] [] ...
6146	7/11/2012
6147	7/11/2012	Having pornography on the computers and sleezy porn addicts habitually looking at it and children nearby and getting on the computer after they have been looking at it and left it on. Then they are habitually going to the library for that peurpose only. Which puts the public at large in danger. The libraries are facilitating that! They are doing it for free. With no deterrents of any kind. Now you have sleezy sexual deviants hanging around the libraries. With under age children nearby. Sick, sick, sick.
6148	7/11/2012	Long hold lines
6149	7/11/2012	lack of permanent funding source
6150	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6151	7/11/2012	The librarians.
6152	7/11/2012	Not being open as much- losing funding for summer reading and ESL help.
6153	7/11/2012	increased greed that cause the library to ask for more money mere months after you renewed the levy. This is ridiculous. It makes me wonder who is lining their pockets (even if that isn't happening). I am very disappointed since that levy was advertised as a way to keep the libraries open and now you're threatening less service. Also, this passive positive questionnaire which is designed to underscore benefits before then (what I am sure will be) requesting negative feedback about the library systems. I am a HUGE supporter of the library system. I think it is a staple of our country and an avenue for literacy for many thousands of people, but there is obvious mis-management here. I will LOBBY against an increase unless I see substantial senior leadership change, on a public level.
6154	7/11/2012	Lack of funds.
6155	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6156	7/11/2012	scare tactics causing frustration & just not supporting
6157	7/11/2012	Not enough funding!
6158	7/11/2012	The library system has to find an additional funding source. Constantly putting the burden on property owners is starting to seem unfair. We just heard about the budget problems in May and voted to keep the levy going and now it seems we need even more. This is not a sustainable model.
6159	7/11/2012	Being shut down or cutting back on services due to lack of funding.
6160	7/11/2012	as there are a lot of homeless people,, the circumstance of library is not good...especially,,central library..
6161	7/11/2012	Reduced funding and complacent attitudes in the public

6162	7/11/2012	financial
6163	7/11/2012	funding?
6164	7/11/2012	lack of sufficient funding
6165	7/11/2012	budget cuts
6166	7/11/2012	Homeless, sadly, abusing the facilities and resources. Theft of materials by patrons. Title Wave selling off cool educational stuff, like out of print classical records just because they take up space in the stacks.
6167	7/11/2012	Lack of funding is hands down the biggest threat for Multnomah County Libraries. Other library systems have a large problem by not keeping up with what the public wants. That's not the case with our library. The vision is there. The library has changed over the years, keeping up with the times. I'm a senior myself now and have used the library since I was a child. I value the ability to read the latest books available at this incredible library system. I'll read reviews in the Oregonian of some recent books, grab the computer and place a hold. I usually have an average of 20 books checked out and maybe 3 or 4 music CD's and a few DVD's. I LOVE the library. We as a community love our library. But lack of funding is a real threat. I hope you don't let this happen. At a time when we are all pinching our pennies trying to make ends meet, that's the time when it is vital that the libraries stay open and current and available to us. The library is incredibly well run. The staff are worth their weight in gold. But the doors must remain open.
6168	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
6169	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6170	7/11/2012	Not sure--I would guess increasing access to personal digital media.
6171	7/11/2012	The lack of time we can spend on e-net, but don't condone x- rated sites. need the ability to print as much as we want for Job research ect.. Maybe a small fee for paper and ink. When I check out books related to my field of study that I could have them longer, than two weeks I need more books on cd, tape ect... I think that anything to help with the job search is essential and people that could help with computer operation and filling out apps on line..
6172	7/11/2012	I am not sure. Maybe funding to keep the libraries open and functioning.
6173	7/11/2012	Funding!
6174	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6175	7/11/2012	Lack of funding; lack of community support & volunteers. taking library services for granted.
6176	7/11/2012	Lack of money?
6177	7/11/2012	disinterest
6178	7/11/2012	money, lack of use
6179	7/11/2012	I assume it is budget cuts...if children and young adults learn to use the libraries,[] the libraries will continue to be of use.
6180	7/11/2012	A lack of funding and, therefore, lack of resources, will lower the interest in libraries and could render them obsolete.

6181	7/11/2012	Congress[] budget[] money...lack of
6182	7/11/2012	It really creeps me out when I go into Kenton library and some guy is looking at naked women really close to the children's section.
6183	7/11/2012	Illiteracy.
6184	7/11/2012	politicians
6185	7/11/2012	Non funding, possibly increase late fees instead of decreasing hours.
6186	7/11/2012	Funding? Godzilla?
6187	7/11/2012	The shorter hours, the accessibility of materials (waiting several weeks for a book on hold), and people not seeing the library as a valuable provider of community services. I grew up loving the library's childrens' programs, and I hope that this continues to be a priority.
6188	7/11/2012	People thinking it is right instead of a privilege. Our libraries are amazing and we need to contribute to keep them open and available. Imagine, if today, someone proposed we get a whole bunch of books and music and art and computers and then loan it all out for free. I fear if we ever lose this we will never get it back. I think more effort should be put into telling people how much our library is used, how many people it serves, how much money it costs to provide all the services (broken down) and help people realize how much we get for how little we each have to spend.
6189	7/11/2012	Taxes are too high. Bring overhead down.
6190	7/11/2012	Locked doors.
6191	7/11/2012	Decreased funding; the attitude that the Internet can replace libraries.
6192	7/11/2012	apathy.
6193	7/11/2012	Not enough money to keep high quality of maintenance and services.
6194	7/11/2012	Rising costs of materials (books, dvds, etc) and utilites.
6195	7/11/2012	The library system getting too big and too expensive
6196	7/11/2012	funding
6197	7/11/2012	Money
6198	7/11/2012	The erosion that inflation creates. [] If there is a project that requires money not making a decision in a timely manner will create an unnecessary expense.[] Too many people in the decision processes. Similar to big government.[] Getting into financial trouble and having to be bailed out. Lack of planning.[] Also not letting people know what resources are available. Until this email survey I was not aware of several things mentioned.
6199	7/11/2012	Probably lack of funding?
6200	7/11/2012	no money
6201	7/11/2012	It sounds like funding is the main problem.

6202	7/11/2012	Short-sighted politicians who would rather fund big vote getting projects that only benefit a few people, mostly the well to-do rather than keeping some great resource that everybody uses like the library. Maybe they should use lottery funds like they do for education, oops they diverted that to something else. Barry
6203	7/11/2012	Loss of funding for above mentioned services.
6204	7/11/2012	money to keep operating
6205	7/11/2012	Public apathy
6206	7/11/2012	losing them
6207	7/11/2012	Not having reliable stable funding which adequately reflects the enormous intrinsic value to the well being of the community through the education and intellectual stimulation of library citizens.
6208	7/11/2012	Budget cuts, although they may not be earthquake-safe, either.
6209	7/11/2012	amazon.com
6210	7/11/2012	Cuts! Day cuts, hours of operation cuts, all cuts. Libraries are too important to cut.
6211	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6212	7/11/2012	I would think that funding would be a big threat. Keeping the library stocked and staffed I would imagine would require a lot of money. I do, however, think that the library buys a lot of things that it doesn't need to fulfill the needs of the community. As much as I enjoy being able to check out movies and music cds from the library, I don't feel that is what a library is all about. As a resident I want to have access to books in various formats for myself and my family. Anything else is just an extra perk, but in no way do I find it necessary.
6213	7/11/2012	That people don't read any more. In not a big reader but still think it is important for everybody to have literacy and educated. Library is a big part supporting our education.
6214	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
6215	7/11/2012	Amazon.com :)
6216	7/11/2012	Decreased funding so that the current, meaningful, well-organized system becomes obsolete and no longer enticing to patrons.
6217	7/11/2012	I'm not sure if it's the biggest, but keeping pace with digital media seems like it will be expensive.
6218	7/11/2012	Technology. Electronic libraries are the future.
6219	7/11/2012	Funding.
6220	7/11/2012	Not having the funding to support current materials and digital content will make libraries irrelevant to the average user, be they kids, old, job seekers, or employed twenty somethings.
6221	7/11/2012	Funding
6222	7/11/2012	budget cuts?
6223	7/11/2012	People who think they are not worth funding!
6224	7/11/2012	Fire and politics

6225	7/11/2012	You changed hours/closed Monday.....and of course because we love the library, money will be asked so it goes back to the way it has ALWAYS been.....come on folks!
6226	7/11/2012	Lack of dependable funding due to economy, dependence upon tax levies
6227	7/11/2012	Lack of sufficient funding to provide all of the above services. While some of them may not be personally important to me, I am sure that they are very important to many people and it would be a shame to have these services cut.
6228	7/11/2012	PERS
6229	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6230	7/11/2012	Sounds like funding to pay employees and extra programs.
6231	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
6232	7/11/2012	Small minded people who want to regulate what others read.
6233	7/11/2012	Smaller libraries needing to close because of budget cuts.
6234	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, due to excessive library programs, and outrageous and unsustainable union wages and benefits---all of which combine to become way too expensive an operation. This all assumes that one values the rights of taxpayers.
6235	7/11/2012	Closure
6236	7/11/2012	a lack of funding with which operate them
6237	7/11/2012	Politics. Put it to a vote; library system is a priority to voters
6238	7/11/2012	revenue loss
6239	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6240	7/11/2012	Funding.
6241	7/11/2012	Stable funding. Declining readership. Television, computers, and videos.
6242	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6243	7/11/2012	Reduced funding resulting in lack of continued care and accessibility of this important communtiy asset.
6244	7/11/2012	Reduced funding by local governments. I suppose they slash things that don't threaten livelihoods in order to protect some things that may.
6245	7/11/2012	Funding, need more access for ebooks to keep up with technology.
6246	7/11/2012	Funding, based on the big negatives of private industry!
6247	7/11/2012	Unsure what is meant here, currently I would say it's funding problems brought about by the current financial crises.
6248	7/11/2012	e-books; teens and children reading less
6249	7/11/2012	People not realizing how important they are.
6250	7/11/2012	digital media
6251	7/11/2012	Lack of money?
6252	7/11/2012	Budget cuts from people who don't enjoy the library or underestimate it's value.

6253	7/11/2012	Gigantic school bonds and Mayor Sam Adams misusing tax dollars for the schools only. ¶ Now is not the time for taxes to increase. We senior citizens are facing increased water, sewer rates and now an "Art tax" plus whatever the PSS decides to put on the ballot plus the library fundsand on, and on, and on. It is becoming increasingly difficult to justify living in Multnomah Co and Portland because we are being taxed out of existence. I think 6 days a week is fine for now. In a few years, you will be able to go back to 7 days when the economy is better.
6254	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6255	7/11/2012	Austerity measures cutting vital public & educational resources.
6256	7/11/2012	Lack of appreciation for the value of libraries: especially lack of understanding of how vital they are to economically disadvantaged people, and of how much they do to anchor and build communities. I have no idea. Lack of funding? Is there any other answer? I'm of the mentality that our military is over-funded, and things like the library are under-funded, but I don't think the two are related. ¶
6257	7/11/2012	¶ I was surprised by the new six-day-a-week schedule, but I can understand it. I guess if I had to vote for a closure day for the library, it would be Sunday. It's such a good hang out for kids after school.
6258	7/11/2012	censorship
6259	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding.
6260	7/11/2012	Electronic books
6261	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. ¶ Failure to keep up with technology...like getting books that work on iPad!
6262	7/11/2012	Inefficient use of our tax dollars by the library system. Are we the most efficient system compared to peers in other cities? Could you do more with less? Do we actually need everything our tax dollars are buying? Getting blockbuster movies for instance. Nice but is it appropriate? Are our libraries making themselves easy target for budget reduction due to their own practices?
6263	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is definitely a lack of funding.
6264	7/11/2012	Politicians who are bent on "balancing the budget" by cutting programs and services that promote the general welfare. Funding instability and the restrictions limited and variable funding impose. ¶ ¶
6265	7/11/2012	Also, there are people -- I would guess predominantly young, upper-middle class-ers -- who do not use the library and who can be disturbingly cavalier about the resources and services libraries provide. In the run up to the election this year I overheard a conversation whose gist was, "Who even uses libraries any more?" I think it would be a good idea to educate these future tax payers about the value of the library system.
6266	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6267	7/11/2012	Cuts in funding.

6268	7/11/2012	Not enough current material, especially electronic texts, which is the future of book reading. Also, government funding.
6269	7/11/2012	It seems to me that lack of funding is the biggest threat. That being said, we all have to cut back in tough times, and I think opening 6 days a week instead of 7 is a reasonable compromise. I think that increasing the tax rate because so many citizens are in financial trouble makes no sense.
6270	7/11/2012	funds
6271	7/11/2012	Funding
6272	7/11/2012	New laws
6273	7/11/2012	Funding.
6274	7/11/2012	With the digital age of books the libraries are becoming more of an internet cafe rather than just a place to check books. Local libraries need up-to-date computers for those who need them, and Multnomah Libraries in general should be actively seeking to become more relevant in the digital age of books.
6275	7/11/2012	The largest threat to our libraries is the lack of funding
6276	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
6277	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6278	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6279	7/11/2012	Texas
6280	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6281	7/11/2012	I am not sure. I have done no research on that threat. People that only care about profit which is most corporations and republicans and even democrats I would imagine.
6282	7/11/2012	I didn't realize there were any. Funding? Recession? Economic collapse?
6283	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6284	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6285	7/11/2012	kindles..
6286	7/11/2012	Lack o funding.
6287	7/11/2012	Lack of funding for services and staff.
6288	7/11/2012	a population that does not read...poor schools
6289	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6290	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6291	7/11/2012	Funding
6292	7/11/2012	Funding issues. I am very sorry that the County reneged on spinning the library off sooner. I am very angry about the huge "urban renewal" that is being stolen from basic services. We should get to vote on urban renewal.
6293	7/11/2012	Limited hours to visit the library.
6294	7/11/2012	electronic books
6295	7/11/2012	Don't know

6296	7/11/2012	Trying to do too much.[]
		While wonderful, with a limited budget, need to prioritize a bit more
6297	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6298	7/11/2012	Budget, staying up to date, adequate work space and resources for customers.
6299	7/11/2012	Ignorance
6300	7/11/2012	Not being available on a regular basis to welcome all readers, especially those learning and those who are unable to travel, move, "live" and find themselves looking to books for "life".
6301	7/11/2012	Closures due to budget cuts. Limited hours mean limited access by the public. Information needs to be accessible to be valuable to the community.
6302	7/11/2012	unsure
6303	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6304	7/11/2012	I would imagine that the biggest threat to libraries, like most nonprofit programs that do good things, it's funding.
6305	7/11/2012	Continuing funding.
6306	7/11/2012	That they do not provide us with new books and that in today society people trend to use the internet rather than read a book
6307	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6308	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6309	7/11/2012	You know, I imagine the biggest threat is community members unwilling to financially support the services and employees provided by our libraries. We have to take personal responsibility for the things we value in our community and be able to cumulatively support these resources.
6310	7/11/2012	Citizens unwilling to pay for something "they don't use."
6311	7/11/2012	Perhaps too much funding going towards programs that are not as well used or necessary.
6312	7/11/2012	funding limitations bigots on the national level that may influence local decision making re: censorship, etc.
6313	7/11/2012	Our crazy tax system. In particular, compression. Hardly anyone understands it, so it makes it hard to fix it!
6314	7/11/2012	Not enough funding
6315	7/11/2012	Not enough funding.
6316	7/11/2012	You caught me at a good time. I walked from 102 & Burnside to the Midland Library this morning, it should be open at 10am. I got there at 10:04 & it had a sign that it would open at 11 am. damn. If you would just open five days a week at the same time each day it would be great. Just have minimal service & forget all the peripheral junk , you would have the funds that you need to stay open.
6317	7/11/2012	lack of money
6318	7/11/2012	Computerized everything - i.e. Kindle/Nook, computers to read and do research rather than hard copy reference books.
6319	7/11/2012	Money. Capitalism.

6320	7/11/2012	lack of stable funding
6321	7/11/2012	benefit costs of employees
6322	7/11/2012	funding by vote, as opposed to a more permanent stable source
6323	7/11/2012	Lack of appropriate public funding that is sufficient to stay current with current books, magazines, ebooks, and other media...? In general, the general public support for the libraries seems very strong - and the libraries appear to be incredibly well utilized.
6324	7/11/2012	tax dollars stretched too thin
6325	7/11/2012	Use by homeless people. Misuse by others. Central library has an intimidating atmosphere with all the kids that hang out in front
6326	7/11/2012	Public apathy - if you do not blow your own horn, noone else will blow it for you!!!!!! Send librarians to the schools and show the kids the who, what, where and when of books. These vitising librians need to have the wherewithall to issue library cards on the spot. (use the same techniques that the League of Women Voters have used for ages.)
6327	7/11/2012	Reduced hours or days
6328	7/11/2012	Not enough funding.
6329	7/11/2012	Funding and allocation of resources
6330	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6331	7/11/2012	Besides illiteracy, I would say that our culture has become the biggest threat to the library. With the advent of social media, I would say that young people spend more time reading about themselves than ever. Access to timewasters online via the internet, smart phones, ipads, etc. steals time away from books, seeking out real interests and learning.
6332	7/11/2012	Administrators believing that taking a bigger share of my non-growing paycheck is the only solution to funding.[] [] Failure to completely use the internet and it's every potential to make materials accessible to the public which may help to trim some of the employee expense and the need for as many open hours.[] [] Training the public on the use of the internet to save trips and gas and time and money.
6333	7/11/2012	I imagine the resources to keep a library afloat.
6334	7/11/2012	Stupid people who don't realize how amazing the library system is
6335	7/11/2012	On line books. AKA Kindle, Fire and the Nook. Not everyone has media. A lot of people prefer to hold a book in their hand
6336	7/11/2012	I think that ordering multiple upon multiple copies of a book is a budget threat. I can reserve and wait. Instant gratification is so not on my radar.
6337	7/11/2012	The budget constraints facing all municipal agencies throughout this country.
6338	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding to provide meaningful services to all members of the community
6339	7/11/2012	Not being open enough hours/days. Not being able to buy new books.

6340	7/11/2012	Economic cut-backs
6341	7/11/2012	budget restrictions
6342	7/11/2012	Not enough money, cuts!!
6343	7/11/2012	misperceptions among the voters and taxpayers, and misguided county officials. it is undeniable that libraries are a critical aspect of a civil society and provide massive, unparalleled return on investment, now and for the future.
6344	7/11/2012	The shorter hours and days open - the library system in Portland is well use and it gives those that don't have a computer a place to use one. Also it is a way to keep people reading and not have to spend money purchasing books. I love the library and would hate to see it shrink up to nothing. I believe the library holds many different means to different people. I remember going to the Belmont library as a child, so the Multnomah library system has been a part of my life for over 50 years. My children used it and I hope someday to have my grandchildren be a part of this great system.
6345	7/11/2012	Short sightedness of people making budget decisions.
6346	7/11/2012	Loss of public funding
6347	7/11/2012	Government not treating reading and fair access to books as the very concrete human need that it really is.
6348	7/11/2012	conservatives
6349	7/11/2012	Funding - libraries need to remain vital for all citizens.
6350	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6351	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding. Taxpayer apathy.
6352	7/11/2012	Tax cuts.
6353	7/11/2012	The CLAIMED budget crises and thus cuts to our library and our fundamental right to free access to information and technology predominately affecting poor people of color, particularly women and children.
6354	7/11/2012	Budget cuts.
6355	7/11/2012	Public apathy.
6356	7/11/2012	Budget cuts?
6357	7/11/2012	LACK OF NUMEROUS CURRENT RESOURCES (BOOKS, E-MEDIA, ETC)[] LACK OF CONVENIENT HOURS[] LACK OF CHILDRENS PROGRAMMING
6358	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is that some community members feel that libraries are not necessary because of the Internet. This is so far from the truth. Libraries are a wonderful social and economic equalizer and are more critical than ever.
6359	7/11/2012	I am unaware that there are threats to our libraries.
6360	7/11/2012	Increasing PERS expenses?
6361	7/11/2012	trying to do it all.
6362	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding to stay open all days.

6363	7/11/2012	You've purposely jammed the system so the only numbers 1 & 2 that will come up, no matter what I try to enter, are the 2 you want to come up: keeping branches open at the cost of increased taxes. This is why people hate government.
6364	7/11/2012	Funding shortfalls. I am happy to see Multnomah County Libraries adapting to changes in technology, such as the increased use of e-readers. Libraries will have to continue to adapt to these new technologies in order to succeed.
6365	7/11/2012	Underfunding.
6366	7/11/2012	People who don't want to pay their taxes to support the library system!
6367	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6368	7/11/2012	Closures and resources
6369	7/11/2012	Theft
6370	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. This should be a community and government priority.
6371	7/11/2012	Funding. It is clear that the libraries are a huge resource for people here in Portland, and being able to continue providing those resources is necessary, since so many other sources of public good are being underfunded or shut down completely. The library is the only place some people in our community can go to have the access they need to the rest of the community.
6372	7/11/2012	Free use of County paid internet.
6373	7/11/2012	Budget cuts, lack of public support
6374	7/11/2012	At the risk of sounding old-fashioned, and while fully appreciating the importance of all the peripheral things libraries do such as providing computer access, in the long-run I think the biggest threat is loss of focus on the book and other reading material. Computers and other media are ubiquitous, and while I'm not disputing the library's role in making these available to members of the public who don't have access elsewhere, the essential role of libraries, which will ultimately maintain the loyalty of the public through all the changes society is going through, is the core mission of serving our literary culture.
6375	7/11/2012	deterioration of books and other media
6376	7/11/2012	Funding
6377	7/11/2012	funding
6378	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding.
6379	7/11/2012	Loss of volunteer workers
6380	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding.
6381	7/11/2012	Budget to continue to purchase new material, the ability to keep up with the move towards electronic media (ebooks)
6382	7/11/2012	Not enough funding. [] Get the word out about how easy it is to use! I would have never looked into using the library's services until my roommate started checking out books and movies. Once I realized how amazing, easy and helpful the library is, I am a frequent flyer!

6383	7/11/2012	Disinterest, especially among younger people, to read.
6384	7/11/2012	Decision makers who do not understand the importance of a vibrant library system in a community. Making the bottom line the only measure of the value of libraries. Not enough stable funding.
6385	7/11/2012	Government taking away funding so that the libraries aren't able to have wonderful resources like the new scanners to check out books, staff, other computers, and new books.
6386	7/11/2012	Not having adequate resources to provide a quality service which would inevitably lead to a decrease in use and potential closures. It's a bad cycle.
6387	7/11/2012	Libraries are an open access point. The biggest threat is decreased funding and resources.
6388	7/11/2012	Funding
6389	7/11/2012	The Kindle
6390	7/11/2012	Funding
6391	7/11/2012	lack of vision/commitment to education
6392	7/11/2012	Lack of community use. Thus lack of community involvement and care in what happens to libraries.
6393	7/11/2012	Republicans and illiterate people, but I repeat myself.
6394	7/11/2012	Loosing programing. Our library is a great community hub. The staff and the programs which they run pull the neighborhood together.
6395	7/11/2012	Apathy! Could be over-expansion. I use the Troutdale library since it is the closest but it wasn't really needed. The Fairview and Gresham libraries were already established and not far away. How about fewer locations but open seven days a week and full hours instead of opening new branches?
6396	7/11/2012	The influx of vagrants and bums using the library as a "day/night" center.
6397	7/11/2012	group think'. times are tough and people are making hard choices to survive. our public institutions need to change the way they approach how they do 'business' - especially when looking at funding issues. continually tapping the same shrinking pool of resources is not sustainable.
6398	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6399	7/11/2012	Lack of funding!!!!
6400	7/11/2012	Decreased funding.
6401	7/11/2012	People can download books on their computers or other pads.
6402	7/11/2012	Politics and funding.
6403	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6404	7/11/2012	Budget cuts and the problems states and local governments are having getting enough tax dollars.
6405	7/11/2012	I'm personally more nervous about the possibility of censorship and internet filtering, and controversial material becoming less available. But then that's not an issue of funding.
6406	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Perhaps complacency - maybe the library needs to improve its outreach.
6407	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6408	7/11/2012	Voters who want to pay NO taxes -- regardless of their community benefit like the library.
6409	7/11/2012	lack of funding & the dumbing down of America through social media, television, and video games
6410	7/11/2012

6411	7/11/2012	Homeless people. Who wants to go to a library with dirty crazy people all over the place. There should be some type of system to screen these non-producing, non-contributing low-lives from ruining what used to be a pleasant library experience for everyone else.....everyone else being the people who pay the taxes and deserve the services.
6412	7/11/2012	Adequate funding!!!!!!!
6413	7/11/2012	Politics. Improper funding techniques. Possible failure to provide cost effective service. We particularly take advantage of reserving books over the internet and should such services become problematic, we would be very disappointed.
6414	7/11/2012	MISMANAGEMENT
6415	7/11/2012	Snooks and audio books
6416	7/11/2012	lack of funding. why, when we approve the levy is there this problem?
6417	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
6418	7/11/2012	Censorship and politicians who don't truly value books and learning...apart from that, when libraries self-censor, sorting out and selling their less popular books at rummage sales, one can end up "dumbing down a library collection and be left with stacks full of low-quality comic books.
6419	7/11/2012	arguing, not spending money wisely,inefficiency, and waste
6420	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6421	7/11/2012	Budget cuts, obviously.
6422	7/11/2012	I don't know.
6423	7/11/2012	electronic books & people not willing to pay for the services they use at the library.
6424	7/11/2012	I imagine unreliable funding
6425	7/11/2012	Loss of perceived importance politically. Many users are disenfranchised individuals and may have no voice in the process.
6426	7/11/2012	Lack of funding I suppose. Being an avid reader and library patron I can't imagine why anyone or one thing would/could threaten on of the best institutions this town has. Portland has the best library system of any place I've ever lived and if I am not mistaken one of the best in the country and it seems to be well loved by so many people.
6427	7/11/2012	non-progressive taxes. People don't want to continue to pay for libraries with property tax because it is an extra burden on the working class. Income taxes would be a better way to pay for libraries because is spreads the burden more fairly.
6428	7/11/2012	money
6429	7/11/2012	Reduced hours.
6430	7/11/2012	Budget cuts!
6431	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding
6432	7/11/2012	Lack of easy online interface to see what's in the library without going there.
6433	7/11/2012	Not enough funding to keep them open and staffed.

6434	7/11/2012	Ignorance. Often people have no idea how libraries are actually funded. In my experience, many believe that libraries are funded by a federal agency, and so they're reluctant to provide what they view as 'extra' funding. People are also often unaware of the services that libraries provide beyond books.
6435	7/11/2012	insufficient funding
6436	7/11/2012	Inconsistent funding and constantly changing technology. Think we need to be thinking more about libraries housing technological access for resources than housing books - as much as I love old-fashioned books!~
6437	7/11/2012	Republicans
6438	7/11/2012	Kindle, Nooks, etc. Electronic readers seem to be.
6439	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is the small branches may be closed for good.
6440	7/11/2012	people not voting to be taxed on goods and thus not having any money for social spending, the mo-fo glue of our community.
6441	7/11/2012	CLOSING DOWN
6442	7/11/2012	Not being open for people to use. I know that when I was growing up our family went to the library on a regular basis. We did not buy a lot of books, we borrowed from the library. I think if the library is open a long as possible during the summer i is a great gift to kids. In the winter time, it might be an idea to open an hour later so the library could stay open an hour later so kids could use the facilities.
6443	7/11/2012	Politicians
6444	7/11/2012	budget cuts
6445	7/11/2012	Library management not asking for enough money from the voters to stay open beyond token hours.
6446	7/11/2012	I have no idea.
6447	7/11/2012	Republicans
6448	7/11/2012	Not being able to stay current with technology, the expense in keeping libraries open
6449	7/11/2012	Not having access to current resources.
6450	7/11/2012	Levies for partial library funding leading to reductions in general fund contributions as politicians go into reactionary mode to fix a crisis, and view the libraries as "already taken care of" enough to neglect as a priority.[] [] We must keep a strong and stable funding from discretionary sources as well as dedicated ones.
6451	7/11/2012	Keeping them open and accessible with non-digitized materials. Real books!
6452	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6453	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6454	7/11/2012	I don't know. But I suspect its funding.
6455	7/11/2012	Lack of a library district.
6456	7/11/2012	Lack of a steady, ongoing source of income.
6457	7/11/2012	Lack of funding

6458	7/11/2012	Theft of books
6459	7/11/2012	Having moved here from out of state, i am chagrined at the lack of having a state income tax... which could help so many services. contact your legislators..... look at the tax systems of Minnesota and North Dakota... life is good in those places-- and libraries are alive and well.
6460	7/11/2012	I'm not sure - obviously lack of funding but I don't know what resources are taking away from library resources.
6461	7/11/2012	Unpatriotic citizens who do not want to pay taxes to support public services for their fellow human beings.
6462	7/11/2012	Not enough funding....and people who don't bother to understand what a library does for our community.
6463	7/11/2012	I have no idea. Hopefully there is no threat because what would we do without the library as the resource that it is?
6464	7/11/2012	Books being stolen and never returned and not being payed overdues
6465	7/11/2012	Lack of proper and consistent funding.
6466	7/11/2012	Wasting funding on obsolescent media.
6467	7/11/2012	lack of funding. shortening hours and cutting services
6468	7/11/2012	Apparently lack of funding.
6469	7/11/2012	Closures when kids rely on the library so much.
6470	7/11/2012	Relying on levys for funding. Though I've enjoyed free dvds for years, I wouldn't mind having a quarterly fee in place to assist in covering the cost.
6471	7/11/2012	Lack of appropriate funding.
6472	7/11/2012	Economic times inhibits funding.
6473	7/11/2012	The above question does not let me
6474	7/11/2012	Revenue cuts.
6475	7/11/2012	The internet.
6476	7/11/2012	lack of funding leading to cutting back on useful/educational programs, and irrelevance caused by inability to evolve quickly with latest technology shifts in reading and learning.
6477	7/11/2012	republicans
6478	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
6479	7/11/2012	lack of money to buy and retain materials
6480	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6481	7/11/2012	Available resources for low income families, seniors and early readers.
6482	7/11/2012	People forgetting about the purpose of libraries including reading and using books and the need to fund them.
6483	7/11/2012	Not having enough money to keep them all open
6484	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is access. We must find a way to keep our libraries open with "full hours - seven days a week" with no more increase in taxes.

6485	7/11/2012	People don't want to read any more. Lack of funding.
6486	7/11/2012	Not being open.
6487	7/11/2012	budget issues
6488	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6489	7/11/2012	Slow economy, same as everything/-one else.
6490	7/11/2012	People who think there is nothing worth paying a tax for.
		1. Biggest threat: Scope creep. Be a good library. You may perhaps let some of the peripheral programs go if that is what it takes to be a good library.[] []
6491	7/11/2012	2. Alienating taxpayers (like me). The fact that I fought a losing battle with the Library to keep sexually titillating materials out of the hands of my teenage sons has left a long-lasting sour taste in my mouth. If the Library can be a SAFE PLACE as well as a valuable resource for all in our community, if the Library can cooperate with parents instead of following continuing on its politically-correct agenda, then it will be easier to get voters to support you.
6492	7/11/2012	people don't know how to use them, or are afraid of forgetting to return books and getting fined a lot. also people are afraid of taxes even when they are used for really important resources
6493	7/11/2012	Tax cuts.
6494	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and rising costs.
6495	7/11/2012	Apathy towards funding
6496	7/11/2012	not enough funding
6497	7/11/2012	Limited hours.
6498	7/11/2012	limiting resources in the library for job seekers, students, small business owners
6499	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Without funding, we can't get books or movies, and there wouldn't be wifi. Without any of that, we don't have a library, and we wouldn't have patrons.
6500	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6501	7/11/2012	I don't know.
6502	7/11/2012	It becomes social services - ha
6503	7/11/2012	Not being supported by public.
6504	7/11/2012	republicans
6505	7/11/2012	lack of sufficient funding to do a great job
6506	7/11/2012	Inadequate schools.
6507	7/11/2012	Budget cuts and increased Internet access.
6508	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6509	7/11/2012	I am not too sure, sounds like funding is an issue.
6510	7/11/2012	I'm not sure, but it seems like budget cuts. At least in my neighborhood, the library appears well-used.

6511	7/11/2012	Being shutdown due to budget constraints. I feel libraries are seen solely as a benefit when they should be viewed as a necessity. Responsible and respectful patrons should have access to learning and certain entertainment materials without having to pay a lot of money.
6512	7/11/2012	The Internet. Most don't need to visit the library for accurate information. They can find it all online. Books are becoming a thing of the past. People can read full novels on their device with less bulk than carrying a book or two.
6513	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. My impression is that MCPL does a great job with the funds it does have. I can't weigh in on the value of establishing a library district and will read up on it, since that seems to be one way to establish and maintain a bigger operating budget.
6514	7/11/2012	funding
6515	7/11/2012	Poorly staffed
6516	7/11/2012	It seems that budget cuts are the biggest threat, as the library can be viewed as not so important in this world of technology.
6517	7/11/2012	Lack of finding
6518	7/11/2012	Hlgh wages and retirement benefits paid by the homeowners who do not use the libraries. It has become an entitlement program. The cost is enormous. I could buy 30+ hardbacks and throw them away for the taxes paid.
6519	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6520	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6521	7/11/2012	complacency
6522	7/11/2012	I'm not sure.
6523	7/11/2012	Under-funding.
6524	7/11/2012	Not sure but lack of funding is probably the biggest right now.
6525	7/11/2012	?
6526	7/11/2012	Isolated and illiterate population voting as they're told by big corporate interests.
6527	7/11/2012	Funding going to other, less used and less important projects (i.e. Bike Lanes), instead of libraries, schools, community centers, and parks. I'm afraid my library will be suddenly open only during regular business hours, not allowing me to use the services for which I pay with my taxes (both property and income).
6528	7/11/2012	The assumption that electronic usage makes books irrelevant. The book selection at the library is a critical resource given the limited range of ebooks. In order to have a democracy, we need educated people; the original vision of the public library. This vision much continue if we want to have individuals with access to a wide range of perspectives.
6529	7/11/2012	Anyone underestimating the power of reading, developing imagination and having a safe haven to do so.[] [] Some things cannot be quantified. I worry that those who don't use the library will not support it.

6530	7/11/2012	Voter apathy.[] Voters need to be reminded of the good things the library provides the community.[] In Gresham for example the library is just not a place for books but serves as the primary community center.
6531	7/11/2012	not having security
6532	7/11/2012	Funding. Please do not close local branches. It is important that all citizens have local access to a library. Shorten hours, before doing that.
6533	7/11/2012	Tie: 1.) Electronic Media (e-books) edging out libraries due to prices of physical books and social need --and, 2.) people taking their libraries for granted. when prices go up, (and what these days isn't) libraries get stuck cutting corners (in this case, right now, cutting out a day, but what next?) --people get disappointed at the library system, even though in reality, their lack of interest (or, at least, their lack of giving $ thru local taxes) is what causes it to fail.
6534	7/11/2012	stupid people and non readers
6535	7/11/2012	cutting hours to never provide access for 8-5 workers.
6536	7/11/2012	short sighted electorate
6537	7/11/2012	E readers
6538	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to perform the library system's vital functions (listed just above). Lack of funding leads to lack of staff, materials, helping patrons to find materials and do research. It's clear that in this time of economic stress particularly, the library is a haven, a support system, as well as providing its traditional intellectual support.
6539	7/11/2012	Lack of funding...or you wouldn't be asking.
6540	7/11/2012	misspending off tax money by our so called local leaders
6541	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6542	7/11/2012	The library funding district.
6543	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6544	7/11/2012	The State of Oregon's tax laws.
6545	7/11/2012	Kindles.
6546	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and educational initiative to maintain libraries as a supplementary resource
6547	7/11/2012	Funding
6548	7/11/2012	Expense and increasing property taxes.
6549	7/11/2012	Republicans and the internet
6550	7/11/2012	Jeff Cogen's foot-dragging on the library district
6551	7/11/2012	budget cuts
6552	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. I believe people need and use the library more than first thought.
6553	7/11/2012	Maybe ebooks? Not enough funding?

6554	7/11/2012	limited funds, decreasing access, staff reductions and on and on and on [] Portlands' libraries are one of its best resources!!!!
6555	7/11/2012	When county funds are misappropriated and allocated to other areas that do not serve the general public. It is also very deceitful to present a measure to the public that misled the public into voting it into law, then cutting the library hours and now proposing another measure that would increase the levy without telling the public the total amount of money collected from the levy and how the levy is appropriated. I am not happy that my vote was used in this way. I will make sure you will not get my vote again and I will try my best to tell other people about how unhappy I am.
6556	7/11/2012	Not having enough of a selection and not having enough electronic copies to reduce the waiting time to check out e-books
6557	7/11/2012	Closure
6558	7/11/2012	Decreased services due to lack of funding.
6559	7/11/2012	Funding?
6560	7/11/2012	Lack of financial support.
6561	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6562	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, inadequate staffing, inadequate resources to keep up with popular and scholarly publications, Republicans.
6563	7/11/2012	1) Lack of funding. 2) It seems like the Central library especially has the burden of being a de facto social service center, which I imagine is difficult on staff. I'd like to see the library given more help in this arena, ie maybe we need more computer labs and job resource centers in Portland for the homeless population to access, in a more hands-on service oriented environment. The assumption that people are not willing to pay higher taxes for a better library. [] It would also be nice to get some of the most unhelpful library personnel to be retired or let go and more excited and motivated people employed at the library. For example, at the Belmont library a worker named Jane, who leads the children's story time has worked at the for library for decades and is grumpy and unpleasant and never helpful, but her job apparently is secure since a couple of newer and younger story time leaders were recently let go due to budget issues. Those two ladies were really good. They were not only knowledge, but helpful and pleasant as well. I bet they were paid less than that Jane lady too.
6564	7/11/2012
6565	7/11/2012	loss of funding.
6566	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and failure to keep up with new technology (need a better e-book system. More titles, and better website)
6567	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, without question.
6568	7/11/2012	money - lack of it

6569	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.[] []
6570	7/11/2012	Increased used of e-books.
6571	7/11/2012	non support by taxpayers and mismanagement (I have not witnessed any mismanagment)
6572	7/11/2012	I don't know
6573	7/11/2012	The loss of an education to anyone. availability is very important. Inefficient work routines that waste money. Runaway operational costs requiring constant [] increases in Levy's.
6574	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to libraries is the widely-held misconception amongst casual patrons that the library is "just a place to get media for free". If people aren't made to realize that the public library is, really, a fundamental part of the free education system in America, and if they continue to see it as nothing more than an archaic and inferior precursor to file-sharing networks, then libraries will continue to see their funding shrink into nonexistence at the hands of apathetic taxpayers and legislators.
6575	7/11/2012	Funding and political priorities
6576	7/11/2012	Underfunding
6577	7/11/2012	Republicans
6578	7/11/2012	library administration and county administrators.
6579	7/11/2012	consistent funding. The same thing that is wrong with Oregon schools.
6580	7/11/2012	Technology because of the proliferation of electronic media is killing the printed world.
6581	7/11/2012	Underfunding
6582	7/11/2012	Government. A levy was just passed by the voters. In less than 60 days government is saying not enough money. If sufficient money wasn't asked for in the levy.....why not? Suddenly the levy amount is 17% short of what is needed? That's makes no sense at all to me. My suspicion is that levy funds are being diverted to other uses.
6583	7/11/2012	No money
6584	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6585	7/11/2012	Funding
6586	7/11/2012	Too many homeless vagabonds.
6587	7/11/2012	Lack of funds for maintenance and keeping up-to-date materials.
6588	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6589	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6590	7/11/2012	That people will take it for granted. We have one of the nation's best library systems because we agree as a community that it is important and worthwhile. Many leaders in the community have helped people see this. If that shared sense of the library's importance diminishes, if people let themselves believe that supporting the library is just another tax, that reading is "over," then the libraries will be threatened.

6591	7/11/2012	Funding and community awareness.
6592	7/11/2012	People who don't recognize it at a huge part of why we live in a civilized society and who therefore do not want to pay any tax related to it. They're missing out. (This is obviously just a guess, but I go there because of how truly thankful we are for the Library and how we vote to support it when/where possible.)
6593	7/11/2012	Republicans.
6594	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6595	7/11/2012	might have to closed for some of the branches
6596	7/11/2012	lack of current books, and cds.
6597	7/11/2012	Funding cuts that would reduce services and continued quality of the collection.
6598	7/11/2012	expense of books and media city budget.
6599	7/11/2012	Continuous begging for money. People get tired of it.[] Look, people will get by with reduced service. Make what you have the best you can.[] Why am I paying for people to get free movies. If they we educational, then fine. But Vin Diesel movies?
6600	7/11/2012	They, much like our public schools, are funded by taxpayers (and most notably here in Oregon--home buyers through their property taxes). Until Oregon can get over its fear of sales tax we will continue to find ourselves in the same funding situations with our schools, libraries, fire stations, etc. A sales tax would more evenly spread the burden of support beyond property owners and even take in additional funding from tourists (which is just money left on the table at this point).
6601	7/11/2012	I would assume it's funding.
6602	7/11/2012	Budget Cuts.
6603	7/11/2012	Multnomah County Board diverting existing funding to other programs. Excessive salaries for director(s).
6604	7/11/2012	lack of stable funding!
6605	7/11/2012	I believe the biggest threat is funding.
6606	7/11/2012	The arrogance and incompetence of your staff! A male librarian is always condescending and arrogant when I ask him a question. He should disappear at the next layoff.
6607	7/11/2012	I have no idea. I just use the damn thing.
6608	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6609	7/11/2012	underfunding or disuse
6610	7/11/2012	funding being cut.
6611	7/11/2012	taxes. If you tax the middle class too much, there will not be a middle class left. Then who will pay to keep the libraries open?
6612	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6613	7/11/2012	Internet
6614	7/11/2012	Over use?

6615	7/11/2012	lack of funds. Libraries in Portland are a rich source of materials and activities and its citizens make full use of what is available. Very difficult to ask citizens to pay more in these tough economic times, especially when the school system is proposing a bond issue, but I do believe the public will support our libraries.
6616	7/11/2012	I don't believe the library should be a place for popular movies and cd's...informational only...expends too many resources.
6617	7/11/2012	Limited access for patrons with this type of resource
6618	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6619	7/11/2012	Lack of staff persons.
6620	7/11/2012	Indifference.
6621	7/11/2012	not enough funding to support the system
6622	7/11/2012	Inflation
6623	7/11/2012	Rapid de-funding.
6624	7/11/2012	The unfriendly, un helpful library staff.
6625	7/11/2012	Levy passing which increase our taxes but, the money does not go where they say it will go. The levy passed and now the Library is closed on Monday's. Just like schools. No one knows where the money is going.
6626	7/11/2012	Resources being directed away from education, and generally towards prisons, policing, etc.
6627	7/11/2012	Cretins
6628	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and support
6629	7/11/2012	Right Wing Conservatives.
6630	7/11/2012	Funding
6631	7/11/2012	lack of consistent funding
6632	7/11/2012	Funding.
6633	7/11/2012	programs taken away
6634	7/11/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is budget cuts. We need to keep our libraries open and current. This is one of the biggest ways to keep our community grow, stay safe, and stay smart.
6635	7/11/2012	Loss of branches and hours as well as loss of staff. Cutbacks in materials.
6636	7/11/2012	Money...plain and simple. The economy is in such bad shape right now and has been for several years. There are less people paying property taxes because they have been foreclosed upon. There are so many unemployed people. The city of Gresham has been hit hard. There are so many empty businesses. People are just barely getting by financially. I think we all want all of the above things for our libraries, but we cannot afford the extra money needed to finance them. The schools are having the same problem. I don't know what the answer is to solve the problem. If we all had good living wage paying jobs, and owned property, maybe there would be extra money to help fund great things like libraries and schools. I don't see that happening anytime soon...not until the economy recovers.

6637	7/11/2012	Under funding. All the previous programs need to be available to everyone. Some of us don't have access to computers or can afford new books.
6638	7/11/2012	The government not recognizing its necessity. Yes it must be paid for, and I do believe it should be paid for. The library is a symbol of free-thinking curiosity that fosters in individuals as well as communities the idea that physical (historical) books, tools for research, and places for contemplating ideas are important and should be accessible. The fact that libraries are free truly reinforces that they are for everybody. In a time when books (as physical objects) are losing out to media and people are dependent upon having access to a computer/the internet -- the library is a place that meets all research and inquiry needs with computer access as well as thousands of incredible books that would not be easily located anywhere else. Yes, even in e-reader format. Yes, even online!
6639	7/11/2012	Not sure
6640	7/11/2012	Internet
6641	7/11/2012	Reducing hours and confusing times of operation limiting library access to many citizens.
6642	7/11/2012	Defunding by the anti-government movement.
6643	7/11/2012	Poor economy coupled with a loss of tax revenue. Also, general apathy by the public.
6644	7/11/2012	Kids growing up believing that TV and electronic devices are more fun than reading a good book. You automate with expensive checkout computerized machines but you have not reduced staff; the staff just stand around and watch us check out. The automation should have reduced staff but you have chosen not to do that. How does that pencil?[] []
6645	7/11/2012	You have expanded rentals of videos and movies to over 30% of all rentals. Why? That is not the main mission of libraries and should not be.[] [] You should focus on your CORE mission- books. You have not tried to do that.
6646	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6647	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and support from local and state government, as well as lack of support and interest from community members.
6648	7/11/2012	mismanagement of current funding levels
6649	7/11/2012	Umm daring to make library a private entity with the threat of having to pay in order to access inside a library a fee is not right, at all or the thought of libraries in a private sector.
6650	7/11/2012	not enough funding and public's lack of utilization
6651	7/11/2012	employees benefits and pensions are WAY TOO HIGH! The system is highway robbery.
6652	7/11/2012	It sounds like the biggest threat is lack of funding.
6653	7/11/2012	Misappropriated funds
6654	7/11/2012	Funding. If people don't have open libraries when they want to use them and access like the Kindle borrowing, they will be less likely to support funding for the libraries.

6655	7/11/2012	hour cuts
6656	7/11/2012	Money?
6657	7/11/2012	Lack of credibility from doom and gloom scare tactics to raise taxes or face further service cuts. We JUST voted for a levy two months ago. How is it possible that you need MORE money this soon??? We cannot keep paying more while getting less.
6658	7/11/2012	Budget cuts at the state and local levels.
6659	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6660	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6661	7/11/2012	Not being able to use the computer and get books out to read.
6662	7/11/2012	Easy access to updated technology.
6663	7/11/2012	Lack of funding Budget cuts. Poor priorities of allocation of money and services.[] Educational resources considered not as important as giving money out to[]
6664	7/11/2012	those who do not need it.[] The privilege and the rich not paying as much taxes as the middle class.[] The upper classes and wealthy should contribute funds to such institutions as libraries and schools,[] in payment for society's contribution for making them wealthy. It is paying it forward.
6665	7/11/2012	I strongly disagree with so much money going to cater to non English language materials.
6666	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding
6667	7/11/2012	funding? lack of reading among children?
6668	7/11/2012	unpaid fines.
6669	7/11/2012	Top heavy management, political waste, republican party Funding the biggest issue[]
6670	7/11/2012	I also see the library staff having to step in to help where the social welfare system and education system are lacking. I appreciate that they are willing to help: homeless, jobseekers, seniors and children - it is a shame that due to underfunding of other programs/departments etc... the library is the only resource to help some people.
6671	7/11/2012	Cutting of State and Federal funding
6672	7/11/2012	Cutting out evening and weekend hours which makes them difficult for working parents and students to use.
6673	7/11/2012	Apathy
6674	7/11/2012	I don't know
6675	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6676	7/11/2012	People not totally utilizing the resources. Need to give our libraries more PR.
6677	7/11/2012	$$$$$$$
6678	7/11/2012	I don't know
6679	7/11/2012	Measure 5 & measure 47

6680	7/11/2012	budget
6681	7/11/2012	Maybe trying to do too much.
6682	7/11/2012	Funding cuts.
6683	7/11/2012	inability to change with the times & lack of funding
6684	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6685	7/11/2012	Lack of access and up to date materials or enough employees to support clients.
6686	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and people who don't understand that the library is for more than just checking out books for free.
6687	7/11/2012	Technology-- the proper use of technology could reduce capital and operating substantially.
6688	7/11/2012	Cuts in full hours. These destroy voters' trust to pass future library ballot measures.
6689	7/11/2012	Too many programs taking the place of what the family, not the library, should be doing and eating up money and resources. Eventually people will learn to work around it.
6690	7/11/2012	Funding. Our library system is an absolute treasure and as more and more people slip out of the middle class (my family included) it's one of the few opportunities for enrichment still available to us. We can't afford much of anything anymore but the riches at the library make us feel like the luckiest people ever. □ When library hours are cut, people who can't afford internet access for job searches and schoolwork are affected. Cuts to the library are cuts directed directly at the poor and disadvantaged. Don't think we don't know it.
6691	7/11/2012	Short hours not enough funding. I think I am in the minority, but I am willing to pay more taxes, more property taxes, (I am a home owner) more income taxes what ever it takes to keep libraries, parks and schools open updated well stocked serving the public. I only earn about $25K annually but I am willing to pay more for the important things in life. I have no children in schools but good schools, good libraries, good parks and recreational opportunities for all ages are important.
6692	7/11/2012	Ordering books on-line for my e-reader has been very sucessful. A lot of citizens who used to read hard-bound books are now opting for e-books. Therefore, there should be less readers needing to go to the physical libraries. This is a good "threat." Hopefully the Multnomah County Libraries will be able to operate with less funding and maintain fewer branches with shorter hours.
6693	7/11/2012	lack of literacy
6694	7/11/2012	misrepresentations by library funding advocates
6695	7/11/2012	i don't know
6696	7/11/2012	People not funding them.
6697	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. I think that the community cares and uses their libraries, but doesn't always make the connection that those services need to be paid for.
6698	7/11/2012	Our mayor
6699	7/11/2012	Levy failure.

6700	7/11/2012	Lack of funding resulting in fewer hours and fewer new books.
6701	7/11/2012	I think that ebooks are a threat to libraries. The convenience leads to libraries becoming obsolete.
6702	7/11/2012	Continue funding to support new books and computers inventories.
6703	7/11/2012	eBooks and electronics reducing next generation's appreciation of the physical written word.
6704	7/11/2012	Funding, definitely. I am poor, but I'd be willing to pay more in taxes to keep the libraries open and accessible
6705	7/11/2012	closing libraries, restricted hours so that they aren't open in the evenings and weekends, removal of seldom used materials
6706	7/11/2012	Politicians looking to fund other programs one way or another, not willing to put money into the library system.
6707	7/11/2012	Losing any more funding is the biggest threat to our local libraries. I believe the library system is vital to a thriving and well-informed community.
6708	7/11/2012	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - administrative costs (Are we being wasteful? Are some of those upper tier salaries really necessary?) - Can people be educated to perhaps take better care of the materials and thus, cut replacement costs? - The amount of stolen material AND the fact that, in the past, alarms have been dismantled as "too much trouble" is of concern to a lot of us.
6709	7/11/2012	Not being available (and not having current books) to school-aged kids so that they can touch and see the sources of information that will open their eyes to the world of knowledge. Browsing in a library is an important way to find out about new things. Sometimes you look on the shelf for a specific book, but on the way to find that book, you see other books that capture your interest about subjects that you hadn't thought of yet. This type of 'search' is not possible on the internet.
6710	7/11/2012	I think that not having enough funding is the biggest threat.
6711	7/11/2012	lack of funding.
6712	7/11/2012	Inadequate materials and media to maintain relevancy for all who use them.
6713	7/11/2012	This program is not working. I can't change any numbers in the above Question!!!
6714	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6715	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and lack of willingness of people who use the libraries to help fund them.
6716	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is high unemployment rates locally. When people are unemployed or underemployed, or fear that the economy is not robust, they are wary for any government spending. When they are wary of spending, they begin to target social programs, like the library, as an expensive, non-essential service, in spite of the fact that libraries often fill the gap when other programs are cut. The library's services to job seekers, seniors/ homebound, young families, students, and others are essential in keeping the community vibrant.
6717	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6718	7/11/2012	I'd imagine funding issues.

6719	7/11/2012	Lack of funding due to a fundamental lack of understanding of the importance of libraries. Libraries are more than "free bookstores", serving an important role in education and community.
6720	7/11/2012	The public pension program. (retirement and health care for retirees)
6721	7/11/2012	Unfunded PERS liabilities
6722	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6723	7/11/2012	Electronic media
6724	7/11/2012	E-books
6725	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is Oregon's faltering economy. As always, the rich don't "need" library services as they can purchase books, tutorial services, research services, and etc. Property owners hate to pay for any service they "think" is not useful to them. An educated public is of SERVICE to everyone. Share the wealth has lost any meaning in this new world.
6726	7/11/2012	Re duce money for their budget.[] Use tax money for wars and political propaganda for the next president insted of educational services that librerries offered
6727	7/11/2012	well...it appears to be funding.
6728	7/11/2012	lack of resources
6729	7/11/2012	Funding/use disinterest.
6730	7/11/2012	Old-fashioned ideas of the services libraries offer; anti-intellectual leanings of too many others and citizens.
6731	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6732	7/11/2012	Loss of public funding
6733	7/11/2012	The prison system hogging too much of the State budget. Stop convicting innocent people and jailing Mexican nationals just because they are here. Pay attention to and follow the letter and spirit of the Constitution. What could the library system do with an extra 500 million a year? That's only half the prison budget. Pretty obvious isn't it? The U.S. has 2% of world population and 25% of all prisoners. Who pays for this? Kids that can't get into a library, underfunded libraries and under paid librarians. [] [] Dedicate a greater portion of lottery proceeds to Libraries . . . How better to stimulate the U.S. economy than to educate the public. Oh, and reduce the WAIST in Public Spending . . . you know what I'm writing about don't you. And control bullying and gangs in public schools.
6734	7/11/2012	I don't know. I would imagine a lack of funding.
6735	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6736	7/11/2012	I don't know.
6737	7/11/2012	Funding? Our libraries are great!
6738	7/11/2012	Low value placed on public goods.
6739	7/11/2012	don't know.

6740	7/11/2012	1. I'm not happy with the Hollywood Library turning into a day care center. It's gets too noisy and it is hard to concentrate.[] [] 2. Not enough funding.
6741	7/11/2012	loss of funding
6742	7/11/2012	Decreased hours
6743	7/11/2012	Lack of funding leading to less services, which will lead to less use by members, which will lead to less support for tax levies and lead to even less funding.
6744	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is the libraries being open less than 6 days a week. Lack of funding?[] [] Regarding the above: [] []
6745	7/11/2012	I think it is a priority to have the libraries open 7 days a week, because peoples' needs and free time vary, so it seems important for everyone to be able to count on the library being open for some time each day.[] [] That said, I think the other programs you have listed are all a critical part of what the library needs to offer. I think we owe it to future generations to have good access to information and guidance as provided by the library services. The public doesnt know enough about possible types of funding; why the costs go up; why libraries are important when public schools are shutting down subjects like the arts; [] & just because they have real-life books & written pages still!
6746	7/11/2012	I would say internet, but I happen to be a big internet user at home as well. Books are readily available online now So folks don't have to travel to the library to read or get a book anymore.
6747	7/11/2012	Lack of capacity, funding
6748	7/11/2012	E-books, possibly.
6749	7/11/2012	government
6750	7/11/2012	Cutting back hours after a levy passes. Inept elected leadership.
6751	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6752	7/11/2012	Funding
6753	7/11/2012	Closing
6754	7/11/2012	People not wanting to pay taxes for essential services such as the library.
6755	7/11/2012	Biggest threat: thinking that as a public funded organization you HAVE to be all things to all people. [] []
6756	7/11/2012	Like the rest of us, prioritize what you can do with the money you have.. Please don't ask for more. All of us have lost wages/jobs in this Economy. It makes sense that you would have to cut back as well.

6757	7/11/2012	loss of funding
6758	7/11/2012	basing funding on tax values that fluctuate rather than a more steady source
6759	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Also, future generations not seeing the value of libraries.
6760	7/11/2012	Seems there should be more times for the teens to be involved in something.
6761	7/11/2012	funding, I suspect
6762	7/11/2012	Diverging attitudes toward the value of PUBLIC infrastructure. That is, there seems to be a growing base of people who are unwilling to support culturally-valuable, even critical, institutions (e.g. libraries, arts, culture, etc.) with their tax-dollars.
6763	7/11/2012	Lack of funding leading to lack of services and out of date materials...
6764	7/11/2012	cut back services
6765	7/11/2012	Censorship. And budget cuts, obviously.
6766	7/11/2012	Lack of resources.
6767	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6768	7/11/2012	i assume funding
6769	7/11/2012	Shutting down branches. It's important to have access to a facility in your neighborhood.
6770	7/11/2012	under funding
6771	7/11/2012	That there will be insufficient funding.
6772	7/11/2012	Budget constriction and also the sweeping trend to electronic reading options. I am NOT a fan of e-readers and hope to NEVER see libraries go by the wayside. There is just something about holding a book in your hands and reading from it.
6773	7/11/2012	Keeping new media on the shelves, the electronic age of e- books, culture failure to support literacy.
6774	7/11/2012	Underfunding that leaves the system unable to stay current with technology & printed materials & other media.
6775	7/11/2012	Lack of public revenue and over-emphasis on fire and police.
6776	7/11/2012	Smartphones making us dumber.
6777	7/11/2012	Not enough funding.
6778	7/11/2012	stupidity
6779	7/11/2012	Citizens who are not willing to pay more taxes because they think government can always do more with less.
6780	7/11/2012	electronic books over the internet, but not a near term threat
6781	7/11/2012	I would guess budget cuts, and programs
6782	7/11/2012	Lack of proper funding.
6783	7/11/2012	lack of secure and stable funding, rising healthcare costs, and auto steps for union employees.

6784	7/11/2012	Lack of consistent funding ---- A library system, particularly one as spectacular as the Multnomah County Library is as necessary for a healthy community as clean water, garbage pick-up, sewers and utilities. EVERY citizen needs access to a library with up-to-date published media, computer access and librarians to facilitate effective use of the resources.....How else can we even pretend to live in a democracy??
6785	7/11/2012	complete closure
6786	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6787	7/11/2012	Not being a priority for budget makers
6788	7/11/2012	Funding
6789	7/11/2012	Funding and a lack of appreciation for what libraries offer.
6790	7/11/2012	Probably funding.
6791	7/11/2012	The general lack of interest in reading and learning in our society.
6792	7/11/2012	I have no idea...I suppose people who resist publicly funded social programs (like the library) by fighting against taxes to help keep the libraries funded.
6793	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6794	7/11/2012	Lack of money to maintain the library
6795	7/11/2012	not enough funding
6796	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6797	7/11/2012	Lack of money to run them.
6798	7/11/2012	Not enough money to keep them open or people not using them.
6799	7/11/2012	Loss of funding.
6800	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Large facilities and fewer people using books. Are the libraries going to become community owned wifi centers? hard to say...
6801	7/11/2012	Not enough funds?
6802	7/11/2012	Lack of funds.
6803	7/11/2012	The internet - libraries aren't really necessary to do research anymore for school reports, data collection, etc.
6804	7/11/2012	Declining use by students, shift to web sources for information rather than books. Mis-Use of our Tax Dollars. Government does not need more money. They need to use the money they have more effectively and efficiently.[]
6805	7/11/2012	[] Perhaps, it would be better if private business ran all government agencies.[] [] so, the biggest threat - the way government manages business.
6806	7/11/2012	The voters. Closing libraries means closing minds. A society CANNOT and WILL NOT advance with closed minds. Libraries are a critical piece of the foundation of modern society. Without them, we will decline into ignorance.

6807	7/11/2012	Keeping up with technology - although the county's system seems to have no trouble there.
6808	7/11/2012	Funding.
6809	7/11/2012	I'm not sure. lack of funding...[]
6810	7/11/2012	In St. Louis County people pay 10 dollars a year to belong. I would be willing to pay directly to the library system if a sliding scale was set up, so truly poor families have access, which is so crucial.[] Thank you.
6811	7/11/2012	access to information is probably the primary support of a vibrant economy ... the library provides at least a minimal access ... our community needs to provide this access for all and a modest tax to support this access is essential but a 33% increase is a burden to us all leaving access to only those that can afford to provide their own access ... access for low-income people is essential and the burden must be shared by all ...
6812	7/11/2012	Not being open enough
6813	7/11/2012	Apathy
6814	7/11/2012	Funding, taxpayer support
6815	7/11/2012	Funds
6816	7/11/2012	Budget cuts are the biggest threat to our library system.
6817	7/11/2012	not enough funding
6818	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Future difficulty of finding qualified personnel due to low wages.
6819	7/11/2012	People not utilizing them
6820	7/11/2012	low revenue
6821	7/11/2012	idiot politicians
6822	7/11/2012	Cheap taxpayers, and those who don't see the necessity to pass funding measures to support them
6823	7/11/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
6824	7/11/2012	Not funding them. It provides the earliest onset of education to all people and especially for early intervention for reading to people who may not otherwise access such materials. It is the leading deterrent for students to remain in school and be part of a community as long term, and to be a participant in the economy.
6825	7/11/2012	Defunding. Our Library system is the best in the world from what I learned. Yes-it is extremely important to maintain our Library. It part of a free country. It is democray. It is civilized. We the people must stay informed. I love it.
6826	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6827	7/11/2012	lack of funding!
6828	7/11/2012	Defunding, lack of public support
6829	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6830	7/11/2012	It seems to be money!
6831	7/11/2012	Staying open.

6832	7/11/2012	short-sighted funding cuts
6833	7/11/2012	Publishers not allowing e books. I love being able to check out a book in the middle of the night or when I am traveling.
6834	7/11/2012	Money.People who do not want to support things like schools, may well not want to support libraries.
6835	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6836	7/11/2012	The poor economy, because people can't afford to support the library through higher taxes/levies .
6837	7/11/2012	E-books.
6838	7/11/2012	funding
6839	7/11/2012	Unstable funding
6840	7/11/2012	Availability of current materials.
6841	7/11/2012	Closing branches and making it difficult for others to obtain services.
6842	7/11/2012	Uncertain funding
6843	7/11/2012	Current funding situation, apathy by public
6844	7/11/2012	Funding. I do not think there is apathy about libraries in Portland, but if it raises it's head, that would be a serious threat.
6845	7/11/2012	One of the things I hear most is that the upper-level management staff in the Multnomah County Library system are sucking the resources dry because they are too highly paid. The funds that are already available should be being used for library services, building maintenance, and entry-level type general staffing (i.e. keeping branches open all days -- if McDonalds can manage to stay open all week, so can the libraries!). Tax money should not be used for high salaries and benefits for the top-heavy library bureaucracy positions. I would definitely say that the highly paid top-level library bureaucrats are the BIGGEST threat to our local libraries.
6846	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, & the chance that w/technology, actual "books" might disappear.
6847	7/11/2012	Not enough funding.
6848	7/11/2012	Dumbing down of materials purchased for ease of processing.
6849	7/11/2012	NOT ENOUGH MONEY TO STAY OPEN ENOUGH HOURS TO MAKE INFORMATION AND EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS AVAILABLE TO ALL, INCLUDING THOSE WHO CAN ONLY COME DURING NON-WORKING HOURS!!!
6850	7/11/2012	Not enough money to keep the libraries open.
6851	7/11/2012	lack of adequate funding -it is good that the libraries are so well utilized as that encourages passage of funding measures
6852	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. Our libraries are one of the few institutions left that make the USA relevant. Don't get me started on inequities etc. Libraries at least let the little guy keep informed if one wants to.
6853	7/11/2012	Wealthy home owners voting against a new levy.
6854	7/11/2012	Books going electronic.
6855	7/11/2012	Budget cuts that lead to reduction in hours, knowledgeable staff, current material and community programs.

6856	7/11/2012	THE INTERNET
6857	7/11/2012	Funding.
6858	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6859	7/11/2012	Voters not prioritizing libraries
6860	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6861	7/11/2012	closures
6862	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, outdated materials, safety within the libraries in the form of protecting children from adults viewing obscene content online.
6863	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. Lack of interest in reading by people in general. Lack of public knowledge of what resources are actually available. Over the years I have always found libraries to be important but times are changing so I believe libraries should keep up to speed to meet these changes whenever possible. Perhaps more education about use of them through the local schools?
6864	7/11/2012	Economics...funding based on property owners carrying the burden will suffer given foreclosures, people their homes and their jobs.....food, shelter, health insurance have to come first. Education is critical to future of all and the library system is an important player in education and community services. As a homeowner, I have always supported the levy's but can't say I'm willing to continue....everyone is taking cuts, education needs funding for the children, so if the libraries need to reduce some hours while things settle economically than it is just the hard and uncomfortable reality. We can't spend what we don't have.
6865	7/11/2012	Funding
6866	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6867	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is limited access to the library itself. The library is a great resource for children, parents, students from kindergarten through college and those in need of internet access who cannot afford it themselves. By limiting access to the library and the programs and resources it contains, a deficit is created in the local community that cannot be filled through other means.
6868	7/11/2012	Oregonians don't like paying more taxes.
6869	7/11/2012	The view of society that reading, community and knowledge are not important. Showing our kids the importance of the library is the key to sustaining them. So many things are available online, but books, CD's, videos and computer access reaches everyone for FREE at the library. Books online with Kindle etc. are a big threat to the library.
6870	7/11/2012	selfish people who don't want to pay taxes
6871	7/11/2012	Cash!
6872	7/11/2012	Zombies, probably. Pretty sure they hate reading.
6873	7/11/2012	funding, digital age
6874	7/11/2012	I assume it is funding.
6875	7/11/2012	lack of awareness as to their importance
6876	7/11/2012	The massively misinformed public and their evil puppetmasters.

6877	7/11/2012	People not reading much any more
6878	7/11/2012	Funding
6879	7/11/2012	underfunding
6880	7/11/2012	The unstable funding and uncertainty of the future for library programs. Also, technology might be stopping many people from using the public library system.
6881	7/11/2012	Cognitive dissonance: tax payers want their library to function fully but also want lower taxes. [] We need a strong campaign to educate people on the importance of paying high taxes that will cover many social services.
6882	7/11/2012	All-day closure on Monday feels like a bad choice. Better to shorten hours than to be closed on any given day. First priority has to be keeping the doors open (which to me is the library's core service), and then add programs as funds permit.
6883	7/11/2012	Currently, funding :)] [] In the future, adapting to changing technologies - ebooks, etc.
6884	7/11/2012	Poor publicity about the many kinds of people and many people period who use the library. It is a lifeline for people in all walks of life, but I think that when the tax levy comes up it's too easy to vote no.
6885	7/11/2012	Funding...
6886	7/11/2012	The internet... Uninformed voters.
6887	7/11/2012	A lack of stable funding.
6888	7/11/2012	having them be closed
6889	7/11/2012	Homeless people constantly using the library as a refuge.
6890	7/11/2012	non-support
6891	7/11/2012	The assumption that the library has to be everything to everyone is a mistake, and will likely mean that the library ends up being nothing to anyone. While there's some value to pursue for many segments of the population, particularly the disadvantaged, it's foolish to assume that the library has to be open every day of the week, because the next problem that's persistently manifesting is that even on the days the library does open, it's not open very long. I'd rather have five full days (maybe Tuesday through Saturday) where the library was open for fourteen hours than six days at twelve hours, or seven days at ten hours.
6892	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6893	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6894	7/11/2012	technology.
6895	7/11/2012	obviously funding
6896	7/11/2012	Nothing
6897	7/11/2012	funding I would guess, also people not returning books

6898	7/11/2012	Closed doors at a time -- difficult economy -- when the need for services such as library (and transportation) are most needed.
6899	7/11/2012	Lack of funding is a big threat. However, as a homeowner and a wage worker who struggles to make ends meet and buy the most basic groceries, I do not agree with increasing property taxes. I already pay enough in property taxes, and if my monthly mortgage payment goes up much more I will be forced to move out of the city. I believe funding should come elsewhere (such as a sales tax). Don't force people out of their homes by constantly asking for property tax increases!
6900	7/11/2012	Indifference. Suggest educational efforts through local news media about the importance of libraries to the community.
6901	7/11/2012	Funding, obviously.
6902	7/11/2012	Funding.
6903	7/11/2012	Reduced hours.
6904	7/11/2012	Too restricted hours and not having updated material
6905	7/11/2012	Financial Support
6906	7/11/2012	lack of adequate funding (most viable and practical funding source would be a library district);
6907	7/11/2012	Nothing actually
6908	7/11/2012	Digital, ebooks
6909	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6910	7/11/2012	On a less erious note the fact that there aren't enough copies of books.
6911	7/11/2012	Not being used.
6912	7/11/2012	Illiteracy.
6913	7/11/2012	Lack of money to maintain services
6914	7/11/2012	Politicians and the urge to make it a social services locus of all things to all people.
6915	7/11/2012	I think if your wait time was less for new product more people would use the library instead of buying or renting it elsewhere
6916	7/11/2012	Vandalism
6917	7/11/2012	clueless government leaders who should have placed this on the ballot last year and avoided the cuts.[] I now feel manipulated. Also a trend toward putting a higher priority on building libraries than properly staffing them or having sufficient materials is a threat.
6918	7/11/2012	A lack of understanding of their importance.
6919	7/11/2012	Budget cuts
6920	7/11/2012	Same as for so many public services: Business hacks and their toadies in government who want every cent of taxpayers' money to line their pockets. Oh yeah-and ignoroids who egg them on thinking it makes them look like rough, tough, rugged individualists.
6921	7/11/2012	Adequate permanent funding
6922	7/11/2012	Funding.

6923	7/11/2012	?
6924	7/11/2012	Not being fully funded which could lead to limited access to library patrons.
6925	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. The library is an excellent and exciting resource that opens up a world of knowledge to those who would otherwise be without it. Taking money away from the library is the exact opposite of investing in our community. There are so many important services that the library offers, not to mention the fact that it is a comfortable and safe place to escape and learn about nearly anything you could put your mind to. The value of the library to our teenagers and elementary school aged children is very high, especially in our current age where it seems that knowledge is less and less valuable and apathy reigns supreme. Taking any amount of money away from the library system is only furthering the idea that knowledge has lost value in our society.
6926	7/11/2012	Reduction of budget Charging more levys and taxes leading to a backlash. []
6927	7/11/2012	More funding is now on every ballot. [] I have had enough. [] As a single property owner Library fees for me now the amount of a gym membership annually
6928	7/11/2012	I'm not sure. Definitely lack of funding, and perhaps people downloading books illegally instead of visiting their local library?
6929	7/11/2012	Lack of relevant media, not keeping current with technology and thus becoming irrelevant.
6930	7/11/2012	Failure of incumbent publishers to adapt to market disruption from digital reading devices. Especially the insistence on DRM and the use of proprietary formats rather than open formats, particularly ePub.
6931	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. I understand that money is tight for most people, (myself included), but the library system offers so much to so many people.
6932	7/11/2012	I don't know. I think, though, that if the libraries are to maintain their relevance and influence in the midst of the abundance of technology these days, adding more audio book and electronic resources, perhaps including movies that can be checked out digitally and viewed by streaming, will be important.
6933	7/11/2012	Sounds like funding and how it's acquired.
6934	7/11/2012	Losing too much open hours
6935	7/11/2012	loss of funding
6936	7/11/2012	Don't know.
6937	7/11/2012	Budget Cuts.
6938	7/11/2012	? I would imagine funding
6939	7/11/2012	Funding?
6940	7/11/2012	lack of funding and the internet
6941	7/11/2012	Inconsistent funding; not being able to predict how to plan budgets

6942	7/11/2012	Bums and smelly people coming into the library to get out of the weather. They smell and sit on the chairs and leave their smell everywhere. They look at porn on the computers and are just disgusting. Then they go and try to clean themselves in the bathroom and leave water everywhere.
6943	7/11/2012	I would assume lack of funding.
6944	7/11/2012	Closures or reduced hours
6945	7/11/2012	Funding - I hope that there will be no more cut in hours. I think that permanent funding is important, but with the schools having a large bond issue on this November's ballot I'm not sure I could vote for both schools and the library funding. Both issues would raise property taxes on the house and they are high now.
6946	7/11/2012	Over-extending services offered and forgetting the core responsibility--providing books and reference services. If a library doesn't collect and maintain its collection, what is it? It has been my unfortunate experience that the library collection was much broader previously. The library also often simply does not buy enough copies of popular books to meet the demand--extremely long holds lists for books (I have seen ones over 100)) are ridiculous and indicate the library is not fulfilling its service to the community. A librarian is not a social worker and the library is not a social service organization. Other facilities in the community should provide those services, not the library.
6947	7/11/2012	this is an interesting question and one i am not sure i have the anser to at the moment. i am worried that librarys might star to be a place for companies to sell, or that librarys will have advertisements or some sort of venture with private corporations. i felt this might be a direction being considered because of an ebook questionnaire i received from the library. i suppose the current answer is a lack of funds? i am not quite sure. though i would like to know. perhaps the internet is the biggest drain on the library. i personally was caught up on getting information from the internet. but i started to become overwhelmed with directionless information. the structure and directions of books i think allow for a more thorough assimilation of knowledge. and i say this as a fully tech savy 30 something. i read an article that showed that aquiring information from the internet is structurally different from that of books or lectures or talking. the internet/screen learning involves the part of the brain that excercises judgement. so when reading something online one tends only to think interms of yes or no. do i accept this or not. but when reading or other learning is used the brain is involved in using more parts of the brain and ideas and experience are all brought to bear and a new understanding is reached. this is an important
6948	7/11/2012	Not finding a permanent funding solution!
6949	7/11/2012	if my local library closed down. then i wouldnt be able to go at all. the only reason i get to go is because the library is really close to me.
6950	7/11/2012	Books moving to electronic media
6951	7/11/2012	Decreases funding
6952	7/11/2012	Not having access to those that need it most. Books are way more important than television! We need to encourage reading and research in our youth or we will pay for it in the future.
6953	7/11/2012	money
6954	7/11/2012	funding.
6955	7/11/2012	funding

6956	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6957	7/11/2012	Lack of tax dollars
6958	7/11/2012	Obviously, the economy and tax shirkers. Personally, though I don't feel that I want to pay for access to computers for the public. It should be a social service offered through another entity. More and more, I find i buy books for my Kindle from Amazon because the library either doesn't carry them or doesn't have enough copies to adequately serve its patrons. I don't want to pay taxes for computers and services for job seekers, etc. I believe these are social services. Just because the public won't tax itself for social services doesn't mean the libraries should take up the slack. If the libraries expand their services in these ways, they will lose voters' funding, including mine.
6959	7/11/2012	I don't know. Who opposes libraries? I have noticed that library employees spend a lot of time sitting there surfing the Internet, so the budget could be reduced by having fewer employees and having them actually work rather than just sit there being "available."
6960	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6961	7/11/2012	Closures. We need to make these places more accessible. I think folks do not always see it as a community gathering place. This needs to be marketed more.
6962	7/11/2012	Establishing a war-like mentality that our libraries are "threatened", "under siege", etc.
6963	7/11/2012	Ignorance.
6964	7/11/2012	Over reaching the purpose of libraries
6965	7/11/2012	decreased funding, hours Republicans.[] []
6966	7/11/2012	Religious Right.[] [] Homeless / panhandlers / drug abusers.
6967	7/11/2012	That people won't use them and thus not see what they offer. And probably the public's dislike of taxes is a threat also.
6968	7/11/2012	short sighted in selfish people can't see the forest for the trees. Fire? Obviously budget cuts suck. I can only make it to the new hour schedule once a week, so hopefully I have enough free time and no emergencies that day. []
6969	7/11/2012	Sometimes I have to wait a few months for a book on hold, but that usually because it is new and hot. when this happens i can see the library already possesses over 100 copies of these books and I can track my status any time online and have never felt the long waits were an issue. I admit I have bought the book I was waiting for a few times, but I don't think my love for the local library is threatened in any way.[] In conclusion, just funding seems a bother.

6970	7/11/2012	The funding system, being dependent on property taxes all the time. Lately everyone has a special interest to be funded by....guess what...property taxes. You begin to add up all the bonds wanting to increase taxes and you are going to put a great burden on seniors especially. It is hard now to keep up with all the increases on a fixed income, with the utilities always increasing, schools wanting more and more, Sam and his special interests and all the mismanagement of the funds that the city and county is already taking in. This needs to stop!
6971	7/11/2012	lack of funding
6972	7/11/2012	How some people misuse the computers, doesn't return books, and when people don't pay their fines when it gets huge!
6973	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, which is either the result of poor planning, apathy or both.
6974	7/11/2012	Lack of funding which will slowly diminish the quality of the service.
6975	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6976	7/11/2012	Funding
6977	7/11/2012	The internet.
6978	7/11/2012	Cuts in services and resources
6979	7/11/2012	Apparently the biggest threat is the operating cost and how to pay for the services.
6980	7/11/2012	Probably losing funding. I would pay a tax hike to keep the libraries good, but I would prefer to see more steps against loitering and begging on library property and a more efficient system of making sure people pay fines (like submitting their information to the state to be added onto their tax bill if not paid).
6981	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
6982	7/11/2012	I think that is a great resource for the entire community.
6983	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
6984	7/11/2012	Dont know
6985	7/11/2012	I imagine it is underfunding.
6986	7/11/2012	Funding, I suppose. PERS gap siphoning away program funds in an increasing way over time?
6987	7/11/2012	People either not caring or not being informed, orr both.
6988	7/11/2012	Competing revenue streams
6989	7/11/2012	funding
6990	7/11/2012	Not enough funding to keep the libraries open seven days a week.
6991	7/11/2012	?
6992	7/11/2012	Tax base
6993	7/11/2012	Lack of money to keep open, get new materials, keep programs running.
6994	7/11/2012	Probably a lack of funding, but I'm really not sure.
6995	7/11/2012	Funding shortage. Dysfunctional system that makes libraries easy to defund.
6996	7/11/2012	Cutting hours.

6997	7/11/2012	The struggling economy has obviously impacted library funding because of reduced home values and foreclosures which affect property taxes.
6998	7/11/2012	Not keeping up with eBook technology. Portland has an opportunity to lead the way in this
6999	7/11/2012	Obviously it's budget cuts that would force the libraries to both cut hours (even days) of service, possibly cut back on personnel, buy fewer books, and cut their programs--I hardly know what to say is most important.
7000	7/11/2012	Privatization due to lack of public funding from local/state/federal sources. Libraries are one of the founding backbones to an educated, free society and to building strong communities and our elected officials, business and community leaders need to make library funding a priority, as any other social program. ¶ ¶ Strong libraries make strong democracies.
7001	7/11/2012	I feel that amongst other variables, (such as funding, community involvement, accessibility, etc.), a more recent "threat" or contender to our local libraries is the rising popularity of digitized print media & personal reading devices. It's my understanding that digitized books and novels play a part in not only the cost of manufacturing and printing books, but also that the increased & varying levels of copywriting and ownership by publishing companies lead to high cost and limited accessibility for readers and programs that strive to make books/print media widely accessible.
7002	7/11/2012	People not paying overdue fines? Book destruction? Homeless people camping out in the bathrooms?
7003	7/11/2012	No support from the people.
7004	7/11/2012	Cutting funding that allows the library to get new materials. If there aren't new materials, people will have to buy them and it will decrease popularity of the library over time.
7005	7/11/2012	The library system expanding their scope and making it unaffordable to fund.
7006	7/11/2012	Not being there
7007	7/11/2012	entitlement
7008	7/11/2012	People seem to want services, but not to pay for them. I am happy to pay taxes, levies, etc. because I value what they bring us as a community. Is there a way to synchronize people's appreciation of libraries (so many of us use them) with an understanding of the small price we pay to keep them open?
7009	7/11/2012	Unawareness by decision-makers of the importance of easy access to the libraries -- e.g. open all days and evenings until 8 p.m.
7010	7/11/2012	Poor city management because the county believes that people are not using them and cut their budgets. They need to realize how important libraries are. Not only do they provide programs for families and information about local events, they also allow for people to interact with each other on a personal level. Not just online.

7011	7/11/2012	Spending money on non essential items. Example: The parking lot at the Rockwood library was in great shape. It was tore out and paving stones installed. I know it is for the water run off but that had to cost a good bit of money. Also 2 charging station for electric cars were installed and these are not cheap either. I have yet to see anyone using them and most times gas cars are parked there since they are closer to the entrance. Living within a budget is sacrificing the things we want to the things that are necessary to maintain a basic need. The parking lot looks nice with pavers but so did the asphalt. Electric cars are great for those who choose to drive them but there are not very many in Southeast Portland. The basic need of the library is books to share in the community, the rest is all wants.
7012	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
7013	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
7014	7/11/2012	Young people who would only use e-books.
7015	7/11/2012	Lack of funding due to ignorance regarding the importance of reading and access to educational materials.
7016	7/11/2012	None
7017	7/11/2012	Lack of finances.
7018	7/11/2012	Lack of funding! I don't own property so I don't contribute via taxes, just my late fines, but I'd be willing to pay a (perhaps sliding scale?) membership or to contribute a small amount annually... it just seems maybe the citizens who depend upon the library and the taxpayers who help pay for the library have different motivating factors. I imagine if I could afford a home I probably could afford to buy books more liberally, have a printer, and wouldn't need the library as much...probably wouldn't be too excited to pay for it, either. But in the mean time I can't afford to lose access to the library, even if it were to cost me as much as a few books! Don't be edged out because you're funded on a model that is no longer appropriate or sufficient!
7019	7/11/2012	Nothing, status quo is good.
7020	7/11/2012	Lack of funding!
7021	7/11/2012	budget
7022	7/11/2012	Apathy.
7023	7/11/2012	Lack of funding!
7024	7/11/2012	The biggest threat is funding. I don't think that libraries will ever go out of fashion, but the ones that are in more remote location may struggle a lot more to turn any profit.
7025	7/11/2012	I would say that there are three main threats: the most obvious and yet most difficult to overcome is budgetary concerns. The second is the misconception that modern technology has somehow made obsolete; and the third is the growth of absolutist-free-market ideology, which is against all public institutions.
7026	7/11/2012	I don't know.

7027	7/11/2012	Illiterate Red State voters deciding they'd rather purchase an expansion package from their cable or satellite TV provider than pay slightly higher taxes in order to keep libraries open for their equally illiterate children. That, and the (so-far feeble) adoption here in the U.S. of the European idea of internet cafes on every corner, the prevalence of which would undermine many peoples' sole remaining reason for going to the library at all. Reading was a sort of interim language expression crutch between animated fireside storytelling and YouTube; its validity is now coming into question. At one time, only the "elite" read books; now we approach an epoch where again only the elite read books. The library needs to modernize its role in communities.
7028	7/11/2012	When we vote, as a community, to support our libraries and then find that resources are still being cut despite our choosing to provide more funding, it makes individuals less likely to support future funding because it indicates that perhaps poor management of money is the issue, not the amount of funding provided.
7029	7/11/2012	Funding instability
7030	7/11/2012	Weak tax base and ridiculous tax codes...funding
7031	7/11/2012	Republicans who don't want educated voters and online access for disadvantaged people. But that doesn't help you much, does it? So -- those who do not want to pay taxes for the general good.
7032	7/11/2012	Loss of funding
7033	7/11/2012	reduced hours of operation, buying too much easily available (too easy) pop culture media replete with corporate advertising and little or no educational value, while important educational books & media are neglected (even when requested)
7034	7/11/2012	not being open only 7 days a wk. Not being able to meet publics needs.
7035	7/11/2012	Perhaps taxpayer money being siphoned off to Goldman Sachs, Wells Fargo, etc. instead of used for public services: libraries, parks, schools... Portland should follow the lead of Oakland City Council: http://www.democracynow.org/2012/7/9/oakland_city_council_seeks_to_cut
7036	7/11/2012	Clearly funding!
7037	7/11/2012	Lack of financial support.
7038	7/11/2012	Apathy
7039	7/11/2012	Republicans.
7040	7/11/2012	Funding shortfalls, leading to a decline in services, leading to a decline in support by elected officials and/or the public.
7041	7/11/2012	The same as all libraries - not enough money
7042	7/11/2012	Budget cuts/Economy and electronic books.
7043	7/11/2012	reduced hours
7044	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, and lack of understanding among the populace about what the library can be used for. I think many people don't understand the many programs and amenities offered by the libraries.
7045	7/11/2012	lack of funding.
7046	7/11/2012	Google.

7047	7/11/2012	Lack of funds. Reliance on property taxes. Should have stable funding.
7048	7/11/2012	Not being able to support the buildings and staff.
7049	7/11/2012	Cuts in funding that cause services and staff to be shortchanged, in turn affecting the patrons of our libraries.
7050	7/11/2012	Lack of funding/awareness of the many valuable functions and services provided by our local libraries.
7051	7/11/2012	Video games, excessive sports programs, illiteracy, i.e., materialism.
7052	7/11/2012	Obviously lack of funds. But downtown Central is headquarters for the homeless. Makes coming/going uncomfortable.
7053	7/11/2012	Privatization.
7054	7/11/2012	To be closed
7055	7/11/2012	citizen apathy
7056	7/11/2012	Ignorance and Lethargy of users.
7057	7/11/2012	Lack of funds. We need to fund our library system.
7058	7/11/2012	The way you manipulated the public with the funding measure last May. Every indication was that the library's services would remain the same. By not treating the public as adults you did yourself a huge disservice. People would have supported greater funding to keep the libraries open 7 days a week and maintain staff and programs. Multnomah County residents support their library-give us some credit.
7059	7/11/2012	funding?
7060	7/11/2012	Funding. I voted for the library measure. And always do. But am supporting current hours.
7061	7/11/2012	I'm not versed enough on this to be able to answer. I would hate to see any further cuts to library hours, programming or materials. I believe libraries are an important resource to some of the community's most vulnerable neighbors; very low income families and those experiencing homelessness. I would love to see more collaborations between the libraries and the community safety nets serving these populations as I think they both have opportunities to learn from one another and build effective community education partnerships.
7062	7/11/2012	Lack of funding for programs and resources
7063	7/11/2012	Prioritizing the use of funding. Books are more important to me than the use of computer there. Entertainment material (comic books, Internet/computer games, movies) is not something I believe libraries need to use money for.
7064	7/11/2012	Cutting the hours they are open too drastically. All branches and Central Library should be open six days a week. I am in favor of cutting just one day.

7065	7/11/2012	I am concerned about the loss of actual books and physical resources in the library and fear the loss of the library as a physical place in the community. Although the library may provide computer access and paid search engines for those that do not have them available elsewhere, they will be of limited use compared to the whole library. Also, if the libraries are reduced or eliminated from some communities, then those resources will be less accessible to those who may really need them. I use the library as a resource to find books I am interested in reading for pleasure or study. I love that the Multnomah County system can deliver books I've put on hold to my local library, and I make regular use of this system. Also paid search engines and interests will eventually exert too much influence on what the library provides!
7066	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
7067	7/11/2012	Digital media and online services negating the perceived need for physical books and library space.
7068	7/11/2012	Insufficient funding
7069	7/11/2012	Lack of funding - [] Lack of appreciation for the value of a strong library system in the community even if it isn't used by everyone.
7070	7/11/2012	Ignorance of the large cost of running a library and the resultant unwillingness to pay higher fees.
7071	7/11/2012	Lack of funding- no, make it that "I've got mind, foul you" attitude so prevalent today. I've actually heard co-workers- educated people, mind you- say "I'm voting against the library tax because I never go to the library. I buy my books through Amazon." Appealing to people's civic nature or sense of compassion no longer seems to work. I don't know how to fix this.
7072	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding for salaries and acquisitions
7073	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
7074	7/11/2012	The general population reading less and less each year.
7075	7/11/2012	none
7076	7/11/2012	Inadequate funding and competition for resources from other important needs and services.
7077	7/11/2012	The cost of the head librarian.
7078	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. Not staying current/relevant in this day and age. Keeping media accessible to all.
7079	7/11/2012	Lack of stable funding
7080	7/11/2012	Trying to accomplish too many things, meet every expectation and not living within their means
7081	7/11/2012	Indifference
7082	7/11/2012	I don't feel the libraries are threatened. In tough financial times, taxing jurisdictions across the board are making cuts to services and it's reasonable that the library system should as well.
7083	7/11/2012	Lack of money to operate
7084	7/11/2012	People really need and use the library. The biggest threat is that the library will have less computers, books and other material. Also they need more employees to help people in the library.

7085	7/11/2012	LACK OF SUFFICIENT FUNDING, which causes lack of access for those who need it most: seniors, people without computers, mothers with young children introducing them to the wonders of books and reading, job seekers, young people using it for homework, research, and a safe place to be afterschool and on week ends.
7086	7/11/2012	As I see it, the library is a community resource. If that resource becomes limited (hours), inability to purchase current materials, it will collapse. While I ranked having the library open with full hours last, I think it critical to educational/cultural development in a community. On the first Monday after new hours, I arrived at 10 AM. The parking lot was half full of patrons waiting to use the facility, many of them youth and parents with children. Reading and knowledge is key to a healthy and productive society. This resource is important. In this day and age, wherein people work all days of the week and all hours of the day, shutting a facility down even one day has a huge impact on the community.
7087	7/11/2012	money deficit
7088	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
7089	7/11/2012	internet
7090	7/11/2012	Hopefully you've solved the theft problem that was so prevalent a few years ago.
7091	7/11/2012	Government reducing funds.
7092	7/11/2012	Loss of funding to adequately serve our community.
7093	7/11/2012	Wet dog smell.
7094	7/11/2012	lack of funding to keep it open 7 days a wekk
7095	7/11/2012	Loss of funds, general misunderstanding or simply not knowing about all the library has to offer, and people relying more on digital content (which ties in to people not knowing what resources are available at the library).
7096	7/11/2012	putting on the November ballet.
7097	7/11/2012	Ignorance[] screen time (TV, Internet, Smart Phones, Movies)
7098	7/11/2012	not enough books available
7099	7/11/2012	Funding cuts
7100	7/11/2012	Budget cuts. Lack of funding. Duh.
7101	7/11/2012	Not being open for enough days/hours; not being able to buy new material...we need to figure out how to fund our local libraries.
7102	7/11/2012	They have become DAYCARE CENTERS for the homeless.
7103	7/11/2012	Lack of funds. Requiring funding from property owners. I did not vote for the latest measure because I think the city and county should
7104	7/11/2012	fund the library before they waste a ton of money on bike amenities, etc. Bike riders should be licensed like cars if they want access to city streets like cars. I would like to ride my bike, but despite all the money spent on bike amenities, it is too dangerous.

7105	7/11/2012	Access to internet resources is a long term threat due to substitution effect; otherwise, prudent financial management of limited financial funding. Please note: Re six day a week service-- each of these days should have full service.[] [] People who don' t"get it"-- who don't feel invested in the library, as they are affluent and/or don't read much, are a threat to local libraries.[] []
7106	7/11/2012	The economy of course is a threat.[] [] The policy of buying a zillion copies of best sellers, most of which turn out within a few years to have been forgettable & evanescent potboilers, isn't a good use of money.[] [] The library needs to be more a proactive in watching for and preventing theft, especially in this economy.
7107	7/11/2012	Small-budget conservatives? Great question! What threatens our libraries is simply "taxpayers" like myself not using them, if we don't use it we don't want to pay for it. Last year when I was out of work and desperate for a job I tried so many times to use my local libraries "Work Source" program and several times I was interrupted by individuals using this program to surf the net, eat, talk (loudly), etc...these folks appeared to have nothing else to do, perhaps homeless? When I asked the attendants to handle the situation I was met with this very liberal reply of "the library is for everybody". Don't get me wrong I'm no right winged freak, in fact I'm a very outspoken Democrat, but come on it's a library not a drop in center for the stinky, obnoxious, freaks who have found their haven in Portland.
7108	7/11/2012
7109	7/11/2012	computers, video games, etc. Too many choices of entertainment and kids read less now.
7110	7/11/2012	?
7111	7/11/2012	State/local budget cuts. We need to keep the libraries well-funded!
7112	7/11/2012	I'm guessing the same budget cuts that are the biggest threat to our schools.
7113	7/11/2012	Republicans. :-)
7114	7/11/2012	not enough funding to function and operate.
7115	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
7116	7/11/2012	The loss of consistent, knowledgeable staffing who form relationships with community members and impliment library programs and services.
7117	7/11/2012	budget cuts!
7118	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
7119	7/11/2012	insufficient funding limiting access
7120	7/11/2012	Lack of funds
7121	7/11/2012	A general anti-tax, anti-reading cultural current.

7122	7/11/2012	?
7123	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
7124	7/11/2012	Chronic underfunding seems to be the largest threat to our local libraries. It seems to me that we have had to vote on bond measures many times since I moved here 15 years ago, and it is shocking considering how well loved and used the Multnomah County Library system is!
7125	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
7126	7/11/2012	Closing
7127	7/11/2012	Not sure
7128	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, excessive computer use and computer books, lack of use, vandalized or stolen materials
7129	7/11/2012	1. The Internet. 2. Apathetic attitudes among kids and parents towards reading and utilizing databases.
7130	7/11/2012	Funding
7131	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
7132	7/11/2012	Underfunding.
7133	7/11/2012	i'm not sure.
7134	7/11/2012	Lack of funding? BO? just kidding.
7135	7/11/2012	funding cuts
7136	7/11/2012	lack of funding!
7137	7/11/2012	...voters who do not use the library
7138	7/11/2012	I would assume funding although I don't really have any idea of this is true. Digital media may reduce patronage at physical locations but I think MCL has done a great job with ebooks and other downloadable content to this point.
7139	7/11/2012	lack of funding
7140	7/11/2012	lack of funding
7141	7/11/2012	annual levy vote
7142	7/11/2012	limited funding
7143	7/11/2012	Computers
7144	7/11/2012	The notion that somehow the internet can replace our public libraries, undermining the public's commitment to free, accessible public libraries...one of basic pillars of our modern society.
7145	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, clearly.
7146	7/11/2012	The fact that teenagers do not realize how big of a resource they have at their disposal.
7147	7/11/2012	lack of understanding in the general public that these amazing services cost money. People should be charged at least a small fee to use the library.
7148	7/11/2012	Lack of money.
7149	7/11/2012	Lack of funding

7150	7/11/2012	not enough funding and poor management of funds available.
7151	7/11/2012	Limited availability.
7152	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
7153	7/11/2012	Not being open when I am able to get there and overcrowding , books that I want not available
7154	7/11/2012	No having it
7155	7/11/2012	Lack of funding, which I think comes from the "decision-makers" lack of awareness of how important our libraries are!
7156	7/11/2012	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Unfair questions like #5: I want a way to tell you that 4 out of six of the options are not important at all. [] 2. Trying to expand services to meet needs that are outside customary library functions, like story hours for babies, preschoolers and the like. Let others do that.[] 3. Trying to redefine the function of libraries in the public's mind to serve the vision in #2 above. [] Tight times warrant some re-visioning.
7157	7/11/2012	The biggest threats are uninformed, short-sighted individuals who vote against library funding initiatives and elected officials who support legislation that defunds or under-funds library specific programs.
7158	7/11/2012	Lack of funding
7159	7/11/2012	Funding.
7160	7/11/2012	Drops in funding.
7161	7/11/2012	The high cost of everything, and a low budget.
7162	7/11/2012	I think that apathy is the biggest threat to our libraries
7163	7/11/2012	Lack of funding.
7164	7/11/2012	MORONS who control budget decisions...HOW MUCH DID THAT ROCKWOOD PARKING LOT COST?[] [] IT HAD TO BE OVER A MILLION DOLLARS, AND YOUR CUTTING HOURS?[] [] UNBELEVEABLE!

		Mission creep. The core mission of a library should be, and has traditionally been, to provide a source of printed material for research and entertainment. By extending into free computer and internet access (at least charge for it, but really, almost everyone can afford a computer. Let people buy their own, like they buy their own TVs); DVD movies (Netflix, Red Box, and other commercial resources are readily available); providing community meeting spaces (most neighborhoods already have community meeting centers); story hours for babies and toddlers (parents can and should do this at home); programs for jobseekers (the State Unemployment Office already does this), homework help (not even close to a core function), and English lessons (again, other resources in the community). ¶ ¶
7165	7/11/2012	And there is no reason a library needs to be open on Sunday or all day on Saturday. Ten hours on weekdays and six hours on Saturday would meet the needs of the community, especially if you return to the core mission I describe above. ¶ ¶ These examples of mission creep are, in my estimation what is threatening the libraries, by continually asking for more money to serve small segments of society with luxury services. Many of us are saying, "Didn't we just give the libraries a bunch of money?" You are reaching a point of resistance where the threat becomes simply asking for too much money to provide too many unnecessary services.¶ ¶ And finally, providing day shelter and nap space for the homeless, particularly on rainy and cold days, and particularly at the Main Branch, has to stop. This is obviously detrimental to the ambience of a library, an there are undeniably already shelters provided by the city. ¶
7166	7/11/2012	Lack of consistant funding - must find a way to tax the wealthiest individuals and corporations in the area, as even a small amount by them would bring a substantial amount to local library. Also, we need staff to check out materials, not machines - people need jobs, not machines.
7167	7/11/2012	Loss of funding
7168	7/11/2012	lots of books?
7169	7/11/2012	Lack of funding. I don't mind voting for the money measures, but it would be nice to have a stable on-going funding source dedicated to Library services.
7170	7/11/2012	People deciding to stop using them.
7171	7/11/2012	Cutting programs and services to vulnerable populations
7172	7/11/2012	Funding cuts.
7173	7/11/2012	ignorance
7174	7/11/2012	Not changing with the times. Look to Netflix as a model.
7175	7/11/2012	Funding
7176	7/11/2012	Austerity measures, which are nothing more than political theatre.

7177	7/11/2012	people not understanding the importance of libraries to the continuing of a free, knowledgeable, literate citizenry. and people's priorities being messed up: thinking that they don't use the libraries or that they don't have children in school or that the times are rough now and they need to pay fewer taxes so libraries are a good place to start. this is very short sighted! and despite what some conservative politicians may think, privatizing libraries has never worked well to my knowledge.
7178	7/11/2012	Not enough digital resources. We need computers and training.
7179	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and support?
7180	7/11/2012	Don't know
7181	7/11/2012	Perhaps it's all the online media, less people reading books.
7182	7/11/2012	Too many people don't read and don't see the need for libraries.
7183	7/11/2012	funding
7184	7/11/2012	all the electronic books. i will never own one I prefer real books
7185	7/11/2012	Budgeting and technology
7186	7/11/2012	Lack of consistent funding, that and people taking materials without checking them out correctly or just not returning them.
7187	7/11/2012	closure
7188	7/11/2012	Less hours, less $$ for books.
7189	7/11/2012	the internet
7190	7/11/2012	Lack of funding that ends the free programs that are available to all people. Closure of libraries.
7191	7/11/2012	Lack of funds to keep the library going and future improvements.
7192	7/11/2012	kindel
7193	7/11/2012	Not being accessible
7194	7/11/2012	Republicans
7195	7/11/2012	People not willing to pay taxes.
7196	7/11/2012	Limited hours
7197	7/11/2012	A sagging economy causing loss of tax revenue.
7198	7/11/2012	Loss of funding.
7199	7/11/2012	Heavy pressure on the facilities.
7200	7/11/2012	lack of funding -- like everything else these days.
7201	7/11/2012	lack of funding
7202	7/11/2012	operating costs budget cuts[]
7203	7/11/2012	less current materials[] less hours of operation or staff support
7204	7/11/2012	Lack of funding and perceived disuse.
7205	7/11/2012	fundind

7206	7/11/2012	Lack of funding to meet the growing needs of our community. I believe public libraries are a vital resource-- very important in fostering and maintaining a literate, educated, well-rounded population.
7207	7/11/2012	The fact that YOU can't figure out how to keep your costs down and FULLY FUND libraries. I simply think you have too many workers and are not efficient stewards of taxpayer dollars. You have the funds to be open fully, you make choices that result in that not happening. I strongly support libraries, but when the real value of my home has decreased, and the assessed and taxed value is GOING UP, it is a ridiculous system. People deserve our dollars spent more efficiently. Multnomah County has shown itself incapable of this task time and time and time and time and time and time again.
7208	7/11/2012	lack of funding
7209	7/11/2012	Defunding
7210	7/11/2012	Lack of general fund state support and probably county support as well.
7211	7/11/2012	People forgetting why the library is still important in the modern world.
7212	7/11/2012	e-media?
7213	7/11/2012	Loss of funding
7214	7/11/2012	Lack of funding highly impacts how well used a library can be.
7215	7/11/2012	Not a large enough selection, my local library doesn't have the types of books I require and, with the internet, I can find many of those books online. This means that as I become a better internet user, I find my need for libraries less and less. It is true that nothing beats the feel of real paper in my hand, but if you don't have it, digital is the next best thing. I don't see this as a threat as much as an opportunity to alter the way libraries function, becoming large databases of books, being more oriented towards knowing what's out there and how to find it, than actually having the book on the shelf. I may really like Leonard Mlodinow's books, but after I've read all of them, who is going to tell me of an author who does similar work? or will I just have to guess? this is what I think libraries of the future are meant for. Libraries are meant to be central hubs of information storage and sorting, it's more helpful now to be able to find a good book in the sea of garbage, than to have ten thousand books on the shelves.
7216	7/10/2012	too much diversification... stop with the computers and the videos... just stick to books
7217	7/10/2012	lack of money.
7218	7/10/2012	Godzilla
7219	7/10/2012	Complacency
7220	7/10/2012	People not wanting to pay taxes for services
7221	7/10/2012	Rigid bureaucracy and inefficient use of volunteers.
7222	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7223	7/10/2012	defunding
7224	7/10/2012	Unknown
7225	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and electronic media resources
7226	7/10/2012	Closing them

7227	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding
7228	7/10/2012	Public leaders not realizing their importance and therefore cutting their funding.
7229	7/10/2012	I would imagine loss of funding. It appears that there is no shortage of library users, so that would not be a factor. I would hope that in the future electronic media would not do away with printed matter.
7230	7/10/2012	theft of library materials
7231	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7232	7/10/2012	Don't know
7233	7/10/2012	Funding!
7234	7/10/2012	I have no idea what would be considered a threat. eBooks? Lack of funds? Would have been nice to have a list of options to get me thinking.
7235	7/10/2012	People in power treating library funding like a piggy bank for unrelated pet projects.
7236	7/10/2012	not being available every day or at least 6 days. If the library is not open when my family wants to use it, then we will not be able to depend on it for our needs and it will become less important to us and we will turn elsewhere for info. It is essential that libraries do not start to limit their days/hours too much.
7237	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7238	7/10/2012	Funding
7239	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7240	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I imagine.
7241	7/10/2012	Not having an independent funding structure like a district
7242	7/10/2012	An increasingly illiterate population, interested in comic books for adults, the search engine first returned "hit" for education on current events, and a decline in the selling of the value of traditional learning (history, the classics, foreign language) in our public school system.
7243	7/10/2012	Funding seems to be the biggest threat.
7244	7/10/2012	Lack of public interest and funding.
7245	7/10/2012	In my opinion, the biggest threat to the local libraries is the mindset that libraries cannot be run as businesses even though they are supported by taxes. I am not a fan of taxes but would be happy to pay more to support the costs of our library. I also think those who can pay for library services should. An example of that would be to charge for a library card and subsidize the charge for those who need help.
7246	7/10/2012	I don't really know.
7247	7/10/2012	cutting funding
7248	7/10/2012	The economy.
7249	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7250	7/10/2012	the county using money the voters voted for the library
7251	7/10/2012	Funding?
7252	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, decrease in financial support.

7253	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and indifference on the part of persons who do not choose to use the library.
7254	7/10/2012	I'm not sure how to understand that question. Threat to our libraries? For me? If the libraries were closed or only open a few hours a week.
7255	7/10/2012	I am not sure.
7256	7/10/2012	Obviously funding.
7257	7/10/2012	1. Lack of funding, and lack of service--cutting branch hours may be necessary, however, I already have a difficult time getting to the library during the week. I tend to visit only on weekends. Perhaps shifting open hours to later would be helpful. □ 2. Homeless people-- I understand they don't have many places to go, but the odor has definitely driven me out of the library on multiple occasions.
7258	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding
7259	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding
7260	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
7261	7/10/2012	Bigots who want something for nothing. □ The economy(stupid)!
7262	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
7263	7/10/2012	Curtailed hours.
7264	7/10/2012	Cuts in funding.
7265	7/10/2012	funding
7266	7/10/2012	Financial cuts
7267	7/10/2012	Restricted hours and access. Anything that slows down or compromises the excellent on-line access to finding and reserving books and due dates, etc.
7268	7/10/2012	someone breaking in and stealing,and destroying library material.
7269	7/10/2012	funding
7270	7/10/2012	Allowing fat-cat government politicians to waste our tax dollars on fruitless endeavors (including their pensions, their cadillac healthcare, their business trips, etc.) instead of using our money for things that help we the tax payers, like libraries.
7271	7/10/2012	refusal of voters to fund library with sufficient taxes
7272	7/10/2012	Budget reductions.
7273	7/10/2012	union employees
7274	7/10/2012	Funding.
7275	7/10/2012	I don't perceive any threat other than the lack of funding, which until now, to my knowledge, itself did not seem to be so serious an issue.
7276	7/10/2012	funding
7277	7/10/2012	lack of funding

7278	7/10/2012	Overcrowding makes it difficult for anyone to do anything. Although busy, it has been possible to access resources quickly when I've been there. Reduction in hours is inconvenient but tolerable until it gets to the point of being difficult to do anything (which is difficult to convey in an ordered list).
7279	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7280	7/10/2012	Not very sanitary
7281	7/10/2012	Further reductions in hours open
7282	7/10/2012	consistant, stable funding. I am very much in support of MCL forming a district
7283	7/10/2012	funding? And bears. Definitely bears.
7284	7/10/2012	Oh, shoot, I don't know. Not being appreciated enough? This is the best library system in possibly the world.
7285	7/10/2012	A perception that libraries are not important in the post-Internet age.
7286	7/10/2012	Competition for funding from other programs in the county and state.
7287	7/10/2012	being closed and no access. I have no computer and am looking for a job. the library is the only place I can go.
7288	7/10/2012	The rapid move to digital media.
7289	7/10/2012	Reduced funding due to economic difficulties in the community at large.
7290	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding to meet demand.
7291	7/10/2012	Budget cuts of course. Libraries are essential to a growing city, it shows we value education and the ability to go out seeking knowledge or reading simply for fun. Libraries open up the possibilities for anyone to seek a book to read.
7292	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
7293	7/10/2012	Declining economy resulting in reduced funding for our libraries.
7294	7/10/2012	Budget Cuts and the cutting of the Trimet free ride zone.
7295	7/10/2012	???
7296	7/10/2012	Funding reductions.
7297	7/10/2012	not being open enough.
7298	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7299	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding
7300	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and support from the government and community.
7301	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
7302	7/10/2012	The de-valuing of books, increase of technology gadgets, lack of funding and priority give to community services. We need to take care of each other...that's how we will thrive as a whole.
7303	7/10/2012	You tell me! Lack of funds?

7304	7/10/2012	Becoming complacent about the availability of services and materials. It is only when they are removed that people will wake up to the fact that our quality of life has suffered. Nobody wants to pay more taxes but we have to remember that we always get what we pay for. And we have seen what cost cutting in government has wrought in communities around the country. Our library is our investment in the future. I for one am willing to pay for it.
7305	7/10/2012	internet. we need to attract a younger audience (teenage kids) and make the library a cool place to go to.
7306	7/10/2012	Funding.
7307	7/10/2012	lack of money to support programs and hours
7308	7/10/2012	The Republican Party
7309	7/10/2012	Hard times mean cutbacks everywhere. I love the library, but our property taxes have become outrageous. Why are homeowners the only ones expected to pay for everything?
7310	7/10/2012	Closures. And by the way, my rankings for question "5" of 2, 3, 4, & 5, are all really virtually equal. Programs for children, job seekers and business owners, seniors and ESL learners, as well as current materials, are for me all of just about equal importance.
7311	7/10/2012	Again, a thinly worded question. Who pray tell writes this stuff. [] [] Anyway my guess of what would be the biggest threat to the local libraries, besides the Republicans, would be Netflix
7312	7/10/2012	Underfunding, lack of resources
7313	7/10/2012	internet
7314	7/10/2012	People who do not use library services
7315	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
7316	7/10/2012	Ignorance.
7317	7/10/2012	Poorly written survey questions--question 5 combines programs that serve different populations with different needs, and doesn't include all possible answers. How can you get at the truth that way?
7318	7/10/2012	funding
7319	7/10/2012	book
7320	7/10/2012	Not allowing the tax payers to decide if they want to increase taxes like they did on the may ballot. Tax payers weren't given a choice for a full level of funding.
7321	7/10/2012	Closing the library for more then 6 days a week
7322	7/10/2012	Unstable funding source
7323	7/10/2012	the instability of funding.
7324	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. I am willing to pay more in taxes, double the current amount at least, to see to it that the library is available and accessible for the entire community.
7325	7/10/2012	greed
7326	7/10/2012	Lack of public funds.

7327	7/10/2012	Funding
7328	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to keep them open and staff them adequately.
7329	7/10/2012	Lack of understanding of why they are still important. Ask younger folks (teens, 20's) if they even think of going to the library. It won't be supported if people don't know how it is relevant in this day of internet and other means of getting information
7330	7/10/2012	general lack of appreciation for education and the arts
7331	7/10/2012	Republicans
7332	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
7333	7/10/2012	cutting Materials, such as books videos ect
7334	7/10/2012	Lack of funds. However, libraries need to be careful with their resources. Theft prevention for one.
7335	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, or changing revenue streams is probably the biggest threat.
7336	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7337	7/10/2012	Lack of stable and predictable revenue
7338	7/10/2012	funding shortages
7339	7/10/2012	lack of funds
7340	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Internet
7341	7/10/2012	An uninformed public that does not properly value the many benefits of libraries
7342	7/10/2012	I'm not sure.
7343	7/10/2012	Insistence on funding increases for full hours, seven days a week from an economically-pressed population.
7344	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!! And I think lack of public knowledge - most people don't realize how easy it is to use the library. I know so many people who will go out and buy a book when they could just borrow it from the library. I am very sad that the library is only open 6 days a week now
7345	7/10/2012	Cuts in funding.
7346	7/10/2012	Funding.
7347	7/10/2012	shoddy funding
7348	7/10/2012	Reduced funding for programs, materials, staffing and hours
7349	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much for a small audience (i.e., expensive programs that target a small, specific audience).
7350	7/10/2012	becoming a homeless shelter in rainy weather
7351	7/10/2012	Funding and economic crises - it is difficult for people to support the increase in a levy when personal finances have decreased.
7352	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7353	7/10/2012	Lack of readers of print media coupled with slow digital deployment
7354	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding system. Our libraries, like a lot of other things, are hostage to unstable funding. Whenever anything is dependent on one source for most of their money that source can be held hostage to economic times and personal whims.

7355	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding, which can be attributed at least in part to a lack of widespread recognition for how valuable the libraries are to their communities, as well as to insufficient government funding generally.
7356	7/10/2012	Use of computers, kindles, iPads, etc. I use the library for books and magazines I don't want to buy.
7357	7/10/2012	Lack of new materials. What keeps me coming back time and time again is the fact that whatever new music, video or book review I've just read about, 9 times out of 10 the library already had it in stock or has created a waiting list. I also appreciate that they buy additional copies based on interest. The books my children check out never look worn or unloved. This has helped me teach my children the importance of taking care of library materials for the next user(s). Our library is always working to stay relevant - THANK YOU!!!!
7358	7/10/2012	internet availability of resources
7359	7/10/2012	Reduced availability!
7360	7/10/2012	budget cuts
7361	7/10/2012	Cutting back the hours.
7362	7/10/2012	cutting programs and not keeping up with the latest technology.
7363	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
7364	7/10/2012	funding in my opinion. I also believe computers and the electronic age have seen a bit of a down turn in library visits.
7365	7/10/2012	Not enough funding. I think in Portland the public is extremely supportive of our library and will pay to fund it properly. Perhaps the library needs to find a better way to take advantage of that support.
7366	7/10/2012	A drop in days/hours open. The difficulty of and publisher's restrictions on ebook use.
7367	7/10/2012	literacy rates dropping and declining graduation rates
7368	7/10/2012	state government politics
7369	7/10/2012	No funding.
7370	7/10/2012	not enough funding to have current materials available.
7371	7/10/2012	probably funding.
7372	7/10/2012	budget cuts
7373	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and community support
7374	7/10/2012	Funding
7375	7/10/2012	Funding
7376	7/10/2012	people that think libraries aren't important or needed anymore Having them close from lack of funding, or support.[]
7377	7/10/2012	Electronics books, having a generation grow up not knowing what a book is. Walking into the quietness of a library and smelling the old books, and the fresh smell of new unopened books.[] Library was main center for research before the internet.
7378	7/10/2012	Funding
7379	7/10/2012	Invasion by the homeless.

7380	7/10/2012	$
7381	7/10/2012	I don't know.
7382	7/10/2012	Funding
7383	7/10/2012	Funding
7384	7/10/2012	A lack of funding.
7385	7/10/2012	Apathy
7386	7/10/2012	Unstable sources of funding.
7387	7/10/2012	Not enough money to purchase new books etc as listed in #1 above and to keep the library open reasonable numbers of days.
7388	7/10/2012	The threat of continuously increasing taxes to fund the library system year after year.
7389	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7390	7/10/2012	budget cuts
7391	7/10/2012	Shorter hours (the library NEEDS to be open outside of normal business hours for most people to access) and less available material.
7392	7/10/2012	funding
7393	7/10/2012	Lack of consistent funding
7394	7/10/2012	As a public entity, I'd imagine that you're all base costs with limited scaling costs. Therefore, increased base costs or stagnant/reduced income are the only threat. □ □ With that said, inflation is the biggest threat to everything economically oriented.
7395	7/10/2012	the people who damage the books
7396	7/10/2012	Inexcusable lack of funding.
7397	7/10/2012	You will be taking computer access away from students and job seekers who really need it. There will be less programs for young children.
7398	7/10/2012	Not a threat really, but how will library institutions evolve in a digital landscape when information can simply be downloaded anywhere? There is no lack of funding in our military-industrial complex. □ Perhaps the biggest threat to libraries is the same as that to education - a deliberate effort dumb people down to be better workers.
7399	7/10/2012	Poor economy.
7400	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7401	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7402	7/10/2012	I am unsure
7403	7/10/2012	Don't know
7404	7/10/2012	People who do not pay the book & material fines. We need an accountable system of collecting for overdue and lost materials.
7405	7/10/2012	Funding.
7406	7/10/2012	competing tax dollars

7407	7/10/2012	I would think that the use does not match who is paying for it (only homeowners) and who needs it (everyone).
7408	7/10/2012	I don't see our libraries as threatened, beyond the limitations imposed by our state and local tax structure. They're obviously very well-used and voters have generally supported library levies. I would like to know more about what has lead to the current funding problem.
7409	7/10/2012	I don't know.
7410	7/10/2012	Funding cuts!
7411	7/10/2012	not sure. seniors & children programs seem a must.
7412	7/10/2012	Closing any one entirely. No need for sunday full day.
7413	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7414	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7415	7/10/2012	ennui from the people who don't use it.
7416	7/10/2012	information available on the internet - ebooks, etc
7417	7/10/2012	Shutting them down. Less access, less materials, and fewer hours for the people who work there who help people like me figure out what to check out and how to use the resources.
7418	7/10/2012	I don't know - you probably know better than us. I think a drop-down here might have been helpful.
7419	7/10/2012	That people don't know that libraries are used for more than checking out books: Some people think they're outdated and don't want to support them.
7420	7/10/2012	Not voting for bond measures.
7421	7/10/2012	Lack of community support. Republicans?
7422	7/10/2012	lack of funding changes in technology
7423	7/10/2012	Competing interests for tax dollars.
7424	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and perceived decreasing relevance due to the internet and digital media (which I don't agree with).
7425	7/10/2012	Greedy Republicans who want more tax breaks for crooked banksters and the rich and who cut funding for our public treasures like libraries
7426	7/10/2012	Creepy people that hang out at the library, like the druggies and crazies at Central. Please make them go away.
7427	7/10/2012	social media, kindle's, apple ipads, etc where books can be downloaded for free and where more people can afford to have internet, etc on phones
7428	7/10/2012	I worry that libraries will continue to be cut, and their services will be further reduced. The library is a really important resource, especially for low income folks in our community. Having access to books and computers when they otherwise can be hard to come by is very important.
7429	7/10/2012	Bureuacrats
7430	7/10/2012	i really don't know, i'm guessing it's funding and keeping yourself visible and out there so people remember you and think of you, and just want to "go to the LIBRARY!"

7431	7/10/2012	disinterest
7432	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7433	7/10/2012	I assume funding since it is clearly not lack of use/ interest.
7434	7/10/2012	insufficient funds
7435	7/10/2012	Unnecessary closure. There is far too much money floating out there in the world to let ANY library close.
7436	7/10/2012	You force me to pick one option over another, in other words you want to say what you want to see and not what I would say. So I'm not going to finish this survey. Rigged surveys piss me OFF!
7437	7/10/2012	phone apps and insultingly dull entertainment [] media
7438	7/10/2012	Trying to offer too much. Gradually increasing numbers of social service programs beyond access to materials.
7439	7/10/2012	Failing to ask for help when you need it. I and my wife both grew up reading and all of the children. [] We swap books like some people swap new food ideas. The library is what makes the rainy season much less dreary.
7440	7/10/2012	people's lack of knowledge of the funding sources, and how their participation affects the quality of the library services they enjoy. The hostility from a small portion of the populace regarding the cost of public services, and/or the apathy by non-users.
7441	7/10/2012	Politicians and politics. Whats next laying off teachers, closing schools. Lets make sure our kids do not get a better education than the politicians.
7442	7/10/2012	People not using or valuing them.
7443	7/10/2012	obsolesence
7444	7/10/2012	I suppose the lack of money or some people not being interested.
7445	7/10/2012	This is a loaded question that solicits answers that would support a request for additional funding. I think the library is doing fine. It provides all the services I want and is open more hours than are necessary. I already pay over $400 a year in property taxes only for the library. I get a lot of library books and the library is necessary. But stick to your mission to provide books to people, don't try to provide all kinds of community services, and live within your budget. And try to ask neutral questions in your surveys instead of questions designed to get the answers you want. [] [] As for threats to the library: 1) drug addicts in & outside the main branch discouraging patrons, 2) pedophiles, 3) Portland's deteriorating economic base, and 4) financial pressure from looming public employee pension obligations.
7446	7/10/2012	Losing access
7447	7/10/2012	Apathy and the inaccurate idea of the library as "the place with the books" that can be replaced by the internet.
7448	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.

7449	7/10/2012	Not being securely funded. ☐ ☐ PS The above section (5) did not work on this survey. It did not allow me to rank and selected 1-6 for me.
7450	7/10/2012	Poor funding.
7451	7/10/2012	Ignorance- many people don't know how extensive the (free!) resources are, including online availability. My guess is that funding support would vastly increase with more "advertising" on all of the services offered by the library- it is an undeniably spectacular, invaluable community service. ☐ Thank you for your concern!
7452	7/10/2012	prisons and corporations not paying their fair share in state and city taxes
7453	7/10/2012	Funding
7454	7/10/2012	I have no idea.
7455	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7456	7/10/2012	lack of interest and support
7457	7/10/2012	Politicians who don't understand how busy and in demand our libraries are, because they don't use them.
7458	7/10/2012	I don't know, I would assume funding.
7459	7/10/2012	Increased taxes due to mission creep leading to voter rejection.
7460	7/10/2012	The economy
7461	7/10/2012	People not caring. Not a threat but a big challenge is the ebooks etc...please keep story times for children. As a mom and grand it is memory making and bonding with caregivers and books. Even tho I enjoy ebooks nothing is better than the feel of the pages etc. this coming from one who waited with the children for the bookmobile to arrive in Northern Minnesota and story times in Eagle River Alaska.
7462	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7463	7/10/2012	I would have thought it would be funding.
7464	7/10/2012	E-readers!
7465	7/10/2012	major funding cuts
7466	7/10/2012	Money and a shifting cultural sense of value; economic downturn and tax revenue down; but, basically: money.
7467	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7468	7/10/2012	I feel that a lack of funding and the prevalence of Kindles and other electronic reading devices threaten local libraries.
7469	7/10/2012	Allowing perverts to access porn on library computers. I'm not joking.

		Library providing services unrelated to books/reading material.[] Current movie DVD absolutely not the job of the library.[]
7470	7/10/2012	If the DVD is not historical or educational, it does not belong in the library.[] You are not an entertainment center and social service organization.[] Focus on your mission
7471	7/10/2012	Probably, underfunding also not keeping up a current and extensive book selection is a reason why I don't use the library more often.
7472	7/10/2012	I don't think that there should be another library issue on the ballot this year. I don't like it competing with the School District Bond issue. Put it on next year.
7473	7/10/2012	The library is more important now that the economy is bad, but there is less tax revenue to support it.
7474	7/10/2012	Politicians who fail to recognize the importance of libraries to our community, disregard the high value of library services, and seem unaware the high priority Portlanders place on their library. It is especially galling when they undercut plans for library self-sufficiency by refusing to allow the public to vote on things like the formation and funding of a library district.
7475	7/10/2012	People not reading books?
7476	7/10/2012	Limited hours and lack of funding is hurting the library by closing earlier in the day than is reasonable for working people.
7477	7/10/2012	? I guess budget issues?
7478	7/10/2012	The fact that many things are going computerized and many people no longer care to read books which is a shame.[] Additionally I'm afraid that fewer people will use the library as a reading resource.[] I love to read and that would be a tragedy.
7479	7/10/2012	People not appreciating them.
7480	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
7481	7/10/2012	The recession?
7482	7/10/2012	any kind of censorship--however, that seems unlikely in Portland. Lack of funds would be the biggest threat I believe.
7483	7/10/2012	Stupid funding: where operations are based upon shaking funding structures, and there isn't a solid, well-considered funding operation that ensures the libraries are open, staffed and updated as needed by their communities.
7484	7/10/2012	the Internet. Books are becoming passe. Possibly libraries will need to become more computer media centered.
7485	7/10/2012	not emphasizing reading in the schools and as a meaningful activity
7486	7/10/2012	Diminished use due to electronic devices.

7487	7/10/2012	Theft. Abuse of materials. Inadequate funding. [] Note on #5 question: I don't think homework help for students and English language learners should be grouped with resources for small business owners. How did this come about? Your results are going to be skewed and unfair.
7488	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7489	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7490	7/10/2012	Indifference.
7491	7/10/2012	Not having the ability to go to the library every day if I need or what to.
7492	7/10/2012	Maintaining current materials (both hard and soft copy) and integrity of programs (including hold and pickup service) so that people want to continue to use these valuable resources thereby continuing to support funding for the libraries.
7493	7/10/2012	We are homeschoolers, and really love the educational programs that the libraries present. We have seen many amazing presentations and participated in some wonderful activities that have really enriched my child's education. I presume that many would see this as outside the core mission of the library and they would get the ax first, which frightens me. Many of us, homeschoolers or not, are extremely concerned about the cuts to public education, and library programs make learning available that the schools are no longer paying for. Also we rely heavily on the library for learning materials, and it's always been extremely helpful, especially with science, to know that the library is always acquiring new materials. My son's education would really suffer without access to our library's ever growing collection.
7494	7/10/2012	Internet Porn
7495	7/10/2012	Seems like there isn't enough money to go around
7496	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
7497	7/10/2012	I'm assuming it's budgetary.
7498	7/10/2012	funding, the internet and electronic books
7499	7/10/2012	Television.
7500	7/10/2012	The cultural attitude that libraries are a waste of taxpayer dollars is a terrible undervaluation of one of our community's most important resources.
7501	7/10/2012	It comes from people who don't see what a valuable resource libraries provide every social, economic and age groups. Shortsightedly, for some people funding is seen as just another tax which they automatically want to defeat. Little do these people know what a VALUE they are getting for the money. It is FREE for everyone to use. Everyone contributes for the common good.

7502	7/10/2012	Public expectations - Everybody wants "public service" 24/7 but no one wants to bank roll it. The general public needs to understand that "public service" is not free, is not infinite, and doesn't have to be there whenever they get the urge to use it. The library needs to do a needs assessment and change their hours to meet the largest demand. Tri-Met shuts down routes that don't have riders, airlines switch schedules during non-peak times. The library and other public entities should do the same. I'm all for cutting back hours for the library (and for postal delivery for that matter). I can no longer afford (I'm a senior citizen) to support everybody's cry for funding. The more we try to appease everyone the worse it will get - service will suffer and the taxpayers will revolt.
7503	7/10/2012	Lack of money, lack of interest on the part of the public
7504	7/10/2012	Fire. Flood or earthquake in that order
7505	7/10/2012	Funding for new books and pay wages for staff
7506	7/10/2012	Don't know.
7507	7/10/2012	budget cuts
7508	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7509	7/10/2012	Insufficient revenues to insure 7 day/week service.
7510	7/10/2012	Lack of funding due to economic pressure: that, or maybe some sort of paper-eating insect, or Nazis, who always make the big threat list.
7511	7/10/2012	Lack of funding! And community support. I see so many people using the library but i hear so little about its troubles in the news or by word of mouth.
7512	7/10/2012	People may think they have done all that's necessary by voting for the 3 year levy -- and could be upset that the libraries are closing one day a week anyway. It's possible that some will see the closure as a type of extortion, too.
7513	7/10/2012	severely reduced hours
7514	7/10/2012	Not enough funding for materials and hours
7515	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. I think too many people fail to understand how critical and important it is to allow citizens to have free and easy access to books, computers, and other materials.
7516	7/10/2012	Funds?
7517	7/10/2012	Lack of funding

		Overuse, underpaid staff, shorter hours, less pay. Of course there are those that do volunteer work at the library that help in some of these areas. However, paid staff should be remunerated for at least 5 days work week on a competitive basis say with other places of work (such as local book store staff). ¶
		¶
7518	7/10/2012	Of course the biggest threat would be complete closure of the library system. Would this be a start of a trend (cutting hours or days) so that the future becomes bleaker and bleaker for those of use that still love the feel of turning a page! Or for students looking for a quiet place to study...and not finding one. These are very crucial issues that should be considered if this change is a permanent one (to no library open on Sunday). The work will still be there on Monday for the librarians that handle a HUGE load...anyway. So still their pay should remain the SAME even with the lopped off day or days. It's crucial that we support higher taxes (perhaps not totally property based but perhaps on some other broader basis.
7519	7/10/2012	I know Portland tends to support its libraries but I find a lack of awareness regarding all the programs and services offered. I'd like to see stronger promotion of those, and particular focus placed on how libraries fit into education as a whole.
7520	7/10/2012	budget cuts
7521	7/10/2012	An inability to adapt to the e-reading shift.
7522	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7523	7/10/2012	adequate funding
7524	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
7525	7/10/2012	Cuts in funding.
7526	7/10/2012	Lack of fnding.
7527	7/10/2012	inadequate funding
7528	7/10/2012	The "dumb-ing down" of our society
7529	7/10/2012	funding. Even those of us who prefer ebooks should support the physical library as an asset to the community.
7530	7/10/2012	I assume not enough funding? The subtraction of Monday from library hours has been sad, I'd prefer to see the library open every day, or if it has to be closed one day to be closed on Sunday or have two half days vs being closed a full day.
7531	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
7532	7/10/2012	That they aren't open as much as possible. Any uncertainty as to when they are open will make people use them less and then that creates a system that is not fulfilling its potential.
7533	7/10/2012	i don't know. how does the benefit package for the library employes compare to the private sector?
7534	7/10/2012	fire
7535	7/10/2012	Non-readers and personal computers
7536	7/10/2012	Not enough resources or funding.

7537	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7538	7/10/2012	The potential closing of libraries.
7539	7/10/2012	Losing funding
7540	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
7541	7/10/2012	Budget cuts by a government that doesn't value the quality of life of its citizens.
7542	7/10/2012	Liberals
7543	7/10/2012	to be closed in the future
7544	7/10/2012	A general lack of knowledge in the public about what the library has to offer. Lack of publicity, essentially.
7545	7/10/2012	Shorter hours, unhappy librarians, outdated materials
7546	7/10/2012	The biggest threats are: 1) the perception that the library is a luxury, and 2) with the notion that everyone who works for the county is grossly overpaid.
7547	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7548	7/10/2012	The media information that books are no longer necessary.
7549	7/10/2012	People using their home computers, using computers to read, not knowing what the libraries can provide.
7550	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
7551	7/10/2012	Closing
7552	7/10/2012	I don't know
7553	7/10/2012	Space and funding
7554	7/10/2012	As with so many things funding. I also think some people do not realize how much the libraries are used and what all they are used for.
7555	7/10/2012	funding
7556	7/10/2012	Funding as always.
7557	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. complacency with academic pursuits. []
7558	7/10/2012	i believe that in our "post-post-modern" society, the ability to sort through information that is well articulated is key. I could not do this without my local library. That they will lose funding and not be able to provide services to people. I buy books, but I also like to go to the library. I always feel good when I walk inside a library or a bookstore. I have resources at home for computer use, but I am sure it would be hard on folks who do not. The library is a meeting place for people that is safe and is all about learning.[] []
7559	7/10/2012	I would hate to see all that go away.
7560	7/10/2012	A lack of public commitment to funding the libraries at the rates that we need to maintain their quality and access.

7561	7/10/2012	I think the 6 day library week is just a ruse to pass the library tax district measure....I feel I was tricked into voting for the last bond measure, and then the library drops one day as a result....I don't suppose you will admit to the media before the next election, that the reason that one day was dropped was because all the employees got big raises after the last bond measure passed. I'm not voting Yes for your next measure...I hope it loses...
7562	7/10/2012	Not sure. Corporations, politicians, lack of funds, awareness of their importance. They are just as important as public parks.
7563	7/10/2012	No funding to keep them open it is not convenient to go to central library the children would have only the school library available to study/research homework/some families rely on library for internet access and i LOVE TO READ thank you
7564	7/10/2012	People forgetting the way to the libraries because the ones open are too far or too often closed [] If children and students do not learn how fun it is to read libraries can close all over and we will have generations of non-readers Also less people will want to write . The few writers still publishing will be read only by the few people able to buy books
7565	7/10/2012	1 - lack of access (that libraries aren't open daily, at least with some hours)[] [] 2 - that people will forget the joy and the usefulness of reading
7566	7/10/2012	The latest election in May 2012 implied the funding levy would ensure the libraries remain open. Since then, I'm surprised to learn of the reduced schedule as of July 1. The state of our economy remains a challenge for all of us. We must all learn to do more with less, including the library. The most important work of our local libraries is to have current materials and be open at least 6 days a week. Eliminate the other programs to reduce costs. Programs already exist in the communities for senior citizens, job seekers, small business owners, young and school-aged children. The library does not need to duplicate those efforts by providing its own programs. Home-bound seniors can rely on their network of family, friends, and neighbors to get/return their books or pay the full cost of having books mailed to them. Another option is to have volunteers deliver books to home-bound seniors who are unable to afford mailing costs.
7567	7/10/2012	Uninformed and prejudiced political activism.
7568	7/10/2012	people's unwillingness to pay taxes
7569	7/10/2012	passing library levies and then spending the money elsewhere
7570	7/10/2012	No money.
7571	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. I really like the Midland Multnomah Library because it makes me feel safe. There is always security every time I walk in. It would be a real shame to lose that due to lack of funding.
7572	7/10/2012	Funding cutbacks
7573	7/10/2012	Couldn't get the above numbers to work. Proper order from the top is: 6, 3, 2, 5, 1, 4.
7574	7/10/2012	Lack of funding?

7575	7/10/2012	It's possible people use physical books less lately - internet browsing for information and reading novels on nook books are becoming more common. I still prefer hard copies and very much value the ability to get books from the library. I depend on it to be there. I think one problem is that the people who most depend on the library tend to be toward the lower end of the income scale. This means when funding gets divided up, if the needs of those with lower incomes aren't prioritized, things like libraries and other public services won't be either.
7576	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7577	7/10/2012	Reduced public funding.
7578	7/10/2012	To me the hours are very important - I work all day, and only have an hour or two to come in in the evenings. Every evening when you are open later gives me more of a chance to read!
7579	7/10/2012	Lack of new books and materials, lack of hours open to the public
7580	7/10/2012	A lack of resources for funding.
7581	7/10/2012	funding
7582	7/10/2012	Consistent funding.
7583	7/10/2012	further closures, reduced staff
7584	7/10/2012	Irrelevant, not attentive to the clients' needs
7585	7/10/2012	Recession-driven cuts to local government budgets.
7586	7/10/2012	No idea.
7587	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and privatization.
7588	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7589	7/10/2012	Vulnerability to funding via voters (via levy) who may not understand the actual budgetary needs to operate a library system effectively.
7590	7/10/2012	Improper allocation and management of funds.
7591	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7592	7/10/2012	it seems funding
7593	7/10/2012	People abusing the system and checking out materials then never returning them. And tax dollars going elsewhere.
7594	7/10/2012	That the powers that be take it away to do more for themselves without considering the long term effects and affects on people without the resources in their homes; that people who love to read and use the library will not have it to use; students will not be able to properly research without a computer....and so much more.
7595	7/10/2012	I dont know about the biggest threat.[] What i would not like to see go away are extended hours for people who work nine to five jobs. I've used the mon/ tues pas 5 pm times in addition to sat/ sun hours.
7596	7/10/2012	Pornography access on computers is harmful to the community.
7597	7/10/2012	Budget cuts

7598	7/10/2012	Closures. Access is so very important. With the ability to place holds, those who have transport issues can go to a close library. My friend lives in Medford and it was horrible when they closed their libraries. I DO NOT want to have anything like that happen here.
7599	7/10/2012	Library management who seem to equate expansion of programs with success, at expense of access - first priority to me is open libraries - longer hours, all days. NOTE on QUESTION # 5.... your methodology forces me to have programatic priorities (Priority 3-6) instead of my actual preference which would be to have top THREE priorities exclusively. Creates false impression that # 3-6 have some importance to me. They do not in times of decisions to close the doors.
7600	7/10/2012	Funding. Funding should be spread out and not overly supported by home owners.
7601	7/10/2012	I would imagine lack of funding
7602	7/10/2012	Not properly funded
7603	7/10/2012	Funding. Not being open when the public would like. Not having current materials. Not having electronic books for Kindles.
7604	7/10/2012	Politicians, taking money from the Library budget and spending it on their pet projects. They know they people are sympathetic to library funding so it is a good way to increase taxes. I will not support any library funding. You people need to hold politicians accountable.
7605	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and electronic books.
7606	7/10/2012	funding
7607	7/10/2012	It seems like funding is the biggest threat. I really support the community based programs because those work as good advertising when it comes to raising awareness about how important libraries are.
7608	7/10/2012	The wealthiest residents and businesses not paying their fair share of taxes.
7609	7/10/2012	Lack of predictable funding.
7610	7/10/2012	I don't know. Perhaps a lessened community recognition of the cultural and political importance of the library in our society.
7611	7/10/2012	I'm not sure what that means?
7612	7/10/2012	budget cuts.
7613	7/10/2012	apathy
7614	7/10/2012	The homeless and drug addicts.
7615	7/10/2012	Taxpayers not willing to pay for the service.
7616	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7617	7/10/2012	folks not understanding how important literacy skills are to success in life. also not understanding free convenient access to quality information is necessary for democracy to work.
7618	7/10/2012	Unstable economy - funding dependent on prperty values which fluctuate.
7619	7/10/2012	fiscal mismanagement and incompetence of library administrators. ignorance of patron needs and library operations by branch managers.

7620	7/10/2012	I think probably as technology moves more and more printed media to the internet, the real need to have a physical library ultimately decreases. This is based on the assumption that at its core, historically, a library is a storehouse for information and literature. In the modern day, it has taken on many other functions and so maintains relevance, but I imagine that many of those in charge of funding would still feel that "national defense" is of greater importance. This would be unfortunate as in my view, a library still provides a crucial public service - free access to information and research by the public.
		Lack of funding.[] []
7621	7/10/2012	(A distant second threat is maybe lack of innovation. Are there any ways in which libraries can change their operating model so as to make themselves more valuable and attractive to the public? Can they be merged in some clever way with community centers, public parks or recreation centers to increase attendance?)
7622	7/10/2012	Loss of funding, no question.
7623	7/10/2012	reduced hours and reduced new purchases!!
7624	7/10/2012	Funding limitations.
7625	7/10/2012	People who don't understand the importance of a strong library system for the community.
7626	7/10/2012	Lack of long term funding.
7627	7/10/2012	ebooks, tech materials like kindles
7628	7/10/2012	Funding!!!
7629	7/10/2012	Community apathy.
7630	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to support all of the great activities our libraries offer
7631	7/10/2012	funding
7632	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
7633	7/10/2012	Loss
7634	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. The Internet.
7635	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
7636	7/10/2012	Over staffing. There are too many people working at the library in Gresham. Most of the time they are talking with each other and standing around. I also remember a time when people were suppose to be quiet in the library. Last week I left because they were having a concert in the middle of the library-is that really what we should be doing?
7637	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is the reduction of hours and the number of staff. People don't come to the libraries at the time. By reducing the libraries time some people won't have the chance of educating themselves as they used to do.
7638	7/10/2012	Apathy and ignorance to their importance to a thriving democracy. [] [] Misunderstanding that libraries offer more than just books.

7639	7/10/2012	Reallocation of funding elsewhere.
7640	7/10/2012	Defunding.
7641	7/10/2012	Being closed at times when people need them the most.
7642	7/10/2012	If people get used to not having libraries, or having fewer services, it will be harder to convince people to vote to fully fund libraries in the future.
7643	7/10/2012	don't know
7644	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, I assume.
7645	7/10/2012	obviously lack of funding is the biggest threat but I feel that accessibility and service are more important than spending a lot of money on construction.
7646	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
7647	7/10/2012	Right now-funding. Later, if libraries are not funded adequately, illiteracy.
7648	7/10/2012	The belief that the internet is the only or best source of accessible information. And lack of funding.
7649	7/10/2012	loss of public funding
7650	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7651	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7652	7/10/2012	Republicans
7653	7/10/2012	Lack of usage. If the branches aren't open people will get out of the habit of using the library and it will be overlooked.
7654	7/10/2012	funding
7655	7/10/2012	Underfunding. Libraries are a critical investment for the education of our citizens, as well as supporting job growth and keeping the elderly mentally engaged with society
7656	7/10/2012	Selfish citizens.
7657	7/10/2012	Over use. Waiting for long periods to get books etc....
7658	7/10/2012	Funding. I was surprised that all branches would be closed on Mondays. Why not stagger the branches closed day?
7659	7/10/2012	Loss in ease of functionality/usefulness.
7660	7/10/2012	Ignorance.
7661	7/10/2012	people who hate paying taxes and supporting public services
7662	7/10/2012	declining budget
7663	7/10/2012	Lack of money from county, state and federal
7664	7/10/2012	Becoming obsolete or unwelcome. Underutilized. Losing touch with the community. Funding.
7665	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7666	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. City Hall. Republicans. Mitt Romney.
7667	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7668	7/10/2012	I don't have enough info to respond.
7669	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding is biggest threat. Must have the dollars to support materials, staff, hours, services.

7670	7/10/2012	Not Sure
7671	7/10/2012	Over-spending of public funds in military ventures.
7672	7/10/2012	access on weekend
7673	7/10/2012	underfunding
7674	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much for the community wiht too little funding.
7675	7/10/2012	I suppose the biggest threat is people who think ignorance is a virtue?
7676	7/10/2012	Closures.
7677	7/10/2012	Not having current materials on hand
7678	7/10/2012	Public perception that libraries are obsolete. Some people mistakenly believe that everyone had internet at home and that's enough. The social and cultural importance of libraries to people of all ages can not be overrated; unfortunately, it is often overlooked.
7679	7/10/2012	Budgets
7680	7/10/2012	Reduced property tax income due to under-valued homes, and increased burden on tax payers, who are already feeling strapped, to make up the difference.
7681	7/10/2012	I believe the biggest threat to our local libraries is lack of funding and also public awareness of how vital libraries are for helping improve young people's reading skills.
7682	7/10/2012	Ever expanding budgets, asking for too many tax dollars.
7683	7/10/2012	The exclusive reliance on income and property taxes in Oregon.
7684	7/10/2012	The growing cultural idea that books are a thing of the past, coupled with severe governmental budget limitations.[] [] Libraries, and bookstores (although especially libraries), are excellent community centers for finding new reading material, bringing together like-minded individuals, and keeping communities in contact (in a world increasingly about distance).
7685	7/10/2012	Tax cuts
7686	7/10/2012	Spending too much money.
7687	7/10/2012	lack of funding!
7688	7/10/2012	closures
7689	7/10/2012	Funding
7690	7/10/2012	Getting off track of your mission....which you've already done. You're there so people can check out books.....where does that appear in question #5 ??? THAT'S MY FIRST SELECTION of importance !!!
7691	7/10/2012	lack of public funding
7692	7/10/2012	Not enough money. I'm shocked the hours were cut RIGHT after we voted the library their own income stream. That was a really poor move on the part of the library.
7693	7/10/2012	Funding and the "paperless" environment of the internet.

7694	7/10/2012	I hear jokes almost daily on TV or through friends: "what's a library?", "those things are still around?", etc. People don't realize the limitations of Google. They don't think libraries are valuable or necessary anymore, and they don't know how to use them. They want instant results, regardless if they are completely accurate. So I'd say the biggest threat is the general public perception of libraries.
7695	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7696	7/10/2012	A lack of permanent funding and an under appreciation of the joy of reading. Books can take your imagination everywhere Eradicate ignorance by providing access to books and computers. Thank you for your on going efforts to education and nurture minds.
7697	7/10/2012	besides funding? people taking them (and their services, etc.) for granted
7698	7/10/2012	Lack of funding?
7699	7/10/2012	Loss of revenue.
7700	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
7701	7/10/2012	The PERS program which is eating up too much of the available revenue.
7702	7/10/2012	Balance funding vs. efficient service to the public (hopefully keeping acceptable and useful levels of service to community).
7703	7/10/2012	Funding: having buildings and materials in good repair is very important and I would prefer to see quality maintained even if hours are reduced. Please don't let the buildings become less safe and inviting or the materials not kept in good shape and current. Few hours of access is better than few items or unwelcoming places.
7704	7/10/2012	Not using what resources we have wisely. We can't do everything for everyone.
7705	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
7706	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7707	7/10/2012	People not wanting to pay taxes required to keep community services available.
7708	7/10/2012	funding, but staying relevant in a digital age is a close second (I think they're doing a decent job so far, but constant adaptation will be an issue)
7709	7/10/2012	Lack of funding...local homeless people unsupervised within the library.
7710	7/10/2012	Libraries must adapt to a changing economy just like every other citizen, community agency, and government services. Change isn't always pleasant but change that is adaptable is necessary. The greatest threat is the belief that America can be economically just as it was ten years ago. This belief runs counter to adaptive change.
7711	7/10/2012	Other than lack of funding, I don't think most people in this county understand all the library has to offer. My friends are absolutely shocked at all I do at the library and all the library has to offer. I would think that if you made more of a concerted effort to apprise the public about all your services that you provide, they would more than likely find you as invaluable as I do.
7712	7/10/2012	The use of the Internet seems to be causing younger people to read books less. The library should try to stay up-to-date with current technologies.

7713	7/10/2012	Not enough funds to keep employees and vital programs. I also find many of my friends getting Nooks, etc. for their reading. I am afraid that someday that will be our only source, not for me, as I still want the feel of a book in my hands and see them on my bookshelves. I will always support my library in any way I can.
7714	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to the libraries is the libraries themselves. When I look at the history and materials in my local library, it seems pretty clear that the budget gets spent on an unnecessary amount of brand new items, technology and remodeling. Self-checkouts, newly remodeled buildings, and vast quantities of the latest young adult fiction make for a more upscale experience, but are in no way necessary to a successful library. Then they run out of money and instead of cutting back their approach across the board, they cut hours. This succeeds, no doubt, in getting the public's attention, but it is certainly not the only way to deal with budgetary issues.
7715	7/10/2012	Republicans
7716	7/10/2012	A misinformed populace.
7717	7/10/2012	republican oriented politics not recognizing the importance of libraries, school programs and other community activities for children and families.
7718	7/10/2012	Overpaid upper management and too many managers, based on the salaries I have read about in the newspaper. Also not using taxpayers' scare monies wisely and doing things like passing a bond measure and then inexplicably closing all the libraries one day a week immediately afterward. I will be quite skeptical about future requests for money based on how this one unfolded. Very poor.
7719	7/10/2012	Building maintenance costs and administrative costs.
7720	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7721	7/10/2012	That they may close down
7722	7/10/2012	Television.
7723	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7724	7/10/2012	Learning to live within a budget. If you have to make cuts so be it.
7725	7/10/2012	People not picking up a book. Nothing is as satisfying as reading.
7726	7/10/2012	People who are unwilling to pay taxes for public services like libraries
7727	7/10/2012	acquisitions, hours open, outreach
7728	7/10/2012	incompetent, shortsighted elected officials.[] stupid, shortsighted voters.
7729	7/10/2012	The short answer: the Internet. I realize this is oversimplifying the issue, but access to MOST forms of media, from books to music to film, can be found for free online.
7730	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is a reduction of hours staff and services. People in the community need the services.
7731	7/10/2012	n/a
7732	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7733	7/10/2012	Children growing up, not being taken to the library, not appreciating the riches that are there.

7734	7/10/2012	not open monday
7735	7/10/2012	Underfunding of the libraries
7736	7/10/2012	I assume it's financial issues
7737	7/10/2012	lack of funds
7738	7/10/2012	For-profits convincing citizens they should pay to access media that is free, and therefore we don't need to fund libraries. I think our libraries need to get hipper. Start hosting events for 20-30-year-olds, book clubs with wine or music, really keep people engaged, reading and their minds active. If this co-hort of post-college brains is allowed to wither, we will be left with an uninformed and culturally poor class of leaders as a society. Let's face it, libraries are one of the few spaces that still are open and belong to the community, where else can a poor person go into downtown without being harassed by private or public "security" forces? I would assume it would be budget cuts. The libraries need to be open every day, in my opinion, and have good hours, which means that they don't close right when everyone gets off work (i.e. too early), otherwise no one can actually make it in who works or who would try to avoid being on trimet during rush hour. □ Also if the collection dropped into irrelevancy because no new books or media were being purchased, no one would want to use the library anymore, so I do think that having magazines and new books and movies is important. I personally don't really read magazines, but whatever. □ I also think it is great that the libraries serve the homeless population in portland by having computer access for all. At the same time, I don't want the libraries to turn into computer labs, so I think we should keep the amount of computers we have but not increase it too much. I've been to other library systems where it feels like the library really is just a glorified computer lab. I think one way to combat this feeling, also, is to have places where people can just sit (e.g. tables, comfy chairs), none of which are in evidence in any of the libraries I frequent.
7739	7/10/2012
7740	7/10/2012	the overburdened tax payer being asked for more and more
7741	7/10/2012	N/A
7742	7/10/2012	Funding
7743	7/10/2012	Lack of money and digital technology
7744	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and theft of materials.
7745	7/10/2012	Loss of funding to maintain current level of service and programing
7746	7/10/2012	I suppose financial health and stability.
7747	7/10/2012	funding from property taxes, I am almost on a fixed income and the increase in taxes every year makes it increasingly likely that I won't be able to stay in my house, the taxes are almost the amount of the mortgage, just because I have a house doesn't mean I can afford all the extra expenses

7748	7/10/2012	I think that ereaders are potential hazard. I just got a nook (e ink screen) , and almost immediately I began to prefer the reading experience to print books. At the same time I chose the nook because it was compatible with the library's eBook format. The challenge with ereaders will probably be that people will begin to stop going to physical locations. The ebooks also encourage impulse purchases of books. I've often found my self skimming the online store on my nook and entertaining the purchase a book that I probably wouldn't buy if it weren't immediately available. The library doesn't offer this experience on e ink readers because they don't have the functionality of their more powerful colorscreen cousins and I'm not sure how it works on their cousins. People not going to libraries also distances them from the library. On the other hand I think ereaders could really help the library. I always check the library now before buying an Ebook because the reading experience is the same and I don't have to pay sometime absolutely outrageous prices for electronic copies of books.
7749	7/10/2012	"Mission creep": trying to do everything without clearer priorities. A good example might be purchases of CDs and DVDs which contribute little more than entertainment, which is not why we pay taxes. The Kindle-type service, for which the library pays, is premised on the users' being able to afford the hardware, which is an economic distinction. The status of a special taxing district would remove the library's budget from prioritizing the entire gamut of county responsibilities. Earmarked revenue sources, since they require a separate locus of decisionmaking, become less accessible for public oversight and participation. This would be a poor precedent--one might foresee similar cherry-picking among other county functions to avoid tax compression. Each of the above choices are much like a push-poll, and ignore other possibilities to refine public views. My #3 choice embraces some services that might already be part of PPS and other local school budgets. My #1 choice really would be having Central Library open seven days week with branches open three days a week. #4: How much evaluation of attendance and quality takes place for each of these program categories?
7750	7/10/2012	Capitalism
7751	7/10/2012	lack of funding to cover the above.
7752	7/10/2012	lack of money
7753	7/10/2012	Lack of funding support.

7754	7/10/2012	the fact that the order of importance does not work on the survey and the libraries not being open late in the evenings
7755	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
7756	7/10/2012	People from out of state being in charge, people who don't care about Oregon and don't realize we want to keep Oregon priorities.
7757	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!!!
7758	7/10/2012	e books
7759	7/10/2012	The continuing shrinking of people's attention spans and the rapidly growing illiteracy of young people - exacerbated by media such as Twitter, cell phone non-grammar and non-spelling - and the documented impact these are having on the physiology of the human brain (read "The Shallows") may make libraries unappreciated.
7760	7/10/2012	This is a loaded question, which assumes that libraries are a kind of birthright to the American citizen. Not so. Libraries are a privilege. In this period of economic hardship, everyone must "tighten the belt." If libraries must be open less or downsized in order to reduce the tax burden on the economy, so be it. [] [] The most important thing is for libraries to have as wide a selection as possible. Next most important is to open for as many days of the week as possible, with the best hours possible. Programs and such which require tax funding should be phased out, as these are all things which are ultimately substitutes for the work of family, church, and community (not governmentally funded organizations).
7761	7/10/2012	I'm not sure.
7762	7/10/2012	not being able to afford to keep on the great librarians
7763	7/10/2012	1. Loss of funding[] []
7764	7/10/2012	2. Being overrun with homeless people
7765	7/10/2012	great staff!
7766	7/10/2012	People not knowing what is offered at the library
7767	7/10/2012	The libraries are doing fine. The biggest threat is to me. I can hardly make it now with the amount of property taxes I pay. Any more, and I will have to leave town
7768	7/10/2012	Our politicians
7769	7/10/2012	Lack of permanent funding
7770	7/10/2012	Closing smaller branches - I believe easy access to our libraries help people to explore them when they might not otherwise.
7771	7/10/2012	The internet and downloadable books and magazines.
7772	7/10/2012	Under-utilization. I feel a lot of people never visit the library and don't know how it can enrich their lives, or the lives of their fellow community members. I myself don't go as often as I'd like.
7772	7/10/2012	I am not sure

7773	7/10/2012	Funding. If our library is any indicator, it isn't lack of interest in the libraries! We have excellent staff. Now we need a stable funding source, not just property taxes. I know Oregonians hate sales tax, but at least then everyone pays as they go. More renters mean less property taxes. Home owners shouldn't have to shoulder the load!
7774	7/10/2012	The reduction of business hours
7775	7/10/2012	Besides funding, I would say people's access to easy research in their homes via internet.
7776	7/10/2012	lack of resources and hours for the community to be able to use the library. My mom when we moved to a new place (grew up at a military base) so first things she did was take us to the commissary, swimming pool, schools, MP's, and always the library. It is very important for all to use. I help at a non-profit and we see alot of low imcome and homeless who thrive on the library and its uses; who would normally could not afford any other way to find material to read or places to go. For some it is not just for finding a book to read but a place to meet and socialize with like-minded people.
7777	7/10/2012	I don't see our local libraries as threatened. Portlanders have been supportive over the years, doing without when times were tight and twice passing the levies to maintain quality service. I appreciate that the library put in use the security sensors so books could not be stolen - theft of materials was a problem in the past and I hope this is working. The fact that the levy is not bringing in the amount of money that it has in the past due to home values and economic depression means that all Portlanders are tightening their belts and cutting corners and figuring out new ways of doing things that are cheaper. Perhaps our libraries are institutions that needs to mirror our belt tightening rather than attempting to live outside (above) our economic constraints at this time.
7778	7/10/2012	Apathy
7779	7/10/2012	Don't know
7780	7/10/2012	Closing down! Even if all the programs lose their funding, we need to have access to these media materials!
7781	7/10/2012	Not enough funding :-)
7782	7/10/2012	Funding
7783	7/10/2012	lack of sure and adequate funding
7784	7/10/2012	The GOP.
7785	7/10/2012	Hours being reduced so that those who work M-F cannot access the library. Really appreciate having the later hours on two nights a week and being open at least one day on the weekend.
7786	7/10/2012	lack of funding, stolen/damaged materials, homeless using it as a hangout facility especially outfront
7787	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7788	7/10/2012	I'm not sure; funding seems to be an issue, but it's unclear why as Multnomah county's library system seems to be an important priority for and heavily used by citizens of Portland.
7789	7/10/2012	Ask too much money in tax levies... People will not support, can not support higher and higher taxes for top-notch library services in this economy. Try to economize, as all need to do in this economy....
7790	7/10/2012	Apathy.

7791	7/10/2012	The public not understanding how essential an open and free library system is to a democracy. Thus, the rejection of any increase in taxes to cover the costs.
7792	7/10/2012	Cutting back on staff available to encourage, direct and support the users. I'd be for less hours and the same and more level of staffing, if that's necessary.
7793	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to keep current materials available and allow access. Interest in library services is likely down due to easy access to info on the internet, e-books, and increased access to portable popular media (movies, TV, social networks...).
7794	7/10/2012	That there won't be funding for our libraries.[] [] In addition, I'm not sure we need as many librarians on the floor in the small libraries. I don't want to take jobs away from people, but I find that the librarians often don't seem that busy and there possibly isn't a need for that many of them.
7795	7/10/2012	Lack of direction. If you win the election, follow through with promises, or don't promise them. It was only a couple months ago... come on... Make a decision and stick to it. I don't like the idea of separating from the current administration policies. It is hard to reorganize and ends up being more expensive than anyone thought. Then you are asking for MORE money, which makes people mad. Housing taxes do end up to be a lot when houses are worth as much as they are. If you have to cut back, cut back. Make it retro. Do your best to maintain. It is not a competition. It is a business. Run it as well as you can until things pick up. We love your service. But don't take advantage of the people who support you, either.
7796	7/10/2012	Reduced staff and hours are unacceptable. New materials, computer systems, and support are so important. Our library system is our pride and joy as a city. Re-open all days of the week. Increase funding and access.
7797	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7798	7/10/2012	?
7799	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7800	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7801	7/10/2012	Underfunding! Make it easy to donate to the library and support our local branches in whatever way possible. Let us know what we can do to help with postings at our branches.
7802	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7803	7/10/2012	It seems to be the lack of funding.
7804	7/10/2012	need for funding
7805	7/10/2012	Lack of funding by the county
7806	7/10/2012	any reductions in locations, days or hours
7807	7/10/2012	budget cuts,

7808	7/10/2012	not having the latest or updated educational materials on a large variety of subjects from job search, professional careers and the economy in the united states to subjects on math, english, writing, technology, social science, scientific science, business and the arts etc.
7809	7/10/2012	Trying to do TOO much. Libraries aren't social service agencies. Other groups can provide some of these services. Focus on core mission of library.
7810	7/10/2012	Lack of funding...
7811	7/10/2012	funding!
7812	7/10/2012	E-books, if the library doesn't start loaning them in a convenient fashion.
7813	7/10/2012	Poor management: too many managers who are not involved directly with what goes on IN the libraries (including the director); skewed priorities.
7814	7/10/2012	lack of funding??
7815	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is that they are offering too many things besides books and reference resources for people and it is sucking the money away from a library's original intent. Why does a library need DVDs or People Magazine??
7816	7/10/2012	I worry about not having enough materials. I am unable to browse fiction because there are not enough books on the shelf and those that are on the shelf are always in the middle of the series. I now request all of my books and pick it them up. I am able to browse nonfiction but I find that I've just about read all of the books at my local library in sections that are of particular interest - not enough circulation of stocked books.
7817	7/10/2012	Idiots who think that it costs too much, and don't see the value to the community even if they don't use it themselves.
7818	7/10/2012	I was not aware of budget problems before the last election. So I suppose adequate funding is the main problem; libraries should be fully staffed and open at least 6 days/week, preferably 7. I've been in Portland for almost 4 years and with taxes as high as they are, I don't understand why the schools, arts programs, and libraries are having such difficulties.
7819	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7820	7/10/2012	Not funding them.
7821	7/10/2012	laziness on election day on the part of those who care about the library
7822	7/10/2012	Decreased tax funding and a lack of comittment from the voters for program development and literacy promotion.
7823	7/10/2012	apathy
7824	7/10/2012	Funding insecurity! Need a system in place so the funding doesn't have to be up for a vote every few years.¶ We have a great system, beautiful facilities, great materials and resources. But if there isn't funding for operations, maintenance, and salaries, the whole thing will deteriorate or not be as available to as many people as often as it is now.

7825	7/10/2012	I am very unclear on why there are insufficient funds available for basic services. My property tax is nearly 6000$ per year which is approximately 8% of my pre-tax income and nearly 15% of post tax dollars. I have looked at the cost of schools which are approximately 2.5X the cost of my public education (in real dollars) and yet I received a 1st class education in school systems which sent >75 of grads to at least 2 year degree college programs (most to BA programs). I cannot understand what the cost drivers are that are increasing these costs at a rate greater than inflation. I do think that closing libraries or reducing hours is not as appropriate as perhaps paring down services or wages. I work in a sector where there is no automatic COLA, no paid sick or vacation time, and no pension (other than my SIMPLE IRA). All of us are feeling the pain; cost cutting in ways other than reducing services must be considered.
7826	7/10/2012	Losing services in communities of color and low income neighborhoods.
7827	7/10/2012	Funding
7828	7/10/2012	Funding
7829	7/10/2012	Funding
7830	7/10/2012	Republican officeholders.
7831	7/10/2012	Funding.
7832	7/10/2012	Under funding
7833	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7834	7/10/2012	Reduced access -- (i.e., either fewer open hours or more limited current materials)
7835	7/10/2012	People stealing books
7836	7/10/2012	Offering too many services. English language learners (foreigners) typically have so many more opportunities than locals, so there are programs at schools and colleges where they can learn. Yes, it is nice to be able to offer so many things to so many people, but where does it end? Are we balancing the budget, or are we going to keep asking for more, even when there are so many people out of work, and many elderly retired folks, many of who are threatened of loosing their homes, due to budget cuts they are feeling in one way or another. Unfortunately our current President is a sad example of how America is learning to handle the "feel good" programs. THAT ATTITUDE is the biggest threat. As an alternative, let's reach out to our neighbors, learn the value of volunteering (ex: parents rotating storytelling time at their local libraries, taking your kids to bring books to the old folks homes and seeing/feeling the delight with their kindnesses, teens teaching computers or English as a second language, etc.) These things don't cost anything but a little gas $ - and would be priceless.! Stop putting the burden on homeowners and lets educate our children to be kind, to volunteer (young people, and teens, or retired people can read (ever have grandma or grandpa read you a story? I'll bet they'd even bring cookies if you'd let them). Our librarians could have a sheet out for people who need such services, and volunteers could post a sign
7837	7/10/2012	lack of funding?
7838	7/10/2012	lack of fundin
7839	7/10/2012	Seems like funding, since you guys are closed on Monday's now. Also the bathrooms are consistently disgusting.
7840	7/10/2012	People not knowing/understanding what the libraries offer that is useful to them.

7841	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much. I don't think we need computer games for kids or adults to play while at the library. They can do that at home or if not, it really isn't a NEED.
7842	7/10/2012	The above question would not rank the way I wanted it to.
7843	7/10/2012	Not being open enough. In order to be deemed an essential part of the community and have commensurate support, it must be open every day of the week.
7844	7/10/2012	declining public education system
7845	7/10/2012	lack of money
7846	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding and lack of professionally trained librarians familiar with technical areas.
7847	7/10/2012	Inability to match public funding to increased expenditures
7848	7/10/2012	funding would be my guess
7849	7/10/2012	low funds
7850	7/10/2012	That they are reliant on property taxes. Portland homeowners are underwater on their mortgages and you cannot expect them to always foot the bill for libraries when the value of their property is going down, not up. It's ridiculous.
7851	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is that they become obsolete by not keeping up with the times: electronic files, tablet computers/iPad, digital editions, etc.
7852	7/10/2012	Government using funding for other things.
7853	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7854	7/10/2012	Not enough $$$
7855	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding
7856	7/10/2012	TV, internet
7857	7/10/2012	Political ignorance by those who feel that any public spending (or anything public) is bad. I feel like all of these nukes and ipads and books on computer are part of the problem. I still really enjoy flipping pages and holding an actual book. ☹
7858	7/10/2012	As well as just funding because Im sure the library as well as schools will take the back seat to money available just because thats the way it seems these days, although I think libraries on ballots where we pay a tax increase to keep them opened would pass. I would vote yes! Underfunding is the biggest threat, to me.☹ ☹
7859	7/10/2012	I also think the Central Library becomes less useful as a community literacy/education resource as it becomes a winter living room for homeless people. (Which is not to say I don't think homeless people should have a warm/dry place to hang out in the daytime, just that it makes the library less relaxing to read/research in when someone is very stinky or talking to themselves next to you.) I feel like a jerk writing that, but it does affect my use of the library.
7860	7/10/2012	The dumbing-down of the U.S. in general, which is aided and abetted by no-nothing politicians (Tea Party members and narrow-minded Republicans, etc.) and right-wing media (Limbaugh, Fox News, et al) who obviously see no need to support and maintain libraries.

7861	7/10/2012	Limited e book access
7862	7/10/2012	People who buy all of their books.
7863	7/10/2012	Mitt romney elected President.
7864	7/10/2012	complacency
7865	7/10/2012	Increasing costs decreasing revenues just like its citizens
7866	7/10/2012	People mis-using the resources. Stealing the books and vandalizing the property Lack of public support.[]
7867	7/10/2012	[] Long term, eBooks and resources available online may impact library use.
7868	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7869	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and people who take advantage of the resources at the library.
7870	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much
7871	7/10/2012	Lack of funding;some populations addicted to l-pads, cell phones & computer games.Parents not promoting use of libraries to their children.
7872	7/10/2012	Funding, but it might be better to leave the current method in place at this time. A change will be a hard sell.
7873	7/10/2012	People who themselvs may not make much use of library system may fail to understand the importance it has for a large percentage of the population. From 5th grade through high school I made tremendous use of the Seattle Publi Library. In recent years I have not used the library system very much except as noted above. But I think the servces offered are highly important to the public,as a whole. Through the bi-lingual servces of the Gresham branch library I was able to put an Hispanic mother, who used to work for me, in touch with various programs and services there. One step that might be taken is to work with the Oregonian and all other local newspapers to write human interest stories about how the various library services have helped various individal and families.
7874	7/10/2012	Apathy
7875	7/10/2012	Out of control costs! We keep voting to sustain our libraries and then get hit with more levies to keep them open....sick of it!
7876	7/10/2012	I'm not sure.
7877	7/10/2012	insufficient funding
7878	7/10/2012	Adequate funding to support the acquisition and circulation of material -- books, CDs, DVDs, etc.
7879	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7880	7/10/2012	Illiteracy. If people do not learn to read and write, they will not utilize the abundance of resources the library has to offer.
7881	7/10/2012	the falling economy
7882	7/10/2012	I fail to see any "threat" to our local libraries. Could you have been more specific about "threat"?
7883	7/10/2012	The competition with modern technology. Internet and lpad are taking over everything.
7884	7/10/2012	Not enough funding for this incredible resource!

7885	7/10/2012	lack of funding, lack of community awareness about this great resource.
7886	7/10/2012	Lack of access.
7887	7/10/2012	Illiteracy
7888	7/10/2012	BUDGET REDUCTIONS! People who don't use the libraries don't know how important they are to the community. Do people who allocate the $$$$ use the libraries?
7889	7/10/2012	LACK OF CONSISTENT FUNDING.
7890	7/10/2012	Backlash due to over taxation.
7891	7/10/2012	Lack of funding so we do not have access to new and old materials, computers, delivery services for books placed on hold and for those who cannot get to the library during open hours and less open time during the week.
7892	7/10/2012	Free programs being cut/reduced, also due to reduced staff.
7893	7/10/2012	The above ranking thing is weird.[] Lack of control by the staff...loud people...riff raff.
7894	7/10/2012	Poor allocation of funds, wrong priorities, seemingly hidden agenda
7895	7/10/2012	The downtown main library is surrounded by street youth and others smoking cigarettes and drinking. It is a shame to have to hold my child close and walk through the stench of urine and smoke to enter such a beautiful library. It honestly doesn't feel safe. I have stopped going to the downtown library.
7896	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is the idea that libraries are no longer relevant in the age of computer technologies. Having a library is more important than ever for leveling socio-economic differences and having equal access to books and learning.
7897	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7898	7/10/2012	Lack of operating funds.
7899	7/10/2012	Religious zealotry / libertarianism
7900	7/10/2012	The loss of student resources and people who care.
7901	7/10/2012	Not enough books and variety
7902	7/10/2012	The online availability of current accurate information that can be accessed by computer.
7903	7/10/2012	I suppose funding cuts. We have excellent libraries I brag about to friends and family living in other parts of the country. My family has greatly benefited from the Multnomah county library system. It is a vital part of a community and needs to continue to grow and develop as technology changes. Cutting funding for the library prevents the library from being on the cutting edge of community organizations.
7904	7/10/2012	I don't know. I just don't want them to close. I love being able to read actual, paper books. So perhaps ebooks?
7905	7/10/2012	Lack of Funding
7906	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7907	7/10/2012	I'm not sure
7908	7/10/2012	Lack of public funding

7909	7/10/2012	Libraries becoming outdated and therefore underused. Libraries should be able to stock the latest information as well as have a broad category of books, media, information that the public can access.
7910	7/10/2012	having one or more libraries closed
7911	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
7912	7/10/2012	The funding source is our biggest threat. Wish there was another way. It feels like the libraries are always held at ransom at election time.
7913	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
7914	7/10/2012	According to the library not enough money, but everyone always wants more money.
7915	7/10/2012	Don't know.
7916	7/10/2012	Lack of knowledge as to what is available from the library and what it provides the public for the tax dollars spent.
7917	7/10/2012	At present there is not enough funding available.
7918	7/10/2012	political financial warfare
7919	7/10/2012	I suppose that the biggest threat to libraries is the ever-shrinking tax dollar that has more and more demands put on it. You can spend money to do fund raising for the libraries, but does that really provide the kind of funding that tax dollars do? With more demands on the tax $, law & order, fire & safety, & health & welfare are going to keep trumping the funds for the library. Basic needs always take priority over learning and education. It doesn't matter how many studies show you that better education will prevent the problems the occur in the other areas in the long run. Nobody looks at the long run when they need something to eat today.
7920	7/10/2012	People not understanding how important libraries are to the community.
7921	7/10/2012	Inconsistent or inadequate funding that keeps them from planning ahead. Closing on Mondays was decided quite suddenly due to inadequate funding. This makes is difficult to budget and hire.
7922	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7923	7/10/2012	not sure
7924	7/10/2012	no funding
7925	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
7926	7/10/2012	We need stable funding and a stable tax system
7927	7/10/2012	Not adjusting to needs for a new computerized marketplace. Libraries should have great Internet and computers.
7928	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and support is always a threat. The increase in digital books and the ability of people to easily share book files means that fewer people need to wait for a library copy of a book to become available.
7929	7/10/2012	Decision makers that were born with a silver spoon up their as, and don't value the importance of free resources for education, and discovery because they buy everything they need from Apple, or Amazon.

7930	7/10/2012	Lack of a solid, consistent funding base--which, of course, is the bane of all human services in this and other states. We need to figure out a way to end the seesaw nature of public funding for the library; which, I believe, is the last and best hope for ALL citizens to learn about their world, regardless of their socio-economic status. When public information sources are controlled by private interests whose objectives are inimical to freedom and justice (as too many the "mainstream" media are today), we are at risk of losing the American project altogether.
7931	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and probably digital libraries.
7932	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7933	7/10/2012	not getting enough funding
7934	7/10/2012	Funding and electronic books. not a problem with electronic media but takes away from print media
7935	7/10/2012	closure
7936	7/10/2012	Poor funding
7937	7/10/2012	If they ever had to fully close.
7938	7/10/2012	They have to stay relevant. To do that rget have to have current technology, media, and be available.
7939	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding to keep libraries open seems to be an ongoing problem. The first threat is the language and framing of question No.5.. You can't use the blanket term "Current Materials" meaning both; Books and a "paid search engine".. They are different things completely, and hold different importance.. It is "materials"; physical Books, physical knowledge, what a Library traditionally has to offer, and without this being central in importance, Libraries will simply be undercut, and turned into something different.. It is this traditional ideology of the sacred Institution, that keeps this Country from slowly privatizing Libraries into shells of what they were "job stations" "licensing stations" "day cares", or simply erasing Libraries as "a thing of the past"? We must reverse this ideology of linking the physical to that of the electronic, or community service model, and support our Libraries by simply having a ton of books and media beyond those nice oak Library doors, easy access to those Books, and a pleasant quite atmosphere to do the external activities, and service programs.. [] I truly empathize with any and all cuts to our Libraries.. I view Libraries as sacred territory, where most folks could develop a free education if they were so inclined.. Please judge the dwindling funding given to ANY program by it's promotion and attendance, and keep physical books and media at the forefront, as it's those Books that keep Libraries, Libraries..
7940	7/10/2012
7941	7/10/2012	lack of hours for school aged kids
7942	7/10/2012	Funding.
7943	7/10/2012	No government funding - same as our school systems
7944	7/10/2012	Not enough money. Lots of people use the library (we are a city of readers), but funding seems to be any issue.
7945	7/10/2012	WiFi

7946	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to keep the libraries open when school children need access and at convenient times for everyone to have ready access. Also not enough funding to keep resources up to date, and to hire and maintain state-of-the-art librarians in a digital world.
7947	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
7948	7/10/2012	Funding cut backs.
7949	7/10/2012	Safety
7950	7/10/2012	spending/wasting money on other programs
7951	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7952	7/10/2012	No money in the recession.
7953	7/10/2012	People in Oregon hate paying taxes.
7954	7/10/2012	Obviously, funding!
7955	7/10/2012	evening hours are important. Students and parents often need access, but it doesn't always work in a 9-5 hour schedule. Another threat is hiring entry level people or volunteers to do the work of a librarian. Librarians are important.
7956	7/10/2012	People taking them for granted
7957	7/10/2012	People not wanting their taxes to increase in order to pay for the libraries.
7958	7/10/2012	I would like to have a public quiet room which is served only for reading and study.
7959	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our library system is inefficient resource allocation. The resources allocated to the libraries should focus on the collections, rather than trying to staff each branch so that it's open the maximum number of days and hours, or equip librarians with unnecessary high-tech tools such as ipads. So many people use the internet to interact with the libraries and this can be done after the library is closed, although I often search for books from my home computer while the library is open (as do many other people, I imagine.)
7960	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
7961	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7962	7/10/2012	sounds like funding
7963	7/10/2012	lack of money
7964	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding
7965	7/10/2012	Closure... the biggest threat in our local libraries is the use of internet. school children especially teenagers and college students
7966	7/10/2012	depends most of their research with the use of internet. i have nothing against internet but using books and doing research inside the library is the first step of proper education.
7967	7/10/2012	Apathy
7968	7/10/2012	Hours and funding cut further
7969	7/10/2012	Not sure.....Internet?

7970	7/10/2012	funds
7971	7/10/2012	low funding
7972	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
7973	7/10/2012	Indifference or negative attitude toward public organizations.
7974	7/10/2012	not sure Lack of funding, I think.[]
7975	7/10/2012	Also, an over-investment in proprietary digital content to the detriment of libraries themselves. (I don't know how much of Multnomah County Library's budget goes toward that currently.) Apathy. The rise of electronic media has a tendency to draw us away from the act of reading in order to gain knowledge. We are bombarded by millions of bits of information every day, and that makes us feel smart, but we're not willing to do what it takes to be truly smart: active pursuance of knowledge. We gain information, but not knowledge, and we can't tell the two apart. What we're doing is a passive process, not an active one, stemming from a lack of passion for knowledge. Our replacing knowledge with information seems to be leading to a passive and apathetic lifestyle, which, in my opinion, is the biggest threat to the library system.
7976	7/10/2012
7977	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
7978	7/10/2012	Republicans! (and Tea Partiers...)
7979	7/10/2012	A society focusing on the individual, rather than the greater good. Maybe I should say, government/big business focusing on the individual.
7980	7/10/2012	Pers co sts
7981	7/10/2012	Losing fully qualified librarians to the internet.
7982	7/10/2012	The poor economy reducing property values and property taxes that he library depends upon
7983	7/10/2012	Reductions in the currency and diversity of materials will reduce relevance and lose patronage. Reductions in weekend or after hours will reduce access for working people, and therefore lose support in the broader community.
7984	7/10/2012	Lack of money.
7985	7/10/2012	Will the library system remain current on "paper-format" books and not migrate to electronic only?[] Lack of availability may generate one more lost opportunity to educate generations.
7986	7/10/2012	PERS unfortunately. I am in PERS and I definitely think retirees need to have a decent retirement but I think PERS is too generous. I hope changes can be made to rein in PERS for current retirees a bit but I'm afraid it won't happen. I think it's hurting our schools and libraries and other government services because it's too generous. The good thing with the libraries is fewer employees should be needed due to self check-out and ebooks. Also fewer employees needed to process hard copy books/materials so I would think they could get by with less money instead of needing more. I'm all for government services but I worry that sometimes government is out of touch with private companies and taxpayers who drive the economic engine and are the ones paying the bills.
7987	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding

7988	7/10/2012	To much stuff on line at home
7989	7/10/2012	difficulty using them because of reduced hours.
7990	7/10/2012	lack of funding
7991	7/10/2012	Short-sighted politicians who underfund libraries in the name of balancing budgets. Also the rising cost of databases, storage space, etc.
7992	7/10/2012	lack of funding. Also, the lack of understanding by those folks who make the decisions about how important the library is to a lot of folks. If we don't educate the kids who will run the country?
7993	7/10/2012	lack of government support--property taxes cannot be the sole source of funding.
7994	7/10/2012	money and technology
7995	7/10/2012	Lack of funding resulting in reduced hours and staff, diminished quantities of current material, including media and e-books. Our city needs its libraries!
7996	7/10/2012	Apathy by general public who do not frequent any building of learning.
7997	7/10/2012	People not being interested in reading and being educated. And people that think everything should be privatized and that the government should not provide any services to its people.
7998	7/10/2012	i'm not sure..
7999	7/10/2012	I don't understand why education place will be cut? But more to use CP? At home? Everything start to changeing.... 5days a week. 9:00am to 8pm will be good idea....
8000	7/10/2012	Personnel expenses are not proportionally related to private sector economy. When government employees make more than private sector employees, the tax base is skewed. Consider automating more functions with fewer employees. Consider part-time, student, and unpaid intern positions to supplement paid staff.
8001	7/10/2012	The computer and e-readers are major threats to the library system. Personally, I like books, but a generation is reading or will be reading without them. Cost vs. Time is a factor. I have two books on hold that I "want" to read but don't "need" to own. I can afford time to wait my turn. The advantage for the library for me is the "impulse borrow"; new books, CDs, anything that catches my eye and in-the-moment curiosity. This suggestion may be counter to the library charter, but has the library considered a "priority hold" fee; i.e., a dollar moves you to the head of the Hold Line (or next in the priority line).
8002	7/10/2012	Funding Changes
8003	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8004	7/10/2012	lack of funds
8005	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8006	7/10/2012	not enough money to run them
8007	7/10/2012	Reduced hours, staff, and resources..
8008	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
8009	7/10/2012	The digital age.

8010	7/10/2012	Apathy and self interest from those who cannot be bothered. Perhaps they just don't 'get' what a solid public library stands for.
8011	7/10/2012	Losing funding due to voter fatigue and competition from other agencies that need tax money.
8012	7/10/2012	Lack of introduction of services & facilities to young people
8013	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8014	7/10/2012	Greed, anti-intellectualism and the Republican party
8015	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8016	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8017	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding.
8018	7/10/2012	I'm not sure what problems they experience, I'm sure some theft must occur. The most difficult problem that occurred over the years that I have been going and bringing my children was the people who view porn on the computers. My kids were exposed at an early age because of this. These people are disgusting and should stay at home if they have to do this sort of thing. Children should NOT be subject to this.
8019	7/10/2012	Perhaps a lack of civic responsibility - understanding that we need to contribute to resources that benefit people from all walks of life, even it means (heaven forbid) a small increase in taxes.
8020	7/10/2012	Funding
8021	7/10/2012	Wanting to spend additional money during a weak recovery instead of working within a realistic budget for the revenues at hand. Raising taxes at this time will not endear people to the library.
8022	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8023	7/10/2012	Loss/lack of funding
8024	7/10/2012	no funding
8025	7/10/2012	Funding
8026	7/10/2012	Sam Adams
8027	7/10/2012	Poor non-transparent budgeting: undermines confidence
8028	7/10/2012	Underfunding
8029	7/10/2012	Declining services and hours
8030	7/10/2012	Censorship from both the far right and the far left.
8031	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8032	7/10/2012	Funding.
8033	7/10/2012	A non-reading public.
8034	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding.
8035	7/10/2012	Video games
8036	7/10/2012	The attack on freedom of speech, censorship, apathy.
8037	7/10/2012	Lack of sustainable funding and a voting public that understands the benefits and community good to the quality of daily life in the county's cities and neighborhoods and understands that libraries are an essential element of a literate, equitable and democratic society.

8038	7/10/2012	The misconception that people do not utilize them often due to digital accessibility and innovations. Many low income families and services depend on many library services, like internet and computer access to paid search engines for research. Story time is a big contributor to community growth and development, both for volunteers and for those sharing in the experience.
8039	7/10/2012	Limited hours . Not enough funding.
8040	7/10/2012	Threat? Really? Threat? Is there an army of anti-library people invading? Please, stop with the drama.[] [] There's no threat. The library system, like my family and "The 99%" need to cut back and balance things during times both good and bad.[] [] And this survey "re-ordering" priorities sucks and is bad statistically practice. Why? Some people might rank everything a "1" and others all a "6". Saying all six have to have a priority from 1-6 is statistically unsound and biased. For shame.
8041	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
8042	7/10/2012	Expanding days off when we just voted for more money for libraries.
8043	7/10/2012	underfunding
8044	7/10/2012	LACK OF LONG TERM, STABLE FUNDING!
8045	7/10/2012	I'm not sure
8046	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
8047	7/10/2012	lack of funding due to the misunderstanding of the many ways the library is used and the variety of the population who relies on its resources.
8048	7/10/2012	Funding measures that create the impression we are resolving a financial gap, but are then followed up with spending cuts Stop asking for too little! The unintended consequence is that people who support a strong library feel less motivated at the next election.
8049	7/10/2012	failure to understand their full roll as intellectual foundatons of the community. Seeing it as a place to reduce budget short falls. This is short sited in my opinion.
8050	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8051	7/10/2012	insufficient funding
8052	7/10/2012	msuse of funds
8053	7/10/2012	do not know
8054	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. 6-day, shortened schedules make it harder for people with jobs to use the library.
8055	7/10/2012	Its tax base.
8056	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8057	7/10/2012	kindle
8058	7/10/2012	funding cuts
8059	7/10/2012	Funding is the biggest threat.

8060	7/10/2012	Citizens who do not see the value of libraries, even if they are not users themselves, and are not willing to support them through taxes
8061	7/10/2012	inconsistency
8062	7/10/2012	Right wing political and social thought that denies the importance of the commons.
8063	7/10/2012	Reduced funding
8064	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. I bet some will shortly start a movement to privatize libraries.
8065	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding and inadequate support by Portland city government officials! We've already seen its effect in the July 1 schedule cutbacks that were instituted despite the funding measure passed by voters this spring.
8066	7/10/2012	Funding
8067	7/10/2012	Closure and decreased funding. There is a strong anti-education push in politics today and the fear is that the openness of the libraries will be in their line of site because of the freedom of choice of all types of materials especially books and information that does not support the current conservative politicians. The libraries are part of our freedom of speech and any targeting or limiting of access directly targets our freedom to explore, understand, and answer questions so that we can communicate effectively in our lives. I also fear the increased availability of electronic materials with the potential of using that as an excuse to curtail libraries even more.
8068	7/10/2012	Misappropriation of our tax dollars! In the government's budgeting process, positive up-building services like libraries should NOT go by the wayside in lieu of things far less virtuous. Libraries should not have to 'compete for funding'.
8069	7/10/2012	Funding to keep the libraries open. If people can't get in because they're not open at the right time, it doesn't much matter what resources or programs the libraries have.
8070	7/10/2012	Funding issues and the added burden of caring for the homeless.
8071	7/10/2012	Republicans. Lack of funds, I'm sure.[]
8072	7/10/2012	The availability of e-books. I hope that does not draw people away from getting actual books - or keep from realizing all the other programs available at the libraries.
8073	7/10/2012	not educating our community as to its value.
8074	7/10/2012	Program cuts
8075	7/10/2012	underfunding / creating lack of access.
8076	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is voters who do not see the benefit libraries have to the community as a whole, and so do not vote for library levies because they don't use the library.
8077	7/10/2012	Republicans (also a strange question)
8078	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. The library needs the funds to secure and retain qualified staff and provide security.
8079	7/10/2012	I suspect lack of funding.
8080	7/10/2012	Funding. And, people who don't see the benefit of the library and its resources to help people, who decide that money or time or other resources for the library should be used elsewhere.

8081	7/10/2012	Funding cuts or budget restrictions.
8082	7/10/2012	The move to digital libraries. While I am a technology fan and own a Kindle, I am not ready to give up the physical library or the feel of a book in my hands. The St John's library serves an otherwise underserved population. It provides a positive aspect for the community and its children.
8083	7/10/2012	e books, other reading programs, other community programs
8084	7/10/2012	Budget cuts are the biggest threat to our local libraries.
8085	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and tea party style politics.
8086	7/10/2012	anti tax zealots and the internet
8087	7/10/2012	Our priorities at the local, state, and national level are out of whack. We are cutting libraries and public schools in order to pay for tax cuts for billionaires and unnecessary wars.
8088	7/10/2012	I imagine that funding is the biggest issue
8089	7/10/2012	Rising costs of keeping libraries open -- purchasing books, paying employees a fair wage, keeping up physical buildings, utilities.
8090	7/10/2012	Stable funding, funding, funding - the dismal story of Oregon.
8091	7/10/2012	Ignorance. Amazon.com, Google.
8092	7/10/2012	being unable to keep materials current
8093	7/10/2012	Even heavier use when hours are reduced - it's becoming chaotic in some of the branches.
8094	7/10/2012	Funding and loss of interest for people renting library books and materials. Just an increase of promotion and knowledge of the many services that the library offers would be helpful
8095	7/10/2012	above program doesn't work, can't change importance
8096	7/10/2012	closing on Mondays and cutting hours is just the beginning of libraries "going out of fashion" and it is completely tragic and detrimental to the community
8097	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is budget short-falls that could compromise library services, staffing, and/or the quality of the library's collection.
8098	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Personnel need to be properly paid; library jobs are hard and demanding jobs.
8099	7/10/2012	People, rely on the internet for information today. I would assume rising costs of maintaining the buildings and continuing to acquire new books, and pay staff, are a major concern.
8100	7/10/2012	Spending too much to keep it running.
8101	7/10/2012	Tea Party anti-government rhetoric
8102	7/10/2012	Politicians and others who fail to see or disavow the usefulness of libraries and the way they contribute to a community.
8103	7/10/2012	Complacency, believing it will always be there, so there's no reason to worry about it.
8104	7/10/2012	theft /damage of resources.
8105	7/10/2012	funding being taken away & any of the books not being kept available.
8106	7/10/2012	The ever-shrinking budget and the desire of many to pay fewer (or no) taxes.

8107	7/10/2012	Not sure. Maybe loss of focus. Availability of resources and the basic help to find and use them should stay priority. Special programs are nice but in my mind come secondary to open hours and reference staff and actual resources.
8108	7/10/2012	Kindls
8109	7/10/2012	I'm really not sure. The obvious answer is funding, but I'm really not knowledgeable about whether PERS affects library employees. It seems that irresponsible prior funding decisions (PERS) is affecting budgets at all levels of government. I don't know whether the library employees are part of PERS. There is no other area where a bad decision is allowed perpetuate itself indefinitely - well maybe social security... I keep thinking when government self destructs common sense will prevail.[] [] But barring miracles, I believe the only way successful institutions can prevail will be with designated funding. As it is, inefficient departments steal funding from the successful departments and mediocrity prevails.[] [] I will vote for a separate library district.
8110	7/10/2012	Lack of public and government funding!!!
8111	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8112	7/10/2012	If they are not open at at least 6 days....
8113	7/10/2012	Anti-intellectualism.
8114	7/10/2012	Funding?
8115	7/10/2012	Funding
8116	7/10/2012	Online bookstores/ e-readers.
8117	7/10/2012	the penny-wise, pound-foolish attitude of voters, the commissioners and others who will not fully fund this vital service.
8118	7/10/2012	budget cuts. We need educated civil servants to use the library so they can figure out how to keep resources people really need like libraries and not huge salaries for themselves
8119	7/10/2012	budget cuts
8120	7/10/2012	I see the biggest threat to our local libraries is the lack of funding. I would be desolate if the Belmont branch closed. I would be lost completely if all the branches closed. That is just unthinkable.
8121	7/10/2012	Ignorance of the importance of library services to the community. It's a vital cultural institution that's necessary and valuable, providing resources and a base of knowledge and research opportunities that can't be found anywhere else in the community. It's an absolute crime that libraries aren't fully staffed and opened 24/7.
8122	7/10/2012	I don't want my local branch to close!
8123	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding.
8124	7/10/2012	not sure I am a reader and always sue ouyr library system

8125	7/10/2012	That most peple use their cell phones and other media to read! Or that they don't read at all, because they spend too much time watching the idiot box (aka, the TV).
8126	7/10/2012	More resources being available online
8127	7/10/2012	Book thieves, I guess. That and wasting money on programs that yield no results. Libraries are easy to justify. The more materials loaned out... the more important the library is!
8128	7/10/2012	no money for the hours that we need the library open...
8129	7/10/2012	Not having enough money allocated to our libraries.
8130	7/10/2012	$$$ lack of....
8131	7/10/2012	it's not really a threat, but i feel that each library member should be entitled to 1 hour on the computer per day, maximum. This would prevent the "computer hogs" who just drift from one computer to another, blocking access for the rest of us ---- just a thought!
8132	7/10/2012	Lack of funding?
8133	7/10/2012	Funding & staffing shortages.
8134	7/10/2012	Over taxing the people paying the bills for the labrary. We were lied to that passing the recent bond measure would cause us to keep the status quo. Yet here you cut your hours. Not a very satifying response to vote for the property tax measure! Right now, it will be a very hard sell to make us vote for anything else for the library system.
8135	7/10/2012	At risk for being underutilized by community. Programs focused at certain age groups: toddlers to high school age and ther senior citizens. Need programs for 18-35 year olds.
8136	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8137	7/10/2012	Funding?
8138	7/10/2012	Funding and other media to read books such as the kindle.
8139	7/10/2012	In short: the economy. In a larger sense, it would be the trimming of social services at the time when they are most needed.
8140	7/10/2012	Lack of funding is the biggest threst. As our libraries are among the most used in the country it is not lack of public support or lack of resources.
8141	7/10/2012	Lack of public support and recognition even by non-users that a library is an important contributor to society. The User Pay concept is ignoring the concept of things for the public good. Supporting this, or combatting the alternative, is probably a public outreach function.
8142	7/10/2012	The budget. I think that in general Portlanders are very positive and supportive of our libraries. I always was, even though I didn't use them for years. I use them now, and am grateful they are there and as good as they are.
8143	7/10/2012	lack of community support when it comes to raising taxes. I consider it a joy to pay what I can for this excellent library system!
8144	7/10/2012	not enough money
8145	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8146	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.

8147	7/10/2012	Loss of funding. And ebooks.
8148	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8149	7/10/2012	Obviously, lack of funding would be the largest threat that I can see. I don't see that shutting down this one day (Monday) should be much of a problem for most people.
8150	7/10/2012	Financial insecurity.
8151	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
8152	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
		My guess is unexamined expenses. []
		How do you buy the books? My last library system had one source that was at least 2x as expensive as amazon.com which also ships free for most items.[]
8153	7/10/2012	Wondering what the armed guard is needed for.[] Not sure about salaries, etc. Midland seems to be well staffed... very well staffed... which can be good or excess.[] [] The general populace and voters not relating to them.
8154	7/10/2012	Budget short falls mean we lose some of our hard-working, underpaid librarians.
8155	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Tax dollars need to support vital institutions like our public libraries. Unfortunately, it appears that not a great enough percentage of our taxes make it to our public libraries.
8156	7/10/2012	Oregon's tax system (too narrow, insufficiently productive)
8157	7/10/2012	question dose not work
8158	7/10/2012	Unstable funding.
8159	7/10/2012	Republicans
8160	7/10/2012	Not updating to the electronic era.
8161	7/10/2012	Too many Gamesters and thieves...
8162	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
8163	7/10/2012	Lack of funding? ignorance about their importance[]
8164	7/10/2012	privilege - well resourced people not caring about people with fewer resources who really need it[] government priorities [] poorly spent tax dollars
8165	7/10/2012	People being too cheap to pay a reasonable tax; people not realizing how much is available, and thus not utilizing the resources.
8166	7/10/2012	Deaccessioning of bookis.
8167	7/10/2012	Closure!!!
8168	7/10/2012	our govt. taking the money away from our Libraries and using it somewhere else
8169	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8170	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.

8171	7/10/2012	Lack of money
8172	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
8173	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8174	7/10/2012	lack of funding. without libraries communities would suffer.
8175	7/10/2012	under funding
8176	7/10/2012	Well I guess it's funding, because it's not under-use. Second to that is ignorance, not understanding what libraries do, and why that is important to a fully realized community life not only in the present moment, but in the future.
8177	7/10/2012	Enough money to operate fully. When people lose their jobs, they may not want to vote for anything that asks even a bit more money from them. We may need to be reminded of the many ways our libraries are important in our lives.
8178	7/10/2012	c u t o f f t h e o p e n i n g h o u r s
8179	7/10/2012	For me, the biggest threat is not have enough resources to buy materials. Patron needs a diverse kind of materials. ☐ Technology is doing great advances in a very short time. We need eBooks to download online, so we do not need to go the library if we find something outstanding during the night. ☐ We also need materials for education at every level, and reference books for very special projects. . Many people do not have enough resources to buy very expensive books needed for their education. We want to read good literature in different languages. Finally, we need that every DVD bought be captioned, including educational DVDs.
8180	7/10/2012	Underuse.
8181	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and loss of funding.
8182	7/10/2012	Funding.
8183	7/10/2012	funding always seems to be the biggest threat
8184	7/10/2012	I don't know, but I would imagine it would be a shortage of funds, and lack of a permanent, stable source of funds.
8185	7/10/2012	Perhaps some of the lesser used branches could reduce hours but at least the central branch should be open 7 days a week.
8186	7/10/2012	So many people wanting to use the libraries and services and hours cut drastically.
8187	7/10/2012	TV, e'rubbish and other such mind-numbing distractions
8188	7/10/2012	With money running tight on city, state, and national level; all three are trying to keep money "in the right places" however, that may not be beneficial to long term. Libraries, as well as other public facilities, are being threatened because those higher up don't believe them to be beneficial or cost effective.
8189	7/10/2012	Not enough materials/ selection in our libraries. The bigger libraries are not as accessible to our children and youth. Classics and required school reading material should be present even in our smaller libraries.

8190	7/10/2012	One threat may be people's ignorance of the importance and the value that the library as a resource offers.[] [] Another contender is probably the ease of digital information. However, I and many of my bibliophile friends will never be able to replace the aesthetic of having an actual book versus reading on a screen.
8191	7/10/2012	No long-term plan on how to fund libraries properly.
8192	7/10/2012	Funding, online resources.
8193	7/10/2012	funding
8194	7/10/2012	lack of money
8195	7/10/2012	Seems like believing they are not needed or used enough.
8196	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8197	7/10/2012	Funding
8198	7/10/2012	?
8199	7/10/2012	Having them close!
8200	7/10/2012	Being closed so much. It is hard to keep track.
8201	7/10/2012	cutting funds
8202	7/10/2012	audiobooks:)
8203	7/10/2012	The convenience of electronic / digital media makes it less necessary to visit a physical library. I now download probably 95% of what I read or audio books I listen to. I think that costs can be cut by shifting the public to using the 'cyber' library, maybe even using a Skype like service to read to children face to face or help kids with homework. Or have some libraries relocated to share space with schools, which have been shrinking in attendance in the last decades.
8204	7/10/2012	Kids are spending more and more time doing electronics rather than reading - which is very bad!
8205	7/10/2012	people don't like to pay taxes
8206	7/10/2012	budget cuts?
8207	7/10/2012	Are there any threats?
8208	7/10/2012	closed minded people. people who don't use the library and don't see any reason they should pay to support it, and keep it open
8209	7/10/2012	Unstable funding. Hate to have to rely on unsteady taxes and recurring levies. Wish there were some way to provide consistent funding to libraries and schools--maybe then we wouldn't have to spend so much on correctional facilities!
8210	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to keep the former hours of service and the threat of future cuts.
8211	7/10/2012	people believing that libraries aren't needed in the electronic age. People believing everything should be privatized

8212	7/10/2012	Continued high unemployment in Portland metro area causing homeowners who pay the taxes to support the libraries to lose their homes thus loss of tax revenue base.[] Homeowners are taxed too much for all services, can't afford to pay the taxes in addition to paying for the mortgages.
8213	7/10/2012	For me, public libraries are very high on the list of social services a good society should provide its citizens. But I worry (considering the list in question 5) that the library is trying to be too many things, trying to fill too many gaps at once. I am unclear about the goals for this library system. What is the relationship between number of hours open, and the quality of the resources contained within the library? Would I rather have more materials available than have story hours for babies and toddlers? Yes...I don't have babies and toddlers, and they keep different hours from mine in any case so what would work for them might not work for me. But that's not how good societies work. At some point, you stop trying to have something for everyone, and begin to focus on what would be the greatest good possible with the resources available. I don't see this survey asking questions that can give you this kind of guidance.
8214	7/10/2012	Bears
8215	7/10/2012	Funding.
8216	7/10/2012	lack of funding [] electronic check out
8217	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8218	7/10/2012	Technology
8219	7/10/2012	Lack of stable, adequate funding and the internet
8220	7/10/2012	less use because if people downloading books from the internet
8221	7/10/2012	high maintenance
8222	7/10/2012	funding -- and it should remain a place of resources for those who need it most
8223	7/10/2012	Being cut further
8224	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to keep them open when I want to access the library
8225	7/10/2012	Not sure.
8226	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and resources. Libraries are a community resource that everyone needs to support because they benefit everyone - both directly and indirectly.
8227	7/10/2012	The lack of diversity and attention would be the biggest threat.
8228	7/10/2012	The biggest threat and dissatisfaction will be that they close the libraries! We love the library and i have grown up enjoying, loving and learning @ the library
8229	7/10/2012	I don't see any threats. Portland loves their libraries
8230	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8231	7/10/2012	Tax burden on home owners is not equitable.
8232	7/10/2012	Lack of proper funding

8233	7/10/2012	lack of funding, voter fatigue in responding to apocalyptic threats about loss of services and hours; for me, I rejoiced that the latest levy passed, but then was shocked that hours at the Hollywood library were cut anyway. What did we pay for? It's almost like the library's become same as the schools: the money disappears, the threats continue
8234	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8235	7/10/2012	eBooks, internet research
8236	7/10/2012	money
8237	7/10/2012	Lack of funding base
8238	7/10/2012	Obsolescence.
8239	7/10/2012	It would not let me choose a ranking
8240	7/10/2012	funding
8241	7/10/2012	Lack of resources for all ages and ethnicities, lack of funding, and, materials that are not current.
8242	7/10/2012	Disinterest by voters.
8243	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is the library (county) trying to be too much to too many. The charter of a library is to provide reading material at hours the patrons can be there. Cut out the special programs which are costly and of limited utility. We do NOT have unlimited funds (taxes) so we can't do EVERYTHING! Also, computers should be well-filtered and monitored to prevent puriant material being made available minors. If this is considered unnecessary censorship by some, SO WHAT. The library doesn't need to be an adult bookstore. Unfettered access to the internet is just that.
8244	7/10/2012	costs
8245	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8246	7/10/2012	probably funding, followed by digital media--I want to be able to check out ebooks from the library for my iPad. :)
8247	7/10/2012	Cutting hours
8248	7/10/2012	politicians being political. economic squeeze will result in greater burden on libraries.
8249	7/10/2012	Funding.
8250	7/10/2012	The internet. I can find everything i need there when wanting information.
8251	7/10/2012	Limiting hours of operation and access
8252	7/10/2012	Indifference to libraries: popular ignorance of what libraries do (due to inexperience) leading to the summary dismissal that "no one uses the libraries." This is a big threat to funding.
8253	7/10/2012	seems to be insufficient funding
8254	7/10/2012	Budget cuts that shorten the hours of operation, or even cut the number of days the library can be open. Also cutting the number of employees at each branch. That effects every other aspect of how the libraries are run. Volunteer help is wonderful, but the libraries should not have to depend on that to keep operational.
8255	7/10/2012	LACK OF FUNDING

8256	7/10/2012	Non book readers who can now vote and read on-line. News on the Internet. Loss of employment and personal autos and cost to bus to the library
8257	7/10/2012	Lack of curiosity
8258	7/10/2012	Shorter hours/shorter days opened
8259	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8260	7/10/2012	Funding.
8261	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8262	7/10/2012	Apathy. Our local libraries provide everyone a level playing field to read and learn, no matter what age or socio-economic background.
8263	7/10/2012	lack of funding, lack of knowledge in the community of all the resources that libraries have to offer.
8264	7/10/2012	Ignorance of the vital role libraries play in actualizing public participation in exercise of free speech as guaranteed by the Constitution, Without free speech, democracy dies.
8265	7/10/2012	Lack of access and use will cause lack of support and funding.
8266	7/10/2012	Not enough money.
8267	7/10/2012	Having more than 1 employee on the clock at tiny libraries is stupidity. Cut the libraries budget in half. Pay people with high school degrees near minimum wage to do almost everything. Have every library open every day of the work week from 8am to 8pm. Weekends should be 10am-6pm. Have enough computers for everyone. Replace employees with computers. □ What's the biggest threat? Stupid people running things. Hire accountants to do job analysis and minimize the employees at each location.
8268	7/10/2012	lack of funds Internet
8269	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and reduction of materials.
8270	7/10/2012	fees and more reduced hours
8271	7/10/2012	Lack of money, I suppose. Is this a trick question?
8272	7/10/2012	E books thru other sources, and newer generation using internet for research
8273	7/10/2012	Having to close due to lack of money.
8274	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and the lack of materials and personal due to budget cuts.
8275	7/10/2012	I believe the biggest threat to libraries is losing a place for young people to come and enjoy/fall in love with reading. I am a teacher in the area, and our district recently eliminated library at the elementary level. I find it frightening because children are losing out on services and preparation for basic research skills. My biggest fear is that after schools close libraries, the public ones will have to eliminate funding for programs for young ones as well. Also, the library is one of the only activities that ANY family can participate in with out having to spend money. I have several friends who used to purchase books, but because of need to cut back financially, they now go to the library for their reading material.

8276	7/10/2012	not enough support and programming for children (from toddlers to high school and college) and their families. The electronic resources that are provided and can be used anywhere are incredibly important.
8277	7/10/2012	A generation of kids who spend so much time texting that they no longer have the skills, attention span, or motivation to read anything but short messages. As for greatest threat: changing media landscape with e-readers, increast media costs, and liscencing restrictions.[] [] The ranking site didn't work on my cell phone. Ranking as follows:[] []
8278	7/10/2012	1. Current materials[] 2. Programs for seniors[] 3. Programs for kids[] 4. Open 6 days a week[] 5. programs for job seekers and employers[] 6. Open 7 days a week
8279	7/10/2012	Not being co-located with MAJOR multimodal transportation hubs...the exception being Central...To many people equate safety with cars and public transportation as unsafe. This is an elitist perspective, isn't reading supposed to be one of the equalizers in society. Look where the new libraries are being built. Libraries should be part the civic commons serviced by the highest density of public transportation for the given area.
8280	7/10/2012	I have to wonder why it cost so much to operate our libraries. I know we have a great system but maybe all we need is a good system that is affordable. For instance why are cities like Denver able to run library systems as large as ours for substantial less money. Those are the questions that should be asked and answered. The solution is not always we need more money. Maybe we need to get back to basic services and cut out the bells and whistles. The greatest threat is unwillingness of the folks running the system to take a fresh look at whole system and ask why does it cost so much. [] [] I was in a Library the other day and walked by a fellow playing blackjack on a computer. My tax dollars at work.
8281	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8282	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
8283	7/10/2012	budget issues.
8284	7/10/2012	lack of funding and support.
8285	7/10/2012	Lack of security/safety
8286	7/10/2012	Not enough funding

8287	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8288	7/10/2012	Lack of significant funding, obviously.
8289	7/10/2012	not realizing how important the libraries are
8290	7/10/2012	Funding
8291	7/10/2012	Political groups looking for tax cuts.
8292	7/10/2012	Money, or the lack of it, apparently.
8293	7/10/2012	Loss of purpose or accessibility. Too many projects or disparate uses / priorities may lead to a reduction in the quality of the core value: access to materials.
8294	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. The current government isn't placing nearly enough emphasis on the importance of education. Education (and contraception) is the most important thing to bettering the world, ourselves, our society.
8295	7/10/2012	I feel the biggest threats to our libraries are funding and digital media. I also feel that our culture is losing the appreciation for language, arts and the written word (outside of the Portland Bubble, of course). As more art and literacy is cut from our schools children potentially become adults who devalue such forms of expression. =(
8296	7/10/2012	Loss of funding. Diversity of books going down due to high demand for popular new releases.
8297	7/10/2012	Transient street people (public drug use) who hangout on the steps of Central Library. They wander in with their filthy dogs in tow, using the toilets and generally making an unsightly mess.
8298	7/10/2012	Libraries must stay up with current technology for accessing and sharing information.
8299	7/10/2012	Funding, I would guess, especially with inflation and income being at odds. As a property owner in Multnomah County it is frustrating just how much we pay for services that can be accessed by everyone. Of course I want the library to be available to all income brackets, but frankly just because we own a mortgage does not mean we have an expendable income or adjustable spending. For me personally, if it means the library only being opened 6 days a week, then so be it. Unfortunately this then affects employment and job security, local spending, etc. I use our library weekly and love the library. I have always been an avid reader and advocate of literature, and I want to support the people who work at the library but I also need to provide for my family. I'm heartbroken that many schools have had to eliminate their in house libraries. This of course makes public libraries all the more critical. I'm just rambling here, aren't I? So - funding. Not enough money anywhere it seems and often times, misallocation of the money that is available. (The misallocation part has nothing to do with local library spending as I honestly have no idea how our libraries budget and spend. Just referring to misallocation in general.)
8300	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8301	7/10/2012	Misuse.
8302	7/10/2012	Tax cuts and spending cuts.
8303	7/10/2012	?
8304	7/10/2012	Funding

8305	7/10/2012	Being stuck in old ways of thinking. Electronic access to information is here to stay so it is no longer critical to have a 'bricks and mortar' facility for citizens to 'check out books' as in the past. It needs to become a more efficient organization.
8306	7/10/2012	E-books. Thank goodness Multnomah County and Kindle (as well as other e-book readers) got something worked out so that I can get books through the library.
8307	7/10/2012	funding
8308	7/10/2012	The easy availability of books and information available on the internet and kindle readers, IBooks, etc. Many of my friends who are avid readers never set foot in a library - they simply don't see the need.
8309	7/10/2012	Loss of funding, I guess (loss, not lack).
8310	7/10/2012	Apathy on the part of communities, including local governments catering to commerce over quality education is a major threat to the health and existence of the Library system. The libraries are one of the most important parts of an American's education because the library resources are available to everyone regardless of their status in society. Libraries promote independent and group learning and therefore are a crucial part of the effort to preserve and promote free speech.
8311	7/10/2012	Reduction of funding below a tipping point, making them not fun, competent and satisfying places to be,
8312	7/10/2012	Like William Gaddis said, ignorance and stupidity rule America, along with greed. Multi-million dollar Safeway on Hawthorne, but the Belmont library open 6 days a week. People don't need education and learning, they need better places to shop! Get the picture? Tax the business community to get your funding. The fake economic crisis is just a ploy to gouge Americans so that business can make higher profits.
8313	7/10/2012	Voter apathy.[] The world we live I being too busy.
8314	7/10/2012	Being closed on Mondays
8315	7/10/2012	People who don't want to pay taxes, or aren't able to pay more taxes.
8316	7/10/2012	Funding shortfall.
8317	7/10/2012	I don't know.
8318	7/10/2012	Lack of funding from the public
8319	7/10/2012	not sure
8320	7/10/2012	Funding and disinterest
8321	7/10/2012	Jeff Cogen.
8322	7/10/2012	People who do not understand the economic impact of the public service that libraries provide and threaten to cut library funding to reduce taxes. I would say that austerity measures that target public programs that produce great public benefits at low-cost are the biggest threat. The folks advocating these austerity measures have no understanding of cost-benefit analysis and are willing to cut any social program without first understanding what ramifications it could have in the community.

8323	7/10/2012	funding.
8324	7/10/2012	Lack of public support/investment.
8325	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding
8326	7/10/2012	Funding? Items being stolen?
8327	7/10/2012	lack of funding and uninformed and uneducated people who don't realize the importance of libraries
8328	7/10/2012	loosing programs for children and teens
8329	7/10/2012	It would appear to be funding. An uninformed populace is a great threat to any society.
8330	7/10/2012	Rich people who don't use and don't want to fund libraries.
8331	7/10/2012	Budgetary constraints of local governments who have to choose which services to cut.
8332	7/10/2012	damaged books and other media
8333	7/10/2012	Proper Funding.
		Speaking for myself, I've used the library less over time to check out media as my income has grown. Now I tend to buy a book, usually for the Kindle, when I might have checked it out from the library, or rent a streaming video. I also use music streaming services instead of checking out audio CDs.¶
8334	7/10/2012	¶ But on the other hand, I have a new baby, so my wife and I are looking to the library to check out books for her and meet other parents in literacy classes. I also would like to participate in more group-oriented activities like book clubs and creative writing workshops at the library.
8335	7/10/2012	reduced hours
8336	7/10/2012	FUNDING
8337	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8338	7/10/2012	Ebooks and Amazon and a decrease of intelligence
8339	7/10/2012	Everything is going to be electronic
8340	7/10/2012	Funding issues.
8341	7/10/2012	The transition from print to digital media and thus maintaining support for location- or place-based facilities.
8342	7/10/2012	Closure
8343	7/10/2012	funding?
8344	7/10/2012	Overspending
8345	7/10/2012	Ignorance and low taxes
8346	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8347	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8348	7/10/2012	loss of funding. closing
8349	7/10/2012	apparently funding...
8350	7/10/2012	Cutting hours too much

8351	7/10/2012	Lack of funding from reduced taxes and an unstable tax base. Libraries, much like education, have a long-term benefit on our communities and should not have a lower priority than other services, such as police, fire-fighting, sanitation services which have a more immediate "result."
8352	7/10/2012	poor attendance
8353	7/10/2012	Not being able to keep up with public demands, particularly for reference services and current literature. Lack of really trained librarians seems to be a problem.
8354	7/10/2012	the same threat that cripples all of our public institutions: lack of an adequate tax base to support systems that benefit the entire community, not just those who utilize them or send their kids there
8355	7/10/2012	Hours being cut.
8356	7/10/2012	Residents not willing to pay that taxes that are needed to support public service.
8357	7/10/2012	High speed Internet Apple products and and electric books
8358	7/10/2012	Being open 7 da/wk...days closed COULD rotate among branches so that there is a library available somewhere close to my primary library...
8359	7/10/2012	My branch not in walking distance
8360	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and lack of interest
8361	7/10/2012	Funding?
8362	7/10/2012	apparently budget cuts
8363	7/10/2012	lack of sustainable/permanent funding.
8364	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8365	7/10/2012	Underfunding. We should get a 1% sales tax on non-food items and have it go towards the library system exclusively.
8366	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
8367	7/10/2012	Overspending on your part. You want more money from us, yet you waste money. I know about all of the Ipads that were ordered and then returned at a loss. Those car charging stations at Midland were tens of thousands of dollars to install. What a waste of money! Couldn't a private company install them at their own expense with advertisements? It's all a waste of money and that is the biggest threat.
8368	7/10/2012	I would think that the biggest threat is that people don't know about all the resources available to them through the library, and therefore, don't have the buy-in to support them.
8369	7/10/2012	The fact that people do not read. Also that they consider the internet to be a suitable replacement for research and finding reading material.
8370	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8371	7/10/2012	Conservative bastards and their budget cuts

8372	7/10/2012	i honestly don't believe that the library should be 'everything to everyone' such that its primary purpose (my items 1 and 2) are forgotten. For example, I don't see that a library should provide computer classes--that's a role for community centers, PCC, and/or private businesses, etc. Should a library be providing "homework help" (if I understand correctly) or a resource for individuals doing homework? Library funding issues may be a result of trying too hard to be too many things.
8373	7/10/2012	On #5, it would not allow me to rank each one . My #1 preference is to have the libraries open seven days a week. [] The biggest threat to local libraries is lack of funding.
8374	7/10/2012	other community needs and limited funding
8375	7/10/2012	Continuing to depend on homeowners to pay for everything, including library levys. We have more than one home in the Portland area and are SICK of being taxed for everything, Enough is enough!
8376	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
8377	7/10/2012	Funding. Technology.
8378	7/10/2012	Having nearly all of your levies pass and reducing library hours anyway. Also, I DETEST being manipulated when library hours diminish every time shortly before a new levy comes to a vote.
8379	7/10/2012	The people who need the libraries the most can't afford to pay more to keep them open.
8380	7/10/2012	The adminsration and decision makers to the library themselves. I feel extremly betrayed and dupped by this latest bond measure. I voted for it on the campaign that is was replacing a expiring bond measure and would keep the libraries at tthe current status of operations. Only to find out shorlty after that there will be a reduction of hours and days. I WILL MOST LIKELY NOT BE VOTING FOR ANYMORE LIBRARY BOND MEARSURES IN THE FUTURE!!
8381	7/10/2012	Apparently funding for all the programs listed above. A downward cycle of insufficient funding, leading to more hours being cut and less usage. []
8382	7/10/2012	Multnomah County should not start resembling Jackson County, where good luck if you want to go to the local library. Multnomah County should be resembling King County WA where 3 days a week at most libraries the hours are 10-9. And the major libraries are open 7 days a week.
8383	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
8384	7/10/2012	I am not sure.
8385	7/10/2012	lack of funding restricting hours and new material purchases
8386	7/10/2012	None
8387	7/10/2012	Decrease in tax revenue due to the downward economy.
8388	7/10/2012	funding. It is one of the most valuable resources for our community, for young and old.
8389	7/10/2012	closing
8390	7/10/2012	Funding

8391	7/10/2012	Conservatives who want to censor books, newspapers, magazines. Lack of funding for education, which is very short sighted.. Democracy requires an educated electorate. Without libraries --free access to ideas, culture, creativity, news--- can we really have a functioning democracy??
8392	7/10/2012	Underfunding? I love these libraries - I think almost everyone in Portland knows how lucky we are to have such a superb system. Is there a way that the MultCoLib can partner with local businesses to raise money or secure support? I am not a homeowner myself, but I know many who are squeezed very tightly because of our reliance on homeowners to fund cultural institutions. As the social benefits from our libraries affect everyone, perhaps there is a way to spread the burden of supporting the system more fairly?
8393	7/10/2012	Romney
8394	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8395	7/10/2012	philistines?
8396	7/10/2012	less funding
8397	7/10/2012	Mold. Also people who sit on the computer too long and don't give anyone else a turn.
8398	7/10/2012	Funding
8399	7/10/2012	Cutting of the hours and staff
8400	7/10/2012	If operations need to be cut back,cut them back. Once we are current with our bills we can make careful future plans so that we have money in hand for projects or innvoations.
8401	7/10/2012	no money
8402	7/10/2012	fewer readers
8403	7/10/2012	People who don't value our libraries as cornerstones of our communities.
8404	7/10/2012	funding cuts
8405	7/10/2012	Cutting funds. Curtailing access to libraries is short sighted. In the face of hard times an educated and informed populace is more important that ever.
8406	7/10/2012	The false impression that they are under-used or redundant. This idea is harbored by those who do not have adequate information/experience regarding the libraries.
8407	7/10/2012	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The diminished value in our society for institutions which are public goods[] 2. The wrong-headed perception that libraries are primarily about books[] 3. Decreases in funding; we have an excellent library system in Multnomah County, we should keep it up
8408	7/10/2012	funding
8409	7/10/2012	budget restrictions
8410	7/10/2012	Lack of funding... and the growing ease of piracy from home.
8411	7/10/2012	Shift to online media
8412	7/10/2012	lack of money
8413	7/10/2012	Funding.
8414	7/10/2012	Stingy people who aren't willing to pay taxes for the greater good

8415	7/10/2012	Lack of materials, when you are there to check out a book it is annoying when the choices are so dated. I feel your pain for funding as the ematerial now make it tough as to which formats to get information in.
8416	7/10/2012	1. Values and politics that do not see the benefit of education for all. 2. Lack of political will to place funding in projects that support education for all.
8417	7/10/2012	indifference of those who have total access at home After completing the survey I feel that the problem needs to be addressed by both sides. I have recent experience with a library system that cut everything but their union jobs and full retirements until their was nothing left but them. It showed a great indifference to the mission of the "library" and for those who are dependent on it's services. Cutting hours etc effects the lowest income users the most. I love the library and think it's a valuable part of the community and our future.
8418	7/10/2012	Devaluation of libraries, books, self-learning, or any kind of "social service" as well as lack of knowledge about how our libraries are funded and how those funds are used. Many people I know think Portland Libraries are magically funded, that things like online voting would be practical with libraries. Misconceptions about the value of librarians, their pay and benefits. And of course, police and federal agents trying to gather information on the public thru abuse of privacy about library usage.
8419	7/10/2012	Republicans.
8420	7/10/2012	A general misunderstanding of what taxes pay for, and what we need to do as a community to invest in the future.
8421	7/10/2012	competition for tax revenue
8422	7/10/2012	Funding I suppose.
8423	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
8424	7/10/2012	Wealthy people who don't need the library
8425	7/10/2012	having out of date materials.
8426	7/10/2012	Funding and being over used as shelter by the homeless
8427	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is a lack of adequate funding.
8428	7/10/2012	underfunding.
8429	7/10/2012	People who want to cut funding for schools and libraries!
8430	7/10/2012	funding, I guess
8431	7/10/2012	the idiots who don't want to pay or increase taxes that can provide for a good quality of life for all.
8432	7/10/2012	Apathy
8433	7/10/2012	???
8434	7/10/2012	lack of funds

8435	7/10/2012	Society is rapidly changing and often times people forget that the library is a free resource. As we push toward products like amazon those who can afford to buy "new" and not leave their house take that option. Economic cuts are also hard on the public sector.
8436	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
8437	7/10/2012	Lack of money!!
8438	7/10/2012	Perhaps an increasingly a-textual culture in which reading/ literature is not that highly valued. And of course, budget constraints!
8439	7/10/2012	Lack of budget.
8440	7/10/2012	Taxing only home owners, rather than taxing the people who use the library the most (or those with 4 kids who use more resources & lose the books)
8441	7/10/2012	No money
8442	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8443	7/10/2012	No funding.
8444	7/10/2012	lack of funding to maintain up to date materials
8445	7/10/2012	Lack of Government funding
8446	7/10/2012	Funding
8447	7/10/2012	Access to libraries restricted to business hours only; it excludes those of us who work during the day.
8448	7/10/2012	Money
8449	7/10/2012	Not having enough money for all of the above items
8450	7/10/2012	Online, computer access to written materials. Funding will always be an issue and as more of the aging society departs, the younger generations will use the facilities even less. So be prepared, there will be less sympathy with younger readers. You should somehow make materials available on-line for a small service charge.
8451	7/10/2012	Bears
8452	7/10/2012	Closing of branches. Convenience is a big deal.
8453	7/10/2012	They seem like they're doing great to me, so I don't really know. Long-term, digitalization will put pressures on all libraries to stop lending out media; since "borrowing" a book will someday be a non-sensical idea, companies like Amazon will insist that we all buy media. It also sounds like since you are all floating a permanent Library District that funding for the libraries is falling short of needs; this is obviously a threat.
8454	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8455	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
8456	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is losing more funding and having reduced access to the libraries over the long term.
8457	7/10/2012	funding
8458	7/10/2012	Underfunding

8459	7/10/2012	Lack of money obviously. And perhaps the emergence of more electronic materials that replace old fashioned texts (like encyclopedias).
8460	7/10/2012	not enough money!
8461	7/10/2012	Funding
8462	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. After that, probably internet, electronic books, amazon.com
8463	7/10/2012	"Grover Norquist"
8464	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is poor budget planning. The economy hasn't recovered fully yet, and you need to be more conservative with your project expansions. What's important is keeping the library open as much as possible, and fully staffed. Cut some of your unused online resources and cut down volume of new material purchases until you can at least fulfill that goal.
8465	7/10/2012	Finances
8466	7/10/2012	eBooks: the process for borrowing an ebook is not easy, and having only one week to read it is ridiculous. With so many people switching to eReaders, it seems they may stop utilizing the library, which in turn means libraries will have less leverage for obtaining funding.
8467	7/10/2012	Funding.
8468	7/10/2012	budget cuts and digital copies taking out paper publishing
8469	7/10/2012	Lack of funding! Also, e-books!
8470	7/10/2012	Funding channeled to other programs/loss of funding
8471	7/10/2012	Employee benefit costs at the County.
8472	7/10/2012	It appears to be lack of funding.
8473	7/10/2012	The loss of resources and funding. It is one of the most utilized resources in my community and any cutbacks are detrimental to the literacy and connectedness of all community members.
8474	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8475	7/10/2012	Lack of appreciation for what is at library. People have their faces stuck to their I-phones.
8476	7/10/2012	funding shortfall
8477	7/10/2012	technology replacing simplicity of a book
8478	7/10/2012	I don't fully understand the funding issues that have led to the current situation, but I would say that a lack of funding and resources seems to be the biggest threat to our local libraries. Maintaining a high quality public library system requires a lot of community support, both fiscal and otherwise.
8479	7/10/2012	The sense of actually being a library - a QUIET place to sit and read. Perhaps the funding shortages are accelerating because of too strong of a shift to technology.
8480	7/10/2012	Scarcity of funding and public support.
8481	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is that libraries (Central especially) have become havens for the homeless, and the odor has become so bad that some people--particularly those who would vote for more money for the system--have stopped going to the library. Those who can afford to will download books instead.
8482	7/10/2012	Apparently it is lack of funding.

8483	7/10/2012	Funding
8484	7/10/2012	Not getting public funding. Lack of use.
8485	7/10/2012	funding, i'm sure
8486	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8487	7/10/2012	Book censoring. Money. If they are out of money, the people who don't want civilians to know anything can suck them dry through lawsuits.
8488	7/10/2012	The electronic book industry.
8489	7/10/2012	Lack of realistic funding of a extremely important community service for all its citizens.
8490	7/10/2012	Limited resources - affecting hours of operation, valuable free programs, and the selection of current books available.
8491	7/10/2012	closures
8492	7/10/2012	I would say currently the lack of funding and the increasing dependence on digital media as opposed to printed books would be the biggest threats to our libraries.
8493	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding
8494	7/10/2012	Adding too many programs that drive up costs and then voters don't approve funding. It seems that libraries should be able to run off $0.89 for $1,000 of assessed value. If most homes are assessed at $200,000 then the library is getting $176 per home in Multnomah county. That is a lot of money. How many homes are there? My home is assessed higher, so I'm paying more than double that. I think libraries are very important and should be part of our community. However, we need wise stewards of our tax dollars. Use volunteers and vary the hours if you need. Early mornings with a half day a couple days a week, afternoons into evening a couple days a week and standard hours for the other two days.
8495	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and opportunity for growth. I also think that more money and resources should go into public awareness of all the great tools, databases, and resources that the library system has to offer!
8496	7/10/2012	E readers--because I have one and I don't go to the library as often. I also think that computers bring an unsavory element of people in which makes people like me not want to go to the library.
8497	7/10/2012	The budget.
8498	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is the inability or unwillingness to be flexible in light of the financial challenges experienced. Everyone is being impacted either directly or indirectly by the economics of the last 4+ years. Property owners like myself have lost 25% or more of our property values, 30% or more of our savings/investment values and real income has remained stagnant or declined. Library administration did the right thing by reducing days/hours. As patrons of the library, we should be expected to adapt by aligning our personal schedules and expectations in support of budget relief. The public cannot be expected to support additional tax levies for the library system when public health, safety and educational services are experiencing similar budget constraints. The library system is a much lower priority and should be managed with this in mind.

8499	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8500	7/10/2012	Funding not being able to keep the libraries open or updated with current materials
8501	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
8502	7/10/2012	Funding!
8503	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding.
8504	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding!
8505	7/10/2012	Competition on the ballot
8506	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8507	7/10/2012	Loss of funding leading to extreme closures and lack of technology.
8508	7/10/2012	Funding I suppose
8509	7/10/2012	Politicians of course!
8510	7/10/2012	Decisions that might be made by those without an abiding interest in what libraries do for the community and for its individuals. That is to say, keep these decisions as much as possible out of the hands of politicians.
8511	7/10/2012	funding
8512	7/10/2012	The reduced hours is the biggest threat. Going to the library and finding it closed is a real bummer.
8513	7/10/2012	Please refer to last entry re: pornusage and children's computer games. Appauling. People thinking that libraries just offer books, which they may think will no longer be relevant, which they still are and libraries offer so much more than books. They offer all of the above programs and are such an important center for each community.
8514	7/10/2012
8515	7/10/2012	Lack of funding... reduction in staff and outreach programs. Reduction in ability to keep up with new book acquisition.
8516	7/10/2012	I have no idea.
8517	7/10/2012	Funding...
8518	7/10/2012	loss of funding
8519	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and increased reliance on e books, etc.
8520	7/10/2012	Funding
8521	7/10/2012	not enough money to continue the way it is
8522	7/10/2012	If people do not read, we will lose an enormous amount of wisdom, knowledge and enjoyment!
8523	7/10/2012	People not realizing what they will lose if we lose our libraries! People not reading books as much. The internet.
8524	7/10/2012	Wasteful spending. I do not think any of the 6 mentioned things are important for a library other than having books.

8525	7/10/2012	All the programs they offer, if our communities need all the different programs, we should use volunteers rather than paid staff. In a economy like this we can't afford anymore taxes to pay for the extras. ¶ ¶ A library is a place to have books and media resources available, not a community center with all the different programs.
8526	7/10/2012	Loss of tax support due to the economy and the hundreds of people who have lost their jobs with many losing their homes. Seniors citizen are struggling as well trying to live on a fixed income and with the cost of everything going up.
8527	7/10/2012	Becoming irrelevant due to changing patterns of information consumption -- ebooks, expectation of instant access to all information via mobile gadgets, etc.
8528	7/10/2012	Not enough money, I guess.
8529	7/10/2012	Library management.
8530	7/10/2012	lack of dedicated funding
8531	7/10/2012	Funding cutbacks.
8532	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8533	7/10/2012	All-inclusive opposition to public funding
8534	7/10/2012	Lack of realization of their importance to augmenting education for all and the community.
8535	7/10/2012	lack of funding. Our state needs to reprioritize and budget the funds where needed to libraries and schools. Our future depends on it!
8536	7/10/2012	insufficient funding Over staffing since the auto check out was added. There is a lot of standing around by employees talking with other employees going on at the St Johns Library since the auto check out was added. As much as I appreciate the importance of employment it is sad the library will be closed one day a week now because of underfunding. It seems as though the library could run on a "skeleton " crew now that there is an auto checkout and maybe be able to afford to stay open all 7 days.
8537	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to maintain and expand the library's holdings and database subscriptions, coupled with a lack of funding for adequate staff and operating hours.
8538	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to maintain and expand the library's holdings and database subscriptions, coupled with a lack of funding for adequate staff and operating hours.
8539	7/10/2012	cannot say
8540	7/10/2012	Bird flu
8541	7/10/2012	Uncertain long-range funding.
8542	7/10/2012	Being closed
8543	7/10/2012	Not being open enough. Also not having access to wider variety of books and media.
8544	7/10/2012	Low information voters who tend not to use the library.
8545	7/10/2012	electronic books¶ budgets
8546	7/10/2012	Mandatory Retirement Pension Funding

8547	7/10/2012	Limited hours
8548	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
8549	7/10/2012	Illegally downloaded E-books.
8550	7/10/2012	Lack of community support resulting in unwillingness to fund the libraries.
8551	7/10/2012	Seems like we need more stable funding. Let's fund schools, libraries, and parks with a modest sales tax already!
8552	7/10/2012	I'm guessing budget cuts! Not sure what impact of electronic readers has been? Portland certainly seems to have population of avid readers, so I don't think declining population of readers will ever be an issue. I personally have not felt an impact on my library usage under current cuts to the system, I assume other services I don't use have been impacted. To me, having the library open 7 days a week is not critical, I think one day of closure is acceptable.
8553	7/10/2012	The societal shift in thinking toward the idea that all information worth knowing must be as brief and easily digestible as possible, and the insistence that it be brightly colored and flawlessly entertaining.
8554	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
8555	7/10/2012	Closing
8556	7/10/2012	self checkout and , online book order
8557	7/10/2012	Technology
8558	7/10/2012	From a college-student perspective, the biggest threat seems to me to be lack of appreciation for books and what the library can do to help with schoolwork.
8559	7/10/2012	I am not up on the funding issues, I assumed that was it.
8560	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding - I'm getting tired of being asked to vote money to the library every two years.
8561	7/10/2012	Communities falling apart.
8562	7/10/2012	I'm guessing reduce public funding. I have been really happy with the way things have been, but I am comfortable with reducing the convenience of having the library open 7 days a week to keep the awesome wide range of materials available.
8563	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and overuse. So many people literally depend on the library.
8564	7/10/2012	Question 5 filled in the numbers and won't let me change them so the above is not my choice.
8565	7/10/2012	Politicians.
8566	7/10/2012	CLOSURE!!! I feel if libraries lose out in all aspects ...citizens that don't have a lot of money won't be able to enjoy reading because of not being able to buy books.
8567	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to do all that we would like
8568	7/10/2012	Kids not enjoying reading books. However, I think story hours and programs for babies/toddlers is kind of stupid. However it seems to me that children need to learn how to do research using the library reference materials not available at home. Maybe the internet has made that use resource less valuable.

8569	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; unawareness by many potential users; possibly the view by some that in the day of the Internet, libraries are not needed, a nonsensical position, but I have come across it.
8570	7/10/2012	Mission creep: trying to do too much (classes, entertaining people's children, arts & crafts, etc.)
8571	7/10/2012	Financial
8572	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
8573	7/10/2012	I really dont know, but as a home owner I know I pay a library tax included in my property taxes and I fully expect to have access to the programs I pay for.
8574	7/10/2012	Underfunding of education
8575	7/10/2012	I suppose lack of stable funding
8576	7/10/2012	shortage of finance
8577	7/10/2012	Closure due to funding
8578	7/10/2012	greed of people who don't want to pay taxes
8579	7/10/2012	Continued poor management from Multnomah County officials.
8580	7/10/2012	funding
8581	7/10/2012	Not being open when a patron tries to access the library. As tax money dwindles so does a patron's patience.
8582	7/10/2012	The economy. I'd rather pay for my specific use (yearly subscription) than be hit with more & more tax burden that I can't afford to support a library system I rarely use. I expect most people are strapped for cash these days.
8583	7/10/2012	Computer games and dis-interest in reading, first. Theft, I would guess. Funding, in these times.
8584	7/10/2012	The ignorance of many in our community that don't realize the vital services libraries provide to residence. People don't realize that not everyone can afford a computer or books, has someone that will teach them to read, show them how to access services and assist them in a job search. Libraries fill this void to many in our community.
8585	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8586	7/10/2012	Passivity
8587	7/10/2012	under funding!
8588	7/10/2012	Ignorance. And that fact that more people will be more ignorant if library access and funding declines.
8589	7/10/2012	Funding!
8590	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
8591	7/10/2012	lack of stable funding
8592	7/10/2012	lower usage by upper income/politically powerful individuals.
8593	7/10/2012	Don't know
8594	7/10/2012	That the levy has to be voted on. The funding should be permanent and adjusted regularly to accommodate for inflation, increased demand for services, etc.
8595	7/10/2012	liberalism and exposing young people to innappropriate media geared toward adults

8596	7/10/2012	Perhaps lack of resources and funds.
8597	7/10/2012	The on-going funding problem. If the Library system could have stable funding this, would go a long way toward a healthy Library system..
8598	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding to support acquisitions
8599	7/10/2012	Well, it seems a lack of funding is the biggest threat. Isn't a lack of funds the reason the library is now only open 6 days a week? The biggest threat is the ever-increasing submersion into market-only activities. Libraries will fall into disuse by people with more resources (current digital technologies, money to spend in shopping malls, theaters and coffee shops even more personal space like larger living space and cars) and the gap between those who need the library (people of little means who need a third space that is not market-driven) and those who don't will widen and libraries will lose support and ultimately close.
8600	7/10/2012
8601	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding (i.e. Republicans)
8602	7/10/2012	cutbacks.
8603	7/10/2012	Corporations.
8604	7/10/2012	I guess that would be Electronic media. However, I personally use both services - e-books and regular books.
8605	7/10/2012	Sustainable funding
8606	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8607	7/10/2012	online media access, funding
8608	7/10/2012	Loss of funding to provide access and resources
8609	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding.
8610	7/10/2012	Theft of materials.....
8611	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding, resulting in loss of services/community, resulting in reduced funding, etc.
8612	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8613	7/10/2012	Lack of funding....people who don't read...a school system that doesn't no emphasize the value of libraries as resources after children leave school.
8614	7/10/2012	Funding relying on property taxes...
8615	7/10/2012	Shortened hours and lack of services that serve the community.
8616	7/10/2012	The Internet. Or perhaps being part of a county general fund; it's unstable.
8617	7/10/2012	Lack of community support
8618	7/10/2012	Our ridiculous State government.
8619	7/10/2012	Funding, probably.
8620	7/10/2012	The lack of amount of Online resources
8621	7/10/2012	The fact that many people do not realize the importance of having a library. If they don't use it then the philosophy is that they shouldn't have to pay taxes towards it. The same goes for school expenditures.

8622	7/10/2012	Funding and a lack of interest. Libraries are considered to be the houses of primarily print material, and I'm not sure that a wider understanding exists that libraries can serve through technology as well. Nooks and Kindles won't make printed reading material go extinct, but are having enough of an impact to make books (and libraries) endangered
8623	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8624	7/10/2012	I think lack of funding due to political and financial incompetence of our elected officials.
8625	7/10/2012	Limited hours
8626	7/10/2012	idk
8627	7/10/2012	Lack of funding it seems. I love the library!
8628	7/10/2012	Erm...closures? Also, Central Library really does attract a lot of ne'er-do-wells. (I know that sounds horrible, but the bathrooms there...ugh!)
8629	7/10/2012	Decreased and/or lost funding.
8630	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, obviously.
8631	7/10/2012	continued reliance on overtaxed property owners
8632	7/10/2012	Knee-jerk anti-government propaganda that makes it hard for people to understand how valuable our public services are.
8633	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8634	7/10/2012	the biggest threat are politicians who want to slash budgets which leads to a loss of service/services provided
8635	7/10/2012	Losing hours. The library needs to be open more, because the harder it gets to schedule time to go to the library, the less people will go and it's a downward spiral.
8636	7/10/2012	Money. . . we have one of the best library systems in the country & one of the highest usages in the country. I willingly pay taxes to keep it that way.
8637	7/10/2012	Financial constraints
8638	7/10/2012	Any lack of interest from community...and funding
8639	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, as indicated by the need for this email and questionnaire.
8640	7/10/2012	Lack of focus on the what the community needs. Funding,
8641	7/10/2012	I think that, based on what I see the hours that our local branch is now open, the library - as it has been used and operated traditionally - will soon become obsolete. If it is only open a few hours a day (and those hours being during the day, when many/most people work), people will look to find other sources for their reading/research materials. So, the biggest threat to libraries is forced obsolescence.
8642	7/10/2012	Raising property taxes. Our taxes keep going up while our house is depreciating. A new levy at this time would irritate property owners.
8643	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and too many homeless folks hanging out

8644	7/10/2012	Bureaucratic arrogance. People will not continue to support the library if they are treated with disdain and disrespect. The Library staffers on the floor dealing with the public day to day are quite good. Library managers are not. They seem to think that having a MLS confers upon them something like papal infallibility. Symptoms of this thinking include the minor but telling discourtesy of never acknowledging comments or suggestions (if you invite comments from the public on your website, it would seem that basic good manners and sound public relations alike would require responding to such comments, if only with a automatic "Thank you for your comment.") A more serious example is the way that the Library management let book theft run rampant for years rather than acknowledge that they had bungled the installation of the new security system. And most recently, the cut in Library hours and days put through without, as far as I could tell, letting the public know it was coming before the vote on the new Library bond levy. I voted for that levy, by the way, and as a property owner I will be paying it. If the entitled attitude that the Library management projects does not change, I might not be voting for the next one.
8645	7/10/2012	Jeff Cogan doesn't seem to want to support them.
8646	7/10/2012	Internet and eReaders. It takes too long to get a book checked out for Kindle from the library system.
8647	7/10/2012	Probably funding
8648	7/10/2012	Illiteracy.
8649	7/10/2012	inadequate funding
8650	7/10/2012	Funding and people who are proud to be stupid.
8651	7/10/2012	The Department of Defense.
8652	7/10/2012	closing due to lack of funds
8653	7/10/2012	From what I have read, a lack of funding is the biggest threat.
8654	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. There will never be a lack of users.
8655	7/10/2012	Misplaced city funding.
8656	7/10/2012	monday closures!
8657	7/10/2012	Funding - voters not recognizing the libraries as a valuable community resource.
8658	7/10/2012	People sleeping there
8659	7/10/2012	Apathy
8660	7/10/2012	The libraries not keeping up with technology and being able to provide the materials accordingly.
8661	7/10/2012	the people in power that don't support the libraries, and they are no longer available due to "funding issues." what a joke. whats a bigger threat??? the people not being able to read.....
8662	7/10/2012	Rising costs and funding squeeze due to poor economy and other demands of government and services.
8663	7/10/2012	Short sighted budgeting
8664	7/10/2012	losing funding and not being able to stay current with resources
8665	7/10/2012	?
8666	7/10/2012	lack of funds
8667	7/10/2012	Keeping school aged kids reading!

8668	7/10/2012	tax payer indifference
8669	7/10/2012	The Internet
8670	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8671	7/10/2012	Reduced funding.
8672	7/10/2012	Making room for more computers and movies, leaving less space for BOOKS.
8673	7/10/2012	Apathy. I think that libraries are well-used and appreciated, but people take them for granted.
8674	7/10/2012	It seems like availability of the user to the facility.
8675	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8676	7/10/2012	Funding
8677	7/10/2012	funding
8678	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8679	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8680	7/10/2012	people not returning stuff
8681	7/10/2012	I get frustrated when I go to the library and it isn't open. I need the library in my life. I have used it as an amazing resource when I was a college student and now as a Mom and a person hoping to move forward to getting a Master's degree. I love our library.
8682	7/10/2012	Lack of interest & lack of money
8683	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8684	7/10/2012	underfunding
8685	7/10/2012	Minimal open hours.
8686	7/10/2012	Lack of publicity about services that the library offers.
8687	7/10/2012	Closures and cuts in book and media acquisition budgets
8688	7/10/2012	Not self-actualizing the materials, cutting off reading programs and classes for those who can't afford private schooling, and a lack of a good schedule in which they are open. Some people work until 5, and libraries should at least have the funding to be run until 7 or 8pm.
8689	7/10/2012	Funding cuts. Lack of understanding on the part of local government of how very important libraries are.
8690	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; voters with narrow-minded opinions who feel that don't want to vote to fund the library because they don't personally use or feel they benefit from it
8691	7/10/2012	Drop in funding
8692	7/10/2012	lack of funds
8693	7/10/2012	Threat? What does that imply? I do think libraries are going in the same direction that land line telephones. Besides computer work, libraries are a waste of our tax dollars.....although I am sure the library employees would disagree with my opinion.
8694	7/10/2012	We need to keep our local, helpful librarians. Do not reduce staff librarians.
8695	7/10/2012	Reduced hours and funding cuts.
8696	7/10/2012	Unions and cost of benefits

8697	7/10/2012	declining revenue?
8698	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is people not understanding that local libraries provide more services than just checking out books. If people view libraries as just book depositories, and not information-based institutions, then people will stop visiting and supporting libraries.
8699	7/10/2012	Uncertain funding.
8700	7/10/2012	PERS and the perpetual teacher pay/benefits related bond and tax issues.
8701	7/10/2012	Toss up between apathy and illiteracy.
8702	7/10/2012	Employee health care and pension costs.
8703	7/10/2012	Theft and budget cuts
8704	7/10/2012	No idea. But I sure hate to have them used as camping out spots for smelly junkies nodding out over their comic books.
8705	7/10/2012	Budget cuts; thieves A library should concentrate on providing the core services of books and media to people who come into the library or those service that can be accessed online from home. Also, reference services for library materials or those available through inter-library loan and current materials. []
8706	7/10/2012	The other services, i.e. story hour, classes for seniors, resources of students, seem outside the core services and therefore should be cut first. Competition from online databases-resources of free or low cost material accessible 24-7. Costly brick and mortar locations that will be unsustainable due to increased operations and labor costs which coincide with a dwindling amount of public support.
8707	7/10/2012	Adequate, predictable funding over time
8708	7/10/2012	Money spent where the tax payers didn't intend it to be spent and then coming back to them and saying you need more money to fund the things our tax dollar was intended for, Its a sad old bureaucratic game...[]
8709	7/10/2012	[] Here's a tip raise tax's on Large Corporations, Oil Company's and Large Banking Institutions..and leave the middle class alone...
8710	7/10/2012	Funds going to not as important things.
8711	7/10/2012	cuts in the budget
8712	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8713	7/10/2012	Not open at convenient hours/good weekend hours. Lack of children's programs for non-stay at home parents.
8714	7/10/2012	not enough funding and the funds not being used wisely.
8715	7/10/2012	probably voter apathy towards proper funding.
8716	7/10/2012	not enough money. also, e-readers suck! I never want one.
8717	7/10/2012	Not sure, I suppose lack of funding.

8718	7/10/2012	funding cuts. Our library system is one of the best in the country and it is the most-used in the country. We should be paying appropriately for this resource. It is necessary to improve literacy rates, family well-being, employment opportunities and the employment rate, etc. It's integral.
8719	7/10/2012	Public funding may not be available to fund the library system.
8720	7/10/2012	Inadequate and/or unpredictable levels of funding.
8721	7/10/2012	Under-funding.
8722	7/10/2012	That lack of funding drives away a portion of the more affluent users. Then the library suffers from being labeled a program for the poor and as the old saying goes, "Programs for the poor are poorly funded programs." By offering excellent services the library maintains its relivence to the entire community and this in turn help protects the library's future.
8723	7/10/2012	Electronic availability of books
8724	7/10/2012	Shutting down/ lack of funding
8725	7/10/2012	That funding and hours will continue to be cut. This is a HORRIBLE trend.
8726	7/10/2012	Ebooks
8727	7/10/2012	Funding
8728	7/10/2012	Users not having access forcing the user to rely on and become accustomed to alternative methods.
8729	7/10/2012	Ignorance.
8730	7/10/2012	funding cuts
8731	7/10/2012	Under use.
8732	7/10/2012	People who don't read and believe that all information and entertainment should be in electronic format...tv watchers who don't see the value and consequently won't vote for funding.
8733	7/10/2012	technology
8734	7/10/2012	More use of ebooks; less use, expense of buying and maintaining printed books
8735	7/10/2012	Not using $$ money wisely so that all of the current services can remain intact.
8736	7/10/2012	That programs for young children will be cut.
8737	7/10/2012	if the books return as a good condition.
8738	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
8739	7/10/2012	Kindles and nooks. Need an easier lending program for ebooks.
8740	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8741	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8742	7/10/2012	Limited access
8743	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
8744	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8745	7/10/2012	I don't think there is a threat other than the economic downturn/recession. I would not support increased taxes for library services because I think we already have a lot of services and additional taxes would be better used serving other purposes.

8746	7/10/2012	funding to remain open- libraries are invaluable- important-= necessary!
8747	7/10/2012	The fact that books and print media are being replaced with electronic files. Brick and mortar libraries will need to give way to a larger online presence for the library.
8748	7/10/2012	Unauthorized (or illegal) use of the computer.
8749	7/10/2012	People that ought to be in mental homes loitering in the library. It makes the library feel like less of a place of education and quiet contemplation and more like a homeless shelter with books and computers and bathrooms.
8750	7/10/2012	Funding
8751	7/10/2012	Lack of continuing and reliable funding at a level appropriate to use as one of the most active library systems in the nation. It is too much taken for granted.
8752	7/10/2012	Taking library services for granted.
8753	7/10/2012	People not caring for reading books. Children not involved with reading programs that demand reading books and doing research other than on the web.
8754	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8755	7/10/2012	Funding and the cost to keep them open and appropriately staffed.
8756	7/10/2012	Funding.
8757	7/10/2012	Hours cut and dated material that isn't current
8758	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. The libraries are doing a great job, an essential job.
8759	7/10/2012	Jeff Cogen's dangerous decision to put 100% funding for the library at risk. This community is willing to fund its library 100% through a levy. Cogen should never have doubted this.
8760	7/10/2012	Limiting hours of operation.
8761	7/10/2012	under funding
8762	7/10/2012	Deliberate starvation of the public sector.
8763	7/10/2012	lack of funding from our state lottery system and the UN for foreign students material the rest of the library system has no use for
8764	7/10/2012	Lack of funding & bad management of existing funds.
		lack of funding
8765	7/10/2012	BTW in Q5 You ask me to place : Current Materials... access to paid search engines for research... do you mean in the library building itself? or home internet access, too. I use the library's MORNING STAR subscription for research at home.
8766	7/10/2012	Consumer culture and stupid people breeding at much higher rates than intelligent people.
8767	7/10/2012	Like most things, salaries are too high to maintain on current tax base. As a senior citizen, owning my own home, paying high property taxes but on a fixed income, I cannot afford to pay even more. The federal government should contribute to continue to carry English language users as this is an immigration (legal or illegal) problem. I also think filters should be installed on all computers to prevent viewing pornographic material and this would free up computers for legitimate tasks.

8768	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much and asking for too many tax increases.. Our city cannot afford to provide programs for everyone. Best to have fewer programs that reach the largest audience. Rather than paying more taxes, please consider closing one or two days per week. Use your volunteers to full advantage so that they can do some of the duties paid librarians are doing now.[] I grew up in Portland in the 1950's when our libraries were staffed by mostly volunteers and the Library itself was a non-government funded entity. I spent many lovely hours in those libraries. They gave me access to books I could not get in my home, but they were not so costly to operate. Stories for babies and toddlers should be all volunteer.
8769	7/10/2012	Not staying current on available resources & technology. [] Students of ALL ages need the most useful information possible. [] When you want to be needed, be relevant.
8770	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8771	7/10/2012	my biggest concern is that the cultural value of libraries is diminished. it is a huge privilege to have unlimited access to information. Regardless of class and location, anyone can access resources and information. The library is a valuable and important public service.
8772	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8773	7/10/2012	Homeless ruffians. The downtown library is not safe. I will leave my daughter at the Belmont library but not downtown.[] [] Perception of waste and theft. There is no need for numerous copies of new CDs and movies.
8774	7/10/2012	staying technologically relevant
8775	7/10/2012	Over taxation which causes people to sell resulting in diminished assessed values over time
8776	7/10/2012	Funding.
8777	7/10/2012	The internet
8778	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and the failure of our county to prioritize funding for our libraries.
8779	7/10/2012	Reduced funding from local and federal governments, together with reduced funding from private sources.
8780	7/10/2012	Lack of resources
8781	7/10/2012	Lack of funding for 7 day per week operation
8782	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, complacent leadership
8783	7/10/2012	Funding.
8784	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8785	7/10/2012	An uneducated public.
8786	7/10/2012	Limited hours
8787	7/10/2012	Funding shortfalls, it would seem.
8788	7/10/2012	I don't know.
8789	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.

8790	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8791	7/10/2012	PERS - too much taxes in bad economy
8792	7/10/2012	Loss of funding, it appears.
8793	7/10/2012	the belief that library funding is not a priority in times of economic hardship. the library is a necessary resource for people who are struggling economically, and needs more funding, not less when times are tough.
8794	7/10/2012	1. money 2. an electronic generation unused to library services (brick and mortar)
8795	7/10/2012	Abuse
8796	7/10/2012	Lack of finances.
8797	7/10/2012	Not sure what the threats are. They seem well used, and the staff are among the most efficient, courteous, and best trained that I encounter in both personal and business transactions. I always hear about budget and service cuts, but it seems like people are always using the library, and sometimes the lines are quite long.
8798	7/10/2012	The internet (with stable funding a close second).
8799	7/10/2012	Ignorance of the wide variety of library services available free and the inability to read (either illiteracy or non-interest)
8800	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much for too wide an audience. The library is not primarily an educational resource and should draw back from such educational programs. (Other than helping folks learn how to use the library. The library is not the best place to house job seeker training and resources. The library is not the best place to house small business resources.) Keep it to procuring and distribution books and media. And programs to encourage children and teens to read.
8801	7/10/2012	inadequate funding
8802	7/10/2012	Continued need for tax levies that the non-using community may eventually not be supported. Need more stable funding
8803	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and technology.
8804	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
8805	7/10/2012	losing them
8806	7/10/2012	Lack of stable dedicated funding.
8807	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8808	7/10/2012	Funding. funding ?
8809	7/10/2012	school funding vs library funding
8810	7/10/2012	People who don't think taxes actually pay for anything useful

8811	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. The library system should have asked for the funding it needed. It would have been approved.
8812	7/10/2012	Budget. Every branch trying to be everything to everybody.
8813	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is that we could lose them.
8814	7/10/2012	Aardvarks? Not sure, never combined the words "threat" and "library" together.
8815	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to keep operating.
8816	7/10/2012	Closing libraries in areas where people can least afford books and have trouble getting to libraries further away
8817	7/10/2012	Not having adequate materials is the biggest threat. I expect to come to the library and have the resources I need available to me. When books are checked out and I have to wait a long time for them I lose interest and move on to some other form of entertainment.
8818	7/10/2012	People being unaware of all the services and programs associated with the library.
8819	7/10/2012	Underfunding! Perhaps they will become extinct
8820	7/10/2012	once EVERYTHING can be downloaded. I will be sad; I think their physical existence is a common public square for all , AND all ages.
8821	7/10/2012	Those who do not use the library are unaware of the huge service the system provides. I worry that those may out number those who use the library system and depend on it will not vote to continue to support it..
8822	7/10/2012	The number of smelly homeless people prevents me from enjoying any library.
8823	7/10/2012	GOVERNMENT STUPENDOUS CONTROLS THAT HOLD US DOWN,[] sorry was I yelling
8824	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat would be a situation where any person would not have access to the best ideas and writing in the best books of our culture. That could be because the libraries are closed often, hard to get to, limited hours, or not stocked with enough material. Encouraging reading and teaching research, critical thinking, etc., are aids for people that enable them to interact with great literature. What, exactly, the best ideas and books are is somewhat subjective, but having a wide variety of resources, resources that develop this type of literacy, and the space and freedom to explore are essential to being well-read. The ability to be well-read and engaged in the great conversation is only possible if everyone, regardless of circumstances, is able to access the best material in the library with the fewest obstacles possible.
8825	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8826	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8827	7/10/2012	Loss of funding. Also lack of awareness about the resources available.
8828	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Second biggest: those who want to censor.
8829	7/10/2012	I don't know--a collapsing economy?
8830	7/10/2012	personnel costs and reduced state funding

8831	7/10/2012	Budget management by governmental bean-counters!
8832	7/10/2012	Closing library & children's programs / losing money To keep library open/ there is a high school & college next to North Portland's library & it would be a great loss to many of the high school students who study there
8833	7/10/2012	Loss of funding, government thinking that libraries and education are less important than other, trivial issues.
8834	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8835	7/10/2012	Republicans and other idiotic false savings budget slashers.
8836	7/10/2012	lack of understanding what they truly contribute to the health and well being of the entire community. perhaps resulting in lack of support for generous funding.
8837	7/10/2012	Competition for one's attention from media
8838	7/10/2012	It seems like they are trying to be everything to everyone. I would rather see the libraries stay open and cut specific programs. That said, the programs for toddlers is what got us going to the library so regularly. So, as you know, no easy answers.
8839	7/10/2012	internet & television
8840	7/10/2012	CLOSING libraries and branches in the metro and rural parts of Oregon.
8841	7/10/2012	Probably budget?
8842	7/10/2012	I was upset when I tried to go to the library last Monday and it was unexpectedly closed (I hadn't heard about the new hours), but I think it's more important to continue providing services to children, the home-bound, and job seekers than to keep the libraries open all the time. My biggest priority is definitely keeping libraries able to buy new material as it comes out and subscribe to databases and search engines.
8843	7/10/2012	Not being open enough to provide access to public.
8844	7/10/2012	Those of us who are use our local libraries often know how much they mean to our neighbors. We are there to see the kids at story hour, and know how many people use the computers. I worry that those who aren't using our libraries as often, who have the means to buy books, or have regular access to computers, fail to realize what a huge resource this is. We need all voters to understand what a crucial resource our libraries are to everyone. I am so proud that we have one of the most used library systems in the country, I worry that our biggest threat is those who may not realize what an essential service an intact system is and see it as a luxury when it comes time to allocate funding. I hope we can find a way to educate all of our voters about the great and important resource that our system is.
8845	7/10/2012	I'm guessing funding.
8846	7/10/2012	Underfunding
8847	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and trying to provide too many services on too tight budgets
8848	7/10/2012	Funding.
8849	7/10/2012	Funding.

8850	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
8851	7/10/2012	Unsure
8852	7/10/2012	Apathy
8853	7/10/2012	lack of interest and support, thus lack of funding
8854	7/10/2012	Funding
8855	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8856	7/10/2012	On a visual level- it looks like human power might go away in favor of those dang check out computers. I'm happy with human employees and plenty of them.
8857	7/10/2012	Reducing hours and ability to supply new books to public
8858	7/10/2012	not having access to most up-to-date materials and keeping up with digital divide. funding.
8859	7/10/2012	Apathy and perception that they are obsolete among voters.
8860	7/10/2012	Funding cuts and programs being eliminated.
8861	7/10/2012	voter apathy (including personal lack of thorough research) from the national level on down. Voter awareness is not seasonal, but all-year 'round!
8862	7/10/2012	Bookstores and the internet.
8863	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8864	7/10/2012	funding.
8865	7/10/2012	Budget
8866	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
8867	7/10/2012	lack of books for e-readers. Over time people will read less paper and demand e-books. Every time I try to check out an e-book there is a months-log wait list.
8868	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and support from the community
8869	7/10/2012	Not having enough funding available.
8870	7/10/2012	Zombies! But my pal in MA says "termites"....
8871	7/10/2012	Reduction in funding; or re-allocation of funds that used to pay for the public library system.
8872	7/10/2012	People stealing books and materials.
8873	7/10/2012	funding cuts
8874	7/10/2012	Lack of positive political response to the clearly expressed wishes and priorities of the public
8875	7/10/2012	Increased competition with electronic media.
8876	7/10/2012	If policy makers failed to realize how vital our libraries are.
8877	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is just funding. People can be a little nervous about increasing taxes, etc., even for libraries, simply because many individuals are hurting financially.
8878	7/10/2012	While I believe it is important to assist job seekers and English language learners, I don't generally think of these needs as being relevant to library services, rather, it seems to me that these needs should be met through the employment division, colleges and community centers.

		1) Interference of researching options by impending threats of limiting access to computer links & blogs under the guise "security"; and
		2) Becoming merely a center for social activities & technical expertise:
8879	7/10/2012	Our libraries must continue to be a place where people have access not only to NON-COMPUTERIZED books and reading materials for browsing, & to computers & the internet, BUT ALSO it must remain a place where we can come and sit comfortably at a library table to read or study those non-computerized materials we find, as well. It should not simply be a room of computers & computer-based study only!!!!!!
8880	7/10/2012	AUSTERITY! Mitt Romney, The Koch Brothers and the Social elite and the lunatic Tea Party haters who are being used by the elite. What I loved about Portland was its ease, excellent transportation, library system and sense of community. As the country goes So does my beloved Portland. I am killing my self in November at Pioneer Courthouse Square.
8881	7/10/2012	Government
8882	7/10/2012	Insufficient funds.
8883	7/10/2012	lack of financial support
8884	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, budget cuts.
8885	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
8886	7/10/2012	Security issues due to people with ill intentions entering the public spaces.
8887	7/10/2012	Other community necessities requiring increased funding.
8888	7/10/2012	Curtailed services
8889	7/10/2012	Declining funding, bad economy
8890	7/10/2012	Poor management of funds
8891	7/10/2012	Lack of money
8892	7/10/2012	Theft of materials.
8893	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8894	7/10/2012	Apathy. Portland tends to take it's privileges and assets for granted. Look at our schools. We have this incredible resource in our public libraries, but that didn't happen overnight. It takes time and commitment and most of all, money to keep these things going and the buildings safe and up to date. I'd much rather pay more taxes to support our local public resources than sit and complain about "how much everything costs nowadays," and /or that we shouldn't increase our subsidies and supports for these services due to a struggling economy.

8895	7/10/2012	You were voted the bond/levy to maintain current services in the last election, and now that voters approved you say cuts are necessary. You risk confidence of the public, which will impact future requests for funding. Stop mailing books, postage is very high. Reduce expenses where you can, because we expected the approved funding measure to maintain our library services at current levels. So this "problem" with funding is quite unexpected. You could use a better term than COMPRESSION
8896	7/10/2012	Becoming increasingly irrelevant to an ever larger sector of society, with online information access, including ebooks. I use the library much less than ten years ago, as I now [] go online for information. And though I still prefer paper to electronic books, I'm also aware of how my preferences affect the environment, have an Ipad, and expect I'll gradually be reading more ebooks, until, alas, perhaps no paper books at all. Although my visits to Central are becoming more infrequent, it does hold a place in my heart--it was almost my second home when in college back in the fifties--its restoration was beautifully done, so I'll admit, I'm biased. But enough to vote for a permanent increase in property taxes? Perhaps instead something that will decline as usage declines.
8897	7/10/2012	If funding were cut, that would be a huge threat.
8898	7/10/2012	Republicans.
8899	7/10/2012	Censorship and abbreviated hours
8900	7/10/2012	Funding.
8901	7/10/2012	People who don't want to pay more taxes
8902	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and censorship.
8903	7/10/2012	Lack of funds to continue adding current materials and providing present levels of service.
8904	7/10/2012	Home computer use
8905	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
8906	7/10/2012	funding, electronic media competition
8907	7/10/2012	Pedophiles
8908	7/10/2012	It's the money, right? The tight economy makes access to free information all the more important.
8909	7/10/2012	duh, money
8910	7/10/2012	Consumerism and the idea that its better to have a personal collection of books than a sustainable resource for the whole community. Lack of adequate funding.[]
8911	7/10/2012	The library system has evolved since I was a girl 50+ years ago. It still offers the same services of yesteryear, but now it seems more community focused offering a broader range of services to all age and ethnic groups within the community. I think that's very important and would like to see this continue.
8912	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding

8913	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries with lack of funding is loss of service hours. There are so many people depending upon the libraries....When they close one day a week, then two, and.... before you know it there's no money to run them at all.
8914	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8915	7/10/2012	IDIOTS WHO MISUSE THE LIBRARY AND LIBRARY RESOURCES
8916	7/10/2012	Funding issues and the decline of publishing generally.
8917	7/10/2012	reduced access given the current budget realities
8918	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, new media
8919	7/10/2012	Apathy of local voters--they don't seem to know what is at stake. I am a property tax payer, and I do not mind a few dollars a year of my property taxes going to education, libraries and city resources.
8920	7/10/2012	lack of funds
8921	7/10/2012	Lack of financing.
8922	7/10/2012	Over-staffed and overpaid.
8923	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
8924	7/10/2012	Funding woes.
8925	7/10/2012	I'm not sure. I guess it sounds like funding but I don't know much about it.
8926	7/10/2012	Wasteful spending.
8927	7/10/2012	Apparently, like most everything, lack of funding.
8928	7/10/2012	Voters who don't know what or how important it is to our community. People in higher positions in the local government who want to use money elsewhere.
8929	7/10/2012	Obviously lack of funding and not being the resource for being a partner in literacy. Home, School, Library is what helps create productive members of our society.
8930	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. If the state is able to convince itself that libraries are not well used, serve little purpose, and add little value, then they will be more likely to strip funding. This will force libraries to make decisions that will impact the people who live in the community they serve, like reducing hours of availability, services offered, and the like.
8931	7/10/2012	online books and eReaders Consistent funding. But it's also of prime importance to fund our schools and the schools are in major need of funding and change. ☐
8932	7/10/2012	I use the library heavily, for myself and my preschooler. I'm fine with libraries being closed on Mondays. I think this was a good solution. ☐ Thanks for the services you provide!
8933	7/10/2012	I suppose the biggest threat to our libraries would be not having the funding to keep them open, at least part time.

8934	7/10/2012	CITY GOVERNMENT and PERSONEL GREED, START AT THE TOP AND WORK YOUR WAY DOWN, NO JOB in City Government should pay more than $60,000 per Year. IF GIVEN THE CHOICE OF NO-JOB OR $60K PER YEAR, 95% WILL TAKE THE JOB the other 5%, GOOD LUCK. WE DON'T NEED OVER-PAID GOVERNMENT OFFICALS MAKING OUR DESICIONS.[] WE CAN MAKE OUR OWN, AND WE DON'T NEED TO BE PAID.[] YOU NEED MONEY??? LEGALIZE PROSITUTION, AT LEAST YOU GET SOME SATISFACTION FOR YOUR MONEY.
8935	7/10/2012	Need to have a better checkout interface online so folks can reserve or have a wishlist in advance, kind of like amazon.com.[] [] Also set up the library by sections versus Dewey Decimal like a bookstore. That way all books of a certain type can be found in one section.
8936	7/10/2012	Lack of support from the Central Library to the branches. The branches are equally important, for they serve people who couldn't possibly get to downtown Portland.
8937	7/10/2012	?
8938	7/10/2012	lack of funding
8939	7/10/2012	Mismanagement of City and County tax revenues on non-essential activities or less important functions which squeeze services used by all.
8940	7/10/2012	mega-corporations and super-PACs
8941	7/10/2012	lack of funding, people not recognizing the importance
8942	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8943	7/10/2012	Underfunding. Libraries need to be available. It can also be a learning experience for younger children.
8944	7/10/2012	Unsure.
8945	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, but the same people (homeowners) can't always be the ones asked to foot the bill.
8946	7/10/2012	People who steal items, mistreat materials, owe money. All fines should be paid before checking out new items. Hours could be shorter. There always seem to be an abundance of staff, they should be cut back. There's nothing wrong with users needing to wait in line to talk to staff.
8947	7/10/2012	Lack of access to books and multimedia due to lack of resources or rather a lack of resourcefulness enlisted from those who make desicions regarding the libraries' livelihood.
8948	7/10/2012	YOUNG PEOPLE PLAYING VIDEO GAMES AND NOT READING!!!!
8949	7/10/2012	Apparently lack of funding.
8950	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
8951	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8952	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
8953	7/10/2012	internet cafe's
8954	7/10/2012	Reducing hours and staff.

8955	7/10/2012	Poor management.
8956	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8957	7/10/2012	Lack of funding sources. i wouldn't know. lack of funding? censorship? it's an odd question.[]
8958	7/10/2012	[] libraries enjoy a special status, i don't think anyone is against libraries.
8959	7/10/2012	closures
8960	7/10/2012	Funding?
8961	7/10/2012	a society that does not value social services. I would say that technology innovation is changing the need for hard-copies of books. I think that libraries are great
8962	7/10/2012	community centers for information and events. I think that the MCL branches should continue to increase the number of audiobooks and digital book offerings.
8963	7/10/2012	Lack of community support which translates to lack of funding. With the rise of the internet and digital media, many people many no longer see the need for a brick and mortar library.
8964	7/10/2012	People will stop coming in because it is never open for the hours that they need it. With the internet being so easy to get books it may take away from the library.
8965	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
8966	7/10/2012	Funding. I understand that e-books are extremely expensive for the libraries. These are important tools for people. It usually does boil down to money, unfortunately.
8967	7/10/2012	Closures: no programs are of any value if the doors to the building are closed on the one day (or time of day) a person has off.
8968	7/10/2012	Reduced/inaccessible hours of operation
8969	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to libraries are, of course, taxpayers who don't personally use libraries. I suspect, but can't verify, that secondary level schools don't stimulate as much use of libraries as they should. Students should be constantly confronted with problems where library information is required for successful pursuit.
8970	7/10/2012	Lack of access.
8971	7/10/2012	NOT SURE
8972	7/10/2012	Lack of funding! Oh, what a shame!
8973	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
8974	7/10/2012	Funding problems, attitudes toward public services.
8975	7/10/2012	funding
8976	7/10/2012	I'm not sure
8977	7/10/2012	Lack of financial resources.
8978	7/10/2012	don't know
8979	7/10/2012	funding

8980	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Personally I utilize my library frequently and can't imagine not being able to do so. Additionally I have school-aged nieces and nephews who love their library and are constantly checking out books. Libraries have become very important to my family.
8981	7/10/2012	I don't know!
8982	7/10/2012	Prison library budgets
8983	7/10/2012	Inadequate appreciation of the many services provided by the library, and insufficient understanding of the funding necessary for supporting local libraries. Also, TV and the general mental laziness of most Americans.
8984	7/10/2012	You have been doing such a great job I don't know what the threats are.
8985	7/10/2012	Obviously budget cuts. The children in our society need the library! I grew up in Eugene, and went to the library at least weekly. It played an integral part in my childhood ability to read and enjoy others socially. That is exactly why libraries should remain open and vital- a well functioning and educated society depends on it.
8986	7/10/2012	Probably operating costs, primarily staff costs. Facilities are in good shape and reasonably maintained, so no major capital expenditures looming on the horizon. it would be advisable to differentiate between core librarian staff and special programs staff. Careful management of competitive but not excessive compensation packages for the former is imperative. It may be advisable to staff special programs as much as possible (short of oversight) with volunteers.
8987	7/10/2012	Overreaching. You can't be everything to everybody, especially in this economic climate.
8988	7/10/2012	I'm not sure I know enough about the economics of Oregon to say, but I am shocked at how difficult it is for libraries to get funded here. I come from the east coast and I remember the libraries in my own state being open every day of the week and later in the day---and they were no where near as well-stocked and well-used as in Multnomah County!!! I have lived and worked in OR for 8 years now and would love to see a greater investment in the library system.
8989	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
8990	7/10/2012	Reduced employees and volunteers. I don't mind the libraries having a day off every week if that helps to keep qualified library staff on their job.
8991	7/10/2012	electronic media
8992	7/10/2012	apathy
8993	7/10/2012	Unsure.
8994	7/10/2012	loss of funding
8995	7/10/2012	Lack of involvement/use by middle and upper-income households leading to termination of funding (de-prioritization).
8996	7/10/2012	funding cuts
8997	7/10/2012	Funding, funding, funding.
8998	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and citizens thinking that libraries are social service institutions rather than an educational institutions.

8999	7/10/2012	Special interest groups trying to divert the library from its core mission, which should be to loan books and other materials to the public. The library system should save money by cutting back on programs that only benefit a small sector of the public, such as job seekers, people who don't speak English, seniors, etc.
9000	7/10/2012	Funding.
9001	7/10/2012	Lack of funding for the libraries to stay open. And a threat that checking out books won't be free. I have not personally used the helpful programs, but am also sure they are worth saving.
9002	7/10/2012	Prioritizing. Do not build or replace libraries when the existing is okay. As in the Hollywood branch you did. The old one was actually better. You do not need to do the extras - as in electronic books, movies, etc. Stick to the essential tried and true until there would actually be excess funds or a windfall of sorts.¶ Stick to the basics, please. And, it seems to me this closure one day a week was thrown at us with no prior notice. Not fair, when we are supporting the system, in part.
9003	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9004	7/10/2012	Probably the fact that sometimes materials are lost or stolen, then that fines are not paid, and that they don't get the funding that they need for new materials and programs that encourage reading.
9005	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
9006	7/10/2012	E books
9007	7/10/2012	Other than funding?
9008	7/10/2012	apathy.
9009	7/10/2012	Funding
9010	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9011	7/10/2012	Limited hours will limit use and therefore limit what the public is willing to tax itself.
9012	7/10/2012	funding problems
9013	7/10/2012	Under-funding apparently.
9014	7/10/2012	Funding.
9015	7/10/2012	Funding being tied to property taxes.
9016	7/10/2012	People who do not realize the invaluable resources that can be found at their local library and do not vote on important issues related to funding.
9017	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
9018	7/10/2012	People's unwillingness to pay for them (taxes, etc.)

		Ignorant people who don't realize how important the libraries are.[]
		[]
9019	7/10/2012	The people who feel that the library "costs too much for what we get in exchange for having it".[]
		[]
		The ultra-rich who don't use the library.[]
		[]
		The people who don't read - whether for knowledge or to escape reality - but tell their friends about this unnecessary tax.
9020	7/10/2012	Funding shortfalls -- and perhaps lack of understanding how important taxpayer contributions are in the overall scheme of that support. Hearing of library closures in other parts of the state (because of limited funding) sparks concern about the implications down the road for literacy -- and overall priorities in our society.
9021	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9022	7/10/2012	Online use dominating
9023	7/10/2012	Profit-seeking.
9024	7/10/2012	Lack of funding....same as with schools.
9025	7/10/2012	Budget cuts OK'd by people who don't even use the library. If you use it, you'll love it.
9026	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding.
9027	7/10/2012	Failure to recognize how tremendously important a local library is to each community.[] When I go to the library for any purpose, my feeling of belonging to a vital community is strongly reinforced.
9028	7/10/2012	Not having e books available (need more options) this cuts down on need to keep library open all the time
9029	7/10/2012	Funding and e-books. Although, I'm happy to see a great selection of e-books at Multnomah County libraries. I listen to audiobooks during my commute, but I love real books.
9030	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9031	7/10/2012	Poor book and magazine selections, poor service, lack of programs for sector of the community such as children, seniors, esl students.
9032	7/10/2012	Theft? I don't know.
9033	7/10/2012	No funding to provide the programs for senior citizens, job seekers, etc.
9034	7/10/2012	Lack of books; both hard copy and e-books. I'd like books to be the priority. Reading material found on-line is great to have access to, but I see a lot of facebook and card games and other entertainment that I'm not sure is purpose of library when funds are short.
9035	7/10/2012	Spending cuts.
9036	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9037	7/10/2012	I really don't know.
9038	7/10/2012	Restricted hours.

9039	7/10/2012	Funding
9040	7/10/2012	curtailing the services they offer to the community ..
9041	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9042	7/10/2012	digital media and internet. it's becoming obsolete and I don't think it's a good idea to continue to invest in public brick and mortar.
9043	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Advent of eBooks may perhaps lead to fewer checkouts of books and need for it more as a community gathering place.
9044	7/10/2012	lack of money and bookworms
9045	7/10/2012	finances...
9046	7/10/2012	I don't really know, adequate funding I suppose
9047	7/10/2012	I don't know.
9048	7/10/2012	voter apathy and government incompetence
9049	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9050	7/10/2012	obviously under funding
9051	7/10/2012	Lack of understanding that the library is an essential community resource, despite the resources available on the Internet.
9052	7/10/2012	Being shut down!
9053	7/10/2012	N/A
9054	7/10/2012	Increased loss of hours that the libraries are open to the public.
9055	7/10/2012	apathy
9056	7/10/2012	Funding
9057	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
9058	7/10/2012	I don't know.
9059	7/10/2012	the economy - there are so many competing factors for limited dollars
9060	7/10/2012	economy
9061	7/10/2012	non use?
9062	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is the fact that many people just don't think to use it when they want a book or a DVD. Most people I know would just go on amazon.com and order the book, rather than check it out from the library. The DVD collection is comparable to netflix or redbox and almost nobody knows that.
9063	7/10/2012	Funding/internet alternatives/lack of public relations.
9064	7/10/2012	Losing adequate funding because of dependence on property tax.
9065	7/10/2012	Threat? Like extortion or something? I didn't realize the library had "threats". But seriously I think the biggest threat is promising too much and not being able to deliver.
9066	7/10/2012	Privitization, and multibillion dollar corporations in oregon not willing to pay a fair share. This is a community resource and it is imperative that it stays in the hands of the community.
9067	7/10/2012	funding. T-rex.

9068	7/10/2012	Disingenuous and hostile "austerity" initiatives. Wealthy people who don't want to pay their fair share of taxes.
9069	7/10/2012	The thought that libraries have to be a physical place. We need more access to digital media which is far cheaper than buildings that require hours of operation.
9070	7/10/2012	Unknown.
9071	7/10/2012	The internet
9072	7/10/2012	Lack of money.
9073	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9074	7/10/2012	Not keeping current as we move into future.
9075	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9076	7/10/2012	The smell of urine and b.o. that permeates throughout the building on rainy days.
9077	7/10/2012	not keeping the doors open
9078	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9079	7/10/2012	lack of public support for basic infrastructure like a public library
9080	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9081	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
9082	7/10/2012	I dont know. Not enough money?? I mostly want to be able to check out a variety of up to date books and use the hold system. I also use the ebook system every day.
9083	7/10/2012	Loss of programs and quality librarians.
9084	7/10/2012	Republicans.
9085	7/10/2012	The economy.
		I've seen beautiful libraries with no books. Funding for constantly updated materials is vital. [] []
9086	7/10/2012	I would say that another threat is the sense of entitlement and bottomless government resources that Portlanders have come to expect. I'd hate to see that tank us because we expect too much. Is it really so terrible to be closed on Mondays? Most restaurants are. I think sometimes our capitalist mentality is unwilling to down-size or even right-size (witness the school closure debate, even in the face of declining enrollment and population shrinkage). It's fine by me to close 1-2 days a week and be able to stay open in evenings AND have great books!

		Money. I just think the politization of the levy is harmful. Those who are serviced by the library are generally marginalized -- for social, racial or economic reasons -- and yet those asked to pay for it are not. I really wish the Llibrary would re-frame the discussion; not have it be about the tax and more about how it serves the community. The messaging should be along the lines of "Want to stop crime? Keep the Llibraries open late so teens can occupy themselves with a passion or interest." □ □
9087	7/10/2012	Money/taxes has dessimated our societal institutions. The kids have shit schools, no parks, no parents at home because they have to work minium-wage jobs, and then, live a life of debt. I'm no socialist, in fact, an ardent capatiliist. HOWEVER, there'd be no way I would be a successful and productive member of society if I wasn't endowed with county resources during my youth and salad days. □ □ I'm counting on you to show the leadership and do the heavy lifting to make this amenable to the public at large.
9088	7/10/2012	Money
9089	7/10/2012	Being open for less hours; electronic books, music and movies
9090	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and therefore reduced hours.
9091	7/10/2012	people who are anti-tax and vote down library tax levies
9092	7/10/2012	Funding.
9093	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9094	7/10/2012	Finance, abuse of the system by theft of books or services, destruction of library property/graffiti, ect
9095	7/10/2012	not enough public funding. People want the services without having to pay for them.
9096	7/10/2012	Ignorance; erosion of the social contract.
9097	7/10/2012	the internet and lack of funding to our libraries.
9098	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9099	7/10/2012	Inadequate finances.
9100	7/10/2012	funding....but this is not the time to think of ballot measures to increase taxes. I think people would vote for schools first. Lack of programs to bring everyone into the building for different events. Money is necessary but keeping what we have is good. No cut-backs.□
9101	7/10/2012	□ Children need to explore the love of reading for their life-long experience to grow.□ We need advocates for the library.
9102	7/10/2012	I can understand being open 6 instead of 7 days a week, but if the hours and days get shorter and shorter, patrons will give up
9103	7/10/2012	Lack of funds to operate at best levels

9104	7/10/2012	People who don't understand that taxes pay for things like libraries, law enforcement, health care for those who can't afford it... The people who want low taxes at all costs.
9105	7/10/2012	Funding and community awareness. In the last 6 years I have lived in Fairview, Gresham, Rockwood and SE Portland. Each community was different and the amount of people that I saw using the library varied. I was also a teacher in those areas and would say that there is a correlation between the community and the importance of the library in that community.
9106	7/10/2012	Money!
9107	7/10/2012	The biggest risk is that the lack of funding reduces the hours and available materials so much that people quit using it. Then there will be less support and those who completely depend on it for computer services or reading materials will be out of luck. Without a minimum level of support, poor service will drive away people with an alternative.
9108	7/10/2012	Ignorance of the role that libraries have in the enrichment of the community, even for those that do not directly use the services. funding or lack of... ☐ ☐
9109	7/10/2012	my order was different than the way it went. 1 was 1st but the rest were not in order,,,,☐ ☐ oh well. they are all important in their own way.
9110	7/10/2012	Funding
9111	7/10/2012	Funding
9112	7/10/2012	$$$$
9113	7/10/2012	I see no threat.
9114	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9115	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9116	7/10/2012	fear of taxes? I don't really know
9117	7/10/2012	Kids not being brought up using the library as a resource.
9118	7/10/2012	Closing neighborhood libraries, better to shorten hours.
9119	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding leading to reduced service leading to lower utilization leading to decreased funding and so on in a death spiral.
9120	7/10/2012	The Internet?
9121	7/10/2012	Republicans and other anti-government idiots.
9122	7/10/2012	A lack of knowledge among the community regarding the library's (and functions of the library) importance to community members.
9123	7/10/2012	?
9124	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
9125	7/10/2012	That the people who pay the largest amount of the taxes are not the users of the library and therefore do not support their taxes increasing to support the library.

		The biggest threat is spreading resources too thin and trying to do too much. If the library provides current materials during as many hours as possible, then more people have access to those materials.[]
9126	7/10/2012	[] If there must be cuts, then the cuts should be to programs because volunteers and community organizations can organize and provide programs, but they cannot do that if the library starts closing branches or fails to maintain a collection that is available, current, and well rounded.
9127	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, I guess. That is happening both for local libraries like Multnomah counties, and also in the school systems where some districts are getting rid of librarians in order to keep teachers. Access to knowledge, information, and learning for everyone is extremely important.
9128	7/10/2012	That citizens will be confused about library hours and be unwilling to risk a trip to the library because they don't know if the doors will be open. Regular hours, every day, and current electronic versions is best.
9129	7/10/2012	Funding
9130	7/10/2012	cost
9131	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of understanding of how they help our community and economy long term
9132	7/10/2012	Funding cuts, if they were to happen.
9133	7/10/2012	Limited funding.
9134	7/10/2012	The economy and taxpayer thriftiness
9135	7/10/2012	if they're not available enough for people
9136	7/10/2012	People not having access to the libraries being open for all the programs that they come to rely upon.
9137	7/10/2012	Not enough support/funding by small minded members of the community (those that should be hanging out in the library more often!) As if school budgets have not taken enough toll on families, now budgets for our public libraries, too? Seems like a conspiracy to make it absolutely impossible to take part in anything to get us ahead--education and free speech should not come at such a price.
9138	7/10/2012
9139	7/10/2012	No funding.
9140	7/10/2012	City Hall! Libraries should not have to depend upon other political entities for funding! Libraries need to find a way to be more self-sustaining and not rely solely on public funding, at least not new funding based on new taxes. People are un- or underemployed as is. Grants or fundraisers might be a good idea. Maybe people could donate old books and have a book sale to benefit the libraries. You might consider letting us have the option of purchasing borrowed books at discount prices if there are books we would like to keep.
9141	7/10/2012
9142	7/10/2012	Being our area has the highest number of people using the library it appears the funding is not available to help meet its demands.
9143	7/10/2012	Lack of use, little understanding of all the resources available

9144	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
9145	7/10/2012	tax money being spent on stupid, frivolous things only a very small percentage of the citizens can use, instead of being used for all or the majority of people, like funding the libraries.
9146	7/10/2012	Too little Money
9147	7/10/2012	Constant votes on library levies each voting year
9148	7/10/2012	Losing funding[] Theft of materials
9149	7/10/2012	fundind
9150	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9151	7/10/2012	Apathy, complacency, an (untrue) concept that they're somehow unnecessary in the digital age.
9152	7/10/2012	Cost to operate, Lack of money for Learning/reading
9153	7/10/2012	not staying current with technology and e-services
9154	7/10/2012	not having up to date materials and/or the materials not being accessible due to being closed
9155	7/10/2012	The internet!
9156	7/10/2012	The County cutting the funding. Stop closing Libraries, cutting staff and hours of operation and instead start making cuts to all those lazy county managers who are useless. Make the cuts at the top for a change.
9157	7/10/2012	In no particular order...[] 1. Apathy about educating oneself.[] 2. A lack of knowledge about basic civics, and losing the resources to gain that knowledge.[] 3. A lack of understanding about how education and access to information can make one a critical thinker and an effective participant in our society.[] 4. A deliberate (and seemingly active) attempt to reduce the amount of information available to the general public. (I don't want to jump into tin-foil hat land, but this does seem to be the case nowadays.)
9158	7/10/2012	Unfortunately, I think it is the homeless who use the libraries (especially Central) as places to sleep, congregate, and sell and use drugs. The crowd in front of Central makes it undesirable for families with children. The bathrooms at Central, Belmont, Hollywood, NW, etc. are always occupied by people using them for bathing and drug use. I saw a man actively OD and have 911 called in the lobby of Central when I was there for an infant storytime. These populations drive away the patrons who are more likely to donate and support the library system financially and bureaucratically. But, it is a public space, and I guess that there's nothing you can do.
9159	7/10/2012	The continued use of local libraries without the education as to where the money comes from. Hell, I'm even unclear as to where it all comes from.
9160	7/10/2012	not sure

9161	7/10/2012	People thinking that just because they don't use a public resource, there's no reason to pay for it. How about investing in your community? Or providing books for free to people who can't afford to buy them? Or allowing anyone and everyone to have internet access?
9162	7/10/2012	Funding
9163	7/10/2012	Not being open enough hours.
9164	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
9165	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9166	7/10/2012	budget
9167	7/10/2012	Reluctance by taxpayers to pay into the system through the tax structure.
9168	7/10/2012	e books
9169	7/10/2012	Underfunding
9170	7/10/2012	Lack of money to serve the varied needs of the neighborhood.
9171	7/10/2012	funding being cut.
9172	7/10/2012	lack of money
9173	7/10/2012	A lack of financial resources is the biggest threat to libraries in my opinion.
9174	7/10/2012	Lack of funding challenges.
9175	7/10/2012	Lack of money. All of the above services are important.
9176	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9177	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9178	7/10/2012	Incompetence. Some what joking. Not sure what to say. Most likely one is funding but that's obvious so I will just skip this one for I don't know other that maybe what information can be found on line but I doubt that will have influence over the pleasure of the library. Possibly education about libraries. I think people might not know about programs that are offered, or how to approach using a library, or things like that. If people have a better understanding of what role libraries can play in the community, there might be more vocal and public support
9179	7/10/2012
9180	7/10/2012	Budget constraints,
9181	7/10/2012	Not enough funding, it's scary to think that we might lose our libraries. I have had a library card since I was 6 years old, I'm now 73.
9182	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9183	7/10/2012	Seriously - NOT keeping up with the times and getting more e-Books - this is where the future is headed - if you can download a book vs going into a library and getting it that's what people want - NOT being open x amount of days a week -
9184	7/10/2012	Budget
9185	7/10/2012	lack of a permanent funding base
9186	7/10/2012	Not enough money to fund.
9187	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9188	7/10/2012	Insufficient funds to maintain and update our libraries - we need to stay relevant.

9189	7/10/2012	Inability to keep up with growing demand as population increases
9190	7/10/2012	Underfunding
9191	7/10/2012	$
9192	7/10/2012	Not enough money to keep libraries open. I love the service of putting a book on hold and having it delivered to my branch. Please do NOT get rid of this feature!
9193	7/10/2012	stable funding.
9194	7/10/2012	Use of them as a political tool. To constrain or attempt to constrain funding unless coupled with funding for some other item endorsed by politicians.
9195	7/10/2012	Penny-pinchers who aren't willing to throw in a few dollars a year to preserve our access to the written word! Many people seem to think there is nothing special or sacred about books, that just reading on computers or touch pads is somehow the same, so there is no need to fund libraries. Obviously, I couldn't disagree more!
9196	7/10/2012	Dropping any services. Libraries are one of our most important resources.
9197	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to keep them open and with current materials
9198	7/10/2012	To close the library
9199	7/10/2012	Illiteracy, Facebook, Twitter.
9200	7/10/2012	video games
9201	7/10/2012	funding and bullshit cuts in areas that are essential for ALL members of our community
9202	7/10/2012	funding issues
9203	7/10/2012	A lack of public funding.
9204	7/10/2012	Funding issues I imagine
9205	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, or fire.
9206	7/10/2012	Unstable funding.
9207	7/10/2012	Obviously, lack of funding. We all want good services but don't want to have to pay for it.
9208	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9209	7/10/2012	People being unaware or uncaring of the resources they offer. Usually because they have access to those resources themselves independently.
9210	7/10/2012	I'm sure you guys know more about that than I do. Like most things, it always seems to come down to money/funding. Trying to keep an institution that was created in a very different time up to speed with new demands for fast NOW NOW NOW technology, media, and other materials. I think the public expects a whole lot of services (and this doesn't apply only to the library) but doesn't at all realize the amount of taxation that is required to sustain high levels of service. People seem to expect the libraries to cater to all of their print, computer and other research/media desires and needs as if the library is their home (but one they don't have to pay for.) It's a beautiful thing, and a necessary thing, but it can't be EVERYTHING to everybody.

		I don't believe they are threatened. We just overwhelmingly renewed the local option levy.[] []
9211	7/10/2012	But if I had to select one thing that poses a long term threat, I'd say making the transition to fully supporting electronic books. Although I personally prefer hard-cover materials, I think the library's support for electronic books is mediocre: the process for establishing service is arcane and tedious, it doesn't support Linux users (a big deal in Portland) and the wait times are too long. Our biggest threat comes from those idiots who still think that high school drama, music and [] graphic arts are no longer justifiable. Their exclusion worries me. [] []
9212	7/10/2012	Budget cutting fools wouldn't recognize America's grim prospects with reduced artistic [] freedom and an eroded knowledge base if it came up and bit them on the butt.[] [] Today's politicians? Let's defeat a majority of the pandering fools this November and start over. I'm so deeply ashamed of my generation, those who were born between 1935 and 1965. They have turned my [] nation so focused on the bottom line that hope and imagination is being squeezed out of our kids.
9213	7/10/2012	eBooks, change in habits brought about by the Internet, apathy.
9214	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9215	7/10/2012	Low funding, lack of interest from those who don't use the library.
9216	7/10/2012	e-books, perhaps?
9217	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, hours and updating making them seem outdated or irrelevant to users who make up the funding voters.
9218	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9219	7/10/2012	?
9220	7/10/2012	In my opinion, one big threat to the local library was the inept and somewhat disingenuous way the last levy passed, was sold to the public as a library improvement, yet you still closed a day added and then asked for another levy to alleviate it. To many in the metro area, it felt like a very crass case of "bait and switch" on the YOUR public, a public reeling with their own financial difficulties of their own that no one in places of civic power seem to appreciate or take into consideration. [] [] I am a liberal to the core, but the last levy and outcome felt manipulative and crass.
9221	7/10/2012	Resourses, activities, and community classes being scaled down or cut. I actually wish there was more for the community to utilize such as community resourse information on services such as adult literacy classes,ged classes,etc. Something to point people in the right direction to improve themselves.
9222	7/10/2012	Lack of public support and funding.
9223	7/10/2012	Funding!

9224	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, it certainly not lack of patronage, our branch is packed every moment it's open!
9225	7/10/2012	I'm not sure. Our library is so busy - I can't imagine life without it open.
9226	7/10/2012	A lack of a stable and adequate funding
9227	7/10/2012	Lack of support, financial and programmatic, from local government.
9228	7/10/2012	Budget cuts!
9229	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
9230	7/10/2012	Poor customer service from the Multnomah County Librarians is the largest problem. The fact that books are falling out of style. It saddens me greatly to think that people opt for the internet, rather than using materials that can be found at the library. However, I can see that the power of the web is greatly affecting the commonality of making trips to the library.
9231	7/10/2012
9232	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9233	7/10/2012	Reducing hours to a point that makes them inaccessible to the people who need and use them the most. The use of information gathering and creation on the web is fast becoming the go to place for people that are seeking to learn, understand, and grow. It moves at such a rapid pace that it leaves little time to think about solid resources like the public library for a grounded real world experience.[] []
9234	7/10/2012	Although many people still visit the library, the way it is looked at (as a brand) has changed. Finding a way to leverage that and remain grounded is a difficult task. The gap will continue to grow in understanding the importance of real world connections even something as simple as holding a book as we move forward.[] [] The library needs to act on controlling its brand and image to assure that what makes us human remains in tact in this fast pace world.
9235	7/10/2012	lack of funding?
9236	7/10/2012	Accessibility, I work during the day and want to use the library at night and on weekends but if the hours suck I can't get in there.
9237	7/10/2012	Reduced funding
9238	7/10/2012	Lack of funding?
9239	7/10/2012	apathy & reduced funding
9240	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and ignorance of those who don't realize how vital a thriving library is to a healthy, educated, wealthy community.
9241	7/10/2012	Not enough monetary support.
9242	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, misuse or mis allocation of funding that is available
9243	7/10/2012	becoming irrelevant due to limited hours. once alternatives are found, people may stop going to the library. keep the habit going by staying open!
9244	7/10/2012	Loss of tax revenue.

9245	7/10/2012	lack of consistent, stable funding.
9246	7/10/2012	people not bringing stuff back.
9247	7/10/2012	Funding
9248	7/10/2012	Um, I don't actually know... Sorry.
9249	7/10/2012	Failure to prioritize library funding and the libraries' need to prove fiscal responsibility.
9250	7/10/2012	limited hours/days
9251	7/10/2012	Cost-cutting or unwillingness to pay for the libraries in the face of budget shortfalls.
9252	7/10/2012	Internet and technology that gets rid of the use of books. Also lack of funding
9253	7/10/2012	Funding & lack of volunteers
9254	7/10/2012	Misuse of public funding to create oversized edifices and bloated staffing, who frequently stand around as customers struggle with inefficient checkout computers.
9255	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9256	7/10/2012	Payroll & unions
9257	7/10/2012	decreased emphasis on books
9258	7/10/2012	Running short of money
9259	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9260	7/10/2012	Budget cuts/the economy
9261	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
9262	7/10/2012	funding and awareness
9263	7/10/2012	Funding decreases.
9264	7/10/2012	People being cheapskates and not wanting to pay taxes for public services.
9265	7/10/2012	Funding.
9266	7/10/2012	Tax revenues
9267	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9268	7/10/2012	lack of funding. would like more e-books/e-magazines.
9269	7/10/2012	Funding Face it!! To a great extent Libraries are being replaced by the Internet.[]
9270	7/10/2012	[] The need for libraries has decreased.
9271	7/10/2012	budget cuts
9272	7/10/2012	NOT MAKING THEM A PRIORITY!
9273	7/10/2012	funding
9274	7/10/2012	Budget restrictions. The library is not able to provide the resources that our community needs to thrive without the funding. The library is vital to the community and should be treated with more importance.
9275	7/10/2012	Lack of funding?
9276	7/10/2012	Budget cuts

9277	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9278	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
9279	7/10/2012	Not sure.being closed, people made to use central that is not user friendly for those who are limited with hours especially if they work
9280	7/10/2012	Limited hours & outdated materials.
9281	7/10/2012	Funding cuts. We must maintain current level of service.
9282	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9283	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9284	7/10/2012	I do not know
9285	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to support programs.
9286	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
9287	7/10/2012	Computer acces
9288	7/10/2012	Our tax system.
9289	7/10/2012	The dwindling hours and schedule. Having a library system, such as the Multnomah County Library, is a privelege and it is sad to see the availability cut.
9290	7/10/2012	Lesser hours
9291	7/10/2012	Politicians stealing funding and cutting cuts in libraries, education, the elderly dependent on Soc.Sec.[] Vandals, etc.
9292	7/10/2012	Reduced service hours! If hours must be adjusted, please think of school kids and folks who work. Full hours on weekends is a must.
9293	7/10/2012	it seems like a lack of funding is the greatest threat to our libraries. I know many will argue that computers are the greatest threat, but I believe that there are still lots of people who want to hold a book in their hands and read it. In addition, i know from personal experience, that that library provides computer access to those who don't otherwise have that access. My father, who is 80, frequently uses the library computers to order books, as well as for many other reasons. His needs to now warrant the expense of internet access, so it's really nice for him to be able to have that access a the local library.
9294	7/10/2012	Apathy.
9295	7/10/2012	Staying relevant with online technologies expanding so quickly.
9296	7/10/2012	Allowing kids just to just play on computer. Should somehow hook the privilege to checking out material thereby instilling a sense of literacy in their visits. Then somewhere down the road they might actually open a book! Ergo, generating the next crop of reading library patron.
9297	7/10/2012	Underfunding
9298	7/10/2012	cutting hours, public apathy
9299	7/10/2012	The internet
9300	7/10/2012	Funding and theft.

9301	7/10/2012	Budget priorities of local government officials.
9302	7/10/2012	they become a destination for pornography viewing. there needs to be filters in place on computers.
9303	7/10/2012	I don't know
9304	7/10/2012	funding and lack of understanding that the library is also a part of the infrastructure of a community as is the police, fire, and social services.
9305	7/10/2012	funding
9306	7/10/2012	underfunding
9307	7/10/2012	Lack of funds and budget cuts. Short sighted commissioners who cut the budget
9308	7/10/2012	funding
9309	7/10/2012	Lack of operating funds.
9310	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
9311	7/10/2012	budget cuts
9312	7/10/2012	Censorship! Budget Cuts!
9313	7/10/2012	Folks who want continued increases in services (things like PC's and electronic media, not operating times for the library)!
9314	7/10/2012	electronics, plugged in kids, nature deficit disorder
9315	7/10/2012	I don't see a threat. Library services can and should be scaled to match available resources.
9316	7/10/2012	A society of people who are unwilling to pay an increase in taxes to keep our libraries open and fully staffed and funded.
9317	7/10/2012	Passivity by community members. Also - above, numbers 1, 2 & 3 should all be ranked as number 1 concerns and 3, 4, & 5 all as number 2 concerns.
9318	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9319	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
9320	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is safety in the library. It is often a place for the unemployed and homeless to frequent, which is not necessarily a bad thing. However, it could lead to theft. I also think the biggest threat is the public's unwillingness to pay for a service that is "free" to them. 1.22 per $1,000 is not a lot of money to donate to public libraries via our property taxes.
9321	7/10/2012	Being closed and services cut.
9322	7/10/2012	Of course, funding is the biggest threat to our libraries. However, in these times of economic hardship, we can not expect to maintain the services at the present level. Portland is very supportive of its Library System and would probably pass a request for more funding. But, is it the best thing right now. This city has a big problem funding the current education system and will be requesting a big bond measure this fall. I so see the library system as a continuation of education, but I would still be able to serve the community with fewer open hours.
9323	7/10/2012	I'm not informed enough to know the answer to this. I would guess lack of funds?
9324	7/10/2012	High Taxes
9325	7/10/2012	loss of funding

9326	7/10/2012	The Internet
9327	7/10/2012	Electronic books abnd loss of community.
9328	7/10/2012	money
9329	7/10/2012	Outdated infrastructure
9330	7/10/2012	Don't try to squeeze more money out of home owners. Its not fair and we will vote it down. Make the best use you can with the $$$ you have
9331	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and reduced perception of importance in the community.
9332	7/10/2012	lack of funds leading to closures and/or leading to inadequate materials.
9333	7/10/2012	Budget constraints as evidenced by the one day per week closing.
9334	7/10/2012	I'd assume funding.
9335	7/10/2012	I don't understand the question. Wouldn't that be the lack of funding you are speaking about right now? Libraries are valuable resources for all ages and socioeconomic classes.
9336	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding
9337	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, which leads to less resources for the library to host events and provide services. These services are an important part to building a community, as the library is available to everyone.
9338	7/10/2012	People who use the computers at our libraries inappropriately like going an adult sits. You should have the computers blocked to a child friendly level.
9339	7/10/2012	Large, multi-national, private-but-publicly-subsidized corporations, who do not pay their fair tax share, towards ensuring that our public services (like schools, libraries, public safety, safe drinking water, electricity, public transportation systems, hospitals, etc) are not only restored, but enhanced. As long as the tax burden falls on the shoulders of an eroding middle class, our system will continue to experience additional, severe collapse. Our way of life, is currently threatened. What are our elected leaders, board members, and business community members doing, if anything, to address this important revenue issue?
9340	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, from the sound of it. :(
9341	7/10/2012	Money.
9342	7/10/2012	Lack of proper funding and community support
9343	7/10/2012	cutting back hours and staff..... not being open..... so good that's if FREE to us
9344	7/10/2012	Government mismanagement and bureaucracy.
9345	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding
9346	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is not censorship or book-burning. It's people that don't appreciate how much funding is required to operate a library system as large and complex as Multnomah County's. It's people that don't want to pay their fair share of library taxes.
9347	7/10/2012	being loved to death, kind of like mount hood
9348	7/10/2012	That people will find them irrelevant, out of date, unhelpful, confusing hours and access and they will start to fail as centers of our communities.

9349	7/10/2012	As more and more media become available on line, what will be the role of hard copies. What is the plan for the future? How will you sell that plan to your public.
9350	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to the public library is limited hours. In the new budget reality if libraries are forced to dramatically decrease their hours then they will be drastically reduced in their ability to serve their public.
9351	7/10/2012	Not many people are going to find books in the library since the e-books become more convenient nowadays, what I think is the threat from spending too much money on getting new printed books is unnecessary, it would be helpful if that we have more access on e-books or computers that allow us to read from them.
9352	7/10/2012	Lack of funding due to economic difficulties of local governments.
9353	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9354	7/10/2012	don't know
9355	7/10/2012	I am not sure.
9356	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9357	7/10/2012	Digital media, and the immediate availability of such through Cable, Satellite TV, and the Internet.
9358	7/10/2012	budget restrictions!
9359	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9360	7/10/2012	Oregon's terrible budget issues.
9361	7/10/2012	Lack of updated and accessible materials.
9362	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9363	7/10/2012	Funding. As usual, something that meets the needs and provides a valuable resource for those most in need and disenfranchised is the first thing to be cut.
9364	7/10/2012	non returned books
9365	7/10/2012	The lack of a permanent funding solution. Anything that has to go to the ballot at regular intervals is at risk of going down in flames.
9366	7/10/2012	A lack of funding. We are great as we are, and I wish voters would decide to fully support at least what has been normal for the library in the past (open 7 days a week, with special programs for children, seniors, and jobseekers).
9367	7/10/2012	It sounds like funding is the biggest threat.
9368	7/10/2012	Proper funding, which should come not just thru property taxes. I believe the majority of library patrons are NOT home owners and therefore NOT helping to fund the library system.
9369	7/10/2012	People not appreciating the value of books, due to the availability of lesser quality information online.
9370	7/10/2012	I have no idea, I don't think in terms of threat. I think in terms of opportunity. You get what you focus on.
9371	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and reduced hours and days open to the general public.
9372	7/10/2012	People who are not willing to pay more taxes to support the library.
9373	7/10/2012	Budget

9374	7/10/2012	Government.
9375	7/10/2012	De-funding
9376	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
9377	7/10/2012	funding
9378	7/10/2012	Lack of funds to keep the libraries open
9379	7/10/2012	I don't see any threats
9380	7/10/2012	Funding
9381	7/10/2012	Unstable funding, attempting to serve too many needs to too diverse a community with limited resources (providing resources for all community languages and cultures and assisting with social and personal challenges such as employment, education, etc.)
9382	7/10/2012	not being available. Every little bit of Midland library is used everyday it is open
9383	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding.
9384	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to the public library in American culture is limited hours. In the new budget reality if libraries are forced to dramatically decrease their hours then they will be drastically reduced in their ability to serve their public. The public library in America will only be irrelevant when it is inaccessible.
9385	7/10/2012	Having moved to Portland from a community where library support had all but vanished completely, I am convinced that there is a perilous downward-spiral set in motion once a library begins cutting back its open hours. Even one-day-per-week closures risk creating a public perception of a library that insufficiently serves its populace. This perceived insufficiency leads to a growing conviction of library irrelevance (subconscious or now), and thus a weakening of public support for library funding and programs. A vicious cycle begins. We mustn't let this happen in Portland! We must keep the libraries open seven days a week!
9386	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
9387	7/10/2012	No funding
9388	7/10/2012	Lack of funding is the greatest threat.
9389	7/10/2012	The fact that they are funded through government resources. Unless you get some solid, continuous source, you will always be looking at poor funding.
9390	7/10/2012	the internet access at the library. this is a waste of taxpayer money. every time i look, it's people using the computers for e-mail and games. if this is part of the library's mandate, then it should be re-evaluated.
9391	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9392	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9393	7/10/2012	I wouldn't know, honestly.
9394	7/10/2012	Personal Computers and a decline in youth reading.
9395	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9396	7/10/2012	budget cuts-higher up people deciding libraries and education come second not first.

9397	7/10/2012	Virtual libraries Limited access/fewer hours of operation.[]
9398	7/10/2012	Poorly maintained, older materials.[] Libraries failing to feel safe, such as a surplus of smelly, loud patrons in an altered state. I have only experienced this in certain parts of the Central Library.
9399	7/10/2012	Funding I'm sure, and children not appreciating reading. When I was in school we'd take monthly trips to the library. It was always very exciting.
9400	7/10/2012	Budget cuts that would limit or restrict hours of operations. I don't believe on-line media is a real threat because most parents drive children to use the library resource.
9401	7/10/2012	Books are more available online, which could be a threat. Local libraries offer services for stay home moms (like me), audio books, classes, etc that can be expensive to purchase. I think the library should be focusing on those types of services.
9402	7/10/2012	There is no threat. Like the post office, technology provides research and books to read and music and movies to your home.
9403	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; less interest in what the library has to offer; the internet.
9404	7/10/2012	Apathy.
9405	7/10/2012	That people don't understand what a great asset this is and how it empowers learning for so many.
9406	7/10/2012	"bad" people around the libraries.
9407	7/10/2012	Dis-interest by the rich (or government heads) who don't use the library system. Those who don't utilize the facilities do not understand the vital need this service provides.
9408	7/10/2012	Lack of new items
9409	7/10/2012	Lack of funding? Library branches closing down would be the worst, followed by a dramatic reduction in open hours/days.
9410	7/10/2012	Lack of awareness. I've had a library card for years, but only recently began to use it regularly because I didn't realize all the services the library had to offer. Once I discovered what the libraries had to offer I found myself visiting and using library services at least several times a month.
9411	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and digital works. Better online resources ie library to go.
9412	7/10/2012	Not being a place where school age children (5-18) can go for help with anything related to school learning. It is a safe place for these children as well.
9413	7/10/2012	Ignorance. Many people thing a library is about books (it is about information, and access), and many do not know how little money they contribute or about library funding. Perhaps not here in the PNW as in other parts of the country... At any rate, the meeting are great! Getting your users involved is also key.
9414	7/10/2012	Defunding

9415	7/10/2012	Their allowance of adults to view porn around what should be the the ultimate child friendly haven. My son who is twenty now recently told me that the first time he was ever exposed to porn was at the library while sitting next to an adult who was viewing it. The designated area for children was consistently full most of the time that we went. Had I realized at the time that adults viewing porn amidst children was a possibility I wouldn't have let him have access to the computers in the "adult" section even though it would mean he just couldn't use a computer. I do resent the fact that the rights of adults to view porn weigh more than the needs innocent children. I also feel that this policy encourages pedophiles to come to the library specifically to view porn in front of children. I have always voted in favor of library funding in the past. But I have voted against them recently and will continue to do so until some filtering is instituted.
9416	7/10/2012	Lack of knowledge among the general public about how important they are to the health of the community and how big a return the community gets from a consistent investment in this public resource.
9417	7/10/2012	Low priority given when making budget decisions, resulting in cuts and reduced services
9418	7/10/2012	The perception that they are invaluable resources and gathering places for the community.
9419	7/10/2012	Not enough money
9420	7/10/2012	online reading
9421	7/10/2012	Economic realities, I suppose, but that's true of everything--personal and community resources. There are always tradeoffs when funds are limited.
9422	7/10/2012	The lack of understanding of elected officials that the libraries serve the diverse needs of the community: children, job seekers, business and seniors. If you had understood you would have put the larger amount on the ballot last time and had our libraries able to serve the public.
9423	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is exactly what this survey is about -- reducing hours and/or number of days open per week.
9424	7/10/2012	That's a complicated question because our tax structure is broken and utilization of available tax dollars is not very good. You could say the threat is a lack of informed priorities. We spend money on frivolous things that don't matter, and fail to adequately support things that do...like libraries and schools.
9425	7/10/2012	lack of permanent funding
9426	7/10/2012	I'm not really in a position to say... theft?
9427	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; limited hrs so that people get out of the habit of using the libraries.
9428	7/10/2012	Funding shortages, ability to keep up with technological advances
9429	7/10/2012	decreased funding
9430	7/10/2012	apathy
9431	7/10/2012	Not staying abreast of technology advances that can provide new means of delivery of services
9432	7/10/2012	Funding
9433	7/10/2012	closure and lack of resources to purchase new books etc

9434	7/10/2012	Bed Bugs
9435	7/10/2012	most likely funding
9436	7/10/2012	Not being open enough days in the week and hours that encompass times beyond the work week. Access early and in the evenings is very important. Altho I could tolerate 6 days a week, those days must be full hours.
9437	7/10/2012	Not getting enough funding to provide the services we have come to expect.
9438	7/10/2012	Decreased funding, because we depend on property taxes, and property values have gone down. One comment about putting "all libraries open full hours, seven days a week" as my last priority - I think it is important that SOME library is open every day, for people who might only be off work that one day, or have access to a car that one day. If libraries need to close one day a week, then perhaps schedules should consider adjacent libraries having staggered schedules (for example, if Sellwood is closed Sunday, Belmont should be open Sunday and closed Monday).
9439	7/10/2012	The City of Portland and the Portland Development Commission basically sucking all the tax dollars away from the county and Multicolib for "urban renewal." There is no blight in Portland. We don't need a Sustainability Center. We need libraries, and the social service programs that the county provides.
9440	7/10/2012	That they are taken for granted by the community and not properly funded.
9441	7/10/2012	1. Uncertain funding source 2. Transition in public interest from books to electronic media, because this change requires a focused effort by creative staff to keep the library's services relevant. In a budget-challenged society, the trend is to cut staff instead of hiring or retaining people to develop ways to incorporate new media into the library's services.
9442	7/10/2012	corporate tax loopholes that suck state and local revenues dry
9443	7/10/2012	Funding
9444	7/10/2012	Young people who don't value reading and books and won't value having a library service in the future.
9445	7/10/2012	Ignorance
9446	7/10/2012	The Multnomah County Board.
9447	7/10/2012	Library management. Quit asking for more and do the best with what you have.
9448	7/10/2012	people with resources, power, etc. not valuing libraries if they have the resources to get online at home
9449	7/10/2012	decreased revenue in tight economy and potential underuse due to digital media?
9450	7/10/2012	funding
9451	7/10/2012	Hurricanes? Famine?
9452	7/10/2012	Increased costs of doing business lessen the ability of the current funding to stretch as far. □ Lack of understanding by some people of the benefit of a strong public library system to all community members.□ Decreased home values lead to decreased revenue.

9453	7/10/2012	Lack of hours. Reducing hours inhibits the ability of patrons to use, and therefore support, the library.
9454	7/10/2012	Funding
9455	7/10/2012	Decrease in availability.
9456	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding. Efforts to try to privatize the system.
9457	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9458	7/10/2012	tea baggers
9459	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9460	7/10/2012	Funding cuts and people reading less overall.
9461	7/10/2012	under-funding
9462	7/10/2012	Your own poor management and lack of vision.
9463	7/10/2012	Funding.
9464	7/10/2012	No idea
9465	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9466	7/10/2012	Insufficient funds
9467	7/10/2012	Loss of accessibility to resources. Hours cuts should come before service cuts.
9468	7/10/2012	The people who don't use the library. The people who control the monies for programs, that aren't serving the general public only a select group. Truly this is for all not just for the chosen few.
9469	7/10/2012	Maintaining a good selection of books, current and not current.
9470	7/10/2012	money
9471	7/10/2012	Funding.
9472	7/10/2012	Probably reduced budget
9473	7/10/2012	I don't know
9474	7/10/2012	Electronics. I don't understand why the new computer check out system. The new library seems less like a library, more like a computer store.
9475	7/10/2012	We need at least the central library open 7 days a week a/c for those in need etc.
9476	7/10/2012	Too many other initiatives to fund - the library is competing with limited resources in the community with many well-deserved funded programs.
9477	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to provide the ever-growing resources available.
9478	7/10/2012	Anti-tax sentiment.
9479	7/10/2012	Lack of power outlets in central main stacks. Computers are always full. If those with thier own laptops could plug in, I think there would be more support to raise funding.
9480	7/10/2012	Decline in funding.
9481	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and lack of support from lawmakers and taxpayers.
9482	7/10/2012	I don't believe I know of any threat!

9483	7/10/2012	lack of funding - far less important projects stealing money from our libraries. "Economic" interests superseding the entire point of having a healthy economy - taking care of our citizens, of which libraries play a vital role far more critical than any number of irrelevant projects that the city spends money on. Like, building completely unnecessary covered reservoirs that will not make our drinking water any safer than it already is.
9484	7/10/2012	Financial funds
9485	7/10/2012	I am a teacher, and I see the biggest threat to libraries being so many young people being more interested in social media and electronic and computer gaming rather than reading. I work in a low socio-economic area where many students don't have families who consider reading important, so that has a great impact on the kids--often no or few books at home.[] Another threat to the libraries is obviously lack of funding--perhaps if communities were more aware of the range of programs and resources available to them, they would increase their requests to the political folks of the city to support library funding.
9486	7/10/2012	Lack or loss of new materials coming on on a consistent basis.
9487	7/10/2012	Lack of knowledge about the wonderful resources at the library. This also results in a lack of funding because many have an antiquated idea of what a library is and does.
9488	7/10/2012	Elibraries and more online books
9489	7/10/2012	LACK OF FUNDS !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
9490	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9491	7/10/2012	Underfunding!! And, the proliferation of piracy on the internet-- of books, music, and movies. Also, maybe even bigger-- people don't like to read as much any more. Perhaps Portland is atypical that way-- a lot of us older people--over 50-- love to read!
9492	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is the loss of funding and limiting access to the community.
9493	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9494	7/10/2012	budget cuts
9495	7/10/2012	Lack of education as to the importance of roles of libraries in our community.[] Censorship.[] Lack of funding.[] Republicans, tea baggers, libertarian and ignorant people.
9496	7/10/2012	Unless a better job of explaining the purpose of tax levies is made the library could lose some of its traditional support. I voted for the last levy but was surprised and irritated by the cut back in hours even though it passed by a large margin! Competition for tax dollars from other government entities.....[]
9497	7/10/2012	With the ravenous appetites of current CITY,COUNTY, STATE and FEDERAL administrations for funding often questionable activities, Library activities suffer from tax payer burnout.
9498	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to any library is the lack of available hours. A library is useless if it is never open to the public at large.

9499	7/10/2012	Being reliant on govt funding
9500	7/10/2012	Lack of public interest in funding.
9501	7/10/2012	Funds
9502	7/10/2012	The internet
9503	7/10/2012	Curtailment of operating hours, and reduction in budget.
9504	7/10/2012	Need to stay open with useful hours. Need to continue to have new materials. Will need a lot more electronic material to be worthwhile. But hold system is fantastic. UNDER FUNDING!
9505	7/10/2012	∅ I love the library and wish all the swrvices would be through them.
9506	7/10/2012	Necessary budget cuts, there isn't enough money for everything to be well funded.
9507	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9508	7/10/2012	Less financial backing from multiple resources.
9509	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
9510	7/10/2012	Seems like it's lack of funding.
9511	7/10/2012	The homeless population.
9512	7/10/2012	citizen apathy. Use the library and participate in surveys and programs, let the county know we need it.
9513	7/10/2012	Funding
9514	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, cutting hours or closing.
9515	7/10/2012	Part children being apathetic, but more than that, a lot of people think there's no place for books in the digital age. You need to re-image your establishment not as just a building of books, but as a media center (books are media too). Then people who still like a good hardcover will be happy, but so will those who want movies or e-books. I know you already have some digital media, but stepping that up will really help your game.
9516	7/10/2012	Greed.
9517	7/10/2012	I've heard talk about privatization. That sounds bad, bad, bad!

		besides an economy in decline?[]
		besides electronic access making libraries seem anachronistic to many?[]
		[]
9518	7/10/2012	(1) the purging of older, less popular books, out-of-print books. a bad attitude toward conserving historic materials[]
		(2) I've heard upper management is autocratic and highly clique-ish, so demoralized workers doesn't help.[]
		[]
		also, the degradation of the library environment -- many do nothing to discourage boisterous activity, loud conversations, intrusive music, even food & drink next to computers/books. Do we really all need to be making noise everywhere we go? Can't there be a sanctuary of calm left in the public domain?
9519	7/10/2012	Funding
9520	7/10/2012	e-books
9521	7/10/2012	e-books
9522	7/10/2012	Probably financial issues.
9523	7/10/2012	People not wanting to fund libraries. They are a tremendous resource for the community.
9524	7/10/2012	apathy
9525	7/10/2012	Not staying up to date with current media.
9526	7/10/2012	funding
9527	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. The internet?
9528	7/10/2012	Funding
9529	7/10/2012	Advertising your bond levy as the solution to financial needs and then cutting services within a month. It makes you look like liars.
9530	7/10/2012	don't know
9531	7/10/2012	costs associated with running / staffing - probably health care costs that require us to make cuts.
9532	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9533	7/10/2012	Idiots who refuse to support it.
9534	7/10/2012	Closure
9535	7/10/2012	inattention
		looks like it is funding. []
9536	7/10/2012	Need to community to participate more. []
		Maybe get some local celebrities to volunteer a couple of hours. []
		Put out fliers in different places for important events
9537	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is lack of financial oversight by Multnomah County.
9538	7/10/2012	Taxpayers voting against supporting them.
9539	7/10/2012	Penny pinchers

9540	7/10/2012	New technology (Kindle, Nook, etc.) and lack of funding.
9541	7/10/2012	Funding and under valuation by the community. Some libraries will also suffer by not keeping up with technology, but I feel the Multnomah County Library System is ahead of the curve in that area.
9542	7/10/2012	The lack of funding for the library system along with the explosion of online book sellers who discount books heavily to their customers.
9543	7/10/2012	?
9544	7/10/2012	I don't know.
9545	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9546	7/10/2012	Don't know
9547	7/10/2012	Our crappy property tax system that trades off city and county services in stupid ways. We need to fix the tax compression problem.
9548	7/10/2012	Not having the funds to operate.
9549	7/10/2012	I have no idea, I would imagine people who are greedy or short-sighted and don't understand that it's better to invest in libraries than jails.
9550	7/10/2012	I don't know about the "biggest threat" to the libraries at the moment but one stumbling stone might be the lack of engagement from the public. For example, I have a ton of books I could donate to the library but don't know what that takes. I am nervous the library may not want my books to share. Maybe if the library were to email out to folks what the library needs-we might respond with items suitable for the libraries inventory.
9551	7/10/2012	internet, Kindle, budget constraints
9552	7/10/2012	Stable Funding
9553	7/10/2012	societal perspectives and framework that under-values education and the arts, as well as public services
9554	7/10/2012	Lowered taxes and lack of community involvement.
9555	7/10/2012	indifference
9556	7/10/2012	Probably a lack of funding; at least I assume so. I don't know that I'm in a position to say. The biggest threat is probably apathy or a misunderstanding of all the services/resources/cultural materials that a library offers its community.
9557	7/10/2012	apathy and the ignorant.
9558	7/10/2012	We should not take an all or nothing approach. We simply need to be better stewards of our resources. We shouldn't have 50 copies of the latest Spiderman movie for example. The library isn't meant to replace Netflix. When items are lost they should not automatically be reordered. Take stock of how many copies you already have, what the demand has been, and know that demand will decrease after the fads lapse. Collect fines.
9559	7/10/2012	limited access and limited hours
9560	7/10/2012	Not sure
9561	7/10/2012	closing locations

9562	7/10/2012	With the recent levy having passed, I was stunned to see that the Belmont Branch would be closing a day of the week, when it had always been open all seven. This is a very in-demand library, where the computer wait times sometimes last 45 minute. Still, this is the only free resource for so many people. I would have been lost without the library when I was unemployed. I think the biggest threat to our library is reckless spending on the part of the city in other places; compared to most other cities, Portland is smart enough to embrace their libraries.
9563	7/10/2012	I think programs will be cut and students will not have a place to study and research as needed at last minute. Will affect programs for toddlers and parents.
9564	7/10/2012	Easy access of information through the internet
9565	7/10/2012	Apparently funding...
9566	7/10/2012	As always, funding.
9567	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9568	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9569	7/10/2012	lack of funding and $ for maintence
9570	7/10/2012	Budgets
9571	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Theft of materials
9572	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9573	7/10/2012	funding
9574	7/10/2012	Unpayable debt interest on bonds
9575	7/10/2012	paying too much in salaries and wages. Many people, I'm sure would be happy to volunteer. So, I would have to say the government is the biggest threat.
9576	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9577	7/10/2012	loss of funding - too limited hours
9578	7/10/2012	Lack of proper funding. Funding should not be compromised at all. Shortage of hours and staff members is simply unacceptable given the wide use and value libraries carry in PDX.
9579	7/10/2012	The Multnomah County Library system is under no threat because it has done such a good job of integrating itself into the community by providing services that people need beyond books and media.
9580	7/10/2012	Lack of stable public funding.
9581	7/10/2012	The crippling of our library system by funding reductions over the next 5 years. We all saw what happened to the southern Oregon public libraries.
9582	7/10/2012	Residents who use the library taking it for granted. I think that a lot of library patrons seem to think of our amazing library system as a right that should be guaranteed to them regardless of whether or not they vote for additional funding. People would do well to remember that very few countries have such excellent public libraries, or even any public libraries at all, and the library system deserves our support.

9583	7/10/2012	Non-users who do not understand the benefits offered and will not want to pay for them. If days and hours have to be shortened, then we all have to make do in these times. If days and hours are shortened it would be nice if at least one branch were open any day of the week in a given sector of town--ie alternate the closings instead of maintaining the same schedule for all--unless that creates too many problems.
9584	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and spreading itself too thin, as in too much spending on programs that aren't essential to a library. Focus should be on books and other media and offering as wide a selection as possible.
9585	7/10/2012	I think spending for new media like movies and ebooks could be an issue, but I've read that the library is being used by many more people now, too. I go to the library a few times a week with my baby and notice that there are many children there without parents after school... I really worry for these kids now that the library is closed Mondays - where will they go? We're a very diverse neighborhood with a high proportion of low SES families and the library is vital to the community!
9586	7/10/2012	As fewer middle/upper class community members access the library due to the popularization of digital media, libraries will be considered less integral to the community. Libraries are increasingly essential to the poor or working class and to immigrant communities as it provides computer instruction, job hunting resources and avenues to information they would otherwise be unable to access. Additionally, the elderly will continue to use the library as it has been their traditional access point for media. Unfortunately the elderly, the immigrant communities and the poor are the most marginalized, vulnerable and under served populations. Funding for programs and services that benefit them is always cut first as their voices are weak and their value considered minimal. As the users of the library shift from the upper and middle classes to members of marginalized communities, funding will no longer be considered essential.
9587	7/10/2012	Adequate funding to continue the first class system that is an important part of many people's lives, the city's culture, and social consciousness.
9588	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9589	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9590	7/10/2012	more cutting of hours
9591	7/10/2012	I didn't know they were threatened. Possibly digital books.
9592	7/10/2012	I am not sure
9593	7/10/2012	Capitalism?
9594	7/10/2012	funding, I suppose; keeping up with changing technology and the ability to meet a wide range of needs among a diverse clientele
9595	7/10/2012	Constantly fighting funding issues. I don't know what I'd do without the library. It's sometimes my home away from home!
9596	7/10/2012	Taking them for granted!

9597	7/10/2012	Loss of focus by library budget coordinators - libraries are for books, research, etc. Do not get muddled down by unnecessary feel-good programs. And don't sweat not being open every single day.
9598	7/10/2012	Funding constraints due to compression.
9599	7/10/2012	Hours and materials being restricted due to budget to the point that people start to look for different ways of accessing materials.
9600	7/10/2012	theft
9601	7/10/2012	Failure of a large portion of the Voting population to use the Library and understand why they should make voting decision to maintain the system and keep it always there and available. 1. Not having up to date resources, materials and electronic infrastructure.[] 2. Open hours being cut.[]
9602	7/10/2012	[] I am willing to pay a tax, a levy or small usage fee or whatever, if need be, to achieve these goals. Under no circumstances do I ever want the library to close because of fiscal constraints like in Jackson County - just goes to show where the brains are with those back country rubes.
9603	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is that there won't be funding to keep them open. This seems a strange question.....E-books? Lack of funding? I do not know.[] []
9604	7/10/2012	Question 5, above, will provide misleading answers. If I could have, I would have said the most important thing is to have the library open 5-6 days a week and to close NONE of them. As the survey set-up forces a ranking, it appears I have less of a preference for the other programs listed when, in fact, I find them unnecessary. If a library has books to lend and access to reference material, I feel it is fulfilling its purpose. Some of these other "programs" are OK, but not necessary. Stable funding. I recently left the library as an employee after seven+ years. During which time I participated on several committees and task forces and contributed to the well being of my customers and fellow workers to the best of my ability. After already being forced to take an involuntary demotion, even after receiving two Roside nominations, and being told that if I did not take the demotion I would be put on a discipline plan, I was going to be bumped into a lower classification, to a different location with a new schedule, which would not have been conducive to raising a family as a recent single parent due to the recent death of my spouse. I invested a year and $15,000 of my own money to pursue an MLS, what I thought would be a wonderful way to improve myself, both personally and professionally, as an MCL employee and during the last three years I only received a 3% COLA increase, yet my utilities and property taxes continued to increase. None of the upper management was affected during the recent cutbacks, except for those who opted to retire and some actually benefited from the situation. Having no competition for positions that should have been national recruitments. I also have a problem with a deputy director who not only does not have an MLS but has never 'worked' in a library, and who opts to live outside the County and as a result not subject to the same property taxes that the library keeps asking to increase.[]
9605	7/10/2012	I had never been treated as poorly as I had been as an employee of the library in any of my history of employment. Yes, I
9606	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.

9607	7/10/2012	closure
9608	7/10/2012	I'm not sure about this.
9609	7/10/2012	misuse of computers by children, etc.
9610	7/10/2012	Foolish people who don't want to pay taxes to keep them open.
9611	7/10/2012	Lack of access
9612	7/10/2012	Lack of interest which leads to lack of funding.
9613	7/10/2012	I don't know
9614	7/10/2012	Not sure.
9615	7/10/2012	When I go to the Library I do see some people on the computer appearing to hook up through free e-mail for drug deals and other illegal or immoral activity. I think this element is a threat to Families and young people that are there for overall education, enjoyment or research.
9616	7/10/2012	underfunding
9617	7/10/2012	the internet and ebooks - we want our hours back!
9618	7/10/2012	funding
9619	7/10/2012	zombies?
9620	7/10/2012	closures
9621	7/10/2012	Complete closure. Any part-time scenario is preferable to none.
9622	7/10/2012	A cultural move away from the importance of free books in the community.
9623	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9624	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
9625	7/10/2012	Lack of awareness of the myriad ways the library is of huge importance to so many different segments of our population.
9626	7/10/2012	Overspending
9627	7/10/2012	Underfunding
9628	7/10/2012	Waning interest in the written word and pages that physically turn. Budget cuts for funding and sustainability (which is sadly already happening).
9629	7/10/2012	Poor funding? Also the technology age: people use their media devices a lot (like kindles, etc) so keeping up with that.
9630	7/10/2012	Apathy. When people don't use the library, they stop seeing the importance of having a place that people can find knowledge and learning resources for free. For a democracy to thrive, these things must be available for free for all those who seek it.
9631	7/10/2012	I have no idea. Maybe the fact that there are so many? (do we need 19 library branches?)

9632	7/10/2012	People running Multnomah county and Portland. Spending money to build a government sanctioned crack house in China Town while they close down schools. Worrying about fishing when Libraries are closing their doors. Let's face it, this is just a ploy. In the end the county and the city will do what ever serves the politicians best interest. No one will actually read these surveys or take any of the advice in them. If they had been listening to taxpayers these last 6 years the Libraries would still be open. But that's fine go ahead and paint another bike lane, rename another street.
9633	7/10/2012	With 83% yes vote, wasn't a survey asking about increasing the assessment to $1.22/k for full funding considered?
9634	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9635	7/10/2012	e-books
9636	7/10/2012	N/A
9637	7/10/2012	Funding.
9638	7/10/2012	I'm not sure.
9639	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
9640	7/10/2012	Digitization of content - users may expect digital content online.
9641	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding, constant threats to reduce services.
9642	7/10/2012	Short-sightedness.
9643	7/10/2012	budget restraints
9644	7/10/2012	Well, it appears that budget constraints are a huge problem. That said, there certainly seems to be an enormous amount of community support for the system.
9645	7/10/2012	Program cuts. It does not matter if the library is open seven days a week if it does not provide the resources and draw for specific groups to use the facilities when open.
9646	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9647	7/10/2012	Funding shortages. For us the library is a high priority. We hope that the county will continue to see the library as a high priority.
9648	7/10/2012	If people feel overtaxed they will see the library as a luxury as has happened elsewhere and it will lose its general support. The city needs to stop wasting money on other programs and anticipating that there will always be support for libraries through more tax levies. Trying to create a new tax district will be a big mistake.
9649	7/10/2012	I don't know how our libraries are threatened.
9650	7/10/2012	People who don't use libraries and who don't want to pay for them is the biggest threat. There are many people who fail to understand the importance that if we all pay a little, that keeps the few from paying a lot, or worse, not having a great library system at all. Even though I don't use the library a lot I'm willing to pay more to keep libraries available for those who do.

9651	7/10/2012	I would say apathy towards printed material. Many think that the internet or kindles/android/ipad/nooks are all we need. I'm sure that many people think that libraries are "old fashioned" and unnecessary. But I think that it is SO, INCREDIBLY important for free unfettered uncensored access to information; it is one of the single biggest differences between an "open" society such as our own and a controlled society like, say, China or Iran. Libraries HAVE to stay open, in my opinion, because not everyone has access to the internet or to cheap/free books.
9652	7/10/2012	I think it is lack of action and also people don't realize what a great resource it is. ¶ I would like to see more librarians coming to visit classrooms regularly to introduce and remind students of what is possible for them. Also, students could share their interests for new programs. classroom visits really have an impact on my ESL/ENL students. They often simply do not know what is available to them and that they can have a voice in the community.¶ Students should also know about the library used book store, because many want to buy books, especially older dictionaries to save money, and they do not know about this resource either.¶ It's a really important freedom to maintain, because INFORMATION is available to all people--so it affects literacy, community involvement, personal growth in learning, EVERYTHING.
9653	7/10/2012	Local libraries need to stay local and dependent on the immediate communities they serve. Library services cannot be seen as immutable provisions. To stay viable under changing economic conditions, communities must take responsibility for the libraries and their services location by location. Instead of raising taxes, raise volunteering.
9654	7/10/2012	Budget cut. Misunderstanding that we don't need a library.
9655	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9656	7/10/2012	funding
9657	7/10/2012	funding
9658	7/10/2012	Reduced hours.
9659	7/10/2012	you run them, don't you know?
9660	7/10/2012	?? don't know, we've always loved our libraries and visited them regularly -- probably just underfunding!
9661	7/10/2012	Funding
9662	7/10/2012	Apathy. People don't realize what an important resource it is and how to use it.
9663	7/10/2012	none, strong support
9664	7/10/2012	Public apathy and lack of community involvement are the biggest threat to libraries.
9665	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Also, doing things that irritate the community the library needs to support it, like diminishing library hours immediately after voters have just shown support for the library on the ballot.
9666	7/10/2012	Less service for more money!

9667	7/10/2012	First, the biggest threat to local libraries is the library not keeping up with changes in media and usage for classic and new works. Electronic access to all media forms will allow reduced staffing needs and provide the material users want. Second, access to non-mainstream materials such as older titles and out of print titles in electronic format.
9668	7/10/2012	privatization this is a shared resource.. and needs to be spread over the total tax dollar..JUST LIKE POLICE, FIRE and PARKS
9669	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
9670	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding.
9671	7/10/2012	The American Mentality; greedy taxpayers, or better said, resistant taxpayers, who think saving money now means the future is not in jeopardy.
9672	7/10/2012	Technolgy
9673	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9674	7/10/2012	the economy, it seems, perhaps followed by abuse of privileges, and an unclear mission
9675	7/10/2012	I can only assume funding is the biggest threat. I do assume that educated and dedicated people will be consistently running this fine library system. Probably, the next threat to libraries is (and this obviously comes under "funding") is cutting programs. Better to have libraries closed one day per week, etc. than to cut any of its various programs.
9676	7/10/2012	Not sure. The community definitely seems to support the libraries but if you begin to cut hours and availability, you might lose that support. We also can't afford to keep increasing the amount of taxes when our schools are suffering. So perhaps, six days a week is the compromise for now.
9677	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is the idea of "pulling back" programs at a time in history when we need to move forward. All students do not have access or availability to the things they need to pursue a life long interest in reading and learning. Libraries provide this. I cannot emphasize enough how strongly I feel the need for libraries to move forward.
9678	7/10/2012	republicans
9679	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. I love libraries!
9680	7/10/2012	Budget cuts that force an essential resource for people to be reduced.
9681	7/10/2012	Wow, you are really trying to come up with stuff to use in the election campaign. I am voting in favor, but who wrote this poll?
9682	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9683	7/10/2012	funding issues
9684	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
9685	7/10/2012	not sure.
9686	7/10/2012	Local Government

9687	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I presume, reflected in the current shorter hours. Can't speak to acquisitions, but my branch has a regular selection of new books. Perhaps biggest threat is the notion that availability of media in other channels (Internet, pay services, ebooks etc.) supercedes the library, but I certainly don't look at commercial channels as a substitute. The library has a more complex mission, to provide accessibility to the whole community.
9688	7/10/2012	All of these budget cuts. There aren't very many people that would be willing to volunteer their time, but there are enough; however, with the budget cuts, we can't purchase new materials and that punishes the users.
9689	7/10/2012	Lack of money due to a stagnant economy (due to Washington politics)
9690	7/10/2012	Making them "unavailable" to the community. If libraries are not open regularly, I feel like their usage will decrease because they will not be a reliable resource.
9691	7/10/2012	Much like our public schools, the number of things our libraries are expected to do, and the number of services they are expected to provide vs. the voting public's perspective of those roles, the dissociation of the two, and what 'fully funding' means correspondingly are the problem. If the perception is that a library is a book and media repository, voters will choose to fund at one level regardless of services provided; if the awareness of all the library does is raised, hopefully so will a willingness to absorb taxation.
9692	7/10/2012	Money. But we still have the best library system anywhere.
9693	7/10/2012	Fox news
9694	7/10/2012	The incompetence and derangement of city government and its drain on county resources through excessive and inappropriate usage of the urban renewal mechanism. there was no reason to renew the Pearl urban renewal status, and PSU's is arguably an unwarranted mechanism for that school and for the city to pursue its untimely sustainability building and other agenda, which the legislature rightly refused at this time of economic depression. The revenue going into these two and to most of the other urban renewal projects is diverted, as you know, from other basic and urgent services, and the county coffers suffer as a massive direct/indirect drain on the services it provides. Another source that threatens all of us is the protracted refusal of every government branch in this state to deal with tax reform that alleviates the excessive burden of property tax. This becomes even more threatening as the population here and elsewhere ages and must live on fixed incomes, but other groups of people also suffer from the inability to gain reliable jobs with living wages. And so on....
9695	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding
9696	7/10/2012	N/a
9697	7/10/2012	The recent levy vote, to me, showed that the public believes in supporting the libraries financially, by passing the only option on the ballot. I think that the decision to cut back hours immediately after a show of support from the public was a HUGE mistake. It feels like a slap in the face to the people paying the bills, and I believe it is the biggest threat to getting the public to support any further funding.

9698	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9699	7/10/2012	Budget Cuts
9700	7/10/2012	funding issues
9701	7/10/2012	electronics
9702	7/10/2012	people that steal services or materials
9703	7/10/2012	Probably funding cuts and also a disproportionate (to me) emphasis on computers.
9704	7/10/2012	Funding. Where else can you get a college education for $1.65 in late fees?
9705	7/10/2012	Poor community outreach. Libraries seem useful mainly to low income citizens.
9706	7/10/2012	Availability of books. It seems that when I request a book, quite often a large portion of the ones that should be available are lost/stolen or otherwise unavailable for the waiting list.
9707	7/10/2012	Lack of funding...being shut down.
9708	7/10/2012	Lack of funding ...
9709	7/10/2012	lack of stable funding
9710	7/10/2012	Funding is going to get harder to find. Perhaps something could be done to raise money in some other way.
9711	7/10/2012	$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$
9712	7/10/2012	Inconsistent/unpredictable hours. Every library should be open 7 days a week for the same number of hours-- as many as possible.
9713	7/10/2012	Lack of money. Lack of support. I'm honestly upset that we are at the 6-day week schedule again. That's one day that a lot of people could be there, working on their future, or learning, or simply being in a good safe place, and aren't. To have that closed on a weekly basis, that closed door is saying "the library isn't important enough for the city and the community." There are so many immigrant families in this neighborhood that benefit from our library. To see it closed gives the impression that it's not a priority within the budget and community's values. How awful.
9714	7/10/2012	Technology
9715	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I assume. The current trend towards e-books is helpful in some ways for accessibility to materials, but I think it will leave out the segment of the population who doesn't have access to e-readers. As a writer and reader, libraries are very important to me and I always vote yes on pro-library measures.
9716	7/10/2012	A lack of understanding of the enormous community-based value that libraries provide self-reliant and self-motivated children and adults -- to learn, to advance economically, and to be entertained and enlightened. Libraries are a community's best and most consistent gift to itself - a literary refuge, a broad base of knowledge, and a tangible alternative to consumer arts, music, culture and education. [] [] Libraries should exist throughout the city in abundance and open as many hours as possible.

9717	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is alleviated services dedicated to helping out the local community; for example, use of computers for job search and activities designed to help children read. budget cuts and not enough volunteers □
9718	7/10/2012	Why do we need so many librarians when we have updated the check out process to be more efficient? If they are volunteering that's one thing I hope we aren't paying them to stare at us to use the automated check out booths. I'm not sure about other branches but Belmont doesn't need so many librarians. I'd rather cut the number of librarians we have than to close the library. Public libraries are an astounding resource fighting the gravity of a population who increasingly finds what a library provides, available in their home whenever they want it. □ □
9719	7/10/2012	For me, the traditional attraction of a library is lessened when transient persons choose to spend their days availing themselves of the library's facilities. It squanders the work of many generations who wanted our library to be an outstanding learning resource for everyone.
9720	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding/support; lack of community support
9721	7/10/2012	Funding cuts!
9722	7/10/2012	Idiocy and the internet. Mostly politicians who don't realize that education and community support are vital to keeping the community functioning.
9723	7/10/2012	Funding cuts, I would think
9724	7/10/2012	Lack of hours and current resources.
9725	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9726	7/10/2012	I don't see any other than lack of funding.
9727	7/10/2012	Funding when general population is unaware of services and their importance
9728	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9729	7/10/2012	People not willing to pay a little more to keep the libraries open.
9730	7/10/2012	Funding challenges.
9731	7/10/2012	lack of funding - of course!
9732	7/10/2012	For me it is my busy schedule. Now that I am working more I don't have much time to go to the library. When I was home with my baby we had the time to go every week. Lack of funding, and the lack of information that people have about their local libraries. I feel like so many people are surprised when I tell them that I have checked out a movie from the library or used internet there. They don't know what it has to offer.
9733	7/10/2012	ignorant electorate
9735	7/10/2012	Conservative agenda.
9736	7/10/2012	Clearly, lack of funding.

9737	7/10/2012	Libraries need to think outside the box. Libraries need to find ways to deal with 'the baby sitting' problem. Libraries need more books, especially e-books. The biggest threat to local libraries is funding.
9738	7/10/2012	internet - e-readers
9739	7/10/2012	loss of access hours
9740	7/10/2012	That's a good question. To be honest, I'm not sure. One threat I can think of is that those of a poverty mind-set who are not fond of reading, do not every take their kids to read. They are the houses that when I take food baskets in our district for Christmas programs DO NOT HAVE A SINGLE BOOK IN THEIR HOUSE, except school text books. My average student has 1-5 books in their house that they own. I can't image the horror of not having books in every room.
9741	7/10/2012	closing or cutting hours is an issue in our society today that will decay our democracy and the library is one of this vital place where the public can go and learn about his world and government. the fall of past civilizations seems to come through our ignorance and lack of inquiring into our and this ignorance will manifested into illiteracy and lack of participation in our democracy. it is not only a threat to our libraries but to our society, democracy, country and the planet.
9742	7/10/2012	Taxpayers believing that Library Functions are not important...Bond Issues Failing
9743	7/10/2012	budget cuts.
9744	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
9745	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
9746	7/10/2012	no funding
9747	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9748	7/10/2012	lack of funding and a lack of understanding about what the library provides.
9749	7/10/2012	Budget cuts!
9750	7/10/2012	Tax revenue funneled to streetcars, police and other boondoggles.
9751	7/10/2012	proper funding
9752	7/10/2012	Reduced access to free public library services due to lack of funding
9753	7/10/2012	funding
9754	7/10/2012	lack of stable funding
9755	7/10/2012	e-books and financing
9756	7/10/2012	Closures and reduced services.
9757	7/10/2012	apathy
9758	7/10/2012	Funding and the internet.
9759	7/10/2012	Voters not realizing what an incredibly valuable resource they'd lose if the libraries were to be severely cut-back (thank goodness the levy was renewed with overwhelming support).
9760	7/10/2012	Misuse of funding
9761	7/10/2012	under funding
9762	7/10/2012	I don't really know.

9763	7/10/2012	Lack of financial support
9764	7/10/2012	Trying to be too many things to too many people.
9765	7/10/2012	Ignorance about the importance of equitable access to information, training, literacy, and the internet in our community, meaning that libraries play a monumental role in supporting the education and upward mobility of lower or limited income individuals, but folks that don't normally go to the library don't realize that when they vote to keep their taxes lower or not support bond measures. I also suspect that libraries might not be at the top of the priority list of county programs, though I think it should be per the cost benefit to county residents.
9766	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding
9767	7/10/2012	Funding and the use of those funds. I notice that there is a lot of funding coming in to libraries. We need to understand that we won't always have that money. It is important to save when times are good so we don't suffer when times are bad. As we have all seen, times are bad, but if we had saved our pennies when times were good, we wouldn't be in this mess
9768	7/10/2012	Limited acces and/or materials.
9769	7/10/2012	Lack of money. If our local government knew how to properly budget I think we wouldn't be in such a mess.
9770	7/10/2012	Not getting new material as it comes out.
9771	7/10/2012	Keep passing/renewing bonds and getting less and less services.
9772	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to keep our libraries open with appropriate staffing.
9773	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, at the moment. I am concerned about newspaper editorials implying that the library measure may "lose out" to the planning school levy next November. We need BOTH - but the schools really need a lot more help from the state. Our libraries have picked up many services that used to be provided by the schools, and I think that should be stressed if both issues do go onto the same ballot. ¶ ¶ In the long term, the challenge will be to keep abreast of electronic means of providing information as well as continuing to provide traditional media. Again, this will require funding.
9774	7/10/2012	Not maintaining programming that keeps libraries a focal community place. If we allow ourselves to maintain long hours but do not have meaningful programming while open, then the space becomes less useful and thus less used. Opening later in the day and having one day closed are effective means of maintaining programming while consciously responding to the budgetting needs for our libraries.
9775	7/10/2012	Lack of funding causing reductions in hours open, reductions in staffing, & materials being dated, limited, or not replaced when necessary.

		The cultural shift in how people read for pleasure and for purpose.
9776	7/10/2012	As computers and internet connections become ubiquitous in middle class homes, there will be less and less interest to support what will become regarded as antiquated institutions, unless the case is made that libraries are here to serve all members of the community.
9777	7/10/2012	Not qualifies to answer that
9778	7/10/2012	Funding
9779	7/10/2012	Being overwhelmed by illegal immigrants who use up resources, take up space, and monopolize computer terminals so tax paying citizens are unable to use the services.
9780	7/10/2012	inability to fund them properly
9781	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9782	7/10/2012	idk
9783	7/10/2012	Lack of fundjng
9784	7/10/2012	Stable funding.
9785	7/10/2012	Digital conversion of media. If everything goes digital, then why do we need so many local libraries? I don't see this as a bad thing, but an evolution of the way print media is going.
9786	7/10/2012	PERS funding
9787	7/10/2012	economy
9788	7/10/2012	People can't afford more and more taxing. I already lose nearly 1/3 of my income to taxes. Now that stupid obamacare will require me to spend yet more i can't afford. I love libraries, but i have bills to pay.
9789	7/10/2012	The economy as it currently stands and looks to stand under the current administration. If the community continues to suffer economically difficult times, then the funding base, ie. taxpayer's ability to pay their property and other taxes will continue to erode. Hence, the funding for the local libraries will continue to be threatened.
9790	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is not being able to keep up with technology. Information is so available, the library has to keep up.

		your rankings above are meaningless and don't reflect my opinion.[] [] how do you expect people to support locked buildings? if you're going to close at 5 p.m. no one with a day job can use the place. i was at woodstock saturday at 5 with two other people admiring the locked door.[] []
9791	7/10/2012	I'm 58; when I was young one subscribed to library service (paid for a card in order to check out materials, otherwise public.) If i got a letter REQUESTING a suggested donation (not even requiring it) i would probably contribute if it meant longer hours. i'm pretty poor and poor people need you more than anyone else. [] [] the biggest threat to libraries is their lack of visibility and the erosion of our rights to fair use under the DMCA.
9792	7/10/2012	inadequate funding
9793	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
9794	7/10/2012	funding
9795	7/10/2012	$$$
9796	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9797	7/10/2012	Apparently funding
9798	7/10/2012	unstable funding
9799	7/10/2012	Funding (of course) and also a change in the way people are reading books and finding information (e.g. internet or ebooks).
9800	7/10/2012	Lack of stable and adequate funding.
9801	7/10/2012	The collapsing tax base.
9802	7/10/2012	Being unable to constantly update materials with the newest media/books.
9803	7/10/2012	People not understanding that being able to read, analyze, and write, are essential skills for teens and adults.
9804	7/10/2012	Poor planning and overspending
9805	7/10/2012	apathy
9806	7/10/2012	I'm thinking Mold. If mold gets in or on the books, they will be no good. Seriously!
9807	7/10/2012	Budget Cuts as well as online resources. People are less likely to come to the library when they have google or netflix, even Itunes. reduction hours[]
9808	7/10/2012	inconvenient closure days
9809	7/10/2012	Funding

		Quite obviously, by the presence of this survey, I would be obliged to say funding.[] []
9810	7/10/2012	However, I also am of the belief that disinterest is an enormous threat. Standing behind the reasoning of figures such as Andrew Carneige, libraries are important, and offer huge possibilities for inividuals to amass knowledge. Libraries, in modern times, also provide huge opportunities to involve children, senior citizens, etc. If the libraries are open less, people come less, and forget why they went. Staying open should be priority number 1, as without patronage, libraries deteriorate. the only way to have patronage is to be open (no duh, right?).
9811	7/10/2012	Apart from prying eyes, which you do very well at keeping them at bay, I think ebooks are a real threat. I do not have a system to view them and, even if I did, I would still want to take actual books out. Guess I'm old (62) but I can go with both, but
9812	7/10/2012	The current educational system.
9813	7/10/2012	not staying current; falling into disuse; funding sources that are not stable and sustainable
9814	7/10/2012	The lack of funding which limits access to materials and resources. lack of funding.[] []
9815	7/10/2012	miseducation.[] [] Need an informed citizenry.
9816	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is failure to fully fund libraries.
9817	7/10/2012	It would appear to be lack of funding for operational functions. I've no idea.[]
9818	7/10/2012	I hope that the Portland library system will continue to offer such an outstanding service to our community. Our library system is one of the reasons I love (and live in) Portland. :)
9819	7/10/2012	Misappropriation of funds is the biggest threat to our local libraries. Government must realise that a drone population is not as beneficial to itself as it seems to believe. It's Reganomics in reverse :) : well informed citizens will grow from the ground up, to make a stronger, healthier, safer and wealthier society. It is in the best interest of governing bodies to keep their citizens informed rather than the priority focus being on entertaining them into a dull stupor.
9820	7/10/2012	People who don't know what a great resource libraries are and therefore don't see how useful they can be. Funding is always an issue for any public benefit/service but educating our population needs to be a priority. Libraries play a large par in that!

9821	7/10/2012	It is hard to choose what is the most important. They are all almost equally important. Although I would love for the library to be open any time I want to go, I think that the resources it offers are far more important than how many hours a week it is open. I think the biggest threat would be to limit the new materials coming in. Having kids, I also feel that it would be a huge threat to cut the programs available to them. The story times are not only getting kids excited about reading from the very beginning, but they can be a life saver for new parents needing to get out of the house and socialize and get to know other new parents. Seven years after going to my first story time, we are still seeing families periodically that we met at story time. Now that my kids are school age, the summer reading program is really making them motivated to read.
9822	7/10/2012	apathy and ignorance
9823	7/10/2012	Not being properly funded
9824	7/10/2012	Funding.
9825	7/10/2012	Closure
9826	7/10/2012	Nothing, open 6 days a week is good.
9827	7/10/2012	Apparently budget restrictions. The Portland libraries are wonderful and a very important resource to my sample of the community.
9828	7/10/2012	computer access to information and books
9829	7/10/2012	Funding is the biggest threat, and certainly the services being cut are going to have an impact on students who frequent the library to supplement materials needed for assignments.
9830	7/10/2012	Frankly as a person who does work the M-F work schedule, my family would much prefer having shorter hours during the work week, so that the library could be open more on weekends, or stay open til at least 6pm.
9831	7/10/2012	Funding
9832	7/10/2012	The internet
9833	7/10/2012	Not being open every day.
9834	7/10/2012	Funding, maybe. Shortened hours might cause usage to drop since folks not find it as convenient.
9835	7/10/2012	I am not sure, but new materials is very important to us since we get all of our movies, workout videos, books, magazines, dvds, etc. from the library.
9836	7/10/2012	Lack of relevant/current books, overcrowding, gross people
9837	7/10/2012	Too much money for bike lanes instead of libraries & parks
9838	7/10/2012	The biggest threats I see are eBook publishers and funding cuts. eBooks should be treated like any physical book; that is, there should be no limits on how many times an eBook can be borrowed and the use license should be at least ten years. Corporate publishers of eBooks are greedy, and they're using libraries to leech tax dollars. New media is huge and growing incredibly fast. The tight control publishers seem to be exerting over eBooks is ridiculous, and when you throw funding cutbacks into the mix, a dangerous scenario is created.

9839	7/10/2012	I feel like people who don't use the library have no idea about all the amazing things the library does. It is these people who are reluctant to fund libraries. I wish people would realize that in times of economic hardship, a well-funded library can offer a real helping hand to everybody.
9840	7/10/2012	A reduced tax base and the need to spend taxes elsewhere, such as fire and mental health services. Also a lack of focus on education and literacy in general.
9841	7/10/2012	"Ignorance" of voters who do not use (maybe have never used) the library, and have no understanding of the importance to people who do not have home access to computers, or think they can find ANYTHING via computer, so libraries are outdated. Such a sad, sad way to think. [] I have a computer, but the local library is more important to me!!
9842	7/10/2012	Funding!!!! Budget cuts and closing opening hours. In today's economy people might have to rely on internet access at the library and other resources as they can't afford it at home.
9843	7/10/2012	Not enough use because of limited hours.
9844	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. I would like to see some money set aside for advertizing the importance of have a local library. It accessible to all, young, old, rich and poor. Perhaps one could reach out to the community for colunteer work, ie stacking shelves, reading to kids, helping kids that need tutoring in all subjects.
9845	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9846	7/10/2012	e books
9847	7/10/2012	liberalism
9848	7/10/2012	Funding
9849	7/10/2012	funding cuts, meaning less hours
9850	7/10/2012	budget issues
9851	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of technology because of lack of funding....
9852	7/10/2012	rising costs leading to curtailment of library services
9853	7/10/2012	Privacy then funding
9854	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9855	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9856	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to remain open every day.
9857	7/10/2012	Underfunding due to the ridiculous idea that taxes are always wrong
9858	7/10/2012	lack of money I guess
9859	7/10/2012	People not having access,especially on days off. I would like to see. Livery open 7 days a week, with shortr hours. After dinner sees little use, from what I have experienced, so perhaps shorter days with one late night?

9860	7/10/2012	A lack of people's knowledge of how useful and awesome they can be. Many people don't seem to realize how great of a resource they are. I wish there was more emphasis on libraries in schools, to not only get kids, people, and families excited about reading, but also the sheer amount of information they can access.
9861	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding. The library is one of the very few tax supported activities that represents actual great value for the dollars.
9862	7/10/2012	To costly - over taxing those individuals that actually pay taxes. we could use less libraries.
9863	7/10/2012	Budget cuts!!
9864	7/10/2012	The idea that they are necessary. They aren't. In fact, the necessity of a library is going the same direction as Encyclopedia Brittanica. The services offered need to be tailored down to those things that are needed. Movies...not needed...resources for job seekers??? are you kidding me. Story hour for babies...flush it, not needed. English language learners...you mean illegal aliens...can it. Computer classes..not a library function, drop it.[] [] By offering everything to everyone, some of it exceedingly mediocre, you have over-reached and are thereby risking losing it all.
9865	7/10/2012	I'm not sure. I don't really follow the news much. I guess decreased funding.
9866	7/10/2012	Funding cuts and closures
9867	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
9868	7/10/2012	Budget Cuts
9869	7/10/2012	People who can't read!
9870	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding. The internet
9871	7/10/2012	Funding cuts!
9872	7/10/2012	Lack of budget
9873	7/10/2012	When budget decisions are made by politicians that threaten the library
9874	7/10/2012	not allowing children/ young adults access to information 7 days a week for school, work, pleasure and a peaceful place to visit
9875	7/10/2012	noise. Libraries used to be quiet places. Not anymore it seems :(
9876	7/10/2012	budget cuts I think that losing local support is the biggest threat. The public is generally very supportive of MCL, which is demonstrated by the voters continuing to approve funding measures. [] []
9877	7/10/2012	I'm concerned that closing all of the libraries on Mondays may have been a poor choice: perhaps staggering the closed day or choosing a different day--so many other institutions are already closed on Mondays, and a lot of parents, myself included, love to count on library time on Mondays!
9878	7/10/2012	I guess it would be people undervaluing them, and not supporting funding proposals.

9879	7/10/2012	It appears to be funding. We seem to go back and forth between the libraries being open all the time, to shorter hours and fewer days, and back again.[] [] Next to public schools, I think public libraries are the most important institutions in a community. They provide a wide range of services to people of all ages. They are a treasure that should be treated as such!
9880	7/10/2012	Access is critical. I would be more likely to vote for the school bond though.
9881	7/10/2012	Not being available for the people who need them most. They fulfill an important need, so it's important to make sure the resources they provide (librarians, books, computers, programs, etc) are available.
9882	7/10/2012	Closing, lack of funding and understanding how vital, and integral, public libraries are to our communities. In my opinion access to public libraries is one of the greatest privileges in our country, and one of the few opportunities available to all, whether one if employed, unemployed, for all ages, poor, wealthy or on the street.
9883	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9884	7/10/2012	Functional illiteracy. People who can't or won't read will not value and therefor fund libraries.
9885	7/10/2012	The threats are (a) the e-book craze (and related technological changes), which is moving toward destroying what paltry amounts of collective cultural literacy this society has managed to attain; and (b) moronic voters who won't bother imagining anything beyond sitting on their asses and whining about taxes and "big" government.
9886	7/10/2012	The easy acces to information through home and mobile digital delivery. Libraries have become antiquated.
9887	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding! Lacking of funding has already resulted in reduced service hours. For now, it's just Monday but if an unfortunate decision on the part of the Commission is made to not allow Multnomah County voters an opportunity to say yea or nay to a library district the hours of operation will by necessity continue to degrade resulting in frustration as to when a specific library is open and inconsistencies in programs such as story hours, reductions in keeping the collection current, general services such as interlibrary loan deliveries, keeping computer equipment up to date, etc.
9888	7/10/2012	Funding.[] [] How the Multnomah Library System, publishers, and society handle the transition to more electronic forms of media and entertainment. By the way, I get a lot of use out of your e-books and mp3 audio books.[] [] Younger generations reading less.
9889	7/10/2012	People not using the libraries, so more and more cuts and closures are made.

9890	7/10/2012	If everything were available online, it may seem not necessary to physically travel to that place where there exists communal curiosity and institutional support.
9891	7/10/2012	Well, I doubt I can add anything to the discussion that you haven't already considered but it seems to me the widespread access to home and mobile internet is the biggest threat. The library is no longer the information resource it once was and if I, say, just need a place to sit down and get some work/reading done, I can just as easily visit a coffee shop with my laptop and have an experience comparable to that of visiting the library. It seems to me that the library's unique offering (aside from providing internet access to those that don't already have it or books/DVD's to those that can't afford to buy/rent/watch from their computer) is the presence of actual people - helpful librarians, interesting lectures with Q & A, community activities - it seems that the library's forum for community discourse is its best strategy for dealing with the threat of widespread internet access.
9892	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
9893	7/10/2012	Not enough funding and support
9894	7/10/2012	people who don't want to pay taxes
9895	7/10/2012	The BIG school Bond
9896	7/10/2012	$$$$$$$$
9897	7/10/2012	Lack of grant funding for programs.
9898	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9899	7/10/2012	???
9900	7/10/2012	lack of appropriate funding
9901	7/10/2012	Stupid decisions made by the board. They are only threatened if you continue to ask for more money.
9902	7/10/2012	The public indifference to the value of this resource. Decline of literaccy among the masses
9903	7/10/2012	Lack of appropriate use - people using the computers to play Farmville rather than conducting research or reading for pleasure.
9904	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
9905	7/10/2012	Taxes and passing costs onto home owners in those localities[] Reduction in hours forcing closure days
9906	7/10/2012	fear
9907	7/10/2012	lack of funding and zombies
9908	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9909	7/10/2012	Our young people who have not learned to read properly, so they don't use our library system. Every year more and more of our young people are dropping out of school, reading does not seem to be very important.
9910	7/10/2012	Financing
9911	7/10/2012	The enormous salaries and benefit including retirement packages the administrators (NB Vailey Oehlke) and staff receive.

9912	7/10/2012	cutting of funds i'm guessing or lack of resources
9913	7/10/2012	Conservatism.
9914	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9915	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
9916	7/10/2012	Insufficient funds.
9917	7/10/2012	Internet
9918	7/10/2012	Costing too much for the homeowner to support.
9919	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
9920	7/10/2012	loss of funding
9921	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9922	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9923	7/10/2012	Being of value!
9924	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and fewer people reading books.
9925	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to be able to buy new materials and keep the hours open so that people are able to find books and access computers. Perhaps cutting down on higher administration levels could move some of the funding around.
9926	7/10/2012	censure
9927	7/10/2012	Threat? These questions are worded weird. But when new books come out our libraries should have them immediately, such as "50 shades of Grey"
9928	7/10/2012	Budget?
9929	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and support in the community.
9930	7/10/2012	As with everything these days, lack of budget money.
9931	7/10/2012	Hours cut
9932	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; material availability; online resources drawing away public interest; conflicting priorities for limited community funds between other services (ie: schools, roads, social programs)
9933	7/10/2012	Apathy?
9934	7/10/2012	Being used as day shelter for homeless or non busy adults--scares young children or frail individuals who are safety aware.
9935	7/10/2012	ANYONE WHO THINKS A LIBRARY SHOULD BE DEFUNDED. I volunteer in a elementary school library every year and the biggest threat to all libraries is the mistreatment of materials
9936	7/10/2012	and the failure to return items that have been checked out. There is just not enough money to keep replacing items damaged or not returned.
9937	7/10/2012	I would have to say not enough funding for them.
9938	7/10/2012	Lack of relevance. I practically lived in the Library as a child. Today why would I, whether as an adult or child, go to the library? I can download a vast variety of books from the Internet for free or close to free. I can get a world of reference materials on my computer. While I love the nostalgia of a library, they are now dinosaurs that should be left to extinction.

9939	7/10/2012	Funding.
9940	7/10/2012	not enough revenue to support them adequately
9941	7/10/2012	Funding.
9942	7/10/2012	budget cuts
9943	7/10/2012	Funding, certainly not lack of patrons.
9944	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9945	7/10/2012	E-books.
9946	7/10/2012	funding, then electronic distribution of books and media.
9947	7/10/2012	Low property values
9948	7/10/2012	funding
9949	7/10/2012	On-line books.
9950	7/10/2012	Increasing costs to maintain services.
9951	7/10/2012	Short-sighted politicians.
9952	7/10/2012	Funding.
9953	7/10/2012	None
9954	7/10/2012	Abusers of the computer and Internet users..
9955	7/10/2012	General lack of concern or recognition about what a great resource our libraries are - I like the bus stop posters with children who use the library on them.
9956	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
9957	7/10/2012	Commercialization of the resources that libraries provide. Also, forcing libraries to pay renewal fees and for their materials.
9958	7/10/2012	It seems to be lack of funding
9959	7/10/2012	Poor handling of funds on the federal level which leaves our states in a lurch.
9960	7/10/2012	Funding.
9961	7/10/2012	Since I view a "library" as a cute little anachronism that no longer has its place in the 21st century... and since I'm sick and tired of paying for everybody else, I say "Shut It Down!"
9962	7/10/2012	There are so many necessary services that tax dollars pay for, but sometimes it seems that libraries fall too far down on the list of necessities.
9963	7/10/2012	Our Television- and YouTube-watching culture?

		the lack of funding, they need to start collecting for over due books. When my account has $20+ that I owe I always pay it off. I was once asked by a librarian if I just wanted to pay a dollar, I thought that was weird, you should have people with more than $10 pay $1 to check out books and people with $20 pay $2 etc.[] example:[]
9964	7/10/2012	owes $10+ pays $1 in order to check out books[] owes $20+ pays $2[] owes $30+ pays $3[] the larger the amount the larger the minimum payment should be.[] People need to take responsibilities for their lack of discipline.
9965	7/10/2012	Capitalism. Seriously, the economic system is a huge threat because policies are created with a priority on creating revenue rather than sustaining public service, education, and equal opportunities.
9966	7/10/2012	I think we need a vibrant staff to engage readers, especially young readers. When I once visited Kenton library, I was pleasantly surprised to have an enthusiastic librarian welcome me personally and guide me in the right direction. She had a following of teenagers, and was clearly very popular among patrons. I worry about libraries losing this kind of connection with the community if computers replace this sort of interaction or if librarians' roles change (less reaching out to community) due to staff/time shortage.
9967	7/10/2012	Budget cuts that target vital needed programs like the library instead of really addressing the real issues of fraud and waste in other areas of government and E-books, but with many being available to check ebooks out from the library helps quite a bit.
9968	7/10/2012	lack of funding
9969	7/10/2012	lack of funding. republican idiots.
9970	7/10/2012	??
9971	7/10/2012	Shrinking budgets
9972	7/10/2012	Kindle and other e-readers.
9973	7/10/2012	Funding
9974	7/10/2012	E-books and computer access away from the library.
9975	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
9976	7/10/2012	loss of funding, loss of LITERACY!
9977	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding
9978	7/10/2012	Misconception of the library's functions and benefits. Public relations could focus on the quality of our libraries and their staffs, and Multnomah County Library system's ranking in the U.S. (I believe it is 2nd, behind only NYC).
9979	7/10/2012	The misuse of the computers. Block all inappropriate sites. Keep the undesirables out of the library.
9980	7/10/2012	lack of funding. closing. not enough materials: books, audio books, magazines

9981	7/10/2012	Apathy by the public and pressure to cut everything across the board (in other words, dodging the hard choices or standing up to the vocal minority and apathetic) on the weaker politicians.
9982	7/10/2012	I suppose it's funding.
9983	7/10/2012	Dirty bums hanging around the Central library and making disgusting filth around the building are encouraged by churches who feed them, without enforcing any rehabilitation. Their behavior is tolerated and they are given more voice by government than taxpaying citizens. Bums choose that lifestyle and have zero consequences for their choice. They are a problem for families with children who use the library. I realize the library can't tell them not to use the building, but the city should be pushed to get rid of them.
9984	7/10/2012	Eroding tax base.
9985	7/10/2012	Funding and underappreciation
9986	7/10/2012	funding
9987	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
9988	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
9989	7/10/2012	Those who do not use them! I value my library immensely, but I feel that others who have not discovered its treasures do not hold the same value for it.
9990	7/10/2012	People don't read books anymore! Get their reading material electronically.
9991	7/10/2012	The people making the decisions about service priorities. I can't believe they would cut hours after successfully passing a levy!
9992	7/10/2012	lack of community outreach
9993	7/10/2012	Cut backs in funding
9994	7/10/2012	funding
9995	7/10/2012	closing local branches
9996	7/10/2012	funding.....
9997	7/10/2012	Lack of support by the government leaders who seem to think they can short change the library because there will always be another levy to vote in. We seem to be taxed multiple times for library services just because we use the libraries and value them.
9998	7/10/2012	people not reading and giving up on one of the few available public spaces.
9999	7/10/2012	Mismanagement of resources.
10000	7/10/2012	People who have yet to realize that reading is a most necessary step toward continuing and never ending personal growth.
10001	7/10/2012	apathetic people
10002	7/10/2012	budget cuts
10003	7/10/2012	Further cutbacks in hours and services, The public is using the libraries, and I am impressed with the remodeling. There is a lack of understanding about it is easier to fund building and Library building, and now fund more money for staff.

10004	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is the possibility that community residents may not always realize how important and valuable the library system is, and the many ways it contributes to our quality of life and helps disadvantaged people lift themselves up and improve their lives. Unless residents appreciate the value to their communities, there will be pressure to cut costs and services, endangering the health of the library system.
10005	7/10/2012	It seems like the gradual decrease of funding to programs like libraries is going to continue on the federal level, so prioritizing on other levels is key.
10006	7/10/2012	The massive availability of information on the internet, Kindle and Nook options, and for me, personally, the unwillingness to restrict access to adult sites via the Library's computers. What kind of logic is it that has no problem restricting physical access to strip clubs, adult bookstores, and nightclubs, but resists any effort to restrict access to porn sites or sites clearly designed to cater to sexual interests in a public environment open to minors and children?
10007	7/10/2012	Not enough funding for programs like storytime for parents/providerz and children as well as for Seniors.
10008	7/10/2012	Apparently, funding shortages.
10009	7/10/2012	Electronic media and how the Library is able to keep up with the tech.
10010	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding
10011	7/10/2012	Public apathy
10012	7/10/2012	fear of taxes
10013	7/10/2012	Funding I would guess
10014	7/10/2012	Local government not understanding the importance to the community.
10015	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10016	7/10/2012	A general lack of funding and a disdain among people of my age group regarding the importance of such a facility.
10017	7/10/2012	Corporate greed
10018	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding
10019	7/10/2012	Funding to keep them open. Even with the internet and easy access to information books hold so much value. Other services around community building and equity are at risk.
10020	7/10/2012	A public that doesn't want to be taxed and doesn't understand what taxes are for A public that seeks to end government spending A public that does not believe in the public sphere A public that does not think that public workers should be paid a livable wage People who don't value reading or education
10021	7/10/2012	Young people not becoming passionate readers and thinking that if they google something on the Internet they are doing comprehensive research. Young people lacking a conceptual framework for analyzing problems and situations. Lack of awareness what can be found in libraries.
10022	7/10/2012	That they won't be open when the public clearly needs it.

10023	7/10/2012	The misconception that a library is just a building that houses books. Many people think that books are a dead medium and that since "everything is online" (it is NOT) that we don't need libraries any more.
10024	7/10/2012	I don't think people realize what a great resource libraries are until they're not available anymore. Also, I'm not sure if most people are aware of all of the resources that libraries have to offer.
10025	7/10/2012	Lack of funding is the biggest threat not patronage by citizens, it is an important social institution.
10026	7/10/2012	Lack of funding is apparently a big threat, although I've been going to libraries for sixty years and funding hasn't been a problem. The way libraries have been funded in the past should still be in place. If it isn't, that would be the threat. I don't know of any other threats.
10027	7/10/2012	The narrow sighted picking of subject books by librarians who have only their view of what the public should and would read
10028	7/10/2012	Population growth.
10029	7/10/2012	Lack of interest. Many people never go to a library and thus have no understanding of what libraries can do.
10030	7/10/2012	Sounds like it's funding. Library is doing a great job of keeping up with modern users (ie technology).
10031	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
10032	7/10/2012	President Romney
10033	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
10034	7/10/2012	Budgetary hits and diminished access hours
10035	7/10/2012	Politicians not having enough balls to press for a tax that not only sustains our libraries, but lets them grow.
10036	7/10/2012	e-books.
10037	7/10/2012	not enough funding
10038	7/10/2012	Funding
10039	7/10/2012	Funding and wanting to convert to electronic books. KEEP THE BOOKS!!!
10040	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10041	7/10/2012	Don't know.
10042	7/10/2012	I would imagine funding.
10043	7/10/2012	Lack of financial resources
10044	7/10/2012	Funding and digital media. People not finding the value in the library because there is access to so much information online. However, not everyone has online access or an understanding of how to use digital media so the library resources are important to many.
10045	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. I think our libraries are fantastic, and all our librarians do a fantastic job.
10046	7/10/2012	funding
10047	7/10/2012	Video Games, facebook
10048	7/10/2012	not enough days open

10049	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; federal taxes used for war-purposes and defunding of what should actually be funded: development both at home and abroad
10050	7/10/2012	lack of permanent funding
10051	7/10/2012	Availability of materials and social interaction opportunities online.
10052	7/10/2012	People who don't use them and don't see the need to fund them. People who watch television and use their computers as opposed to real life.
10053	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. We have always voted for the library funding bills and levies.
10054	7/10/2012	Public complacency over funding
10055	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
10056	7/10/2012	funding
10057	7/10/2012	I guess $$$. We have two young children, and suddenly the library pleas are starting to sound awfully similar to the PPS school district. We always vote for the lib. levies, but lately it seems that we vote to save hours, etc., and they get cut anyway. That's like PPS, and we have stopped voting for their levies because the boy is always crying wolf. The best thing the lib. can do is put the library district up for vote, make sure it's enough $, and, if it passes, offer the services promised without constantly coming back for more. The biggest threat to our local libraries is if they should close completely.[] []
10058	7/10/2012	THE ABOE NUMBERS DO NOT APPLY. I COULDN'T MAKE THEM WORK. [] LP IS MOST IMPORTANT TO ME. [] ALL LIBRARIES OPEN AT LEAST 6 DAYS A WK.
10059	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10060	7/10/2012	Budget. Also, you can't do everything for everyone. I would also cut back people's use of the computer to include a limit of 5 or 6 hrs a week to minimize over use.
10061	7/10/2012	Politicians lack of creative vision for our libraries!!!! Bureaucratic gibberish rather than seeing the importance of the local library in the community to young and old. Closing libraries or shortening hours is like closing a school. It shouldn't ever be considered as a choice!!!
10062	7/10/2012	cutting funds
10063	7/10/2012	Online bookstores.
10064	7/10/2012	Poor funding?
10065	7/10/2012	E-readers.
10066	7/10/2012	Probably Earthquakes, then Tsunami (but that is small), maybe, and this is a long shot, Mt Hood erupting.[] [] "Threat" ? Kind of a tendentious question.
10067	7/10/2012	homeless people camping out in and around library, particularly Hollywood branch
10068	7/10/2012	Windstorms

10069	7/10/2012	lack of funds
10070	7/10/2012	Greedy self-serving politicians and government agencies, and homeless people that have hygiene issues that stink out the library and scare the children there.
10071	7/10/2012	So many I'm not sure.
10072	7/10/2012	getting rid of some libraries
10073	7/10/2012	I presume the biggest threat is funding, undervaluation of the services and a lack of interest/effort required to enjoy. I've heard friends talk about the great benefit of the e-book check-out which I think is an excellent effort by the library system to keep up and stay relevant with technological and cultural shifts.
10074	7/10/2012	The continual defunding of our public institutions by ignorant anti-tax groups and their ballot measures.
10075	7/10/2012	Purging research material from the collection is, I believe, the major threat to the most important function of the library.
10076	7/10/2012	being inaccessible to those who need it most.
10077	7/10/2012	The theft
10078	7/10/2012	Funding and people not knowing what services the library has to offer.
10079	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10080	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10081	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10082	7/10/2012	funding. e readers. people reading online or not reading at all any more
10083	7/10/2012	The right wing.
10084	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10085	7/10/2012	Not enough money
10086	7/10/2012	Losing more funding
10087	7/10/2012	you know more than me - funding?
10088	7/10/2012	a lot of people stay away from Central Library because it sometimes feels like a bus depot in there.
10089	7/10/2012	not being available to us
10090	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and perhaps electronic book readers
10091	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10092	7/10/2012	lack of funding to continue to keep this community resource as vital and accessible as it has been
10093	7/10/2012	Valuable books being relegated to the dustbin
10094	7/10/2012	None
10095	7/10/2012	Poor unreliable funding.
10096	7/10/2012	short term thinking leading to cutting hours and/or services offered; in addition to books, our local libraries serve a vital purpose providing access to information and knowledge [via books, publications, web access] - cutting that vital access will seriously degrade quality of life for our citizens.

10097	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
10098	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10099	7/10/2012	Electronic book companies that don't allow libraries access to their books.
10100	7/10/2012	Administrators loosing focus of the mission of the library system, thus trying to do too many things.
10101	7/10/2012	The continued ,unrestricted access of pornographic material .
10102	7/10/2012	People/voters/politicians who think we don't need our libraries as much any more because of the Internet and other technologies. There are people who don't understand how libraries help people use the new technologies while they continue to provide more traditional services. Such people may not realize how important good libraries are to quality of life for individuals and communities.
10103	7/10/2012	Our biggest threat is expenditures on resources that lack relevance, or expenditures that benefit too few people.
10104	7/10/2012	Failure to appreciate and care for our greatest asset outside of the Church. This library is an active citizen of this community in the ways it serves, provides, treasures, safeguards some of our greatest historical treasures. Not even Tri-Met begins to measure up to the safe standards we have at the library. Staff are knowlegeable, kind, helpful and enjoy the work place as much as we enjoy meeting them as old friends from our early school days!
10105	7/10/2012	Online resources other than the library. A generation of people who have forgotten, or were never exposed to the benefits of the library. It was not until my in-laws visited and demanded we look at the movie selection at the library that I gained appreciation for the wealth of services it provides.
10106	7/10/2012	Republicans.
10107	7/10/2012	digital materials and copyright (e.g., ebooks)
10108	7/10/2012	Irregular hours, so we are never sure of open times.
10109	7/10/2012	Reduced hours will lead people to seek other resources.
10110	7/10/2012	Reduced hours of operation resulting in the lack of ability to access materials.
10111	7/10/2012	Access limited due to inadequate funds.
10112	7/10/2012	lack of stable funding
10113	7/10/2012	Continuing to assume we need buildings for libraries means high unnecessary costs. Availability of ebooks, etc. should be a reason to eliminate some buildings
10114	7/10/2012	Kindles stealing the joy of real books!
10115	7/10/2012	Misguided anti-tax activism and sentiment.
10116	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10117	7/10/2012	Some of the wierdos that frequent the library.
10118	7/10/2012	Um, fire? Computer outages. They are a fine resource and I have voted for funding every time they ask for it.
10119	7/10/2012	Funding. If there is no money to keep the libraries open, then no one can enjoy their many benefits.

10120	7/10/2012	Not enough funding I guess although one wonders where the money goes that we have allocated to it over the years with our taxes as the services have been cut back and made the branches more mechanized which does make it easier for us. Closures would not be good.
10121	7/10/2012	The Patriot Act.[] Lack of Funding
10122	7/10/2012	that one day they will lose all government funds an support.
10123	7/10/2012	Losing ANY access to services.
10124	7/10/2012	Funding!!
10125	7/10/2012	A lack of funding. I want a permanent, sustainable revenue stream for the greatest library system in the world.
10126	7/10/2012	Apathy. Changes to how funding may be obtained. Lack of understanding about all of the benefits this county library system provides.
10127	7/10/2012	People's views towards taxes and ideas about providing social services to the community.
10128	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10129	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10130	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10131	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10132	7/10/2012	Not having enough money, and so they can't buy new books and people stop coming to the libraries. Short sightedness on voters part to underfund libraries. We are in a recession. We need to be re-tooling citizens into productive jobs. We have a wealth of young people here. Very important to keep this amazing resource viable. It is one o the most important bases for our civil society.
10133	7/10/2012
10134	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10135	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
10136	7/10/2012	being used as homeless shelters
10137	7/10/2012	Property owners like me who want to support a higher library tax honestly cannot afford it because they are already receiving public assistance and in danger of defaulting on mortgage payments.
10138	7/10/2012	lack of money, lack of understanding of the role free and easy access to information plays in a democratic society.
10139	7/10/2012	Our horrible government management of funds. Libraries are vital and should remain a top community priority for funding.
10140	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10141	7/10/2012	county timidity
10142	7/10/2012	Greedy people that believe they are the crown of creation.

10143	7/10/2012	Not getting the young people interested and knowledgeable about what the library resources has to offer. Young people equate libraries to hard copy books or just a computer lab. There is a generational gap that is not keeping up with what drives young people in the present. yes there will always be mind numbing fads. Today we have reality television, text language and hundreds of channels programmed to shorten attention spans. The libraries need to keep up with technology to reach children and have them get back to thinking.
10144	7/10/2012	Earthquake, the PERS Monster from Beyond the Blackest Night, Satanic apocalypse, Superman and/or Lex Luthor. Or the Dutch. Can't stand the Dutch.
10145	7/10/2012	Lack of money
10146	7/10/2012	Funding most likely.
10147	7/10/2012	Funding.
10148	7/10/2012	Funding and availability issues.
10149	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10150	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is the decreased funding and diminishing open hours.
10151	7/10/2012	I don't know if there really is a threat. They are well-used. Lack of parking at some libraries (Gregory Heights, Hollywood) sometimes keeps me from going in.
10152	7/10/2012	dwindling hours. being overtaken by transients (central library especially). there seems to always be something/someone disgusting going on.
10153	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. If I could have, I would have rated all of the above as #1.
10154	7/10/2012	bad feelings caused by the cut in services AFTER the levy continuation was approved. I think many people feel this was "bait and switch."
10155	7/10/2012	Fewer locations, not being able to order and ship books from other libraries, decreased selection
10156	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10157	7/10/2012	Loss of funding. Theft of library materials, which I have witnessed.
10158	7/10/2012	Having no funding whatsoever and closing.
10159	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of interest compound each other in a vicious cycle, each exacerbating the other. However, I'd say lack of funding.
10160	7/10/2012	Not having regular access. I'm afraid they will be closed at various times and I'll miss the hours.
10161	7/10/2012	Lack of resources resulting in cutbacks in service hours and in obtaining materials.
10162	7/10/2012	Technology. People "reading books" on a device instead of holding the actual book. Or getting movies from another service or the internet.
10163	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10164	7/10/2012	The board...
10165	7/10/2012	Keeping current with digital books.
10166	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10167	7/10/2012	lack of funding.

10168	7/10/2012	Apathy
10169	7/10/2012	It would seem that budget cuts, and lack of awareness about those cuts is perhaps the greatest threat.
10170	7/10/2012	the transient population making the library a awkward, odorous, and crowded space
10171	7/10/2012	Too many non-library users and non-parents fail to see that the quality of our libraries directly reflects and affects our neighborhoods. Better libraries, better funded schools, better educated youth = safer neighborhoods and stronger communities and economies. I wish more people could look beyond their immediate perspective and realize that funding things that don't seem to directly affect them, do in fact indirectly increase their quality of life in the bigger picture.
10172	7/10/2012	In order of importance, I believe the biggest threats to local libraries are: 1) Unstable funding, which compromises short and long range planning. 2) Decreasing interest and skill in reading. 3) Expanding services not historically covered by libraries, without funding commitments from the public.
10173	7/10/2012	Taxpayer revolt against ever-increasing property taxes.[] [] Growing costs associated with the expansion of library services (community outreach programs, teaching programs, etc.) that perhaps transcend the traditional role of our library may turn people away from funding.
10174	7/10/2012	Lack of dollars.
10175	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10176	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10177	7/10/2012	budget cuts.
10178	7/10/2012	budget cuts
10179	7/10/2012	Funding. We need to do everything we can to keep libraries open.
10180	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10181	7/10/2012	Lack of monetary resources
10182	7/10/2012	Funding.
10183	7/10/2012	Too much noise from younger kids talking loudly. Lack of consideration for other people using the library. Need to use their library voice. Parents don't discipline their kids and let them do whatever they want.
10184	7/10/2012	The online revolution? I'm not super engaged with my library of late so I'm not in-tune with the issues.[] [] BTW - don't like that ranking tool in #5 - It should allow me to self rank - every time I changed a number it reordered the entire list. it was confusing...
10185	7/10/2012	Funding.
10186	7/10/2012	Budget reductions.

10187	7/10/2012	FUNDING CUTS! My family was horrified by the recent reduction to six days a week. I am a successful author who probably would not be except that I grew up next door to a library. The way to solve our budgetary problems is NOT to skimp on education, information availability, and resources for those who cannot afford personal resources!
10188	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10189	7/10/2012	The Tea Party?[] But seriously, the people that depend on the library the most don't have enough of a voice to protect it; those with the ability to cope best without the library are the ones with political power and the dollars to spend!
10190	7/10/2012	Voter indifference to the riches they possess.
10191	7/10/2012	People using them for illegal mean, such as watching porn and such.
10192	7/10/2012	Federal support. Public resources such as education, libraries, social services are all taking huge cuts while the defense and security budgets have skyrocketed. It is a shortsighted solution that is having disastrous affects on our children, elderly, and the future of our country. Cutting the hours! We have a high level of circulation and use of our library. I hate that you do not value the patrons opinions enough that you would cut the days of our lifeline down to 6 days as well as use computers for check out instead of a library employee. My husband and I are in a masters program, so it is crucial that we have access to the library. We use the Ebrary, take our kids to the readings and events as well as make a weekly trip to check out new books, videos, etc.
10193	7/10/2012	[] [] We are not alone in PUTTING OUR FOOT DOWN AND DEMANDING THE FUNDS BE RESTORED TO KEEP THE LIBRARY FUNCTIONING FULLY.
10194	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding, reduced property tax base due to economic problems.
10195	7/10/2012	We are all living in a different time than years ago and need to adjust accordingly. The county (& city) cannot keep coming back to property owners for a money request without substantive facts to back up why the request is necessary. Jeff, at this point I will not support any further increase in property taxes without an independent third party audit of finances per the respective request(s). As an example - the library at belmont consistently is overstaffed (given new electronic machines for check out) and i have no doubt that is true elsewhere. A levy so that upwards of 10 people can remain in that small library watching me check out materials?? I don't think so. On another subject entirely but releveant to you as Chair, why do schools continue to ask for more money when there are too many mid to upper management personnel that make no less than 80 thousand plus/year? The point is, we need to live within our means more - the library should do counts of when it is busiest over a month or so and then reduce hours accordingly. For the record, i love the library and am an avid user.

10196	7/10/2012	I would say smugness. I'm very aware that I'm lucky to live in Multnomah County; our library system is one of the best in the nation and I believe that to be an essential index of civilisation. But everyone's broke right now, and will be for a while, it looks like. Given that, civil services are being cut, and I think it would be easy for people to take the quality of our libraries for granted until it disappears, much as happened with Oregon public schools because of that idiot Sizemore. I went to high school in the nineties, and I remember living through the degradation of one of the nation's best public school systems, until now we're neck and neck with Mississippi, I believe, fighting it out for 49th place. Yowza. I would hate to see that happen to the libraries as well, through a combination of short-sighted self-interest and the assumption that such quality takes no effort or public investment.
10197	7/10/2012	If funding is a big issue, why not utilize senior volunteers and other volunteers? I do not want libraries to loose funding, or be forced to cut hours/people. Librarians are skilled workers. They're the most efficient search engines out there. ☐
10198	7/10/2012	I'd say besides loosing funding, Amazon is the biggest threat. They have almost all books in print. I think many people buy cheap books instead of using the library. I used to be one of these people, but then I started having the library ship books to my branch via my account. And this is the best option by far. I think many people have forgotten about this as a possibility. ☐ Why buy a book from amazon, even an electronic book, when you can read if for free from the library?
10199	7/10/2012	Public backlash over the continual need to request increased funding. It would be good if the library had a method to increase its funding through something other than the public voting. How do other libraries receive their funding?
10200	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient stable funding. Our citizens use the library all the time, no matter what hours it's open. We are hungry for it. The only threat I can see is that without a stable funding source, what the library has to offer is diminished, the hours change which confuses and puts people off, and living in a constant threat of termination diverts the energy of thriving research, exploration and discovery, to an atmosphere of peril, survival and drain. A library can be part of the skeletal foundation of a community, the bones which hold us up, help us grow and guide our movement. IF it has a stable foundation itself.
10201	7/10/2012	Reduced funding for updated, comprehensive collections.
10202	7/10/2012	cut funds
10203	7/10/2012	Defunding.
10204	7/10/2012	Underfunding! The library is a really important resource and should be funded as such.
10205	7/10/2012	funding
10206	7/10/2012	Funding cuts in a time of scarce resources. And I think people take the library for granted, not realizing what an essential service the library provides to our community.
10207	7/10/2012	Lack of funding from policymakers
10208	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.

10209	7/10/2012	funding
10210	7/10/2012	Funding. The library needs to stay open for access to all. Being an organization to support literacy, community, and personal well being is very important to me.
10211	7/10/2012	Funding
10212	7/10/2012	Funding issues. People with money could give two shits about the library because they do not use it. Unfortunately those that make the most use of the library have the least cash to support it...
10213	7/10/2012	Funding.
10214	7/10/2012	Spending too much money on DVDs would be a way to cut back
10215	7/10/2012	Funding.
10216	7/10/2012	Funding and loss of librarians!
10217	7/10/2012	That taxpayers will conclude that a library is un-necessary because much is available on-line.
10218	7/10/2012	Low government funding. Also, if I could get on an affordable payment plan for my fines (e.i. no more than $10 per month) and still check out books, I would really appreciate it--I'm poor, I made one irresponsible mistake which I overlooked, and now I can't check out books anymore, which is a great loss to me.
10219	7/10/2012	Changes in how books and resource materials are accessed. This could result in a reduction in the "traditional" ways that we use the bricks and mortar library. For those not familiar with the "old" way do getting books and information the cost may not seem worth it.
10220	7/10/2012	The general population not realizing how much libraries contribute to and enhance the community.[] [] Please note - I have no children and am over a decade away from being a senior citizen. Yet I rated their services as numbers one and two most important. Their access to library services makes for a better Multnomah county to live in.
10221	7/10/2012	Young people perceiving the Library as irrelevant since they can get on the internet through their phones. Librarians must keep pace to help ALL people have access to the information they need and the art that will sustain them through the information age.
10222	7/10/2012	Funding, or lack thereof.
10223	7/10/2012	Library leaders not being creative and adapting to the changing role libraries can play in today's society.
10224	7/10/2012	A government that doesn't understand the necessity of libraries.
10225	7/10/2012	Excessive cost to operate them will result in either closure or very burdensome increased taxes.[] Please institute reforms to streamline your operations to reduce costs-- become like a business![] There are organizations of retired businessmen that could offer many suggestions to improve efficiency. Please use them!
10226	7/10/2012	funding, over used resources like music cds and computers
10227	7/10/2012	Closing at 5:00 PM starting July 1 means people can't stop in after work.
10228	7/10/2012	funding

10229	7/10/2012	Reduced funding
10230	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10231	7/10/2012	Cutbacks in funding
10232	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10233	7/10/2012	Bad Economy
10234	7/10/2012	taxes being cut.
10235	7/10/2012	Loss of resources and funding.
10236	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10237	7/10/2012	People unwilling to pay higher taxes or delegate city funding.
10238	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10239	7/10/2012	Losing all funding because our country has no money, except for things like war.
10240	7/10/2012	I would guess lack of funding. Isn't that what it always is?
10241	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10242	7/10/2012	Lack of money, I would say. Need new software for the waiting time for the computer on the out side.[]
10243	7/10/2012	When you first sign inn it tells you estimate times, so if it says 10 min[] plan on 30 mins
10244	7/10/2012	Budget cuts that prioritize business/moneymaking over social service, forcing libraries to compete with large bookstore chains to prove their value, thus redefining "patrons" as "customers" (this happened at my library growing up). Libraries are a fundamental aspect of a free society with open access to information for all members of society - and maintaining that access should be the first priority of the library.
10245	7/10/2012	Support for libraries is taken from property owners disporportionately, but often used most by people who do not own property or contribute monetarily, but still vote for property tax increases in order to fund their participation. I would like to see a fairer way of supporting libraries. [] There is the risk of the property owners getting burned out from supporting everyone else, while people who just come and use the library basically for free, take it for granted and don't realize what a gift it is. [] [] Lately when I come to the library there are a lot of noisy people just camped out in the center areas. I think that with computer use the overall tone of the library has changed so that it is not nearly as peaceful as it used to be. I used to like tc come to the library to sit and think and learn. When people just come to the library to sit and play games on the computer or loudly talk on the phone, or to their neighbor, I feel like that is not the destination that the library is supposed to be.

		Electronic media
10246	7/10/2012	There is only so many dollars within our community and there is more and more demand on those dollars. I have heard there will be a PPS ballot going in front of the voters... it would be a hard choice to choose between kids and libraries
10247	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
10248	7/10/2012	Ebooks - I think. It sounds like I need to learn more about accessing ebooks via the library.
10249	7/10/2012	Overreaching with programs etc that aren't funded
10250	7/10/2012	Lack of sustainable funding and people thinking libraries are not important.
10251	7/10/2012	Funding
10252	7/10/2012	lack of money (duh). tax revenue, the economy. The above question doesn't capture my intent. I love the library but I can live with six days a week service with no problem
10253	7/10/2012	A lot of other businesses take a day off too. As for other programs, I don't use them but if they're important to others in the community then great.
10254	7/10/2012	Not enough funding for staff and programs
10255	7/10/2012	book nooks, l-pads, etc.
10256	7/10/2012	Apathy
10257	7/10/2012	The Internet and under utilization by young people.
10258	7/10/2012	The internet! e-books, itunes, etc.
10259	7/10/2012	Underfunding. Our libraries are the greatest part of our society.
10260	7/10/2012	not having a permanent source of funding
10261	7/10/2012	Decreasing hours
10262	7/10/2012	Insufficient public funding.
10263	7/10/2012	Poor funding & apathy among voters The way democracy works sometimes; to make an informed decision about important resources for your local
10264	7/10/2012	community requires for citizens to be informed about competition for priorities that can compete with commercially oriented ballot measure commercial?
10265	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10266	7/10/2012	Funding
10267	7/10/2012	Closure due to lack of funding.
10268	7/10/2012	The community not caring enough.
10269	7/10/2012	Lack of community education regarding their importance.
10270	7/10/2012	funding cuts, lack of new materials
10271	7/10/2012	Compression!
10272	7/10/2012	online sale of ebooks

10273	7/10/2012	Funding it seems. Although i sure pay a lot of overdue fees! It's worth it though because its better than carrying a library around with me. [] []
10274	7/10/2012	Popular books are hard to come by and I think this discourages people from using the library more.
10275	7/10/2012	funding duh
10276	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10277	7/10/2012	politicians playing with budgets
10278	7/10/2012	not having enough funding
10279	7/10/2012	Use of resources by persons that do not pay taxes.
10280	7/10/2012	Short-sighted funding models! Library access is a public good that should be a high priority at both the local and state level.
10281	7/10/2012	Rising costs.
10282	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
10283	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I would guess.
10284	7/10/2012	If they would close altogether due to lack of funding or support. If our local branch closed, we would not go to the library as often. Honestly, partisan issues aside, this current environment of hyper anger towards any government spending hurts libraries the most. So what if we are closed on weekends? Well, I'm a low income child with parents who both work full time weekdays. When do I get to go to the library? (Hypothetical situation.)
10285	7/10/2012	The local community and tax payer not doing more.
10286	7/10/2012	I think we've been lucky that Multnomah County voters have supported the library system in the past however finding a more stable funding source seems to be necessary.
10287	7/10/2012	Instability of funding is the biggest threat to the library system. It is critical that a permanent library district be established in order to ensure stable funding for the library.
10288	7/10/2012	The people that never visit the library. They don't understand the full existent and importance it has for those of us who need to read and do research to escape, to be encouraged, find a different answer, change, be a better person and learn. Everyone should go to the library to relax.
10289	7/10/2012	Apathy or dislike of public funding due to misconception that everyone can get anything over the Internet; moral judgment/attitude/ lack of sympathy toward low income people. Not everyone can afford a computer or device or their own web access. We need publicly funded access to all sorts of content through the library, in a gesture, at least, of equity for people without the means.
10290	7/10/2012	Need to check necessary items w/budget & then get out the. Word& lots of people testifying positive. Must get free publicity.

10291	7/10/2012	I would say funding, but as a homeowner - teacher who's position was cut - and struggling to pay property taxes each year, I cannot support raising property tax to the extent that is suggested. Many people who value owning their homes, like myself, made many sacrifices in order to make own home ownership and family life a top priority. While I tremendously value the library and want some property tax to go to supporting the libraries, I feel that some of the dollars for the libraries should come from sources other than property owners.
10292	7/10/2012	Class-warfare wage by the corporate-executive class against all Americans, currently (and thinly) veiled as "limited-government".
10293	7/10/2012	Financial support.
10294	7/10/2012	Children having access to books. Libraries are a great place for children to hang out as well as provide support for students.
10295	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10296	7/10/2012	Lack of gov't funding
10297	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and online media resources
10298	7/10/2012	Greed
10299	7/10/2012	I'm not sure I understand this question. If budget cuts are looming, then I'd have to say the budget cuts are the biggest threat to our smaller, local libraries.
10300	7/10/2012	If materials and programs aren't current, relevant and interesting to the bulk of the households that vote on tax issues, the library will continue to have an uphill battle with regards to adequate funding.
10301	7/10/2012	insufficient funds
10302	7/10/2012	Becoming a social services agency rather than a library.
10303	7/10/2012	Accessibility and lack of resources.
10304	7/10/2012	insufficient funding
10305	7/10/2012	Unstable funding.
10306	7/10/2012	When the hours were cut off to the St. John's library, many people like myself, had a hard time adjusting to the new hours. Since the library is now closed on Mondays, it makes it very difficult to continue the work I try to do because I can't attend the library at that time.
10307	7/10/2012	Not sure-I assume the costs for operating outweigh what's in the coffer. Decreased funding. [] []
10308	7/10/2012	Why on earth did the library put a ballot measure on the recent ballot that DECREASED SERVICE??? That measure passed by 84% of the voters. Many of them, like me, had no idea that simply voting yes meant we would lose Monday openings. Why did the ballot measure not ask for enough funds to keep the libraries open 7 days a week? Why weren't we given a choice of options to vote for? There wasn't even a choice to vote for more funding!!!! I don't normally even use the library on Mondays but I feel misled by the recent ballot measure, and very annoyed.

10309	7/10/2012	The 5-minute attention span of the average American. The biggest threat to libraries is the anti-intellectualism that is rampant in America. Without appreciation for education, logic, critical thinking skills, and an open awareness of the breadth of the human condition, libraries risk becoming a relic of a time when those things mattered.
10310	7/10/2012	losing funding
10311	7/10/2012	The truth is we baby boomers are getting older, we are going on pensions or social security and a lot of us lived paycheck to paycheck. This being stated, we are on shoestring budgets and have to chose from so many levys.
10312	7/10/2012	social movement to internet based media and away from printed matter[] internet access to many sources for research and study - don't have to go to the library to get access it.[] helping the community become fully aware of the services available at a library - how do you convince a person to make a special trip to library if they have internet and content delivery at their home.
10313	7/10/2012	Unstable funding including misuse/misappropriation of funds designated for library operation by government agencies. Also, while ebooks and emedia are great, not all patrons are able to use these media. Books and media in the traditional form should still be available.
10314	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10315	7/10/2012	Not having a stable, consistent, long-term form of funding.
10316	7/10/2012	lack of money.
10317	7/10/2012	Funding.
10318	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10319	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10320	7/10/2012	Funding cuts, cutting hours. The smaller the window to visit local libraries, the more people will give up and not go.
10321	7/10/2012	There isn't enough funding going into the libraries, and educational resources are needed to grow a stronger people.
10322	7/10/2012	I'd guess that problems with funding would be the most significant threat.
10323	7/10/2012	Funding! My goodness all of these things are so important. How can I rank them? I have current materials last, but that is not how I feel. I feel like we as a society should fund libraries. They are community centers. They humanize us and bring us together. It's what separates us from the places in this world where it is just dog-eat-dog and people are powerless.
10324	7/10/2012	funding.
10325	7/10/2012	Losing funding and then not being able to stay open as a community and educational suport center as well as not being able to stay up to day with current literature.
10326	7/10/2012	People buy their own books, eBooks, etc. and forget about the greatness of the library community.
10327	7/10/2012	Nor sure

10328	7/10/2012	That is a very loaded question. Budget shortfalls seem to be a problem. In my opinion its important to stabilize budgets and not make things based on property tax revenue.
10329	7/10/2012	Knee jerk reactions to funding.
10330	7/10/2012	Closing one day a week seems like the beginning to closing more than one day a week. It's summer, the libraries should be open 7 days a week for the kids.
10331	7/10/2012	Funding
10332	7/10/2012	Staffing should be reduced but hours should be extended. There are often too many staff standing around, unneeded. It could be way leaner.
10333	7/10/2012	the 1%'s refusal to pay taxes and fund our libraries and other public services.
10334	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10335	7/10/2012	The library budget should be part of the regular budget process, not rely on people voting for a levy. I also think that the computer labs should be open all the time while the library is open.
10336	7/10/2012	Fixed/reduced funding at a time of increasing need and demand
10337	7/10/2012	Community understanding and appreciation of importance.
10338	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10339	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and reduced hours.
10340	7/10/2012	Diminished service. It would be a downward spiral.
10341	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10342	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10343	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10344	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
10345	7/10/2012	Illiteracy?
10346	7/10/2012	Obviously funding
10347	7/10/2012	Loosing programs and closing doors more often (fewer hours open).
10348	7/10/2012	Funding
10349	7/10/2012	Llibrary not being used for books as much as electronic data
10350	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and support
10351	7/10/2012	People not hearing about threats to the library and not being able to show support.
10351	7/10/2012	Inaccessibility, no web access, and a reduced collection.
10352	7/10/2012	A lack of funding due to both public and especially government lack of awareness of how much of an investment libraries are, in terms of community and financially, to a community when adequately funded.
10353	7/10/2012	The trend to cut taxes without realizing the services that will be cut along with them. Taxes should be held the same for the lower and middle classes and raised on the upper classes.
10354	7/10/2012	Local branches closing due to lack of funding, making it more difficult for people to access.
10355	7/10/2012	Increased expectations of libraries with decreased funding.
10356	7/10/2012	Not getting enough new material. Missing items and/or damaged items.

10357	7/10/2012	Inconsistent funding, and a sense of complacency that someone or something will fix the funding problem for us.
10358	7/10/2012	I think hours--if funding results in cut hours, people like me who work full-time day jobs (which is most people, I think) can't get there before the library closes. This would decrease usage, and thus make the libraries more vulnerable to closure/cut funding. I think it's really important that the libraries have night and weekend hours so that everyone can use them.
10359	7/10/2012	CURRENT ABUSE OF PUBLIC FUNDS! MOST IMPORTANT ITEMS! COMPLETE ADA ACCESSIBILITY AND DOWNLOADABLE EBOOKS AND MUSIC FOR ALL INSTEAD OF SERVICES ONLY FOR THE SPECIAL FEW
10360	7/10/2012	Funding cuts, which means program cuts
10361	7/10/2012	Surveys that don't work correctly. Question 5 does not allow ranking.
10362	7/10/2012	Escalating losses of civic amenities due to income inequality and tax burden shifts onto those less able to pay. Cultural demonization of intelligence and devaluing of education.
10363	7/10/2012	Apathy on behalf of the non-users.
10364	7/10/2012	Too much administration. Using what monies you do have wisely.
10365	7/10/2012	Closure due to lack of funding.
10366	7/10/2012	lack of funding?
10367	7/10/2012	Not enough money to support services.
10368	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10369	7/10/2012	Adequate funding! The internet.[]
10370	7/10/2012	Why do I need a library. Maybe we should just let the concept die and open up a community center with internet access. Why waste real estate on books?
10371	7/10/2012	I don't know.
10372	7/10/2012	PERS costs for employees
10373	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of innovation, technology gap
10374	7/10/2012	Apathy and the budget wielding axe of the ignorant.
10375	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
10376	7/10/2012	Reduction in funding?
10377	7/10/2012	Funding, I guess
10378	7/10/2012	If funding were plentiful additional programs for special interest groups would be great. Because funding is limited, we should focus on providing materials with regular hours.
10379	7/10/2012	Reduced hours and less access to materials.
10380	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
10381	7/10/2012	Censorship on information on a national level.
10382	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.

10383	7/10/2012	Apathy by the non-users. It is amazing how many people I know who don't have a library card and yet are avid readers. I extol the virtues of the library and how easy it is with the website, e-mail notification, etc., but it seems to fall on deaf ears. As long as the non-users understand the importance and support the library, but I am not so sure they do.
10384	7/10/2012	Offer too many services, lack of focus, resulting in cutting down hours as opposed to programs. We have to do more with less. It is everywhere. People give books, cds, dvds away, or throw them away. Could not that be a good way to get some books for free.
10385	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Why not get more funding from general State taxation? I do not pay a property levy, but wold be willing to pay more of my state tax to help keep the doors open. Until we can start to more fairly tax the rich, the rest of us with fewer assets will carry too much of the burden.
10386	7/10/2012	Closures and reduced hours of operation...so many people use the library for things other then checking out materials. When I was new to Portland, my family was in the library daily using the computers to look for employment, using copiers and printers to create resumes, and to keep my daughter entertained with the children resources so I could do the necessary job hunting. With the economy were it is, I think more families depend on the library to accomplish these needed tasks and with reduced hours and closures, it hits those that need it most the hardest.
10387	7/10/2012	need for constant funding.
10388	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10389	7/10/2012	lack of a stable funding base
10390	7/10/2012	Funding
10391	7/10/2012	People not knowing all the wonderful resources (and types of) available there. The library is awesome.
10392	7/10/2012	Funding cuts!
10393	7/10/2012	keeping them relevant with the online digital age.
10394	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
10395	7/10/2012	Fools who are trying to save a bit on their taxes thereby failing the future.
10396	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and republicans.
10397	7/10/2012	Funding
10398	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10399	7/10/2012	n/a
10400	7/10/2012	Not enough books on hobbies
10401	7/10/2012	bears! (they're godless killing machines)
10402	7/10/2012	I don't know. It offers a great selection of books and DVDs that usually arrive in a timely manner- material that would cost money to rent or buy or stream - I think it's the best thing going.
10403	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10404	7/10/2012	People not being interested in checking out books, also not enough funding.

10405	7/10/2012	Cutting hours back.
10406	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10407	7/10/2012	Underfunding
10408	7/10/2012	Bad economy
10409	7/10/2012	Funding cutbacks.
10410	7/10/2012	Funding! Especially as more in the community are using the services.
10411	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10412	7/10/2012	Bad internal management. Governmental agencies afraid to tax the rich.
10413	7/10/2012	irrelevance.
10414	7/10/2012	Closing may be a bigger challenge for some folks that being open seven days a week. Competing needs are likely the biggest threat. With budget's dwindling for all services - the library will have to compete
10415	7/10/2012	Lack of Funding. Being closed.[]
10416	7/10/2012	[] I think it's better to be open every day for fewer hours than being closed one day.
10417	7/10/2012	That the constant and unrelenting calls for more funding will alienate taxpayers and the public.
10418	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is reduced access to neighborhood services, materials and technology for a wide segment of the residents.
10419	7/10/2012	Increased repercussions of international economic slide. We each have less to spend while costs increase. In Multnomah County / Portland; the slack is always remedied by property taxes - which in many cases exceed mortgage payments.
10420	7/10/2012	Poor tax funding.
10421	7/10/2012	Being cut completely.
10422	7/10/2012	budget cuts
10423	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10424	7/10/2012	Lowering the funding to keep libraries open would be the biggest threat.
10425	7/10/2012	I don't know. Secured funding we can count on, I think. I know our libraries are very well used.
10426	7/10/2012	that they will close. Our only complaint is that we wish our local library was bigger, but we just use the online system to request our books.
10427	7/10/2012	Overbudgeting, and taxing the working man beyond his willingness to support it.
10428	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10429	7/10/2012	money of course; or lack of it
10430	7/10/2012	The attitude that it is always the responsibility of the property owner to fund the libraries. Between the schools and the libraries, it's becoming impossible to live in Multnomah county and I have to seriously consider moving.
10431	7/10/2012	Apparently funding, like with most public entities nowadays.

10432	7/10/2012	Funding. Being considered a low priority by politicians.
10433	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10434	7/10/2012	operation funding deductions
10435	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is the community not understanding the value of and not using the library. People spend too much time sitting in front of their TV or computer these days.
10436	7/10/2012	Republicans are the greatest threat to our having an educated and informed society. They want to destroy education and the libraries by refusing to fund these great public services.
10437	7/10/2012	Loss of interest in reading and accessing that media through a community resource rather than purchasing the item new from a remote (Internet) source. I think that library programs to get children interested in reading are extremely important. It certainly greatly influenced my interest and I remain an avid reader.
10438	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding
10439	7/10/2012	Probably the Internet. That is why I am happy to see MultiCo Library embracing the internet including the ability to check out books for Kindle, etc.
10440	7/10/2012	People like me who are tired of being taxed out of our neighborhoods. I will vote against any new tax increases having to do with the library.
10441	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10442	7/10/2012	Well let's see, here in Western Appalachia (Oregon) were graduate less than 60% of our HS seniors. Of those that do complete HS in the prescribed time approximately 30% go on and obtain a four-year college degree. As a recent NY Times survey indicates, less than 90% of those 18 and younger read print media. Here in Portlandia I would up that age group into the "thirty-somethings". Hence the closings of the "Lookingglass" bookstore, Downtown Borders, Barnes & Noble on NE Broadway, etc. Approximately 70% of K-12 in PPS are in free meal programs and we know the correlation of nutrition and study habits. Even the current group of college underclassmen have reduced their reading workload significantly (see: Charles Murray's "Coming Apart" & "Academic Anxiety"). As a rule the majority of folk's do not read for either study or entertainment any longer. That's why the Kardashian TV series has such an intellectual following.
10443	7/10/2012	Lack of public support and funding.
10444	7/10/2012	kids too addicted to screens that they do not "get" the joy of reading
10445	7/10/2012	People not encouraging reading.
10446	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
10447	7/10/2012	Not being open and not being relevant.
10448	7/10/2012	The ability to do research on the Internet.
10449	7/10/2012	funding.
10450	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10451	7/10/2012	Funding in difficult economic times.
10452	7/10/2012	Loss in funding.

10453	7/10/2012	apathy and lack of funding that are symptoms of our growing lack of enthusiasm for literacy.
10454	7/10/2012	Funding? Is this a trick question?
10455	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
10456	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!!
10457	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10458	7/10/2012	ill informed individuals who have not availed themselves of the libraries and their great resources. I would think that more exposure to these treasures available would be a great idea....and a way to get people off their cel phones, ipod's, etc. that they can learn/relearn how to actually read and enjoy and do things manually and mentally at the library!
10459	7/10/2012	Theft and Misuse of materials. Unsavory types scaring children
10460	7/10/2012	The grand but mistaken idea that people find the information and resources they need online or through other electronic means. Just because smart phones and ipods are everywhere does not mean people are well-informed by them. Libraries and librarians provide an indispensable public service by providing what no computer can provide: physical, human resources. A knowledgeable librarian can help even a well-educated person to locate resources they might have been unaware of, and that human hand is even more valuable to someone whose education, age or language abilities might hinder them in other ways. We cannot be a community if we all isolate ourselves within the anonymity of the web-based search engine! We need each other, face-to-face, and a library is one of the last bastions of that community in the publicly funded realm.
10461	7/10/2012	Not being open into the afternoons and therefore inaccessible for full time M-F workers during the week
10462	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, it seems.
10463	7/10/2012	Being shut down.
10464	7/10/2012	The belief that digital media will render print books obsolete.
10465	7/10/2012	I don't really know.
10466	7/10/2012	Wall street stealing all the money.
10467	7/10/2012	Funding. Lack of public knowledge about all that is offered through library services.
10468	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10469	7/10/2012	I don't know.
10470	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
10471	7/10/2012	The Internet.
10472	7/10/2012	budget constraints
10473	7/10/2012	Books,cd-s,
10474	7/10/2012	Possible closures.
10475	7/10/2012	Funding
10476	7/10/2012	Increased costs and decreased funding.
10477	7/10/2012	Lack of funds. How about a small fee per item checked out, Could raise a lot of money,

10478	7/10/2012	I don't know
10479	7/10/2012	Loss of hours due to loss of staffing, due to loss of funding...
10480	7/10/2012	Voters and politicians not understanding how extremely important libraries are to the growth of our community.
10481	7/10/2012	Lack of use...and lack of funding.
10482	7/10/2012	Ignorance. Must stay open long enough to serve all people.
10483	7/10/2012	Republicans! Seriously though, I think the threats come from cutting budgets and not realizing the impact libraries have on local communities through services and access to materials. Those that want to limit the working/not working class's access to knowledge.[] Those that have money to buy books and don't care about others.[]
10484	7/10/2012	[] All the money currently being spent on controlling and/or killing others.[] [] Republicans
10485	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10486	7/10/2012	Apathy and wrong-headedness about paying for public services.
10487	7/10/2012	Plain and simple it is funding. I would encourage a greater effort to get the word out in regards to potential cut backs due to funding. Many people including myself were aware that a problem existed. Many people including myself would have happy to donate to keep the library fully functional.[] I think donation information should be available and well marked in the front entryway of every library.
10488	7/10/2012	Ignorance. Lak of money.
10489	7/10/2012	Funding
10490	7/10/2012	not sure.
10491	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
10492	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
10493	7/10/2012	Apathy from lawmakers and lack of appreciation / awareness from locals.
10494	7/10/2012	Money
10495	7/10/2012	Lack of use.
10496	7/10/2012	Funding
10497	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is people not giving money.
10498	7/10/2012	Not having enough resources and available hours to help the community thrive.
10499	7/10/2012	closure due to budget constraints
10500	7/10/2012	Funding cuts by people who fail to understand the value of the library.

10501	7/10/2012	MCL is well-loved and highly used library system. However, reducing hours or the availability of materials will force patrons to look elsewhere. If funding continues to drop, the library will lose a lot of its patrons and not be able to provide the valuable services that it's known for.
10502	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding
10503	7/10/2012	waste of executive money
10504	7/10/2012	A lack of funding.
10505	7/10/2012	Apathy of citizens and voters.
10506	7/10/2012	Lack of understanding among non-users as to what a library really is and does for the community which leads to decreased funding when the need is greatest
10507	7/10/2012	Apparently, funding. We should probably be asking you this question.
10508	7/10/2012	Maybe lack of awareness of programming and resources? Funding?
10509	7/10/2012	funding, shorter hours
10510	7/10/2012	Insufficient funds e-books and online resources that people can access from home
10511	7/10/2012	young people especially don't care to read much anymore
10512	7/10/2012	lack of money
10513	7/10/2012	Lack of money
10514	7/10/2012	Honestly, I just come in and check out my materials. I'm not very involved in the library, but I love what it has offered me.
10515	7/10/2012	Lack of a stable funding base because of political gamesmanship by the County board of commissioners.
10516	7/10/2012	No sales tax and small real estate tax = little funding
10517	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding
10518	7/10/2012	Probably a lack of funding. Either that or sea monsters.
10519	7/10/2012	Electronic books and people not using the library as much so not supporting the funding through taxes
10520	7/10/2012	I don't know.
10521	7/10/2012	Inaccessibility.
10522	7/10/2012	People using computers at home and video games and not learning the value of reading and doing research the old fashion way...using a book.
10523	7/10/2012	tax cutters that want to cut everything
10524	7/10/2012	Odd question since I have a limited perspective. I don't feel qualified to answer.
10525	7/10/2012	funding?
10526	7/10/2012	lack of funding, competing priorities for services
10527	7/10/2012	A cultural loss of curiosity and love of reading/learning.

10528	7/10/2012	Republicans; the wealthy elite who inherited their wealth and avoid paying their share of taxes for the common good.
10529	7/10/2012	Lack of funding due to reduced property tax income & current financial/economic climate
10530	7/10/2012	Misuse of the dollars that are already give to the libraries. [] 1. Tell me why the libraries are buying Wii's and video games? A library is for multimedia use, but not for entitlement items like video games[] 2. Why not collect all the late fees due to them? I can tell you I have a balance and have never been asked to pay it. What is the balance of outstanding late fees in total? Wouldn't it be in the interest of the system to collect the funds and not allow people access to the resources if they have an outstanding balance in late fees?
10531	7/10/2012	lack of priority put on this very valuable resource.
10532	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding.
10533	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of caring about books anymore.
10534	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10535	7/10/2012	Funding and support.
10536	7/10/2012	i don't know. bookworms? lack of funding, doubtless.
10537	7/10/2012	Electronic Access -- how long the physical libraries will be necessary
10538	7/10/2012	Lack of awareness on how valuable a public library really is. Nothing is free, but our libraries come awfully close. Folks need to step up and support our amazing libraries.
10539	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10540	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. [] A lack of understanding of the importance of a great public library system.
10541	7/10/2012	non funding.
10542	7/10/2012	money
10543	7/10/2012	Mismanagement of tax revenues.
10544	7/10/2012	Wasteful government spending in other areas that take resources away from library.
10545	7/10/2012	Reduced hours, especially during summer when kids are out of school and use the library more frequently. I could more understand reducing hours in winter.
10546	7/10/2012	Inconsistent funding model, dependent on informed and engaged voters. The library needs dedicated funding, protected from boon and bust economic trends.
10547	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10548	7/10/2012	Not enough space, not enough computers (we are a technical society now days)
10549	7/10/2012	Funding
10550	7/10/2012	I guess lots of people are changing to electronic readers, but there is no substitute for a real book
10551	7/10/2012	not enough books

10552	7/10/2012	probably funding but I do often think some of the services should be cut back, ie: I don't see the sense in having computer access for on line video games and dating sites except I know it encourages people to vote on the funding levies. I also think some of the funds for CD's, DVD's and magazines could be reduced drastically. I realize this is old school mentality but I still think libraries are FIRST about books.
10553	7/10/2012	Refusal of politicians to make the rich pay their fair share of taxes.
10554	7/10/2012	Reduction in funding
10555	7/10/2012	lack of money as it gets spent on special interests and not for the greater populaces good or betterment. priorities are not for the common good, sadly.
10556	7/10/2012	As with our schools, insufficient funding to support valuable services to the community.
10557	7/10/2012	Online editions of books (Kindle's), are getting cheaper and cheaper. I think that will be the biggest threat. Why be put on a hold for a book, when it may cost you less than $10 to have it now?
10558	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
10559	7/10/2012	the Republican party
10560	7/10/2012	Funding to keep the doors open as MUCH as possible....
10561	7/10/2012	Limiting times and materials available due to costs involved.
10562	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10563	7/10/2012	Spending money incarcerating non violent offenders.
10564	7/10/2012	Apathy.
10565	7/10/2012	defunding
10566	7/10/2012	budget cuts, increase in digital media leading to neglect of traditional, hard-copy media
10567	7/10/2012	Not enough funds, clearly.
10568	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
10569	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
10570	7/10/2012	not enough funding. all of the above programs are critically important, i'd rather the library not open on Mondays, but to keep all the community aspects. for me i need later in the evening hours, since I work all day, and for the library to open be open on weekends. but i also recognize all the other services the libraries provide, that they really shouldn't loose.
10571	7/10/2012	Funding is always at risk, and censorship issues crop up every now & again.
10572	7/10/2012	funding
10573	7/10/2012	Funding.
10574	7/10/2012	Don't have an opinion
10575	7/10/2012	Ignorance, especially in social priorities.
10576	7/10/2012	lack of funding; republicans.
10577	7/10/2012	Falling behind in technology.
10578	7/10/2012	funding... I think people care enough, but everyone is so tight right now.
10579	7/10/2012	Not having up to date materials

10580	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
10581	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.[]
10582	7/10/2012	Transition to online information - how do you check out a book for your Kindle from the library?
10583	7/10/2012	Decreased tax base and funding. closing
10584	7/10/2012	Funding! Obvious, but the Library has not been as forthcoming as it should be about the levy and the proposed tax district. I am afraid that the latter will be defeated because of "I just voted for more money." Secondly, the library is moving away from traditional information provision to serving the homeless. It is not a social welfare agency. Much staff and sheriff time is spent in this area; as well they often intimidate others, elderly and younger patrons. I have no answer for the latter matter and I am certain you are well aware of the challenges.
10585	7/10/2012	Probably one of the biggest I can see is people thinking that they can do most everything with electronics, such as ebooks. However not all of us agree with that and still like holding a book in our hands. Plus not everyone is into all those gadgets.
10586	7/10/2012	Them being closed.
10587	7/10/2012	Lack of funding for operations. [] This could have been solved by placing the question of whether to create a special district with taxing authority in the last election, instead of asking whether to continue funding under the scheme that has been used. [] I also think the question re: special district should not be placed on the ballot for the 2012 general election. Placing it during an off-election would increase the chances of a positive outcome, because those who support the library system would be motivated to vote, while other potential voters may not be inclined to vote.
10588	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is when people forget how IMPORTANT the value of having a community library. Library is a space is that creates community and builds on the strengths sharing information. I value the library and I want to be a part of a community that holds and adheres to the values of having a community library. The library needs to gets it's groove on and add other community sharing events that bring people into read. We have the Portland Living Room down at Pioneer Courthouse Square...We need our community reading room, The Public Library.
10589	7/10/2012	Becoming obsolete due to technology addicted people and their their lack of interest. They find all they need to know by staring into their little machines, unable to have an intelligent conversation. It's important for the very young to come to the library.
10590	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10591	7/10/2012	People not willing to fund this basic service to our community.
10592	7/10/2012	Lack of a stable source of funding
10593	7/10/2012	out-of-control salaries and benefits for staff at upper levels
10594	7/10/2012	Lack of funding

10595	7/10/2012	Anti education bias, resulting in reduced funding.
10596	7/10/2012	Underfunding
10597	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10598	7/10/2012	Limited hours for access
10599	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, apparently.
10600	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. We need more funding, it is the most used system in the nation
10601	7/10/2012	less service
10602	7/10/2012	That people put financial concerns ahead of concerns for having a system to promote and enhance literacy, community involvement and engagement, and resources for those who otherwise couldn't read, use computers, etc.
10603	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and kindle/Amazon. The current political climate doesn't value the government or public works or anything provided as a benefit to all
10604	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
10605	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10606	7/10/2012	That people will stop using them and we will lose what is valued most in education. Without education, our country will diminish!
10607	7/10/2012	?
10608	7/10/2012	The Internet, ebooks, Kindle and anything Kindle like, funding
10609	7/10/2012	Inaccessibility from reduced hours of operation due to budget cuts.
10610	7/10/2012	if affluent, influential citizens of multnomah county do not value the services offered
10611	7/10/2012	Unwillingness for users or taxpayers to pay for the wonderful service and resources
10612	7/10/2012	Govt. You raise taxes, shorten service hours and accessibility, and the library is not as customer friendly, as a decade ago.
10613	7/10/2012	Funding and service cuts.
10614	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, obviously. The tax structure in our state is problematic, in that home owners are relied on too heavily to fund every aspect of government. We desperately need a sales tax.
10615	7/10/2012	Not enough funding due to the hurting economy...dropping funds from property taxes, & inversely, more out of work people needing to find jobs, including non English speaking folks & low income folks needing to find resources.
10616	7/10/2012	Lack of dollars
10617	7/10/2012	How bound to economic and educational development the library is to our city. There is unequal access to technology and books and important to our future to have resources available to all community members. With the Portland Schools also seeing and facing devastating cuts, the libraries fill a crucial niche to our area by providing computer classes, programs for school-age children and current materials.

10618	7/10/2012	As libraries began to eliminate hours, families and especially kids who used to go the library regularly will have to cut down on their trips. For many children, growing up with regular and frequent library visits is what develops them into readers and future supporters of public libraries. This library "habit" can be easily broken for families with inflexible and busy schedules who find it difficult to work around the new library hours.
10619	7/10/2012	Competition for funding with other priorities. I also think Portland's priorities are a threat. We should direct funding for libraries, schools, police, streets, parks etc instead of funding bicycle lanes and street car boondoggles.[] I am saddened by neighbors running fund raising campaigns for their childrens' schools, and reading stories about cutbacks and closings of libraries and parks all the while I see never ending bicycle lanes and rails built for street cars! First things first. We need to fund what we've got before moving on with other projects.[] Further, I am ever more angered by the never ending raising of taxes and ballot initiatives.
10620	7/10/2012	Unstable and inadequate funding for major goals and purposes.
10621	7/10/2012	sounds like funding.
10622	7/10/2012	Short hours
10623	7/10/2012	budget cuts
10624	7/10/2012	insufficient funding
10625	7/10/2012	smelly street folks who need a shower
10626	7/10/2012	Greed corporations and those who seek to privatize everything. We have lost some much budget - national and local - because of this fact.
10627	7/10/2012	Not being open 7 days a week
10628	7/10/2012	Lack of funding that will cause the amount and breadth of media to decline.
10629	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, it seems to me.
10630	7/10/2012	I really don't know
10631	7/10/2012	People read less and less in favor of other kinds of entertainment.
10632	7/10/2012	A lack of funding. Redirecting tax funds to other causes?
10633	7/10/2012	Drastic decrease of funds NEEDED to run, operate, and maintain the library.
10634	7/10/2012	Republican austerity! Technology is changing so quickly and I think many young people don't view libraries as an important center for learning and growing. I think the library is challenged to be relevant and applicable to a generation that has so much access to online materials.
10635	7/10/2012	Lack of support from the community that uses it and can afford to support it.
10636	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10637	7/10/2012	Funding issues.
10638	7/10/2012	Too many homeless. Good people stay away
10639	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
10640	7/10/2012

10641	7/10/2012	funding. However, I don't really like the property tax method of funding. I pay around $200-300 annually for the library, which is pretty expensive - I don't understand how there can be funding problems when the library is receiving this kind of money. Or are other people paying a lot less? And if so, why?
10642	7/10/2012	Funding from what I hear. Without funding everything else falls.
10643	7/10/2012	A message to the Library Board: please don't make the mistakes that Seattle made. There, they've spent millions on an avant-garde central library and new branch buildings, but can't even keep the system open the whole year; they shut down for at least one week a year, perhaps two. The highest priorities for MCL should be maintaining the collection and not cutting jobs or hours. People before buildings!
10644	7/10/2012	The largest threat to our libraries is the internet. With so much information available at the click of a button and with children today being brought up in an "information now" society, books I feel will become more and more irrelevant. It is important to keep the library full of new fresh materials in order to stay relevant with today's general public and especially youth.
10645	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, not enough funding, and kids who don't like to read
10646	7/10/2012	Amazon?
10647	7/10/2012	anti-tax sentiment amongst people who actually vote
10648	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10649	7/10/2012	Cuts in funding.
10650	7/10/2012	The shift from print to digital media, and libraries slowness to adapt and offer sufficient digital resources.
10651	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10652	7/10/2012	the economy and reduced tax base
10653	7/10/2012	Republicans
10654	7/10/2012	Lack of a permanent tax base
10655	7/10/2012	irrelevance
10656	7/10/2012	I think the fact that most people use the internet to find what they need these days, it's very important to have more access to electronic books, etc. through the library.
10657	7/10/2012	Books in non traditional form becoming mainstream.
10658	7/10/2012	ignorance
10659	7/10/2012	Lack of public concern and funding.
10660	7/10/2012	funding. amazon
10661	7/10/2012	management of the library to be the most efficient
10662	7/10/2012	Funding.
10663	7/10/2012	Budget issues
10664	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
10665	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to keep current with materials and electronics.

10666	7/10/2012	Funding.
10667	7/10/2012	Video games, poor education funding, lazy parents
10668	7/10/2012	E books will make people think libraries are no longer necessary.
10669	7/10/2012	I would say budget cuts. When hours go down it seems to cause a new area that could be cut further.
10670	7/10/2012	Homeowners are continually asked to bear the expenses - not just for libraries, but across the board. It is just too heavy of a burden and does not seem to get any attention.
10671	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to match inflation.
10672	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Libraries breed social change and are sources of empowerment through education. People need to realize their importance in the community and pay with their vote
10673	7/10/2012	No money to operate.
10674	7/10/2012	from your email, it sounds like funding. I wish I had some to give.
10675	7/10/2012	When the public doesn't understand how the library anchors the community. Even if you don't personally use the library, having a well funded public library in your neighborhood makes it a better place to live. When people think the library is just a place to get the latest Grisham novel without paying for it then they are less likely to be willing to properly fund it.
10676	7/10/2012	Lack of current materials due to unappropriated funds. I am not sure there is a lack of funds for new materials, perhaps just a need to redirect funds. I am fine with fewer operating days/hours, since books can be reserved online, and there is usually a long wait for a book anyway.
10677	7/10/2012	Not being open
10678	7/10/2012	Electronic reading books and other materials.
10679	7/10/2012	Reduced hours. To me this will cause confusion, some days open late some not, thus lowering the perception of reliability which leads to abandonment.
10680	7/10/2012	People who fail to recognize that our community as a whole is well served by high quality libraries even if they don't use them.
10681	7/10/2012	e-books, amazon.com, wikipedia, i phones lack of care, lack of money, lack of community
10682	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
10683	7/10/2012	I don't know. Lack of funding would be my best guess.
10684	7/10/2012	Short sighted budget cuts.
10685	7/10/2012	Funding- not making schools and libraries a priority in the state
10686	7/10/2012	Miserly people who are unwilling to support our treasure.
10687	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding and lack of support, particularly from state legislators.
10688	7/10/2012	People who don't pay property taxes. (apartments, renters)
10689	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10690	7/10/2012	funding cuts
10691	7/10/2012	internet access
10692	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and a loss of young readers who grow up to be adult readers.

10693	7/10/2012	Lack of relevant material.
10694	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, of course. Restricting the hours in such a way that makes it difficult for working people and parents with children to get to them. Too--for me--making them more about visual media than print media. I love BOOKS.
10695	7/10/2012	Being over taken by homeless people where one does not feel safe or comfortable being in the library.
10696	7/10/2012	consistent funding
10697	7/10/2012	Amazon? I have no idea. I would like for the library to be open late at least one day a week. It is hard to actually get to the library, because I typically work the same hours. I do not need the library open on Sundays, but I am sure that is helpful to many.
10698	7/10/2012	I don't know the answer to that.
10699	7/10/2012	ebooks[] not enough money
10700	7/10/2012	wasted money
10701	7/10/2012	i me thking foer me new the so sher sun all comics books aer godd mover i and music
10702	7/10/2012	I don't understand your question. Threat from where?
10703	7/10/2012	An uncoordinated funding system. In your last two funding rounds, you have stated that "if not funded at this level we'll have to make cuts" and then when you are funded, you make the cuts anyway. It has become a "boy who cried wolf" situation for you. Id advise you look at getting some funding from low hanging fruit such as; Charge an annual fee fo a library card.
10704	7/10/2012	The internet, I suppose. I'm a book person myself but I would imagine that there are some big generational shifts away from that. Libraries make excellent neighborhood hubs, however - even better than bars!
10705	7/10/2012	Many people take our library services for granted. Because it's been so consistently good for so long, I think that many Portland residents don't realize how exceptional our library is. Providing these services takes a lot of community resources but are really worth it in the long run. Having lived in other places before where those libraries can't hold a candle to the quality of media offered, the number of branches through out the area, and other activities such as story times classes etc. I am always impressed by and grateful for our library.
10706	7/10/2012	Lack of funding? I think our libraries are a tremendous resource. I want people to be more aware of how valuable they are to our communities and society as a whole. The biggest threat to institutions such as this... ignorance, stupidity, fear, censorship, disinterest... I really don't know what is the biggest threat. I only know that I love our library system (Thank you, Benjamin Franklin).
10707	7/10/2012	Funding
10708	7/10/2012	Budget Cuts
10709	7/10/2012	I'm not sure how to answer this question.
10710	7/10/2012	Funding, it appears.

10711	7/10/2012	not having adequate funding
10712	7/10/2012	Finances. A social, cultural, political climate in which people are not willing to pay for the services that they demand.
10713	7/10/2012	Funding
10714	7/10/2012	Budget cuts resulting in shorter/reduced staffing and hours
10715	7/10/2012	funding
10716	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
10717	7/10/2012	Losing access to materials that are now readily available.
10718	7/10/2012	Keeping up to date resources and materials and having the adequate staff to maintain them.
10719	7/10/2012	Funding is poor and inconsistent.
10720	7/10/2012	Losing them!!! And losing the options for children to experience reading and books and reading programs!
10721	7/10/2012	I hate to say money, but that's it, in a nutshell, is it not? I mean, lack thereof. The internet and new technology does not replace-- only enhances-- the library
10722	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. ebook publishers demanding new "books" to be purchased after a limited amount of downloads.
10723	7/10/2012	Having to rely on levies for its funding. It is not a stable funding source and wastes a lot of money on campaigning.
10724	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, fire, and stupid people who don't read anymore.
10725	7/10/2012	Apathy and ignorance.
10726	7/10/2012	funding issues
10727	7/10/2012	Please do NOT close on Sundays! If you are going to close one day per week, please make it a mid-week day. Weekends are the only time most people can make it to the library.
10728	7/10/2012	Oregonians think they are smarter then they really are. Tri-Met, The City of Portland and Portland Public Schools using money for pet projects instead of what is important. This is eroding public confidence and driving families and middle income wage earners out of the city and the county.
10729	7/10/2012	The privatization obsession. In a free market system there's more profit in everyone buying a microwave, everyone buying a car, everyone buying their own copy of a book. The mainstream media are funded by advertisers who push this sharing = communism hooley. I worry that people who don't use the library much are buying this view and will vote against keeping services that are a lifeline for job seekers, disadvantaged youth, seniors on fixed incomes, etc.
10730	7/10/2012	Any reduction in the great range and availability of books and media. Want to keep the quality and amount of resources the same as it has always been. Excellent library system so far.
10731	7/10/2012	Lack of funding seems to be the the biggest issue. I went to the library yesterday only to realize that it was Mon. and it was closed. It made me feel so sad to think that we are again facing a reduced schedule.

10732	7/10/2012	Having county communications describe your dilemma with terms like "property tax compression." What does that mean?
10733	7/10/2012	Funding.
10734	7/10/2012	funding
10735	7/10/2012	Not enough current books, especially for 10-15 year olds.
10736	7/10/2012	not enough money
10737	7/10/2012	Poor funding, which limits hours. Libraries must be available so that every one can access them.
10738	7/10/2012	Television
10739	7/10/2012	Giving away library funds for incentive programs
10740	7/10/2012	I don't know
10741	7/10/2012	Mexicans
10742	7/10/2012	Frequently changing hours make it difficult to remember when the library is open, which makes it more difficult and frustrating to use the library. This is due to budget cuts.
10743	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10744	7/10/2012	Internet.
10745	7/10/2012	Unsure
10746	7/10/2012	Not enough funding. Also, as a user I would not mind donating or having opt-in pay services to help support a library that can be used by all, regardless of ability to pay.
10747	7/10/2012	People who have knee-jerk reactions to taxes. Those who do not have a long view of the benefits of an educated and involved citizenry. Troglodytes, in a word Ignorance & funding []
10748	7/10/2012	I'm a Beaverton school librarian & my job has been eliminated. I think it is important to keep libraries open, professionally staffed and offer programs relevant to the local clientele. If people don't know & understand what happens in the library they won't use & fund them.
10749	7/10/2012	The failure of the library leadership to propose a ballot measure that would supply the library system with ample, steady funding--and the wrongheaded failure of the library leadership to trust that Portlanders would support it. The library leadership wimped out when it decided not to propose such a ballot measure.
10750	7/10/2012	Weak tax base
10751	7/10/2012	Apathy
10752	7/10/2012	I really don't know. I think many people are unaware how easy it is to order books from home & then go pick them up. I think not many people know of all the uses/programs that a library has & the benefits to the community.
10753	7/10/2012	reduced interest in reading and use of library and library services by youth, and their increased preoccupation with online social networking and use of online informational services

10754	7/10/2012	I don't know enough to answer this question intelligently -- and "lack of funding" is often touted -- but I think the problem is probably deeper. If we accept the premise that libraries mostly serve underprivileged classes (children/teens, seniors on fixed income, low-income families, recent immigrants) without resources to purchase the level of books, media, computer access and educational programs that they desire, then the biggest threat to local libraries would seem to be connected to the biggest threat to underprivileged classes in the US in general: lack of political will (or clout) to prioritize boosts in the standard of living for those with compromised living conditions. I would say that funds could most likely be made available in sufficient amounts without additional tax levies if only political leaders would be willing to assign higher priority to such programs. Perhaps lobbying political bodies for more community-building and society-building investments along the lines of greater library availability and usability -- as well as educating the public about such efforts and encouraging public activism -- is preferable to simply resigning to a policy of seeking more funds through higher taxation.
10755	7/10/2012	Funding!
10756	7/10/2012	.
10757	7/10/2012	Longer closures and limitations to sources of access. Discontinuing educational and social activities.
10758	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
10759	7/10/2012	Online access to same media
10760	7/10/2012	Weak local economy
10761	7/10/2012	people who don't understand what a great resource they are and are unwilling to help fund them.
10762	7/10/2012	budget overspending
10763	7/10/2012	Funding
10764	7/10/2012	Children not learning of and about the value of libraries
10765	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to remain open and provide a full compliment of services
10766	7/10/2012	Loss of so many open hours that working people can't use it. Then user-ship falls off. I myself am frustrated with the current lack of morning hours when I have free time.
10767	7/10/2012	Loss of tax base.
10768	7/10/2012	Constant cuts in funding.
10769	7/10/2012	Government budget cuts. Lack of public awareness.
10770	7/10/2012	Politicians who don't understand how important the library is to the average Multnomah county citizen.
10771	7/10/2012	I don't have the resources to answer this question as I don't know the inner workings of how the library is run and funded.
10772	7/10/2012	Not controlling expenses.

10773	7/10/2012	Obviously funding is short - For a full time worker as myself it is difficult to get to the library during open hours - especially if the weekend hours are cut even further - ☹ I don't think it's fair that only property owners pay for the funding - how about a $10/year library card for non property owners? Everyone gets to vote on increasing property taxes - though only those who actually own it have to pay the tax.
10774	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is the priority many people seem to have toward spending their money on Blazer games and casinos instead of on basic needs like a free library system that serves so many people and provides a basis for the development of our young people. We seem to have a fundamental skewed idea of where our good comes from.
10775	7/10/2012	I think if you try to create a library district it will be voted down because of the economy - seniors and unemployed/underemployed people cannot afford to pay more in property taxes, especially since PPS has just proposed a huge property tax increase. If I have to choose between libraries and schools (which I would hate to have to do) I would have to choose to support schools, since so much of what the library has traditionally offered is now available online from home to anyone who has Internet.
10776	7/10/2012	This seems more like something you tell us- what are your statistics saying? I just check out books nothing more. I have a computer, a job, a newspaper subscription so I am probably not the demographic being affected. If the library was open two days a week I would schedule my visits on one of those two days.
10777	7/10/2012	budget
10778	7/10/2012	funding
10779	7/10/2012	Lack of funding or lack of public interest
10780	7/10/2012	lack of funds; lack of respect for the written word
10781	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
10782	7/10/2012	Limiting the ability to access books in cases of emergencies
10783	7/10/2012	not enough funding
10784	7/10/2012	Lack of money, of course! Cuts down on the collection size and quality (which is mediocre at best to begin with) and the open hours.
10785	7/10/2012	not t enough funding????
10786	7/10/2012	not being funded properly
10787	7/10/2012	I'm not really sure, but I imagine lack of funding. Please don't close any libraries, or cut hours. Sometimes I have a hard time getting to the library to get my books, and having it open longer hours would really help. As a child, I would spend hours in the Central Library's children's room, reading and discovering new books. I would hate to not have that option available for future generations.
10788	7/10/2012	lack of funding

10789	7/10/2012	we keep giving them more money, and they keep telling us it is not enough, when it is going to stop. we just passed a bond measure to keep the doors open every day, and already, they are down to six days. you are lying to the public who pays your bills, it will not last forever.
10790	7/10/2012	funding
10791	7/10/2012	Funding
10792	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10793	7/10/2012	People that don't want to pay ANY taxes no matter what.
10794	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10795	7/10/2012	Funding.
10796	7/10/2012	Spending too much on genre best sellers with a short popularity span
10797	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. Not enough funding. People use the library all the time. When I was in high school, my senior year back in 2003, I would always use the library to study for test. I think libraries are a crucial part of our community here in Portland. As suggested previously, other method's of income for the library would be helpful. IE the APP idea to rent out e-book's per a charge, .50 .99 cent's. That would beat buying the book for 9.99- 29.99 through the kindle apps or nook apps. and one could have time to read it.
10798	7/10/2012
10799	7/10/2012	Funding and people not realizing what an incredible and invaluable resource the Multnomah County Library system.
10800	7/10/2012	I would guess not enough funding to keep libraries open, new books being acquired, and services for all ages being maintained.
10801	7/10/2012	I don't really know, but I would a lack of funding or a lack of public perception of value that would lead to lack of funding.
10802	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10803	7/10/2012	Poor leadership by Jeff Cogen who blew it big time by not letting the Library secure independent funding authority, the measure would have carried overwhelmingly now we have the same old shamle to put up with

		Not receiving funding. Also something to take into consideration. ¶ ¶
10804	7/10/2012	I used to enjoy going to Central library as my primary library, but stopped going as often because of the environment. I would commonly go with my textbooks and stay for two to three hours completing assignments and reading. But, the bathrooms are in consistent horrible condition, and there are days where the library seems to have a high amount of people just hanging out.. Drinking out of paper bags, talking loudly or even yelling back and forth between one another being the chief concerns. ¶ ¶ In this environment it is more difficult to study in, but there are also times where I just don't feel as safe and so don't care to dive too deep into study while at Central. Personal comfort like sitting next to someone with limited hygienic practices or access to hygienic facilities is one thing, but worrying about your personal safety or the security of your belongings while at Central is a pretty heavy detriment to user traffic.
10805	7/10/2012	Disregard of their importance in our community. Our three main focuses for tax-payers dollars should be fulfilling the most basic human needs (food, shelter, water, legal places to use the restroom, ect. (this isn't even being met)), education, and preservation of the educational resources available to everyone such as the library system.
10806	7/10/2012	The amount of unsupervised children, the dedication of resources committed for people to use the internet for social contact, shopping, etc. Our libraries are becoming daycare centers for parents to "dump" their kids so they can have some "alone" time. Even though I have not checked out materials for quite some time, I stop in on occasion to see if conditions have changed for the better, yet they have not, so I just leave and purchase reading material from retailers.
10807	7/10/2012	People don't realize how necessary public libraries are to the community and are not willing ¶ to pay taxes to support them.
10808	7/10/2012	A trend of fewer people spending time in the library buildings in favor of using them as pickup/dropoff locations for books they've reserved over the library's website. To adapt to this, the library system needs to evaluate how well their library buildings are used, and make plans to use/rent-out space in their buildings for more services/events that both 1) provide a high benefit to the community, and 2) are popular and well-attended by members of the community. Both metrics are important: it doesn't matter how beneficial a class/event is if few people attend.
10809	7/10/2012	lack of consistent funding
10810	7/10/2012	The homeless.
10811	7/10/2012	political posturing
10812	7/10/2012	funding?
10813	7/10/2012	lack of funding, it seems
10814	7/10/2012	Available funds

10815	7/10/2012	I don't think I understand how the libraries are funded well enough to know what their biggest threat is in that area. I would say people being unaware of what wonderful programs you offer, and the ease and simplicity of the website to check out materials could be a threat.
10816	7/10/2012	Our libraries need stable funding so they do not need to continually go to voters.
10817	7/10/2012	Lack of public funding.
10818	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
10819	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
10820	7/10/2012	Electronic media
10821	7/10/2012	I don't know. Money, I guess.
10822	7/10/2012	lack of funding and then theft of materials
10823	7/10/2012	nothing at all really.
10824	7/10/2012	Budget funding.
10825	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10826	7/10/2012	Ignorance. Politicians assume that everyone has a computer, and are placing more and more government services online. People flock to the library to access those services, placing a larger burden on libraries. Then, to "save money" library funding is cut, and access to those services is reduced even more. It's a vicious cycle.
10827	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
10828	7/10/2012	Funding
10829	7/10/2012	Limited funding needed for so many things, diminishing culture of community in the US vs "everyman" for himself (mostly republicans!)
10830	7/10/2012	Undocumented peoplesv from foreign countries who demand American tax payer funded services..
10831	7/10/2012	lack of funds
10832	7/10/2012	restricted county budgets. People in the library district vote to approve the levies for the libraries because they are valued as a resource. It is important to the population that libraries be open and their services and resources be available to everyone.
10833	7/10/2012	Potentially not enough funding in the long term.
10834	7/10/2012	The greatest threats is those who do not understand the value and benefits of libraries and want to hand them over to a private, fee-based model. Free access to information is essential to a free society. Lack of access cultivates greater class disparity and wastes human potential.
10835	7/10/2012	Electronic readers and on-line information sites. In some sense, the model our libraries use is outdated. It is far less important today that we have libraries as physical presences open the hours that they traditionally were. We should move to a model where electronic access to library material is given primary focus and physically going to a library (a much more expensive proposition) be put on the back burner. So, the biggest threat is the desire of library officials to spend money on outdated models, for which people will rebel.
10836	7/10/2012
10837	7/10/2012	The fact that even one person fails to appreciate the role the library plays in a civilized society.

10838	7/10/2012	Funding. What about some lottery dollars instead of always taxing the home owners?
10839	7/10/2012	1) People who do not want to pay their fair share of taxes; the dead-beat rich, have corrupted OR tax laws and broken the tax system. 2) The historic incompetence, corruption & brass-ackwards priorities of gov't officials have left OR voters distrustful that their tax money will be spent in a useful and productive way. Resulting in 3) Competition for funds from such worthy &/or beloved things as public education, Park & Rec, "the Arts." The dead-beat rich have created a system where they divided, and thereby have conquered. We voters should not have to choose between having education for our children, public parks, public concerts, or a public library. Any decent, civilized society has them all, for all of its citizens.
10840	7/10/2012	The biggest threats are people who want all public services to become privatized (the ultimate goal of many in the anti-tax crowd), people that are literate but watch TV more than they read, and people who think that because of Amazon and Wal-Mart, libraries are obsolete. [] The recent, ironic book burning party in Troy, Michigan, was genius in its subversive marketing campaign.
10841	7/10/2012	Homeless people and punk kids hanging out in the Centreal Library all day.
10842	7/10/2012	PR
10843	7/10/2012	Television
10844	7/10/2012	not enough funding to support the programs and services.
10845	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10846	7/10/2012	lack of new material
10847	7/10/2012	The internet - on-line books. No need for personal contact
10848	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding causing staff layoffs, less buying, deferred maintenance to buildings, unable to keep up with technological advances.
10849	7/10/2012	People who would rather fund schools. The problem is, schools don't work; they don't fulfill their mission. Libraries do. If I am given a choice between school funding and library funding, I choose libraries.
10850	7/10/2012	reliance on property tax
10851	7/10/2012	Budget cutbacks causing fewer hours / days open !!
10852	7/10/2012	being under-valued by people who don't understand their impact on the community (thus leading to lack of support and lack of funding)
10853	7/10/2012	Not sure. Obnoxious people with their equally obnoxious children who talk loudly while others are trying to study or do quiet work.
10854	7/10/2012	Reduced funding
10855	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is decreased funding. I'd rather the library close one day per week than for people who need them to lose programs.
10856	7/10/2012	funding

10857	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10858	7/10/2012	lack of funding, not able to keep the locations open to provide the important free programs available for the community.
10859	7/10/2012	homeless, porn
10860	7/10/2012	Lack of up to date material and spending cuts. Also, a degenerating idea about the importance of reading and education.
10861	7/10/2012	Under-funding
10862	7/10/2012	Funding - obviously.
10863	7/10/2012	Not being able to access it as many hours as I'd like. Limiting our resources to education. Being in country that supports education and the library system. I am very disappointed with the budget cuts. Where are my tax dollars going exactly???
10864	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10865	7/10/2012	Lack of advocacy
10866	7/10/2012	Bureaucrats who don't believe Multnomah County voters will support MCL and instead cut the services provided.
10867	7/10/2012	Lack of sense of community when it comes to taxes. Many good people don't want to take from their own income to pay taxes for public resources. Although these are the things that make a community desirable...good libraries, good schools, nice parks, good roads.
10868	7/10/2012	I think you ranking protocol sucks on question 5....you might just as well have not asked me (are you folks for real). 6. Bureaucracy. If funding was done fairly than you'd base the amount of funding for each library received in funding would be based on the numbers of people that checkout books, what is the waiting time to get on computers, and the number of folks standing in line (and for how long) waiting for assistance. That would be done by the senior staff person at the library (with a random check on that person doing the counting and the manner in which they assess their needs).
10869	7/10/2012	government
10870	7/10/2012	move to digital media
10871	7/10/2012	Funding and politicals mudding the waters about funding.
10872	7/10/2012	Going in the direction of electronic books.
10873	7/10/2012	funding - there is no more room in the property tax system
10874	7/10/2012	Republicans
10875	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10876	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and the move to digital media.
10877	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding
10878	7/10/2012	other available sources for books, and availability to get this from home. example, ipad, kindle notebooks that allow you to buy books on the spot with out leaving home

10879	7/10/2012	Maybe tie between underfunding generally, and the need to invest in more comprehensive ebook collections and more efficient ebook interface.
10880	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10881	7/10/2012	A misunderstanding that not funding our library means that services could be cut. Many people I talk to don't fully realize that. They also don't always understand that the current funding system isn't stable, and we must renew it to keep libraries open.
10882	7/10/2012	It appears to be a lack of funding, because I know that they are wel loved and well utilized by the community.
10883	7/10/2012	The internet, Google, Amazon, Apple.
10884	7/10/2012	Not enough current and bilingual material.
10885	7/10/2012	Lack of funding/lack of political support for funding and increased community need. (Need = cuts to public school and enrichment programs, increased cost of higher education, higher unemployment...)
10886	7/10/2012	de-funding...much like our school system. Our children will (or won't) be as prepared as possible - to the extent we invest in them in their early years. I grew up in a small(er) Oregon town and the library was a huge part of my growing up - and has been for my children as well. My kids are excellent readers and excel in school - in large part due to the library. We have to message the importance of our community libraries and access to these great resources, better than the message for prison funding.
10887	7/10/2012	being taken for granted...the library is too important to ignore
10888	7/10/2012	Indifference.[] lack of awareness - perceived lack of value. Libraries compete with internet and online media, also free, also accessible 24/7. The physical experience seems to be generational. (I am 46, so that my age-slanted view). I loved libraries as a kid. Now I see very young, and then a jump in years. [] Librarians, great resource, but the connection between them and availability of research online is lost to younger crowds. Asking an adult - intimidating. Looking online, easier. THAT SAID there is no one teaching proper research, evaluation, critical thinking -- all things a library provides; indifference puts it at risk.
10889	7/10/2012	I believe the biggest threat to the local libraries are those individuals who possess library cards but either do not live within the county or have since moved from the county. Because the libraries cater to so many people, sought-after books are often hard to come by and require a wait time. Perhaps the library should limit the number of users by keeping it within the county.
10890	7/10/2012	That they will not be open and available for daily use. Libraries are a critical learning tool for people of all ages.
10891	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.

10892	7/10/2012	not enough funding to keep libraries open. When we had a funding crisis some years ago the library hours were cut to such a degree that it was so confusing to know when the library was open or not. Every day was different. Our libraries are well used. We need to keep them open at least 6 days a week.
10893	7/10/2012	The biggest immediate threat is reduced hours. The biggest long term threat is the loss of the role of the library in all our daily lives. It's what the library represents to all of us: We are a literate, intelligent, thoughtful, interactive community committed to multifaceted learning.
10894	7/10/2012	I think that there are two things that pose the biggest are: 1) The lack of awareness that some people have of all the things the library does for our communities. My coworker has children and since school is out, she has to find ways to engage their minds. I learned of all of these awesome things that the library does for kids, which I didn't know before hand. I think if people knew how much of a community center and resource it is to the people who live in Multnomah County. 2) There isn't that much money that we can receive from taxpayers. I know of many people who are having a hard time paying their current bills (especially mortgages), and it is hard for them to pay any more. I don't own a home and have minimal debt so this isn't a problem for me.
10895	7/10/2012	Unwillingness to increase taxes on the wealthier citizens.
10896	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
10897	7/10/2012	the internet, google scholar, etc people reading less and uneducated
10898	7/10/2012	funding.
10899	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10900	7/10/2012	Lack of political support for adequate funding.
10901	7/10/2012	Not having funding to buy new materials or technology and not being open when people need it.
10902	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries is to much focused on computer technology instead of books themselves. I would rather our libraries be about reading, learning, and community rather than turning them into a internet cafe.
10903	7/10/2012	No money to buy books
10904	7/10/2012	Funding cuts and loss of access
10905	7/10/2012	No funding?
10906	7/10/2012	Cost of operation combined with need to provide free services for lower income population.
10907	7/10/2012	ignorance
10908	7/10/2012	Defunding. And bears.
10909	7/10/2012	Consistently poor administration, bloated staff & extreme salaries.

10910	7/10/2012	Policy makers whom do not understand that a good library is a necessary neighborhood asset like bus lines, bike paths, and a K-12 school. Libraries are part of the "sense of place" needed for people to thrive. [] See Dan Kemmis's work in Missoula.
10911	7/10/2012	Many of the voting public doesn't realize the importance of a library.
10912	7/10/2012	Sufficient funding
10913	7/10/2012	Lack of access, where access is defined as outdated material or limited amounts of materials (like periodicals subscriptions) and restricted hours.
10914	7/10/2012	Same primary threat as our other public infrastructure and services. People don't want to pay for infrastructure or services (library, sewers, schools, etc.), despite their reliance on them directly or the reliance of their community upon the services..
10915	7/10/2012	Money being diverted to law enforcement. Keep the library open, fire the guy at the door with the gun. How many deputies does it take to operate a metal detector at the court house?
10916	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
10917	7/10/2012	Lack of funding seems like it is an existential threat although the rise of digital media is significantly changing the role libraries play in the community.
10918	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10919	7/10/2012	funding
10920	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and unimaginative administrators.
10921	7/10/2012	Funding!
10922	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
10923	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
10924	7/10/2012	Apathetic citizens who don't care. Digital media, kindle, e-reader, etc.
10925	7/10/2012	Is this a loaded question?
10926	7/10/2012	Apathy among the greater community. Less reading by teens and young adults. Weakness in funding.
10927	7/10/2012	Not keeping up with technology.
10928	7/10/2012	internet
10929	7/10/2012	The general population not understanding the breadth of materials and services the library provides, and thus the importance of continuing to fund those services.
10930	7/10/2012	Defunding by the right-wing zealots.
10931	7/10/2012	Complacency (assuming the library will always be around no matter what) and also the halo effect (people who say "I love the library!" but never use it).
10932	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; lack of public support.
10933	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!

10934	7/10/2012	Funding and people's perception of the libraries' importance in our communities. That people value lower taxes over invaluable community resources.
10935	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10936	7/10/2012	Lack of funding is the biggest threat 1) to keep the library open when working people can have access to it - for example, nights and weekends; 2) to update computers and add electrical connections for people who bring personal computers; 3) make printers wifi accessible so people do not have to go onto library computer to print; and keep the library receiving new materials.
10937	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10938	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to the central library is its current status as one giant toilet for every street kid in Portland. I'm very egalitarian, but seriously, certain behavior shouldn't be tolerated. I frequently don't go there because I know I'll be accosted by a junkie or a paranoid schizophrenic. And of course, the situations is significantly worse for women.
10939	7/10/2012	Funding. We need to make sure that the communities understand the value of libraries. Its about story telling with numbers.
10940	7/10/2012	Lack of market penetration about the presence of our libraries and the services they provide to our communities. I think that the local television stations should be asked to run a 15-30 second advertisement just for the libraries at least once a week as part of their stewardship for our community. If they can't do it for free, ask the Oregon Community Foundation for help on finding a sponsor.
10941	7/10/2012	Besides lack of funding and support which is in first place, the biggest threat to local libraries is the misplaced belief that technology and the internet can replace this resource. The convenience and speed of technology leaves the keyboard wanderer without the safety net of reliability of information (knowing the source), depth of knowledge, and personal service provided by local libraries. Libraries can anchor a community, technology is still searching for the definition of community.
10942	7/10/2012	The perceived benefit of the Internet - who needs books and librarians when we have Google?
10943	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding
10944	7/10/2012	Funding I assume.
10945	7/10/2012	stable funding
10946	7/10/2012	Lack of knowledge about the range of resources available. It's not just books!
10947	7/10/2012	ZOMBIES
10948	7/10/2012	Reduced hours of operation.
10949	7/10/2012	Outdated materials and technology
10950	7/10/2012	Complacency
10951	7/10/2012	budget cuts, copyright-hungry corporations with no interest in fair use
10952	7/10/2012	closure? Libraries are important to have in each community
10953	7/10/2012	Underfunding
10954	7/10/2012	Probably financial resources

10955	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10956	7/10/2012	Citizens who don't understand the role of taxes and what they should be providing for our community.
10957	7/10/2012	lack of funding...television!
10958	7/10/2012	The internet. Where I went to the library to do research when I was young and in school more research is done online and through ebooks/e-journals. I don't think this is bad so much as it requires the library system to adapt accordingly. Appeal to youth through electronics rather than trying to get them in the physical building.
10959	7/10/2012	People not using them, because then they won't vote to fund them. I would like to see the library do more to reach out to middle and high school students, and have an easier way to watch videos (rented) online. The current video system that replaced being able to check out educational DVDs in not user friendly or mac friendly.
10960	7/10/2012	Poor education from the schools
10961	7/10/2012	Republicans and their desire to pay less and leave those in need to fend for themselves.
10962	7/10/2012	I don't see a threat, per se. Libraries need to balance resource availability and service, just like everyone else. And in the Internet age, the traditional view of "what is a library for" might need to change. More online access might actually help reduce staff costs without significant impact on us end-users.
10963	7/10/2012	Not identifying characteristics of a changing market and failing to evolve
10964	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10965	7/10/2012	costs
10966	7/10/2012	the people that use it and don't take care of the materials right
10967	7/10/2012	Obviously it's funding, and that is due to a fundamental misunderstanding of how important libraries are. Secondly, and I hesitate to express this "incorrect" sentiment, but many people think of the libraries as homeless shelters and the unpleasantness around all that.
10968	7/10/2012	apathy.
10969	7/10/2012	funding
10970	7/10/2012	The government.
10971	7/10/2012	The libraries themselves
10972	7/10/2012	Funding, perhaps.
10973	7/10/2012	lack of funding
10974	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
10975	7/10/2012	That people don't find them important and worth funding.
10976	7/10/2012	Under funding.
10977	7/10/2012	budget cuts
10978	7/10/2012	LAck of funding!!!
10979	7/10/2012	Voters misunderstanding the importance of taxes for supporting services.
10980	7/10/2012	funding?

10981	7/10/2012	Ignorant and privileged bureaucrats
10982	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding
10983	7/10/2012	Failure to pass levies
10984	7/10/2012	lack of funds
10985	7/10/2012	Budget cutbacks. Portland is a literary town. Promoting an open source of knowledge is vital.
10986	7/10/2012	None.
10987	7/10/2012	Struggling economy.
10988	7/10/2012	I'm sure that lack of reliable funding is the biggest issue facing our libraries.
10989	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to operate
10990	7/10/2012	Monetarily not enough funds. Politically censorship.
10991	7/10/2012	Lack of money, just like every other area of our lives.
10992	7/10/2012	Corporate greed, citizen apathy, leadership without vision or guts.
10993	7/10/2012	Lack of public support for adequate funding.
10994	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
10995	7/10/2012	I do not have enough in-depth knowledge to answer.
10996	7/10/2012	That people don't choose to use the resources that the library has and that it is thought to be an unnecessary tool in the age of electronic books.
10997	7/10/2012	Lack of money.
10998	7/10/2012	..that they will be viewed as as a social service agency for low income, homeless, and lonely people. All others have their own resources and the internet, and don't "need" the library in this view. Nothing for regular people at the library....
10999	7/10/2012	Funding to provide services to the neediest portions of our population --- low income, unemployed, seniors, children, etc. These people have heavier reliance upon library services to make positive changes in their lives, and reduced funding undermines the library's ability to meet this population's needs.
11000	7/10/2012	Perhaps this survey will help answer that question. Too much money spent on remodeling. I think we should fix leaky roofs etc. but spend less on beautification and more on access ability. Libraries need to make information available to as many people as possible.[]
11001	7/10/2012	[] Perhaps libraries could operate for proffit gift shops, book stores,coffee shops for added revenue and pizazz. Make fresh filtered drinking water available to all for free.
11002	7/10/2012	A refusal to acknowledge that we should support those entities that contribute to the public good. I am cutting back on many expenses because of the economy, but I'd rather skip take-out coffee and restaurant meals to know I'm paying taxes to support the best library system possible. One night's hotel stay is more than I'd pay in library taxes; why not put that money where it does such huge long-term good?

11003	7/10/2012	Closure. Loss of staff. Inability to maintain the high standards that have been set.[]
11004	7/10/2012	Limited access when the need is so great. Diminishing programs. Unknown
11005	7/10/2012	Not having enough of the current books on hand, while having enough research and history for students etc.. The current stuff keeps readers like myself wanting to come back rather than buy. Children can learn good study habits, respect, knowledge from "hanging out" at the library and the can grow larger and larger. But they need to be introduced to begin this process
11006	7/10/2012	the internet. most people i know only enter the library to pick up the books the have placed on hold. between ebooks and scanned books not much of a reason to go to the library.[] [] why do job search at the library? thats what the state employment office is for!
11007	7/10/2012	Funding
11008	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; becoming out of date.
11009	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11010	7/10/2012	Lack of appreciation of physical printed word.
11011	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11012	7/10/2012	People get discouraged because it takes so long to get the books they request. If hours are cut and funding for new materials is decreased, this will be even more of a problem.
11013	7/10/2012	People don't know how to read. Also people spend more time watching TV and videos online rather than read. This leads to lower support (tax support) for libraries.
11014	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Incorrect public perception that the public library is a homeless shelter.
11015	7/10/2012	Funding...
11016	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
11017	7/10/2012	Fiscal conservatism.
11018	7/10/2012	As I understand it, no funding is the biggest threat.
11019	7/10/2012	the homeless and vagrants; I would use it more if it was not so unpleasant to visit the library. Too many are there for reasons other than what I grew up thinking a library was about
11020	7/10/2012	Digitization and computerization. The cost is enormous, the savings and public benefit are less than admitted. The library once was a quiet and well funded place for self education and advancement.
11021	7/10/2012	The public no longer needing them. It's fairly easy to download free books off the internet these days so sadly, libraries have to offer more than just books for people to go to them.
11022	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11023	7/10/2012	Funding shortages.

11024	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of interest in keeping the most wonderful of library systems as exceptional as it is! I have used libraries in 6 different major cities in the U.S. and find the Multnomah County Library the best of them all. I have asked for the most obscure titles very few of which have ever been denied me. I am a homeowner and would hope that any further taxes seen on my bill will increase towards helping to sustain the library system. I also love taking my grandchildren to the various branches to participate in the children's programs.
11025	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11026	7/10/2012	That we lose them or they're only available in certain localities based on prosperity.
11027	7/10/2012	Reduced access to the collection due to decreased funding.
11028	7/10/2012	1) Politics! It seems there is a push to eliminate all types of publications that are counter to the vision of people that believe the county should not have automobiles, manufacturing, motorsports, etc. 2) Using funding that voters intended to be for the libraries operations (i.e. being open, books and research staff) being used for other non-library functions. A LIBRARY SHOULD BE A LIBRARY AND FOCUS ON BEING EXCELLENT AT THAT FUNCTION. IT SHOULD NOT "MORPH" TO BECOME ALL TYPES OF OTHER THINGS TO ENCOMPASS OTHER, NON-LIBRARY TYPE FUNCTIONS. LEAVE THIS TO OTHER GROUPS AND AGENCIES.
11029	7/10/2012	Internet
11030	7/10/2012	Not adapting/utilizing current technologies!
11031	7/10/2012	funding cuts
11032	7/10/2012	funding cuts
11033	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding
11034	7/10/2012	Loss of funding, loss of personal contact. I miss chatting with a librarian, or even a clerk when checking out books. The robot just isn't the same, even if it is saving us money and allowing the other services I love to continue.
11035	7/10/2012	Illiterate maroons who can't and don't appreciate the magnificent joy of reading!
11036	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
11037	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11038	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11039	7/10/2012	Selfishness that threatens public services because of the perceived burden of taxes
11040	7/10/2012	Atmosphere. Making the library a more comfortable place to visit would make a huge difference in the time I spent there.
11041	7/10/2012	Taking the service for granted.
11042	7/10/2012	Funding.
11043	7/10/2012	Decreased number of days open
11044	7/10/2012	Not seeing how important they are to our community as a whole especially to those without other resources

11045	7/10/2012	Too much money being spent on entertainment DVDs and CDs rather than books and research aids.
11046	7/10/2012	The absurd tax system in Oregon with regressive and illogical property taxes; lack of a progressive sales tax, (exclude food, clothing, medicine and housing); and a draconian "bond" system that again inappropriately penalizes home owners.
11047	7/10/2012	Lack of reliable, consistent funding.
11048	7/10/2012	politicians (and regular citizens) undervaluing the need and benefit of libraries.
11049	7/10/2012	Not having enough electronic versions of books.
11050	7/10/2012	Expecting the library to be all things to all people. It should be about books and the information therein and a quiet environment to enjoy same. Other community institutions (or new ones) should be tasked with "programs and resources", foreign language materials, and community computers - not the library.
11051	7/10/2012	1. Spoiled upper class brats who don't value it enough and therefore don't make it funding it a first priority. Public libraries keep the population literate, functional, and offer many services and opportunities to working class individuals and families that we otherwise wouldn't have. ¶ ¶ 2. Spoiled poor brats that think stealing from the library it okay--they steal from the whole community since the community pays for the library.
11052	7/10/2012	invisibility to those who do not use its resources
11053	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
11054	7/10/2012	Those who are not realizing the importance of reading, as well as having access to knowledge available to all on a daily, consistent basis. Those who are not realizing the importance of teaching others to read & to expand their knowledge, especially children.
11055	7/10/2012	Maintaining relevance. Lack of digital media availability. Most all mobile devices can access these materials. It has been cumbersome to use, if not most items are just not available. I would greatly prefer to read or listen to the majority of books on my tablet, even if it is checked out for the same time as a physical book. I would even enjoy dropping by my local branch to sync my device. Download would be ideal.
11056	7/10/2012	1.) That users don't understand that we all have to PAY for library services via TAXES or libraries will go away.¶ 2.) Non-users don't care - period - about the greater good, the future and education of children, or that there is life beyond the Internet or TV.
11057	7/10/2012	Lack of funding due to misplaced priorities of state and local government. We already pay enough taxes. The people who allocate those funds need to pull their heads out of their asses, stop wasting tax dollars, and put that money to work doing things that are actually important -- like funding the libraries!

		Probably funding. but to be honest, as a community and a nation, we all have to "pinch pennies" and make some sacrifices. ¶
11058	7/10/2012	This is a sad truth, but it's the state of our economy right now. ¶ Politicians and those in charge of creating budgets seem to think there is this endless, everlasting supply of money to support every sort of government program imaginable. As a community and nation, we need to decide which programs are absolutely essential (military, healthcare for children, taking care of our elderly and veterans, etc.) and which programs (as nice as they are) are not. Sadly, I believe that the library (among many others) will need to be the ones taking a few cuts.
11059	7/10/2012	it appears to be funding, as it is for ALL publicly supported entities. As a citizen I can tell you I am weary of being asked to support financial Band-Aids for school, libraries, zoos, parks, rescue services. Where does it end? No one appears to have enough, regardless of what is requested and even when given, we simply move on to the next request. I love the library system and have voted to support it but, I can tell you I am not going to get into a (public schools style) cycle of this levy for books and services, this levy to support outdated buildings, this one to maintain education programs. Figure out what you need, live within that sum and be done with it. This idea of parsing up requests to make them more finically palatable is having the opposite effect; you are losing my support for all.
11060	7/10/2012	The Internet
11061	7/10/2012	Online access of materials
11062	7/10/2012	Unknown - other than online books are more easily available, although for a charge
11063	7/10/2012	being under-funded
11064	7/10/2012	Like everything in our state - poor funding base.
11065	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
11066	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11067	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
11068	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11069	7/10/2012	Underfunding. Reduced relevance of services.
11070	7/10/2012	The question assumes there is a threat. Maybe you should rethink your questions.
11071	7/10/2012	Funding
11072	7/10/2012	Being unable to provide the vital services it is known for
11073	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
11074	7/10/2012	Reduced funding
11075	7/10/2012	Definitely funding. But I'd say lack of funding comes from ignorance. People who do not frequent the library do not always understand how vital it can be to a community.
11076	7/10/2012	Republicans.
11077	7/10/2012	Amazon.com
11078	7/10/2012	Underfunding

11079	7/10/2012	Arrogance.
11080	7/10/2012	Not enough money to run them.
11081	7/10/2012	Well, one big threat is this survey being taken very seriously. The auto-ordering of the above question to some default ranking, the vague question before it. How should I know how well used the library is? What does that even mean?
11082	7/10/2012	People voting against tax levies and the terrible economy.
11083	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11084	7/10/2012	Not enough taxes to cover the cost.
11085	7/10/2012	I don't really follow the library system details like that.
11086	7/10/2012	Lack of reliable, continuing funding
11087	7/10/2012	disregard from those who can afford to buy any item they may want or access to any source they desire.
11088	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11089	7/10/2012	The people who don't understand the importance of libraries in our society and their influence on culture. These are the people that defund libraries.
11090	7/10/2012	I don't feel qualified to answer this. I would guess funding would be the biggest threat, but Mult Co residents always seem to pull through when it comes to funding our libraries; they're a source of pride.
11091	7/10/2012	How people get their information is changing every day. The libraries need to keep up with technology as well as they can to remain relevant. As the concept of the modern library changes, our local libraries need to keep up so we can continue to provide free access to lots of types of materials.
11092	7/10/2012	Closing branches.
11093	7/10/2012	In order for libraries to remain useful, I believe that the materials available for check out must stay current and relevant to our times. Currently I do not see a threat to our local libraries.[] []
11094	7/10/2012	I have had to make cuts to everything in our household, i.e., watering my lawn, cable service, cell phone service, groceries driving cars well past their prime, etc. I feel it is only fair that the library make similar cuts. I can certainly make the 6 days a week reduced hours work as I am sure most others will too. It may be less convenient and I may have to wait longer for a book but I can adjust.
11095	7/10/2012	Short-sightedness. Libraries provide a wealth of information, materials and avenues to enhance a person's ability to participate in the modern world. Not very one is totally 'connected' to the technological world that drives our lives. Even when they are, a library provides a link, especially when they are new to the community or traveling through.
11096	7/10/2012	Not being accessible enough for the people who need it most.

11097	7/10/2012	I know the threat for most people is the deduction in time that the libraries will stay open. Im not sure if its true but could the web & ebooks be threatening our libraries??
11098	7/10/2012	budget cuts
11099	7/10/2012	digial media
11100	7/10/2012	Economic cut backs?
11101	7/10/2012	Under funding.
11102	7/10/2012	Funding cuts!
11103	7/10/2012	Inefficient use of funds
11104	7/10/2012	Lack of reliable funding.
11105	7/10/2012	funding/ budget cuts
11106	7/10/2012	loss of funding, Thank you ballot measure 5 supporters
11107	7/10/2012	Funding
11108	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. I think, with the advent of the Internet and particularly ebooks, a lot of people feel the library is less relevant -- which couldn't be farther from the truth, but it does make it harder for libraries to receive the necessary funding.
11109	7/10/2012	Insecure funding.
11110	7/10/2012	Proliferation of electronic media; young people are always plugged into their i-phones, texting, playing computer games. Almost no one READS BOOKS any more.
11111	7/10/2012	inappropriate behavior of patrons and a waste of personel time and resources
11112	7/10/2012	lack of sufficient funding
11113	7/10/2012	Not supplying enough electronic versions of books.
11114	7/10/2012	My sense is that they are underfunded, especially considering how much value they add to the community.
11115	7/10/2012	Funding for staff and programs
11116	7/10/2012	The GOP
11117	7/10/2012	Lack of a stable funding source.
11118	7/10/2012	Funding
11119	7/10/2012	I realize that costs are going up but it should have been easy to predict that property taxes were down. Asking voters to extend a levy and now coming back and asking for increase does not build trust
11120	7/10/2012	That the hours would be so restricted that people would get discouraged and not make the effort again once the hours don' meet their needs.
11121	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to libraries is the increasing incursion of electonic media. Though libraries should offer public services they should not offer internet services other than research tools.
11122	7/10/2012	Completely closing down or open only a few days a week.

11123	7/10/2012	People thinking online books are as "good" as e-books. I don't think people realize how "simplified" e-books need to be to be readable--losing much of the formatting that may have added to the experience of exploring an author's ideas--especially in the arrangement of non-fiction materials. E.g., skipping from point to point online in the Encyclopedia Britannica is NOTHING like the now-lost skill of browsing the physical volumes. The first is narrowing, the second is expanding. [] However, I like how our libraries are expanding their mission of "information purveyors" as the world changes.
11124	7/10/2012	People who don't see them as promoting the well-being of our communities!
11125	7/10/2012	I love that the library continues to be a community center that promotes reading, literature and learning for all ages and through various means. Over the years, it has also become a venue for classes, music, crafts and dance. However, in our tight economy, the library seems to be stretched thin, as are other public and private organizations and businesses. Prioritizing services and resources is essential as the library cannot afford to offer everything to the community. What should the library offer that cannot be found elsewhere?
11126	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11127	7/10/2012	People take them for granted.
11128	7/10/2012	Underfunding
11129	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11130	7/10/2012	Funding!
11131	7/10/2012	Lack of priority in Funding
11132	7/10/2012	Lack of funding The Kardashians sisters?[] Question unclear.[] If anything seems leading - do you want us to say, 'inadequate funding!'?[]
11133	7/10/2012	:)[] Actaully, I have no idea how to answer.[] I still think .25 per day fine for overdues is too much, though.
11134	7/10/2012	Republicans
11135	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11136	7/10/2012	Balancing reduced hours of operation and staff with availability of material, programs, and services.
11137	7/10/2012	I am not sure...
11138	7/10/2012	No funding.
11139	7/10/2012	County Commissioners underestimating the love of, and support for, the library.
11140	7/10/2012	E-book readers. Libraries need to offer more books as e-books, and more copies of e-books.

11141	7/10/2012	Those who run the library need to stay focused on being a library, not trying to be a place for people to take classes or as a daycare. Have current and relevant information available.
11142	7/10/2012	The Internet, followed closely by the Kindle.
11143	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11144	7/10/2012	It appears to be budget cuts. I don't think people realize how valuable and what a privilege it is to be able to access all of these things for free. It opens my world to alot of new media/experiences that I couldn't have if I didn't the library. There's no way I can afford sampling and using all of those items (DVD, book, CD) outside of the library.
11145	7/10/2012	Risk of becoming obsolete if the system does not keep up with technology.
11146	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11147	7/10/2012	Public ignorance of how beneficial the library is to so many.
11148	7/10/2012	funding!!!
11149	7/10/2012	libraries need to cover many areas. slowly getting cut here and there until they no longer support the wide variety of people that use them.
11150	7/10/2012	funding decreases that limit the selection, which is currently quite good.
11151	7/10/2012	For them to loose funding and have to shut down branches
11152	7/10/2012	Library boards that doom library bonds by putting library bonds on minor-election ballots. Wait till November, for cryin' out loud! ☹ If you want to win, go for the election when the most people are paying attention: November in presidential years. November in non-presidential years (2010, 2014, etc.) is less favorable, because it attracts more extreme voters, which nowadays are mostly right-wing and anti-library. Me, I'd vote for a library bond if you held it at midnight at the North Pole. But most people aren't aware of elections except in November. Many people with mobility problems (senior citizens, parents of young children, marginalized people) benefit from libraries and would vote for them, but they have a lot on their plate. Keeping up with minor elections is actually a fair amount of work. I know because I do it.
11153	7/10/2012	One reason I don't visit more is the type of people that are "hanging out" at the libraby. Too many scummy people.
11154	7/10/2012	cutting funding and laying off of our wonderful and necessary librarians who are so knowledgeable.
11155	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11156	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
11157	7/10/2012	lack of stable funding
11158	7/10/2012	Drunk hobos using them as their living room and bathroom
11159	7/10/2012	budget cuts
11160	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11161	7/10/2012	funding
11162	7/10/2012	It seems to be funding.
11163	7/10/2012	The internet. Lack of funding.

11164	7/10/2012	People who don't want to pay taxes
11165	7/10/2012	Not enough funding?
11166	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11167	7/10/2012	Budget
11168	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to continue operations.
11169	7/10/2012	I have no idea. The digital media certainly is changing things, but I wouldn't say it's a threat.
11170	7/10/2012	lack of funding cutting hours and programs
11171	7/10/2012	Funding
11172	7/10/2012	Nook and kindles
11173	7/10/2012	I have no idea but can I just give all my tax money to the library system instead of the danged CRC bridge?
11174	7/10/2012	lack of funding. We need libraries with full service hours and resources!
11175	7/10/2012	Not funding them adequately to keep them open and current.
11176	7/10/2012	The idea that everyone can have access to information strictly through the internet. Not all people have computers at home AND we all need access to materials other than computer based.
11177	7/10/2012	Funding
11178	7/10/2012	People who don't use it and don't vote
11179	7/10/2012	The Internet substituting fo reading among our youth and the working hard professionals.
11180	7/10/2012	Complaisance amongst patrons / uncertainty in revenue stream.
11181	7/10/2012	Shorten hours Parents who allow their children to spend all day playing video games or watching tv rather than encouraging them to read (and reading with them) and to be outside playing. We are generating a generation who only know how to text and be constantly entertauned by garbage.
11182	7/10/2012
11183	7/10/2012	That they don't transfer the information they have to electronic copies and utilize technology fast enough.
11184	7/10/2012	fire?
11185	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I assume. Also perhaps a reduced level of interest due to ease of getting books and media elsewhere (online, etc)
11186	7/10/2012	People not realizing how central our library system is to our community.
11187	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11188	7/10/2012	Lack of funds. Need to have good resources, adequate building maintenance, good hours.
11189	7/10/2012	Apathy. Security. Libraries turning into homeless shelters. People using libraries only for internet access, or as a place to get out of the rain.
11190	7/10/2012	Lack of funding due to political posturing and voter apathy.
11191	7/10/2012	Internet access to ebooks, making books less used. (Also a great asset for libraries offering electronic borrowing)

11192	7/10/2012	They are becoming irrelevant in the digital age. The threat is high cost for facilities that few people are using. 35,000 seems like a big number but is a small percentage of the metro population. The rank order list in question number 5 assumes that any of those things are personally important to me--they aren't. In terms of the 3 programs mentioned, how many people currently avail themselves of those at a library? Are the libraries the most cost-effective way to do that? Community colleges offer the same services for free to seniors, illiterate and ESL citizens, for example. Like everyone else, libraries are competing with health care for the poor and schools budgets which take priority. Sorry, reality is here.
11193	7/10/2012	Funding Restrictions on loaning ebooks
11194	7/10/2012	Linking post measure 50 property tax revenue to library funding. Otherwise I'd say the ignorance of those who cannot see the indirect benefit a library gives to the community by improving livability for those of lesser means.
11195	7/10/2012	That people who do not use them often, or ever, think they are so little used. Libraries like bunnies (no joke had house rabbit pets once) are unseen and unheard, unknown for how rich they are in activity unless you yourself are very involved as well...and like bunnies assumed to be less useful or lively than they are. ☐ Kids programs are so well used. Myself I like the idea of if libraries were less used - there would be more room for me with less others using computers or the workrooms. But, there's not. Those who are making budget decisions for less use of libraries - do they realize these places operate like busy little community centers? They are a public meeting place - money isn't made off people from their buying drinks, so libraries may be overlooked - but they matter to many. They are safe places to seek information where you won't be flirted with, assaulted by loud music, eat things you want to avoid, get distracted by friends away from your work, and where there is so much....information all around you to enjoy. Encourage intelligent communities - support libraries.
11196	7/10/2012	budget cuts
11197	7/10/2012	funding
11198	7/10/2012	they are too expensive
11199	7/10/2012	finances
11200	7/10/2012	Probably funding- and electronic books (Yuk!)
11201	7/10/2012	loss of objective and neutral information services
11202	7/10/2012	funding, dumbing down of citizenry, right wing zealots undercutting anything for the public.
11203	7/10/2012	electronic media
11204	7/10/2012	Online Media. It makes libraries somewhat obsolete. That's a shame too because there is a wealth of information that comes from the people there as well as books, etc.
11205	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
11206	7/10/2012	e-books and kindles....

11207	7/10/2012	Multnomah County Commissions with a hidden agenda to change the system.
11208	7/10/2012	funding issues
11209	7/10/2012	when less than 7 days/week are open, or daily hours are shorter, people will use them less, setting off a vicious cycle of less support and less literacy
11210	7/10/2012	People will stop using the library if there are not enough physical materials in the library
11211	7/10/2012	ebooks and ability to get them via librart,
11212	7/10/2012	budget cuts
11213	7/10/2012	Smart phones.
11214	7/10/2012	Electronic books
11215	7/10/2012	lack of consistant funding
11216	7/10/2012	Not staying current with latest and popular books, newspapers, and magazines.
11217	7/10/2012	Not controlling access to mature and or inappropriate media and web sites to youth and to adults when in a public space accessible to youth eyes and ears. I will never support the library system with these practices in place.
11218	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
11219	7/10/2012	The current trend to e-books instead of the printed version. This is the same threat to the publishing industry as we watch the large number of retail book stores close.
11220	7/10/2012	The prevalent anti-government sentiment and therelated lack of appreciation for how important libraries are, especailly for those who cannot afford to buy books or pay for high speed internet.
11221	7/10/2012	The liberal use of Library funding to support non-traditional library activities in an attempt to meet needs in the communities it serves. I.E. English language assistance, computer training, job search help, homework assistance, etc.
11222	7/10/2012	Anti-tax political posturing
11223	7/10/2012	google search.
11224	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding
11225	7/10/2012	closing is the biggest threat. Keeping the libraries open is always the best bet. Close the ones that are the least utilized. Cut back on hrs and or days but keep them open, people will adjust.
11226	7/10/2012	Spending library funds on anything not directly related to providing books and other materials, and paying the wages of library employees. There is NO need to have live music or other entertainment, and classes not directly related to reading. Even "story telling" for little kids is not a direct need. If other people or organizations want to rent library meeting rooms to put on programs, at their own expense, that's fine - but a library with funding problems should not pay for any of it.
11227	7/10/2012	tight funding
11228	7/10/2012	Over taxing.
11229	7/10/2012	obviously funding will be the eternal threat, but i see a level of ignorance toward further education to be a root problem. unfortunately this is a problem neither federal nor state government will ever be able to solve.

		Number 5. in your list of questions did not work. It simply listed all in a prescribed order when I clicked on a number 1 which I later wanted to change. []
		Number 1. All branches and Central Library open with full hours - seven days per week. and nothing else cut. There is enough money in this country to support this basic support for our democratic republic. However, the Kleptocracy (those who steal from the public and destroy our most valuable human asset; good will towards each other) are trashing everything that is of genuine value. Stop TPP before they steal everything from every nation for the puny and destructive Midas Touch. You do realize that King Midas died because he could eat food, or drink water because it turned into gold and he couldn't hug his daughter. Of course most narcissitic and antisocial monsters don't care much for hugging as they don't believe love exists. They are not willing to do the hardest work they might ever do, to know and feel genuine love. If they actually were capable of genuine love, they would not be in the process of destroying everything of true value.
11230	7/10/2012
11231	7/10/2012	cut backs
11232	7/10/2012	Funding
11233	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
11234	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
11235	7/10/2012	Closure?
11236	7/10/2012	republicans
11237	7/10/2012	bums
11238	7/10/2012	An unwillingness to invest in the education of our populace.
11239	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11240	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and the larger picture of lack of understanding of the importance of libraries.
11241	7/10/2012	Funding?
11242	7/10/2012	I don't know
11243	7/10/2012	lack of stable funding.
11244	7/10/2012	Lack of funding - when the library isn't open during convenient hours, people will not be able to use it or will choose not to use it.
11245	7/10/2012	Closures of library branches.
11246	7/10/2012	Threat is a strong word, but I think a problem is the lack of funding and the knowledge of what that funding does will make it harder for this levy to be understood.
11247	7/10/2012	The economy and the national government.
11248	7/10/2012	Cuts in funding and the perception (incorrect) that our library is overstaffed or somehow not doing the most with limited resources. Ignorance is rampant in this culture and the library is the best bulwark of an informed citizenry.
11249	7/10/2012	Recession.
11250	7/10/2012	Lack of funding

11251	7/10/2012	Use by fewer people due to limited hours. More would participate and support if the libraries were open more often.
11252	7/10/2012	sounds like you don't have enough money.
11253	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11254	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11255	7/10/2012	not enough funding. [] Overly high salaries for top administrators
11256	7/10/2012	A perception on the parts of too many people that the resources it provides aren't important to the community
11257	7/10/2012	Lack of funding causing a smaller selection of materials and fewer hours of operations.
11258	7/10/2012	The internet and Powells.
11259	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
11260	7/10/2012	Apathy
11261	7/10/2012	Ineffective government/use of tax monies.
11262	7/10/2012	Funding.
11263	7/10/2012	Lack of funding first of all. Then lack of understanding of all the wonderful things you can get there, so easily, especially if you understand how to find an item online and pre-order it (in the case of popular movies for instance)
11264	7/10/2012	Given the preamble to this survey, I'm inclined to say the prolonged contraction in the economy is the biggest threat, since it results in fewer funds available via levies.
11265	7/10/2012	Lack of community or financial support?
11266	7/10/2012	People who don't read.
11267	7/10/2012	The ability to have current and relevant materials available. Budget cuts, in spite of the support shown by those of us that show our support by voting yes for every library funding measure that's on the ballot. []
11268	7/10/2012	[] I don't see electronic media being a threat, although the regressive policies of the big publishing houses could grow to be an issue. We use a Kindle and an iPad for reading, and the limited access is frustrating. My eyesight isn't what it used to be, and the ability to enlarge the print is a blessing.
11269	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11270	7/10/2012	Clearly it's funding.
11271	7/10/2012	monsters
11272	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11273	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
11274	7/10/2012	Staying open?
11275	7/10/2012	Budget cuts resulting in few resources and materials and reduced hours
11276	7/10/2012	Government

11277	7/10/2012	Lack of support through funding
11278	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
11279	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11280	7/10/2012	Keeping up with innovation and changing needs -- and the funding for keeping up with those changing needs.
11281	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
11282	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11283	7/10/2012	Seems to be funding.
11284	7/10/2012	Budgetary cutbacks that limit access to branches, materials
11285	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11286	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11287	7/10/2012	The mindset that what is held in common by a community is less valuable than that which is privatized.
11288	7/10/2012	Funding for resources both human and material. Keeping the library open 7 days a week and being able to provide materials that would not be available otherwise.
11289	7/10/2012	Not getting enough funding because people who don't use the library don't realize how valuable it is.
11290	7/10/2012	The belief that libraries are expendable given the prevalence of the internet and growth in eBooks. It would be interesting to see if a study could be done on the cost of NOT having a strong public library system. My sense is that the results would demonstrate the immense value of the library to all members of the community.
11291	7/10/2012	Rich people who don't pay their fair share in taxes
11292	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
11293	7/10/2012	lack of adequate funding
11294	7/10/2012	Accessibility of library resources electronically. With laptops and e-readers, many people simply pay to buy or rent books rather than go to the local library. Streaming allows for movie access without leaving the house. I would imagine the audience has changed to a lower-income demographic and perhaps those who vote against the funding are those who can afford to get library resources without leaving their home.
11295	7/10/2012	Not having enough money causes less hrs.and days,less classes,and less material.
11296	7/10/2012	funding cuts and hiring freezes. please continue to invest and enrich our library system. it's already very very good and it occupies such an important place in our community. i'm always amazed at how many people are reading library books all over town... let's keep staffing them and expanding their collections so portlanders can stay at the leading edge of knowledge (which we all know is one of the main weapons in the fight against ignorance and injustice).

11297	7/10/2012	The county reducing the annual operating budget even more. This is an old, mandated service; yet the boards have continually shrunk the allocation. We should be adding back. We cannot continue this business of asking voters for proportionally more money at every levy or in a district, should that come to be. The library is needed just as much as health services.
11298	7/10/2012	I believe the biggest threat is the perception that local libraries are archaic institutes that have been replaced by Television, the internet, eReaders, online bookstores... as a result the community cuts funds to libraries because most of what is available at libraries is available through a computer.
11299	7/10/2012	under-funding and lack of public understanding about the importance of this resource Funding.[]
11300	7/10/2012	We have the interest that most communities don't. As technology increases the library needs to change with the times. It has in large part. Libraries must not die like many bookstores have.[] Books may evolve because of technooogy. The breadth of material available in your library expands choices inspite of the internet. The library is for all.
11301	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
11302	7/10/2012	funding
11303	7/10/2012	Funding
11304	7/10/2012	funding cuts
11305	7/10/2012	funding! This is in part related to interenet access for those who can afford it
11306	7/10/2012	not enough funding
11307	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is the Internet. Libraries as they were conceived are no longer helpful to most citizens - they've been rendered largely obsolete by the internet.
11308	7/10/2012	fluoridation?
11309	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and the lack of use by the community.
11310	7/10/2012	tax formula
11311	7/10/2012	Funding
11312	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding.
11313	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
11314	7/10/2012	under funded
11315	7/10/2012	funding restrictions
11316	7/10/2012	Changing media; funding of course.
11317	7/10/2012	It seems that the largest threat is not having enough money to continue or expand programming and to keep the libraries open.
11318	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
11319	7/10/2012	Idiot politicians that control the budget.
11320	7/10/2012	Access
11321	7/10/2012	Isn't it always the lack of funding?

11322	7/10/2012	Technology tends to take away from the importance of paper materials. For students books are important too.
11323	7/10/2012	Apple computers and the I-pod/smart phone mythos. In other words illiteracy and ignorance.
11324	7/10/2012	Impression that they are becoming day-care stops for the homeless and underserved in the community. The biggest deterrent to me and my family is the occasional threats we feel by those who have no other social services to help them acclimate to the community. The NW library is often literally uninhabitable due to the stench at the computer station area. I have witnessed loud arguments that I felt would have turned physical had patrons not stepped in. I have never seen a library employee take any sort of action in these circumstances. While the library must be for all the slip in attention to maintaining a safe and clean place for the children and elderly members of the neighborhood means those people will stop using, and stop funding, the system.
11325	7/10/2012	funding ¶ internet access to books/ and other library uses
11326	7/10/2012	I think it is lack of funding. The struggling economy has meant significant budget cuts to public services. In my opinion, this is the greatest threat. I think the library has done a phenomenal job of adapting and updating to the changing media in today's world, so the digital revolution doesn't strike me as a great threat to the library. Rather, the library has added this resource to the tools through which it makes a wide range of information and print material available to the public. People who cannot access internet at home can do so at the library. The online catalog and the ability to place holds online and then pick the book up at my local branch are such gifts!
11327	7/10/2012	Funding apparently. We just passed an operating levy and it isn't enough to keep the existing level of service. Why? Why didn't the levy ask for more money? I don't know of other threats, but going to the central library I notice quite a few homeless people using the library area for a day shelter and gathering place. Seems like the central functions as a public restroom and homeless shelter and that takes resources away from books, classes, and programs. Is that a big issue?
11328	7/10/2012	a general cultural tendency for spending too much time being absorbed in mainstream entertainment, and infortainment, and not appreciating and utilizing the choices for independent thinking and following one's own inclinations. ¶ ¶ a general cultural tendency emphasizing the acquisition of things, rather than developing one's mind and creative abilities¶ ¶ a general cultural tendnecy towards 'what is in for me (and my family) and less interest in the overall prospertiy and well being of the community

11329	7/10/2012	Political feeling that libraries are not an essential public good, and the consequent cuts in funding. [] Also, I wouldn't mind only 6 days a week if they were 6 days with FULL HOURS. This closing-at-5 thing is a huge pain.
11330	7/10/2012	Funding and ability to effectively allocate the libraries' substantial budget (in comparison to similarly-sized libraries).
11331	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11332	7/10/2012	Funding issues
11333	7/10/2012	Budget cut, fire, and the Internet
11334	7/10/2012	Libertarians and Republicans
11335	7/10/2012	Too many computers and not enough desk space for other types of work.
11336	7/10/2012	slow, steady decline of services - sort of like what began July 1.
11337	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11338	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11339	7/10/2012	not staying up-to-date on new technology (aka online resources, ebooks, etc)
11340	7/10/2012	budget cut and the culutre of not reading books.
11341	7/10/2012	you taking away funding. how about you take some money from the homeless and your dumb composting project and put i back in the library
11342	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11343	7/10/2012	Internet access provides more available information, as well as convenient.
11344	7/10/2012	anti-collectivist conservatives that think community is the opposite of freedom.
11345	7/10/2012	Funding issues. And the fact that the majority of people who use the library system may not have a loud enough voice to share their opinions with city politicians who decide the fate of the funding issues.
11346	7/10/2012	Increasing PERS contribution rates consuming too much of operating budget causing staff cuts, reduced hours, loss of programs.
11347	7/10/2012	The county commissioners who take the money that we vote for libraries and use it for their favorite programs instead of libraries
11348	7/10/2012	reduction of hours and days more than current plan
11349	7/10/2012	I don't think that we should become to focused on computers and media. There is still a place for browsing the shelves and storytime.
11350	7/10/2012	n/a
11351	7/10/2012	lack of awareness about just what is available through the library, and the subsequent lack of support in the community. there should be more county sponsored advertising about programs and classes.
11352	7/10/2012	Relying on property taxes to fund them!

11353	7/10/2012	Material available online, personal devices. People who don't care to support this valuable resource for our kids.
11354	7/10/2012	People taking the libraries for granted.
11355	7/10/2012	Budget cuts that will not allow the libraries to update their materials or computers, and not being open full days for convenience.
11356	7/10/2012	In my opinion, availability of other means of obtaining books, movies, and other materials. The internet and technology make libraries increasingly obsolete for lots of people. For those of us who love real books and the idea of libraries sharing these resources, it is very unsettling.
11357	7/10/2012	I use the library specifically to check out items of my interest. To me, the only thing that would prevent me from going to the library is that I can't find the specific materials in the library. I use the online system to place hold on books or other materials.
11358	7/10/2012	Having the days and hours being cut
11359	7/10/2012	I would imagine it would be pure ignorance, and lack of knowledge of the full range of resources it offers. We primarily use it for books and DVDs, quite heavily, but we will likely soon take more advantage of the digital offerings. Lack of knowledge of the full breadth of offerings is likely the biggest threat. Those who have no understanding of the libraries importance in the education and vibrancy of our culture, perhaps could not be swayed. But this seems a likely secondary threat. So, two kinds of ignorance.
11360	7/10/2012	Republicans.
11361	7/10/2012	Not sure, probably those who work in the system know best. It seems that if it's not understood how relatively little it would cost if we all share the burden to keep the level of services we have and want, then funding could be cut out of ignorance. It seems like funding to keep services going is the biggest dilemma.
11362	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11363	7/10/2012	Not enough funding. A lot of people who depend on libraries for studying and so on. Like some of the bookstores who have closed, I think people are worried that libraries will close in their neighborhood and they will have no access at all.
11364	7/10/2012	More people not being willing to share the responsibility for keeping our library viable and vibrant thorough property taxes. □ □ Lack of other ways of raising monies for library support besides property tax. I don't know if there is a model for any other way to support libraries other than assessing property owners. There are a lot of people who rent who could afford to help support the library system, but we have no way of accessing those people.
11365	7/10/2012	Money being voted in for the libraries and siphoned out of the libraries for other uses that aren't as popular as our libraries.
11366	7/10/2012	lack of funding

11367	7/10/2012	Apathy.[] Though it seems that the most enlightened of us realize the value of the resource and how to access branches and sites, "spreading the word," as it were, seems an essential and integral value in a sustainability plan for the system, more effective education on applicability to "Life as we know it," seems timely and prudent.
11368	7/10/2012	The Belmont Branch sometimes resembles a day-care center and homeless shelter.[] [] Outside the Central Branch is the best place in Portland to inhale second-hand smoke. The Central Branch bathrooms are where the homeless go. We are very, very tired of the creepy, smelly street people at the Central Branch, who use it as their daily office.[] [] We always vote for Library funds. Always. Let's not cut funding, it is disrespectful to the people who vote to have their taxes raised to support the Libraries.[] [] A little less coddling of our dead beat residents and a little more government support for the Libraries, please.[] [] Sorry to sound so un-generous, but we are really sick of the creeps in the Central Branch.
11369	7/10/2012	Weak tax base and the fact the in Oregon you need to pass bonds on the ballot to receive funds-I really dislike that system I realize that libraries are suppose to be free but I would charge one dollar or so for a library card and have a dues system that for each year a card holder/member must pay 10 dollars or so (late fees would still be assessed). In the Central Library I would open a cafe so that patrons could drink coffee or have a snack at the library and this would further help to generate funds. [] [] Have late fees go against the person's credit score if not paid within a reasonable amount of time. [] Charge 25 or 50 cents for ebooks or dvds. [] [] I think the public has a financial responsibility as well.
11370	7/10/2012	resistance to taxes; lack of familiarity with reference & other special services

		Funding. In hard economic times, when many are out of work and/or underwater on home mortgages, people are less likely to vote for bonds to support libraries. Need to find multiple sources for funding to spread the cost burden. □ □
11371	7/10/2012	Don't feel it is necessary for libraries to be on the "cutting edge" regarding high-tech offerings, though important to keep moving ahead with the times--should be a balance. □ □ I see the most important role of libraries as providing a more equal playing field to help bridge the learning gap between society's wealthy and poor and to help instill a love for books in children and adults.
11372	7/10/2012	Politically Conservative ideology. Corporate owned media. Taxpayer apathy. Lack of education. Dumbing down of our society through excessive dependence on television and a "fast food mentality," as in a society with high expectations and wanting immediate results, but not willing to put much effort into the desired results. All of these reasons are connected-not in isolation.
11373	7/10/2012	Poor oversight.
11374	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Wish they were open more hours.
11375	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11376	7/10/2012	Decreased funding
11377	7/10/2012	Limiting hours.
11378	7/10/2012	Increased demands on the libraries to serve as community centers with many different resources/programming without major changes in funding to support this.
11379	7/10/2012	Not enough funding, reduced hours.
11380	7/10/2012	Funding cuts or insufficient funding to begin with.
11381	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11382	7/10/2012	being open only 6 days a week
11383	7/10/2012	funding
11384	7/10/2012	Lack of investment in materials & employees - the operating costs. Perception of the library as a 'free' resource rather than a community-supported investment.
11385	7/10/2012	lack of voter support for levy funding
11386	7/10/2012	No sales tax in Oregon. Lack of a sales tax in Oregon means revenues are chronically low. This affects county services indirectly but it does affect county services.
11387	7/10/2012	Losing ease of access in the neighborhoods
11388	7/10/2012	Tea party.
11389	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.

11390	7/10/2012	People don't read as much, and e-books. But e-books are a HUGE opportunity. Amazon's policies are really terrible for people who want to share e-books. Authors are reluctant to give permissions for their books to be shared online, but they would be much more receptive to allowing a library to share their e-books.
11391	7/10/2012	inadequate resources to keep open and to employ good staff.
11392	7/10/2012	Lack of interest.
11393	7/10/2012	Funding, of course. This is in terms of our economy, and EVERYBODY is affected by the economy.. we all live and die by this particular aspect of our system.
11394	7/10/2012	Loss of public support/funding.
11395	7/10/2012	Fewer hours open; programs curtailed or canceled
11396	7/10/2012	Besides destroying 1st amendment rights and wasting time trying to keep certain books off of shelves, it's a reticence people have to helping fund the libraries.
11397	7/10/2012	An inability to meet the growing need of the surrounding community.
11398	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of support from County Commissioners such as Jeff Cogen. More computers. □
11399	7/10/2012	Lack of seats to review books and peridocals.□ Too crowded.
11400	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding from an adequate tax base and growing disinterest in "deeper" literacy as a result of an overreliance on digital technology.
11401	7/10/2012	misuse of the premises.
11402	7/10/2012	Government and Public who forget that Learning & Education should be open to all strata of Society.
11403	7/10/2012	Probably that people read less (more computer, video and tv), subscribe to magazines and news online and read online or buy ebooks, but I would think that libraries still have a unique notch as a source for a wider range of books and other things as well as a place to search and explore for books and information.
11404	7/10/2012	Well there's global warming, nuclear war, and over population as big threats to our entire community, of which the library is a part. I suppose these outrank things like not enough funding.
11405	7/10/2012	Cutting the number of hours it is open. It is criminal to have a library full of knowledge with a locked door. What kind of a message are we sending to our children if we do nothing about this? Where are our priorities?
11406	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is the risk of them becoming entertainment-oriented computer centers. Computers are absolutely necessary in the library, but their primary purpose should be to serve academic pursuits or job-seekers. The wide use of library computers for playing games, watching videos, etc. may in time degrade the library culture and will most certainly misappropriate funding.

11407	7/10/2012	Our politicians. The library should be funded by the general fund. The politicians keep taking popular causes (schools, library etc) and try to fund these by special levy. Then they use the general fund for all their pet projects and things tax payers would never ok.
11408	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much. The library should focus on having new, current information and materials - not programs for every possible group in the greater Portland area. These are difficult economic times for many families. While Portland supports its libraries if the hand for more money is stuck out too often it will come back empty. Close each branch one day a week, do away with homework help (many schools duplicate these programs) or resources for job seekers (the State has resources for the unemployed and there are many helps online) . Encourage volunteers to run programs for young children and deliver books to shut ins. Keep the materials, physical and online resources at a level of excellence and the library will continue to thrive; ask tax payers to support programs while the materials decline and the library will become less and less of an asset and eventually lose tax payer support.
11409	7/10/2012	lack of funds
11410	7/10/2012	Reduced funding, I suppose
11411	7/10/2012	The cutting of public funding.
11412	7/10/2012	Reduction of any services and/or times available for access.
11413	7/10/2012	funding
11414	7/10/2012	The "don't tax us" crowd. A healthy society costs money, and we all need to get behind that.
11415	7/10/2012	lack of funding and apathy on the part of the community over funding issues.
11416	7/10/2012	state budget cuts
11417	7/10/2012	e-books, lack of funding
11418	7/10/2012	lack of funding, and lack of understanding of the importance of library services, especially in this economy
11419	7/10/2012	"Newer" information available immediately on the internet. It makes the libraries more of a recreational choice instead of the latest up to date source.
11420	7/10/2012	Aside from funding, obviously, the biggest threat that I've seen drive off several people would be some of the louder, more aggressive patrons. The library staff either is reluctant to deal with them, or will simply scoff at you, and bringing it up with the patron in question usually results in a litany of swears, aggression, and insinuations that I engage in intercourse with my mother.
11421	7/10/2012	ebooks and funding
11422	7/10/2012	Not being engaged with as much of the local population as possible.
11423	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
11424	7/10/2012	I wouldn't begin to know the answer to this: I'm sorry. Other than lack of funding
11425	7/10/2012	Shrinking tax base caused by corporate and wealthy tax dodgers.
11426	7/10/2012	They should be funded by those who use them. With monthly, yearly and family plans. Staffed by volunteers

11427	7/10/2012	1) A decline in civic life and in willingness to pay for a civic life. 2) A populace that reads (beyond words and phrases) less. 3) Electronic books
11428	7/10/2012	Fire? Budget cuts? e-Books? Netflix?
11429	7/10/2012	Some of the items in Question 5 are inappropriately grouped together, and i think this will give you bad data, (i.e. jobseekers, small business owners grouped w/ homework help for ESL kids?)
11430	7/10/2012	taxpayer unwillingness to fund them.
11431	7/10/2012	Unemployment that creates lapses in funding while increasing use by jobseekers
11432	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Payroll of staff.
11433	7/10/2012	Libraries are a great resource for those on the fringe who do not have a place or the resources to get a foot up in our society. We need our libraries. Students, immigrants, lower-income and others need a place to learn, grow and get help.
11434	7/10/2012	Lack of funding/ people not understanding the importance of local libraries (or not caring about those who truly depend on the library for vital resources, including job seeking).
11435	7/10/2012	The digitization of books. [] Digitized books require digital devices to consume them. Anybody without them will simply not be able to access information as the industry transitions to digital-first and then digital-only distribution. Lack of a digital reading device is more common than it seems - most middle class young people have at least one of smartphone, computer, or digital reader, but poorer people and seniors often don't have any of them. That means the library will probably have to supply citizens with these devices, which are expensive and more difficult to use than a simple book and will likely be considered by seniors as a barrier to reading. [] Also, digitization will probably reduce library building sizes and in-person staff because there will simply be fewer books. Instead, a lot of lending will happen online with no in-person staff needed at all. The challenge due to this change will be to have in-person staff available to those who need it most.
11436	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
11437	7/10/2012	budget cuts
11438	7/10/2012	devaluing the service they provide by certain segments of the community
11439	7/10/2012	rampaging apes
11440	7/10/2012	Close-minded wasteful people.
11441	7/10/2012	lack of stable funding
11442	7/10/2012	budget cuts - it is sad.
11443	7/10/2012	Heathens

11444	7/10/2012	Losing hours/resources at the small local branches that ppl not in the metro rely on to meet all their library needs.
11445	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11446	7/10/2012	Budget reductions. We have one of the most well-used library systems in Oregon. Not fully funding it is detrimental to our communities.
11447	7/10/2012	Reduced tax base.
11448	7/10/2012	funding
11449	7/10/2012	Budget Cuts
11450	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11451	7/10/2012	I'm not quite sure how to answer this question.... reduced budget is a terrible threat. there are a couple branches - i.e. Rockwood library - that are phenomenal community assets but need to be expanded to meet the growing need. the inability to be 'right sized' for a community is a threat.
11452	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11453	7/10/2012	top-heavy administration.
11454	7/10/2012	budget
11455	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11456	7/10/2012	Size.
11457	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
11458	7/10/2012	Becoming irrelevant due to old/outdated material and being too inaccessible. I think 6 days a week, even 5, still provides a decent level of service.
11459	7/10/2012	the fact that whatever money the taxpayers approve it is never enough. goes back for years and is very predictable. i always vote for the levies, but get frustrated by that.
11460	7/10/2012	I believe the biggest threat is the lack of integrity exhibited by some of the users. When patrons see the library used as a day care for noisy 'tweens or a place middle-aged men go to for scantily clad lady pictures, it drives the perception of the library as a sacred place for reading and learning further from reality. I'm a 1st Amendment advocate, so I acknowledge the difficulty in policing and I understand that safe after school programs are rare but it drives me away from the using the library more fully.
11461	7/10/2012	getting hit by taxes everywhere and not curtailing benefits for public employees. People feel that we can not take it any more even though I support public libraries, we just don't have any more money.
11462	7/10/2012	Funding
11463	7/10/2012	cutting hours, unable to stock current materials, closing libraries.
11464	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
11465	7/10/2012	Home owners unable or willing to pay higher property taxes. Our current economic slump.
11466	7/10/2012	funding to keep it going, I suppose

11467	7/10/2012	Limiting hours of operation limits access to books and other media. If access is limited/inconvenient, people may wind up utilizing the library (reading) less.
11468	7/10/2012	People who refuse to read. Lack of interest in source of information.
11469	7/10/2012	Complacency. "It's always been this way, or that way, and it should stay that way", without regard to what it costs to provide.
11470	7/10/2012	PLEASE NOTE! I was unable to answer Question #5 as my numbers didn't register. The only applicable ones are Numbers 1 and 2 (which are 1 and 2 in importance to me).[] []
11471	7/10/2012	#6. A serious lack of funding. No idea.
11472	7/10/2012	I think an attitude of autonomy - people feel like they don't need to pitch into a public service that they don't use, and so they have a problem with paying for things through taxes and such. However, services like the library, the public schools, public transportation are all valuable services to the entire society. Even if an individual doesn't use them directly, those services benefit people who benefit that person in some way. They help uplift society as a whole. I don't know a good solution to that problem, but I hope that more and more people will realize that all of these types of services are really fundamentally valuable and worth contributing to.
11473	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11474	7/10/2012	funding apparently
11475	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11476	7/10/2012	Funding
11477	7/10/2012	budget reduction
11478	7/10/2012	I'm guessing it's budget cuts.
11479	7/10/2012	budget cuts and lack of funding
11480	7/10/2012	People's perception that we are unwilling to pay higher taxes to support the library.
11481	7/10/2012	Anti-tax activists who erode the revenue for such a fantastic resource.
11482	7/10/2012	Funding, unappreciative people
11483	7/10/2012	Idk
11484	7/10/2012	lack of funding and cost of upkeep, maintenance and staff
11485	7/10/2012	The cutting of hours in the summer, leaving school aged children with even less educational activities.
11486	7/10/2012	budget shortfalls
11487	7/10/2012	Technology. Laziness. Parents not reading to their children and children not learning to love books.
11488	7/10/2012	not staying current with new mediums. Business as usual.
11489	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11490	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
11491	7/10/2012	lack of funding - and lack of political willpower to ensure adequate funding.

11492	7/10/2012	Apathy from non-users
11493	7/10/2012	Not being available when people need them.
11494	7/10/2012	In tough budget times, libraries can seem low priority. Also, you've got a ton tied up in real estate - maintenance costs can bury you if things are let go too long.
11495	7/10/2012	Loss of relevance and usefulness as more and more information, books, and media are made available online.
11496	7/10/2012	Underfunding and accessibility. Lack of funding. The above renumbering system isn't working[] 3 is my number 1[]
11497	7/10/2012	2 is my 2[] 4 is my 3[] 5 is my 6[] 1 is my 5
11498	7/10/2012	lost books not being replaced, and new books being ordered include more than just mainstream or pop fiction
11499	7/10/2012	Lack of availability to children.
11500	7/10/2012	Funding, I'd think. So... conservatives.
11501	7/10/2012	Reduced funding and illiteracy.
11502	7/10/2012	Not getting the funding it needs for materials and resources.
11503	7/10/2012	1. funding
11504	7/10/2012	funding
11505	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is by far the urban renewal areas. I wish taxing districts, such as the Multnomah library and PPS tried to fight the urban renewal areas before considering property tax increases. Not having enough money to stay open, not having enough money to fully staff the Central Library and the branch libraries, and, if these are not provided, failing to provide to the citizens of the county that which a democratic society is obliged to provide. .
11506	7/10/2012
11507	7/10/2012	Funding cutbacks
11508	7/10/2012	Lack of proper funding
11509	7/10/2012	funding
11510	7/10/2012	illegals
11511	7/10/2012	I really cannot say. Funding I would guess.
11512	7/10/2012	Lack of funding! Local government unable to make tough funding decisions. If libraries are a priority for the community, then funding MUST
11513	7/10/2012	be reduced somewhere else. Multnomah County taxes are already the highest of anywhere I have ever lived--so tax increases are out of the question.
11514	7/10/2012	Lack of funding for staff and to keep the door open.
11515	7/10/2012	Lack of funding which causes local branches to be closed or incur reduction of services.

11516	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
11517	7/10/2012	Tax
11518	7/10/2012	n/a
11519	7/10/2012	People surfing the web for inappropriate content in full view of other patrons (including children). Also, lack of quiet study areas (everybody seems to be talking or on a cell phone) and far too many homeless people.
11520	7/10/2012	costs
11521	7/10/2012	Taxpayer backlash
11522	7/10/2012	I don't know. Money not coming through I assume.
11523	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11524	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11525	7/10/2012	Low funding
11526	7/10/2012	Having to compete with other public institutions for limited resources.
11527	7/10/2012	It would seem budget.
11528	7/10/2012	The doors being closed! Because people will not have another place to go and wierd scheduling makes folks second guess the availability of the Library. Many people do not take advantage of what is offered at the library, even if they would appreciate it. This ignorance does not help when levies come up for a vote. I think a better knowledge of what is offered by the library is necessary for the general population to be invested in its success.
11529	7/10/2012	Not enough funding. Needs a consistant funding source.
11530	7/10/2012	Not enough funding. Needs a consistant funding source.
11531	7/10/2012	Poor funding! Bad economy; people don't want to pay for services.
11532	7/10/2012	stable funding
11533	7/10/2012	lack of proper security system for years which caused huge losses of inventory to the Mult County Library.
11534	7/10/2012	spending too much money on non-english books - and perhaps not leaving enough for everyone else [] Allowing too much free access to the internet stations - limit it to people that have a library card - or have them pay a fee
11535	7/10/2012	High administrative costs. People salaries at the top (i.e.:overhead). Out of control retiree pension/benefits that are tied to poor contract negotiations and set increases that don't match the rest of the economy.
11536	7/10/2012	Lack of community organization. We wouldn't need as much funding if we could get organized around a database of already available resources in every neighborhood and find a way to network what we already have. I think the library could be utilized by more people if it had evening hours and volunteers shifts as well.

11537	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, but that translates into a lot of things. The library needs to remain relevant and useful to people. If I can't get the books I want from the library, then the library is not useful to me and I will stop using it. (This relates directly to funding because I realize that money is needed to buy, catalog, process books.) I beg you to look into joining Link Plus to expand the collection!!
11538	7/10/2012	Mondy, clearly, but also moving away from providing books/information and using limited funds to offer redundant services offered by other institutions such as homework assistance etc Simply being open is the most important thing. ☹
11539	7/10/2012	The books (and computers) themselves are enough for the self-motivated. And simply having the space available will likely motivate those who can show up. Please, just keep the libraries open!
11540	7/10/2012	The Chinese Communist Party. They are flooding world markets with products produced by virtual slave labor. This destroys manufacturing jobs, which leads to urban decay which leads to a reduced tax base. The next worst threat is the miserable performance of the Multnomah County School system, illiterate people don't have much use for a library.
11541	7/10/2012	A big threat is people not realizing the full spectrum of services that the library provides to people... of all ages & abilities. I include myself in that; every time I go in to pick up a hold, I'm reminded how many use the library. While I primarily use the library for checking out reading & media material, especially via the online database, it's important that I remind myself how much time I spent at my local library as a child & grade-schooler, and that I hope my kids can do the same in the future.
11542	7/10/2012	Accept that the taxpayers are not willing at this time to increase funding for the library. Do exactly what is being done; cut service to six days a week, or whatever the library management deems appropriate within the funds available. To do otherwise and request of the taxpayers more funding than they are willing to pay for is to invite the threat of loss of goodwill and willingness to vote for a higher levy when the economy again permits full funding.
11543	7/10/2012	Closure
11544	7/10/2012	funding
11545	7/10/2012	illiteracy. haha
11546	7/10/2012	Not getting enough funding.
11547	7/10/2012	Being overly acquisitive with the next bond levy.
11548	7/10/2012	The effects of the recession as well as dwindling household resources making people less likely to vote for funding. Also, compression.
11549	7/10/2012	Rich, stingy bastards who are too selfish to pay a fair share of the community's taxes.
11550	7/10/2012	not enough funding; would really like to see Spanish learning for toddlers opportunities
11551	7/10/2012	Funding hour cuts job loss
11552	7/10/2012	Lack of funding :(
11553	7/10/2012	Absence of funding and political support, increased access to refernce materials through the internet.
11554	7/10/2012	Not having funding to purchase new or enough materials.

11555	7/10/2012	Being on the ballot over and over and over.
11556	7/10/2012	Loss of funding. I think the library is a valuable resource and is on the front lines of reaching many under served communities.
11557	7/10/2012	That they are being closed. Not good.
11558	7/10/2012	We always seem to be coming up short of money. Consistent funding would be great
11559	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11560	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11561	7/10/2012	I don't know, but I wish it would go away.
11562	7/10/2012	Economy!
11563	7/10/2012	inadequate government funding.
11564	7/10/2012	Better libraries in counties next to us. I LOVE CLACKAMAS LIBRARIES!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
11565	7/10/2012	Not having stable source of guaranteed support.[] Extensive use by vagrants/ disruptive/ substance abusing people.
11566	7/10/2012	Inflation related funding to keep up with resources that respond to all library patrons.
11567	7/10/2012	Funding in a down economy when there are competing priorities like public safety and schools.
11568	7/10/2012	not sure on this one. all I know is that a library is normally a quiet place for people to read, study, whatever... but the midland library is quite noisy, with people playing games on the computer, watching youtube videos, etc. I usually get my things and head home asap. not the library environment that I am used to. funding. But I think the library should operate within them means given. People are no tin the mood for raising taxes or another levy.[] []
11569	7/10/2012	If branches are closed on different days, it would allow people to be able to go to a library every day if needed. I can't see why most people would need to go every day and don't think providing that is necessary. Keep the six-day access and DON'T go for a special levy or permanent tax! WE already got hit with a special levy a couple of years ago...[] [] One idea, close some of the brancches, perhaps there are too many. Consolidate inventory in the remaining branches.
11570	7/10/2012	The trending of "no more taxes". If we are to keep our society civil, educated, and on top, we have to fund our libraries. Sadly, too many people do not have priorities straight...

		Well... I can think of a couple.[] First, the library doesn't really satisfy the library needs of people that live in the Wests. It is much easier for us to go to WCCLS/Cedar Mill branch. []
11571	7/10/2012	Second, when I go to donate money to "my library" it goes to Cedar Mill/WCCLS.[] Third, your question "all branches and Central library" don't need to be open seven days but some should be open 7 days. The choices you gave me don't really reflect alternatives.[] Finally, ebooks....get better about offering more ebooks and do a better job of tracking ebook usage.
11572	7/10/2012	Apathy. I'm a second year Advertising/Marketing student at the Art Institute of Portland as well as a single Dad of a book loving, soon-to-be-second grader and this questionnaire now has me wanting to create some sort of helpful awareness campaign focusing on all of the modern services our libraries have available!
11573	7/10/2012	Politics and money
11574	7/10/2012	N/A at the moment.
11575	7/10/2012	The 'dumbing' down of our children by TV, video and DVDs. Also, if their parents were not readers, some kids tend to not read much, or very well, themselves.
11576	7/10/2012	Closing a library.
11577	7/10/2012	People not coming to local libraries and a lack of money. Unaccountable and corrupt police forces, corporate entities and government pillaging the public coffer for new fancy toys o violence and repression.[]
11578	7/10/2012	[] Libraries help keep people out of prison and make those things called democracies worth living in.
11579	7/10/2012	Denying access to the library by closing or limiting hours of operation.
11580	7/10/2012	Theft? Citizens not really appreciating what a jewel they have in the Multnomah County Libraries.
11581	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11582	7/10/2012	A funding squeeze. Hours may shrink but people will always attend and use the library.
11583	7/10/2012	They need to have an online book download service.
11584	7/10/2012	funding?
11585	7/10/2012	Funding, apparently.
11586	7/10/2012	Don't know.
11587	7/10/2012	Apathy and disuse.
11588	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
11589	7/10/2012	Funding cuts due to decreased tax revenue (itself due to the current recession).
11590	7/10/2012	Digital book formats.
11591	7/10/2012	lack of money
11592	7/10/2012	Dangers that taxpayers will stop supporting it.
11593	7/10/2012	wasted taxpayer dollars! I keep voting libraries money and I see wasteful spending practices!!

11594	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11595	7/10/2012	No new books
11596	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and people who believe that libraries are not that important :(
11597	7/10/2012	government. They are so out of touch with what people actually need.
11598	7/10/2012	Lack of marketing to reach community to how the effective use of a library.
11599	7/10/2012	My guess would be funding, as is the case for all public services.
11600	7/10/2012	steady funding
11601	7/10/2012	funding and theft of materials
11602	7/10/2012	Funders undervaluing libraries' importance (i.e., libraries' broad, positive impact).
11603	7/10/2012	I don't see a threat. It seems a very healthy situation to me. Libraries are well supported and deserve to be maintained at the current level, at least.
11604	7/10/2012	Electronic books and lack of funding
11605	7/10/2012	Funding! I'm assuming that's why we're doing this survey?
11606	7/10/2012	Lack of engagement with the public to demonstrate the value we receive for our tax dollars. Libraries must engage everyone in the community and be highly relevant to their individual neighborhood as well.
11607	7/10/2012	Financing.
11608	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding.
11609	7/10/2012	apparently lack of appropriate funds due to Raygun's alleged trickle down theory which created a third world nation out of this country. instead of putting money into sustainable resources, we have used up all our resources and continue to do so. short sighted handling of funds by people who live in boxes. also a lack of compassion driven by a corporate controlled media which pits people at the lower ends of the financial spectrum against each other and condemns social and communal outlooks.
11610	7/10/2012	Cut backs on personnel, and being able to keep current on resources.
11611	7/10/2012	Don't know.
11612	7/10/2012	1. Over-taxation by county authorities.[] 2. Dishonest operation of the library system in effort to sway public opinion -- convince public of desperate measures required by present limited budget in order to build support for bond measure in November.[] 2. Use of resources to serve burgeoning population of illegal immigrants.
11613	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to keep programs operating that support literacy skill development and resources for our most vulnerable citizens (children, elderly, ESL).
11614	7/10/2012	Lack of funding

11615	7/10/2012	I completely disagree with how this survey mechanism is representing my choices. Reranking them serially misrepresents my views and weighting of the issues. The questions are also far too general to represent my views. [] The biggest threat to local libraries are librarians and politicians who are pandering to people who want free largely mindless entertainment, day care for their kids and free Internet.
11616	7/10/2012	People who do not want to pay taxes of any sort.
11617	7/10/2012	budget cuts
11618	7/10/2012	Funding.
11619	7/10/2012	Apparently, budget cuts.
11620	7/10/2012	Republicans
11621	7/10/2012	Runaway staffing costs.
11622	7/10/2012	Not sure - funding issues? The libraries seem very well-used to me, so it doesn't appear to be an issue of lack of interest or use.
11623	7/10/2012	Public employee unions.
11624	7/10/2012	PERS
11625	7/10/2012	closure
11626	7/10/2012	No funding
11627	7/10/2012	Trying to become a social service center instead of a place for the dissemination of information to all.
11628	7/10/2012	Too small, long waiting lists for books
11629	7/10/2012	IDK. Fire?
11630	7/10/2012	Get vote done for creation of library district. The biggest threat is fiscal uncertainty.
11631	7/10/2012	Because it is a "free" service on a user level, the public forgets that taxation is important in order to pay for it.
11632	7/10/2012	The budget. Unfortunately, places that provide access to knowledge are the first to be cut of their funds.
11633	7/10/2012	We certainly don't need to have access to the library every day. Just like we don't need mail delivery every day. Who can't wait a couple of days longer. People have lost track of reality. [] Reduced days or reduced hours 7 days a week is totally acceptable.
11634	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Also, lawmakers need to consider how important these resources are for people who are trying to find a job, and for parents who can no longer afford expensive programs for their children.
11635	7/10/2012	godzilla and big foot
11636	7/10/2012	Budget short-falls, and decreased hours and days open in satellite branches.
11637	7/10/2012	Not being open on weekends for working families.
11638	7/10/2012	Lack of funding it would seem from the information that you provided.

11639	7/10/2012	Lack of use, Kindles and Nooks and the like. Internet reading. People who are too stupid to realize how important having equal access to information is for a civilized society. Information is always easily available to the wealthy. Libraries are the great equalizer, and as such, should be treated as incredibly valuable. That being said, some librarians don't do themselves any favors by standing around doing nothing, or worse yet avoiding helping people, where patrons can see them. I've seen this happen too many times & I always think to myself "How much are you making for standing around?" I know I could do a better job than some of those people. It must be an insult to job seeking people who use the library to see someone who is paid so well, and with benefits, screwing around doing nothing.
11640	7/10/2012
11641	7/10/2012	My guess is FUNDING...always. Also, perhaps the ever evolving electronic availability of resources online etc....resulting in less library usage (especially by people that can afford or who have access to electronic resources). This means that potentially libraries may find the demographics of their patrons changing...this would probably affect funding resources etc. Also, I don't know if this is a threat, but one thing that keeps me from visiting the libraries more (especially the Central Library) is that they seem to be increasingly serving more as a day center for the homeless than a relaxing and enjoyable place to look through books. I think it's great that EVERYONE has access to the library for sure--but there should be restrictions around personal hygiene etc.
11642	7/10/2012	Consistent funding
11643	7/10/2012	Funding
11644	7/10/2012	stupidity
11645	7/10/2012	Electronic Media
11646	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11647	7/10/2012	funding cuts
11648	7/10/2012	$$
11649	7/10/2012	Money?
11650	7/10/2012	theft perhaps
11651	7/10/2012	Funding
11652	7/10/2012	kindles
11653	7/10/2012	CLOSURE
11654	7/10/2012	Probably not enough money or poorly managed money.
11655	7/10/2012	Republicans trying to shut them down in order to cut costs.
11656	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of knowledge by voters of the variety of ways the libraries are used.
11657	7/10/2012	Internet
11658	7/10/2012	Too much TV and internet, shortening attention spans and making reading less desirable.
11659	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding
11660	7/10/2012	Becoming obsolete is my biggest concern for the library.
11661	7/10/2012	Overcrowded and very noisy!

11662	7/10/2012	hell, i don't know, creeping socialism, bill sizemore, rap music?
11663	7/10/2012	i don;t know other than funding
11664	7/10/2012	The poor economy of the City/County/State that forces false choices for saving on taxes
11665	7/10/2012	Unstable funding sources from Multnomah County.
11666	7/10/2012	People not making the tax increases large enough to sustain open libraries, thus requiring a new ballot issue every year. I fully support the library system, though it is extremely frustrating to see a new tax levy on every ballot. I was shocked to see that the levy passed this year and yet you are limiting access to libraries. What did I vote for?
11667	7/10/2012	diminishing of the budget
11668	7/10/2012	I suppose a lack of funding to provide important services to all patrons equally, but primarily, bad management policies that disconnect those important services due to politics and mismanagement. I'm not saying specifically that the Multnomah County Library does this, but I've seen it happen at other libraries and institutions, and I fear that all libraries can be susceptible to making easy choices without transparency of communication between the library and its public and staff. Particularly in difficult economic times when hard choices need to be made.
11669	7/10/2012	People who don't realize how important it is to everyone and to our society as a whole to have library service for information, and to support the education of all citizens.
11670	7/10/2012	the devaluation of inquisitive broad thinking by an instant gratification market driven society The questions above are somewhat 'loaded' in my opinion.[] []
11671	7/10/2012	Re questions about library hours and days of operation:[] I WOULD SUGGEST FIVE DAYS A WEEK FULL OPERATION AND TWO DAYS A WEEK[] LIMITED HOURS--ONE DAY 10-2 (to accomodate mothers with children AND A SECOND ONE [] 4-8pm (to accomodate working people and job search residents).[] SO SIMPLE OF A SOLUTION! Why don't people making decision use common sense solution)?
11672	7/10/2012	If I had to guess, a decrease in tax revenue coincident with the recession.
11673	7/10/2012	Under funding
11674	7/10/2012	Obviously it's the lack of funding and the fact that politics at the state and federal level continue to underfund and not fund services like the library in favor of giving tax breaks to the wealthiest people. If the tax rates in this country were structured correctly and more fairly, the library and more importantly the schools wouldn't have to put bond measures on the ballot every year so that they can remain open. The state and federal governments would rather throw money away on the Columbia River Crossing just to save people a few minutes on their commute than putting that money where it needs to go Just imagine what the library, schools and other social services could do with the money that is being wasted on the CRC. State and federal government needs to get their priorities in check!

11675	7/10/2012	Lack of funding causing closures and threatening lack of or outdated materials. Also apathy towards reading and education by citizens, online reading of newspaper and books
11676	7/10/2012	?
11677	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
11678	7/10/2012	People who refuse to fund them.
11679	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and the internet!
11680	7/10/2012	Republicans
11681	7/10/2012	Too much money being wasted in government, PERS system too fat
11682	7/10/2012	unstable funding
11683	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11684	7/10/2012	theft
11685	7/10/2012	I dont know
11686	7/10/2012	Not getting funding support.
11687	7/10/2012	Funding. The Internet
11688	7/10/2012	␣ In case you're not aware of it, newspaper subscriptions are down, periodicals are waning, and magazine publishers are going out of business.
11689	7/10/2012	Earthquakes and people who can't read.
11690	7/10/2012	lack of use.. not keeping up with technology.. available ebooks etc
11691	7/10/2012	Electronic readers
11692	7/10/2012	Misguided attempts at downsizing and privatization; attempts to characterize libraries as mere repositories of books or information rather than community centers.
11693	7/10/2012	Lack of younger people knowing how current and valuable the inventory is.
11694	7/10/2012	public employees/unions
11695	7/10/2012	Funding.
11696	7/10/2012	I don't know. Ask the staff.
11697	7/10/2012	Loss of funding!!!!
11698	7/10/2012	Lack of permanent funding.
11699	7/10/2012	Lack of money. I see no grant-seeking in our local library. Why has Paul Allen not been asked?? A county alcohol tax dedicated to libraries would be good.
11700	7/10/2012	Not enough access. People really need them for time on computers. Not everyone can afford internet or computers and it's important for job seeking. Where is the tax money going?
11701	7/10/2012	Funding and hours cut so much that people stop using them as a resource. People not understanding the need for free access to information.
11702	7/10/2012	Budget
11703	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and in turn, reduced hours, which limit the systems' accessibility to users.

11704	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
11705	7/10/2012	Access. Especially for seniors and those that have need of research sources. Young people need to be encouraged to use and read all throughout their lives.
11706	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, by far. For a state that values the community it is so sad that Oregonians are willing to put so little into education and related resources like libraries. Some people are genuinely having a hard time making it and can't afford to contribute more, but most households, ours included, can and should pay more in taxes to support local services.
11707	7/10/2012	Investment / spending needs to be at a level that does not cause the system to deteriorate. When people stop going to the library because it is out of date, its relevance reduces and justifies even less investment. Have to avoid that doom loop.[] Note - this does not mean investment has to be super high. There is a tipping point where investment is too low.[] [] Also - must migrate successfully to electronic media. I have been happy with the library in this regard, but I'm no expert. I have checked out an ebook though, and it works great. In the age of ebooks, libraries still have a role to provide a physical space to read, interact etc..
11708	7/10/2012	That's an oddly worded question. Are they under attack? Masked gunmen? Obviously, funding is important and quality and availability of materials is important. If all funding were to disappear, that would be a threat. If we were only able to keep the library open a few days, that would be a threat. But six days and late openings seem reasonable.
11709	7/10/2012	Our unfair tax system that favors the wealthy.
11710	7/10/2012	Funding
11711	7/10/2012	funding...
11712	7/10/2012	INTERNET
11713	7/10/2012	People who don't realize how important the library is to so many people.
11714	7/10/2012	loss of funding.
11715	7/10/2012	Cut backs on hours and and resources.
11716	7/10/2012	Lack of interest.
11717	7/10/2012	Funding
11718	7/10/2012	Our economy. I can't afford to give more to the Libray when my income has decreased.
11719	7/10/2012	?
11720	7/10/2012	Funding as it is affecting the days/hours that the library is open.
11721	7/10/2012	decreased hours...making the library less accessible to the community
11722	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11723	7/10/2012	Lack of staff who are culturally competent and speak languages other than English.
11724	7/10/2012	Lack of funding of course.
11725	7/10/2012	Too many people not understanding the benefits of having libraries in the community

11726	7/10/2012	Lack of understanding what the local libraries have to offer.
11727	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11728	7/10/2012	People who think we shouldn't fund vital public services because they're well-off enough to afford everything on their own and don't understand what it's like to need services like the public library.
11729	7/10/2012	The political establishment
11730	7/10/2012	Taxes
11731	7/10/2012	No-tax idiots.
11732	7/10/2012	People stealing.
11733	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11734	7/10/2012	Unstable funding. The levy model is outdated and unreliable and needs to be replaced with a more stable and predictable funding source.
11735	7/10/2012	Illiteracy
11736	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11737	7/10/2012	Amazon.com if the library is unable to provide current materials.
11738	7/10/2012	electronic books
11739	7/10/2012	Unfortunately, the internet is the real threat - but we still need to maintain free public access to un-censored information and a place that anyone including the homeless and those with limited resources can educate themselves and expand their imagination.
11740	7/10/2012	Republicans.
11741	7/10/2012	funding
		1. Not keeping up with technology. People who come to use computer resources should have access to the most current technology. ¶
11742	7/10/2012	¶
		2. Not promoting the library as a community hub - should be regarded as a place to gather, learn and just hang-out. Need more variety of open seating/gathering areas.
11743	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11744	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11745	7/10/2012	Funding shortages.
11746	7/10/2012	funding
11747	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
11748	7/10/2012	Reduced funding, perceived lack of necessity among decision-makers.
11749	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11750	7/10/2012	Cutting library hours.
11751	7/10/2012	Apparently the funding... BUT, I would be happy to pay some amount each year to support the library! Like $10 - what if each person in the county who participated in the library donated $10 a year to have the access that we do?
11752	7/10/2012	under staff and budget cuts

11753	7/10/2012	LACK OF FUNDING AND CONCERN THAT THEY WILL BE CLOSED. [] ON ANOTHER NOTE.....THERE ARE SOME SCARY PEOPLE HANGING OUT IN URBAN LIBRARIES.
11754	7/10/2012	Low funding
11755	7/10/2012	Funding short falls and staff reduction.
11756	7/10/2012	Erosion of hours and availability
11757	7/10/2012	If hours are going to be cut, they should be cut during standard business hours. Priority should be to remain open in late afternoon/evenings and on the weekends when the largest number of people are able to visit.
11758	7/10/2012	keep decreasing the amount of time they are open. we voted to keep the library tax based on the belief we would not be losing anything. now you want MORE money to get it back to where we were. WHEN WILL IT END?
11759	7/10/2012	lack of money--staff
11760	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Tax payers do not seem willing to pay for services provided.
11761	7/10/2012	Increasing costs and a reductions in funds received from the property tax levy.
11762	7/10/2012	I'm not sure - other sources of media? (online, etc) Having to cut resources to the point where access is difficult for the citizens of Portland. We are so fortunate to have such a thriving library system in this city, and as the economic hardships continue to put pressure on tax-payers, it will becoming increasingly more difficult to fund the system.
11763	7/10/2012	reduced and changing hours and services cause frustration and confusion, which leads people to rely on the library less which in turn reduces usage and access. Not a good thing.
11764	7/10/2012	underfunding
11765	7/10/2012	underfunding
11766	7/10/2012	Hard to say, but probably competition... It would be nice if there were more current titles and more of them
11767	7/10/2012	Reduced hours, or, very limited hours.
11768	7/10/2012	It seems like funding is always an issue Lack of money. Declining economy. []
11769	7/10/2012	I understand that you are unionized, but what about a volunteer program? I'd love to do it a half day a week, putting away books, etc. Lack of knowledge and understanding of what great resources libraries are. I'm 24 and have only lived in Portland for a year but have taken a couple of friends who have lived in Portland their whole lives to libraries and reminded them why we should utilize libraries.
11770	7/10/2012	Lack of knowledge and understanding of what great resources libraries are. I'm 24 and have only lived in Portland for a year but have taken a couple of friends who have lived in Portland their whole lives to libraries and reminded them why we should utilize libraries.
11771	7/10/2012	When I am out of work or not able to work I will not have access to reading materials.

11772	7/10/2012	Electronic media?[] [] Lack of funds to expand services & buy more copies of books that are popular so wait time could be shortened.
11773	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11774	7/10/2012	I don't know, but I can guess it's reduced money resources
11775	7/10/2012	Reduced budget. In order to face the situation you need to decrease costs and/or increase revenue. You could put a yearly fee on carholders who do not pay any Personal Property tax. After all, they use the Library service without contributing to it (better not to call it "fee", but "compulsory donation" or something similar).
11776	7/10/2012	Possibly the ease of accessing material via the Internet. I still would rather have a paper book to hold, but I am not sure about the younger generations. I think it is imparative to have current information available in print, otherwise, it doesn't matter how many hours the library is open...nobody will want to come read old material. I would love to have the library open seven days a week and evening hours, but as a property owner (residential rentals and commercial properties) I can't afford more taxes! It is a tough call. Just like our own small business, operating expenses have increased but we can't raise the price of our products.
11777	7/10/2012	funding
11778	7/10/2012	funding
11779	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
11780	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, apparently.
11781	7/10/2012	Fundingggggggg Alternative sources of data.[]
11782	7/10/2012	[] Accessibility to library resources when desired.
11783	7/10/2012	Funding
11784	7/10/2012	A lack of funding.
11785	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
11786	7/10/2012	I have no idea. I suppose lack of funding remains a great issue.
11787	7/10/2012	Not being open when convenient
11788	7/10/2012	Being underfunded
11789	7/10/2012	Funding. Libraries seem to always be out of money.
11790	7/10/2012	New technology making them not necessary.
11791	7/10/2012	Dont know
11792	7/10/2012	Priority funding seems to be the perennial issue
11793	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11794	7/10/2012	Patrons who do not respect the property. ie: books with pages missing,

11795	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11796	7/10/2012	Republican agenda
11797	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
11798	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11799	7/10/2012	I don't know. Access should not be decreased when the library is the most-used per capita in the nation. I am willing to pay more taxes in order to make this happen.
11800	7/10/2012	funding problems
11801	7/10/2012	Relevance/currency of material. Availability of qualified staff. Misuse of resources. Funding
11802	7/10/2012	Complete loss of government funding.
11803	7/10/2012	The fact that they aren't needed anymore.
11804	7/10/2012	The internet and e-books.
11805	7/10/2012	Lack of funding that would cause our libraries to be unable to serve the needs of all the community.
11806	7/10/2012	Obviously funding - if support is reduced and services are diminished it is challenging for libraries to stay relevant.
11807	7/10/2012	Video games
11808	7/10/2012	obviously funding
11809	7/10/2012	not enough money and support
11810	7/10/2012	Insufficient resources
11811	7/10/2012	Funding
11812	7/10/2012	Public misperception of their importance to the community.
11813	7/10/2012	The perspective that they are obsolete or have dated material, or are cumbersome in the digital age. Also lack of funding.
11814	7/10/2012	The loss of the dewey decimal system
11815	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of overall community support for fundraising, growth, maintenance, etc.
11816	7/10/2012	I rarely use the library, but I wholeheartedly support funding.
11817	7/10/2012	funding
11818	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11819	7/10/2012	misspent funding due to a poor tax system in Oregon
11820	7/10/2012	I don't know personally but apparently lack of funding is an issue
11821	7/10/2012	??
11822	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and electronic devices
11823	7/10/2012	I am guessing lack of interest might be a threat.
11824	7/10/2012	possibly e-books although I don't think they are at all equivalent to what the library offers
11825	7/10/2012	too crowded
11826	7/10/2012	Everything becoming computerized, there will be no humans working there
11827	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
11828	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding - ?

11829	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Lack of prioritization of education by politicians. TV culture.
11830	7/10/2012	Free membership.
11831	7/10/2012	Sufficient funding from our taxes.
11832	7/10/2012	inadequate funding
11833	7/10/2012	I would say people who try to abuse the system.
11834	7/10/2012	potential lack of funding
11835	7/10/2012	I'm sure you want me to answer money or lack of, however that's also the biggest threat to me. ☐ Poorly written question, by the way.
11836	7/10/2012	The budget crisis. Honestly I am surprised the library is open 7 days a week, I would think that 6 would more than enough. I do think that the library should be open both Saturday and Sunday and the closed day be in the week, perhaps the least busiest day
11837	7/10/2012	reduced funding
11838	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. I was pleasantly surprised when we voted for the bond, since we never approve taxes. I wonder if people would also vote for increased property taxes for a library fund. My husband and I would. The library saves us hundreds of dollars a year.
11839	7/10/2012	Focus on esl and other secondary things pulling resources
11840	7/10/2012	Taking library services for granted. Not understanding how the library serves the whole community, not just library card holders.
11841	7/10/2012	Not utilizing all the resources. There are many of my friends who are well read yet still don't use the public library system. Many don't know what is available. ☐ I wonder how more information could be accessed easily.....I found out about Freegal through a newspaper article.
11842	7/10/2012	Public belief that libraries are not that important. That belief needs to be challenged and beaten up with a stack of books.
11843	7/10/2012	the threat is that people think libraries are just books and don't understand how many other incredible services are included in the library. If the people of Portland knew how important the services the library offers were to our community, I think they'd be more inclined to vote yes on tax options.
11844	7/10/2012	People's lack of awareness of what a great resource they have on their doorstep. I have introduced many people to what is on offer...Many don't know the extent of what's available, especially if they're from out of the area.
11845	7/10/2012	Indifference.
11846	7/10/2012	Closure. I am a disabled senior who values the use of the library, especially the local branch which is now easily accessible. The quality of my life would be hurt if it closes.

11847	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is the reduction in hours. Libraries are not just essential as access points for information, but they also serve as community centers that drive interest in reading and learning. Knowledge is power and when we have limited access to that power in the form of reduced hours it is an insult and an attack on our liberty and freedom.
11848	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and citizens desire to keep all taxes at a minimum.
11849	7/10/2012	lack of stable funding
11850	7/10/2012	Not enough money
11851	7/10/2012	Going extinct. Becoming a thing of the past.
11852	7/10/2012	apathy
11853	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11854	7/10/2012	Internet and online book readers
11855	7/10/2012	Lack of support from the community.
11856	7/10/2012	Decreased/limited funding
11857	7/10/2012	Government budging,
11858	7/10/2012	funding issues
11859	7/10/2012	being closed more that one day a week
11860	7/10/2012	cuts and lack of REAL books as you move toward more e-books
11861	7/10/2012	Not enough money
11862	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
11863	7/10/2012	The perception that we don't need them anymore. The libraries have actually evolved AMAZINGLY with the advent of the internet and online resources, and don't deserve the misconception that they're outdated.
11864	7/10/2012	People being uninformed of what libraries have to offer.
11865	7/10/2012	Aversion to taxes a levies?
11866	7/10/2012	The internet
11867	7/10/2012	People who don't see the use of them I suppose.
11868	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
11869	7/10/2012	I suppose funding. They have done well with limited resources.
11870	7/10/2012	keeping current with the mission of educating, providing resources & being accessible to EVERYONE.
11871	7/10/2012	Funding!
11872	7/10/2012	Money needed from taxpayers in the current economy
11873	7/10/2012	Money spent un-wisely (porn, buying license for people to download music for keep sake, etc.)

11874	7/10/2012	Funding problems. I feel that our library system is currently experiencing the positive benefits of being a government program that is well-funded. The library does an incredible job meeting the needs of this community. Because the library is well funded, it can successfully execute its mission. Because it does a good job, people support it and are willing to fund it, and so on. If funding becomes an issue, and services are cut, the library could lose support. The library is incredibly well run and easy to use. Plenty of people who don't have to use the library choose to use it because it is such an excellent resource. If services are cut, that could change.
11875	7/10/2012	Economic strain at the local and national levels that contributes to the over-taxation (and economic exhaustion) of taxpayers. Without a robust local economy, schools, libraries, police/fire etc. departments all suffer. Moreover, at the city/county level, there's a need for transparency and responsible spending.
11876	7/10/2012	Shortsighted 'austerity' proposals that don't consider what a population needs to prosper long term -- like health care and education. Libraries are an indispensable resource for a self-educating person.
11877	7/10/2012	Expanded beyond available funding. Support your mission. Why going from $.89 to $1.22 which is a $.33 cent increase (27% increase) while you reduced service by 14%. Why all the extra money?
11878	7/10/2012	Underfunding resulting from inequality of income and wealth, and from the shunting of public monies to corporate treasuries and military activities.
11879	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is inaccessibility. If people can't get to the library (because they don't have the physical means, knowledge of the library resources available, or experience of what powerful exposure the library offers), or the library is closed when needed, the library will fail to get the financial and social support it requires.
11880	7/10/2012	Lack of community support through taxes.
11881	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11882	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and closures.
11883	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
11884	7/10/2012	Less people reading real books.
11885	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11886	7/10/2012	The homeless!
11887	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
11888	7/10/2012	The librarians are kind of mean
11889	7/10/2012	Not enough money to maintain and run them.
11890	7/10/2012	Diminished hours and lack of new materials.
11891	7/10/2012	I would think budget concerns.
11892	7/10/2012	I would like for all citizens, particularly those that are children, seniors, or with special healthcare needs to have access to library services daily. I worry that our local literacy rate will decline if families do not have free access to these resources.

11893	7/10/2012	Budget cut backs impact materials, services, hours and programs.
11894	7/10/2012	The property tax structure. It doesn't work. The fact that the city & county have depended on levies to fund the library for the last 20 years means the library is heavily dependent on a broken system.
11895	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, people taking them for granted, consistent non-prioritizing
11896	7/10/2012	Closure for funding reasons. I believe, if push came to shove, libraries are more important than schools.
11897	7/10/2012	Loss of consistent, sustained funding.
11898	7/10/2012	Funding, fewer people seeking higher education as media specialists or librarians
11899	7/10/2012	Children not being taught proper research skills in the classroom. Children need to be taught to use non-fiction books.
11900	7/10/2012	Having them closed or shorter hours. Many need library and computer access to look for jobs, work on important research papers and enrich the lives of children.
11901	7/10/2012	Poor economy, no sustainable funding stream, misuse and abuse of offered services, technology, and misappropriation of public money.
11902	7/10/2012	people who expect something for nothing and do not want any additional tax levies, people who legitimately cannot afford additional tax levies
11903	7/10/2012	It appears to me that diminished funding is the biggest threat... but perhaps that is a symptom rather than a root cause. It baffles me that as a heavy library user -- someone who has all but stopped buying books, after being a longtime book purchaser -- I feel obliged to justify the ongoing need for libraries, which I consider a critical community resource. But I am not sure how I can diminish the threats to libraries -- the funding cuts that will result in steadily more diminished operating hours and, ultimately, branch closings.
11904	7/10/2012	Oregon's tax structure. It does not allow for the upkeep of services.
11905	7/10/2012	I would imagine it is lack of funding and lack of commitment but the actual librarians presumably know the answer to this better than me.
11906	7/10/2012	lack of interest, and lack of money
11907	7/10/2012	Not having a consistent source of funding.
11908	7/10/2012	Tea baggers, conservatives and Wilber Romney
11909	7/10/2012	Becoming obsolete. Having low inventory, old and outdated references, not having a good selection of current and classic materials.
11910	7/10/2012	overflow parking from the Gresham Saturday Market...no, seriously, the dumbing down of America by Republicans and big media conglomerates
11911	7/10/2012	Right wing beliefs pushing limited government that results in taking away funding
11912	7/10/2012	Lack of public knowledge of all the great things that a library actually has and provides. Wasn't until recently that I thought it was just "a building over there."

11913	7/10/2012	stupidity from politicians. everybody loses when the library is closed. employees lose wages. students are denied resources. job hunters/families are denied resources.[] cut from the top not the bottom. stupid decision. quit throwing money at management.
11914	7/10/2012	Becoming irrelevant
11915	7/10/2012	Failure of the local economy due to overly-large public budgets and indebtedness.
11916	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of understanding the importance of local libraries and the services they provide to a community.
11917	7/10/2012	Passive public behaviors. We have a right to our libraries, the current climate is no worse than book burning
11918	7/10/2012	Funding
11919	7/10/2012	not sure.
11920	7/10/2012	I'm not really sure what you mean by this. Being closed I guess.
11921	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
11922	7/10/2012	Climate change is all our biggest threat. I would support anything that makes the libraries more energy efficient (solar panels on all the roofs?), as well as any programs the library could offer around climate change.[] [] Second to that, I'd say the unstable public funding is the next biggest threat. It's hard to operate a quality system when funding levels can fluctuate wildly from year to year.
11923	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, cost of replacing lost, damaged or stolen materials.
11924	7/10/2012	more closures due to funding losses
11925	7/10/2012	Complete ignorance about all the resources available and lack of community's perceived value in a public library system.
11926	7/10/2012	Political apathy. The need is there; is the political will?
11927	7/10/2012	People not reading and using the services.
11928	7/10/2012	E books and the difficulty of finding the latest titles available when they first come out
11929	7/10/2012	Children that aren't reading enough.
11930	7/10/2012	Misuse/mismanagement of available resources. The Central Library, where I go about once a week, ALWAYS has a few people standing around, doing nothing. The new "Lucky Day" feature apparently buys huge numbers of new books, so people who can't be bothered reserving something, can get instant gratification. I enjoy new books and bestsellers, but if I am using the library, I am willing to wait my turn. Seems to me a great deal of money is being wasted.
11931	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11932	7/10/2012	The lack of a budget seems to be the biggest threat. There needs to be better ways the money the libraries do have to be spent wisely without losing employees and programs. Better promotion of fundraising, or better fundraising, could help.

11933	7/10/2012	People who do not read and cannot appreciate the value of the library system to everyone. Also, those who are anti-government (taxes, too) and are not societally oriented.
11934	7/10/2012	Regressive tax structure. We've already de-funded schools. When libraries go, we'll be even closer to a nation of illiterates.
11935	7/10/2012	changes in management/managers... i.e. personal service, or lack thereof. Attitude.
11936	7/10/2012	Governments and fires
11937	7/10/2012	Digital Media
11938	7/10/2012	LOCAL GOVERNMENT
11939	7/10/2012	Kindle?
11940	7/10/2012	Republicans
11941	7/10/2012	Books, resources online
11942	7/10/2012	Republicans
11943	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding and absence of a permanent funding stream
11944	7/10/2012	people not willing to pay the increased levy The biggest threat is a failure to realize just how much good libraries can do. They seem to have a low signal boost in comparison with internet and TV as far as information-dissemination and entertainment value. People forget about them and I wish more could be done to remind the general public how important the library system is to the general welfare and improvement of the citizenry.
11945	7/10/2012
11946	7/10/2012	Seemingly lack of funding (open hours) and perhaps limited ability to expand space in some areas/neighborhoods.
11947	7/10/2012	Unemployment resulting in fewer tax dollars for funding
11948	7/10/2012	Inefficient use of resources. The library system should focus on providing services which it is uniquely qualified to provide, namely convenient access to a wide selection of quality books and other media. More peripheral services, such as specialty programs that are only available at certain times and catered to specific populations only act to divert needed personnel and funding away from what the library is best known for. Additionally, these peripheral services are often available from other places, such as local school libraries, boys and girls clubs, YMCA, etc. In a time of diminishing funds, I believe the library must prioritize.
11949	7/10/2012	People who don't think life-long learning is important. People who don't understand that to make democracy work everyone, no matter what their economic status, needs access to information. People who do understand this and don't care. People who think libraries are an unnecessary expense, a frill. People who think it's better to put young men in prison than it is to teach them living skills.
11950	7/10/2012	Government funding being spend inappropriately, parents not instilling the importance of reading in their kids

11951	7/10/2012	It's clear that stable funding is a great challenge, and one to address in the near term. But I wonder if there's not a longer-ranged problem with maintaining relevancy of the library as an institution with those who mistakenly believe that technology can substitute with convenience, bells and whistles for what many of us know and understand to be the irreplaceable resource of printed word. As print book sellers are experiencing, and users of such services as library.nu now know, we are losing the wealth and diversity of knowledge found in legacy publications to changing consumer expectations and interests, publisher incentives to narrow their offerings, and copyright constraints that put the canon of printed word into an electronic lockbox, accessible only by those with privilege and dollars.
11952	7/10/2012	Lack of funding for new materials or falling behind the trends in technology.
11953	7/10/2012	i just filled this out. why is this survey repeating itslef
11954	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
11955	7/10/2012	Not open enough
11956	7/10/2012	funding
11957	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11958	7/10/2012	Republicans
11959	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11960	7/10/2012	Lack of appreciation for what they do for the community
11961	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11962	7/10/2012	Apparently it's funding.
11963	7/10/2012	funding?
11964	7/10/2012	Being shut down due to lack of funds.
11965	7/10/2012	Funding
11966	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11967	7/10/2012	Refusing to put together a District to permanently fund the library.
11968	7/10/2012	Don't see any threats
11969	7/10/2012	Terrorists? Dust? Faulty plumbing?
11970	7/10/2012	Money
11971	7/10/2012	Reduced hours so that people stop getting in the habit of coming because it is not open at convenient times.
11972	7/10/2012	The emergence of digital media
11973	7/10/2012	Defunding
11974	7/10/2012	funding, movement towards electronic access may limit underserved populations who don't have this access.
11975	7/10/2012	Unstable source of funding. Oregon needs something new. Either increase taxes on income or create a sales tax.
11976	7/10/2012	Government overspending and government employees getting way too much money when they are out of office....really bad budgeting by our government!

11977	7/10/2012	Lack of a solid permanent funding base
11978	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to keep up with demand for using the library itself and buying new materials.
11979	7/10/2012	lack of funding
11980	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11981	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
11982	7/10/2012	I think the current ondemand nature of our society is the biggest threat -- that and the funding crisis, of course.
11983	7/10/2012	Lack of funding People not valuing the potential that libraries provide for children without regular access to computers, books and other educational resources in the home. Libraries are an equalizer for many who would not have access to these types of resources.
11984	7/10/2012
11985	7/10/2012	Closing
11986	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, apathy for the arts and public resources.
11987	7/10/2012	Probably small-minded politicians.
11988	7/10/2012	Electronic books. Funding.
11989	7/10/2012	funding
11990	7/10/2012	Lack of funding means fewer hours + less books = bad. . .
11991	7/10/2012	This doesn't affect me, but I think that loss of resources for jobseekers is quite critical.
11992	7/10/2012	Apathy
11993	7/10/2012	Funding?
11994	7/10/2012	people doing other things besides reading
11995	7/10/2012	e-books and the ease with which you can order things online...why go to the library anymore?
11996	7/10/2012	The Internet changed research, the kindle changed reading. More people need libraries less to read and learn more.
11997	7/10/2012	I imagine it's lack of funding.
11998	7/10/2012	not enough funding
11999	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, lack of funding
12000	7/10/2012	Internet.
12001	7/10/2012	As the American Empire declines funding for social services will continue to be difficult
12002	7/10/2012	Not enough funding! But I'm open to a six-day-a-week schedule. Doesn't seem like a big deal to have the library closed one day each week.
12003	7/10/2012	budget cuts
12004	7/10/2012	Lack of awareness on how to use them
12005	7/10/2012	the internet
12006	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12007	7/10/2012	Not keeping up with new technologies. They should provide trainings on new technologies, as well, like how to use ebooks on iphones, etc.

12008	7/10/2012	Foolish lawmakers who think this is dispensable situation. Penny wise and pound foolish doesn't get anyone ahead!
12009	7/10/2012	Poor management, We just voted to give the Library a levy now here we are cutting hours and asking for a tax base. Seems to me there is game playing going on with the service cut trying to scare folks into voting for the new levy.
12010	7/10/2012	underfunding
12011	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
12012	7/10/2012	A government ruled by greedy idiots, and wealthy people with no vision or commitment to their country and their total and complete lack of "stewardship" for the blessings they enjoy. Some of the wealthiest people of the Industrial Era founded and funded libraries. Today's Wealthy leadership and business leadership have no sense of the importance of Libraries - a cornerstone for a free and evolving culture.
12013	7/10/2012	Lack of stable and long-term funding.
12014	7/10/2012	Loss of funding due to nearly complete reliance on property taxes.
12015	7/10/2012	I'm not sure. I guess I would say funding. The same thing that threatens our schools.
12016	7/10/2012	I don't know
12017	7/10/2012	Um, being under funded?
12018	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12019	7/10/2012	Hard to say, but like everything else it is probably some form of ignorance. I would guess that many do not know how much richer their lives can be when they use the library regularly. I think that people in general do not fully understand how much more important the library is in financial hard times for so many, especially low-income and resource-poor people. Not enough people understand the role of the public library as an essential element in a viable and vital democratic society.
12020	7/10/2012	I do not know but assume it is money. It costs a lot to purchase necessary materials and supplies, plus the cost of employees. I am not sure if volunteers are utilized but if not, I think it would be good to research the possibility of seeing what talents are in the local community. I realize and support that some staff are required but volunteers could reduce some costs.
12021	7/10/2012	Taxpayers who do not see the importance of the local libraries and who vote against measures aiming to preserve them.
12022	7/10/2012	As I said in a previous statement, for me personally it is having them taken over as homeless shelters which severely limits my use since they feel uncomfortable if not threatening much of the time.
12023	7/10/2012	stealing book
12024	7/10/2012	Computers
12025	7/10/2012	Lack if funding
12026	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12027	7/10/2012	Lack of funding

12028	7/10/2012	Reduced hours
12029	7/10/2012	lack of relevancy
12030	7/10/2012	$$ problems
12031	7/10/2012	Funds!
12032	7/10/2012	Poor money management
12033	7/10/2012	budget cuts and technology (ebooks, etc.)
12034	7/10/2012	I don't know
12035	7/10/2012	Public employee unions and unfunded pension liabilities.
12036	7/10/2012	$$, I assume. And a culture that doesn't support reading.
12037	7/10/2012	E-readers, irrelevance of books, with the ease of Internet access students can do research online now & don't need the library for school projects.
12038	7/10/2012	cut hours?
12039	7/10/2012	Liberals who promise to keep the system open then cut hours even though we voted for more funding. This last betrayal was sufficient for me to vote NO on further funding.
12040	7/10/2012	Theft of materials
12041	7/10/2012	Not using library money for its intended use -- books and materials related to reading and literacy.
12042	7/10/2012	Theft not returning books
12043	7/10/2012	Being closed and/or not maintained, and reduced staff
12044	7/10/2012	The Internet is number the number 1 threat and evolutionary change to our known world. Number 2 is the economy... the economy has effected Everyone, Myself, without a SOLID career or even JOB for over 6 years. Right now my wife is the only one working and we luckily we some how make it day to day.
12045	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12046	7/10/2012	The widening gap between books and electronic media presents a challenge of empathy to the people that don't read books, that interact only with digital media.
12047	7/10/2012	Internet access to resources and E-books. Funding wise, the recession makes it hard to support additional funding.
12048	7/10/2012	People forgetting that libraries are more than just a place to get books - it's a place at the heart of our community!
12049	7/10/2012	Lack of tax support to continue the present level of services. Ongoing ability to purchase new books and videos is critical so that patrons are likely to find what they want/need.
12050	7/10/2012	1. Funding from state and local budgets 2. Books on digitized readers

12051	7/10/2012	Biggest threat: "Dumbing-down" i.e. going to vanilla in trying to do everything for everybody. This is a diverse population with diverse dynamic needs. The local focus on Asian culture at Woodstock is wonderful. I hope all the local libraries have similar local strengths. Similarly, the special displays at the Central Branch are wonderful. Depth and breadth are both essential.[] [] Separate suggestion for consideration: Perhaps there could be some small effort at cross fertilization, i.e. rotating a portion of these special displays or cultural focus pieces among the various branches. Thank you!
12052	7/10/2012	Lack of creativity. Poor communication. Consolidating and becoming over-crowded. Stressed employees who are unfriendly.
12053	7/10/2012	Apathy. People trust the libraries to be there always, without making opinions known. If they need it they expect it to be there within a reasonable schedule.
12054	7/10/2012	Abusive and unruly homeless assholes.
12055	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to keep the doors open
12056	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12057	7/10/2012	Loss of support
12058	7/10/2012	lack of electronic books, more and more of the people I know don't often go to the library because they read electronic version now and assume the library won't have them
12059	7/10/2012	Puppies? I don't know....
12060	7/10/2012	Lack of funding which could lead to decreased utilization. It is a wonderful wonderful resource for our community.
12061	7/10/2012	Inefficiency.
12062	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Up your late fees!
12063	7/10/2012	Digital books.
12064	7/10/2012	Republicans.
12065	7/10/2012	Amazon and lack of funding
12066	7/10/2012	Closeing and rheyneed to close waste to much money
12067	7/10/2012	inadequate funding, competing priorities for sources of funding
12068	7/10/2012	Funding, or lack thereof
12069	7/10/2012	Mismanagement of county tax revenue.
12070	7/10/2012	Lack of proper, ongoing funding.
12071	7/10/2012	Trying to go "e-books".
12072	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12073	7/10/2012	ebooks and book publishers.
12074	7/10/2012	lack of fund and a lack of understanding the importance of the library system
12075	7/10/2012	lack of funding. I guess.
12076	7/10/2012	MONEY!

12077	7/10/2012	The constant threat of loss of funding due to our having to vote to renew the levy every few years! It should not be a political football.
12078	7/10/2012	Budget woes.
12079	7/10/2012	lack of appreciation of range of services
12080	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding by people who totally underestimate the importance of libraries to people like me.
12081	7/10/2012	Obviously funding - I have always voted for every library bond that is on the ballot, but I think we need to slow down. Cutting hours is the first step - I don't like it, but it is a reality that we don't have the money to continue at full time. I've had to cut back my home budget after being laid off - services are needing to do the same. [] I would even consider paying something for use of the library - like OPB - I'd donate $10 month
12082	7/10/2012	services cut to the point of very limited I am property tax payer and I donot want higher taxes but maybe if the cuts services from other things that I think I waste of funds.
12083	7/10/2012	Not having a comfortable atmosphere. lack of funding to attempt to provide too many resources.[] eg, too many free dvds and cds and books on tape[]
12084	7/10/2012	books should come first, but not romance novels which can be found free or cheap at any garage sale or fred meyer or even at book exchange places.[] the discs are a luxury that people should pay for.
12085	7/10/2012	Lack of funding Lack of advertising! I talk to people all the time who do not know how easy it is to reserve a book, movie, CD and receive it quickly at your local branch. As the economy continues to slow, even more people will need no/low cost alternatives to resources such as books, CDs, DVDs etc...I think of how much money I have saved by using the Library system instead of just purchasing or renting materials from Powells, Amazon, local video stores.....
12086	7/10/2012	The internet makes library research almost archaic although the lines for the computers at the library only lead to it becoming a place for large groups to hang out and be annoying. Computer time should be limited to 1/2 hr. The downtown branch is more like a homeless shelter
12087	7/10/2012	Money to stay open and money to add materials
12088	7/10/2012	funding
12089	7/10/2012	People not realizing how wonderful the library system is until it's too late and too much funding has been lost.
12090	7/10/2012	people not wanting to go and not feeling safe. it can be an unpleasant place, many people are there to use the internet only and they are often loud, distructive and have poor personal hygiene.

12091	7/10/2012	Not enough middle and lower income people working who would contribute more taxes if they were working. Large tax breaks for the top 1% of wealth in our communities and nationwide hurts our tax base that funds libraries, schools, street repair, ect. Too much of our tax money going to wars and subsidies for profitable corporations. A gross amount of money spent on political campaigns that could be funding community services and but instead go buying off too many politicians and decision makers.
12092	7/10/2012	Lack of proper funding
12093	7/10/2012	Funding
12094	7/10/2012	Closure
12095	7/10/2012	tax cuts for the wealthy!
12096	7/10/2012	The economy and budget cuts.
12097	7/10/2012	I have no idea.
12098	7/10/2012	A lack of understanding of the importance of libraries and library funding.
12099	7/10/2012	Closures and loss of funding.
12100	7/10/2012	we need more chairs for people to sit down to read their books.
12101	7/10/2012	Funding. Video games.
12102	7/10/2012	budget cuts
12103	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12104	7/10/2012	Funding?
12105	7/10/2012	Unsure.
12106	7/10/2012	For-sale bookstores. Electronic Readers. Government cuts.
12107	7/10/2012	lack of funding!
12108	7/10/2012	Tax cuts and poor resource management
12109	7/10/2012	Funding.
12110	7/10/2012	Mismanagement at City and county levels
12111	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12112	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12113	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12114	7/10/2012	People not aware of all of the libraries resources.
12115	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12116	7/10/2012	Budget cuts / misappropriation of our county's general fund
12117	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12118	7/10/2012	I do not know.
12119	7/10/2012	The loss of interest in printed materials.
12120	7/10/2012	People forgetting how wonderful libraries are. I talk to friends who are starting to use the library and are awed by not having to buy and keep books.
12121	7/10/2012	Honestly I don't know. I know funding is always an issue.

12122	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Biggest threat is libraries going beyond the basics. Currently you're squandering money on internet access and dvds for loafers and meth heads. Libraries should be about books. []
12123	7/10/2012	* Not comic books[] * Not internet access[] * Not progressive classes[] * Not movie rentals[] [] Keep the focus on books + education. :-)
12124	7/10/2012	not enough funding
12125	7/10/2012	Lack of info. About the latest abilities & services the libraries provided. Such as digital/ electronic access. Meetings/ groups available which the community can participate in.
12126	7/10/2012	Unsteady and insufficient funding. The public takes for granted that the library will always be there and seem to think that this and other important social services will get paid for out of some magical, bottomless pot at the end of a rainbow.
12127	7/10/2012	Republicans.
12128	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12129	7/10/2012	The Internet
12130	7/10/2012	lack of funding and community support
12131	7/10/2012	Budget restrictions.
12132	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12133	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and bureaucrats robbing us of a community resource that connects people. Tax the large scale businesses.
12134	7/10/2012	Not able to access on my schedule
12135	7/10/2012	Funding & e-readers
12136	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12137	7/10/2012	the never ending begging for funds
12138	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
12139	7/10/2012	lack of money
12140	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12141	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I would imagine.
12142	7/10/2012	Internet
12143	7/10/2012	funding cuts, lack of access
12144	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12145	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to keep the hours necessary for our community to find them useful.
12146	7/10/2012	Closures.

12147	7/10/2012	Electronic media
12148	7/10/2012	Loss of funding making it so new materials aren't available, leading to loss of public interest in libraries and further loss of funding.
12149	7/10/2012	lack of consistent funding
12150	7/10/2012	Budget cuts for buying new books.
12151	7/10/2012	Not open everyday
12152	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.[] Cutting services to the point that few use the library anymore.
12153	7/10/2012	The smell the homeless people bring in when they use the bathrooms for bathing
12154	7/10/2012	The Kindle?
12155	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding Lack of funding, lack of use, middle/upper class perception of the library being unsafe, a loitering place for homeless and drug action, or don't know what resources are available to them.[]
12156	7/10/2012	Well trained, degreed, professional librarians with good marketing/public relations as well as great signage for services are essential for public use. Current, relevant materials are also necessary.
12157	7/10/2012	I can't answer this question - I'm sure you know far better than I, but I believe that the decline of people reading actual books and doing research at the library is a threat. It seems that every time I go to the library people are either sitting at computers or looking at dvds. I usually have the stacks and reference section to myself. But computers and dvds are everywhere - a collection of books and scholarly materials is just something most people can't have access to without libraries. I hope that the library I know will still continue to exist, rather than turning into a community center for people to stare at computers.
12158	7/10/2012	Foreclosures and unemployment are a big threat because if people cannot pay their taxes there is no money for the libraries.
12159	7/10/2012	Adequate funding
12160	7/10/2012	The federal funding is low with all of these updated technology it cant keep up
12161	7/10/2012	They are often closed when people can go.
12162	7/10/2012	1. Proprietary and use restricted e-books[] 2. Government cutbacks that deprioritize educational resources.
12163	7/10/2012	Another subjective question. What answer do you want? Could a threat be crime, lack of resources/materials, funding, ebooks, reduced hours? What answer do you want?!?!?!?!?
12164	7/10/2012	decreased funding. as a "green" city we need to support systems of social sustainability and civic health - the library being a key link to democracy, community engagement.
12165	7/10/2012	The economy...tough financial times make folks tightening their belts less likely to vote for tax increases...even as they increase their use of the libraries.

12166	7/10/2012	A significant long-term threat is that copyrighted works are no longer falling into "public domain". Copyright is supposed to be a short-term monopoly on publishing, for the long-term benefit of everyone. Libraries are great places to find public-domain works.
12167	7/10/2012	Those who oppose levies which would give libraries vital funding. I'm sure you may have seen this campaign from Troy, Michigan, but if not I thought I would share. I think the library supporters here put together a genius "book burning" campaign prior to an important election. Please watch the video here if you haven't seen it already. http://www.upworthy.com/burn-the-libraries-down-kidz-can-learned-stuff-on-there-oan?g=2
12168	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is that people will lose touch with the library as an integral part of their life. I know countless Portlanders who are "hooked" on the library, the way some people are hooked on going to the gym or programming their Tivo. We go several times a week for a wide range of materials, use the Interlibrary Loan program, put books on hold online, and generally incorporate the library into our intellectual, creative, and family lives. One of the main reasons we're able to do this is access. This means, in part, having libraries that are still open when most people get off work, seven days a week. The harder it is for people to get something, the quicker it will fall out of their lives. "Access" here also means having access to a wide range of new materials. If a store always has what you're looking for, chances are you'll be a devoted customer. Knowing that MultCoLib owns dozens of copies of the newest bestsellers, as well as a host of guitar instruction DVDs, and all the new manga comics for my daughter, plus important new (expensive) art books, makes the library an indispensable resource. Should that wealth of access ever "dry up," people will stop looking to the library for many of their needs.
12169	7/10/2012	Local government and mismanagement of financial resources by local leaders.
12170	7/10/2012	Funding
12171	7/10/2012	funding and digital materials.
12172	7/10/2012	Funding, it seems.
12173	7/10/2012	Republicans
12174	7/10/2012	no money.
12175	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
12176	7/10/2012	Underfunding over emphasis on computers
12177	7/10/2012	Funding. Funding. Funding.
12178	7/10/2012	lack of consistent funding
12179	7/10/2012	Reduction in funding seems to be the greatest threat.
12180	7/10/2012	Republicans
12181	7/10/2012	Stupidity.
12182	7/10/2012	politicians, budget cuts, electronic media, illiteracy
12183	7/10/2012	Funding
12184	7/10/2012	Decline of society as a whole?

12185	7/10/2012	No opinion.
12186	7/10/2012	funding
12187	7/10/2012	Not sure?
12188	7/10/2012	Material is outdated and we live in a quickly changing environment. More electronic media could be available.
12189	7/10/2012	E-Books
12190	7/10/2012	Individuals who do not use library services not recognizing the value of the services provided.
12191	7/10/2012	Lack of interest by taxpayers, loss of funding
12192	7/10/2012	Bureaucracy
12193	7/10/2012	Staff cutbacks.
12194	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12195	7/10/2012	An apathetic/uneducated public.
12196	7/10/2012	Not enough funding!
12197	7/10/2012	Non-users who do not value the importance of our libraries and the important services they provide to our community.
12198	7/10/2012	People not knowing about all the free-to-you activities that are available at the library.
12199	7/10/2012	Funding
12200	7/10/2012	Lack of compassion for those who don't have the resources for buying books, personal computers, etc.
12201	7/10/2012	Section 5 of this survey is poorly designed. I wanted to indicate that having the library open six days a week was important, but planned to leave the rest blank to indicate they had no importance to me. By renumbering all the others, you give them "value" that I do not see.
12202	7/10/2012	Not enough hours open. Monday is a work day for most people and not having access to the library does. It meet the need. Also lack of staff. Most people need help from the staff finding materials, information etc. With lack of staff I fear needs from the community might not be met as well as organization of the library and resources available. People need to let the librarians know what is available to community like education programs etc; they are a big source of our information.
12203	7/10/2012	People not recognizing the importance of them for our community's literacy, education and self-succificency.
12204	7/10/2012	Political/Societal priorities. In other words, the same thing that is a threat to all community richness programs and resources. Convincing people that their lives will be enriched when those of all are enriched is a losing battle. It's like people who commute by car yelling at cyclists to get off the road. The motorist sees themself as the taxpayer who's money supports the road, and the cyclist as a freeloader, not a fellow taxpayer who chooses to use the same road differently. Community resources that benefit all people, rich poor young old, are often targeted by those who don't want to pay for anything they themselves don't use. Public schools, libraries, Head Start - different versions of the same story. Priorities.

12205	7/10/2012	Funding being cut
12206	7/10/2012	The above ranking was difficult for me. I strongly believe in "The Commons" and consider the Library an important piece of that. I am supportive of anything that will help the library and further, I understand what is happening all over the country as we let go of these important public services or make them less available. I even see the library; especially the Central branch, an important resource for the poorest in our communities, including the homeless. The biggest threat to the libraries, as I see it, is that it might go away due to voter apathy or people who increasingly don't support the commons.
12207	7/10/2012	Television
12208	7/10/2012	People take them for granted and tend not to consider library funding a priority until it's gone.
12209	7/10/2012	I wrote an equivalent of two of these boxes worth of feedback--spent nearly 1/2 an hr thinking & writing. Why did it vanish!!! Pissed.
12210	7/10/2012	personnel costs
12211	7/10/2012	Underfunding
12212	7/10/2012	Ignorance.
12213	7/10/2012	?
12214	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
12215	7/10/2012	funding
12216	7/10/2012	Funding.
12217	7/10/2012	Lack of tax revenues.
12218	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12219	7/10/2012	Greedy Portland schools and ignorant political leaders.
12220	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
12221	7/10/2012	Funding
12222	7/10/2012	Funding and video games
12223	7/10/2012	Changing technologies
12224	7/10/2012	fucking homeless people. throw them out!
12225	7/10/2012	management not being honest about bond levies
12226	7/10/2012	Need more funding to keep all branches open 7 days a week.
12227	7/10/2012	Not having enough funding from the city
12228	7/10/2012	Funding.
12229	7/10/2012	funding
12230	7/10/2012	I'd say people buying books on devices such as the iPad or Kindle instead of going to the library.
12231	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12232	7/10/2012	people forgetting to use them as a resource
12233	7/10/2012	Lack of funding options
12234	7/10/2012	Theft of materials and misuse of materials and facilities.

12235	7/10/2012	recession.[]
12236	7/10/2012	too many increases in government spending for other things
12237	7/10/2012	Funding to allow libraries to provide needed community services.
12238	7/10/2012	lack of funding - it is difficult for me to understand why this problem is occurring because the library is beneficial to so many people in different age groups and of different income levels.
12239	7/10/2012	The open time is not enough
12240	7/10/2012	I think the libraries should be open everyday, but not necessarily for full hours. I would rather see reduced hours each day, rather than closed any day. The biggest threat to libraries is lack of support and funding.
12241	7/10/2012	Perennial funding from property taxes. Other sources need to be found.
12242	7/10/2012	Other government entities fighting for the limited tax dollars.
12243	7/10/2012	The same thing that is the biggest threat to all public institutions in Oregon: the lack of a stable revenue source.
12244	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is being closed all together. I wasn't completely thrilled about the new hours but at least the library is still open.
12245	7/10/2012	Access and not being able to update materials
		Funding.[]
		[]
12246	7/10/2012	We have one of the highest, if not the highest, rates of circulation per capita. The Library is a fundamental community resource and especially so as a shared resource when family resources are limited.[]
		[]
		If you think about in terms of _leverage_ the library system is one of the most cost-effective programs around.
12247	7/10/2012	You mean, besides the Internet? Maybe lack of coordination between school programs and library programs, teaching kids to use the library as a resource. and of course, adequate funding
12248	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient availability will train young people to not make use of the library if it is not open on days or hours convenient to their schedule. I grew up always knowing that the library was open whenever I needed to use it for research, writing papers, taking out books, etc. If a young person needs to use a library on a Monday and it is not open, they will need to seek other resources like the internet.
		Apathy and lack of funding.

12249	7/10/2012	Funding and budget cuts when the the local libraries are important especially for low income families and thier children who may not have access to computers of books.... I know that people use electronic books these days but not everyone can afford to buy a tablet or update the books. Libraries offer a wealth of information for students and families and if funding is decreased then programs will be limited and resources which will make it hard for the middle class and lower class families.
12250	7/10/2012	not enough circulation of air Lack of stable funding.[]
12251	7/10/2012	[] In many other places, I might say "irrelevance," but obviously we Portlanders love our books! But the books (and the computers) don't do anyone any good behind closed doors.
12252	7/10/2012	The funding being misappropriated. We pay way too much in taxes and levies to STILL be short on funding
12253	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12254	7/10/2012	Too many cut hours. Neighborhood branch is not open or available. Computer workshop class.es and service is not available to the public
12255	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to keep the libraries open enough hours, for the people of the commmunity to get adequate use of them.
12256	7/10/2012	People not using them and budget cuts
12257	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12258	7/10/2012	e-books
12259	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12260	7/10/2012	Not funding them properly.
12261	7/10/2012	netflix
12262	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding.
12263	7/10/2012	That the cost to order on amazon is less than the late fees and more convenient (delivered to your house). Open 7 days with longer hours is the best strategy against this threat so you can always stop by. Or some sort of after hours self check out from the books you have ordered.
12264	7/10/2012	Reductions in staff and operating hours--which equates to less access to the valuable programs and services.
12265	7/10/2012	Apparently it is funding!
12266	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12267	7/10/2012	not enough funding
12268	7/10/2012	Republicans
12269	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12270	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
12271	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and resulting cuts decreasing patronage

12272	7/10/2012	Funding, lack of interest or sense of importance by the larger community
12273	7/10/2012	Limited materials especially books.
12274	7/10/2012	Selfish, greedy Republicans.
12275	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and community participation, possibly also lack of community awareness as a common resource
12276	7/10/2012	short-sighted politicians; willfully ignorant people who resent people who want to improve their knowledge.
12277	7/10/2012	People watching porn.
12278	7/10/2012	financial and lack of staff support.
12279	7/10/2012	Unstable source of funding.
12280	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is politics not valuing our libraries' role in our community. Tax restructuring should not threaten the library.
12281	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Electronic books should not be a threat for some time.
12282	7/10/2012	People who don't use them and don't understand the amount of traffic they receive may not see them as important
12283	7/10/2012	I assume lack of funding or funding insecurity.
12284	7/10/2012	budget cuts
12285	7/10/2012	1)Unplanned structually fixes.[] 2) Internet media and resources
12286	7/10/2012	Loss of resources
		Likely funding, especially as the services offered by our libraries are expanded to meet the needs of the consumer.[] []
12287	7/10/2012	As an educator (pre-K teacher, Pre-K- 12 district administrator, professor), I think that technology may have an impact but I truly believe that hard copy books are still critical to the the teaching of reading and the lives of our children and all of us as adults.
12288	7/10/2012	wall street becoming 40% of our GDP -- as they create nothing of value, and gamble with our economy rather than serve it - - while they lobby the federal government for their benefit and get bailed out for their worst behavior. Also, the myth of self reliance that is sucking the life out of our efforts to strengthen the common welfare and community.
12289	7/10/2012	Shrinking budgets. Keeping programs relevant as the needs of the community change (for example job seeking is hugely important now but may be less of an emphasis five years from now). Getting value from investments in new materials.

12290	7/10/2012	I suppose funding. Unfortunately the funding for libraries and many of our services are done through property tax which I feel is the most unfair of all taxes as you cannot get away from them whether you own, rent, live in a nursing home - whatever - they are there. I am sure the ever-increasing property tax keep many well-meaning citizens - many senior citizens on low fixed incomes and others who are suffering in these difficult economic times from voting for local bond issues and levies. This is a serious problem and I wish there was a more fair way of taxation that would fix this problem, but it doesn't seem to happen.
12291	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
12292	7/10/2012	stingy taxpayers. The funding base of the library system needs to be expanded - the primary source should be the general fund. The funding needs to be based on the cost of running a library system without any budget cuts. We need 0 based budgets so taxpayers pay for the service they want, and use.
12293	7/10/2012	Cuts in budget.
12294	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding
12295	7/10/2012	Their closure.
12296	7/10/2012	Well the fact that we essentially need bar bouncers working at Central doesn't help, does it? I'm not sure why there is such a funding gap honestly; our libraries seem well-liked and funded.
12297	7/10/2012	lack of money
12298	7/10/2012	I don't perceive any threats to our local libraries. They seem well used and supported.
12299	7/10/2012	low funding!
12300	7/10/2012	the increasing tax burden on home owners.
12301	7/10/2012	Trying to provide too many services. They need to be used for media lending, not community programs.
12302	7/10/2012	FUNDING + to a lesser extent the Internet/ebooks
12303	7/10/2012	not being able to stay current with access to modern materials and resources
12304	7/10/2012	People don't understand how much libraries serve our communities, and the consequences of losing all of the resources the county libraries provide. If roads are not serviced, people notice immediately, are outraged, and demand funding. Services like the library are easier for people to ignore until they are gone, then are outraged only after completely losing them.
12305	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding / uncertain funding.
12306	7/10/2012	Electronic books
12307	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
12308	7/10/2012	not sure
12309	7/10/2012	republicans and tea partiers
12310	7/10/2012	Story time for kids
12311	7/10/2012	The lack of money.
12312	7/10/2012	city government taking library money from bond

12313	7/10/2012	So many of my friends, ages 20-30, hardly know it exists! They don't know that they pay big money for relevant, current books and media they can borrow for free!
12314	7/10/2012	The libraries are used to the level that they are because of the amazing array of resources they offer. I fear that cutting services will reduce usage/revenue and create a cycle of cuts that weaken the system.
12315	7/10/2012	Cutting resources due to poverty consciousness
12316	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding.
12317	7/10/2012	county government. & excessive spending
12318	7/10/2012	Well, for the upcoming ballot, we are being asked for money for libraries, schools, and the arts. Our property taxes have gone up significantly already in the last five years while our property value has taken a nosedive. We are in our sixties. We are reaching the point at which we can't say yes to all the bonds and levies even though we have always voted for these increases before. How do we choose?
12319	7/10/2012	Lack of funding/not large enough selection (in general) at each library. Often times I have to go to the central library because the St.John's library doesn't have what I am looking for.
12320	7/10/2012	funding concerns
12321	7/10/2012	Legislators who think our libraries, schools and other PUBLIC institutions are ATMs. Businesses' and Corporations' tax loopholes - there's where your resources lie.
12322	7/10/2012	Funding
12323	7/10/2012	Declining literacy. Lack of sophistication: to think that what you get on the internet can fulfill your reading needs, such as they are if you think so. Also the question of what you think is important and what you think isn't. If government, taxes and the common wealth are seen as evil (socialism!) because of the climate in this country for the last 30 years, then community riches like libraries will be the first to go.
12324	7/10/2012	Lack of government support at the state level and no permanent source of funding.
12325	7/10/2012	electronic books! television!
12326	7/10/2012	Lack of funding

12327	7/10/2012	All these services are so important, it is really hard to rank. I would say objectively they have the same value for the most part, depending on what stage of life you are in. The programs help to bring a diverse audience into the libraries, introducing people to available resources and building a sense of community. For me, the early childhood programs have been a big support, and have been a gateway to seeing what else the library has to offer. I have felt so lucky to live in an area with such high-quality library resources and programming. The children's librarians are exceptional. We were very disappointed to see cuts in storytimes and hours, especially so soon after the levy passed. I understand the situation, but it seems like bad PR. I am afraid that degrading the extent of services provided will disenfranchise patrons. I think the biggest threat is across the board chipping away at programs.
12328	7/10/2012	budget cuts
12329	7/10/2012	seems like lack of funding; here in Portland, interest is high, but mechanisms for funding limit what can be done.
12330	7/10/2012	Funding. People don't understand that a good public resource the library is.
12331	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12332	7/10/2012	not enough funding!
12333	7/10/2012	Under funding
12334	7/10/2012	Funding cuts, I suppose.
12335	7/10/2012	electronic publishing, and the fact that people can research almost anything on the internet now
12336	7/10/2012	It would seem to be funding. Despite the fact that we have one of the best, and most used, systems in the nation, we face funding shortages.
12337	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12338	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
12339	7/10/2012	That they won't be open and available to us (the public). I think that many people are very short-sighted when it comes to funding such an important public service (for people of all ages).
12340	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
12341	7/10/2012	war mongering and capitalism
12342	7/10/2012	Poor fiscal planning by elected officials of all parties. More accurately, poor prioritization by them.
12343	7/10/2012	If they libraries are closed and are not accessible to people when they need them people will stop using them.
12344	7/10/2012	Public funding cuts. I guess funding, given the topic of this survey.[]
12345	7/10/2012	By the way, the programming for the previous question isn't working correctly. It automatically ranked the responses & didn't let me change them.
12346	7/10/2012	Minimized hours and salary cuts for qualified staff
12347	7/10/2012	lack of funding.

12348	7/10/2012	Public ignorance of the value of free libraries to our community and our economy, by providing a place for anyone to learn and get job skills. Free access to books is not available on the internet.
12349	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. The public library is one of the remaining places where all people can go to access literature and other services. It's bad enough that we are cutting education to such a low level of functioning, but a community without a public library accessible to all?!?!? That is rock bottom in my opinion. It is depressing and sad that we have gotten to the point where we cannot even preserve the basics of what serves as a foundation for living a good life. Ugh.
12350	7/10/2012	Seems like a loaded question. Given the context of this survey, I am guessing that you want me to say funding.
12351	7/10/2012	pedophiles and those looking at pronography. Also those who are looking for work not being able to use the resources because of closures.
12352	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to maintain current services and stay abreast of technological changes.
12353	7/10/2012	budget cuts!!
12354	7/10/2012	Shortened hours will make libraries busier, which leads to stressed staff and customers. This will make great libraries turn into a poor environment.
12355	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12356	7/10/2012	Operational funding is not specific to the libraries, electronic & social media that reduces literacy, lack of resources-or information about resources- that are available at the library and are important to members of the local community. Surveys of card holders should be used often by the County to stay abreast of current concerns and issues. Unstable funding! We need a source of stable funding for the libraries. Otherwise, a random election could cause this extremely valuable resource to slip away from us. ☹ ☹
12357	7/10/2012	The Multnomah County Library, as it is now, is one of the best libraries I have ever seen. Hard-to-get and rare books are easily accessible. I am able to read, listen to, or watch anything I want and in a reasonable amount of time. We need to maintain whatever funding enables this to occur. Access to knowledge is not something that should be reserved for the people who can afford to buy it. Knowledge should be free.

		Mission creep. Libraries should review its mission statement and affirm to one that isn't overly broad, as it then encroaches on other departments and jurisdictions and creates waste.[]
		[]
		Instead of job-seeking services - something that is properly handled by the county's employment department - the library should be focusing on making digital content (knowledge) readily and easily available.[]
		[]
12358	7/10/2012	Instead of helping out small business owners - something that is properly handled by the SBA - the library should be expanding its non-English content.[]
		[]
		Instead of helping out students complete their homework - something that should be handled by schools and parents - the library could be expanding its volume of self-help books such as the GRE, GMAT, etc.[]
		[]
		Instead of providing video game consoles - something that children can access by building friendships with their mates - the library could be building a digital repository of open source tools to build video games.
12359	7/10/2012	1.) The changing nature of how people access knowledge. 2.) The seemingly fragmented purpose of Multnomah County libraries. What is the libraries core mission? Has this mission been compromised over time? Has the mission of libraries changed (technology, internet, clientele) based on realities? Does each library location serve the same clientele or different (adjust services accordingly based on clientele and library location). Has mission creep occurred? If so, how and how to address new realities then budget accordingly.
12360	7/10/2012	Possibly the move to electronic books. The library seems to be incorporating online resources, though. The library needs to keep up / stay ahead of the times.
12361	7/10/2012	Reduced funding which limits the communities access to valuable services.
12362	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12363	7/10/2012	funding cuts.
12364	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12365	7/10/2012	Unstable funding.
12366	7/10/2012	Right-wing politicians
12367	7/10/2012	It seems like lack of funding.
12368	7/10/2012	Anti govt. hysteria; know-nothings; etc.
12369	7/10/2012	There are a lot of non-citiens and children using the libraries. Neither group pay to keep the libraries open.
12370	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
12371	7/10/2012	Lack of money

12372	7/10/2012	Obsession with Internet time wasters, notably so-called social media, and electronic games.
12373	7/10/2012	Funding
12374	7/10/2012	Sloppy surveys? Funding? Weirdos on the computers? Termites?
12375	7/10/2012	Ebooks and cost of new printed books.[] Apathy of most voters, whi have a say in how money is spent.
12376	7/10/2012	Financing and the libraries will close
12377	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, or not having enough technology/up-to-date resources, which I think we have.
12378	7/10/2012	(1) people's increased reliance on technology and lack of willingness to wait for information at the expense of interest in the thoroughness, accuracy, and neutrality of the information and (2) confusion as to the role of libraries and (3) lack of funding for the library.
12379	7/10/2012	Under-utilization
12380	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12381	7/10/2012	not enough funding
12382	7/10/2012	lack of funding, availability of resources online
12383	7/10/2012	$ cuts
12384	7/10/2012	Threat?
12385	7/10/2012	Local govt
12386	7/10/2012	ignorance
12387	7/10/2012	Costs of maintaining services growing faster than community wealth, requiring increased rate of funding.
12388	7/10/2012	Funding
12389	7/10/2012	Funding from all aspects.
12390	7/10/2012	mismanagement of funding. politicians who use the library issue as red herring to raise property taxes.
12391	7/10/2012	Besides budget?
12392	7/10/2012	Lack of public funding.
12393	7/10/2012	lack of funds it appears
12394	7/10/2012	Do not know
12395	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12396	7/10/2012	Funding. There will always be a need to restock, add new material, and keep up w/technology
12397	7/10/2012	Budget cuts that result in inability to purchase current media, books (new releases), general content etc.
12398	7/10/2012	Anti-tax paranoia. Relatedly, the mindset that if one doesn't use a service one should not have to support it with tax dollars. This I do NOT understand and unfortunately seems deeply entrenched in the conservative ideology.
12399	7/10/2012	Lack of community interest in supporting the libraries and lack of funding.

12400	7/10/2012	Not sure unless loss of funding. I also find that the main library is populated by street people without use of bathrooms and warm places to stay during the cold weather. We need more such facilities beyond libraries.
12401	7/10/2012	it's not the internet. it's the general public not being aware of how vital the library to an educated public in a democracy. when the general economy is bad and tax revenues are reduced, then something's gotta give when it comes to social services. uh-oh...
12402	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12403	7/10/2012	For me it's reduced hours, but I can work around that. It's more important to keep programs for young and school-aged children and senior citizens.
12404	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
12405	7/10/2012	It seems it has become an entertainment only place.... focus back to the learning and growing aspect
12406	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, censorship, and not keeping up with technology and community needs. I think the library is a key pillar in holding a safe place for ALL demographics to conitued education.
12407	7/10/2012	Inability to maintain/expand core services and offerings. The library needs to keep up with new technologies, and new releases. It needs to have available a deep enough inventory to minimize wait time on holds. The library also needs to keep expanding its ability to provide electronic media. Moving forward is important, and that will take funding or re-allocating of current funding. Closing system wide for one day per week is preferable to cutting back on the service that the library provides to the community.
12408	7/10/2012	The inequities of the federal and state tax systems that allow people who have used the country's infrastructure to generate personal wealth without paying their fair share back into the system.
12409	7/10/2012	Having to pay for services
12410	7/10/2012	Cutting hours due to funding problems.
12411	7/10/2012	Limited hours.
12412	7/10/2012	Electronic media
12413	7/10/2012	Republicans.
12414	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
12415	7/10/2012	BUDGET CUTS
12416	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
12417	7/10/2012	budget cuts
12418	7/10/2012	Obviously funding. How are libraries supposed to keep paper books in the hands of children when they can't stay open? It's simple - closed libraries mean more downloads of digital books.
12419	7/10/2012	E-readers (including iPad, Kindle, Nook, etc.)
12420	7/10/2012	Signature gathers
12421	7/10/2012	the belief that libraries are unnecessary with the internet which may result in defunding libraries in negative political climates.
12422	7/10/2012	Lack of funding? Lack of interest in reading?

12423	7/10/2012	Loss of patrons to online resources.
12424	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
12425	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12426	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12427	7/10/2012	The Digital Age and a post-literate culture (meaning, people don't read to learn anymore... they watch a YouTube video)
12428	7/10/2012	budget cuts are because if they continue like this than there will be no more libraries in the future
12429	7/10/2012	lack of reliable funding
12430	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
12431	7/10/2012	I don't like that everything is going to computers. I prefer to check out my books from a person, not a scanner. I also prefer to read from paper, not an IPAD. Funding for many programs seems to be diminishing as well which leads to cutbacks.
12432	7/10/2012	falling behind in offering current materials. Not being open when people need it to be.
12433	7/10/2012	limited access
12434	7/10/2012	I am concerned that books will become less available as electronic books become more popular.
12435	7/10/2012	Not enough funding. I feel the libraries are for all the people. Its very democratic. We have plenty of money to bail out Wall st. and fund so called wars. We need to do more for systems that help educate the public. This will keep our country strong.
12436	7/10/2012	The constant and dishonest pressure by politicians to raise taxes, fees, levies, etc. to continue to take money from citizens who are already hard pressed by this economy to keep their hard-earned dollars. This latest levy is the worst example, originally billed as a "temporary" levy to a full-fledged "the sky is falling" that will now be segued into a permanent library district fee. It's hard not to believe that the decision, immediately on the heels of the last election, to close on Mondays is nothing but a gimmick designed to put pressure on taxpayers again. This institution needs to tighten its belt, cut expenses and take a hard look at its budget. Taxpayers must do this for their own home budgets; it's high time the library stopped looking at us a bottomless pit of fees. The library administration is its own worst enemy.
12437	7/10/2012	NOT RECONIZING THE IMPACT & IMPORTANCE. ALL AGE LIMIT'S ALL HAVE A STAKE IN THIS.
12438	7/10/2012	consistant funding and enough availability of materials and space, although I believe we have done a good job so far

12439	7/10/2012	Costs. Property taxes in SW Portland are already exorbitant. Most of the concern is that funds are not handled correctly to begin with, so why vote to give more? For instance, the building itself (in Hillsdale) did not have to be that upscale. ¶ I have the same issue with the SW community center. Focus on services, but keep the structures basic to save money for all. Otherwise, we can live with a 5-6 day/week library. We'll just have to plan our visits accordingly. But, this could have been avoided in the first place, thus saving a lot of jobs.
12440	7/10/2012	It is difficult to rank the services mentioned in question 5 because all are essential and valuable resources for our community. The biggest threat to our local libraries is lack of funding and resources, similar to the budget deficit of our local schools. Additionally, I think that public libraries are not utilized well by students from lower socioeconomic status communities. As a teacher of many students with free and reduced lunch eligibility, I observe that many of my kids rarely go to the library and some do not have library cards. Perhaps access and knowledge of the library system across all socioeconomic levels would help promote the longevity of the libraries' importance in our community mentality.
12441	7/10/2012	T V
12442	7/10/2012	LACK OF FUNDING
12443	7/10/2012	Short staffing and budget cuts
12444	7/10/2012	I have no idea
12445	7/10/2012	funding?
12446	7/10/2012	That people take them for granted that they exist and don't realize they need support to stay open.
12447	7/10/2012	Funding
12448	7/10/2012	Cutting any hours. I felt the hours were not good enough to begin with. I couldn't get to the library after work before it closed! And it was the MAIN library. That's not ok.
12449	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is that funding will be cut.
12450	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12451	7/10/2012	Not enough current material.
12452	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
12453	7/10/2012	Opening hours need to be expanded NOT contracted!
12454	7/10/2012	Ignorance.
12455	7/10/2012	Funding.
12456	7/10/2012	People think they no longer need to fund a "traditional" library because books and other materials are readily available online.
12457	7/10/2012	I don't really know. I do know I voted for a library funding bill in the last election and was then dismayed to see library hours reduced.
12458	7/10/2012	Funding lapses and the fact that people don't realize what a great library system we have.

12459	7/10/2012	Technology, it is much easier to order online, download a book/movie/CD etc. than to physically go to a local branch. People don't rely on the libraries like they use to because they don't have it. Those that do use the library on a regular basis rely on it in large part because they don't have access to technology.
12460	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding must be a constant concern. I do not object to increases that will help fund our libraries; however, as we approach "retirement" the increased taxes will be another stressor on our limited income.
12461	7/10/2012	Not varying days and hours so that all seven days are covered in each geographic neighborhood. Please don't have all/most sites closed at the same time!! It makes people feel frustrated if they cannot at least travel to a nearby open location. That is not good service, makes for bad association.
12462	7/10/2012	A culture that doesn't value reading enough
12463	7/10/2012	I love the libraries! However, with that being said my finances are stretched to the max. I cannot afford an increase in my property taxes. My property tax, car insurance, health insurance, home insurance, utilities, traffic fines, garbage service, food, gasoline...all keep going up. Once a year I get a dinky cost of living raise, and that barely keeps me treading water as is. I have not received a substantial raise in 7 years. Sorry, I wish I could do more.
12464	7/10/2012	Reduction of funding
12465	7/10/2012	Trying to be everything for everyone all the time, and computers are the biggest threat to local libraries. Libraries are sacred. Books need to stay the primary focus and events that promote books would help. Learning and exploring comes from not only the books we read but the books we hold in our hands. The more senses we bring into the library experience the more that experience will impact on us. Touch (holding a book, magazine, browsing), sound (music, storytelling), visual (travel slideshows, movies), etc. are important. Playing computer games, e-books or surfing the internet do not add to that experience. Libraries are community centers for people to learn and explore and when they need to have a tactile - hands-on intent they provide what no computer experience can.
12466	7/10/2012	funding
12467	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
12468	7/10/2012	being closed and not having updated materials
12469	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12470	7/10/2012	Apathy.
12471	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12472	7/10/2012	money?
12473	7/10/2012	Under-utilization by the public.
12474	7/10/2012	Ignorance and Tea-Tards
12475	7/10/2012	lack of funds

12476	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12477	7/10/2012	lack of funding and thereby becoming defunct
12478	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, leading to closure.
12479	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12480	7/10/2012	Reductions in the tax base
12481	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, threat of layoffs for seasoned librarians and archivists, libraries closing, not enough money for new acquisitions, not enough new technologies introduced.
12482	7/10/2012	Online library systems like Library 2 Go.
12483	7/10/2012	Budget management to ensure funding utilization is maximized.
12484	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
12485	7/10/2012	I don't know, but I assume it is the funding problems.
12486	7/10/2012	People think that books are becoming obsolete. I just picked up my lunch, with a library book under my arm, and one of the servers joked that he thought people didn't read any more.
12487	7/10/2012	lack of funding for hours, materials, and programs
12488	7/10/2012	Not having up to date materials and not being open enough to be accessible to all that want to use their local library. The next biggest threat is funding only through home owners. If the community uses the library (owners & renters), then the community should pay for the services.
12489	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
12490	7/10/2012	I don't know...?
12491	7/10/2012	Funding shortages and electronic books.
12492	7/10/2012	Higher property taxes. I cannot afford them anymore.
12493	7/10/2012	People do not realize how much is available at the library and how much it costs to keep the library open.
12494	7/10/2012	Portland government
12495	7/10/2012	Scarcity thinking
12496	7/10/2012	Lack of dependable, appropriate funding.
12497	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. Having to do more with less.
12498	7/10/2012	Digital world. But I have no fear that the love of that old book smell will prevail :)
12499	7/10/2012	The adjusted schedule. The library is a valued resource, closing it one day a week means that those who are looking for computer access, or other library benefits can not find it. It increases the digital divide, devalues literacy & digital literacy, and takes away valued community gathering space.
12500	7/10/2012	The perception that they are irrelevant.
12501	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12502	7/10/2012	Netflix.
12503	7/10/2012	Idiots who think that cutting library services is a way to deal with budget issues.
12504	7/10/2012	Probably funding

12505	7/10/2012	Limited hours and days - libraries should be open all day every day.
12506	7/10/2012	funding base is property tax levies - this needs to be expanded as these levies compete with other levies.[] How about creating a user fee based on a means test to spread the burden more widely?
12507	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12508	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding, not having a library district that can collect taxes that aren't subject to compression.
12509	7/10/2012	Making adequate changes that identify the needs of users as digital media becomes more widely used on electronic devices. To make sure those needs are taken into account while realizing that many might not have that kind of digital access and rely on libraries for their needs. Finding the right balance.
12510	7/10/2012	? Again, what do you mean by threat?! IS there a threat? I would hate to loose either of the branches, if that is what you mean. This seems like a loaded question.
12511	7/10/2012	poor funding
12512	7/10/2012	1. Insufficient funds leading to reduction in hours, resources available in the libraries, or closure of branches.[] 2. The movement of information access away from the public space (the library) into the private place (the computer in my phone or laptop). Libraries are essential as symbols of what we share information-wise.
12513	7/10/2012	Local and regional government's inability to properly budget/allocate resources. The amount the city/county/state expend on law enforcement and county jails is ridiculous when compared to the amount spent on our local libraries.
12514	7/10/2012	I 'm not sure that I understand the question, and I know that I don't understand what the problems are. It seems like a funding issue, but I don't know where that stems from. I am very frustrated that I keep voting for bonds to give money to the libraries, and then my taxes are raised, but the library hours have been cut.
12515	7/10/2012	Sometimes seems not cleaned properly.
12516	7/10/2012	Unenlightened taxpayers?
12517	7/10/2012	The transition from very often being the only source of general information in a community to one that is competing with myriad other sources of information. The decline in people checking out books and the compensatory rise of entertainment (DVDs, CDs, etc). As an oldster I've witnessed the shift in the perception of libraries as sources of serious research to the present state of being just another entertainment venue. I suspect the summer reading programs are losing participants even as kids are checking out movies by the drove.
12518	7/10/2012	funding.
12519	7/10/2012	funding cuts
12520	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and book burnings

12521	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
12522	7/10/2012	Lack of funding resulting in hours that are inconvenient for employed individuals and youth with after school obligations/activities.
12523	7/10/2012	I'd have to assume it's funding.
12524	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12525	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12526	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, it sounds like. That's no good.
12527	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. Libraries should be a priority.
12528	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, which is probably due to an aversion to taxes and empathy.
12529	7/10/2012	What an odd question to ask. I wasn't aware they were threatened.
12530	7/10/2012	days to be opened and new purchases
12531	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12532	7/10/2012	continued budget cuts technology advancements making free, online content more and more accessible to everyone.
12533	7/10/2012	Not enough funding and people using online sources such as kindle for books.
12534	7/10/2012	Funding, it seems.
12535	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and support.
12536	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I suppose
12537	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to support such an incredible library.
12538	7/10/2012	The down economy where everyone's budgets are limited. While I appreciate the library, I am in full support of it having to constrict its services along with other government services. Sadly, this is a necessary step to make sure that the state stays within its means and does not pass on an undue burden to any of its citizens.
12539	7/10/2012	Funding to keep out Libraries open, due budget cuts and crunch we are in. I think we are still at risk as funds gets moved to another allocation to help out other funding needs.
12540	7/10/2012	funding opposition from those who believe that the services provided by the library system is best provided by private, for profit entities.
12541	7/10/2012	I would guess funding. Some say that people prefer to read books online nowadays, but I see so many people using the library, I can't imagine that's true. I have an iPad and do read some books online, but I prefer holding an actual book.
12542	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
12543	7/10/2012	I think the decrease in days/availability, as may lead to people not incorporating it into their lives.
12544	7/10/2012	expenses
12545	7/10/2012	Politicians
12546	7/10/2012	Salaries of the county employees and benefits.
12547	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
12548	7/10/2012	privatization schemes

12549	7/10/2012	lack of funding...
12550	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12551	7/10/2012	Funding.
12552	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12553	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is reducing the hours and/or days that the library is open. Many people depend on their local branch being open. It is a safe refuge for learning for many people and it should be open...a lot!
12554	7/10/2012	mainstream age groups not understanding the true societal value
12555	7/10/2012	Apparently a lack of funding. I'd pay more in taxes to keep the libraries well stocked and open 7 days a week from early morning to late evening.
12556	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and the undervaluing of having educational resources for broad age groups.
12557	7/10/2012	Funding
12558	7/10/2012	Amazon.com - Specifically though the internet and how easy it is to either buy a book/magazine and have it shipped to you OR download an illegal epub file. Possible lack or loss of computer access. Many seniors do not have computers at home and rely on the library's computers to check their email, etc. Not everyone is online and the library recognizes that. So, please protect computer access! Thank you.
12559	7/10/2012	Not having funds to 1) stay open and 2) get a variety of current materials
12561	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. I will always vote "Yes" for library funding.
12562	7/10/2012	Funding
		Funding
12563	7/10/2012	Need better announcements for programs for parents to teach their children to read. Emails? announcements at local public and private schools?? Need more awareness and teaching on how to access library materials and books through computer and ipad
12564	7/10/2012	Keeping it open and funded properly.
12565	7/10/2012	I think the libraries try to be too much of a community center. I'd prefer them to focus on lending books and other media. The other services like computer access and childrens dancing are valid, but necessarily in a library. Those are also billable services. Make a little money off them at least. I'm happy to pay for acces to media, but I'm not down with expanding the role of the libraries beyond that on my dime.

12566	7/10/2012	iPad and tablet computers; coffee shops with free internet access; Kindle & nook on-line book services; local public and private schools with greater, and more easily available, resources. All these keep people from using the library and the value of the library is diminished by these similar functions. Perhaps most students and people don't understand the value of a public library.
12567	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of access to under-served populations.
12568	7/10/2012	less open hours
12569	7/10/2012	Underfunding!
12570	7/10/2012	Daily closures and hour cutting!
12571	7/10/2012	decreased funding if people believe they need to choose between the library and other public services like education or parks
12572	7/10/2012	not having funding
12573	7/10/2012	the internet. laziness. budget cuts.
12574	7/10/2012	$$$
12575	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12576	7/10/2012	loss of funding that could cause the closure of branches of the library
12577	7/10/2012	funding
12578	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12579	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
12580	7/10/2012	Funding
12581	7/10/2012	Tax-cutting measures.
12582	7/10/2012	Becomes a hang out for bums.
12583	7/10/2012	Branches closing due to lack of funding.
12584	7/10/2012	Less and less people come to the library because of the number of homeless who loiter. I think that having more ebooks available, and more audiobooks, would bring more people in. Many people feel that they don't have time to read, but wind up utilizing ebooks and audiobooks with increasing frequency on commutes and in breaks at work.
12585	7/10/2012	Continued cutbacks on hours!
12586	7/10/2012	Not enough money. ¶ Diminishing interest in reading for recreation/information due to social networking focus?
12587	7/10/2012	lack of money? seems to me that sums it up (assuming censorship doesn't rear its ugly head here in Portland). oh, and parking is tough. my branch is a bit too far to walk, and weather isn't always good for biking (and even then I sometimes have way too many books with me one direction or the other). I know you can't really do anything about that. I hope you are able to keep those few spots in the apt. lot. I expect that if the new apartments across the street don't have parking it will get even worse at the Hollywood branch. In the meantime I try to avoid weekends.
12588	7/10/2012	Misuse or not used at all.

12589	7/10/2012	while it is important to stay current with materials. It would mean absolutley nothing if people did not have access to them because thier branch is not open there is not one in their community, or the hours are so limited that they cant get to them.
12590	7/10/2012	Reduced funds for providing essential services to our community - including reduction of days open.[] [] The less services are available, the less the community can/will support and utilize our libraries, thus creating a downward cycle of the underuse justifying budget cuts or closures.
12591	7/10/2012	People who prioritize eliminating anything related to the word TAX above everything else, and scream and moan about every effort to gain funding for things like arts, health care, libraries, schools, roads, etc. Those people are dangerous, stupid, isolationist, hateful, willfully ignorant morons, and they have grabbed for themselves far too large a share of the public conversation about civic matters. The squeaky wheel gets the grease but sometimes the squeaky wheel is a tiny-minded child who should be told to hush and go play while the adults are talking rationally.
12592	7/10/2012	Like our schools they seem to be short of funds, the economy is affecting us all in many ways.[] I feel that the libraries are one of our greatest resources, it benefits and empowers our society in [] many ways with knowledge, information and resources of all types so people can get better jobs [] and kids can learn the love of books. There are many many book lovers here in Portland!
12593	7/10/2012	Tax cuts
12594	7/10/2012	lack of money
12595	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12596	7/10/2012	inadequate and inconsistent funding
12597	7/10/2012	Lack of PR to public about the importance of public libraries.
12598	7/10/2012	This part of the survey doesn't work right. Part 5. Selections don't take.
12599	7/10/2012	The Economy; Kindle; B.O.
12600	7/10/2012	Closures and limited boos, media and resources.
12601	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12602	7/10/2012	Cut back hours.
12603	7/10/2012	Funding.
12604	7/10/2012	becoming obsolete by not changing as technology changes the way we live
12605	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12606	7/10/2012	Funding.
12607	7/10/2012	threats of closing or cutting down on hours open.
12608	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. Why is there never enough money for schools and libraries?
12609	7/10/2012	I guess it must be funding.
12610	7/10/2012	People not thinking it's important enough to keep funded

12611	7/10/2012	People do not understand what resources the libraries have available to them (besides books). Online tools, tech savvy checkout, children's resources, Internet access make using the library very relevant and easy but many do not realize this.
12612	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is not enough stable and adequate funding. Also need to keep the public informed about the programs the library offers and how it is the best in the nation. Promote how well the library utilizes its funds will keep the public supportive.
12613	7/10/2012	Underfunding, and ideologies that prioritize corporate greed over social needs. I want to say a word about this: I fear that the loss of a sense of "public goods"--that is, of collective services and resources that benefit everyone--is creeping even into Portland politics. I think we need to combat this directly. In the case of the library system, I think we need to unapologetically say, "look--this is what it will cost to have a high-quality library service, we can't do without it, and this is what it will cost." On the other hand, it's obvious that tea-party obstructionism at the federal level means that aid to state & local gov't isn't forthcoming, which filters down to libraries, parks, and everything else. Still, I feel strongly that Mult Co. Public Library needs to not mince words--let's get a dedicated tax to fund this library district!!
12614	7/10/2012	Funding
12615	7/10/2012	Disinterest in using the library because of the inability to get wanted materials, info, or not open.
12616	7/10/2012	Over taxing the people. Not offering hours for good use of library.
12617	7/10/2012	Children not being taught to read well and not enticed to enjoy reading.
12618	7/10/2012	Underfunding is a problem. Also, the lack of support from voters (tax payers) that don't understand the extent of resources that are available at the library.
12619	7/10/2012	I'd guess money, and I can't say vehemently enough that without libraries, the class divide just gets bigger. We must support our libraries and keep them open as many hours as possible, with as many resources.
12620	7/10/2012	I worry about resources. I haven't been an active library member until it got to the point that I could no longer buy all the books I like to read this past year. But what I was surprised to see is the wear and tear that the books I check out can have. It just seems like the cost of keeping books intact and replacing those that fall apart would be a big expense. I don't know if that is true but it does concern me!
12621	7/10/2012	Continuing to overextend its resources with too many expensive and non-essential programs. The library may be TOO good. How about an annual limit on the number of materials patrons can put on hold from other branches? Being more strict about fines and holding people accountable for damaged materials? Waiting a while longer to buy new materials when they may be cheaper, and the people who really want them to buy them privately, thus stimulating the economy? A library's purpose is to primarily lend books. I'm afraid Multnomah County Library may have become too big.
12622	7/10/2012	Anti-tax, anti-government forces. I don't feel qualified to choose the best option and don't want to have to choose between schools, police and fire and libraries.

12623	7/10/2012	digital media and e-books
12624	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
12625	7/10/2012	Funding!
12626	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12627	7/10/2012	Overspending. We have a luxury library service and it could and should be slimmed down in the current economic climate.
12628	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Duh.
12629	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12630	7/10/2012	numbers one and two are my only priorities. pay no attention to the ranking of the others. [] I think the last funding request for libraries was not straightforward. post election with the passage of the library levy, i thought the libraries were fine and was very surprised (and felt like I was sold a bill of goods) to learn of the shortened hours.[] biggest threat is competition for funds via voter approved levies when pps and other jurisdictions are also seeking funding and the economic slump or downturn
12631	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12632	7/10/2012	Being underfunded.
12633	7/10/2012	Under-funding.
12634	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
12635	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and apathy.
12636	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12637	7/10/2012	The idea that we should "economize" by choosing between programs and services for human beings while we spend ENORMOUS amounts of money to elect politicians.
12638	7/10/2012	Lack of use by the majority of county citizens. Libraries must find a way to make themselves invaluable for the majority of citizens.
12639	7/10/2012	The idea that a reduction in service is a good idea.
12640	7/10/2012	Lack of sustained and dedicated funding.
12641	7/10/2012	Lessened ability to fulfill community needs and failure to provide up to date and current research materials and new books.
12642	7/10/2012	Lack of money and turning obsolete with old materials.
12643	7/10/2012	Lessening programs for young, school aged children, and senior citizens as well.
12644	7/10/2012	E-reading (people don't know that you can or how to do it through the library)/Funding

		You just got us to vote for an increase a few months ago and now you want another one. You need to plan and budget better - you are losing credibility among voters. ☐
12645	7/10/2012	You are also being tarred by the same dynamic in the schools. They forecast doom and gloom - get a "special" levy passed to raise rates "temporarily" and then seem to almost immediately need another to "save teachers". I know schools are a separate entity - but to tax payers it seems like we're always getting a chicken little story "the sky is falling" and it's getting very old. I have no confidence that if I voted for additional money for you that you wouldn't come back in a short while and ask for even more.
12646	7/10/2012	Shift in priorities. Not prioritizing education and library availability and updating resources as important. The threat is when our elected leaders are not looking out for the best interest of the middle and lower class citizens because they are being paid off by wealthy sources with their private agenda to gain power over our elected leaders and our state government.
12647	7/10/2012	Funding cuts. The library should operate like our schools as a major resource for the education of our culture and citizens.
12648	7/10/2012	I think that you have an excellent customer base -- however you don't seem to be attracting new customers. You have a lot of families with children, but as the population ages, and couples are having fewer children-- if at all-- your customer base is shrinking. So how do you attract new customers -- who are your future core customers. It seems that you need to attract more people between the ages of 25-55 ==> so how to do that? In house coffee shop (starbucks, second cup, Seattle's best -- they could have a limited menu). Then what about better general interest classes, held by outside vendors that take place in the library -- knitting, chess clubs, any sort of general interest classes that would bring people into the library -- make them aware that the resource is there.
12649	7/10/2012	Apathy and ignorance.
12650	7/10/2012	funding
12651	7/10/2012	lack of funding
12652	7/10/2012	not enough funding. :(
12653	7/10/2012	Apathy
12654	7/10/2012	lack of funds
12655	7/10/2012	Operational cost
12656	7/10/2012	funding
12657	7/10/2012	I don't feel there is one.
12658	7/10/2012	I worry about funding cuts that will require the libraries to reduce hours further. The library is something that everyone has access to.
12659	7/10/2012	Duh, lack of funding?
12660	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12661	7/10/2012	Lack of steady, adequate funding, along with the absence of an understanding among some officials and citizenry of the core, vital role public libraries play in our community.

12662	7/10/2012	An inability to maintain relevance in the age of digital media and DRM.
12663	7/10/2012	Funding
12664	7/10/2012	lack of financial support.
12665	7/10/2012	Irresponsible government financial management.
12666	7/10/2012	You tell me. ???
12667	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12668	7/10/2012	Budget
12669	7/10/2012	funding as usual. I believe we have a great library system, just need to keep the funds flowing.
12670	7/10/2012	Porbably funding - and perhaps less interest in books now with on-line and other technology.
12671	7/10/2012	Lack of funding due to idiots on the various government boards. Ranks right up there with funding cuts for schools.
12672	7/10/2012	The first answer that came to mind is Republicans.... Anyone that wants to cut their personal tax burden without thought to the greater good of the community in which they live. Education, infrastructure, and support services are critical to the well being of our communities. And Libraries are the backbone of an informed, connected populace.
12673	7/10/2012	Lack of public support for reading and free access to varied points of view.[] lack of funding.[] inefficiencies & poor management of libraries.
12674	7/10/2012	Lack of sufficient funding--and support to raise funds--to maintain adequate staffing and hours. I would like to see the library fully-supported through property taxes. (I am a homeowner and am willing to pay higher taxes to support this public service, which I rely heavily on.)
12675	7/10/2012	funding is a big issue, but I think the messaging for the need of libraries is also a threat. A lot of people don't feel that going to the library is a viable option in this digital age. I think it is vital, since it allows us to reduce our consumption of paper by sharing resources and it also allows readers to access digital copies of books. I think increasing the number of online/digital books will help this, since there is high demand. But most importantly, the library system needs to do more marketing to clearly explain to voters why funding is crucial. You do a very good job now, but the messaging that I see is always at the library. Please try expanding messaging to people outside the library system.
12676	7/10/2012	Lack of funding from tax sources (i.e. rich people not paying their fair share).
12677	7/10/2012	It seems strange to us that one of the few departments of the City that clearly works has had to make the cuts that they have. We wish that the other departments were heald as accountable as the library system holds itself.
12678	7/10/2012	People loosing interest in reading?
12679	7/10/2012	That they may be mis-managed.
12680	7/10/2012	Reducing the hours to the point where the libraries are no longer accessible. Also, the homeless people problem at Central and the cost to the county to staff it with officers to monitor the problem.
12681	7/10/2012	Funding!

12682	7/10/2012	What does the library offer that I can't find elsewhere? I can adapt to the library's schedule as long as I want to go there and have a reason to.
12683	7/10/2012	not letting funding measures get on the ballot?
12684	7/10/2012	hour reductions
12685	7/10/2012	poor funding, more is needed!
12686	7/10/2012	dropping funding, cutting staff that do programs for children, not having enough money for programs or new books
12687	7/10/2012	Ignorance
12688	7/10/2012	The proposal to establish a taxing district for the library is the biggest threat to the system.
12689	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, too limited hours, old resources.
12690	7/10/2012	Cuts in funding
12691	7/10/2012	Administrative waste
12692	7/10/2012	lack of funding and lack of interest from constituents.
12693	7/10/2012	Not being open. The more unpredictable the hours, the more use will drop off.
12694	7/10/2012	lack of funding from a variety of sources
12695	7/10/2012	The county or other entities siphoning off funds raised specifically for the libraries for use at other "pet projects".
12696	7/10/2012	Insufficient and unstable funding.
12697	7/10/2012	Not sure, but I would imagine it to be funding cuts
12698	7/10/2012	Lack of funding...am I the only Oregonian willing to pay sales tax so we can fund things like our libraries and permanent music programs in schools?
12699	7/10/2012	Lack of fnding, mainly due to cost increases, it seems.
12700	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12701	7/10/2012	funding cuts
12702	7/10/2012	Funding. It effects resources and programs for every branch.
12703	7/10/2012	Doors not being open Apathy from our tech-savvy crowd. People assume because they have access to the Internet from their smartphone and home and work computers that they don't need the library. They have no idea how much of a difference having free access to data, and programs and people to help make sense of it, can mean to marginalized, young, senior, and immigrant communities.
12704	7/10/2012
12705	7/10/2012	limited hours and limitation on book availability
12706	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and economic hard times.
12707	7/10/2012	Kids not using the resources.
12708	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, as well as wasteful spending on items that are not nessisary.
12709	7/10/2012	People not fully appreciating the priceless value that our local libraries provide in resources and access.

12710	7/10/2012	The economy for our funding, which is unfortunate, as when the economy is in worse condition people will utilize the library more.
12711	7/10/2012	Apparently not enough funding. Also I would say that e-readers are taking their toll on how much people feel they need the library.
12712	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to keep them open and operating with full services intact.
12713	7/10/2012	Maintain primary focus on core/basic library services and materials. Not on building new facilities or trying to provide niche services for every need.
12714	7/10/2012	If libraries are open less and offer less services, people will get out of the habit of using them and it will be much less convenient to go.
12715	7/10/2012	Probably continued funding. I think though that more and more people will use the library, especially if you did more outreach to increase awareness of all the materials, services, and activities there. I myself began using the library more because I'm broke and there are good videos and books to check out. I checked out a workout video and have renewed it 3 times so far. I think most people don't know how easy it is to use the library, or don't know how to use the search engine properly. Improvements to the search engine and expansion of the video collection would be awesome. Specifically it's difficult to "browse" using the Search function; you have to know what you're looking for, so I usually use imdb.com and Amazon to browse before checking for the items at the library.
12716	7/10/2012	Paper waste. The confirmation printouts seem wasteful, they go straight in the recycle bin as soon as I check out my book.
12717	7/10/2012	Also, the hold slips with names are too big.
12718	7/10/2012	The internet., electronic age (kindle). Why hold a book when you can get it digital and download it. Continually rising costs of wages and benefits at a time when most library users and other taxpayers are NOT seeing any increase in their wages. [] [] In my mind, this ties with the failure of the County library system to prioritize allocation of resources to provide the greatest service in its core areas. We don't need to see new computer systems every 18 months; we do need to see a commitment to providing current materials, preferably prioritizing print media and music. E-books are used by a small percentage of readers and offer less to the majority of library users but seem to have become the flavor of the day recently.
12719	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12720	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12721	7/10/2012	not enough funding
12722	7/10/2012	Lack of Funding
12723	7/10/2012	The community not passing funding that would allow libraries to thrive.
12724	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12725	7/10/2012	A lack of funding which cuts back on services which leads less people to use the library which can then be used to justify further budget cuts.

12726	7/10/2012	Lack of awareness, and therefore utilization, of the many services they provide---people don't want to pay taxes or levies for the library if they don't know how much the library offers.
12727	7/10/2012	Lack of funding?
12728	7/10/2012	Mitt Romney and other Republicans.
12729	7/10/2012	Individuals who do not value community resources simply because they choose not to use them and on-line books and other media.
12730	7/10/2012	Being closed frequently due to budget cuts.
12731	7/10/2012	Change of the hours of operations. Libraries open for shorter periods of time.
12732	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
12733	7/10/2012	Austerity. The anti-popular agenda of the wealthy elite. Historical, sociological, and political ignorance. The perfidy of mainstream media.
12734	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12735	7/10/2012	Not enough funding. Not enough hours. I certainly didn't realize when I voted for the recent levy that it would mean cuts in services. This is not acceptable.
12736	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is a tight budget combined with a complacent attitude toward the services the library provides. Something has to give when budgets are strained, and this burden often falls to the libraries with the assumption that cuts to the library system are not damaging to the community. Unfortunately this is untrue. I am encouraged by the enthusiasm that others in my community have shown toward the library system and hope community members and their representatives continue their efforts to support and protect libraries.
12737	7/10/2012	I believe the biggest threat to our local libraries is access. And that come be in the form of computers, books, classes, and just being with people.
12738	7/10/2012	unstable funding seems the issue. I believe the communal space libraries provide could be leveraged to better serve the community and perhaps better justify full hours for all branches. Libraries are logical gathering places for community non-profits, homework clubs, book clubs, etc. They would also serve as excellent school bus stops especially paired with after school programs.
12739	7/10/2012	Street people who use the library as a hangout.
12740	7/10/2012	"Funding" would be obvious. I would add that the PURPOSE of a library is lost on so many; it is NOT a game arcade or a place just to "hang out" after school, but a place of learning. (At the risk of sounding like an old "coot", I still believe that online games should be blocked from library computers.) I practically "grew up" in my local library, but it was the books themselves and their contents that drew me.

		Wasteful spending by City Hall on pointless junk! [] []
12741	7/10/2012	My Tax Dollars should be spent on Schools (frugally budgeted, unloading all this useless bureaucracy, and money wasting to maintain the budget), libraries (likely has the same shenanigans going on with the budget), city infrastructure (stop stealing money from the road budget to pay for bike boxes and bike paths, and FIX the Damn Pot Holes!), and most importantly Fully Staff (we have 2.2 million in the PDZ metro area, 1/4 the population of NYC, why don't we have a police department 1/4 the size of NYC?!?!), Fully Train (You watch the news don't ya! They don't have all the training they need!), and Fully Equip (Have you seen the 10 year old police cruisers! What else is out of date?) the Portland Police Bureau!
12742	7/10/2012	lack of money
12743	7/10/2012	don't know
12744	7/10/2012	Funding, I'm sure.
12745	7/10/2012	money?
12746	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12747	7/10/2012	Computers and the internet...people's movement away from print media.
12748	7/10/2012	Funding to keep them open
12749	7/10/2012	Republicans
12750	7/10/2012	Funding it seems
12751	7/10/2012	Disinterested public
12752	7/10/2012	lack of adequate funding
12753	7/10/2012	As busy as my all library branches appear to be, I could only say that a lack of funding for programs/resources/open hours.
12754	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
12755	7/10/2012	Too few hours.
12756	7/10/2012	Funding cuts and complacency by Multnomah county residents.
12757	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and high administration costs diverting funds from necessary operations.
12758	7/10/2012	e books?
12759	7/10/2012	We pay over 600 per year in additional library support taxes and still you are asking for more. Library is great but you need to restrain your budget a bit.
12760	7/10/2012	Obviously funding.
12761	7/10/2012	Lack of funds to keep technology and information current, and keep access to such available as often as possible.

12762	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our communities are the leaders who make decisions about our community-based resources. Because these people do not have to depend on these resources (because they can afford to buy everything they need and most likely have never struggled like the common person does everyday) they are out of touch with everyman. They have no idea how the choices they make affect the people who need services.
12763	7/10/2012	At Central Library--the homeless population using it as a daily shelter--this not really an issue--and the restrooms as their only toilets and leaving them a disgusting (no exaggeration!) mess--urinating in the sinks, etc.[] Branch libraries: uneven funding
12764	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
12765	7/10/2012	Multnomah county seems to have excellent support for the local libraries - I noticed a number of signs in my neighborhood asking to renew the levy to allow the libraries continue operation this past election. The biggest threat would be losing that support - by having this survey, you seem to be handling this more proactively. Keep up the good work!
12766	7/10/2012	Loss of funding and loss of interest in reading.
12767	7/10/2012	Not enough support of the importance of this great resource.
12768	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat and the biggest advantage is the internet. It's a two edged sword, making printed material obsolete (ie downloading books from online sources instead of the library), yet being such a draw to order your items online and have them ready for pick-up or sent to your home. Some of us still prefer to hold a book in our hands. Obsolescence. And cost.[] [] A library is a place where we as a community can bulk purchase media and share it. It has traditionally been a research resource but this importance has diminished with the vast Internet resources now available, often free. Computer access is nice but not essential; at least 50% of the users are 'just screwing around'; this isn't part of the core mission. Programs for <group> seem like the most optional and least in the core mission of a library. They also seem like they could have a small fee to cover their costs.[] [] -- Also, your survey lost my response the first time and I had to re-enter. --
12770	7/10/2012	Not being creative in finding new uses for the libraries. Reducing hours, reduces availability which reduces use and reduces need.
12771	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12772	7/10/2012	anti-tax rhetoric & threats
12773	7/10/2012	Tight funding.
12774	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12775	7/10/2012	Not sure!

12776	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and apathy
12777	7/10/2012	Just lack of funding. You guys do a great job staying relevant and seeing the library as an INFORMATION resource, not just a place for books.
12778	7/10/2012	Short-sighted piggy Republicans.
12779	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding
12780	7/10/2012	Electronic books
12781	7/10/2012	I don't know.
12782	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12783	7/10/2012	Business's over crowding area to park
12784	7/10/2012	Politicians who make budget cuts to libraries because they are relying on voters to approve library money -- that way they get to keep spending money on their pet projects with minimal accountability.
12785	7/10/2012	Illiterate jackasses who'd rather spend the limited government resources on wasteful corrections programs.
12786	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12787	7/10/2012	the internet
12788	7/10/2012	The state government
12789	7/10/2012	apathy and inertia.
12790	7/10/2012	Republicans! No-taxers! Selfish people who do not care about the public good.
12791	7/10/2012	It seems to be lack of funding.
12792	7/10/2012	Funding and the prevailance video games are taking over reading
12793	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12794	7/10/2012	Dirty books that smell of smoke, dirty library users, mentally ill people who do not seem stable, not feeling safe or comfortable at library.
12795	7/10/2012	the loss of access.
12796	7/10/2012	withdrawal of community support (funding)
12797	7/10/2012	Funding. We need to fully fund every library so everyone has access. We LOVE our library and spend time there every week; my daughter has volunteered there for years. In my opinion, libraries are the most radical insitution left- free books for everyone with no agenda! Makes us so happy.
12798	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much. Stick to the basics and don't try to be all things to all people. Access to materials and the ability to check them out for personal use is the number one criteria.
12799	7/10/2012	Aside from the obvious budget constraints? I don't really see libraries as under threat from any other area; in fact it appears to me that they are more heavily used and relied upon than ever before.
12800	7/10/2012	lack of funding The libraries must be free and available to all. I may not always like to see some of the patrons, nevertheless I consider it vital that all have access, as long as they are not disruptive.
12801	7/10/2012	The libraries are trying to be all things to all people. Trying to speak all languages, provide all formats, serve every person means you aren't there when many people can really benefit.

12802	7/10/2012	I want you to know I as a property taxpayer am getting tired of you holding services hostage to us. You waste so much money eg I-5 bridge, goofy bike lanes, chasing young interns and generally disrespecting the taxpayers. WE ARE NOT STUPID and I for one have had enough. I plan not to reelect any of you and if I have my chance to change budgets I will. But for once, put aside your petty selves and look how to truly serve the taxpayers of Multnomah county.
12803	7/10/2012	Funds reduction. The library system is so important that it should be accessible for public more time than presently . Cutting working hours is inexcusable.
12804	7/10/2012	funding. lack of interest of the community of what a library can do.
12805	7/10/2012	Closing.
12806	7/10/2012	Computers! Television!
12807	7/10/2012	Underfunding
12808	7/10/2012	unsure? I love our library!!
12809	7/10/2012	irrelevance
12810	7/10/2012	I believe it is lack of funding.
12811	7/10/2012	high costs of operation
12812	7/10/2012	Over taxation by the county. We cannot afford more taxes or bonds. We must learn to live with less.
12813	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12814	7/10/2012	less hours open
12815	7/10/2012	Voter apathy
12816	7/10/2012	citizen apathy.
12817	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of support by those who use it most.
12818	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
12819	7/10/2012	budget cuts.
12820	7/10/2012	the internet
12821	7/10/2012	Budget cuts that require closures or shortened hours. Libraries need to be open so that they become part of citizen's regular routines and the default option for finding information.
12822	7/10/2012	closure, loss of community, loss of funding/ tax cuts, loss of public interest
12823	7/10/2012	I'm not deeply educated on library issues. But I love the Multnomah Library system, so I hope it is always well funded, with a well compensated staff.
12824	7/10/2012	Lack of funding that cuts hours/services.
12825	7/10/2012	Capitalism
12826	7/10/2012	taxpayers who don't recognize how critical the library is
12827	7/10/2012	Worst that could happen would be to deny access to people who don't have computer/internet access at home. This includes school children, seniors, and anyone else who relies on library for these services. An educated society is a healthy society and economy.
12828	7/10/2012	Funding...or lack of it!

12829	7/10/2012	The proliferation of e-books, online movie streaming and cheap MP3's will make the library a thing of the past in the years ahead.
12830	7/10/2012	The decline of home ownership. It can't be property taxes because my taxes keep going up while my property value goes down. Also unemployment and houses going into foreclosure.
12831	7/10/2012	E-books were a threat, though Library2Go seems to work relatively well.
12832	7/10/2012	Residents who do not understand the value of a library generally and the specific value of MCL -- the kinds of folks who say, 'who needs a library when everything is online;' who have online access at home; and who purchase all their media without giving it a second thought.
12833	7/10/2012	Funding will be cut and the resources will decline in quality and access. Libraries are important for the community but they need to be accessible to everyone!
12834	7/10/2012	-Public perception that libraries are not as valuable as electronic media (2000 years of experience versus a drop in the digital bucket)[] -Short-sightedness: the same lethargic and apathetic response of households not to fund public education are the same regarding the importance of libraries. We'll reap what we sow if we don't make the investment.[] -the homeless using the libraries computers for hours on end, occupying the seating, and using the washrooms as personal shower stalls.
12835	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and apathy. I don't think that many taxpayers realize how important libraries are to their communities and their futures, even if they don't personally use library materials. Even if one doesn't check out materials, their neighbors do, and the kids who will eventually grow up are learning how to read there, and the programs for seniors and job searching resources are there in case of hard times. So, apathy and close-mindedness.
12836	7/10/2012	Runaway capitalism...the attitude that anything that doesn't result in corporate profiteering isn't worth supporting financially or otherwise.
12837	7/10/2012	not being open on saturday or sunday's
12838	7/10/2012	Loss of a true educational focus. More and more I see the library turning into a place to check out movies or surf the net, rather than a place to learn. Even the selection of books is starting to reflect this, with increasingly less shelf space dedicated to more "serious" books in literature, philosophy, and science, and more space given to light subjects like hobbies or romance novels.
12839	7/10/2012	Not enough funding for employees with MLS degrees
12840	7/10/2012	Loss of funding for a number of reasons: poor economy, laziness, misunderstanding of the value of the library as a community resource, more and more people opting to pay for digital copies of books for personal e-readers, fewer people reading in general
12841	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
12842	7/10/2012	Politics
12843	7/10/2012	loss of funding to keep open and accessible to the entire community
12844	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.

12845	7/10/2012	People not using them!
12846	7/10/2012	Funding - but it's unrealistic to expect taxpayers to continue to foot the bill to pay for the same level of service. At some point, something has to give, and we as users of the library system will just have to get used to it.
12847	7/10/2012	Funding not being approved by tax payers.
12848	7/10/2012	funding
12849	7/10/2012	Funding
12850	7/10/2012	Cutting back on hours and funding.
12851	7/10/2012	lack of funds
12852	7/10/2012	funding cuts d/t unnecessary things like dumb wars
12853	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
12854	7/10/2012	Trying to figure out how to use limited resources as the variety of media channels increases.
12855	7/10/2012	Continuing to attract and retain users.
12856	7/10/2012	I assume it is lack of funding.
12857	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12858	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; unpredictable funding.
12859	7/10/2012	Decline in funding is the only threat that I know of, and it is a big threat.
12860	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and the opinion among the general public that Wikipedia is a good replacement for a library.
12861	7/10/2012	Lack of consistent funding, it seems. Otherwise, the library system appears to be adjusting to the e-reading phenomenon while meeting the more traditional needs one has of a library.
12862	7/10/2012	stupidity
12863	7/10/2012	Misplaced priorities in our society and government. The government wants to spend billions hurting people instead of helping them, mainstream Americans want trash cultural distractions. Luckily, we live in Portland!
12864	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
12865	7/10/2012	Electronic resources (books, audio, media) are fast, (sometimes) free, and easier to access than printed materials at a local library. A local library should invest in electronic materials, including subscriptions to journals, magazines, etc. which a subscriber could then access.
12866	7/10/2012	funding
12867	7/10/2012	budget restriction
12868	7/10/2012	Being closed! People need access to our libraries! It is our civil liberty as tax payers! This is where our youth is building it's foundations for education, and higher learning! These need to be available to our children and our community!
12869	7/10/2012	Funding is obviously an issue, but I think the local population is quite supportive of the libraries. The changing nature of books and media is also a concern - how can access be maintained as things migrate to electronic forms?

12870	7/10/2012	Limited hours = limited use. Internet for research.
12871	7/10/2012	Lack of awareness/promotion of its usefulness and existence.
12872	7/10/2012	Getting behind the times in terms of technology.
12873	7/10/2012	Our culture devaluing wisdom and self-motivated inquiry....
12874	7/10/2012	An hour later opening doesn't seem like a big deal but when you are trying to plan your daily trips it makes a big difference.
12875	7/10/2012	rumors of bed bugs in the book bindings...in all seriousness, this rumor was rampant in Cincinnati (and is an actual problem people saying they stayed away because of this, but not sure if there were many instances of bed bugs transferred from books into homes, but was a popular rumor).
12876	7/10/2012	Not keeping up with embracing new technologies. In addition respect is being lost for the importance of education (both of our children and continuing education).
12877	7/10/2012	I'm sure the biggest threat is lack of public funding and unwillingness for people to pay taxes. Another concern is the lack of other safe places for homeless people to be. Also, libraries should be better marketed, then they would maybe get more patrons.
12878	7/10/2012	Cuts in state and county budgets. Regulators need to find the money to balance the budget somewhere other than library services.
12879	7/10/2012	Straying too far from the core mission. Over-expansion is expensive and people will get angry with tax increases.
12880	7/10/2012	people refusing to pass measures that support the library's funding. as my friends may have tired of hearing by now, when the library is on the ballot, it's probably the most important single item to vote on. enabling and encouraging literacy and providing access to knowledge are some of the very most essential requirements for a functioning, hopefully evolving society. we gotta get out the vote!! liberals can't depend on the church for that, so we have to find another way....
12881	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding. For many patrons with full time employment, 7 days a week ensures access.
12882	7/10/2012	Bad policy decisions by our politicians. We have one of the best library systems in the country and it must stay strong and vibrant. The programs at our libraries are so important as is the human contact and expertise of the librarians.
12883	7/10/2012	Current economy and "no more taxes" mentality.
12884	7/10/2012	Over taxation of residents in Multnomah county.
12885	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. A good library system is a top priority for a good community. We must keep our services and outreach to all people. We are convinced that our children have been as successful as they are is due to weekly library visits from early childhood.
12886	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to reach the most needy populations.
12887	7/10/2012	Being closed
12888	7/10/2012	politics
12889	7/10/2012	Politicians.
12890	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. Keep our libraries open!!!

12891	7/10/2012	Hours open decreasing.
12892	7/10/2012	Funding cuts!
12893	7/10/2012	Funding
12894	7/10/2012	Funding.
12895	7/10/2012	Not passage of levies
12896	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12897	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12898	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12899	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
12900	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12901	7/10/2012	The lack of funding.
12902	7/10/2012	Funding
12903	7/10/2012	finances.
12904	7/10/2012	Funding A speaker came to arts and lectures before the spring election, (one of the commissioners) pleading for support, saying it was needed to keep the libraries open 7 days a week.[]
12905	7/10/2012	[] One month later - libraries closed on Mondays. It left me wondering what other false information the public is being fed. It makes me reluctant to be as supportive of the library.
12906	7/10/2012	Theft
12907	7/10/2012	FUNDING! But that is also the biggest challenge within public schools (where I work) and there seem to be no good solutions at this point in time. I was very happy to vote (and see others do the same) for the library funding initiative that appeared in the last election.
12908	7/10/2012	budget cuts.
12909	7/10/2012	The silence of the people who use them/depend on them. The indifference of the wealthy who can buy whatever they want to read.
12910	7/10/2012	Ignorance and Capitalism.[] The public school system, where kids are supposed to learn to use libraries and become life learners is failing.
12911	7/10/2012	The dumbing down of America (and the acceptance of the process).
12912	7/10/2012	In my opinion, funding is the biggest threat. With the levy that expires periodically, we maintain a state of threatened funding. I would support a more permanent method of funding. I believe our libraries are a vital resource in our communities and particularly serve those who need these resources most.
12913	7/10/2012	Funding.
12914	7/10/2012	That they will reduce hrs and programs to the public.
12915	7/10/2012	Not enough money; competition from other county programs.

12916	7/10/2012	I imagine it is the annual budgets that restrict your hours, your staff, and your ability to acquire both the quantity and quality of books you might wish to buy.
12917	7/10/2012	Limited resources due to size of the library.
12918	7/10/2012	Not sure
12919	7/10/2012	Budget's reduction year after year?
12920	7/10/2012	Excessive funding needs. While I can appreciate budget woos, have you looked at property tax rates? The economy continues to just get by yet the library and other publicly funded facilities continues to go up at an alarming and unsustainable rate. Please respect peoples budget and come up with other ways to fill the gap!
12921	7/10/2012	Immediate: Budget Long-term: Proliferation of accessible, credible information and digital media via the internet.
12922	7/10/2012	Other bureaus taking the levied money designated to and for the library. The automation of the library staff, which makes it harder and harder for the person who can not find materials, to do so and decreases the education of younger people on how to use, rather than abuse the library.
12923	7/10/2012	Funding and the resources needed to keep our libraries open and new and current programs running.
12924	7/10/2012	budget cuts
12925	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12926	7/10/2012	Funding, I'm sure.
12927	7/10/2012	Republican politics.
12928	7/10/2012	Lack of education
12929	7/10/2012	A lack of education about the benefits the library can provide. Also funding.
12930	7/10/2012	Funding
12931	7/10/2012	I don't know.
12932	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding
12933	7/10/2012	Theft of CD's, Books and Movies
12934	7/10/2012	Budget cuts making them less accessible.
12935	7/10/2012	closure of local branches, and loss of those distributed community resources.
12936	7/10/2012	Our culture does not encourage and support learning and observation, only playing and seeing.
12937	7/10/2012	Funding
12938	7/10/2012	electronic media
12939	7/10/2012	Republicans
12940	7/10/2012	Funding
12941	7/10/2012	non use
12942	7/10/2012	The people who give the most financial support (property owners) are not nearly the biggest net users of the Libraries.

12943	7/10/2012	Funding clearly. Availability is a huge issue for me, the reduction in hours makes it that much harder for me to visit around work and family commitments.
12944	7/10/2012	Closure!
12945	7/10/2012	Budget cuts!!
12946	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12947	7/10/2012	Sounds like funding is! Electronic books may threaten the community gathering aspect of the libraries as well as they gain in popularity since people can order those online through the system.
12948	7/10/2012	Not adapting to the world of digital information access. This will mean joining with out he library systems to fight publishers' restrictive policies on things like media encryption.
12949	7/10/2012	Loss of funding. people hanging out in front of the library...but nice to see security around. Also, I know it's a free speech concern but
12950	7/10/2012	computer access to questionable material...pornography...I don't know if this is a current problem because I haven't allowed my children access (to the computer except for availability for books and material) for several years because of material another user was viewing...
12951	7/10/2012	Uninformed people that think a library exists only for homeless people to have a bathroom. The ignorance is appalling. ⑆ Otherwise, I would argue that closures and reduced hours will impact the tax base elsewhere. The correlation between reading and learning and staying out of trouble is irrefutable.
12952	7/10/2012	Reductions in dedicated funding
12953	7/10/2012	Excessive public union benefits diverting resources.
12954	7/10/2012	homeless
12955	7/10/2012	ipads nooks, etc..
12956	7/10/2012	Sounds like lack of funding.
12957	7/10/2012	funding
12958	7/10/2012	overuse?
12959	7/10/2012	homeless people hanging around out front scaring people away from using the library
12960	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12961	7/10/2012	Republicans.
12962	7/10/2012	not receiving their funding
12963	7/10/2012	Loud, talking librarians that support the loud talking of patrons. I go to PSU library more and more because it is quiet there like a library should be. Hollywood library is like a party..impossible to concentrate there.
12964	7/10/2012	Apparently, it is budget cuts.
12965	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12966	7/10/2012	Putting something like library funding to a public vote when it's so easy for the privileged to decide it's not worth it to them personally and vote it down.
12967	7/10/2012	Lack of funding

12968	7/10/2012	People not able to afford higher property taxes. We need a state sales tax.
12969	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
12970	7/10/2012	it being taken over buy local markets such as Fred Meyers.
12971	7/10/2012	I don't know
12972	7/10/2012	Funding
12973	7/10/2012	IMO, Best tax money I pay!
12974	7/10/2012	Under funding.
		Being perceived as non-essential. []
12975	7/10/2012	[] As far as #5, I don't use the library all that often, but I see the libraries as a mark of the overall wellbeing of the community.
12976	7/10/2012	Not realizing it is the fountainhead of democract and education
12977	7/10/2012	Lack of support by city.
12978	7/10/2012	Reduced hours could make it impossible for the people that need the library's resources the most to utilize it's services (ie. working long hours or multiple jobs)
12979	7/10/2012	I'd say theft/vandalism to materials is high on the list but funding is obviously the biggest threat!
12980	7/10/2012	I suspect it is funding. Keeping material current costs money as well as staying open enough hours that work with people's schedules (especially those of us who work 8:30 to 6 every day).
12981	7/10/2012	The biggest threats are lack of funding and lack of relevance, and the two are related. As the public increasingly accesses information electronically, it is important that libraries stay current with technology in order to receive continued community support.
12982	7/10/2012	convincing community of importance that library system stays strong and technologically current so they will vote to accept bond measures for library
12983	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is that the most important hours will be reduced. Longer hours on Saturday and Sunday are much more important than being open every week day.
12984	7/10/2012	Not having enough copies of the same book or material.
12985	7/10/2012	Stupid governance decisions by Multnomah County's commissioners, like not asking for enough money from the voters last election, and then blindsiding voters/patrons with shortened hours.
12986	7/10/2012	Not being well used?
12987	7/10/2012	Location - it's nice to have our neighborhood library, it takes us 15 minutes both ways.
12988	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
		I think the biggest threat to any public service is the feeling that the[] people receiving those services are somehow stealing from the rest of us.[]
12989	7/10/2012	If voters think of themselves as library patrons, the libraries will be fine.[] If voters don't think of themselves that way, they might be convinced that[] the library is a luxury or worse.
12990	7/10/2012	budget cuts

12991	7/10/2012	Funding
12992	7/10/2012	Closure? Lack of money?
12993	7/10/2012	Tax stinginess.
12994	7/10/2012	Lack of public funding and support.
12995	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
12996	7/10/2012	Funding
12997	7/10/2012	loss of funding
12998	7/10/2012	No money
12999	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13000	7/10/2012	Funding (lack of!)
13001	7/10/2012	This page of your survey did not work. Did not allow me to rank correctly.
13002	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
13003	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
13004	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13005	7/10/2012	I'm for keeping library funding at current levels, I'm against raising taxes for libraries at this time.
13006	7/10/2012	Overspending for other things we don't need in the community.
13007	7/10/2012	straying from basic function: access to literature, information, media
13008	7/10/2012	Home owners cannot afford to continual tax increases to support all the open hours and programs.
13009	7/10/2012	Funding
13010	7/10/2012	lack of budget options?
13011	7/10/2012	Irrelevance. Invisibility. If you're not open often, people will go elsewhere for information, resources, media, social engagement, educational opportunities, etc... If your doors are often locked, people won't consider you when deciding where to go... I have no idea, I don't think in those terms. The biggest threat to me in regards to the library is if it wasn't there at all. I depend on the library for movies, books etc in order to entertain and educate myself and my granddaughter. It would change things for me financially to lose that resource.
13012	7/10/2012	Not being open 7 days a week!!
13013	7/10/2012	Society as a whole not utilizing the libraries. Parents not teaching their children how important it is to be able to use books and people for research. We rely to heavily on computers and technology.
13014	7/10/2012	Politicians wanting to cut taxes that go towards supporting our libraries and other public services.
13015	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. High overhead and administration costs hurts the libraries at a local level.
13016	7/10/2012	Tax compression
13017	7/10/2012	Lack of interest, lack of long-term perspective on the part of stakeholders (education builds a better future for all of us - libraries are an essential part of that education).
13018	7/10/2012	Decreased funding, Lack of Open Hours.
13019	7/10/2012	Funding cuts in Multnomah County
13020	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13021	7/10/2012

13022	7/10/2012	lack of consistent funding.
13023	7/10/2012	Republicans.
13024	7/10/2012	piecemeal funding by ballot initiative. voted for the last few, can't believe we have to pony up more this soon.
13025	7/10/2012	apathy of our citizens
13026	7/10/2012	Resistance to paying taxes for the common good.
13027	7/10/2012	Funding.
13028	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13029	7/10/2012	Lack of consistent funding.
13030	7/10/2012	funding
13031	7/10/2012	not sure
13032	7/10/2012	Lack of funding = difficulty of access due to limited schedules
13033	7/10/2012	?
13034	7/10/2012	Poor economy -- cheap internet rates maybe
13035	7/10/2012	Electronic media will made "traditional" libraries obsolete.
13036	7/10/2012	Funding
13037	7/10/2012	Well, the fairview one is small and the hours are difficult for someone in working class to be able to pick up and drop off library items. I think the biggest threat is the government taking away one of the limited resources for keeping kids safe and educated as well as adults who need the free services to better there own lives. The librarys when I was little were a haven but now the services they offer are limited by the funding hindering people who need the libraries.
13038	7/10/2012	I have no idea. I am still annoyed that I voted for the levy and then lost Monday services. What a ripoff.
13039	7/10/2012	There is not enough money to support all of the resources we want in Portland. Hard choices have to be made.
13040	7/10/2012	Don't know
13041	7/10/2012	Financial security. And people's lack of awareness of all the library has in stock
13042	7/10/2012	Limited hours and hours that change from day to day. People need to be able to access the library to enjoy the books and services available.
13043	7/10/2012	Lack of reliable funding. I'm concerned that property taxes are so high and there are many competing needs for our money Plus, there is a general lack of understanding of the important role of government and the need for support. I hate to see schools and libraries pitted against each other. But when it comes to funding choices, this is often how it is set up.
13044	7/10/2012	The lack of knowledge about how vast the offerings of materials are. There are books, movies, music CDs - extensive media that is difficult to afford these days - that the library generously lends. And with the hold system, you can utilize the entire library system (not just your local branch). That's a true gift.

13045	7/10/2012	Money, I guess. And taxpayers not seeing the library as important enough although we are the busiest in the US. I find that a proud fact about Portland which is also well represented in independent bookstores nationally. [] The money needed for a fine library service is not much per person or household.
13046	7/10/2012	Funding
13047	7/10/2012	abuse by the disrespectful
13048	7/10/2012	funding cuts
13049	7/10/2012	loss of funding
13050	7/10/2012	Loss of funding and resources.
13051	7/10/2012	Unsure, declining funding?
13052	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to provide appropriate hours and qualified staff to support the mission of the library.
13053	7/10/2012	more days closed
13054	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Definitely not lack of interest.
13055	7/10/2012	Apathy. Parents not valuing reading. Kids / young adults spending too much time pursuing instant gratification rather than something sustained, like a book.
13056	7/10/2012	i would say funding. otherwise they would be open all the time and have the variety of programs needed in a city like portland.
13057	7/10/2012	People who don't need to access 'free' resources.
13058	7/10/2012	Mismanagement. Clearly, given that we JUST passed a new levy increasing property taxes for the library and you're STILL having budget issue, there are management issues.
13059	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of community awareness of resources available. Especially electronic resources.
13060	7/10/2012	Digital media consumption and general lack of reading. I don't think the troubles of the library are on the community radar but feel that they would offer support if they were aware.
13061	7/10/2012	Apathy
13062	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13063	7/10/2012	Telling me you need another bond that will raise my taxes yet again
13064	7/10/2012	Funding
13065	7/10/2012	Lack of funding obviously. Hope your levy passes to make you have permanently available resources.
13066	7/10/2012	lack of funding.
13067	7/10/2012	closing them forever
13068	7/10/2012	FUNDING
13069	7/10/2012	Funding, old buildings(NE, North)
13070	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13071	7/10/2012	Austerity advocates, tea party mentality toward needed governmental services.

13072	7/10/2012	Fall in property taxes. Competition for resources. Expensive & fast moving shifts to e-media.
13073	7/10/2012	Becoming irrelevant as the world goes digital.
13074	7/10/2012	Continuing to lose day/hours that the library is open.
13075	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13076	7/10/2012	Lack of un-to-date materials, equipment and resources to draw people in.
13077	7/10/2012	lack of administrative support. lack of community interest/support
13078	7/10/2012	Underfunding!
13079	7/10/2012	Not enough funding ?? Not enough coordination between schools and libraries to introduce and keep young people coming back. ?? (I honestly don't know if there is any coordination or not-
13080	7/10/2012	inadequate funding
13081	7/10/2012	Loss of tax revenue. One of the most important public services that the city can provide.
13082	7/10/2012	I would hate to see our libraries close. They are very important to our community and education. My little children love outings to the library to pick out fun books. I loved to do that when I was a little girl. When my girls are older, I expect to be there more as they need to do research and write papers for school.
13083	7/10/2012	That they will be closed so that no one has the ability to use them and receive the knowledge that the libraries can provide. It will hurt all of us if the libraries are closed.
13084	7/10/2012	PROPERTY TAX COMPRESSION. Oregon legislators really ought to do something about this. it was a mistake, it has caused nothing but heartache, and voters should get the chance to correct it if the legislators will not.
13085	7/10/2012	I believe that it's funding, but I don't have much knowledge beyond that.
13086	7/10/2012	Funding instability ... needing to ask for new funds all the time.
13087	7/10/2012	PERS seems to be at the root of all these budget cuts. Until PERS is reformed, bureaucrats will put essential services on the chopping block. We need real leadership to reform PERS and get back to fiscal sanity.
13088	7/10/2012	Costs of home ownership. If they are funded through property taxes, people can't afford to buy houses here. Property taxes are extremely high here and that prevents people from wanting to buy homes.
13089	7/10/2012	funding
13090	7/10/2012	Apathy
13091	7/10/2012	Not staying cutting edge with what the community wants form its libraries.
13092	7/10/2012	Lack of access. Many people can only visit a library one day a week due to work hours or other time constraints, I would like the library open daily even if some hours were reduced.
13093	7/10/2012	funding
13094	7/10/2012	e-readers...?
13095	7/10/2012	Nothing can replace a neighborhood library.
13096	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.

13097	7/10/2012	Lack of a consistent, dependable funding stream. Library services should not be dependent on periodic bond/tax measures.
13098	7/10/2012	People who don't understand the benefit of social services.
13099	7/10/2012	loss of hours and computer access for many.[] like social programs the more cuts the less attendance then gone...
13100	7/10/2012	closure
13101	7/10/2012	funding!!!!!!!
13102	7/10/2012	Apathy.
13103	7/10/2012	Lack of funding it appears!
13104	7/10/2012	Not keeping up with changes and demands of technology is a computer driven world.
13105	7/10/2012	Willingness of taxpayor to fund
13106	7/10/2012	Funding.
13107	7/10/2012	financial cuts that force them to close or lessen service hours
13108	7/10/2012	Probably funding which could at some point require some type of payment to use the resources. The libraries should always be free and open to everyone. Mismanagement at the county level. The county should have put funding (whether it was a library district or levy) to a vote when they originally planned on doing it: November 2011. Now they're faced with trying to get voter support twice in one year, and as you should expect, other agencies have competing measures on the November 2012 ballot. It's a set up for failure. Great job, county chair!
13109	7/10/2012
13110	7/10/2012	Loss of funds to maintain services for residents who need access to resources they cannot afford.
13111	7/10/2012	People who don't use the library and don't understand how valuable it is to our community.
13112	7/10/2012	Lack of a permanent funding source is a constant threat to our libraries. Increasing property taxes year after year is an unfair burden on a portion of society that is steadily shrinking. As property ownership declines, so does the libraries funding source. Oregon's local officials need to consider implementing a sales tax.
13113	7/10/2012	Definitely NOT lack of interest, at least not in my neighborhood... it seems to be funding restrictions, which is incredibly frustrating after the vote a couple months ago.
13114	7/10/2012	Funding?
13115	7/10/2012	lack of literacy
13116	7/10/2012	Cutbacks.
13117	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
13118	7/10/2012	Funding...and republicans.
13119	7/10/2012	not enough $
13120	7/10/2012	The question above doesn't allow much detail - I would much rather the library focussed on new books, not electronic versions.
13121	7/10/2012	Funding cutbacks and hiring freezes.

13122	7/10/2012	The terrible economic climate that we endure where we don't have enough money for everyone who needs it -- like social services, education, libraries, etc.
13123	7/10/2012	Throwing away money on programs that are not utilized.
13124	7/10/2012	Salaries of Linrary staff in upper positions
13125	7/10/2012	The internet.
13126	7/10/2012	Mismanaged funds.
13127	7/10/2012	Funding
13128	7/10/2012	I don't believe we have to be the social media for all citizens. Provide books.
13129	7/10/2012	Misallocation of tax revenue to law enforcement, mandatory public education, and subsidies to developers, other corporations, and rich people's neighborhoods.
13130	7/10/2012	lack of access/hours
13131	7/10/2012	funding
13132	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13133	7/10/2012	Shortsightedness I don't have a problem that the library is open only 6 days a week. I recently learned that books were available for home-bound seniors which is a great asset. In a behind the scenes tour I recently learned of this program and the great use it has.
13134	7/10/2012
13135	7/10/2012	Not enough fundin
13136	7/10/2012	The safety of children. Access to pornography should not be allowed in our libraries!
13137	7/10/2012	Funding and lack of interest in reading.
13138	7/10/2012	The lack of funding. We don't understand why more people don't use them. I think it's because they lack the understanding of all the resources that libraries provide. The libraries are such a great asset. My husband and I don't buy books anymore because we can read them and return them. Besides, we don't have room in our condo for a book assortment anyway. We also rent old movies that are unavailable via red box.
13139	7/10/2012	Losing them due to budget cuts & no money. lack of funds.[]
13140	7/10/2012	[] internet resource competition among young people who are less and less into books and print materials
13141	7/10/2012	Less hours open, and buying less materials.
13142	7/10/2012	Lack of adequate funding.
13143	7/10/2012	The lack of funding and general disregard of the importance of public libraries. Public libraries are integral to upholding the social fabric.
13144	7/10/2012	Becoming irrelevant in the eyes of those using electronic media. Freedom to access hard copies of media.

13145	7/10/2012	The Central library needs to be open until 9:00 for professional people that work during the day, including Fridays. By closing before 8:00, or earlier on Fridays as it has been, it makes the library very unusable for people that cannot get time off during the work day and that have to drive or bus downtown after work. Children and seniors can use the library branches during the day, but people that work and bear most of the tax burden for the use of the library should be able to visit the Central branch later in the day.
13146	7/10/2012	Funding being lost.
13147	7/10/2012	Republicans
13148	7/10/2012	not sure
13149	7/10/2012	Lack of money!
13150	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
13151	7/10/2012	Peak oil & concomitant economic collapse.
13152	7/10/2012	Funding
13153	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding
13154	7/10/2012	budget of course
13155	7/10/2012	Budget Cuts.
13156	7/10/2012	Lack of public funds.
13157	7/10/2012	I do not know.
13158	7/10/2012	Not keeping current with new books, magazines, etc. Lack of funding and community support.
13159	7/10/2012	Privatizing library systems. I think they need to remain funded by local government, not private companies.
13160	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. The Multnomah County library system is one of the most useful services provided by our local government.
13161	7/10/2012	unstable funding sources
13162	7/10/2012	the internet, loss of funding, lack of interest in reading
13163	7/10/2012	Seems like lack of funding is. I think access to books online is a threat. I prefer paper but was given a Kindle. I'll try it.
13164	7/10/2012	Funding...
13165	7/10/2012	That they not be adequately funded in order to provide even the most basic needs of the community. There are many people who cannot afford to go out and buy the resources that are available to them in the library.
13166	7/10/2012	Funding that is tied into tax assessments.
13167	7/10/2012	Cutting back hours and services - it is so easy to use and access - it adds to why so many people use it. Cutting back on staff so that they can no longer help you or put up the wonderful displays - especially in the children's room - that have driven our reading list all these years - I have also started to use the list of suggested books for kids on your web site
13168	7/10/2012	lack of funding

13169	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. Just like the schools.
13170	7/10/2012	Decreased funding, obviously. It bums me out that the lib is closed on Mondays now, but I understand that limiting access to capital necessarily limits the library's activities. Personally, I think this all stems from the rampant anti-intellectualism in our society, as well as the decrease in value placed on books, reading, and the pursuit of knowledge at the expense of dumbed-down electronic media. Oh, and the fact that everyone has to work so many hours now that they don't have time to read as much as they once did--and all the other social ills facing us in the 21st century. The good news is that the library is the antidote!
13171	7/10/2012	Um, Zombies?
13172	7/10/2012	Reduced tax revenue from falling home prices and poor economy. Lack of public interest in funding the library.
13173	7/10/2012	lack of or inconsistent funding
13174	7/10/2012	Funding
13175	7/10/2012	No funding and electronic books.
13176	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13177	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
13178	7/10/2012	The lack of funding
13179	7/10/2012	Funding.
13180	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of community outreach to encourage people of all ages to take advantage of the library system.
13181	7/10/2012	People undervalue the service!
13182	7/10/2012	People not caring. If people stop caring about the libraries, they lose funding.
13183	7/10/2012	Funding, I assume.
13184	7/10/2012	Loss of funding that leads to reduced hours. We have one of the best library systems in the country. It would be a shame to lose it. I don't want to see the library go the way of Tri-Met, which used to be a showcase transportation company.
13185	7/10/2012	Not having enough funding.
13186	7/10/2012	Not enough funding, not enough public awareness of available services through the library.
13187	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13188	7/10/2012	Access for all no matter what income or social status. Lack of Funding for programs.
13189	7/10/2012	The lack of support from all levels of government .
13190	7/10/2012	Funding challenges
13191	7/10/2012	apathy
13192	7/10/2012	portland voters have repeatedly expressed their support for their excellent library system, so i'm not sure why the library has decided to reduce its hours. there are times when my branch library has staff just standing around. i'd rather have fewer staff at a time or have the current number spread over more days.

13193	7/10/2012	People not appreciating them until they are gone. The lack of marketing and outreach. [] []
13194	7/10/2012	Suggest staying in the under $1.00 assessment range and 6 day schedule. With RFID checkout, library staff needs to find more ways to serve more customers within the current headcount. Today they are often idle when I visit. Library partnerships with the schools should be explored.
13195	7/10/2012	That politicians will feel they are not necessary.
13196	7/10/2012	Underfunding - I think participation of the community is high (people use the library, its services and volunteer to help it run). If underfunding and lack of money becomes too much of an issue and services are cut, participation will decline and a vicious cycle will be started. :(
13197	7/10/2012	Electronic takeover in place of personal interaction with actual people- librarians, staff, etc. Further "threats" include loud children's programs (little consideration for other patrons), long-term computer-placement precedence over actual books, under-staffing, and overall impression of libraries as multi-media centers rather than as knowledge repositories and disseminators of same. If people wish to play computer games, they ought not be doing so in libraries.
13198	7/10/2012	People forgetting what a great resource they are and how blessed we are to have access to them so easily.
13199	7/10/2012	Bureaucratic blunders
13200	7/10/2012	The largest threat to local libraries is technology. The expanding media and devices present today for reading, research, etc. renders much of the mission of the library obsolete or at least out-dated.
13201	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13202	7/10/2012	Abuse from users and reduced funding
13203	7/10/2012	zombies
13204	7/10/2012	Health care premiums
13205	7/10/2012	A second ballot measure only a few months apart ...
13206	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13207	7/10/2012	more cuts
13208	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13209	7/10/2012	funding cuts
13210	7/10/2012	I have no idea... is it the funding issue?
13211	7/10/2012	Lack of funding due to idiot voters.
13212	7/10/2012	Not enough people using the library
13213	7/10/2012	homeless people and vagrants hanging around
13214	7/10/2012	The decline of reading in general, especially books; public funding
13215	7/10/2012	Not receiving the funding they need to help the community
13216	7/10/2012	An apathetic, non reading public
13217	7/10/2012	Budget cuts

13218	7/10/2012	Not having the materials that people want and need from their libraries, making attendance go down and support for funding and access go down.
13219	7/10/2012	I was worried when I heard about the 6 d / wk schedule.
13220	7/10/2012	Funding - without funding we have no libraries.
13221	7/10/2012	The anti-tax movement!
13222	7/10/2012	Source for homeless to congregate in, on steps and around
13223	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13224	7/10/2012	People wanting to privatize the library that already functions very well for the public. If people don't use the library they don't see the value it brings to the community in helping to educate and inspire people of all ages.
13225	7/10/2012	Movement to ebook format is more familiar to the rising generation. The mclib ebook connections are far too complex.
13226	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. We've built up an amazingly effective system that serves the community extremely well. The library uses its resources well. We shouldn't endanger a system that works so well for so many people. People who think it is just a place for homeless people to get out of the rain.[] []
13227	7/10/2012	Also electronic resources. Don't do it. Just get books and provide good support. Computer use is nice for the under class o' people, even though I've never used one of them. []
13228	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
13229	7/10/2012	I think people not going or not having access to the resource of the library is most threatening- The more people that use the library on a regular basis, the more they would be willing to increase fun ding/taxes, etc.
13230	7/10/2012	Romney. [] BUT also, funding the library needs to be a TOP priority with local politicians. It is an essential public service.
13231	7/10/2012	It sounds like funding is the largest threat. I've always thought that late fines were impressively small - personally, an increase in late fines would not affect my library usage.
13232	7/10/2012	A poor economy. Budget cuts. Republicans?
13233	7/10/2012	Pitchfork-and-torch mobs, Republicans, unlettered savages, galloping pneumonia, and pinworms. In that order.
13234	7/10/2012	Not having current material and funding. Libraries need to operate on volunteer services or neighborhood associations need to help take care of them. Think outside the box when it comes time to funding them, maintaining them and operating them.
13235	7/10/2012	I would happily pay more taxes to keep our libraries open and staffed. I have no idea what the biggest threat may be.

13236	7/10/2012	Not moving quickly enough into e-books.
13237	7/10/2012	Limiting access to information for all generations.
13238	7/10/2012	Underfunding. I am upset that although the library levy passed, the branches are now closed on Mondays! Ask for enough to run it right.
13239	7/10/2012	not enough money
13240	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
13241	7/10/2012	I don't know, lack of funding?
13242	7/10/2012	Funding
13243	7/10/2012	Inadequate financing.
13244	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13245	7/10/2012	Closure many days during the week
13246	7/10/2012	I hope the libraries all stay open
13247	7/10/2012	Reduced hours. Also they aren't the most comfortable places to actually be. I don't think I'd ever actually sit and read at the library. Cut in programs, child story time, adult book groups.
13248	7/10/2012	Obviously funding.
13249	7/10/2012	funding and program awareness
13250	7/10/2012	Lack of money.[]
13251	7/10/2012	People treating library materials poorly.
13251	7/10/2012	uneducated citizens proud of their ignorance
13252	7/10/2012	Not enough resources.
13253	7/10/2012	Underfunding.
13254	7/10/2012	over spending
13255	7/10/2012	Ignorance about libraries' importance that can lead to poor funding and reduced service.
13256	7/10/2012	funding
13257	7/10/2012	Funding
13258	7/10/2012	The only threat I can see is lack of use. But I do not see that happening anytime soon.
13259	7/10/2012	The use of the computers should be restricted to non research sites. You do not need facebook or full internet access. These are misused. Also games should NOT be on there. I do not want to pay for games on the computers.
13260	7/10/2012	People not using the libraries due to their own internet and kindle usage not realizing how important the library is to those not in the same economic bracket, in other words casting their vote against the poor or another way to look at it is that our society would suffer greatly from the lack of education that the library affords to those who have very limited financial resources. The library encourages good citizenship too as well as provides a place to gather and to learn.
13261	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. Our neighborhood libraries are a very valuable resource to a community. The library provides a place for ALL to gather.
13262	7/10/2012	Funding cuts. Not being relevant to a section of the population.

13263	7/10/2012	Lack of forward funding. Insufficient funding.[] []
13264	7/10/2012	Inadequate marketing of services overall that could improve chances of increased library funding to the county.[] [] I think the public needs to hear MORE about our great library system, what it can do for them in their daily lives, and why it is so important to provide consistent and adequate funding.
13265	7/10/2012	Intolerance, hatred, ignorance and divisiveness There are many, mostly about placing their emphasis in the wrong places. I think they are spending too much time and effort chasing bestsellers and not enough on cultivating a true life of the mind in the community, making themselves distinctive from Amazon or Powells and giving these buildings a renewed purpose, not just book warehouses. I would also cut funding for School Corps. This is work that should be done inside Portland Public Schools, but they have largely dismantled their school libraries because they can get this service through the county. I think too much emphasis is placed on having staff who speak Chinese, Russian, Vietnamese, Spanish, etc. Immigrants want to learn English and get good jobs, and it's far better to have more professional staff who are sensitive to cultural needs than less professional staff who happen to speak another language. I would add social workers to the mix at some locations, because the homeless issue should be faced, not chased away with behavior policies. I would also find a way to make summer reading programs about intrinsic reward, not "paying" kids to read with prizes. I'm opposed to the 0-3 movement that's so embraced by Multnomah County Libraries--it's simply not true that someone's future is largely set in those first three years. Way too much emphasis is placed on youth services at Multnomah County. This county does not have a large and growing youth population--adults
13266	7/10/2012	funding
13267	7/10/2012
13268	7/10/2012	FUNDING, duh. I don't think you need to lend as many popular movies. Those are a luxury--leave it to Netflix.
13269	7/10/2012	Cutting funding.
13270	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and people being uninformed about all the amazing services public libraries provide.
13271	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
13272	7/10/2012	Funding
13273	7/10/2012	Idiots who see them as a socialist evil.
13274	7/10/2012	Eliminating books. Going to electronic format.
13275	7/10/2012	A lack of appreciation for the services and the value that libraries provide for our community; short-sightedness in the allocation of funds.
13276	7/10/2012	I guess there is a lack of funding even though many people use the libraries. I am worried about less open days so that it's harder to get there outside of normal work hours.
13277	7/10/2012	lack of funding

13278	7/10/2012	imagining that we need this many books. It doesn't matter if I wait two weeks for a novel or three months. It's wonderful whenever it comes.
13279	7/10/2012	The idea that they are not needed.
13280	7/10/2012	misappropriation of taxpayers funds...
13281	7/10/2012	1. Budget problems 2. Electronic reading devices 3. Children who are not encouraged to read
13282	7/10/2012	Obama.
13283	7/10/2012	Limited access for people who are trying to find work in this recessed economy and diminishing programs for young children learning to read.
13284	7/10/2012	Probably funding. I just wrote to my representative urging him to let the Bush tax cuts expire. All of them.
13285	7/10/2012	lack of access means those who rely on the library and the wide variety of free and easy to use resources (job seekers, families with young children, elderly, low income families, etc) will miss out on important educational opportunities, internet access, and community building and support.
13286	7/10/2012	Funding and the current tax system.
13287	7/10/2012	I don't really know I think libraries serve as public utility in learning and information.
13288	7/10/2012	I have stopped using, but fully support the library since it ensures minimal access to information. Every day matters less to me than being still open with materials and programs to help.
13289	7/10/2012	Poor funding and the reputation that only homeless people use the library. Also, e-books could be seen as a threat, but that can be mitigated by offering more access to e-books and informing people on how they can take advantage of free e-book check-out. Number 5 did not work for me, so I have ordered my choices below 1.) Full hours 7 days a week 2.) Current Materials 3.) Programs for children 4.) Programs for senior citizens 5.) programs and resources for job seekers, small business owners, etc. 6.) all branches open at least 6 days a week
13290	7/10/2012
13291	7/10/2012	I'm not sure what this question means. I guess budget cuts and lack of financial support from outside sources.
13292	7/10/2012	The biggest asset the library has is goodwill: We love our libraries, and we use them. The biggest threat is fracturing of the support base, e.g. playing groups against the other (e.g. children vs seniors), whittling away hours in such a way that access is drastically limited for those who cannot make it to the library before 5pm or who work into the early evening.

13293	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
13294	7/10/2012	??
13295	7/10/2012	$$$$$$
13296	7/10/2012	Politicians threatening to cut funding! Secondly, library users who don't speak up to save the library because they don't realize the severity of the threat.
13297	7/10/2012	Cost for wages and benefits and retirement Yikes!
13298	7/10/2012	Cloud
13299	7/10/2012	Not enough funds.
13300	7/10/2012	Electronic media
13301	7/10/2012	Lack of funding! Homeless in bathrooms...
13302	7/10/2012	funding
13303	7/10/2012	Republicans
13304	7/10/2012	kids not reading anymore
13305	7/10/2012	Ebooks
13306	7/10/2012	Budget cuts
13307	7/10/2012	funding
13308	7/10/2012	Funding levels. I believe that the support for the libraries is present among the community, it is just a matter of separating it and creating its own financial situation.
13309	7/10/2012	Anti-tax sentiment
13310	7/10/2012	Lack of funding reducing hours and staff
13311	7/10/2012	Consistent, stable funding.
13312	7/10/2012	Not enough people taking advantage of them (and instead buying books and e-books) and them having to shut down to lack of use.
13313	7/10/2012	no stable source of funding
13314	7/10/2012	Inadequate and variable funding.
13315	7/10/2012	Funding
13316	7/10/2012	Trying to do too much. The library should be a simple resource for the community. It is not a vital service for a majority of the population, and should not be treated as such. However it is a nice resource to have. Increasing taxes on homeowners to increase services is not the solution. Closing libraries one or two days a week or decreasing hours would be a preferable alternative to raising taxes.
13317	7/10/2012	Good question
13318	7/10/2012	not enough funding
13319	7/10/2012	Easy home access to online books and other information Funding - or rather lack of funding.
13320	7/10/2012	closure
13321	7/10/2012	Space?

13322	7/10/2012	Funding. [] [] I think open 4-5 days/week is sufficient. Track busiest days & hours & that's when you open.
13323	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13324	7/10/2012	The biggest threat is people not understanding the importance of the materials, literacy, and programs that are offered to the community via the library
13325	7/10/2012	Kindle
13326	7/10/2012	not enough funding
13327	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13328	7/10/2012	keeping up with technology
13329	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13330	7/10/2012	funding
13331	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13332	7/10/2012	Not enough money to keep them going. I'd definitely pay to use the system. Portland has one of the best library systems out there.
13333	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13334	7/10/2012	Tax cutting idiots who don't know a good thing when they see it.
13335	7/10/2012	Unemployment. People need to have enough money so they can vote for library levies.
13336	7/10/2012	Budget cuts, lack of support from the government
13337	7/10/2012	over extending their function. libraries should be libraries without so much of a reach for external programs and events. I rarely make use of the library because the catalog is so sorely lacking
13338	7/10/2012	Declining use due to internet access, tablets and apps
13339	7/10/2012	I have no idea.
13340	7/10/2012	Apparently it's lack of funding, unfortunately. I think you guys are doing a great job otherwise.
13341	7/10/2012	Closure.
13342	7/10/2012	Not having enough funding.
13343	7/10/2012	Many people are opting to read purchased books on computers and readers.
13344	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, archaic positions on copyright and digital rights management, and a political mindset that thinks there should be zero public funding for such things as libraries (and parks and schools and...)
13345	7/10/2012	The recession/depression, and related cost increases while funding decreases, or at least increases much more slowly....
13346	7/10/2012	The increase in costs, the loss of tax revenues and other funding sources, as well as short-term thinking, not realizing that as people need to cut more and more corners in their own budgets they will rely more and more on the public libraries.
13347	7/10/2012	Apathy. Really it all comes down to wealth inequality - which actually means corporations stealing our wealth and rich people not paying their fair share...

13348	7/10/2012	Possible inability to provide new materials of all kinds for borrowing because of insufficient funding.
13349	7/10/2012	Not having the money for books. No being able to have the library everyday.
13350	7/10/2012	Funding.
13351	7/10/2012	Lack of funding!
13352	7/10/2012	Citizens not recognizing them as the community asset that they are.
13353	7/10/2012	Under-funding causing materials to be less vast and hours to be less convenient for everyone.
13354	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13355	7/10/2012	Closure!
13356	7/10/2012	Lack of support and money.
13357	7/10/2012	Apathy.
13358	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13359	7/10/2012	Less funding.
13360	7/10/2012	City hall
13361	7/10/2012	new technology that makes libraries less relevant to citizens. I appreciate the library offering online holds and ebooks
13362	7/10/2012	The public not using it.
13363	7/10/2012	lack of public funding
13364	7/10/2012	Lack of funding priorities
13365	7/10/2012	Keeping up with current material.
13366	7/10/2012	Not having enough programs for TEENAGERS. I can't believe that's not even on the list above.
13367	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and other resources.
13368	7/10/2012	lack of materials and availability
13369	7/10/2012	Negotiating compensation for employees. Personel makes the library but poor negotiation has led to far to much deferred compensation.
13370	7/10/2012	losing anything! i don't want to see any of it go! its such an important aspect of community!
13371	7/10/2012	Infrequent use, people using the space for sleep or shelter only.
13372	7/10/2012	Politicians, particularly Repulsivecans
13373	7/10/2012	Bad management? Federal suits? I have no knowledge of any current threats, other than general budgetary woes.
13374	7/10/2012	silver fish
13375	7/10/2012	Apparently, funding. Usage doesn't appear to be a problem, as the downtown branch i frequent is busy from open to close Increased community awareness of its offerings, particularly in economically challenging times, is always a good thing.
13376	7/10/2012	Funding during an economic recession. Ironically, this is exactly when we need libraries most.
13377	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13378	7/10/2012	Funding, censorship
13379	7/10/2012	A lack of funding oversight. We need to make sure ALL public funding is used wisely.

13380	7/10/2012	Obscene amounts of tax dollars being wasted on wasteful and antiquated pension systems and unions. The systems built to support you are broken.
13381	7/10/2012	inefficient bureaucracy
13382	7/10/2012	Lack of funding,it seems. :(
13383	7/10/2012	I am concerned that the electronic age will eventually replace local libraries which I feel will be a detriment to young and older readers.
13384	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13385	7/10/2012	causing people to not be able to educate themselves
13386	7/10/2012	Arsonists. Libertarians. You're in trouble because a housing bubble burst and triggered a depression, not because some discrete menace is out there.
13387	7/10/2012	Insufficient tax base to support it along with all the other entities that rely on the same income source. At base, we need to repeal the tax-suppression legislation and refunds of tax over-payments, crediting those to the taxpayers' taxes for the following year.
13388	7/10/2012	Funding
13389	7/10/2012	Appears to be funding.[] But increasing funding through property taxes IS TOO TAXING on the homeowner and business property owner.[] This may seem tacky, but perhaps a jar on the counter for additional donations, fund-raisers to support general operations.[] If there is not a link for donating to the "general fund", or other special funds, on website perhaps add one should be added.
13390	7/10/2012	Plutocrats carving more from the common weal.
13391	7/10/2012	lack of funding evidently
13392	7/10/2012	It seems that it would be funding!! I certainly think the need is real, and people use the libraries, so just like our other public services homeowners must be willing to pay for the service through the levy! I am!!
13393	7/10/2012	closure
13394	7/10/2012	Taxing us too much so we don't vote for any levy.
13395	7/10/2012	Trying to keep them open all the time at the expense of other programs
13396	7/10/2012	Unknown.
13397	7/10/2012	funding
13398	7/10/2012	Public support
13399	7/10/2012	property tax fatigue - I love the library but even I choke a bit when I calculate how much every Multco resident spends every year on the service. we get our money's worth, but there are plenty of people paying hundreds of dollars every year to support a service they don't use. it's important to foster a sense of community pride in supporting an excellent library system, but also making sure we don't alienate potential supporters.

13400	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13401	7/10/2012	inflation
13402	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and resources.
13403	7/10/2012	Too much administration, not enough service. People will stop paying/voting if it doesn't work for them or becomes too costly.
13404	7/10/2012	Budget - no constant source of income - subject to the variations of the economy
13405	7/10/2012	????? Lack of funding?
13406	7/10/2012	Difficult funding environment, diversification and digitizing of resource materials, periodicals and shift in media culture to an online environment. Decreased demand for physical books and media and increased access to technology. Reinventing the physical library to fit the needs of society in the 21st century.
13407	7/10/2012	Loss of funding.
13408	7/10/2012	Theft and vandalism.
13409	7/10/2012	Unstable funding.
13410	7/10/2012	Gradually eroding relevance if it remains useful mainly as a store of books. Could also expand into tool-lending and other useful community goods, and continued shared access to digital resources is essential.
13411	7/10/2012	LACK OF FUNDING. Competing funding because of property tax limitation laws. Every time a library levy, or any other levy, is passed, because of compression all other funding is reduced. Funding is reduced for the schools, city, county, ESD, FPD&R, and so forth.
13412	7/10/2012	This is why, even though I greatly love libraries, I voted against the most recent library levy. Passing it will reduce funding for Portland Public Schools. It's nuts, but that's how it is ever since the voters unwisely passed the property tax limitation measure.
13413	7/10/2012	The only threat I see is lack of funding, what other threats are there?
13414	7/10/2012	Unstable funding. Our neighborhood relies on the library, but with closures and reduced hours, it will become a scarcer resource. I would pay more in taxes to have the library returned to full service.
13415	7/10/2012	The fading of a sense of commonwealth. Lack of willingness to invest in public services. Unwillingness of citizens to tax ourselves to provide for each other.
13416	7/10/2012	The internet and electronic media are the biggest threat to libraries. Books are becoming exceedingly underused resources, especially after childhood. Libraries need to stay more connected with technological resources to continue as a viable route.
13417	7/10/2012	Lack of funding is the biggest threat to the library system. Without adequate funds we can't have all of the amazing programs we want, or if we have them all they will merely be skeletons of what they should be. In that case they'll serve some people, though not very well, which sort of defeats the purpose entirely.
13418	7/10/2012	Fire.
13419	7/10/2012	funding and closures

13420	7/10/2012	e-readers!!
13421	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13422	7/10/2012	budget cuts
13423	7/10/2012	Funding
13424	7/10/2012	Shortsighted anti gov't conservative hegemony
13425	7/10/2012	Funding
13426	7/10/2012	I am sure it is lack of money
13427	7/10/2012	Loss of funding
13428	7/10/2012	funding
13429	7/10/2012	I suppose lack of funding...
13430	7/10/2012	The perception that libraries aren't as useful as they used to be because 'you can find everything you need on the internet.' Also DRM licensing issues for new content.
13431	7/10/2012	The status quo - we need the stable funding promised by a library district!
13432	7/10/2012	Lack of leadership by Chair Cogen. If the library had strong support from the Chair, the district wouldn't be a question. Despite the Chair's past statements that he supports a district, he seems to be backing away from that commitment.
13433	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
13434	7/10/2012	Poor leadership and lack of proper funding.
13435	7/10/2012	becoming outdated
13436	7/10/2012	Perceived irrelevance. People rely less on it since they are using more ebooks and internet, but many people don't know that you can get ebooks from the library, too.
13437	7/10/2012	lack of funding...I am so disappointed that we as an affluent culture have to continually fight the very things that define our freedoms. Libraries are essential to the development of our communities as well as our nation. Without access to education, learning, community support...what are we?
13438	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
13439	7/10/2012	Mission creep. Too many new ideas are expensive. Just keep it simple. I can't afford to stay in my home if property taxes continue to rise every year. Pass a sales tax and tax the rich!
13440	7/10/2012	Sounds like budgets are the main concern if you are considering reducing days open. i would be open to 6 days, if both weekend days are still available, as that is when i am free to visit the library.
13441	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is voters who don't understand the resources that the library provides beyond just checking out books. The library is a safe and public forum for learning, education and improvement of self, and not a "free version of Barnes&Noble."
13442	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. the use of our libraries is extremely high so it's important to keep the facility open with quality staff and current materials.

13443	7/10/2012	Selfishness. Many people with money don't need libraries for themselves (they already have or can buy computers, jobs, books, etc.), and don't feel any obligation to fund libraries. Sadly, for many these days what is important is, "Me, me, me!", rather than community/civic "responsibility". I might note that I use the library infrequently and have funds for computers, books, etc.. The rankings I gave for "most important" are based on my _use_. I have no children so programs for the young are not important to me _personally_. On the other hand, they _are_ an important justification for me with regards to library funding.
13444	7/10/2012	closure
13445	7/10/2012	Publishers not allowing libraries to lend ebooks thus making libraries seem out of date and unappealing.
13446	7/10/2012	Loud little children and obsolescence in an age where digital materials are so cheap everyone can afford them.
13447	7/10/2012	Not enough funding!
13448	7/10/2012	Economy
13449	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. People not caring anymore. People with home computer access forgetting about those that so desperately needing it that don't have it at home. Easy to forget about those that need things that we take for granted.
13450	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13451	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
13452	7/10/2012	I'm not sure
13453	7/10/2012	People don't need/use them anymore with the availability of online information and ebooks. We need to rethink libraries as a place to gather and think and be, not just a place to get books.
13454	7/10/2012	small-mindedness
13455	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13456	7/10/2012	Portland citizens not recognizing the value of a strong public library system.
13457	7/10/2012	PERS
13458	7/10/2012	NOTE-- this portion of the survey is not working; I cannot rank anything. Once clicked it numbers accordingly and does not allow the numbers to be put in as I want them.
13459	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13460	7/10/2012	Funding being cut.
13461	7/10/2012	People who read go to Powell's or download books instead because books are no longer important at branch libraries.
13462	7/10/2012	Access and hours
13463	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13464	7/10/2012	Community members not using it enough or at all.
13465	7/10/2012	funding issues

13466	7/10/2012	Reducing hours of operation and staff. Poor management of county money and bad decisions by county officials.
13467	7/10/2012	Electronic technology.
13468	7/10/2012	Same as everything publicly funded. The push to privatize, and unwillingness of citizens to pay taxes even if the taxes benefit them.
13469	7/10/2012	People losing sight of the real value that these libraries bring to our communities and choosing to cut funding in favor of what keeps an extra dollar or two in their own pocket.
13470	7/10/2012	A lack of realizing how important the public library is leading to potential budget cuts.
13471	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. If the libraries are not able to keep up to date with the latest technology, media, and resources, then it will become obsolete.
13472	7/10/2012	Apathy, disinterest, an unwillingness to fairly-graduate the property tax rate to make the richest among us fund their fair share of necessary public infrastructure. New broad-scale taxation is an inequitable solution even given a perhaps-disproportionate consumption of library services by the poor.
13473	7/10/2012	People who want to privatize public libraries. Bad economy the shuts out public services.
13474	7/10/2012	I don't know where libraries get most of their funding, but the ease of electronic purchases will likely distract people from checking out/renting books and other publications.
13475	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13476	7/10/2012	Funding
13477	7/10/2012	The economy.
13478	7/10/2012	underfunding
13479	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13480	7/10/2012	I'm not sure.
13481	7/10/2012	Cutting back staff and hours.
13482	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, declining interest in reading
13483	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
13484	7/10/2012	Funding.
13485	7/10/2012	Lack of consistent, dependable funding (much like our schools).
13486	7/10/2012	funding, I'm sure.
13487	7/10/2012	under funding
13488	7/10/2012	Decreased funding levels.
13489	7/10/2012	Lack of resources or staff
13490	7/10/2012	Misuse
13491	7/10/2012	risk of losing funding
13492	7/10/2012	Funding cuts

13493	7/10/2012	We need stable funding for the library. Homeowners, no matter how supportive of the library system, are going to get tired of getting the bill for libraries attached to their tax bill every time we turn arounds. I'm liberal, I make good money, but man am I tired of adding another dollar or two per $1000 to my tax bill. STABLE FUNDING is needed. Add a sales tax to luxury items and give it to the libraries, anything, but adding more to my property tax.
13494	7/10/2012	Lack of comprehensive funding mechanism
13495	7/10/2012	trying to use the library as a "one size fits all" solution for various social services. the library should be focuses on availability of current material and programs directly related to reading. it does not need to be a place where someone can hop on a computer and surf the internet all day under the guise of job searching. it does not need to be a place for tutoring and ESL programs. focus on basic services and having all neighborhood branches open 5 days a week. the library does not need to be open on weekends, let the librarians have lives too.
13496	7/10/2012	Increasing property taxes to fund. Everyone that resides in multnomah county should pay regardless of whether they own property or not.
13497	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13498	7/10/2012	People thinking they can steal books, videos etc... because the librarians EXCUSE fees & fines...AND to many free programs... when did the LIBRARY become a HELP center ..stories for BABIES???let MOM read to them grrrrrr
13499	7/10/2012	Funding
13500	7/10/2012	I have no idea. Probably lack of funding?
13501	7/10/2012	funding
13502	7/10/2012	funding would be my guess
13503	7/10/2012	Funding shortfall, apparently
13504	7/10/2012	funding
13505	7/10/2012	lack of funding, equating close libraries/severe lack of resources.
13506	7/10/2012	Lack of funds
13507	7/10/2012	Hours being so curtailed that people cannot use them when they have the time to do so.
13508	7/10/2012	Lack of funds to pay for the services people want.
13509	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13510	7/10/2012	Funding cuts. More people need to read!
13511	7/10/2012	Closure of any library location. It is crucial to have convenient educational resources in every community so that everyone has the opportunity to grow as an individual.
13512	7/10/2012	It's important to me that people who work 9-5 still have access to the library system
13513	7/10/2012	homeless people using it as a place to get warm or clean up
13514	7/10/2012	Funds for new book acquisition and adopting to new technologies
13515	7/10/2012	underfunding.
13516	7/10/2012	The internet. Slow Wi-Fi.

13517	7/10/2012	Funding
13518	7/10/2012	people in control of local monies not caring about how much people count on the one thing[]
13519	7/10/2012	that hasn't been taken away from the middle class
13520	7/10/2012	County funding misuse leading to loss of library hours.
13521	7/10/2012	A lack of understanding about funding. More importantly, libraries are one of the only public commons spaces open to the community. Limited access also impacts services to the poor & homeless. Everything is interconnected. Question #5 on this electronic survey has a bug...(the automatic reordering doesn't work).[] [] Biggest threat to our library are small minded republican budget cutters.
13522	7/10/2012	Electronic media/versions of books and redundancy of programs with other schools/institutions. The libraries really should embrace digital resources fully, but unfortunately it doesn't require a physical branch to access those resources. Also, these resources are great for the home-bound, elderly (can change font size on all readers/computer screens), as well as students and job seekers who are likely to do things from home or other remote locations. As a student I never found the library a conducive place to study (odd, I know!).
13523	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of understanding concerning the value that a library brings to a community. As libraries provide the most direct benefit to the poorest and most vulnerable in our society (internet access, help for English language learners, etc.), the people that influence the decision makers are far less likely to be affected by cutbacks in library funding.
13524	7/10/2012	Funding.
13525	7/10/2012	lack of funds
13526	7/10/2012	Not enough funding
13527	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13528	7/10/2012	funding!
13529	7/10/2012	budget cuts
13530	7/10/2012	?
13531	7/10/2012	electronic books? Lack of funding. []
13532	7/10/2012	[] We want libraries open and available the maximum number of hours possible!
13533	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13534	7/10/2012	Electronic media
13535	7/10/2012	Money, or the lack thereof.
13536	7/10/2012	Funding
13537	7/10/2012	not enough funding to keep open as much as possible and have a large assortment of books
13538	7/10/2012	Ignorance

13539	7/10/2012	This economy, non-readers, MONSTERS!
13540	7/10/2012	Lack of funding for employees and new materials
13541	7/10/2012	Taxpayers not funding them. They should also be funded through the state
13542	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
13543	7/10/2012	e-books and the new low cost e-readers on market
13544	7/10/2012	Funding
13545	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I imagine, and the popularity of electronic readers
13546	7/10/2012	Again, what is the intent of this question? Why are people not using the library? Maybe because of our public school system. Funding, always. As the owner of two homes I take a large hit in taxes to be able to support the library. It's vital for a thriving city. But not everyone sees it this way and with a stretched economy and many of us upside down in homes, it becomes challenging to remember that it is our responsibility to provide services for all.
13547	7/10/2012
13548	7/10/2012	The closing of branches. The Gregory Heights Library branch is relatively small, but again, it's critical for our community. The resources that are available there are important for everyone, regardless of age, ethnicity, etc.
13549	7/10/2012	Voters who don't comprehend the value of libraries to the entire community (see above: programs for young and old, jobseekers, those interested in lifelong learning, those without home internet access...I could continue...)
13550	7/10/2012	Perception of reduced or no need leading to reduction of staff, programming, and acquisition: that is, line items axed from budget because those items don't seem used, or appear to be underutilized. It's the "underutilized" items that are, often, what makes/breaks a local library system: ours is fabulous because of things like the classes -- I don't use them, never have, probably never will, but what a resource for those who do -- or search engines -- I use them for work and personal business, though I bet many library goers never will, etc.
13551	7/10/2012	under utilization and lack of current resources and materials
13552	7/10/2012	Underfunding and apathy towards education.[]
13553	7/10/2012	Also, fires. money
13554	7/10/2012	I believe the transition to a computer culture has put libraries in a perilous position of being outdated. The library remains a terrific resource, but it will need to continue to evolve by supplying electronic access to its materials.
13555	7/10/2012	Nothing
13556	7/10/2012	If they're not open everyday, people might lose their habit of using them.

13557	7/10/2012	Misguided library spending... periodicals that aren't used often. Not enough high demand materials available (like dvds and best sellers) which cause people to say "I'll just buy it at Powells rather than wait 6 months to get it at the library. Excessive administration. Unfriendly librarians that deter people from thinking "This is my library."
13558	7/10/2012	Not enough funding and vandalism. Late returns
13559	7/10/2012	I don't know
13560	7/10/2012	budget
13561	7/10/2012	loss of funding i would guess
13562	7/10/2012	Funding?
13563	7/10/2012	funding
13564	7/10/2012	Everything moving to digital media
13565	7/10/2012	Funding shortfalls
13566	7/10/2012	Wasteful spending.
13567	7/10/2012	Digital media being overly used.
13568	7/10/2012	Underfunding. eReaders? [] []
13569	7/10/2012	Funding cuts?[] [] I'm not sure, but I do worry that libraries will someday become a thing of the past. I heart libraries!
13570	7/10/2012	People who are afraid of Socialism.
13571	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
13572	7/10/2012	Republicans and idiots.
13573	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13574	7/10/2012	Loss of funding and people in our community suffering from it.
13575	7/10/2012	Cuts in funding...the library is one of the most valuable and important public resources in our society, and I would be happy to pay more taxes to be able to use it more often and make it available to everyone!
13576	7/10/2012	People who don't believe paying taxes are important.
13577	7/10/2012	Younger people not using the library system. People not being aware of the incredible resource we have in them. I should know this--I barely used the library until I had
13578	7/10/2012	a kid. Now we go there regularly. My use really increased once I figured out how to use the online system to reserve books That made a huge difference.
13579	7/10/2012	Republicans
13580	7/10/2012	No access.
13581	7/10/2012	Funding problems are the biggest threat to our libraries.
13582	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, citizens who don't care about access to information, privatization

13583	7/10/2012	Miss-spent money.
13584	7/10/2012	Online resources as well as lack of funding. I think more digital media ie being allowed to check out e books would help reduce costs and still serve as many if not more people. There are ways for things to become more automated as such.
13585	7/10/2012	Buildings full of valuable material out of reach of the citizens that support it due to reduced funding/hours.
13586	7/10/2012	Rising costs/falling revenues. Transitioning from physical collection to digital collection and having to maintain both.
13587	7/10/2012	Apathy and subsequent lack of funding. People-government and voters, not realizing what a vital tool for freedom, education, and long term happiness having a library provides to our communities, especially our seniors and youth. Reduced hours due to lack of funds and support means people will stop coming/become frustrated and that will lessen support even more. Like our schools, libraries should be receiving the lions share of state funding, and sadly are not. Education about our libraries and services and accessible hours are needed.
13588	7/10/2012	Taxpayers taking our system for granted and let inventory and services deteriorate due to lack of funding.
13589	7/10/2012	funding
13590	7/10/2012	Frickin' idjits who don't understand austerity measures don't work and taxes aren't personal affronts to their dignity.
13591	7/10/2012	funding
13592	7/10/2012	Technology and lack of community.
13593	7/10/2012	We need extra money to keep them functioning.
13594	7/10/2012	Loosing additional hours of operation.
13595	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of understanding of the importance of libraries and education in general to thriving communities and citizens
13596	7/10/2012	ignorance
13597	7/10/2012	That the county isn't funding them with county general funds. This piece-meal funding of various county programs is bad public policy. The county ought to fund all operations out of its funds and more clearly explain to the voters what funds are needed and why.
13598	7/10/2012	Ignorant voters! There should be government mandated funds (federal AND state/local) to ensure libraries across the country stay open and have access for all.
13599	7/10/2012	Online media and file sharing
13600	7/10/2012	Not being open
13601	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13602	7/10/2012	Not enough money. I am paid minimum wage and would gladly pay $60+ a year to use the library. It is my only source of books and movies and computers. I hate the rich.

13603	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. It would be such a shame to further limit the capacity and reach of this system. This library system is the best in which I've ever participated and I've lived in many places.
13604	7/10/2012	loss of funding resulting in loss of resources for communities.
13605	7/10/2012	That they will be closed down. I do not want to see this happen!!!
13606	7/10/2012	It appears lack of funding is the biggest threat
13607	7/10/2012	lack of consistent funding.
13608	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat to libraries is cutting services and closing libraries. If the libraries have to cut one day a week, I think that is a reasonable solution. When I lived in Seattle, libraries were open 6 days a week. I was very surprised, when moving to Portland, that libraries were open 7 days a week. I think cutting down to six days is a great way to stay within budget and not cut services or close libraries. Almost everything in Portland is closed on Monday....why not libraries.
13609	7/10/2012	The library system seems to run like a well-oiled machine. I think a loss of customer service would be a terrible threat - I have not perceived one yet but it seems like if there was not enough money, there would not be enough people, which would result in it not running as smoothly.
13610	7/10/2012	Not enough resources to compensate for demand/ space to store the resources.
13611	7/10/2012	Loss of hours and staff to fully operate library and it's most well used area branches.
13612	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, of course.
13613	7/10/2012	Not enough funding to provide all the services now existing
13614	7/10/2012	Not having enough money or recourses to stay open 7 days a week. Libraries should be open 7 days a week, because there are some kids who can't check out books, but still go to learn how to read or keep up with their reading. And not being open 7 days a week during the school year could hinder children and teens who can't afford a computer to do homework. There will be a loss of respect for the Library system.
13615	7/10/2012	Operating at 6 days a week.
13616	7/10/2012	Not having enough new books!
13617	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13618	7/10/2012	money
13619	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of interest from those people who don't utilize the library.
13620	7/10/2012	Funding cuts
13621	7/10/2012	People not understanding all of the resources and services the library provides.
13622	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
13623	7/10/2012	No funding - Closing
13624	7/10/2012	Don't know
13625	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and changing media
13626	7/10/2012	Loss of funding; I think Portland has a wonderful and highly utilized library system that is easy to navigate. It would be a shame for budget reductions to negatively impact the ease with which one can access the library online and in person.

13627	7/10/2012	funding
13628	7/10/2012	Taxes too high given the current economy.
13629	7/10/2012	no money!
13630	7/10/2012	Funding cuts. The library I go to is a great resource for our lower income neighbors who have limited access to the internet and books at home. If funding is cut it is a slippery slope that doesn't allow children or adults the opportunity to further their literacy skills, or access to the big wide world. It saddens me that the libraries are only open six days a week and for limited hours but it frightens me that they may be closed even more. There is already limited access to such knowledge and wonder, I fear the consequences if it gets worse.
13631	7/10/2012	bookworms
13632	7/10/2012	I imagine it is having to pass tax/levy increases at the ballot box, but, I would hope you would know better than me.
13633	7/10/2012	the internet
13634	7/10/2012	Ignorant people who vote for greedy politicians who value low taxes over everything else.
13635	7/10/2012	failure of the public to see the value of the library, with resulting lack of support. [] the library system needs to get behind a good PR/advertising program to explain its importance to the community. seriously ... if i'm just another library non-user, why would i vote for my taxes to be raised?[] the library system needs to answer the basic question ... what's in it for me? ... for everyone. the answer is not self-evident, as i'm afraid many in the library system would believe.
13636	7/10/2012	Funding and staff
13637	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to provide e-books and updated learning materials and books for children
13638	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
13639	7/10/2012	Compression
13640	7/10/2012	Reduced funding. It is impossible to raise our standard of living as a society without providing citizens with every possible opportunity for them to educate themselves.
13641	7/10/2012	lack of funding along with the internet
13642	7/10/2012	Parents not getting kids involved in reading
13643	7/10/2012	Budget cuts.
13644	7/10/2012	I feel the biggest threat is the use of electronics and how this is replacing people going to the library.
13645	7/10/2012	well based on the recent cutbacks in hours and staff it would certainly seem to be funding.
13646	7/10/2012	Funding and how the available funds are used.
13647	7/10/2012	None
13648	7/10/2012	The lack of understanding in the general population about the connection between services and taxes.
13649	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13650	7/10/2012	Not having paper books.

13651	7/10/2012	Not enough access.
13652	7/10/2012	cuts infunding.....adequate funding.
13653	7/10/2012	lack of funding i suppose and that people won't care.
13654	7/10/2012	republicans
13655	7/10/2012	People's increasingly selfish attitude and the assault on both taxes and anything deemed a "public good" by politicians. Basically a lot of us have forgotten why the library is important.
13656	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. Republicans.
13657	7/10/2012	We need new materials like books, cds, dvds, magazines for kids and adult, computer with internet accesses for those whc needs, and library opens enough hours for people who work and pay the taxes to use the library after work hours
13658	7/10/2012	Sadly, Tea Party types who want to defund everything and anything. The attitude toward the library should be one of reverence, and this feeling has really corroded over the years. Libraries are a place for learning, exploring, and improvement. Not only that, it's a positive place for leisure. For every kid or young person unsupervised or getting into trouble in the community, there's a kid who is avoiding all of that by spending time at the library. Libraries should not be devalued in the media or in politics. They are a direct indicator of a culture's intellectual and artistic well-being.
13659	7/10/2012	Cuts in funding. It's a valuable resource that is easy to overlook. Libraries are too essential to be considered a privilege; they're a necessity. [] The other thing I would say is awareness and a general ambivalence. Love to see programs that engage readers and non-readers alike. Libraries are not just books, and that's a message that needs to be spread.
13660	7/10/2012	lack of funds[] too much talking in the library
13661	7/10/2012	There shouldn't be any threat to our local libraries. Seems like the voting public overwhelmingly supported the recent bond measure. I'm a home owner and I not only supported the bond measure but I donate to the library every year.
13662	7/10/2012	I'm not knowledgeable enough on this subject but I would like to mention that not providing reasonable operation hours for our local libraries in order for the public to make the most out of their library experience would be unfortunate.
13663	7/10/2012	From what you indicate, apparently FUNDING ![] i would add general dis-interest on the part of younger generation, as they do not fully understand [] how the library is funded, nor it's vital importance to the communities interest and health. [] That message, of the library's, any library's, legacy of influence and sustaining of citizen [] information and news should be made a watchword for every student.
13664	7/10/2012	anti-tax sentiment by philistines.
13665	7/10/2012	People being too cheap to want to fund them.

13666	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.
13667	7/10/2012	reduced hours!!!
13668	7/10/2012	N/A
13669	7/10/2012	E-books, the internet.
13670	7/10/2012	Not sure.
13671	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13672	7/10/2012	funding
13673	7/10/2012	Budget cuts. Republicans.
13674	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13675	7/10/2012	People who use it for daily Internet access, you should charge a user fee,
13676	7/10/2012	I'm guessing lack of money, but I realize I am rather ill informed on the subject.
13677	7/10/2012	Budget issues.
13678	7/10/2012	Religious fundamentalists attempting to censor materials.
13679	7/10/2012	Keeping technology and resources current for those who do not have personal access i.e. computers, etc.
13680	7/10/2012	Ignorance! People not realizing the many resources the library has for everyone in the community, including them.
13681	7/10/2012	Funding.
13682	7/10/2012	Not getting enough books because of a lack of funds.
13683	7/10/2012	People who think libraries are irrelevant in the Internet age.[] [] That or plague infested dinosaurs with guns and jet packs riding an asteroid made of plutonium hurtling towards Portland.
13684	7/10/2012	Appropriate funding, as I understand it.
13685	7/10/2012	I think the library was misguided in not requesting adequate funding in the last election. It gives an impression that planning is not going smoothly.
13686	7/10/2012	Homeless/transient people monopolizing resources like restrooms and computers.
13687	7/10/2012	The idea that computers will replace libraries. Lack of funding.
13688	7/10/2012	Underfunding. I pay a lot of taxes and get little in return. The library is one way I can enjoy being a part of the Portland community.
13689	7/10/2012	The fact that a large portion of their funding comes from bond money instead of out the state budget. Probably the growing tendency to rely upon semi-literate electronic media rather the printed materials and the decline in
13690	7/10/2012	teaching reading skills in school; I would rank the library as the personally most important public service, even before police, schools or roads.
13691	7/10/2012	Funding
13692	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to the local libraries is lack of funding.

13693	7/10/2012	I'm not knowledgeable enough to answer this but my guess would be funding. If it takes closing the library for one day a week, then that's what needs to be done. I would definitely recommend the library be open on Saturdays in order for students to have access. I believe Library materials and computer access for students are a high priority.
13694	7/10/2012	ignorance about the budget, compression, pers. lack of funding.
13695	7/10/2012	Funding, and the government's apparent belief that our library and its services are expendable resulting in defunding of library services.
13696	7/10/2012	This survey is a problem: after I entered my choices on question 5 - "Please rank the following..."; <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> After ranking my choices, the five questions reverted to 1-5 top to bottom. My input was lost.
13697	7/10/2012	Fat retirement programs bleeding the services away
13698	7/10/2012	People who don't read books.
13699	7/10/2012	funding.
13700	7/10/2012	lack of funding...
13701	7/10/2012	People don't care enough about their libraries. They don't understand why we need them.
13702	7/10/2012	Reduced funding
13703	7/10/2012	Funding
13704	7/10/2012	lack of money
13705	7/10/2012	N/A
13706	7/10/2012	Apathy
13707	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13708	7/10/2012	Electronic books and lack of funding
13709	7/10/2012	Tax dollars, reduction in education
13710	7/10/2012	Need a stable base for funding
13711	7/10/2012	Being closed so much that people who work nine to five jobs can't go to the library.
13712	7/10/2012	You need to find a way to make library books downloadable to tablets and mobile media. Printed books will be obsolete in the next decade or so.
13713	7/10/2012	As long as the libraries stay technologically up to date (lots of computer access, lots of digital media), I can't see any threats.
13714	7/10/2012	Spreading themselves too thin. Libraries are sources of information available to all. They should stick to making information available and encouraging young readers.
13715	7/10/2012	Lack of funding. We need to insure that our fabulous library system has funding adequate to avoid further cuts and to restore lost hours & services.
13716	7/10/2012	Budget shortages that lead to cutbacks in staff and hours of operation.
13717	7/10/2012	I think it's ignorance. I think some people think of the levy as taking away something that belongs to them, rather than funding something that belongs to them.

13718	7/10/2012	too many kinds of service. while most of the programs that the library supports are fun and enjoyable, i'm not sure they always support the main mission of the library which is to collect, maintain, and disseminate high-value information and promote reading and literacy to create an educated public.
13719	7/10/2012	Lack of funding to maintain inventory and obtain new inventory to keep the library current and up to date with books and other materials.
13720	7/10/2012	Funding
13721	7/10/2012	Losing their funding and not being able to provide the vast (both breadth and depth) array of services it offers a huge community. Everything above is important and cutting any services would be a detriment to some of the population. Overall, a declining intelligent community! Our libraries foster literacy, education, and inquisitive, intelligent minds.
13722	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13723	7/10/2012	dunno
13724	7/10/2012	Digital age. You should have more access to books via Kindle and other digital forms.
13725	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
13726	7/10/2012	Bureaucracy
13727	7/10/2012	ebooks! funding!
13728	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, apparently. :(
13729	7/10/2012	Funding, with competing priorities
13730	7/10/2012	closure
13731	7/10/2012	Funding cuts and growing prevalence of electronic media (vs. hard-copy books)
13732	7/10/2012	I think the lack of funding. It boggles my mind that people do not want to pay more taxes or give more money for this. Is it possible to do private donations? I do not have a lot of money to give, but I would be willing to give a monetary gift, possibly on a monthly basis.
13733	7/10/2012	Disinterest in reading and literacy; budget problems & lack of funds
13734	7/10/2012	Funding
13735	7/10/2012	Funding (I guess).
13736	7/10/2012	I don't know, I love the library and would not want anything to happen to it.
13737	7/10/2012	budget.
13738	7/10/2012	The cutting of the budget.
13739	7/10/2012	Funding
13740	7/10/2012	Budget cuts and digital media.
13741	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, lack of advertising.
13742	7/10/2012	Funding cuts.
13743	7/10/2012	Limited hours. Please keep the library accessible!
13744	7/10/2012	The Internet, and access to such information from home.
13745	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.

13746	7/10/2012	Economy is why no one wants to give out more when we are making less . Misunderstanding of the purpose of libraries in the Digital Age. [] Physical books are not as important today as they were in the past. []
13747	7/10/2012	Access to information remains vital, but the publishing industry has made access to scientific papers and other information prohibitively expensive for individuals and small businesses. The library can help. [] The library also has a very important role in supporting the education of children and students.
13748	7/10/2012	Trying to compete with the internet
13749	7/10/2012	Funding base
13750	7/10/2012	Besides lack of funds? Perception that libraries are a luxury.
13751	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13752	7/10/2012	The digital evolution of information. I rarely read physical books any more. It's too much of a hassle, and it's too expensive. I would love to see an expansion of digital lending.
13753	7/10/2012	lac of monies for keeping buildings open, free internet access and acquisitions
13754	7/10/2012	Mismanaged funds and the wrong priorities. The same problems that affect our schools!
13755	7/10/2012	lack of funding. use of other library counties. I am worried about lack of funding. (I have also bought a kindle and have not been to the library since, but that's more my fault.) []
13756	7/10/2012	Note for answer 5: All three program groups (young children, senior, jobseekers and ESL) are equally important in my mind, but I feel that the library should prioritize programs by community need.
13757	7/10/2012	Misinformation. People who have the resources to acquire whatever they want, whenever, do not understand the importance of our libraries. It's not clear to non-users that everyone uses the library.
13758	7/10/2012	Ignorance of the library's status as a crucial and very helpful tool.
13759	7/10/2012	loss of funding
13760	7/10/2012	Closures
13761	7/10/2012	Anti-government political sentiment.
13762	7/10/2012	lack of funding electronic threats
13763	7/10/2012	electronic devices
13764	7/10/2012	Not enough materials
13765	7/10/2012	The internet
13766	7/10/2012	No funding
13767	7/10/2012	Unknown.

13768	7/10/2012	To my understanding, it is funding.
13769	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13770	7/10/2012	People who don't understand the importance of libraries and public spaces in our lives, and seek to benefit from short term savings in negligible amounts.
13771	7/10/2012	Reduced funding
13772	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, I suppose. I don't know who would actually want to threaten an institution as useful as the library.
13773	7/10/2012	Closures
13774	7/10/2012	Not having enough operation hours.
13775	7/10/2012	lack of funding, lack of understanding about the financial crisis facing libraries, government undervaluing libraries and underestimating their importance within a community
13776	7/10/2012	Loss of hours that they are open.
13777	7/10/2012	lack of public interest, and therefore lack of funding.
13778	7/10/2012	Funding is always a big threat...I supported the recent bond and would support future ones
13779	7/10/2012	Excessive staffing, overpaid administrators, Every time I visit the Belmont library I am shocked at the amount of people "working" there...
13780	7/10/2012	Funding used for non-essentials...electric car charging stations; Supreme Court battles to prevent porn filters.
13781	7/10/2012	Poorly managed databases and resources. But placing technology before people does not help. I would like to see the cost benefit analysis on the automated check-outs for example.
13782	7/10/2012	lack of funding. i do think each library needs at least one fully trained librarian (with mls degree) on duty. they are such a valuable resource. i don't like the idea of the library only open 6 days a week, but as long as there are at least some libraries open everyday in each part of town, we could manage. we have made many an emergency visit for research paper help during the school year.
13783	7/10/2012	What if there were some students who needed a book immediatly and they lived a decent distance from the library? We need to have the libraries open at normal change because not everyones schedule can flex because we dont want to "spend more money than necessary on our libraries." This is a part of the towns, the areas, you cant take it away for and x amount of hours or days. What if the library is the only joy and hope for a person living on the streets? What if its for the education of younger children? Doing this will take some of these oportunities away. Don't do it, it'll be a mistake.
13784	7/10/2012	I am not sure but I would say reduced hours or closure due to lack of funding. If you are referring to vandalism or terrorism then I would think the treat is very minimal. Although much is available online on computers, I really value the contact with the local library and the human librarians.
13785	7/10/2012	Unwillingness of citizens to pay taxes for services, and a lack of understanding of the value of an excellent library system.
13786	7/10/2012	Funding
13787	7/10/2012	Not having a stable base of funding & always having to take it to the voters.

13788	7/10/2012	I think the most important thing for libraries is to have a location open with full hours every day of the week. That way, if your local branch is closed, you can still take the bus to another library.
13789	7/10/2012	Poor funding
13790	7/10/2012	People who don't use them nor see the use in them deciding they don't want to pay for them. It's the duty of the community to provide for this space.
13791	7/10/2012	unstable funding.
13792	7/10/2012	Public funding.
13793	7/10/2012	Again, the inappropriate use of the internet.
13794	7/10/2012	lack of funding and the rush to e-books where (pardon the vast right wing conspiratrist theory) whatever we download can already have been skewed
13795	7/10/2012	The shift from hand-held books, journals, newspapers, etc. to electronic access of written works.
13796	7/10/2012	That it will lose relevancy for the average user. Note that you have mixed a lot of things together in your list above. Jobseekers, homework help and ELL could be considered quite different services. ¶
13797	7/10/2012	¶ Probably the county budget decision makers and what competing items they choose to budget for.
13798	7/10/2012	Funding cuts, I'd imagine.
13799	7/10/2012	Most likely funding cuts
13800	7/10/2012	Money & closures
13801	7/10/2012	Republicans
13802	7/10/2012	Information and media available online.
13803	7/10/2012	Not having enough funding and not being open and available to citizens.
13804	7/10/2012	Having the libraries being closed on days or closing early in the day.¶ We like to go after work and and not being open until 6PM is a problem to me.
13805	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13806	7/10/2012	Being under-funded, and often seen by the public as being one of the first places to cut money. When I went to the library yesterday it was closed. Three people tried to get into the library in the two minutes I was there. Closing the library is the biggest threat.¶
13807	7/10/2012	¶ During hot days in the summer, the library needs to be open to provide a cool place for people to congregate. I know this isn't a listed use of the library, but it is important.
13808	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and electronic media replacing physical books/music/etc...
13809	7/10/2012	Funding.
13810	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13811	7/10/2012	Republicans and Tea Party members
13812	7/10/2012	lack of funding
13813	7/10/2012	Not enough funding.

13814	7/10/2012	Reductions in funding
13815	7/10/2012	Lack of sustainable funding.
13816	7/10/2012	funding
13817	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13818	7/10/2012	Funding
13819	7/10/2012	I think the biggest threat is increased costs for library employee -- primarily increased healthcare and pension costs
13820	7/10/2012	It sounds like this economy is the biggest threat!
13821	7/10/2012	I would guess the answer to that one is funds. If you are not able to keep the doors open and purchase new materials.....
13822	7/10/2012	The coming zombie apocalypse. Also Republicans.
13823	7/10/2012	Funding
13824	7/10/2012	Not recognizing that libraries are an important resource for the community.
13825	7/10/2012	Apathy-induced lack of funding.
13826	7/10/2012	funding
13827	7/10/2012	Funding cuts; elder librarians.
13828	7/10/2012	Failure of the library to keep up with technology, and become irrelevant. Innovation is key to success.
13829	7/10/2012	no money
13830	7/10/2012	I am confused after always voting for the library why the hours are reduced. I am happy to pay more but it does stink that the brunt is always on the homeowners for library's, schools, etc.
13831	7/10/2012	Unionized environment; lack of interest in the community.
13832	7/10/2012	Kindles, electronic reading devices that will create a mentality that "books" in paper form are not necessary anymore and don't need to be funded.
13833	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and the Internet causing young people to turn away from books.
13834	7/10/2012	Lack of public support. I think changing the hours will be detrimental as well - I will no longer be able to stop at the library on my way home from work now that it is closing at 5:00 every day but Tuesday and Wednesday (of course I can still go then, but that is not always convenient).
13835	7/10/2012	Being shut down entirely.
13836	7/10/2012	The culture is shifting to individual lifestyles, not community based. We have instant access to information online, why get out of our house and interact with people and use a physical book versus staying at home and googling it? The library will transform into a community center with classes and community activities, more than just a place to check out books.

13837	7/10/2012	The Kindle/Nook/iTunes/Netflix and easily accessed material. Although I think providing for those who cannot use other services easily is important, I think it's more important to provide general services to all ... and I have a 3-year old and have been to some of the children programs like puppet shows and reading hours. ¶ ¶ Also, a model to look to: the Vancouver, WA library. Their children's section is robust and also fun to be at. Our daughter has visited there and likes to be there. Most of our other libraries are a place to go and leave, not be there for a while.
13838	7/10/2012	Right-wing slack-jawed mouth-breathing idiots who regard the promotion of mass ignorance to be a viable political strategy.
13839	7/10/2012	Tax Cuts...
13840	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding.
13841	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13842	7/10/2012	Lack of stable, perpetual funding
13843	7/10/2012	stable funding
13844	7/10/2012	e-books. And Republicans.
13845	7/10/2012	People not realizing that the funding can get cut because libraries are taken for granted.
13846	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and job loss.
13847	7/10/2012	changing perceptions about the necessity of personal contribution to support the public good
13848	7/10/2012	Frankly, the biggest threat is irrelevance. My main need for the county libraries is e-book loans. If we could get the inventory and selection of that built up, I'd pretty much never need to go to a physical library. I have school-age kids, and they can do 95% of the research they need for projects, etc., online. Our family' s need would be served with the local libraries open 5 days a week, 6-8 hours a day at most.
13849	7/10/2012	Not enough funding. I believe that libraries are important not only for lending books and media, but because of the services it provides to young and old.
13850	7/10/2012	losing funding
13851	7/10/2012	funding
13852	7/10/2012	Funding
13853	7/10/2012	Those who believe privatization is the answer to public services
13854	7/10/2012	Kindle-type things.
13855	7/10/2012	Republicans
13856	7/10/2012	Funding.
13857	7/10/2012	Lack of consistent funding
13858	7/10/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is budget cuts.

13859	7/10/2012	Insufficient funding, obviously. To take it back a step, people whose political/economic persuasions lead them to believe that libraries are not central to our civilization, hence vote against taxes. For libraries, as well as other important functions of government.
13860	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13861	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13862	7/10/2012	I had no idea there was a threat to our libraries - my sense is they're highly supported here.
13863	7/10/2012	Inadequate funding, so-called fiscal austerity
13864	7/10/2012	I don't know of any real threats
13865	7/10/2012	the internet
13866	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and lack of support for early childhood reading.
13867	7/10/2012	the internet -- people THINK that you can do adequate research on the internet, but it is not true, and there is a good deal of misinformation on the internet.
13868	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, the bad economy, exacerbated by the dislike of the political Right for public services. [] [] Also, lack of understanding by trendy politicians that, even in this electronic era, physical BOOKS are important resources.
13869	7/10/2012	Lack of funding causing increased reduction of hours, staff and available programs.
13870	7/10/2012	I imagine budget cuts.
13871	7/10/2012	lack of access
13872	7/10/2012	Closing down a place that offers such wonderful opportunities. Keep them running, as much as possible! If we have to lose a day or two during the week, its better than shutting them entirely!
13873	7/10/2012	A lack of sufficient funding!
13874	7/10/2012	The perception that maximum open hours is not that important. A library offers more services than the internet and the human aspect and contact is very important. Can you tell that I work in a library??
13875	7/10/2012	Corporations in Oregon failing to pay their fair share of taxes under Measure 5. [] The current economic depression and erroneous federal spending on the Pentagon and wars around the globe.[] Citizens unwillingness to pay for what they want!
13876	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13877	7/10/2012	cutting budget from goverment
13878	7/10/2012	I have no idea. Lack of funding?
13879	7/10/2012	Underuse
13880	7/10/2012	if they are closed or stop offering selection - ignorance will win
13881	7/10/2012	Online resources available from your home computer without the library- books, articles, etc.
13882	7/10/2012	Loss of regular business hours and inability to keep current materials are vital for the varied schedules and needs of working people.

13883	7/10/2012	Difficulty keeping up with current technology.[] Antiquated library catalog search feature (doesn't offer enough options, subcategories, nor is it intuitive in any way.)
13884	7/10/2012	complacency
13885	7/10/2012	Poor customer service
13886	7/10/2012	A lack of state funding, I would guess. We need to subsidize social services and renew our belief in what used to be called "public goods." When this notion became a dirty word, I do not know and cannot understand.
13887	7/10/2012	Unions.
13888	7/10/2012	Lack of funding; relevance due to fewer opening hours
13889	7/10/2012	Outdated materials.
13890	7/10/2012	Lack of funding - Libraries are an important resource of information, entertainment, and social services. I think they are a vital part of the community and deserve enough funding to stay open at least six days a week.
13891	7/10/2012	The last question is a loaded question. I think every option is equally important except for the one that lists all libraries should be open 7 days a week. [] [] As far as threat goes, I would say the biggest threat would be lack of funding.
13892	7/10/2012	Extinction
13893	7/10/2012	funding cuts
13894	7/10/2012	internet use
13895	7/10/2012	Lack of young people with enough education to want to use the system[] Online social tools like Facebook or Twitter that reduce people's attention spans. (I'm not computerphobic).
13896	7/10/2012	Funding
13897	7/10/2012	Cutting open hours and days.
13898	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding - just like our schools. These should be priorities for a healthy, viable community.
13899	7/10/2012	Closed minded citizens, taxpayers, and staff.
13900	7/10/2012	Decreased availability, cutting programs, not having both hardcopies and e-books, but only e-books.
13901	7/10/2012	Limiting the hours they are open or days open
13902	7/10/2012	Insecure and uneven funding dependent on voting cycles.
13903	7/10/2012	Multnomah County Commission. They did not keep their promise to permanently fund like they promised and now you are going out for another bondy levy. This is effing ridiculous. It better pass.

13904	7/10/2012	I DO NOT KNOW....But my guess would be the big WORD in our Society....MONEY....."the lack of"..I am a very average wage earner.....and plan on NOT GIVING ANYMORE Then I do now....TO THIS SYSTEM. I need to take care of me, my family and friends...and save for my future...Get more money from the WEALTHY....they can afford it....
13905	7/10/2012	Public unwillingness to fund entities that benefit the public
13906	7/10/2012	A lack of funding from the county.
13907	7/10/2012	Overreaching the mission of the library system, to the point where citizens can no longer afford it. It does no good to provide special services to seniors (I am one, also disabled) if these very citizens cannot afford to stay in their homes because of property tax bills.
13908	7/10/2012	funding
13909	7/10/2012	Funding
13910	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13911	7/10/2012	FUNDING
13912	7/10/2012	Our libraries have enjoyed popularity and public support for many years, and while the funding is occasionally spent on silly things, for the most part the focus has been on having the items people want, and having the doors open so people can access them. Recently we voted in library levy, and the hours were immediately cut. This represented bad faith to me, and i have found myself considering voting against library funding this fall for the first time in my 30 years as a Portlander. I have discussed the hour cuts with my friends who work in the library system, and I still feel it was a bad PR move if nothing else, and I'm very frustrated with the new hours. To add insult, I went to the Woodstock branch yesterday at 1:30 in the afternoon, and it was closed. If you are going to only be open minimal hours a week, you might try being open for all of them. Very very frustrated.
13913	7/10/2012	Non-library users who vote down library-support measures.
13914	7/10/2012	CLOSURE and limited hours.
13915	7/10/2012	That would seem to be a lack of a sustainable funding source.
13916	7/10/2012	Branches closing more then 1 day a week. Not a good idea for patrons.
13917	7/10/2012	Lack of public understanding of the need for additional funding
13918	7/10/2012	Lack of assured funding.
13919	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13920	7/10/2012	ignorance
13921	7/10/2012	Obviously, insufficient funding
13922	7/10/2012	Lack of funding

13923	7/10/2012	My mother just passed away, and so much information was lost because she is not here to tell us about her pictures, letters, ect. Information needs to be brought into the digital age to preserve and make it more accesible from computers, tablets, phones.....I love books, but my kids and grandkids are viewing information in different ways than I did growing up. I love the library branches, but libraries need to exist as digitally accessible entities too. There is a book, "Sharp Ears" that I have wanted my grandson to read for a long time. It is a wonderful story but the book is very rare. Okay so perhaps a new printing of the book doesn't make sense, but making digital copies of it sure do. Books like this one should not be lost. Bringing books like this to life again in the digital age will help make libraries current and relevent to kids that are used to getting information where ever and when ever they want it.
13924	7/10/2012	Theft and lack of funding.
13925	7/10/2012	Lack of funding Becoming too bureaucratic and insular. Prioritizing new facilities over usable facilities. Squandering the goodwill of the city and county by making poor choices about how to finance things. Conspiring with the city and county to take less money from the general fund, claim poverty, and then waste money building stupid computer-laden new facilities and paying the administrators more.
13926	7/10/2012	Less hours No current books and materials
13927	7/10/2012	No current books and materials
13928	7/10/2012	That the services will be reduced due to lack of funding.
13929	7/10/2012	Not having stable funding.
13930	7/10/2012	Lack of funding
13931	7/10/2012	Lack of funding, and the notion the books will be obsolete.
13932	7/10/2012	Too few materials, or outdated materials.
13933	7/10/2012	A lack of stable funding.
13934	7/10/2012	Apathy.
13935	7/10/2012	politicians who don't see the value of libraries for the local communities.
13936	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and lack of legislative and public support.
13937	7/10/2012	I really don't know.
13938	7/10/2012	Ignorance
13939	7/10/2012	Lack of automatic funding from the government!
13940	7/10/2012	Children are not being taught to love reading. Children are promoted without being able to read at grade level. Schools need to do a better job of teaching kids to read.
13941	7/10/2012	Apathy.
13942	7/10/2012	Lack of continual, reliable funding.
13943	7/10/2012	Funding issues and reduced hours
13944	7/10/2012	No stable source of funding. People who don't want to pay taxes and don't appreciate the value of libraries.

13945	7/10/2012	Short hours, Books other helpful use.
13946	7/10/2012	Lack of funds.
13947	7/10/2012	Lack of funding and governmental support.
13948	7/10/2012	reduced funding
13949	7/10/2012	It sounds like funding is the biggest threat.
13950	7/10/2012	apathy
13951	7/10/2012	Ignorance; those who don't use it don't see the intrinsic value of libraries. Levies always pass but it's not enough money to offer the level of service the community needs. I hear there is a measure for a library district. I hope this passes.
13952	7/10/2012	Taxpayers who don't read and don't want to pay their fair share of taxes.
13953	7/10/2012	Reduced hours/days due to the district not passing.
13954	7/10/2012	Lack of funding--people who either refuse to acknowledge, or are not aware of, the huge positive impact libraries make in our community and therefore don't prioritize funding
13955	7/10/2012	digital delivery of books--cheaper than traditional books, so harder to justify waiting for holds
13956	7/10/2012	Secure and consistent funding for long term strategy and capital improvements.
13957	7/10/2012	Lack of funding! Good lord - raise taxes enough to pay for them! I don't mind - REALLY!
13958	7/10/2012	The Web.
13959	7/10/2012	Reduced hours
13960	7/10/2012	Competition for limited resources. Also, I believe many people have an outdated sense of what libraries do, and don't realize that (whether they use libraries directly themselves or not) they benefit from the many ways the library helps keep the community vibrant (and preserves intellectual access and freedom).
13961	7/10/2012	The internet and Kindle like devices.
13962	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding.
13963	7/10/2012	Lack of funding.
13964	7/10/2012	The antitax, every man for himself attitude that seems to be getting more popular.
13965	7/10/2012	Republicans
13966	7/10/2012	To cut the hours back.
13967	7/10/2012	budget shortfalls
13968	7/10/2012	Mitt Romney. What do you mean? Money, or rather, the lack of it.
13969	7/10/2012	inadequate funding
13970	7/10/2012	Not being open to high school students at the end of the school day.
13971	7/10/2012	lack of financial support for ongoing operations
13972	7/10/2012	technology replacing books
13973	7/10/2012	Klds sitting in their bedrooms staring at their personal computer.
13974	7/10/2012	not sure

13975	7/10/2012	Potential lack of funding, perhaps tied to potential waning public interest in books, libraries, and shared public space due to internet, e-books, etc.
13976	7/10/2012	Funding, cost of employees and benefits.
13977	7/10/2012	Ignorance - allowing funding to dwindle and reading skills to languish.
13978	7/10/2012	Republicans.
13979	7/10/2012	hours
13980	7/10/2012	reduced priority for education and the tendency to fall behind in offerings
13981	7/10/2012	reduced hours or closures of selected branches. 2nd is elimination or reduced children's services
13982	7/10/2012	shortage of funding
13983	7/10/2012	Lack of stable funding
13984	7/10/2012	to be closed.
13985	7/10/2012	I wish I knew. Funding issues are very complicated to me. For instance, we have a new trolley on MLK that goes to OMSI when there was already public transportation from the Rose Quarter (and sidewalks to MLK!) to OMSI. Maybe we couldn't have used that money for something else, like the Library, but that makes no sense to me.
13986	7/9/2012	lack of funding to keep doors open, new materials flowing and resource staff available
13987	7/9/2012	None
13988	7/9/2012	Lack of funding and a stable funding base - already public education is under siege - take away the libraries and our society is crippled in its ability to educate itself - recipe for disaster - revolution - more ugliness in general
13989	7/9/2012	Lack of money
13990	7/9/2012	Not sure
13991	7/9/2012	Inadequate funding resulting in 1) not having a good selection of new materials in various formats and 2) not being open enough hours.
13992	7/9/2012	Stable source of funding
13993	7/9/2012	Loss of funding.
13994	7/9/2012	Union contracts make employing librarians extremely expensive... some programs cannot be funded at previous levels due to increasing labor costs.
13995	7/9/2012	Failure by the public - including government institution to undervalue the role of libraries. In this age we need them more than ever (not less as many like to think) as information literacy and equal access to information are so important. ¶ I also believe that antiquated thinking - particularly in the form of business models - from publishers and the "book industry" are a threat. Libraries are here to help the success of books - in whatever format - and it would be best if the publishing industry wised up to that. Again, this is another reason we need strong investment in public libraries so that they may form consortia to fight against corporate greed.

13996	7/9/2012	the lack of stable funding, which opens the door to the anti-populist "privatizers" who believe in elitism.
13997	7/9/2012	Before November, justifying another funding vote to people who don't understand what they just voted for during the primaries (and/or why hours are being cut back.)
13998	7/9/2012	Lack of funding
13999	7/9/2012	Lack of consistent funding.
14000	7/9/2012	The forces of privatization
14001	7/9/2012	The lack of permanent and stable funding for our library is the biggest threat to our local libraries. It is inexcusable that a library as heavily used as this one is, does not have stable funding. Libraries provide knowledge through much more than just books and they provide many services for the public. All need stable funding. A library protects the culture of a city and ours is seriously endangered without a permanent tax base.
14002	7/9/2012	The bad economy! Our libraries are superb, but they are also very costly to run.
14003	7/9/2012	Mr. Coggin not supporting a district levy as promised. Portland Public Schools are NOT in competition with these library funds!
14004	7/9/2012	Funding. Allocating resources
14005	7/9/2012	economy
14006	7/9/2012	Ignorance and misapprehension of the proper function of a library, as plainly exemplified by the conflation of "access to paid search engines for research and other library materials" with the other matters referenced in the item ranked third in survey item 5 above.
14007	7/9/2012	#1 - An equitable, stable source of funding.
14008	7/9/2012	People who don't use the library....
14009	7/9/2012	Lack of funding, and lack of interest.
14010	7/9/2012	funding
14011	7/9/2012	An ignorant population
14012	7/9/2012	PERS
14013	7/9/2012	I believe that the biggest threat to the local libraries is that they don't stay up with the latest technology. They need to understand the library of the future isn't the library of the past and they need to stay with what the people want TODAY and in future. disrespect. reading isn't valued as it should be & free access to books, computers, etc. helps folks without those attributes grow, learn, find work, have fun. libraries are a healthy way to pursue knowledge, action & excitement & create a closer to level playing field by providing a place for all of us to share books, knowledge, wisdom & to learn the things we can't get at home. reading needs to be re-established as one of the most important skills we ever learn.
14014	7/9/2012
14015	7/9/2012	this question is too broad and too open to subjective interpretation to be useful

14016	7/9/2012	the discouraging OVERUSE of technology and on line information - in my opinion the internet has overdone the immediacy of info dissemination allowing for too much procrastination, changes that are impossible to stay up with due to volume and pace, and a stressful "plugged in 7/24" mentality....this trend is eliminating the former need/desire for printed material - books, newspapers, magazines - everyone is glued to an online screen - it's very sad - and hard on the eyes.[] I actually did a speech centered around technology's distraction which causes lack of awareness of nature, other people, traffic - resulting in accidents - and a general fragmented inability to focus due to over stimulation of brain with constant new info/interruptions.
14017	7/9/2012	not sure
14018	7/9/2012	Poor funding and stupid decisions by County Commissioners - the decision to stagger voter referendums was badly handled. REALLY pissed me and my neighbors off - I don't know who (failed to) think it through, and there has been tremendous confusion as a result and the result is an atmosphere of distrust in local 'decision makers'.
14019	7/9/2012	The threat of only being able to access it during working hours which eliminates reading for all business employees
14020	7/9/2012	Commissioners not fully understanding what an immense educational resource the library provides for kids in the Summer. [] The Library provides year round services to customers of all ages.
14021	7/9/2012	Lack of funds.
14022	7/9/2012	Lack of funding.
14023	7/9/2012	the recession
14024	7/9/2012	Lack of permanent source of funding. We shouldn't be having to vote to continue library services, it should be an established fact that they are an essential part of our community.
14025	7/9/2012	Decreasing library availability can lead to a decrease in reading, especially in children. This would be bad for our community and bad for the libraries.
14026	7/9/2012	It's a global answer, but I think that the corporate dominance of media and politics in the United States is, in the end, the greatest threat to adequate funding and support of literacy and an informed democracy. Hence, the greatest threat to our local libraries.
14027	7/9/2012	citizens who do not want to pay taxes to support important civic programs and facilities
14028	7/9/2012	Not being open enough it could lose its major impact in the community. How can the library remain a national leader when it's not open and not available to families and the community? Friends that live across the country are like, oh yeah, Multnomah County Library, it's a big deal. I'm worried we'll lose that.

14029	7/9/2012	It seems to me that the Central Library must be open 7 days a week. There could be some branches that are open 7 days a week, and others at 6 days a week. Having every library in the county closed on Mondays makes my life much more difficult, as I rely on the Library to do work and access needed materials for job searching and other needs.
14030	7/9/2012	The current library administration.
14031	7/9/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries is budget cuts.
14032	7/9/2012	Public apathy about the need for library funding--A permanent funding system needs to be implemented.
14033	7/9/2012	Underfunding. Conversely, the perception of over-funding is equally hazardous. When people look at what's on the shelves, what's being added, what's new, they shouldn't have to ask themselves if the library is being a good steward of its collection budget. Come on, EIGHT seasons of "Three's Company" on DVD? A whole wall of "Lucky Day" titles in the Title Wave so shortly after they've been purchased? Don't make people feel like suckers for supporting the library's funding requests.
14034	7/9/2012	Economy, politicians and other taxes, compression and lack of comprehension of rising costs.
14035	7/9/2012	I do not see a "threat". I also do not see the internal workings of the organization so there could be serious mismanagement or not.
14036	7/9/2012	The community not seeing the library's value.
14037	7/9/2012	reduced funding is bigger threat than electronic media
14038	7/9/2012	Competing for funding / other bonds/levys on ballot. Ebooks
14039	7/9/2012	The global austerity fad - but I am not willing to accept the possibility of not having libraries.
14040	7/9/2012	The lack of a permanent source of funding. The possibility that library funding will fall victim to political pressure even though it is such an essential resource for the population that it should be above politics.
14041	7/9/2012	Not being available to the public 7 days a week.
14042	7/9/2012	Tax revolt
14043	7/9/2012	I guess loss of funding.
14044	7/9/2012	Conservative agendas, such as the editorial in the Oregonian, and Republican efforts to destroy the middle class and public, union based jobs.
14045	7/9/2012	Funding.
14046	7/9/2012	I think the biggest threat is the prevalence of online media resources and the perception that libraries aren't important anymore.
14047	7/9/2012	Lack of funding.
14048	7/9/2012	stable funding
14049	7/9/2012	Bad economy encourages funding cuts.
14050	7/9/2012	* Level of common/general sentiment against public good/services. -or- * Restrictive copyright licensing/technologies/systems.

14051	7/9/2012	I don't know. Probably, lack of appreciation among those who get their media and information with the click of a mouse, elsewhere. Also shifting values regarding government services, infrastructure, and meaning of community. MultCoLib is one of the most important community service organizations in the area, which is an oasis for so many shunted out of other programs, which have been cut pretty much across the board. Also many of us living near the margins before the Recession have more need for public access to media.
14052	7/9/2012	taxes :-(
14053	7/9/2012	The unfortunate anti-tax, anti-government, anti-education attitude seen everywhere nowadays.
14054	7/9/2012	Financial issues, I suppose...including the increasing portion of budgets eaten up by PERS.
14055	7/9/2012	Library hours continually dwindle across the nation as funding is proving insubstantial. I am amazed by how many Portlanders I speak to who say they have never been to their local public library-including several of my fellow English majors at PSU! I think that public awareness of all the services offered at the library must be very low in Portland.
14056	7/9/2012	Society's misconception that they are obsolete.
14057	7/9/2012	Underfunding. The library is absolutely essential to the lives of so many- it is surprising to me that it is even under threat at all.
14058	7/9/2012	Losing librarians and personal support as well as current media. [] Also hours if reduced need to be set to reach a broad range of society. Not keeping up with the funding that our libraries need.[] We have such an amazing library system. I love the programs offered there and have attended many over the years. Our family checks out a ton of books and so do I as a classroom teacher. We also are exposed to music from all over the world when we check out CD's.[] We also are exposed to cultural events with music, storytelling and folkloric dance. [] The summer reading program draws so many families to the library and helps keep my daughter inspired to read and see her progress.
14059	7/9/2012
14060	7/9/2012	lack of funding
14061	7/9/2012	Hours of operation.
14062	7/9/2012	Budget cuts.
14063	7/9/2012	Lack of understanding about the vital role they play. There are useful programs for all ages, and people are encouraged to read. Information and critical thinking are essential for an informed populace. Providing computer access for those who do not have it at home is a social/educational equalizer. The smaller, more rural the town, the more important the library is. The library also provides a quiet place to study for those who do not have this at home. Free, public libraries are one of the best concepts ever. For what they provide,libraries are an extreme bargain.

14064	7/9/2012	I'm not sure what this question means exactly - if you are talking about the library being endangered, funding would be the biggest threat, but in terms of the above options, I would say that the new hours of six days a week have really changed the accessibility and convenience of it. Of course, I would also hate for the library to stop purchasing new books, and I believe that the helpful programs the library have to offer are a great thing.
14065	7/9/2012	Dependence on funding from levies on property owners.
14066	7/9/2012	If the library isn't open when it is convenient for people to go there, patrons will not use it.
14067	7/9/2012	Lack of funding.
14068	7/9/2012	Reduced hours and access due to lack of funding. Also the fear of reducing printed material to e-book type things that I don't like or use.
14069	7/9/2012	I think it is that people may not recognize how important libraries are to everyone but they are especially important in helping to educate our young and even if we don't have kids in the area (which I don't) it effects them. I think that it is likely that at least some of the kids would not be able to complete their homework and some might find themselves with nothing better to do than get into trouble. Kids are all of ours future. If they are not educated and contributing to the work force, there will definitely be no social security for the generations to come.
14070	7/9/2012	funding
14071	7/9/2012	Lack of funding
14072	7/9/2012	funding cuts.
14073	7/9/2012	n/a
14074	7/9/2012	funding cuts
14075	7/8/2012	Lack of an equitable tax structure where corporations and the wealthy pay their fair share.
14076	7/8/2012	Lack of public support for social services like libraries, and lack of will to contribute to these.
14077	7/8/2012	lack of funding and too few public service staffers
14078	7/8/2012	Stagnation
14079	7/8/2012	No stable source of funding. Voters who may not understand fully the issues or what is at stake. Conflicting budgetary priorities within the government system.
14080	7/8/2012	I wish I new the answer. Illiteracy? Civic apathy?
14081	7/8/2012	Lack of political leadership. Need for political leaders to have a long-term vision for libraries.
14082	7/8/2012	Lack of funding.
14083	7/8/2012	ridiculous funding issues that should be taken care of at a base level. Excellent programs that serve our children, families and Elders should not be placed in opposition to eachother
14084	7/8/2012	I suppose ignorance is the biggest threat to our libraries. Some people may not know or understand how valuable the library is to many people, nor the extensive services and programming that the library provides for the community.

		Threats:[] 1) The library's de-accessioning of books and library materials through selling or even recycling. [] 2) Lack of shelf space for books from other countries or earlier times, such as the 19th and early 20th century or before. [] [] We need to see the books on the shelves to help us in deciding what to check out. Browsing is the best way to get acquainted with excellent but lesser-known authors and literature from former times. [] [] Remove romance hardbacks and similar ilk (they're fine in the paperback section), and allow more shelf space for better quality writing. [] [] The books also need good maintenance, not just re-gluing and taping. Library director needs to hire a conservator to advise and train staff on proper care of books and related paper objects. It would be a public service for the library to hire a professional paper conservator to give public workshops on proper care of books as well.
14085	7/8/2012
14086	7/8/2012	Library employees who don't appear to be doing their jobs but collecting income at the taxpayer's expense.
14087	7/8/2012	misinformation
14088	7/8/2012	budget cuts
14089	7/8/2012	Citizens who do not support the funding of libraries.
14090	7/8/2012	Apathy about the importance of libraries' role in the community, and the need to fund them well and consistently.
14091	7/8/2012	lack of funding
14092	7/8/2012	Funding cuts.
14093	7/8/2012	Loss of funds such that important programs have to be canceled and staff dismissed. Lack of resources for job-seekers, seniors, children, immigrants and non-English speakers, and low-income residents.
14094	7/8/2012	mediocracy, people who do not use them, people who do not read, damage to library materials from users, etc.
14095	7/8/2012	not enough finding to keep them open and well staffed,
14096	7/8/2012	Funding. Everything's gotten more expensive. There's more people using libraries and less money to run them.
14097	7/8/2012	Lack of funds.
14098	7/8/2012	Lack of stable funding.

14099	7/8/2012	I think it may be people who do not understand the wide variety of people, at all income levels, that use our library system and for the MANY reasons they use it. Society has evolved to a point where people can be very isolated with their electronic devices at home, and if they never have a reason to put a book on hold, or have a librarian answer a question, or take their child to a bug program, they may never come to the library. And if they never come, the likely will not vote for it.
14100	7/8/2012	Funding cuts.
14101	7/8/2012	Lack of full funding
14102	7/8/2012	Republicans
14103	7/8/2012	Lack of funding causing a decrease in operating hours which decreases usage and awareness of the one of the most important public resources available to a community. This also affects access to digital lending. We're moving into an age where people are accessing materials digitally, and the wait list on digital materials is quite long.
14104	7/8/2012	inadequate funding
14105	7/8/2012	funding, duh.
14106	7/8/2012	Not enough money being allocated from our taxes
14107	7/8/2012	Those who would deny funding to the library in the name of fiscal responsibility or due to some false sense of austerity--i.e. anti-tax fiscal conservatives who think libraries are part of a government bloat problem.
14108	7/8/2012	Lack of dedicated, permanent funding
14109	7/8/2012	Funding seems to be unstable. I am not sure why. I believe there is public support for the library being adequately funded.
14110	7/8/2012	Apathy Many people do not realize how lucky we are to have libraries as wonderful as the ones we have
14111	7/8/2012	people not reading
14112	7/8/2012	A lack of funding and perhaps a shift to online books maybe? I think people need to really realize how much the library is taken for granted and step up to ensure they never close their doors for good because that is unthinkable and unacceptable.
14113	7/8/2012	how would i know? what do you mean? what kind of threat? threat to what aspect of local libraries? security? financial? closure? I'd need a range of threats
14114	7/8/2012	Inadequate funding.
14115	7/8/2012	Ignorance
14116	7/8/2012	Inconsistent, seemingly ever-limited funding.
14117	7/8/2012	The biggest threat to our libraries right now is definitely Jeff Cogen and those commissioners who are not standing fully behind their promise to put the district option on the _November 2012_ ballot.
14118	7/8/2012	internet
14119	7/8/2012	loss of staff and revenue
14120	7/8/2012	The inadequate funding the library is currently experiencing.

14121	7/8/2012	Taking it for granted, and the general resistance of local folks to pay for important services.
14122	7/8/2012	Lack of funding.
14123	7/8/2012	Not providing the needed services the citizens need. What about the adults that are not seniors yet. Are we left out?
14124	7/8/2012	Seems as if it is gearing monetary support to fluctuating property values.
14125	7/8/2012	For libraries to close. If I had a chance, I would put all the choices for #5 as the 1st choice. I am a part time student and a part time worker, so the library to be there is always a bonus. It is a place where I can do research for classes, relax with a good book. It is a place where the community to meet and for people to learn many things. The loss of the library in St. Johns would be a sad thing for adults and the children in the neighborhood. To take it away, I am not sure where the next library is unless I take the bus over to Nobb Hill, which is the only one that I know of within a half an hour bus ride.
14126	7/8/2012	The biggest threat is how all the books are becoming electronic.
14127	7/8/2012	The lack of stable funding. We need a more progressive property tax structure to pay for the library and other important public institutions and safety nets.
14128	7/8/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries? Tax payers who are unwilling to contribute. And people who don't know how many services the library offers and how important they are to kids, families, the community, the economy, etc.
14129	7/8/2012	People not willing to pay a little extra house tax to fund them, people not realizing its one thing that makes everyone equal regardless of income. Reading and access to materials.
14130	7/8/2012	Current wave of well funded capitalist organizations who want to privatize everything; bad and untrue press.
14131	7/8/2012	lack of funding
14132	7/8/2012	Misperception. I voted for the levy, and I totally support the library's adjusting branch hours to be in line with usage and to use the levy funds to the greatest effect. If schools took their fiscal responsibilities as seriously, I'd vote for those levys too. But on the news one night I heard this inflammatory trailer about the library, saying the levy was just passed, so why is the library cutting hours. It suggested some kind of wrongdoing, and this is the kind of misinformation that can really damage the library's reputation.
14133	7/8/2012	I guess, funding....
14134	7/8/2012	Underbudgeting.
14135	7/8/2012	Not enough money to stay open. Loss of staff. Loss of programs.
14136	7/8/2012	Funding
14137	7/8/2012	Republicans
14138	7/8/2012	Lack of funding
14139	7/8/2012	lack of stable funding
14140	7/8/2012	funding issues

14141	7/7/2012	Not enough funding.
14142	7/7/2012	Lack of funding causing reduction in hours and staff. Money[]
14143	7/7/2012	Apathy[] Ignorance of what the library provides
14144	7/7/2012	Emphasis should not be on computer and internet use. Not having current materials. I would like to see the branches open at least 6 days a week, but 5 would be acceptable, if needed. I normally visit the library 2/wk, but I can be flexible with my schedule. []
14145	7/7/2012	[] We have to be ever-vigilant about the many places our tax $$$ are needed. We can't have everything. Let's be as smart as possible.
14146	7/7/2012	Not open enough. I need internet access and print services and Library is only open until 6pm Thursdays, closes too early for me to print out the paperwork I need for work/independent contractor/self employed. Also need copy machine.[] Teens need evening access to Libraries and so do I. I believe Libraries should be open 24 hours a day with minimal staff. 1 staff 1 security guard would be fine for 24 hour service and to get Teenagers off the street
14147	7/7/2012	People taking them for granted. In my mind, people having the ability to check out a wealth of media (and return them responsibly) is one of the hallmarks of a civilized society(along with knowing how to merge in traffic and being respectful and enthused for others during karaoke)
14148	7/7/2012	loss of funding.
14149	7/7/2012	Budget cuts.
14150	7/7/2012	The biggest threat to local libraries is not keeping up with popular forms of media. Since it seems that books are mostly going to electronic, having a system that keeps up with that demand will be important in the life of libraries. It seems a bit short sighted to have 1 digital copy of a popular book available for download for the whole of Multnomah County. I also think that keeping up the online presence of the library is very important. Multnomah County Libraries have a fabulous online presence. So keep up with that. It's possible that librarians are going to need to continue learning how to do what they do online. It could lead to a whole new way of looking at how we use our libraries.
14151	7/7/2012	Too many electronic books and not enough physical books.
14152	7/7/2012	having a generation that is not introduced to the tactile benefits and enjoyment of reading physical books. that physical books will become boutique/luxury versus access by everyone
14153	7/7/2012	Not enough money to keep up with needs.
14154	7/7/2012	Lack of stable funding

14155	7/7/2012	Lack of funding is the most basic threat, but I also consider the potential loss of privacy due to hysterical anti-terrorism laws a grave threat to libraries everywhere. Libraries should not be put in the position of mandatory disclosure of patrons' reading lists or library usage. Period. I appreciate Multnomah County Library's efforts to protect patron privacy.
14156	7/7/2012	Our library system is so great as it is; I think our community would be dejected if its current level of service declined. It's one thing to cut back hours--ideally, we wouldn't have to. But if our catalog started to suffer, I think that would be a tremendous downfall.
14157	7/7/2012	Unstable funding. The library is as vital a public service as police or fire departments - it protects and defends the minds of the citizenry.
14158	7/7/2012	Cutting hours or staff so people cannot get there when it is open, or cannot get help when they need it.
14159	7/7/2012	Lack of funding.
14160	7/7/2012	fewer hours
14161	7/7/2012	We need Measure 5 and measure 50 reform in Salem, without it local governments will continue to run out of money. The media that frames the debate as you have to decide between one vital service or another, instead of advocating for legislative tax fixes that could fix the problem permanently. Also, if the cost of healthcare could get reigned in then local government agencies, like the library, wouldn't have to scramble for funding year after year.
14162	7/7/2012	1) People not respecting or appreciating the libraries and all they do. When this happens, the materials are not taken care of (costing more money for replacement) and people do not want to spend money on a service they don't respect.[] 2) Apparent mismanagement of library funds. People are always more willing to pay for something they can get behind and not so happy if they think they money they have donated (even if it is via taxes) is being squandered.[]I know that is two...
14163	7/7/2012	Unstable Property Taxes
14164	7/7/2012	Funding cuts! In tough economic times, the library becomes even more important. Schools are being shut. Students (young and old) cannot risk taking out exorbitant student loans to pay for an education that may not provide them with a living-wage job. People are unemployed and need to brush up on job skills, bolster their resume and job-hunt. Language-minority and less academic youth need access to language, ged, college prep, citizenship, and job skills training. People (the 99 percent) who no longer have disposable income need to access computers if they have foregone internet in order to meet their other needs. People who no longer have disposable income use the library to distract themselves from their problems -- borrowing music, dvds and books (for entertainment and edification). The library builds community through its programs. It provides the tools for an informed citizenry. The library that inspires and educates is the best prevention against fascism!

14165	7/7/2012	I'm really concerned about the upcoming Monday closers. At least some library needs to be open every day - couldn't the days closed be staggered so that some libraries are open on Mondays while being closed another day? What about people who have really crazy work schedules? Job hunters who need to use computers? Homeless people who need a safe place to be? It seems like the decision was made to close all branches on Mondays without thinking of the consequences of what it means to the community to take away a whole day of open doors.
14166	7/7/2012	I would say underuse, because that tends to lead to reduced visibility and/or reduced perception of importance which leads to reduced funding. But in our case, the library gets a LOT of use and seems well loved by the community, but still the funding is less simply because of the poor economy. So I suppose the biggest threat is probably trepidation at asking for increased funding to make up for the weak economy. Ask us! We will fund you!
14167	7/7/2012	Poor leadership by elected officials
14168	7/7/2012	Lack of community support (look what happened in Troy, Michigan: http://vimeo.com/35758683), expressed as underfunding.
14169	7/7/2012	apathy, diminished reading, lack of information about the range of information the libraries provide
14170	7/7/2012	Lack of funding
14171	7/7/2012	Kids seem to be less interested in reading books, and will likely grow into adults who don't read anything but blogs and YouTube comments.
14172	7/7/2012	Lack of funding, Universal internet access
14173	7/7/2012	Our county commissioners not placing the library district on November ballot. It is very important to continue to pursue a district to assure adequate funding in the future.
14174	7/7/2012	lack of funding
14175	7/7/2012	greed, censorship, and devaluation of our library workers
14176	7/7/2012	I didnt know ther was any threat until the hours suddenly changed and they said they didnt have enough money to stay open like they used to. I was real surprised I think they need to be open more not less. Lots of people work when the library is open.
14177	7/7/2012	money
14178	7/7/2012	e-books and no service
14179	7/7/2012	Lack of stable funding. Our libraries need the assurance that comes with a dedicated funding stream. It is a waste of time and money to mount a levy campaign every 3-5 years, and it compromises the library's ability to plan and sustain programming.
14180	7/7/2012	politicians.
14181	7/7/2012	Current funding model
14182	7/7/2012	Bizarre tax-code on top of an already fatigued property tax-paying base. And ebooks. And bears!
14183	7/7/2012	A misunderstanding of what the library really does, how much of their "work" reaches beyond the brick and mortar both physically with programs and literally with computer access through databases etc

14184	7/7/2012	not enough stable funding!
14185	7/7/2012	Funding.
14186	7/7/2012	tea party voters
14187	7/7/2012	Lack of full funding.
14188	7/7/2012	Not having stable funding. Just like our schools.
14189	7/7/2012	government always thinks they don't have money
14190	7/7/2012	Right now, the ridiculous choice of the County Commissioners not to place full funding on the ballot in May. It seems obvious that it would have passed, albeit not with the record percentage that the inadequate measure that they did go with passed. Whoever was responsible for this cowardly and short-sighted decision should be fired.
14191	7/7/2012	county government has squandered the goodwill of the voters. they waited too long to decide what to put out to the voters and now they are unable to adequately explain a situation that seems like total nonsense -- levy funding passes, then cuts take effect after people overwhelmingly vote yes.
14192	7/7/2012	Ignorance of libraries' importance, right-wing opposition to community institutions, and public lack of understanding of the necessity of raising taxes on corporations and the rich.
14193	7/7/2012	I am ignorant of the details!
14194	7/7/2012	Lack of funding to stay current with materials and staffing resources for community education. Closure of libraries at times needed by students and jobseekers.
14195	7/7/2012	lack of secure funding.
14196	7/7/2012	Funding cuts.
14197	7/7/2012	Lack of funding
14198	7/7/2012	Cutting back hours and employees.
14199	7/7/2012	Lack of funding.
14200	7/7/2012	Lack of resources to buy new books and material
14201	7/7/2012	losing funding/the uninformed who demand services but deny money to pay for them
14202	7/7/2012	Probably unstable funding caused by swings in the economy. You must also take into account competition for tax dollars with other services required by the community.
14203	7/7/2012	funding
14204	7/7/2012	loss of funding and a misunderstanding of the importance of libraries, political manipulation
14205	7/7/2012	Poor tax structure at the state level. Stable funding is necessary!
14206	7/7/2012	Unstable budget; community members not realizing how important libraries are to them
14207	7/7/2012	Lack of stable funding and/or an uneducated voting populace.
14208	7/7/2012	Competing with other needed services and the money to support them.
14209	7/7/2012	Lack of funding
14210	7/7/2012	Less hours open leads to less use. Then less interest in funding libraries.
14211	7/7/2012	Being underfunded. I was incredibly shocked that the funding passed but hours were still cut.
14212	7/7/2012	Closing libraries, cutting hours.

14213	7/7/2012	I'm not sure. Probably lack of funding
14214	7/7/2012	Too many to list-other priorities, not knowing how libraries play a strong role in a democratic community, not marketing what the library actually does to the community.
14215	7/7/2012	Lack of funding
14216	7/7/2012	The Budget Seems like there is not money. People that don't speak English well enough for people to understand. Having to ask them what they are saying or please say that so we can understand. Staffing
14217	7/7/2012	County Commissioners who seek to adjust budgets to favor pet projects in stead of maintaining important, cultural mainstays like libraries.
14218	7/7/2012	budget cuts
14219	7/7/2012	Apathy
14220	7/7/2012	The City's Budget.
14221	7/7/2012	lack of knowledge about what it has to offer. 1. Lack of funding. ¶
14222	7/7/2012	2. The tendency of the city's large homeless population to use the library as a day shelter. Not only does this detract from the library's real purpose as a place for learning, investigation and reading but it also unfairly turns librarians into unofficial social workers and mental health professionals.
14223	7/7/2012	Lack of education among the youth population in general (the state of public education is not supportive of wide-spread public library usage) as the youth age they don't seek out libraries or the opportunities there. Even further there is a lack of education amongst adults that leads to misunderstanding how tax dollars work.
14224	7/7/2012	Politicians with an agenda, and people who don't utilize the services on a regular basis.
14225	7/7/2012	Funding
14226	7/7/2012	insufficient funding
14227	7/7/2012	that people don't realize all the amazing things they can do, for anyone! not just people with kids (which is always what gets promoted). not just putting the latest books on hold (though they do do a great job helping you find the next book you want to read!). not just for folks who need access to computers (but thank goodness they are there since everything is online now). but also, they will help you with any question under the sun! they'll help you research the history of your house, or help you write your business plan, or help you with home improvements or any kind of research project. they will help you find anything you need, and they are much more friendly, knowledgeable, and interested in you than Google! if everyone who could use the library actually did (which is everyone!) than people would see it is invaluable (and not just for kids).
14228	7/7/2012	jeff cogen. doesn't give a shit about libraries
14229	7/7/2012	I am very worried at the fact that our libraries are not funded enough to maintain normal operations. Shutting doors is a backwards direction when so many people depend on the library for their own development.

14230	7/7/2012	Funding not keeping up with costs
14231	7/7/2012	Funding issues?
14232	7/7/2012	Funding. Apathy from community members. Many people don't realize what a special specimen of public library we have here in PDX. It really is a remarkable program and we should uphold its excellence by caring for it and funding it adequately.
14233	7/6/2012	Lack of funding from the state.
14234	7/6/2012	Not funding
14235	7/6/2012	Not enough funding.
14236	7/6/2012	Public misunderstanding of where the library's funds come from and how the library uses them. I think it is very important for people to know how efficiently the library uses the funds it has to deliver the quality and quantity of service it does.
14237	7/6/2012	Not becoming its own district.
14238	7/6/2012	Lack of stable funding.
14239	7/6/2012	Reduced tax revenue and Library competition for other essential services is the major threat. Right Wing anti-tax conservatives are no help either.[] The priority should be keeping the branches open as much and long as possible with available dollars. [] My highest pick would be number 1 ; keep branches open at least 7 days a week.
14240	7/6/2012	People with means assuming that they can personally obtain anything they want online or from bookstores and forgetting about the well-being of the whole community, especially underprivileged - young, old infirm, poor, etc.
14241	7/6/2012	The right wing! We have to be willing to raise taxes to continue paying for public services.
14242	7/6/2012	In adequate funding
14243	7/6/2012	Cultural decline. Google and Library are not the same thing, but many people think they are & they don't see the point of paying for public libraries.
14244	7/6/2012	Insecure funding. As I perceive it, the biggest threat is in having to ask the public repeatedly for increased taxation. These people affected, mostly middle class citizens, are having a hard time and public education, the police, fire dept. etc are also vying for that same money source.[]
14245	7/6/2012	Another threat is that we are more and more into the electronic age, the kindls, etc., but there is nothing, nothing like the real feel of a book whose velvety pages you can turn. It smells like a book. It is nice, like a puppy dog, to have by your side and not have to flick a switch when you want to read.
14246	7/6/2012	Funding I would imagine...
14247	7/6/2012	people who think that the library is not work their time/money in taxes, bonds and etc. maybe those people dont realize all that the library offers and has. its sad.
14248	7/6/2012	Lack of community cohesiveness
14249	7/6/2012	Financing system and poor economic outlook

14250	7/6/2012	inadequate funding, I suppose. They are certainly loved and used. The threat must be someone doesn't think public money is well spent on libraries. In fact it couldn't be better spent, given all the ramifications that stem from having such a good library system.
14251	7/6/2012	Lack of funding and understanding of the services they provide.
14252	7/6/2012	The economy threatens the tax-base which funds the library system.
14253	7/6/2012	funding
14254	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14255	7/6/2012	not sure. the internet? certain demographics need the libraries less with increased use of the internet (as a general information resource, as well as for books and other entertainment) (and so would be less interested in funding libraries, i would think) ... but others need it just as much or more for those reasons and then some, so i'm not sure how to call that a threat. maybe the disconnectedness of our communities, and people's lack of awareness of / proper appreciation for the library.
14256	7/6/2012	People that are afraid of paying for government services.
14257	7/6/2012	Lack of funding and possibility that libraries could be open fewer hours.
14258	7/6/2012	Lack of funding!
14259	7/6/2012	Lack of funds
14260	7/6/2012	Oregon's messed-up property tax system is the biggest threat to almost all of our public services, including libraries. But for the library specifically, the greatest threat is what that system does to levy-funded services. The library needs stable, long-term funding.
14261	7/6/2012	Probably budget cuts. I love the library though and only buy books after I know I want to own them (usually reference books). I only know I want to own them after I borrow them from the library. It's possible that the schools and libraries could create a system that required students to do research AT the library itself, NOT just online. I think this would help instill what I learned as a kid about libraries' benefits, especially for research. In college it was very obvious that my library use skills were necessary, and I was glad to have them.
14262	7/6/2012	short sighted people who can't look past their wallets, and think that the services should just be there without them having to pay anything.
14263	7/6/2012	Our government duping us into thinking they need to raise taxes to fund libraries rather than cutting spending in non-critical areas (i.e. flowers in the roads, more bike lanes, etc.)
14264	7/6/2012	Unstable funding
14265	7/6/2012	Poor management!
14266	7/6/2012	Tax-cutting measures.
14267	7/6/2012	Short hours... You have to understand people do work, so with the short hours, it is very hard for us to get to the library before it closes.
14268	7/6/2012	No money
14269	7/6/2012	Holgate is a small but busy branch, would hate to see closure, reduced hours are better. Maybe Friday vs Monday being closed.

14270	7/6/2012	The politics of the levy renewal and possible delay on voting for the library district
14271	7/6/2012	Eletronic books vs. printed books
14272	7/6/2012	From my point of view, it seems like lack of funding ... right?
14273	7/6/2012	Too much bureaucracy
14274	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14275	7/6/2012	Sometimes it appears that the system tries to provide too many services to too many constituencies. It needs to focus on core services - reading, education & access - and control costs otherwise. Like any public employer, the cost of benefits and retirement probably use a lot of the funds, so staffing needs to be managed - six days a week seems fine. Downtown at Central, there do seem to be a number of homeless people who use the library more for camping than for materials, but I'm not sure how much cost this behavior generates.
14276	7/6/2012	People who don't understand how important it is for the community as a whole and aren't willing to pay enough taxes to support it.
14277	7/6/2012	Funding. Duh
14278	7/6/2012	Lack of funds, not lack of use.
14279	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14280	7/6/2012	People who don't actually read seldom take advantage of libraries; they might not want to fund them properly because they're unaware of all the programs, services and media the library offers. There are those in politics who can't see the value in programs and services that enhance life and intelligence, but don't make money.
14281	7/6/2012	Loss of funding
14282	7/6/2012	closure
14283	7/6/2012	F'ing tea party/anti_government
14284	7/6/2012	The homeless and other squatters driving away tax paying patrons.
14285	7/6/2012	Tax cuts
14286	7/6/2012	lack of government funding. County knows that taxpayers love the libraries and will vote for funding levies, but I think this makes it easier for County to reduce its own contribution.
14287	7/6/2012	Taxes and hours and programs being cut
14288	7/6/2012	Stupid people. People who don't understand the value of the library, but do have a say in funding!
14289	7/6/2012	fear of taxes & anti gov't/union jobs
14290	7/6/2012	Our property tax system is the biggest threat to our local libraries and most other public services. Until that is fixed we will continue to experience these challenges. Since the passage of ballot measure 5, the burden has shifted to individuals rather than corporations and that helps fuel people's reluctance to support change. They feel as if they are paying a lot, but don't see the services they think they should be getting. ¶ As far as the library goes, the biggest threat is a lack of stable funding. Covering 2/3 of the library's costs with temporary levies does not make sense.

14291	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14292	7/6/2012	eReaders
14293	7/6/2012	Lack of funding.
14294	7/6/2012	lack of funding. the tea party
14295	7/6/2012	The so-called "austerity" programs that threaten most of our nation and community. Also, not having a stable funding base.
14296	7/6/2012	The internet.
14297	7/6/2012	I couldnt rank the above services because of the tablet I'm using, but I would say the biggest threat to our local libraries comes from people not wanting to pay for the library.
14298	7/6/2012	money
14299	7/6/2012	Losing regular hours. I think the biggest threats are fewer days open and/or fewer open hours. I understand why some days the library first opens at noon, but ... I very rarely take advantage of the evening hours.[]
14300	7/6/2012	[] It is important that the library continues to have sufficient numbers of current materials.
14301	7/6/2012	Funding. I also think that ignorance is a threat as so many people do not realize the role of the library in a community. Perhaps they assume that the library is just a place to check out books rather than a place to not only check out books and other media, but also to take classes, use computer resources, and grow.
14302	7/6/2012	ignorance and apathy
14303	7/6/2012	Citizens not understanding or comprehending how vital and important a public library is to a thriving society.
14304	7/6/2012	Resource scarcity- financial cuts
14305	7/6/2012	funding not adequate - the library needs to be open and fully staffed 7 days a week
14306	7/6/2012	Jeff Cogan. 1st[] Second- Adults who only use our computers to view adult websites[] Third- Violence at the Central library[] Fourth-[] The failure of the library district vote.
14307	7/6/2012	threat?
14308	7/6/2012	republicans
14309	7/6/2012	Underfunding.
14310	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14311	7/6/2012	Poor management.
14312	7/6/2012	Underfunding. There needs to be a stable source of funding for our libraries so their hours and services are not cut.
14313	7/6/2012	Lack of long-term, stable funding.

14314	7/6/2012	Misguided leadership.
14315	7/6/2012	Not having permanent, stable funding.
14316	7/6/2012	Insecure funding for the future.
14317	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14318	7/6/2012	Most likely budget issues!
14319	7/6/2012	Not being open when we need them to be.
14320	7/6/2012	Public misperception of who uses the library and how ... leading to the belief that libraries are not a necessary resource in our community.
14321	7/6/2012	Lack of knowledge about how libraries are funded.
14322	7/6/2012	The economy. It's hard going out for levies every 5 years, even though every levy has passed. Competing levies and the vote happening in November right after people have received their property tax statements always cause me anxiety as to whether we will get a levy passed. Also the weird Oregon tax laws keep us from collecting the full levy rate, if we collected the entire amount the levy says, it would make a difference.
14323	7/6/2012	Challenge of staying relevant.
14324	7/6/2012	Not enough funding!
14325	7/6/2012	Everything is more expensive and funding is stagnant.
14326	7/6/2012	Not maintaining it's place as the paragon of our desires as a community, and a way for the library to continue being the culmination of all that a city wants and needs to be. Cutting services is the biggest threat for maintaining the place the library holds in our consciousness as a society
14327	7/6/2012	lack of funding, apparently...
14328	7/6/2012	Lack of stable funding
14329	7/6/2012	Lack of stable funding. Lack of understanding about libraries resources by non users.
14330	7/6/2012	lack of funding
14331	7/6/2012	Not having stable funding.
14332	7/6/2012	Anti-tax sentiment.
14333	7/6/2012	Lack of funds which leads to inadequate services both in storytimes and reference help.
14334	7/6/2012	diminishing funding
14335	7/6/2012	Not telling us the whole story: I voted for the levy, this and every time. Then I was told the hours would decrease. I don't like the politics of freedom. The library system must remain open; waiting until after the vote to tell us access will decrease is not ok.
14336	7/6/2012	The fact that those of us with means and access to other sources for much of what the libraries offer won't feel the need to support for those the libraries serve more regularly because of a lack of means/access.
14337	7/6/2012	Funding
14338	7/6/2012	shortened hours
14339	7/6/2012	People not understanding the funding that it takes to keep the libraries open and available.

14340	7/6/2012	The ranking question does not work. [] Biggest threat is lack of funds.
14341	7/6/2012	Lack of funding. Austerity measures.
14342	7/6/2012	Lack of funding while need increases.
14343	7/6/2012	Technology will continue to change how we access and use information. Libraries of the future may not look like they do now -- is this a threat? Not necessarily ... we need to be smarter about how we plan for the future. I don't think that a tax district is smart planning.
14344	7/6/2012	lack of money
14345	7/6/2012	Funds taken away. People not seeing the value.
14346	7/6/2012	lack of funding[] lack of focus on the library's part
14347	7/6/2012	Relevance in today's economy. With the advent of the internet, there's little reason to use a public library anymore. Would be nice to see those revenues re-directed towards job creation, economic development, etc.
14348	7/6/2012	Limiting weekday hours to the extent that it is virtually impossible to pick up held items (i.e. now closing at 5 p.m.) This is completely inaccessible for the majority of working adults.
14349	7/6/2012	Health care and pension costs of employees
14350	7/6/2012	not enough funding to support them
14351	7/6/2012	Cutting funds and digital technology.
14352	7/6/2012	Lack of permanent funding
14353	7/6/2012	Funding cuts.
14354	7/6/2012	budget cuts!
14355	7/6/2012	Not having consistent funding is the biggest threat to MCL. Having to beg for money every five years is ridiculous.
14356	7/6/2012	Underfunding.
14357	7/6/2012	No secure funding for our libraries.
14358	7/6/2012	an unstable funding structure
14359	7/6/2012	A perceived lack of ability to fund and the desire to let someone else pay for what we want government to do.
14360	7/6/2012	People don't understand the importance of a free library to our freedom and equality in our society or they aren't willing to pay taxes to support it.
14361	7/6/2012	Funding! We have a jewel of a system and we need to take care of it.
14362	7/6/2012	Lack of solid consistent funding. Having to "compete" against government entities that are less fiscally responsible than MCL for bond measures.
14363	7/6/2012	Funding. Apathy.
14364	7/6/2012	E-books and a generation of parents who have not taught their kids the importance of reading.

14365	7/6/2012	Funding of course.
14366	7/6/2012	Not sure, but maybe funding. It's odd that the hours were recently cut after the bond measure was passed. Of course, I can understand that the bond funds may have been shoring up your budget and that you might've had to make even deeper cuts in hours without the bond. But the library missed a key opportunity to explain the oddness of this timing--it felt abrupt and counterintuitive. The Monday after I heard about the cut in hours (on the news), I saw several people trying to get into my local branch, and the signage still showed hours for Monday, with no signage explaining the new hours. I love the Multnomah County library system, but this move seemed flat-footed. The impact could be that people think twice before voting for future library-funding measures, because it may not seem to matter, or you may suffer the creeping suspicion (like our schools do) that the library's leadership isn't managing our funds well. If I'm paying $13 extra a month on my property taxes, I really don't mind if the money is being spent well (which I would guess that it is, for the record), but some people might have a new kernel of doubt after this.
14367	7/6/2012	inadequate funding. Only service that the government offers that is available and useable throughout entire persons life. Birth to death. That makes it so unique and such an integral part of a person entire life. Especially if it is always there when you need it.
14368	7/6/2012	Unstable funding and political brinksmanship.
14369	7/6/2012	The lack of long term stable funding.
14370	7/6/2012	Do not know.
14371	7/6/2012	If you start cutting hours the programs will not be accessable and the turn out will start to drop.
14372	7/6/2012	Declining revenue as the County continues to defund libraries.
14373	7/6/2012	loss of funding
14374	7/6/2012	Lack of funding.
14375	7/6/2012	Not embracing the future of libraries- more flexible programming, staff roles, civic engagement pops., skilled volunteering, community center
14376	7/6/2012	Funding.
14377	7/6/2012	Republicans, probably.
14378	7/6/2012	Budgets too low to provide proper services at all locations.
14379	7/6/2012	lack of funds
14380	7/6/2012	technology, the internet, declining public support ($), declining middle class.
14381	7/6/2012	Drug use in libraries
14382	7/6/2012	Likely lack of funding - or low valuation of its importance by its citizens.
14383	7/6/2012	The biggest threat is reduction of inventory and reduction of access (reducing hours and days)
14384	7/6/2012	$$$$
14385	7/6/2012	Republicans.
14386	7/6/2012	People who don't want to pay for shared community services

14387	7/6/2012	People who don't want to pay for them, or want to privatize them! Or perhaps the economy in general is the real threat, putting pressure on libraries by increasing demand for services while the scarcity of jobs puts enormous pressure on taxpayers, who start worrying about money and wondering what can be cut from government budgets.
14388	7/6/2012	Money, of course. Oh, and crazy tea partiers/libertarianuts who think they shouldn't exist at all.
14389	7/6/2012	Lack of funding, decentralization of knowledge. Perception issues with lack of value-added.
14390	7/6/2012	The lack of a permanent, stable funding source. Current funding is insufficient for a community resource that is so important and so widely and heavily utilized. Reduced hours and services is a terrible loss to the community.
14391	7/6/2012	lack of funding
14392	7/6/2012	Shrinking funds which, in turn, compromises the quality of the service and the continued support and development of the collection. Without adequate staffing at all levels, the ability of the library to provide materials to the public when they are needed is surely sacrificed.
14393	7/6/2012	Reductions in media availability .
14394	7/6/2012	Money and a lack of understanding of every thing our libraries offer.
14395	7/6/2012	Losing hours will make the library less convenient and less valuable to people. I worry it will make them less likely to support it at the ballot box, too. I also worry that electronic materials will be less available than printed materials have always been. (Fewer copies, longer waits, limited formats, etc)
14396	7/6/2012	Funding
14397	7/6/2012	The lack of awareness on what a resource the library is.
14398	7/6/2012	Republicans.
14399	7/6/2012	This section seems to be broken because my first two choices are correct: 1, programs for children, 2, programs and resources for jobseekers but I don't want a 3 4 or 5 only #6 which is current materials. I think this is the least important. The library needs to focus on classics and important books not the latest self help book or every new DVD and CD that comes out. I just don't think we need 100 copies of Hot Tub Time Machine.
14400	7/6/2012	lack of funding
14401	7/6/2012	People who don't realize what an incredible, amazing asset our libraries are will always be libraries' biggest threat. They don't realize this because they don't use them! I get access to an amazing variety of books and other materials, magazines delivered to me online, ebooks, the great summer reading program for my kids, lots and lots of holds... and the chance to talk with the INCREDIBLE STAFF who help me with everything from quickly printing something I need (I don't have a printer at home) to finding my next great read to alerting me when a book I might like is on the lucky day shelf.

14402	7/6/2012	Lack of money for funding.. But more than that I also think that many people are not familiar with the many services that the library provides. The wide variety of their programs is not very well publicized. I talk to people all the time who don't know that the library has ebooks, has free music download, has free computer access, has public meeting rooms, has multi-cultural programs,has special programs for teens, etc. They don't know how hard the library works to provide equal access for all people. They don't know that they can just call the library with questions or come in with questions and people in the library will cheerfully go above and beyond to help them find answers. Readers know about the benefits of the library. But non-readers? Or readers who can afford to buy their own books? Or what about people who feel it is more convenient to use their own electronic device to access their reading material, music and entertainment? They may not be as convinced of the importance of paying for something that doesn't benefit them. Or they may not realize just how important the library is to people who have a limited or no income. Or even someone like myself- there is no way that I could buy all the books and materials that I am interested in . I work at a school with limited resources- I use my educator card to be able to supplement the curriculum and show students new authors and materials. When my own kids were
14403	7/6/2012	Not being open
14404	7/6/2012	Inadequate funding
14405	7/6/2012	Insufficient funding
14406	7/6/2012	Closing or limiting hours. Lack of funds for new materials.
14407	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14408	7/6/2012	Being so dependant on the current form of funding.
14409	7/6/2012	Lack of funding.
14410	7/6/2012	bad local funding and POLITICS!!! Jeff Cogen, that means you!!!
14411	7/6/2012	The inconsistent source of funding. For such a hugely successful, widely used library system we NEED a library district, or secure funding for our libraries. They are such treasures, they cannot rest on a variable levy.
14412	7/6/2012	Lack of funding.
14413	7/6/2012	apathy
14414	7/6/2012	Electronic books. With books cheaper, fewer folks go to library. Need to educate public about its' other uses, for job seekers, computer classes, children's programs, etc.
14415	7/6/2012	Lack of consistent funding.The library sometimes seems like it has to appeal to the masses by having large quantities of popular books and movies instead of amassing a collection of resource material for the community.
14416	7/6/2012	E-books, Amazon
14417	7/6/2012	I don't know.
14418	7/6/2012	Proprietary e-books that can't be circulated beyond a set number of copies
14419	7/6/2012	Not having access to materials and computer to everyone who needs them.
14420	7/6/2012	lack of funding
14421	7/6/2012	Lack of funding.
14422	7/6/2012	complacency

14423	7/6/2012	Loss of funding, I would guess. But shouldn't you be telling us what the threats to the library are? Most people in the area (myself included) probably have no idea what the library system is up against, whether that relates to funding, political pressures, or anything else. I did read an article (in Yes! Magazine, I believe) that said that privatizing library services is a huge threat to local libraries, and I believe it. But it has not been mentioned in any of the recent conversations I've seen about Multnomah County libraries.
14424	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14425	7/6/2012	It's the lack of funding. I'm not too knowledgeable about the system that provides for them but obviously it's not getting what it needs. I know it doesn't lack for users. There may be some very uninterested, uninformed people who don't think that's important- I don't even think they need to try for more users- it's always busy- Money- that's what it comes down to.
14426	7/6/2012	People not realizing how awesome they are. And bucking up accordingly.
14427	7/6/2012	the changing technology; I think there are people who crave a physical copy - and getting publishers to distribute packages of publishing all at once. The complication of convenience and traffic to libraries. Though the albina library is closer to my residence; my choice is the central library which has hrs that I can access more easily (close to work). The audience of the library.
14428	7/6/2012	Loss of money .
14429	7/6/2012	No Funding - lets solve this!!
14430	7/6/2012	i do not know.
14431	7/6/2012	Unstable funding.
14432	7/6/2012	Funding and lack or awareness of it's need.
14433	7/6/2012	inadequate, unreliable funding
14434	7/6/2012	Loss of funding.
14435	7/6/2012	Proposed hour shortages, proposed branch closings. A ethod of operating that doesn't look at the possibillity of eliminating "current materials" in return for keeping full hours and the basics (a copier, a printer, and books)
14436	7/6/2012	unstable funding
14437	7/6/2012	Funds being cut and libraries not opened to the community.
14438	7/6/2012	The lack of permanent stable funding.
14439	7/6/2012	Lack of stable funding. We need a library district and we need it now!
14440	7/6/2012	Funding cuts! Internet/computers
14441	7/6/2012	I would imagine it's a lowering of funds available.
14442	7/6/2012	Funding plus a lack of awareness of what the library needs and how the public can help.
14443	7/6/2012	I assume it's not having enough funding to keep the libraries operating at pre July 1, 2012 levels; in other words we need to pay more to maintain library services.
14444	7/6/2012	Political cowardice and capitulation.

14445	7/6/2012	lack of funding
14446	7/6/2012	funding that has to be renewed every couple of years -- it takes so much time and effort and money to run those campaigns and it's so scary for us and for the staff... This community needs to commit to the library in the same way that the library's been committed to the community for 150 years.
14447	7/6/2012	Funding cuts
14448	7/6/2012	funding
14449	7/6/2012	I'm scared of seeing them close completely, or if that's too ominous, of not having convenient hours, which would deter a great many patrons. Also, not having current or enough materials. Not everyone wants to or can afford to go to a bookstore and spend money on something they only need temporarily. Also, lack of community.
14450	7/6/2012	I feel like the ease of access for information on the internet at home makes it easy to ignore the resources available at the library. And the fact that younger kids are not as interested in picking up a new book every other week.
14451	7/6/2012	Lack of funding, I'm sure. We love our library and would hate to see it change.
14452	7/6/2012	Not being funded fully or permanently
14453	7/6/2012	politics and slumping economy (ironic that when we need the library the most-that is when cutbacks have to be made)
14454	7/6/2012	Reduced funding.
14455	7/6/2012	It is hard to say. I'm not sure.
14456	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14457	7/6/2012	Not having the resources to keep them open and functioning fully. People need these services more than ever.
14458	7/6/2012	Lack of financial support. Corporate and business taxes should help fund libraries which help provide an educated and effective work force for Portland metro area?
14459	7/6/2012	Stable funding
14460	7/6/2012	County leadership not allowing the library to do what it needs to survive and thrive.
14461	7/6/2012	gt5rg54
14462	7/6/2012	Lack of funds! And less access to the library (i.e., open fewer days per week) can circle into less usage, leading to less funding, and on and on. I don't want to see that happen!
14463	7/6/2012	Unstable funding due to the current model.
14464	7/6/2012	Willful ignorance.
14465	7/6/2012	$$$$
14466	7/6/2012	Lack of funding?
14467	7/6/2012	Closing for too many days a week.
14468	7/6/2012	Lack of access when it's most convenient for users
14469	7/6/2012	People who think you can find everything yourself on the internet.

14470	7/6/2012	Superficial services and 'novelties' access rather than research resource, as prime identity. As well as, the often noted glut of employees through out library system, which is an unnecessary budget burden.
14471	7/6/2012	I don't know but I want to get more informed about this issue.
14472	7/6/2012	The Illiterate
14473	7/6/2012	That would be the lack of funds. Also the fact that assholes disrespect library materials.
14474	7/6/2012	Policies and laws that maintain or increase income inequality and that reduce the public good or commons.
14475	7/6/2012	Lack of funding
14476	7/6/2012	That they will close due to electronic books, etc.
14477	7/6/2012	Bears? Budget cuts. Conservative politicians reducing public spending, touting it as unimportant. Mitt Romney.
14478	7/6/2012	Businesses posing as religious institutions to avoid paying property taxes.
14479	7/6/2012	Lack of consistent funding.
14480	7/6/2012	People who think they know what I should read and not read. People who in an effort to control others will take it out on the library's funding.
14481	7/6/2012	Lack of funding.
14482	7/6/2012	1. Lack of support from the county. It seems like there is little support from the commissioners. Do any of them use the Library?¶ 2. We need a stable financial base for the Library.
14483	7/5/2012	Not sure.
14484	7/5/2012	Lack of stable funding. The county needs to give people the option of voting on establishing a library district.
14485	7/5/2012	Lack of funding with what should be going to the library going to other things
14486	7/5/2012	the false notion that they are no longer a valuable resource. With a downturn in the economy I feel that libraries are even more important for those hoping to expand their skills/knowledge when college educations are becoming so much more expensive be one a first time or return student. People should be able to study and learn outside of standard academia.
14487	7/5/2012	Becoming inconvenient and/or unavailable.

14488	7/5/2012	"Serving" community silos instead of finding ways to mix subcultures. We have an incredibly thoughtful creative core in Portland that could offer so much to others in the County if the library reached out. A program that seeks to leverage the skills and talents of some of these inspired citizens in hi-tech, design, advertising, marketing, art and culture fields could go a long way to breaking barriers and integrating traditionally polarized groups.¶ ¶ This and poor proof reading:¶ "If the Multnomah County Board of Commissioners decides to place a measure to establish a Library District they could chose to put it on the ballot in November 2012 or November 2014."
14489	7/5/2012	underfunding
14490	7/5/2012	I don't know...fire?
14491	7/5/2012	Budget cuts
14492	7/5/2012	Asking people to rank (in the question above) what should be fully funded library programs and materials availability is a huge part of the problem! I am so very disappointed that someone made the decision to not pursue additional funding for the levy renewal this past election cycle, out of fear that it would be voted against by the people of this county. I think the residents of Multnomah county have spoken loud and clear about just how important this library system is to them, by consistently voting FOR the levys we've been asked to fund. Finding out AFTER the election that the levy passing would still not stem the tide of cutbacks and funding shortfalls was a huge blow. It's just that sort of short sighted thinking that makes people feel they're being cheated and lied to by politicians. I am not sure you'll have an easy time of passing an increase now. Shameful.
14493	7/5/2012	Apathy from people who think the Internet is sufficient.
14494	7/5/2012	Lack of funding; poor statewide and national tax policies
14495	7/5/2012	Funding!
14496	7/5/2012	Citizens who do not use the library on a regular basis not understanding it's importance in the daily lives of so many of the citizens of Portland...
14497	7/5/2012	down economy
14498	7/5/2012	That low use means no use. Unfair for others to suffer because not enough people are coming in to the branches. Serve anyone who comes in!
14499	7/5/2012	lack of funding.
14500	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14501	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14502	7/5/2012	Funding...like everything else. Perhaps raise fines. Collect them at $5 instead of when you've accumulated $10.
14503	7/5/2012	People believing that it isn't important enough. I hear people all the time say that kids aren't reading enough anymore, it seems that the problem is that rather than thinking it means the libraries need more funding- this means that libraries aren't as important. Which obviously isn't the case.

14504	7/5/2012	Funding cuts!! The libraries are not a priority to the city, and that means that when programs need to be cut, the library is usually at the top of the list for programs that get cut.
14505	7/5/2012	Budget cuts to SERVICES and programs that other organizations, like Amazon and Barnes & Noble, can't provide.
14506	7/5/2012	Stable funding
14507	7/5/2012	Lack of funding
14508	7/5/2012	Multnomah County funding instability and the cost of buying services from the county.
14509	7/5/2012	shrug morons? The Multnomah Library is something we can and should be proud of as residents, and it's nationally known to be one of the finest. let's keep it that way!
14510	7/5/2012	lack of funding
14511	7/5/2012	Money
14512	7/5/2012	Lack of funding
14513	7/5/2012	War funding rather than library and school funding
14514	7/5/2012	a lack of funding
14515	7/5/2012	lack of funding
14516	7/5/2012	I think they need to be open as much as possible to be a resource for all people, regardless of work schedule, etc.
14517	7/5/2012	Lack of funding
14518	7/5/2012	Cutting of hours and programs.
14519	7/5/2012	Reduced hours.
14520	7/5/2012	Mismanagement of the library and poor public relations. When the public perceives that money is misspent on high salaries, or political and controversial social agendas they lose public support for bonds and levies. The library should also be careful to spend money on materials considered generally acceptable by all. Stories about people using the library to access pornography (digital or print) make people want to defund the library.
14521	7/5/2012	The biggest threat is that people don't think of the library's value to the entire community, but instead focus on individual use.
14522	7/5/2012	lack of funding
14523	7/5/2012	funding
14524	7/5/2012	Funding. I think that's the only threat.
14525	7/5/2012	Closure.
14526	7/5/2012	Funding?
14527	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14528	7/5/2012	Small minded politicians, ignorant citizens, and not enough money to run the libraries effectively.
14529	7/5/2012	being used as homeless day shelters because the city refuses to fulfill its stated obligation of providing one in the core area. And the advent of the e-book...how will the library handle this
14530	7/5/2012	closing branches completely; losing the middle/ high school group of reasers

14531	7/5/2012	many... funding needing to be open.. needing programs
14532	7/5/2012	1. People don't understand compression and our tax base. [] 2. Culturally we seem to have forgotten how important the commons is to our community. Public libraries aren't luxuries, they're necessities that help shape the community we want.
14533	7/5/2012	The biggest threat is lack of funding! I believe that libraries are the foundation for a healthy and sustainable community, and libraries - as well as public education and public transit, should be at the top of the priority list for every city, county and state politician.
14534	7/5/2012	Lack of funding and financial support is the biggest threat to our libraries. The county needs to establish a permanent funding source that will be able keep all branches open seven days a week and keep them well staffed and stocked with the materials needed.
14535	7/5/2012	The biggest threat seems to be buying 526 volumes of a Harry Potter book and selling it for $1.50 a year later. We can wait a while for our books, but at the rate they go on "sale" at the Title Wave, you'll be out of books in two years.[] Buy one for $1.50 and get 5 free seems like a good deal, but sho bought the five free books which retail for $26.00, and how much did they pay?
14536	7/5/2012	Inadequate funding that will ensure the consistent service and quality we've come to expect and enjoy from our great library system.. I think we're fortunate that most people and key community leaders accept the importance of having a healthy library system. I'm grateful that our library does not seem to be under attack as a low priority. For Multnomah County - the lack of current books or enough of them. Travel is a great example. If I can't get it, I will buy it. I don't even use the Mult Co library for travel books anymore. So out of date. [] []
14537	7/5/2012	The Library should be open as much as it can afford. And what it can afford shouldn't be based on the amount of general fund. The general fund amount should be lessened as the County has to cut funds, not protected just because of a Levy. I don't even like how the questions on hours above are worded, a bit loaded. *At least, Full hours. . Should be more about hours vs trade offs.
14538	7/5/2012	Probably ignorance... people who don't know what's going on and then lament when changes are made.
14539	7/5/2012	Apathy
14540	7/5/2012	Funding.
14541	7/5/2012	Lack of understanding about the importance of fully funding the library system and its programs.
14542	7/5/2012	Overuse - the libraries are packed because of the great staff and resources. I fear they will be stretched too thin with only being open six days a week.
14543	7/5/2012	Lack of sufficient funding to allow for the demands put on staff and materials in terms of usage during this economic down turn.
14544	7/5/2012	Apparently lack of funding. Perhaps also people not knowing about what a great resource the library can be for the community.

14545	7/5/2012	Lack of funding and being loved too much.
14546	7/5/2012	Lack of funding
14547	7/5/2012	Lack of funding
14548	7/5/2012	Becoming obsolete by not having up-to-date resources, materials, etc.
14549	7/5/2012	Not prioritizing funding.
14550	7/5/2012	Poor visibility of the amazing work they do in our community, which can lead to reduced funding.
14551	7/5/2012	Pop culture's lack of civic-mindedness and disinterest in literacy.
14552	7/5/2012	idk. Cthulhu?
14553	7/5/2012	Lack of adequate funding from people not willing to pay taxes to be a part of a better society.
14554	7/5/2012	Privatization
14555	7/5/2012	Lack of stable funding
14556	7/5/2012	Anti-tax organizations
14557	7/5/2012	I'm guessing funding.
14558	7/5/2012	e-media, funding...
14559	7/5/2012	Budget, budget, budget
14560	7/5/2012	Metered parking
14561	7/5/2012	Not paying for them?
14562	7/5/2012	The biggest threat to our local libraries under its current funding setup would be apathetic voters. Especially here in Multnomah County where there is so much wasted tax money (and compounded by the City of Portland's fiscal irresponsibility). This weighs heavily on voters each and every time a bond or levy is put to a vote. The library frankly is one of the few taxes I am happy to support.
14563	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14564	7/5/2012	Short-sightedness of voters. A faltering economy means libraries are more important than ever!
14565	7/5/2012	That reading is not as an important source of entertainment as it once was. That reading isn't stressed as an important life skill. I mean when you have kids that are passed from grade to grade and graduate with a grade 3 reading level, it says something about the society.
14566	7/5/2012	I honestly don't know. I'm okay with the libraries being closed one day a week, but I would hate to see additional cuts. Our library has been such a wonderful resource to us in our community.
14567	7/5/2012	Funding. Slow growth economy and tax rates.
14568	7/5/2012	Lack of adequate funding (in part due to the effect of compression on levy funds)
14569	7/5/2012	If libraries don't respond to community needs
14570	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14571	7/5/2012	Not enough funding.
14572	7/5/2012	Lack of funding that leads to closures, etc.
14573	7/5/2012	lack of funding
14574	7/5/2012	Funding cuts.
14575	7/5/2012	Staff, hour and service cuts.

14576	7/5/2012	not sure
14577	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14578	7/5/2012	Diminished collections. Excessive holds on limited copies. Limited hours.
14579	7/5/2012	Penny pinching
14580	7/5/2012	funding
14581	7/5/2012	The economy
14582	7/5/2012	Canceling programs for kids, not having access to new materials, and having a library that is not open often with regular hours
14583	7/5/2012	Tax activists.
14584	7/5/2012	continually asking for taxes/levies competing with school funding.
14585	7/5/2012	non stable funding
14586	7/5/2012	I think the biggest threat continues to be the dwindling funds and the Internet. When libraries started, there wasn't such a thing as the Internet. Many industries are struggling to find out how to survive including commercial bookstores, newspapers, the recording industry/music, etc.
14587	7/5/2012	The anti-tax lobby that views no tax as a good tax.
14588	7/5/2012	People who don't like to read. People that don't realize the importance of having easy access to free knowledge. Lack of funding.
14589	7/5/2012	Lack of every day access. I really want the library open 7 days a week.
14590	7/5/2012	Lack of funding, political machinations, folks who don't value the library's services and don't prioritize libraries in fiscal planning.
14591	7/5/2012	anti-tax and anti-science conservatives cutting state/federal budgets
14592	7/5/2012	People who don't want to support state/local services through taxes generally and those who don't see why their taxes should pay for services they don't currently value or use (schools, libraries); corporatists who want everything that is of value in the public sphere monetized and privatized.
14593	7/5/2012	Ambivalence from the community at large. People just assume that the library will always be there functioning at a high level. Most people love libraries, but know very little about how they work and what they need, so they assume that the library is not in need of anything.
14594	7/5/2012	Weirdos who don't understand about the tax/levy system (it IS confusing) and the profound benefit to the community at large that access to a library provides. AND the crazy number of overlapping and oppositional government levels that get fighty over taxpayer monies.
14595	7/5/2012	Probably the poor economy.
14596	7/5/2012	Lack of funding Inability to keep up with on-demand media (streaming and e-delivery).
14597	7/5/2012	Lack of funding
14598	7/5/2012	Lack of funding, community apathy
14599	7/5/2012	Losing valued programs for pre-school and school age children; losing valued librarians and community jobs.

14600	7/5/2012	Closures
14601	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14602	7/5/2012	Not enough money.
14603	7/5/2012	Obviously budget cuts at all are the largest threat. Assuming those cannot be circumvented, the next largest threat would be a decrease in service. Right now the library has an excellent staff, is well stocked, and offers countless programs that are not available other places. Personally, as a young adult, I am most concerned with the books themselves and less with the programs for young children and the elderly, but I do think that those programs are vastly more important than a few hours of extra time open.
14604	7/5/2012	Not enough funding--the story of everything in Oregon these days.
14605	7/5/2012	I don't like the way it is funded because it is so closely tied to our property taxes. I will always vote to fund it, but some people feel our property taxes are too high and cringe at the thought of funding it that way. Plus, with so many empty homes, it makes it difficult to fund the library. Also, some taxpayers do not like to vote every couple of years to raise their taxes. I'm hoping we can find a better way to fully fund our libraries so that services can be expanded, not cut.
14606	7/5/2012	The budget cuts
14607	7/5/2012	Threat? This is a vague and poorly designed question.
14608	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14609	7/5/2012	.
14610	7/5/2012	false ideas of budget cutting - right wingers.
14611	7/5/2012	illiteracy
14612	7/5/2012	People who reject taxation as a concept.
14613	7/5/2012	insufficient funding
14614	7/5/2012	lack of funding combined with anti-tax people.
14615	7/5/2012	no money. we need to be open so people can access it, but we have to have things that people find worth accessing, re: current materials, programs, resources.
14616	7/5/2012	Lack of funding, it seems.
14617	7/5/2012	Isn't it funding? I guess I don't understand the question.
14618	7/5/2012	Being politicized by County officials who do not have the citizens' best interests at heart. It is astounding that our County Commissioners only chose to renew the library levy for three years and only at the current level which is not sufficient to keep libraries open 7 days. They did so with the promise that they would put the district on the ballot fall 2012. Clearly they are renegeing on that promise. Further, the County level of funding is decreased as they choose to support programs that are NOT County responsibility. I wonder if they even use the library!!! There is great competition for tax dollars at our local level. However, the voters should be given the opportunity to choose what they believe is important to them.
14619	7/5/2012	politics

14620	7/5/2012	Funding
14621	7/5/2012	Lack of funding
14622	7/5/2012	The contingent of this community that is not willing to contribute in order to maintain public services
14623	7/5/2012	lack of sufficient funding.
14624	7/5/2012	Competing needs for funds
14625	7/5/2012	Restrictions placed on the lending of e-books and the general ambivalence of community members.
14626	7/5/2012	Funding!
14627	7/5/2012	Funding, I would imagine.
14628	7/5/2012	Funding.
14629	7/5/2012	Lack of political will on the part of elected officials to raise enough revenues & Property tax compression
14630	7/5/2012	Lack of funding.
14631	7/5/2012	Loss of funding.
14632	7/5/2012	Lack of consistent adequate funding
14633	7/5/2012	Our local libraries are a critical part of our community. As residents of Multnomah County, we should make sure that we maintain these critical resources for our families, neighbors and children. This is a critical public structure, and it's biggest threat is unstable or diminished funding.

Multnomah County Library Survey

QUESTION 7: All in all, how important are local library services compared with other local public services?

Answer Options	Response Percent	Response Count
Very important	76.0%	14327
Somewhat important	20.6%	3884
Not too important	1.9%	361
Not at all important	0.5%	99
Don't know	1.0%	188
	answered question	18859
	skipped question	1505

Multnomah County Library Survey

QUESTION 8: Why are they that level of importance to you?

Answer Options	Response Count
	15441
answered question	15441
skipped question	4923

Number	Response Date	Response Text
1	7/31/2012	I know from personal experience that it was the ability to read early in life and having books from the school library and later access to the public library that lifted me out of what would have been a lifetime of challenging lack of resources. Read early, Read often! is my motto!
2	7/31/2012	There are other services that are more important: education, transportation, support for the poor and disabled; The library is important but not more important than any of these things. Health care for members of the community is more important.
3	7/31/2012	Because improving literacy in our community ensures a productive society. It is one of the few public resources that truly serves ALL of the public--regardless of need--and enriches them all. Because improving literacy and access to knowledge is the only way to ensure that this country and our community can continue to compete globally.
4	7/31/2012	Libraries serve as the very core of a civilized society. To turn your back on a library is to embrace the very essence of barbarism
5	7/31/2012	Libraries are an anachronism. Irrelevant in today's educational scheme of things. Compared to basic services required for contemporary urban living, libraries are an unnecessary expense and burden on the average person.... especially the elderly and those on a fixed income.
6	7/31/2012	Property owners cannot afford continued increases in their taxes, no matter how important any particular service is.
7	7/31/2012	The public school system is probably the most important, closely followed by a lot of other services, including the library. Libraries are especially important in low-income neighborhoods, so that parents with fewer resources do not have to pay for books in order to read with their children.
8	7/31/2012	when pitted against public health, education and safety, the library, no matter how sterling, comes in last.

9	7/31/2012	I like that all kinds of books are available to me because I can't afford to buy all of the ones I would like to read.
10	7/31/2012	Reading is the gateway to knowledge.
11	7/31/2012	Free to all.
12	7/31/2012	The library is the cornerstone of a free and informed society.
13	7/31/2012	Multnomah County libraries have been a huge resource for new knowledge and entertainment.
14	7/31/2012	For our libraries to be used they need to be open and accessible with programs for those who can benefit from them. A place during the summer to grab a book and a drink, then sit, relax and read. ☐ A magnet.
15	7/31/2012	It is important for people to have access to a variety of reading materials and information on many topics, even if they cannot afford to purchase the items in stores.
16	7/31/2012	Books and real literacy are the foundation of an enlightened society, which enlightenment is the ultimate basis of a sane, healthy, and positive future.
17	7/31/2012	Library2go is amazing and extensive.
18	7/31/2012	Even though currently I am not using the library on a regular basis I believe they are very important to a community, as necessary as the police and fire department.
19	7/31/2012	Libraries are a necessary resource for people of all ages, most particularly those who can't afford to purchase their information--the very young and the very old with limited income. An educated public is crucial if we are to have a healthy society, well-informed and able to make the right decisions. The public library is where people go to find the information that will help them make intelligent choices and decisions.
20	7/31/2012	I have two small children and I want them to be regular users of the library.
21	7/31/2012	Not life or death, but very important access to books and materials otherwise out of reach.
22	7/31/2012	I read constantly and am very pleased with the enormous variety of materials I have access to through the library.
23	7/31/2012	The library is one of my primary connections to the world around me. Having a library in my neighborhood is one of the prime reasons that I love where I live.
24	7/31/2012	Education equals a stronger community
25	7/31/2012	I think that they serve as a gateway and building block for community. It's a space to learn, dream, discover, be safe, have fun, and "get away" if that's as far as you're able for the time being. It's a detriment to our community if we can't fund our libraries. I would gladly pay $1.22 / $1000 to have the privilege of using the library system and ensuring that others have access to it as well. I feel it's my duty as a community member. We all have a part.

26	7/31/2012	Libraries serve as community centers, helping to spread literacy and teach the importance of reading and writing to youth, as well as offering services to people who don't have access to them. I have always enjoyed the public sphere of libraries- a place that I can go for free to use the internet, to read, to write, to relax, to pass time, etc. These public spaces are very few and far between. For those without access to Internet, libraries are essential, especially in today's computer-centric society. My public library has always played an extremely important role in my own life, in Portland, Seattle, and San Francisco. I love my library!!!!
27	7/31/2012	i can spend time browsing and getting out of the house and because i have a low income and cant afford to buy books, movies and music
28	7/31/2012	I think its a great community resource. It is a place of knowledge and encouragement. It inspires community involvement and lastly, borrowing materials is much more economical than buying them.
29	7/31/2012	As a community member without children who prefers the convenience of e-books, there isn't much the library has to offer. I do appreciate the programs that are offered to children, but they are not utilized by anyone in my household.
30	7/31/2012	Libraries in Portland serve a crucial function in building community, providing access to educational and career information and promote the civilized and socially important activity of reading. Without libraries the divide between rich and poor would increase, the level of literacy in our population would decline and the health of our community would be in serious jeopardy. It may sound like hyperbole, but I really believe that this is true.
31	7/31/2012	They are a source of internet access and information/media that some may not be able to access otherwise. As I do not have a full list of all local public services to look at, this is just a tentative ranking, Though I would probably place it slightly higher than funding for traditional schooling due to the current online schooling option that is being offered, as there is more variety in what can be learned in the public library system and the internet than what will be taught in a public school.
32	7/31/2012	I use the library for uses that can be done using other methods. However, the library does have good resources and it's nice to have around.
33	7/31/2012	The libraries provide access to reading materials at a lower cost than buying them myself. I support library funding. My wife prefers to buy books instead. I think she's nuts!
34	7/31/2012	Literacy is fundamental to a civil society and a democratic form of government.
35	7/31/2012	If we live in an educated society, community members will have the tools, knowledge, and resources to solve the needs of other local public services.
36	7/31/2012	Library services provide a world of resources to our community, supporting equal access to information and technology for kids, families, disconnected youth and adults, seniors. Although I would consider some public services more valuable (accessible healthcare, family planning, public education) the library system still ranks high, as it's a shared resource and removes barriers for many people.

37	7/30/2012	The library is the heart and soul of a community. With so many programs being cut in the schools, we have to have our libraries with stable long term funding. Levies are not the solution any more.
38	7/30/2012	This is one of the places free left, gives an escape from the world, and unfortunately supplements my children's public education
39	7/30/2012	Public libraries promote community, education, responsibility, and sharing. They are a resource to all other (local) public services.
40	7/30/2012	Can't afford to buy books/media, so it provides a free way for entertainment.
41	7/30/2012	Knowledge is power and access to information is important for democracy. □ Plus, the homeless need a spot to go to the bathroom and stay warm.
42	7/30/2012	PUBLIC libraries provide a safe sanctuary for everyone. They offer a place for unemployed to search for jobs and protect everyone's access to information. Libraries are definitely needed right now with the current state of the economy when people can't afford to buy things so they borrow books, DVDs and newspapers and need to use public computer servers to search for jobs.
43	7/30/2012	Because information is empowering and a library is the great equalizer. It evens the playing field and everyone of any age, income, or status can go there and learn.
44	7/30/2012	Because I believe in the importance of a literate, informed society, and the availability of books and other materials to all, regardless of income level. Sounds corny, but it's true.
45	7/30/2012	Libraries are the heart of a community. I have been using them most of my life. (For a period when I was a child we lived in an area with no library services except the book mobile. I soon read everything I could from there.) All people should have access to books and all of the other services a library offers.
46	7/30/2012	It's important to give people access to new knowledge, especially young people. Giving people those opportunities to read and do research is important not to themselves but also to how they view the world and behave in it.
47	7/30/2012	Only one should matter, the Central Library is the only important library.
48	7/30/2012	Access to libraries has been important to me for my whole life. Growing up in a poor family meant limited resources, and the library opened up all kinds of possibility for me.
49	7/30/2012	not nearly as important as police, fire, schools, social services...these are services that directly impact livability. But the library is also a key component to livability for my family since we use the library so frequently.
50	7/30/2012	Very important as they are the only reliable source of computer access and reading material and other media that are available to me.
51	7/30/2012	i value reading and knowledge and access to those things very important.
52	7/30/2012	With out venues for learning, research, exploration of information or ideas and shared resources, our community with suffer from a lack of knowledge and intellectual advancement due to the inadequate funding.

53	7/30/2012	The library is a focal point in our community because it is open to everyone, provides knowledge and provides opportunity to build relationships in and beyond our neighborhood.
54	7/30/2012	Difficult to say unless at least some of the other local public services are listed to be compared with. Are police and fire considered public services and are they funded by competing fund types (local levies).
55	7/30/2012	Everyone should have free access to information and resources for learning. An educated populace is the key to a strong society.
56	7/30/2012	Access to all the information/resources available at them, as well as a quality of living issue.
57	7/30/2012	Because they provide free services - books, computer - to vulnerable members of our community
58	7/30/2012	Libraries are pretty much the only places where every person who walks in the door, regardless of age, sex, ethnic origin, economic means or mental ability is treated with respect, civility and compassion. While we need and use other public services, we need libraries to assure an educated, literate community for all.
59	7/29/2012	We do not fully rely on the library for internet or book access, but we do appreciate the extra resource being available. We also enjoy the social aspect with kids story time.
60	7/29/2012	it is extremely important for books, and education is accessible to everyone in the community regardless of ones income. for me it enables me to resources and information that i could not afford.
61	7/29/2012	I have been a library patron for over 50 years. I value any library and feel that the Multnomah County library system is the best that I have ever used.
62	7/29/2012	Because of my constant reliance on my libraries. I put libraries at the top, right up there with water and sewer.
63	7/29/2012	I really enjoy the books and group discussions at the Page Turner bookclub. I also like the wide variety of materials I can check out.
64	7/29/2012	It is free education.
65	7/29/2012	good place to take kids. people who speak my language and help teach english
66	7/29/2012	I only use it when my computer is down.
67	7/29/2012	Learning, thinking, and sharing ideas are essential to a society that values democracy, collective progress, and personal growth.
68	7/29/2012	Need access to information to make full/best use of other services.
69	7/29/2012	Library builds community
70	7/29/2012	It allows people (children especially) to pursue their intellectual interests for free, whether the schools are teaching those topics or not.
71	7/29/2012	Libraries have been my savior since childhood. Everyone should have access to their local library.
72	7/29/2012	Because that makes for a literate educated population . The rest of the civilized world would certainly overtake the US pretty soon if we do not fund libraries.

73	7/29/2012	Because of the importance of access to books, media and information of all kinds; access for everyone.
74	7/29/2012	I think self-education is generally more effective than public education so having materials available on various subjects is important to young people especially.
75	7/29/2012	I remember riding my bike to the Beaverton library growing up. Going to the library was something my family did on a weekly basis. I loved having all of those books available to me. As I have grown and now have small children of my own I enjoy taking them to the library and having them choose books to check, Reading is so important and I want to make sure that my children feel this same way.
76	7/29/2012	It is a part of the county's core services that they should maintain through the general fund, not with additional taxing
77	7/29/2012	Learning never ends.
78	7/29/2012	I live in a small space and do not want to buy books. I love the freegal music to help a collection along. I love browsing books I wouldn't see elsewhere.
79	7/29/2012	Providing reading material and services to a broad audience at a reasonable cost
80	7/29/2012	I enjoy reading.
81	7/28/2012	Extremely important. We need access to books to help us run our business, and improve our lives.
82	7/28/2012	The library is a resource for continuing education and provides the community with access to materials and services which some may not otherwise be able to afford.
83	7/28/2012	Although the computers are put to good use; I enjoy reading and also use the reference information available. My grandson loves to come to the library. Its sad when I have to tell him "they're closed now."
84	7/28/2012	access to information
85	7/28/2012	The library is the first line of defense of free inquiry. Without them, reliable information becomes far more difficult to obtain for those who are poor or otherwise disadvantaged in society, and makes it more difficult to maintain an informed and responsible electorate, which is vital to a functional democracy. In the case of our libraries, they are also a hub for community activity, acting as de facto meeting halls, where citizens who may not otherwise choose to be involved in civic processes come to engage with their neighborhoods.
86	7/28/2012	Any type of society requires sanitation and health services for basic survival, of course, but a healthy democracy requires tax-supported education and access to information.
87	7/28/2012	Literacy plays an enormous role in terms of how our community functions. Without free access to books, and other library resources and programs our community would greatly suffer. Limiting hours will limit the community's access to these resources.
88	7/28/2012	mild

89	7/28/2012	Its an area of growth, learning, helping one to move forward in life. There's an element of rest, acceptance, encouragement to be the best one can be and not become stagnant in a library as well.
90	7/28/2012	It is very important to have knowledge and learning available to all of our citizens.
91	7/28/2012	Access to a variety of information is one of the most important elements of a democratic society.
92	7/28/2012	I feel that the library is a great resource for so many things. For me personally, I like checking out both normal books and audio books. It saves me a lot of money and I usually find something I wouldn't have normally picked up at a bookstore. I use the computers when my internet is down or my printer is not working. While in school I used books from the library to study for tests, as well as, to work on presentations.
93	7/28/2012	Compared to vital local public services, such as police, fire, garbage, electricity, etc, they are not essential to safe living. I do not need a library to survive, but I definitely want one.
94	7/28/2012	How many places can we go to where we can borrow books for free, use computers for free, and where everyone is welcome to use the library? Isn't that what democracy is about?
95	7/28/2012	The libraries are part of what makes Portland what it is.
96	7/28/2012	Well I don't know what I am comparing the library with, but I have no need to go there, especially with it's new current atmosphere..
97	7/28/2012	easier access than other public agencies
98	7/28/2012	Important to me as a parent and as a teacher because it gives me access to materials I don't have the money to buy.
99	7/28/2012	It is important to me to have a continuous flow of new music, movies, and books in my life. Without the library I could not afford to experience these things. The library is for education and enjoyment- it is indispensable in my life.
100	7/28/2012	The library provides a learning resource, entertainment, and community gathering space. It also saves me a bunch of money and space in my house because it stops my family members from buying way too many books, which used to be a real problem for us.
101	7/28/2012	Libraries provide access to human knowledge for whomever chooses to seek it.
102	7/28/2012	Availability of books, books on CD, and videos is a key ingredient in my well-being.
103	7/28/2012	Because this is our source of information. We are very lucky to have the best library system in the county. Just think of how bad our neighbor to the south (Jackson county/Medford) with such sub standard library service. For anyone who takes this library for granted, just needs to spend a few days in Jackson county. Their library service is terrible.
104	7/28/2012	I think the Multnomah library system is fantastic. I love how you can order books online and be emailed when they're available for checkout.
105	7/28/2012	Aside from my high value of the library system, other public services rank very low on my priority list.
106	7/28/2012	Democracy depends on a educated,well informed populace, and libraries help provide that.

107	7/28/2012	Extremely important
108	7/28/2012	Because our local library is one of the core's of our community. It provides basic services to all regardless of race, class, gender, etc.. all which are a basic right and important for all!
109	7/28/2012	I believe I answered that in my last written response.
110	7/28/2012	Community, resource-providing.
111	7/28/2012	The library is the only public service I regularly use.
112	7/28/2012	Libraries provide access to more books than any other resource can. More than e-books can possibly provide, since so many books aren't available digitally.
113	7/27/2012	people in our community can use library resources to make their lives better, save money, learn new skills,have access to internet. the list goes on.
114	7/27/2012	The library provides important services and resources to those who aren't privileged enough to afford them on their own. It keeps our community literate, informed, and a democracy.
115	7/27/2012	Libraries are a service available to all, as opposed to services open only to low income families, for example, and are not something you age out of like public education. Our local library provides services and resources not available (or not easily available) elsewhere and for free -- resume building, early literacy programming and education, genealogical research, homework assistance, free computer access, free reading materials! etc
116	7/27/2012	I love books but largely do not wish to buy or own them (nor can I really afford to). The library is my only source for books. Because I don't buy books, I see the library as an overwhelming (in a good way) source of fiction, non-fiction, and reference materials (not to mention movies and TV on DVD, which I LOVE but don't necessarily NEED ;)). I know there are others out there who cannot afford to buy books but would nonetheless love to read as much as they can. I think, among other things, the library exists to serve those without the financial resources to attain books on their own. This goes for adults and children.
117	7/27/2012	7 on a scale of 1-10
118	7/27/2012	Knowledge has inherent worth.
119	7/27/2012	Correct knowledge & correct information are King!!
120	7/27/2012	B/c reading is an essential life skill and public libraries are free to all people no matter their situation (financial, homeless, creed, ethnicity, sexual orientation, etc) and libraries make our community a better place to live!
121	7/27/2012	It used to be a library. Now it is a group of litttle children being baby sat and let them use the non-needed computers. A group of foreiners looking for anything but how to speak english and get along here.
122	7/27/2012	If you consider police and fire departments as local public services, I would rate them as very important.
123	7/27/2012	I am an avid reader and lifelong learner. The library is one of the most important places in the community to me.

124	7/27/2012	They are a vital resource and other things that are not needed all the time or can be passed on should follow this model as well.
125	7/27/2012	I believe the Kenton library provides a lovely space for the neighborhood to gather and serves as a potent reminder of the importance of books and learning. With our increasing reliance on electronic readers we are becoming increasingly more isolated. So having a gathering space that celebrates reading and learning in a communal center is both a wonderful and vital neighborhood resource. I also have witnessed that since the library opened, there seems to be an increased attention to the Kenton downtown area with new businesses coming in and a burgeoning sense of pride in our community. resen
126	7/27/2012	Well you can read books that are interesting to you without having to buy each book even if you're not sure if you'll like it. I also enjoy examining the shelves and have noticed books on them that I read and really appreciated so it's a good place to find new books that you like.
127	7/27/2012	They contain service and knowlege that is hard to obtain elsewhere.
128	7/27/2012	Books
129	7/27/2012	very important
130	7/27/2012	My children use the library weekly.
131	7/27/2012	As a graduate student training to be a teacher, I can think of no public service more important than libraries other than schools. Libraries empower and educate people, especially those least able to afford alternatives. For many people, the media and internet resources at the library are their only way to have such access. By providing self-education, low/no-cost resources, free programs for underserved populations, and safe community spaces, libraries are a way to prevent so many other social problems.
132	7/27/2012	I think education is important to us as individuals and as a society. Libraries offer diversion and entertain us and they are free to users, which makes them a quite democratic institution.
133	7/27/2012	The public library is the best run and most positive American institution. It is open to and accessed by all sectors of society without regard to class or creed. The public library system is the epitome of all that is good about the U.S.
134	7/27/2012	I place a high value on education and knowledge.
135	7/27/2012	Most people don't have the money or time with out a library, plus the educational help is pricelss. And it's for all ages and creed. GOD BLESS OUR LIBRARY
136	7/27/2012	Trimet is more important, as I need it to get around to places like the library.
137	7/27/2012	Libraries build communities; they serve everyone equally. Libraries offer ideas and information to everyone.
138	7/27/2012	Not much, but I see that others use the system
139	7/27/2012	Like I said in previous questions, I used to frequent the library a whole lot when I was watching tv shows on DVD a lot, but when my usage switched from physical media to digital the library no longer had what I wanted. These days I don't use the library anymore for that reason.

140	7/27/2012	While, if pressed, fire and police and water and sewage and transportation are more basic and probably are higher in importance, I think it's immensely important to have this publicly accessible source of knowledge available to all. I think everyone should be able to access materials regardless of their economic status.
141	7/27/2012	Get real. I am a lifelong supporter of reading and libraries. But increasing the library budget over 30% in this recession, while funding for other services are being cut, is not appropriate.
142	7/26/2012	Libraries provide access to all levels of society. They expand the human experience providing the possibility of understanding at all levels, whether academic, cultural, etc. A well informed society provides the basis and continuation of freedom. Libraries are crucial to the survival of overall society. This is done, through access to develop knowledge, in every socially advanced society at every time in history that we have studied.
143	7/26/2012	The Library is the best source for information, research and the most accessible place for the public to continue to be educated and informed
144	7/26/2012	main source of entertainment.
145	7/26/2012	I use them a lot
146	7/26/2012	One of my favorite things to do as a child was go to the library and check out books!! This inspired my imagination and desire to read. I am now an avid reader and continue to utilize the library often. It is also very important to me that a variety of services are offered to the community. Services for children to encourage reading and imagination. Computers and job finding assistance for those who would not otherwise have them available. Classes for seniors to help them better understand computers in a safe environment, as well as mail/drop off services so they can still have access to the library. As well as a variety of books services to assist those who would like to learn or are in school. The library helps community members of all classes, races, age groups...It is such a gift to the community and only enhances the community as a whole.
147	7/26/2012	I'm a student who relies on the library for educational materials. I'm also a citizen that enjoys the popular materials.
148	7/26/2012	Libraries don't put out fires, cure diseases, or catch bad guys, but the library can open our minds to the world around us. They can compliment our school curricula, provide a safe gathering place for our citizens, and challenge us to make learning a life-long habit.
149	7/26/2012	The library is an educational place for the whole family. The library is a place to meet other people who have the same interest of learning specific subject, is a place to spend quality of time for exploring subjects that will help to become proactive with their life and improve their lifestyles
150	7/26/2012	As I stated previously, we depend on our local library for educational purposes and entertainment. We love books and reading, and while we have fairly large home library, we are able to find new books, DVDs and music CDs at the library.
151	7/26/2012	Reading is a number one concern in our schools. It's very important that all individuals have access to books.

152	7/26/2012	because we have children and thats how we keep them reading thru the library
153	7/26/2012	Some public services are essential to daily functionality of a place. Libraries help us be a more informed and socially connected society.
154	7/26/2012	Knowledge and access to technology and job resource programs is the key to upward mobility.
155	7/26/2012	I believe that they are an extremely important resource for society, especially for those who would not otherwise have access to the materials provided. They are also important in that they are a public gathering space that is not commercially-oriented, which is rare in our society. In my personal life, I have cut back on the number of books and the music that I purchase and rely instead on the library for these items because in many cases, I don't want to own them--I would prefer to just borrow them and give them back. This is both because of my budget and because I am trying to simplify. My children are older now, but I think that story time when they were very young and the summer reading program also contributed to their reading skills and enthusiasm. I will always vote for more money for our libraries.
156	7/26/2012	Because they provide a hub for the community to meet, interact, recreate, and discovery new ideas. [] [] Growing up we went to the library every week. This along with encouragement from my parents fostered a life-long appreciation for reading and libraries. They are an essential part of our community.
157	7/26/2012	It's the only place everyone can go and have access to information, without censorship.
158	7/26/2012	Everyone can go to a library to educate themselves without spending money or joining an organization. They are empowering and private and available to everyone.They give poor families access to entertainment and educational resources for their kids. They are the most welcoming government buildings bar none, and therefore, a great place for other government departments to distribute information.
159	7/26/2012	I check out books for enjoyment reading, and also I really enjoy exploring books I hear about on many subjects to see if I want to buy later. I take my granddaughter to the the library. It is a special time for us. As a former schoolteacher, this is very important to me. I want to foster the love of reading in her.
160	7/26/2012	Any city, at any time needs venues to bring culture, education, enjoyment to the people.
161	7/26/2012	Education is freedom and empowerment for everyone
162	7/26/2012	very
163	7/26/2012	The library is a cornerstone of our community. School libraries and education are underfunded so our public library is often looked to as a resource for children/parents. Job seekers, businesses, people dealing with these hard economic times: they all use the library to better themselves.

164	7/25/2012	since i use the library daily, regularly ck out books and have access to periodicals that i can't afford alone, and, since i travel throughout the county as part of my business, i like that i can count on stopping in at a branch to get paperwork done, ck my email and otherwise have a quiet place to work.
165	7/25/2012	I use the library more than most other local public services. It's one of the few places I feel like I get good value for my tax dollars. I would happily pay more in taxes to directly support our public libraries.
166	7/25/2012	I like the availability of media and internet services.
167	7/25/2012	I use the library because I'm on a fixed income and it gives me easy access to books not only in our local library but nationwide,(which I have used several times). I have grandchildren who would not have the great diversity of literature available to them without a local library system available to them and their parents. There are other public services that are more important, such as police, fire, emergency services etc. but the libraray provides a place for meeting individuals of like mind for a multitude of purposes and reasons if the resource was better known.
168	7/25/2012	The library offers a wide range of services and programs to people of all ages and socioeconomic levels, for free, that are impossible to get anywhere else.
169	7/25/2012	Supporting literacy and education, even self-education, are integral parts of maintaining a functioning democratic system. So the library should stop wasting so much on administration and restore services which the public really wants; books, open hours and new materials. There is no reason full services cannot be maintained at the current level (before the unnecessary cuts of July 2012) by massively cutting management.
170	7/25/2012	libraries serve the "public" no matter your age, sex, education or ethnic background[]
171	7/25/2012	they provide a safe, clean, warm public space, a community space It provide excellent service to community
172	7/25/2012	Libraries are community centers. They educate. They entertain. They facilitate all forms of research. They benefit everyone in all demographics. Free and open libraries are the cornerstone of a civilized society.
173	7/25/2012	Higher importance would only be roads and utilities.
174	7/25/2012	Although I don't use the library a great deal myself, I believe that it is essential to efforts at maintaining and improving literacy, ongoing education, and access to literary culture.
175	7/25/2012	I'm a teacher- and on average I have about 100 non-fiction and children's picture library books in my classroom each week. I depend upon them immensely for photographs and information to teach my students science, social studies and math concepts. I also check out 6 book sets of chapter books for our novel studies. I'd have to pay for all of this out of my own pocket each year if I didn't have the library! I also am an avid reader and check out adult fiction regularly. Your on line "hold" system and interlibrary transfer is so easy to use. I'm also starting to use your e-books as well. We have a wonderful library system in Multnomah County and I'm so lucky to live here.

176	7/25/2012	Libraries are part of the foundation of America's cultural heritage of public education, and are functioning symbols of the power inherent in free access to knowledge. My wife is a librarian and my late mother was as well. Libraries have been an integral part of my life since childhood. They are pillars of our communities, beacons of freedom, and bulwarks of civilization itself.
177	7/25/2012	limited income
178	7/25/2012	Having free access to information is extremely important to our society. So many other things stem from that (education choices, career choices, political choices). There is no other reasonable option for these things if we lose libraries. Also, the joy of reading is something that everyone I know shares, and what defines many of us.
179	7/25/2012	Libraries are the most available form of public education, available to all, regardless of age or schooling. Libraries provide shelter and mental stimulation for the homeless during the day.[] Programs for children, adults and seniors enrich us all.
180	7/25/2012	I was a kid who lived at poverty-level but the library was free and open and there for me. Librarians and books saved me and I hope that they can do the same for other kids. Besides, with newspapers shutting down and information being more and more controlled by a few big corporations, it's important that free, easy to use sources of information be available to the public if they go looking for it.
181	7/25/2012	Because this is a place where everyone in the community can come to gather, for various different reasons, but all people can find something useful at a library.
182	7/25/2012	I love to read, but mostly the library is a valuable community resource in so many ways. We need to encourage education, literacy and access to information, which the library does in a big way. We need a healthy library system to function as a democracy.
183	7/25/2012	See my first remarks.
184	7/25/2012	I love the library!
185	7/25/2012	I get a sense of community from the library. I borrow books and media all the time, including lots that I'm just curious about -- items I wouldn't be able to afford. I used to work at nursing homes where the home-bound senior services were essential to some residents' quality of life.
186	7/25/2012	Our citizens need to be educated, informed, the library provides a vast source of information, all age levels and incomes are accessible,
187	7/25/2012	A well-informed populace is the single most important aspect to a viable democracy.
188	7/25/2012	Everyone can use the library.
189	7/25/2012	I rely on the library as a source of inspiration and knowledge. I am also a college student, so buying new books is not always possible. I enjoy keeping up to date with the library and using the ILL system.
190	7/25/2012	Local library services are vital to our community. [] "Education is peacekeeping by another name". - Kofi Annan

191	7/25/2012	libraries are a home-away-from-home for everybody and also a place to access a world of thought, the most useful and benign service provided by government
192	7/25/2012	other local public services have a more direct impact on day to day living
193	7/25/2012	There are certain wellness/poverty/homeless services that I consider a bit more important but the library is up there.
194	7/25/2012	I have used the library since I was in grade school and was in awe that I could actually borrow books, music and eventually movies just by having a library card. Although I do like the kindles, ipads, iphones and other various types of techno gear; I still enjoy going to a library to sit and read an actual book where I can flip through the pages. And for children and their families who may not have enough money to actually buy books, computers, or movies the library is a great resource.
195	7/25/2012	Because I actually use the library services.
196	7/25/2012	It is access to information which is fundamental to a functioning society.
197	7/25/2012	Having free educational materials available is very important. Only public safety is more important.
198	7/25/2012	I have an affinity for local libraries, a clerk was one of my first jobs. I also got started in my tech career by holding classes on how to use the Internet at my local library in the 90's.
199	7/25/2012	Free access to information is vital to a democratic society.
200	7/25/2012	We love putting books on hold and being able to pick them up or having them mailed to us. We love being able to walk to the library.
201	7/25/2012	There is so much free information at the library. No one else can compare to the services rendered at the library. And it is accessible to everyone, as it should be.
202	7/25/2012	A library represents free and equal access to information--an essential component of a healthy democracy--and it's a symbol of a society which values ideas.
203	7/25/2012	without libraries, we lose even more of our community's connection with words, books, education, literacy, preservation of history, etc
204	7/25/2012	Would be higher but the Internet has replaced most of what I used to use the library for.
205	7/25/2012	The library services get continuous use.
206	7/25/2012	Schools and safety important, too. About equal with libraries.
207	7/25/2012	The library is one of the most important features of a democracy. And I love to read, and can't afford to buy books every week.
208	7/24/2012	I use the library most of all the county services. It is invaluable to my way of life. It increases my knowledge, education, social status, entertainment possibilities. It is a monumental service provided to all citizens in Oregon and beyond, which says something great about our county. It is a very good use of tax dollars that is for all people in the county, unlike other services the county provides which are for a select group depending on need.
209	7/24/2012	I want to live in a community where people have access to knowledge.
210	7/24/2012	Library resources are essential to a well-informed community
211	7/24/2012	It's a community learning hub. What is more important than that?

212	7/24/2012	Because everyone can use them. Everyone.
213	7/24/2012	Access to information for everyone is essential to healthy, thoughtful communities.
214	7/24/2012	The library system is something our family has used for generations-it's a great public service!
215	7/24/2012	I love to read and have a place that I consider a community hub. I also use it to have access to databases and learning resources as I plan for small business development.
216	7/24/2012	With the poor economy, the library offers multi-entertainment for free: good books, internet access, magazines, DVDs, music and lots more.
217	7/24/2012	The library is civilization at its best. The commons. Equal opportunity for all. I meet friends and neighbors and learn new things. What's not to love??
218	7/24/2012	Benefit my entire family. Serve as a bedrock to informed and civically engaged society. Important for people to access computers who have no other chance.
219	7/24/2012	They rank right up there with schools in preserving democracy.
220	7/24/2012	Again, comparing them to 'other local public services' is a low benchmark. But then, libraries are so unimportant that they have to continually try to convince us of their importance, so....
221	7/24/2012	knowledge is power for all, whether for learning about things that are necessary or just enjoyable; keeping it available either through the internet access our libraries provide or the time honored books and journals is vital for all free societies
222	7/24/2012	I use the library all the time. I borrow books on CD, I borrow books, I borrow music cds. I use interlibrary loan. I order books via my computer, then pick them up when they arrive. I love the library. I don't need it open every day, or all hours, but it should cover all hours during the various days. For me it is important that it be open until 8 PM at least one or two nights each week.
223	7/24/2012	It is a great learning resource for kid(s), and for myself.
224	7/24/2012	Libraries allow me to learn more about subjects that interest me. I find it easier to learn from a book, with all the information already gathered, ordered and bundled in a way that makes it more comprehensive, rather than to gather the information myself using the internet or other sources. It saves me time and money.
225	7/24/2012	Not up there with public safety or roads, but important.
226	7/24/2012	offer an outlet key for students and those without home internet/books to embrace all opportunities
227	7/24/2012	Library services are truly democratic and need to be available for all citizens. Knowledge, access to technology, and a safe community space are essential to the kind of city/county I want to live in. I think there are as essential as any other public service that makes the quality of life better for its citizens.

228	7/24/2012	When I head to my library I see people of all ages, races, and incomes interacting together. I have spontaneous conversations with other book and media seekers about what we're reading, what we recommend as well as politics and community events. I see a place where youth and elders are valued equally and the needs of ALL community members from people experiencing homelessness to wealthy folks are respected, acknowledged and attended to. Our libraries are one of the true democratic institutions in that they both inspire critical thinking and provide access to all kinds of ideas, whether we personally agree with them or not. Libraries also support early literacy, which in turn supports healthy development of our future leaders through cognitive and social development. Whether escaping a hot summer day or a wet, dreary afternoon, our libraries are a refuge of imagination and learning and should remain as accessible as possible. As one of our most vital public services, libraries keep our community vibrant and I am 100% in support of higher taxes to ensure every person living in Multnomah County can utilize our libraries to their hearts content.
229	7/24/2012	Reading and having access to information is critical to our personal growth and economy.
230	7/24/2012	They're an irreplaceable and somewhat unquantifiable public good.
231	7/24/2012	Heart of the community and its culture
232	7/24/2012	Libraries represent the strength of the community to me. They are a barometer for where we place value in literacy for all ages. They have always been one of the first places I have searched out when locating to a new city.
233	7/24/2012	I use the library frequently! -- Children that can read is the way to go - so they will graduate, become gainfully employed and become good, tax paying citizens.
234	7/24/2012	In my family we use the library for personal support and well as professional. As a teacher I have shared links on the childrens website and my whole building uses the kids "Book Center" for free online listening centers on classroom computers. Additionally, Books-2-U and other teacher resources are important to my and the children I work with in my building. My son volunteers with the summer reading program and feels very connected to the library as well.
235	7/24/2012	It feels as if the library is the only public services being offered to "middle class" law abiding citizens who are fortune enough for not needing public assistance, and not in jail.
236	7/24/2012	I have used the library for as long as I could read. Books had a huge impact on me when I was growing up, and I want others to have that same opportunity.
237	7/24/2012	They embody "community" to me. I'm not a "yay America" kind of person, but I do consider our public library system an INCREDIBLE symbol of what works in our country, community gathering place where all incomes, races and ages come together. Love the Carnegie perspective -- wealthy individual recognizing the value to our society if people have access to books. I also appreciate the role the physical library plays in giving me access to books that I can hold onto rather than Kindle or the like.

238	7/24/2012	I find good literature and purchase the books I want because the library never has a selection of good literature on the shelf. If I have to wait several days to get it, I will have it delivered to my door and won't have to wade through the computer section...and be subjected to library workers who have no idea about good literature!!! Some of the employees are the most pious, incompetent, arrogant people I have ever met!! They have no idea about literature, are not friendly, and have been very aloof and dismissive when I have requested assistance with locating materials that were "classic." I don't need those kinds of services. I will take care of locating my own materials without their condescension. When I did attempt to sign up for a Russian Literature class several years ago, there was not even enough room for community members. It was a total disappointment to even attempt to attend the class. If you want to offer something of value to the community, don't make it so small and limited that the community can't even join you. And certainly don't fill it from the inside with staff and cut out the community!!
239	7/24/2012	they are helping in the community beyond the scope of just providing books and knowledge.
240	7/24/2012	Reading is key to everything you do in life.
241	7/24/2012	Access to free information that helps to create and support an informed citizenry.
242	7/24/2012	other than the mail that comes to my door, the library is my most often used public service.
243	7/24/2012	It is a way for me to access current media that I couldn't afford on my own
244	7/24/2012	reading is very important. We need to encourage it, especially with children since reading is necessary.
245	7/24/2012	increase knowledge for everybody. decrease guilty
246	7/24/2012	This is some of the only access to enrich peoples lives in our community. Equal access for all of our community to great literature and music.[]
247	7/24/2012	There is a sense of community amongst the users of our NW library.[] Great summer reading program fosters the making of lifelong readers.
248	7/24/2012	because of the service they provide
249	7/24/2012	With an increasing reliance on technology in many many sectors, libraries serve to equalize access to books and all sorts of media. Libraries are vitally important to those without the means to access critical resources otherwise not available to them. Libraries provide a crucial point of access to information and knowledge resources to people of all social strata in a community, not just those who can afford to pay for this access on their own. I believe that access to these resources are critical to the health of our community.
250	7/24/2012
251	7/24/2012	I love libraries because they provide a space to learn in.
252	7/24/2012	I don't want to purchase reading material and appreciate borrowing them from the library.
253	7/24/2012	not everything is available online and not all resources for equivalent products are free or affordable
254	7/24/2012	When I was working computer books were very important to me. Now I primarily check out financial books and self-help books.

255	7/24/2012	As much as I value the library, I do feel that public safety and health/mental health services are very important with a tight budget.
256	7/24/2012	i use the library for almost all of my reading and i read 1-3 bks per week. i also get a lot of music and some dvd's from there. it is essential that libraries be available to every person in the community.
257	7/24/2012	great resource for books, music, movies for my family
258	7/24/2012	I love the library but I can't afford more taxes!
259	7/24/2012	Because many people, including myself, rely on the library for access to resources that would otherwise be quite difficult to obtain.
260	7/24/2012	My family uses are local library for books, music, and movies aand it provides a quick and easy form of education and entertainment. It also allows my family to broaden their knowledge base.
261	7/24/2012	It is a resource that is utilized by all, and provides access to information for all members of the community
262	7/24/2012	They are the best example of seeing exactly where my tax dollars go.
263	7/23/2012	Local libraries are very important for communities & neighborhoods so people can have equal access to books/materials & computers as well as programs for children & seniors. They are also important for people to have a place to meet/gather. This is I voted in favor of the levy.
264	7/23/2012	I have been a library user all my long life, a library employee, and I know the importance of library services to people of lessor means, new immigrants, children and adults etc.
265	7/23/2012	Libraries provide a variety of services that specifically address individuals who fall through other social supports and when utilized properly, are an incredible educational and informational resource that do not cost any money to the individuals who utilize them. A resourceful individual could learn and master the English language, compose a resume and conduct a job search online using only a library. I can think of few places that offer so much to adults and do not charge them directly for the service.
266	7/23/2012	I use the library a lot and feel it is a big resource for the community. However, things like police, fire and schools are very important. Parks are also important.
267	7/23/2012	The library has sustained me through the best and the worst times in my life. I have filled many hours of my life with books, music and film. I have been uplifted and encouraged by the books I found in the library. I continue to learn about cooking, gardening, home repair and saving for retirement at the library. I have sought refuge in libraries when the world is too much for me. Poetry and music from the library have saved my soul. Libraries and the books in them are not just for the mind; they are also for the body and the soul. Libraries and books help us to become better people.

268	7/23/2012	Libraries, and their services, are one of truer measures of how a community views keeping ALL its community members informed, enlightened, stimulated and mentally entertained. Furthermore that community that access most of the people, with the most available access in time and places, Libraries best and serves the community best.
269	7/23/2012	We have always lived within walking distance of a library, and, besides roads, the libraries are the government service we use most. The library provides us with entertainment, family time together, books and music, puppet shows, and even air conditioning on extra-hot days.
270	7/23/2012	Knowledge is power. Any nation or culture can be measured on how intelligent and educated its citizenry is.
271	7/23/2012	We live on the county line and are physically closer to a Beaverton library but attend the library on a weekly basis to take advantage of kid's programs, checking out books and movies and utilizing research resources for our entire family.
272	7/23/2012	We need an informed citizenry for a democracy.[] Libraries valuable for students and for self education[] Resources for child rearing and education of children[] Starting of lifelong habits
273	7/23/2012	Libraries are a source of knowledge and information which equates to power. The people must have access to information and learning. Libraries (even in this internet age) are a major source of information. Without libraries the continued dumbing of America will continue!
274	7/23/2012	The library provides access to information and literature. The library promotes literacy and offers programs to make literacy fun for kids. This public service is invaluable.
275	7/23/2012	It helps reduce the divide between those that can afford books and those that can. Without that children of poor families will suffer and eventually society will pay the price. A mind that stays busy stays out of trouble.
276	7/23/2012	Most of the information in print that I consume comes from libraries. It provides me a low cost way to access a variety of media and a meeting room for my Home Owners Association.
277	7/23/2012	Access to information, resources, and community.
278	7/23/2012	There is nothing more important than the ability to read and books to enjoy.
279	7/23/2012	They have to be balanced with the other needs of the community - social services, schools, roads etc
280	7/23/2012	My son and I use the library for all of our reading needs. We go there to meet other friends for story time, but mostly we appreciate the books and other media.
281	7/23/2012	Fire and police have to be more important, along with other critical services. Libraries could be considered a luxury, but in our relatively rich country, they ought to be a basic service open to all, especially those who can't afford to buy reading material.
282	7/23/2012	It is a wonderful resource for people that want to improve their life situation and have no other means.

283	7/23/2012	After Trimet (don't get me started about their issues), the library is the community resource my family uses the most. I am pleased with the level of service I receive and proud of everything "my" library system does for my community. I think libraries are key to recovering from the economic crisis and rebuilding community.
284	7/23/2012	They provide access to the larger society, as access to that society becomes increasingly digital.
285	7/23/2012	Books, access to free information and sense of community.
286	7/23/2012	very easy to reserve media online, no cost except for late fees.
287	7/23/2012	See previous comment. I have always been very proud of the Multnomah County Library and I pray that it will not be lost.
288	7/23/2012	democracy and access to information!
289	7/23/2012	Library services not only support literacy and community unity, they teach tolerance and increase the overall public image of a community.
290	7/23/2012	It's a huge part of the community, and access to reading and other media is invaluable to young and old.
291	7/23/2012	It offers me many services for free and since I am a person on a limited budget that is very important
292	7/23/2012	Because they provide so many services that enrich the community.
293	7/23/2012	They provide people of the middle and lower class resources for education and entertainment that they just wouldn't have otherwise. That's extremely important to me due to the cost of living these days.
294	7/23/2012	Our libraries are the solid foundation of our vibrant Portland communities. Our libraries give our children a place to gather, learn, and develop a life-long love of reading. They are a place where families can meet their neighbors and aid in developing a true sense of community. The library system in Multnomah county cuts down the cost of reading, entertainment, and research for already-stretched household budgets and ensures that all household have access to current information and literature.
295	7/23/2012	I believe that access to books and information is vital for an informed and involved public. The library is a community resource that helps build the community.
296	7/23/2012	community character enhanced
297	7/23/2012	Obviously police, fire and emergency services would take precedence, but the library is SO much more than just checking out book. I appreciate the convenience of my local library and you can't beat the price!
298	7/23/2012	Of all of the public services, the Library and Trimet are the two I use the most. If I couldn't use TriMet, I could drive my car (although I would hate that). If I didn't have regular access to the library, I absolutely could not afford to buy all of the resources I current get for free from the library.

299	7/23/2012	The library is a big part of why it is great to live in Multnomah county. I love the Everybody Reads program and the authors and speakers the library sponsors. I often can't afford the fee to attend other author events.
300	7/23/2012	There is always an amazing mix of people at the library, from all walks of life, who would not ordinarily be using the same resources. I think it really brings the community together in a way that no other public service does.
301	7/23/2012	Of the utmost importance, it provides services at a neighborhood level, and instills a sense of community that is rapidly decaying in our society.
302	7/23/2012	Center for community resources for wider community. [] Books & resources = education! Libraries support literacy which is an essential foundation block for a decent society. It is [] a place that supports and promotes thinking, sharing and imagination. []
303	7/23/2012	A library is also a community builder encouraging both young and old to access, share and enjoy, not only resources, but the company and ideas of others through programs, exhibits, meetings and classes. They are the keepers of our histories and the key to a better future.
304	7/23/2012	we need to be well informed to make better choices
305	7/23/2012	Reading and education are instrumental in developing a rich and happy life. Without libraries, we wouldn't have access to so many wonderful resources. Also, it's a great place to meet people in the neighborhood and feel connected to the place we live.
306	7/23/2012	The library is our lifeline.
307	7/23/2012	Equal access to education.
308	7/23/2012	we love to read
309	7/23/2012	Access to books, information and all the other services libraries provide for no fee to all in the community benefits everyone.
310	7/23/2012	I'm a writer and depend on the library for research materials I cannot afford to buy myself--hence my frequent use of ILL.
311	7/23/2012	Reading is important both for being informed and for pleasure.
312	7/23/2012	They are not only a learning center they bring a sense of community.
313	7/23/2012	Libraries offer free services, books, media to many people that could not otherwise afford these amenities.
314	7/23/2012	Anyone can access the resources and many of them are free or very low cost.
315	7/23/2012	I don't know what other public services to compare
316	7/23/2012	The ability to place a hold on almost any book I might think of reading, and have it delivered to a branch library, tagged with a little white slip with my name on it, is one of the most powerful tools I wield in my daily life. Seriously. It is practically a superpower.

317	7/23/2012	People gain knowledge and get information from libraries that they might not get anywhere else or have access to. Some people don't have access to computers or the internet and they need this for their school studies or adults might need this for their job searches. Some people with a limited budget simply use the library as their source for entertainment because you can check out books, movies, music, etc. for free. Libraries also usually have a community board that people can look at to see what's going on in their area that they might not otherwise have heard about. And there are often classes or events at libraries that cover a variety of topics and different age groups. I think libraries are a great asset to any community because they really serve their communities well and their patrons feel better connected to their own community as a result. Furthermore, libraries offer resources that help educate people and this leads to personal growth and independence and possibly less reliance on other public services.
318	7/23/2012	Access to knowledge, education, and relevant entertainment is essential to human growth and interaction.
319	7/23/2012	It is available to everybody regardless of income.
320	7/23/2012	Provides a community space and access to reading materials
321	7/23/2012	Because using the library is better than individual consumption of books. The library is a public resource that benefits all Portland citizens.
322	7/23/2012	it has become too expensive by trying to provide too many services beyond just books
323	7/23/2012	It's less important than water or roads, but it's important that there be easy access to material that isn't free on the internet - and access to the internet for those who can't afford their own connection.
324	7/23/2012	I have the resources to gain access to the print media in other ways, but I think libraries, and the access to information they provide is at the heart of an informed and educated public
325	7/23/2012	The library system is an important living example of society's ability to share resources. □ It exemplifies community sharing , use and reuse of goods, and a learning source. It is a continued sign of hope in an increasingly privatized world.
326	7/23/2012	As a retired person being able to check out books allows me to manage my disposable income better. I always bought books before but now just check them out. It is especially nice to be able to place holds on the desired books and media.
327	7/23/2012	They off many resources , important for students and children, access to computers...
328	7/23/2012	Because reading is a very important and necessary thing. So many people nowadays can hardly read. It's awful.
329	7/22/2012	access to knowledge

330	7/22/2012	WHAT other "public services"? this is the only one left. i can't afford a car, so roadwork doesn't apply. i don't have children, so school is out. i can't afford a bus pass, but Trimet could care less about people, and therefore don't count as a "public service". WHAT other services are there? the police?? they exist to extract money from everyone they come into contact with, or support the prison-industrial complex by ruining american citizens' lives and creating the LARGEST PRISON POPULATION IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD. that is not a "service". the library is the barometer of a civilization's intellectual progress. the amerikan empire is doomed.
331	7/22/2012	Libraries contribute much to create a learned society. Without libraries and the programming and services they provide, society will (and continue) to slip behind other developed countries. The less we value schools and libraries, the more we can expect to decline. That is why I support the Multnomah county library system.
332	7/22/2012	In the library, everyone is equal and has equal access to information for entertainment, education, etc...
333	7/22/2012	We need educated, engaged citizenry to keep our democratic way of life. Libraries and schools are the most evident expression of the commitment to universal education.
334	7/22/2012	They are services I use the most and that dramatically increase my quality of life, especially for the cost!
335	7/22/2012	Because being well educated and well informed are fundamental to so many aspects of both private and public life.
336	7/22/2012	Somewhat important
337	7/22/2012	The library helps build community and is an excellent resource for all of us.
338	7/22/2012	The library serves anyone in the community who enters the door or uses the website.
339	7/22/2012	Libraries are my best and cheapest source for books and movies. I consider them critical to my sanity and quality of life.
340	7/22/2012	welfare is ruining my vision of the american dream.
341	7/22/2012	They'd be more important if there weren't a zillion other sources of books, or if private funding weren't a possibility.[] They'd be less important if I could think of many 'other local public services' that were much more important.
342	7/22/2012	Libraries are more than access to learning and life enrichment resources, but also a community gathering space. A place to share and learn together. It is usually the place on Portland that I in counter a higher level of diversity of people; something I crave more of in this city.
343	7/22/2012	I am a vibrant reader and I am almost always reading in my spare time. The library allows me easy access to reading materials that are free are pretty much unlimited.
344	7/22/2012	Our family uses them regularly and the resources of the library provide a valuable outreach to learning about the world and expanding the knowledge of all our family members.

345	7/22/2012	depending on what the definition of "public services" i'd say libraries are near the top. they aren't life saving, but they are life giving.
346	7/22/2012	Public library systems are a cornerstone of a civilized and democratic society.
347	7/22/2012	You haven't said WHAT local public services. Police, water/sewer, are essential for our city to survive. Please tell us what services you want us to rank.
348	7/22/2012	Because local libraries are not only a place for learning, but they are also there for people to have meetings, and to me that is very important.
349	7/22/2012	Access to knowledge and reading material. Also as a datasource for research.
350	7/22/2012	Because I use services often -- great resource.
351	7/22/2012	I happen to use them more than others - I'm inveterate reader. And I don't rely on other public resources as much.
352	7/22/2012	Because anybody can have access to the library and the services they provide, it's an equity issue.
353	7/22/2012	This is access to knowledge. for some the only way to access educational resources.
354	7/22/2012	I mainly use the library for the book lending. There really isn't much out there to compare it with.
355	7/22/2012	I love reading books, but we still need stores, not all of us grow food.
356	7/22/2012	The library is a pivotal icon for any municipality. To not fund or support the library would be detrimental to the health of the community. However, in modern times given modern people, why do we cling to old mentalities/methods? Most people work during the day, so why would the library be closed when most people are off work? If appealing to job seekers, don't we have public employment services available that are already staffed? Maybe I'm new to Portland politics (or maybe uninformed), but why is funding our library system such a complicated decision? Also, if budget is such an issue why isn't there a more publicized request for volunteers? Jobless folks get bored, and volunteer work looks good on a resume. What volunteer opportunities are available?
357	7/22/2012	People need to have a resource they can use - for job seeking and research. Not everyone has that access to a university library system.
358	7/22/2012	They support a community and provide free services that may be otherwise unavailable to people who may not be able to afford them.
359	7/22/2012	These are critical resources for everyone - access to reading material and computers is an essential resource in today's world
360	7/22/2012	Library services are over-reaching: a city of a half-million people does not need as many branches as we have, and the library is wasting much of its budget in trying to do what other institutions should be doing, for examples > job search assistance is the responsibility of Oregon Department of Employment, literacy programs are the responsibility of public education. Libraries are important, but it is more important to have good public health services, and good law enforcement services.
361	7/22/2012	they are necessary for the education needs

362	7/22/2012	They are spaces for rest, reading, and communication via computer technology. The only thing missing is Nature.
363	7/22/2012	DIY culture and the social and political climate of our nation point to unfulfilled needs of our citizens. My guess is that we grow tired of being consumers, and wish to move to a place of producers. Co-ops quickly becoming massively popular (even replacing old union structures) and are showing the populous' drive to be something more. What better cooperative tool is there that the library system for our people to study viable structures and models of success that can help American thrive--putting Portland, Oregon, in the nation's highest ranks?
364	7/22/2012	Public libraries are essential to make changes in one's life. We can learn new things, find new opportunities through this public service, and it betters all of us.
365	7/22/2012	I believe education and learning are keys to having productive adults. Children that enjoy learning become more productive members of society.
366	7/22/2012	Knowledge is the key to Everything!!
367	7/22/2012	Everyone should have access to books, media, and internet.
368	7/22/2012	I think that having books and media available to the community is foundational for our society. It's a rite of passage and incredibly important to society. It's where you can find other worlds and anything you need to know.
369	7/22/2012	The libraries are used by the young and old, free of charge. Everyone has access for its services.
370	7/22/2012	Reading is very important to us, and we can't afford to buy all the books we borrow from the library.
371	7/22/2012	Need other public services, especially safety
372	7/22/2012	i have 3 children who adore the library and i love enforcing their love of reading. the summer reading program is also a huge hit!
373	7/22/2012	Without the library most everyone would read less. Most people cannot afford to purchase books every time they want to read something. the library also connects people to their communities and creates a safe environment. Just being in the library make me feel happy!
374	7/22/2012	I live near the Central Library. I check out books, Cd's, go to programs, and just go to sit and read magazines.[] It is one of my favorite places in Portland.
375	7/22/2012	While I know that local public services are necessary and needed, they don't enrich my life and provide education or happiness on a daily basis.
376	7/22/2012	Reading is essential to my life. Free public Libraries are one of the key foundations of American Democracy.[] And unlike some other basic institutions in American the Libraries are untainted. They actually are open to all, and the services they provide are invaluable.
377	7/22/2012	They are a necessary and important element of an educated public. Having access to reading/resource materials, related literacy and learning activities, and a safe, welcoming community gathering place are a cornerstone to an engaged and well functioning community.

378	7/22/2012	We love our library and use the resources weekly. Its hard to say what is more important between emergency services, parks, schools or libraries.
379	7/22/2012	Resource and learning opportunities and information. It is a place to relax and enjoy periodicals and books that would otherwise be unavailable to me, to others in the community.
380	7/22/2012	The library is the heart of any community. It is the socio-economic equalizer between the most affluent and those of much lesser means. It provides such an important safe learning and being space for children, elderly, disabled, homeless, and other marginalized in our society.
381	7/22/2012	They keep kids educated and out of trouble, they are our future!
382	7/22/2012	I dont personally rely on many public services other than the local library system. There's no other resource in the community where you can find almost any book/periodical/media etc. Even the variety at the local bookstores doesn't compare to the extensive system of the public library where I can place a hold on a book that may not even be located in the state.
383	7/21/2012	Ready access to books means access to learning and access to culture. It promotes a thinking citizenry and offers self-improvement, enjoyment, entertainment and inspiration to everyone.
384	7/21/2012	I use them frequently, and refer many others to the library for the variety of services they offer.
385	7/21/2012	I don't really use other local public services, that I know of.
386	7/21/2012	Personally, I don't use the library that often. I do sometimes access the library for my job and the services are important to my clientele. But if the choice is shortened library hours or less police and firefighters, and more potholes in the roads, I'll choose less library.
387	7/21/2012	As a teacher I need access to as many resources as possible to provide an excellent education to my students.
388	7/21/2012	reference information and entertainment(reading) available at low/no cost is really important to have available.
389	7/21/2012	Education and access to media are essential to any society. Knowledge is freedom.
390	7/21/2012	Libraries are an important resource for my community. I want my children to know that reading is an important value in our community.
391	7/21/2012	Because I can learn a lot.
392	7/21/2012	level of civilization it give the people
393	7/21/2012	A well-informed citizenry is essential for democracy. The library provides us with resources and information we might not have access to or be able to afford otherwise. It also serves as a community hub and meeting place for a variety of educational purposes.
394	7/21/2012	Libraries are the backbone of our communities. They are the important adjunct to our education system, and help insure that education does not stop when a person leaves school. They help civilize us. They also serve as supporters of basic rights, like freedom of the press and freedom of expression, when many other factors in our society work actively to curtail these rights.

395	7/21/2012	Having easy, free access to books is extremely important. Reading programs encourage children to learn to like to read and to explore different topics. Going to the library was a scheduled, weekly activity growing up and it was also for my children.
396	7/21/2012	It is a safe, learning environment that meets the needs of many levels of society during these tough times.
397	7/21/2012	Knowledge is the one of the most important assets a person will acquire in a lifetime. It is something that you can never put a price on. It is something that continually increases and empowers people. No one can take away the knowledge that you have learned and they cannot limit how much you acquire. It is the only asset that will never lose its' value. Libraries are our best source for maintaining information of our past, present, and future.
398	7/21/2012	Multnomah County provides very important social services to the community and the Library is one service that can be used by all.
399	7/21/2012	Love Books & to read
400	7/21/2012	They are that level of importance to me because I think reading is slowly becoming a lost pastime, next to the e-readers, video games, Tv, iphones, and many other electronics.
401	7/21/2012	I love to read. Reading is important to and for my children. The libraries provide valuable programming and activities for youth. Fostering a love of reading is an important part of healthy child development and healthy communities.
402	7/21/2012	Libraries are one of the most used community services for people of all ages and income levels. Also the libraries contribute to the feeling of community for our town, and we take pride in having a great library.
403	7/21/2012	Libraries are very important to me and I feel they should be valued in our community.
404	7/21/2012	Because they provide the basic resources on which a society can build its culture and values. They are the power house for a healthy economic and social development. They furnish materials that help individuals to develop their talents, to explore and reach their potential. They are the source of knowledge and wisdom. Library services in any community are, therefore, of vital importance.
405	7/21/2012	For my needs and uses, the library is a critical component in the ways I experience written, visual and audio information and entertainment
406	7/21/2012	I cannot afford to buy every book or CD or DVD that I'd like to read/listen to/watch. Borrowing them from my library allows me to use those funds for food, rent and other necessities without forcing me into a cultural black hole.
407	7/21/2012	With access to knowledge and current events we all lose. I would also consider other public services just as important.
408	7/21/2012	The libraries offer so many useful resources to such a wide variety of people in need.

409	7/21/2012	I am a college student and access to a local library is invaluable to me. It is also saves me money and space because I can check out books instead of buying them and not clutter my small space with too many books. The ability to check out books also opens up a world for my children to explore through reading. Having library services available in my community is invaluable to me and my family.
410	7/21/2012	They provide an alternative for our children other than running the streets.
411	7/21/2012	The library is a vital resource used by everyone of every income level and ethnic and cultural background. It's the backbone of the community.
412	7/21/2012	It gives me and my family the opportunity to find a wide assortment of books. Also it is a great place for other resources.
413	7/21/2012	It's educational & easy to check books out that one cannot otherwise afford. Good experience for my daughter & quality time spent with my daughter
414	7/21/2012	education
415	7/21/2012	As a high school student I use the public library system for research materials, and in that respect I am fairly reliant on it. I also enjoy checking out materials for entertainment and personal edification.
416	7/21/2012	Providing free books and media to the public is a huge resource and it is currently underestimated.
417	7/21/2012	I read a lot.
418	7/21/2012	The staff are superlative. The resources offered are excellent. The library offers a superb service relative to its cost. What a treasure.
419	7/21/2012	It isn't that important to me directly, but indirectly I think it is important to everyone, even if you yourself never use the services. Because our state & our country's economic future depend on our people to be educated and we need to do a better job regarding education or we will no longer be the greatest country on earth! Unfortunately our youth today would rather play video games than go check out a book and read it. Access to information can be the most important service which our government provides to us. I think anyone in their right mind would agree with that statement.
420	7/21/2012	Because it's important for me to show my daughter the importance of reading, having good grammar, spelling and the like, that she gets from reading.
421	7/21/2012	I use them more often.
422	7/21/2012	Libraries are a service I use weekly. Fire, police, and roads would be also extremely important but, although they are absolutely needed for emergencies, I don't FEEL their benefit on a weekly basis.
423	7/21/2012	Libraries make it possible to read books and access materials that many could not afford to buy. It is sharing and leads to an appreciation. The programs for children are very important and I know of seniors who learned to use the computer because they attended classes at no charge at the library. I cannot imagine living in an area without access to a library.
424	7/21/2012	Because libraries offer such a wide range of information, teach you how to look for that information on your own, tangible books, and computer access to those without it at home.
425	7/20/2012	Free access to important information, education and technology.

426	7/20/2012	I have special needs for the library and its services since they have computers, zerox and printers. It has been a convenient service since I cannot afford or have access to these service in my home. Multnomah County's library system is one of the most actively used in the nation; that tells me that it is a vital part of our community's health and well-being. [] [] Is it MORE important than health services? nutrition services? education? personal safety? adequate housing?[] []
427	7/20/2012	I understand when it comes to dividing up the financial pie the word 'compared' comes into the conversation, but I truly dislike the pitting of one aspect of societal health and quality of living against another. Access to information and education and resources is something that many people take for granted; the library offers this access to everyone, regardless of economic status. It is about the only public service that I can think of where this is the case. It is, in many ways, invaluable. It's a quieter service, not big and flashy and driven by crisis, so it may get overlooked. But I think on many levels it is vital. Thanks for asking.
428	7/20/2012	When I was in school I needed a place to go and sit and not be interrupted while doing homework. The central library was that for me.
429	7/20/2012	I LOVE and depend on renting books for free, and I have no access to electronic books and other usages. [] And who doesn't LOVE a library, come on! :) Except maybe the really youger population who never learned to appreciate it.
430	7/20/2012	Because people need access to free books. Literacy/education is critical and yet we undervalue it tremendously. For kids, going to the library makes reading an important, fun activity that is always new and exciting. Kids look forward to it and they learn more because of the library.
431	7/20/2012	They ar free to use.
432	7/20/2012	It is important to me because I believe that everyone should have access to materials and resources that the library offers.
433	7/20/2012	I'm not saying the other public services aren't important, but it is crucial to maintain equal access to current information. The gap between the haves and the have nots will just widen further if the information at the library becomes outdated and only people with money have access to the most current information, resources, etc.
434	7/20/2012	I am especially fund of freegal
435	7/20/2012	Because I use the library often for school resources, it is very important to me when compared to other public services.
436	7/20/2012	no comment
437	7/20/2012	Reading is vital to all people and the communities they live in.
438	7/20/2012	Very important to me, but other social services are more critical to some families.

439	7/20/2012	When it's economically hard time for the community, the library is a great resource!
440	7/20/2012	Because I can not afford to buy books but love to read. I also do not currently have access to a computer and/or the internet unless I am at the library.
441	7/20/2012	Because it is an extremely valuable resource that helps the community stay connected, learn, and share the value of having a library system that actually works.
442	7/20/2012	As with all public services, the manner in which the service is driven many times determines it value. The library is part of the infrastructure of this city. Is it more important than water, sewer, emergency services,lights, streets, shelter? No, these are life sustaining services.However, if we do not have the knowledge and education, it cannot be done. You cannot have one without the other...that double edged sword keeps swinging in.
443	7/20/2012	With cuts to school programs, it is especially important for parents to have resources available to support their children's education outside of the classroom. The library is the first place that comes to mind for most parents trying to support their child's learning. There are really no other resources that I am aware of that can offer anything comparable for children and families. The same is true for elderly folks who don't get out of their homes. The library offers a service that is free and reaches people of all socio-economic backgrounds who need information and entertainment. Many other public services have eligibility criteria that few meet.
444	7/20/2012	Don't know--if the library goes out of business and the private sector will take over and tax payer funding will be a non issue.
445	7/20/2012	There's lots of information available to us that would be more difficult to access on our own.
446	7/20/2012	I love the Multnomah Library system & I use it weekly
447	7/20/2012	For the additional resources they provide along side the very important social services that the county provides. They also keep our community deeply connected to each other as library usage does not seem to be socially stratified. Plus, this is a city of readers--it is part of what keeps us engaged in the community.
448	7/20/2012	They provide access to the infinite world of the written word and important resources for personal growth to all regardless of income level.
449	7/20/2012	A public library is the foundation of democracy. Without it, we are all on unequal footing. I've lived in countries where there are no public libraries and there just is no comparison. The public library serves all of us and not just those who can pay.
450	7/20/2012	01/10/2009
451	7/20/2012	Books enrich my life. I cannot imagine my life without easy access to such a vast selection available to browse.
452	7/20/2012	The library offers activities that are beneficial to everyone. It is a positive operation.
453	7/20/2012	The library is a wonderful resource accessible to all. Raising the literary/analytical level of the US population is key to keeping the US competitive in the world market.
454	7/20/2012	I listen to audiobooks daily on my commute.

455	7/20/2012	A vibrant public library is a place where community is created and strengthened. Children and adults from communities that are marginalized can have access to books, computers and other learning materials that would be out of reach their reach otherwise. Youth have a safer place to be and learn than out on the streets, and, sadly for some, in their own homes.
456	7/20/2012	All people should have access to books no matter what.
457	7/20/2012	A literate and educated society is of utmost importance. Everything else will fail if our intellect is put on the back burner.
458	7/20/2012	As a young girl, I visited the library almost every day and it was so instrumental in my educational journey. When I got my first library card (as soon as I could sign my name), I felt empowered and that doors were opened for me. There were so many subjects to study and discover and I was allowed to check out as many books as I could carry. I hope that other young people will continue to discover this vast, valuable resource.
459	7/20/2012	Libraries allow everyone access to information to educate and better themselves. Other programs are a waste of money.
460	7/20/2012	Access to books and education for everyone is important. Libraries make knowledge accessible and affordable to everyone, which is essential to society as a whole.
461	7/20/2012	I feel very strongly that the health and prosperity of a community depends largely on the resources dedicated to the public good. Libraries are a HUGE part of that considering they have something to offer every member of the community on a daily basis, unlike schools which attend to kid's needs or hospitals which one goes to when ill. Part of the reason I live in Portland is the sense of civic pride that is demonstrated through the gorgeous Central Library and the extensive efforts in community outreach.
462	7/20/2012	It is a great place for my family and I to find books, read them, and then if we decide we want to purchase that book, we can. It allows us to make an informed decision before a purchase. Or, simply borrow the book, and avoid a purchase. We read LOTS of books each year, so it saves us a lot of money each year. But I have paid for many books through fines, OOPS! I don't mind paying the fines, I know it helps fund the library. ☹ ☹ We love going to the library in a world where book stores are few and far between, or are only in big box stores, which we aren't interested in supporting. I love being surrounded by books!
463	7/20/2012	I think it is important for everyone to have access to knowledge and the ability to improve their understanding of the world. The library is a great place to do that, and is open to all.
464	7/20/2012	Local library services provide the intellectual infrastructure for our community. Without access to ideas and a center where ideas are valued... celebrated, we place our civil society in jeopardy.
465	7/20/2012	Libraries are the basis of knowledge needed for most activities humans engage in.
466	7/20/2012	My family and I are very regular users.

467	7/20/2012	They are important to many, such as those without computers using the library to find employment. Libraries, however, are not as important as public safety services such as fire and especially police here in Portland. □ We use it mainly to get books to read and appreciate the fact that we can order any book on-line at home, from any library in the system, and pick it up at our local (Midland) library. It saves us a lot of time and gas money.
468	7/20/2012	Very Very Important.
469	7/20/2012	I think learning is a key to a successful life and healthy communities. At the library, I can learn anything I want for free (except for the taxes we pay). We use the library website or our local branch many times a week, and using library resources, I have successfully completed two Bachelor's degrees, taught myself skills that have helped our small business be successful, prepared myself for having kids, and learned a lot of fun household hobbies and skills. Not to mention all the movies we watch from the library- saves on Netflix fees. We love the library!
470	7/20/2012	Yes, public library is likewise a grocery store. The different is the grocery store to supply foods for physical needs while the library supplies "soul/mind/mental needs" on daily basis, and this should need connected to physical needs on daily basis.□ □
471	7/20/2012	Hoping this could be understood. Thanks. Library services that I use are not available elsewhere
472	7/20/2012	My budget doesn't allow me to buy books or other media. I think a lot of people are in the same situation. I think the library has shown excellent judgment about what information the community needs, including children and job-seekers. In this continuing recession, I think these services offer a good value to taxpayers. I think continued funding for robust libraries tells the community that Portland highly values literacy and education for all.
473	7/20/2012	Information and safe public gathering places are essential to a healthy democracy.
474	7/20/2012	Very important as I use the library check out services regularly.
475	7/20/2012	free access to leisure activities
476	7/20/2012	We need them for our society to learn and grow
477	7/20/2012	Because they bring knowledge and education to the masses. Whatever level - whether one is just learning to read or learning a new language or searching for a job or needing to use a computer which is all too important in today's society or just reading for pleasure. Lifetime learning is such an important thing and libraries provide that for free!
478	7/20/2012	A genuine community service that does not discriminate. Anyone has equal access regardless of financial or social standing. A truly American institution.

479	7/20/2012	Our family uses the library for books, movies & TV shows. We don't pay for cable or other TV. In fact, we don't even watch live TV. We love our library system. All six of us (two adults, four children) participate in summer reading. □ One other item: do not equate computer filters with censorship. It's not the same thing at all. I don't like it that my library dollars pay for on-line access to porn.
480	7/20/2012	Its free and safe
481	7/20/2012	Reading is that important to me
482	7/20/2012	not for me personally but for those seeking access to internet for job seeking and electronic media. Developing literacy in children has long range and significant benefit. I do appreciate the ability to borrow books that I can peruse before choosing which to read.
483	7/20/2012	We have a certain level of comfort knowing library services are available but would be more than willing to forego them to have clean rest rooms and reading rooms , free access to a chair when needed and not to feel intimidated when using the libraries.
484	7/20/2012	I'm a voracious reader, and I couldn't possibly afford to buy the number of books I read.
485	7/20/2012	I like books and cds and dvds and public spaces like the library.
486	7/20/2012	I have a limited income and the library provides entertainment.
487	7/20/2012	The libraries are important, but we have limited funds and need police, fire, and roads.
488	7/20/2012	The reason for the importance of the library system is I've been volunteering for nine years now and I can read,watch and listen for free.
489	7/20/2012	Following public safety and welfare in importance, library is key resource for all ages, all walks of life.
490	7/20/2012	I guess simply because the library brings access to all peoples of socioeconomic classes to reading & literacy, something that in other countries is only for certain classes. Without literacy we'd be really worse off as a nation.
491	7/20/2012	I think the library is essential to the heart and mind of our whole community.
492	7/20/2012	Education, community involvement, and books available for free Without access to information and learning, □ how are we to improve our evolution as a species? □
493	7/20/2012	We must share our resources and the library is □ perhaps the single most obvious way to do that.
494	7/20/2012	I was a Depression baby. The public library provided me with resources far beyond what my family could afford and gave me a broad perspective on the world. On my father's side of the family, I was the first to complete college and earn an advanced degree.
495	7/20/2012	Community and literacy!!!!

496	7/20/2012	Libraries provide several services that are especially important for low-income citizens, such as internet and computer printer access. As other services are cut, the library becomes more important as a social safety net. For example, as funding for schools is cut and schools must forego non-essential purchases like library books, children turn to the public library for access to the resources necessary for education. Students who don't have home computers or whose parents cannot afford internet access can rely on the libraries for at least limited access to the internet and basic word processing even when the school day is over.
497	7/20/2012	I have two kids and we utilize the children's programs weekly. I have met a lot of friends through the programs and that has helped me as a new mom. The programs have introduced my kids to lots of books and songs, which has been wonderful. And I am an avid reader, and can't imagine not being able to use the library to get my books! I love the library!!
498	7/20/2012	Because the programs that a library can offer kids as well as adults can't be found elsewhere. Or not in nearly such a nice, convenient place.
499	7/20/2012	Most services just take care of physical safety and health. The library provides the knowledge for that and for everything else as well.
500	7/20/2012	The summer reading program for school children is a great motivator.
501	7/20/2012	I cannot afford to buy all the books I would like to read
502	7/20/2012	Because not all have well assistance but some do
503	7/20/2012	I need help researching and I NEED books
504	7/20/2012	They allow access to huge amounts of information and culture.
505	7/20/2012	Libraries are a valuable resource for research.
506	7/20/2012	Access to information enables better use of all public services.
507	7/20/2012	Libraries provide important resources to all people. Not just reading materials but classes and support and other resource tools. They do not discriminate based on any -isms, the library acts the same for everyone. And we ALL benefit from a working library system.
508	7/20/2012	Utilities are very important
509	7/20/2012	Because a free, well-stocked public library is at the heart of protecting what's left of our fragile democracy. The library is the one place today where people could learn how to become fully participating citizens.
510	7/20/2012	Reading and literacy is key to success in school. Computer access is vital for low income patrons/youth who may not have adequate or any computer access at home.
511	7/20/2012	Personally the library is a part of my every day life. It is one of my favorite errands to run, I use the library for my work and for pleasure. The employees are always so excellent and kind, I love and use the website. The library adds a lot to my quality of life and I can't imagine not having it as a resource.
512	7/20/2012	very important

513	7/20/2012	I utilized the resources daily whether it be using the computer or checking out material. I enjoy going to find a book to read or use the computer. It is also helps my elderly father up to date with senior resources.
514	7/20/2012	education, availability of information and resources
515	7/20/2012	THE LIBRARY SERVES SUCH A DIVERSE POPULATION; LOCAL LIBRARY SERVICES REACH PEOPLE FROM BIRTH TO THEIR OLDER AGE.
516	7/20/2012	Access to public transportation and social services trump books on the grand social scale.
517	7/20/2012	I like reading
518	7/20/2012	I believe we need to ensure that everyone can have access to information via the Internet and have free materials available to them via books and other media.
519	7/20/2012	Libraries provide access to services and information that may be out of reach for many families, especially low income and English language learners. Libraries provide access to education materials, opportunities (story times, classes, etc), and services to support early childhood learning, learning in schools, and adult education. Libraries are also important cultural and community centers; they bring together members of the local community and foster understanding, acceptance, and celebration of all the different cultures in the community. Libraries were my life line when I was a young mother with two small children. Not only did they provide the above, but they also gave me a safe place to take my children where they could have fun and be around other children and I could be around other adults. I often recommend story time at the library for families who want their children to spend more time with other kids but can't afford daycare or preschool programs and for moms who are feeling isolated by parenthood and child rearing. Libraries fill a critical need for members of the community who are seeking support in more ways than literacy services.
520	7/20/2012	Each is important to someone out there so this is hard to answer. I'm fortunate that I don't have to utilize a lot of public services, but they ought to be there those that need them.
521	7/20/2012	this is the most democratic of institutions. all my life, the place and the service has been important. Reading is the key to responsible adulthood and occasionally comfort and joy.
522	7/20/2012	we use the library very frequently
523	7/19/2012	They aren't a basic needs or safety service, but provide tremendous value to the community.
524	7/19/2012	I use the library all the time. I check out books, CD's and videos both movie and TV and go online for value line. I use the freeze system all the time. It makes my checkouts more effecient. I don't need to checkout everything at once which allows other library users to use the info quicker. I would like to see the amount of freeze items raised from it's current 15.

525	7/19/2012	The importance of literacy and reading cannot be overstated, especially in these increasingly complex times, nor can the importance of books themselves in their comparative accessibility to the poor, the young, the elderly, those in outlying areas, and those without computer access (the majority of the planet's population) in our increasingly technological world. The reading and accessibility programs for young people, the elderly, the disabled, the illiterate, and those learning ESL are incredibly important in bridging the gaps of access to information and resources that exist in our modern society, and exemplify the best parts in our remaining humanity.
526	7/19/2012	Because the library is a cornerstone of democracy; the true enabler of an informed citizenry, without which public institutions either wither or become self-serving bureaucracies.
527	7/19/2012	The library is an important resource for the community for learning. Reading is important, fun and opens up all kinds of possibilities.
528	7/19/2012	Because knowledge is critical.
529	7/19/2012	the buildings are accessible for everyone. the staff serves everyone. they are the 1st line resource whenever I want to know something. They help me keep my brain active and interested. there is never enough time to read all there is to read. Above all they encourage and promote reading for everyone. I don't believe that the printed word will disappear that all will be electronic. To hold a book is soul soothing.
530	7/19/2012	Learning/reading is a good outlet for the community
531	7/19/2012	I do think it's very important, really, but I don't know if the Library is going in the right direction. I personally didn't care for this passing of the levy and then deciding to close the day. It seemed deceptive on the public. Also, I get tired of going to that Downtown Library-which is not utilized nearly as well as it used to be and finding it be kind of a zoo and the employees not really doing much of anything. If that's what's happening, it makes no difference if it's open 7 days to me. It can stay closed.
532	7/19/2012	The library levels the playing field across socio-economic classes. It provides books, computers and internet access to those who cannot otherwise afford it. It benefits the young and old. It is a vital resource to the health of our community.
533	7/19/2012	aside from entertainment the libraries provide various materials (books, internet access). if one chooses to study/learn a subject outside of a school setting they can easily do so.
534	7/19/2012	If you could list other similarly funded public services, this question might be more useful to me. As a Multnomah County resident, I highly value my library and the services it provides. I believe in the grand scheme of things, our priorities should go to supporting education (libraries are part of that), our safety, and our general well being (parks, accessible transport.)
535	7/19/2012	The library is our first go to point for all sorts of information. Would find accessing other public services more difficult without the library. Customer service actually exists at the library, which is not always the case elsewhere.
536	7/19/2012	I use it and many, many others do who need the resources.

537	7/19/2012	Our freedom depends on it.
538	7/19/2012	at this time, it is the main 'local public service' I use the most
539	7/19/2012	Reading and learning are a big part of my life.
540	7/19/2012	Libraries allow folks access to knowledge and resources that might otherwise be unavailable to them.
541	7/19/2012	Because the library is accessible to everyone! Regardless of income, race, disability, etc. We all can save money using the library and supporting the system.
542	7/19/2012	I read avidly, and MultCoLib is absolutely the best library system that I have ever used, including Brooklyn Public, which is huge. I never stop being amazed at what this system has to offer.
543	7/19/2012	libraries contribute to the quality of life by making books and resources available to the public.
544	7/19/2012	To keep the populace informed and literate regardless of income.
545	7/19/2012	helps me with the resources to aid everything I do
546	7/19/2012	Libraries are a source of information and education. People tend to miss opportunities and make poor decisions and judgements when uninformed. Libraries fill gaps in other public services. It really makes for a healthy society, it is a very basic social service that will always be of more value to people in society that actually need it the most and can make huge impacts to any person in improving their life and chances of succeeding in society. []
547	7/19/2012	[] It is at least as important as education in general, because it makes the resources available to all levels of society who are eager to learn and who are actually willing to come seek out/up the information. If we don't help young children get familiar with books and information and learning, then the actual school system will have much more trouble delivering formal education. They provide FREE access to knowledge and information. To me this is on par with access to good education for all people. I also consider the librarians and employees to be an important resource as they can be the gateway to accessing the information, that is, you may not be able to find what you are looking for, but they usually know how to get it.
548	7/19/2012	I enjoy reading and love to be able to read new books without having to buy them. Reading is one of my favourite hobbies and I usually have 3-4 books checked out at a time. Gregory Heights Library is within walking distance of my house and I usually go there to pick up or drop off books at least once a week.
549	7/19/2012
550	7/19/2012	Health care and planned parenthood more important, as well as social care for mentally challenged.[] Criminal rehabilitation also more important.
551	7/19/2012	The value they have to serve job seekers, homeless and others who need a connection center.
552	7/19/2012	It is a great opportunity for children, teachers, parents, students, and everyone in a community to read books at no cost to them. Libraries promote great academic habits.
553	7/19/2012	reading is my life

554	7/19/2012	If you think education is expensive, try ignorance.[] How would I rank library services vis a vis police or fire or road repair or the military or teachers or bridges or housing inspectors or accurate voting machines? All VERY important.
555	7/19/2012	An educated public is important to a democratic society. Access for all is needed, even for those without money.
556	7/19/2012	I believe that libraries fall within the basic tenants of the community, which would include safety, infrastructure and education. Libraries augment our schools and universities in educating the public for the overall good of the community.
557	7/19/2012	VERY. It helps me in research, and saves me so much money and as I'm a low income educator... it helps sustain me fiscally, spiritually and mentally.
558	7/19/2012	The library adds to my education on a daily basis, and is a continuing education program of the highest caliber.
559	7/19/2012	Local libraries are the last-ditch avenue for free self-education, among other things. An ignorant population is an enslaved population.
560	7/19/2012	Libraries offer equal access to all comers-no racial, sexual orientation, immigration, gender, or other bias. It is truly a public institution.
561	7/19/2012	I use the library to gain information.
562	7/19/2012	Libraries expand our society's knowledge base, often in unexpected and unlooked for ways. In this digital age, with tailored ads based on previous search histories, and with a visual barrage of consumer products 24/7, there are a handful of spaces that allow for the gentle absorption of knowledge. First, and foremost of these spaces are our libraries. They are often the first place a child is allowed to explore alone, before the city park. They include members of our community that may feel at odds elsewhere. They provide safe spaces to gather. Free Public Libraries are frankly one of the pillars of American Democracy, and without them, we'd rapidly crumble into corporate owned city-states.
563	7/19/2012	The libraries here are a wonderful shared resource
564	7/19/2012	It is a place for ALL to frequent.
565	7/19/2012	For the reason that I am retired and need to maintain contact with the world in a manner which is independent of commercial advertisement.
566	7/19/2012	This is a community resource for all people, those who live there, those visiting, children, jobseekers, seniors etc. You can get answers to almost any question at the library (from friendly faces) or be pointed to where you might find the answer of your question. It is much more than just a place to find books. I have lived in countries without public libraries and it is amazing what a loss that is. I think we tend to take them for granted when we have always had them around, but they are a terrific resource and a way to conserve resources by providing information at your finger tips that can be shared by all regardless of income. It is a key part of any community. I think librarians are some of the greatest people around (and i am not a librarian nor is there one in my family).

567	7/19/2012	Because I read a lot ,
568	7/19/2012	Walking to the library, and sharing the treasures I found there with my grandmother on my way home, got me through the gawky years. In an era when many families are struggling financially, both parents work full-time and schools are failing, access to books, computers and people who want to share their love of reading is even more important. If you can't read, your access to jobs, travel, history and financial independence, etc. is limited, or eliminated.
569	7/19/2012	Basic library services are important. The additional services and programs are not important to me and therefore a waste of my tax dollars.
570	7/19/2012	The library provides many important services and even though I don't use the library for anything other than checking out materials, these services are critically valuable for those who do use/need them. The library is a source of information, knowledge, access and community to multiple diverse groups unavailable any other way.
571	7/19/2012	Education is they key to our children's future, as well as keeping our brains from atrophying. The internet cannot replace the books and services available through our libraries.
572	7/19/2012	I find it difficult to utilize my library to its fullest potential due to my work and home life. We have a lot of media already in my home, and I don't have much time to read for pleasure. My kids also go to a daycare that has a very broad library. Also, when I do check out books, they most times dont get read and I return them before we read them.
573	7/19/2012	knowledge is the key.
574	7/19/2012	An informed community is at least as important to a decent quality of life as police and fire protection. Public libraries are critical to assuring that information is available to adults, and a critical adjunct to the schools. In short, we cannot have a healthy, working democracy without the public library system. There are too many ways that the other means of information distribution can be gamed by special interests.[] For me specifically, the Library gives me access to entire realms of knowledge that I would otherwise never encounter.
575	7/19/2012	My daughter looks forward to going to the library every month to check out a stack of new books. She loves to read.
576	7/19/2012	I don't want to live in a community without good libraries - this is a very good indicator of community health
577	7/19/2012	As a senior citizen living on a small fixed income, I rely on the public library mainly for books to read. I cannot afford to buy books, but I do enjoy reading. As a "card-carrying"-Luddite, reading is an important home activity for me, because television, videos, and "on-line streaming" simply are not for me. Thank you for continuing to offer such a wide variety of reading materials.
578	7/19/2012	It's valuable to be able to go somewhere and borrow a book that you don't have to buy, or do research and get help from the librarian, and see books you might not otherwise find.

579	7/19/2012	Like everyone else I am selfish. At least I can admit the truth! I read an average of 90 books a year and can't afford to buy them. It is very hard to find good content at the library as I have burned through so many authors. The quality of my life would be ruined without literature. Any change at the library has a direct effect on my life.
580	7/19/2012	Education and reading is very valued in our family. Reading books and having access to gaining knowledge is how we better ourselves.
581	7/19/2012	Everyone benefits with libraries, not just one group of people.
582	7/19/2012	My daughter and I have access to material that we cannot afford to buy and store. I have a place to focus on my education when I need a quiet space. I've learned so much over my lifetime just by having access to libraries. These are crucial needs in a community. They need to be recognized as such.
583	7/19/2012	Crucially important. As a zinester and a researcher of the Chinook language, the Central Library is the only resource for Chinook Jargon in the entire Pacific Northwest that does not require long periods of travel to say, a place like Seattle or Vancouver.
584	7/19/2012	fire and police are more important
585	7/19/2012	Very important. It is a free source of knowledge and place for community.
586	7/19/2012	A community needs access to information regardless of income. The library is the great equalizer and the key to citizen self improvement.
587	7/19/2012	the library is a fun place to go and get books to read.
588	7/19/2012	It is at the of our civilization.
589	7/19/2012	Everyone, regardless of income, should have access to information. Libraries grant that access to all.
590	7/19/2012	Libraries are a community center. During tough economic times, they are a resource for job seekers- and also a necessity for those without personal Internet access who would otherwise be unable to get a food handlers card, apply for work, or take care of personal business that requires Internet. Books and media are wonderful, but the classes and programs offered by the library fill a huge need that other social services don't meet.
591	7/19/2012	equal access most of all, as too many lower-income kids and families don't have access at home to computers/internet, Netflix, purchased books; preserving and promoting a wide range of viewpoints, since internet searching that people think is so great actually narrows the range of information to which they are exposed; learning to read early changed my life dramatically, so getting kids to read well is unbelievably important; shared sense of purpose as a community and shared ownership of the library resources; many schools (public and private/charter) are unable to provide good in-school libraries, so the county library system is necessary for student success;
592	7/19/2012	Access to books and educational materials I otherwise would not be exposed to. I hear or read of a book of interest and can check it out to see if I want to own it. I also find the ebooks very useful.

593	7/19/2012	As a historian who is not affiliated with an academic institution, the public library is the most vital tool in my professional work. (It also doesn't hurt that the public library's staff is vastly more friendly than that of the Oregon Historical Society.)
594	7/19/2012	less important than say, the fire department. More important than tree planting. Libraries foster a literate and informed civil society, and provide a place for people of all ages to share experiences and interact--in our increasingly isolated, tv dependent culture, these experiences are important.
595	7/19/2012	Can be used rain or shine. Vast scope of resources. Knowledge is so vital to a society.
596	7/19/2012	Because residents have access to information for free at their neighborhood library.
597	7/19/2012	The library greatly influenced me as a kid. It allowed me to develop my passion for reading/education. I've also seen the impact it's had on people who are immigrants/learning english. It can change lives.
598	7/19/2012	I feel access to the type of resources the library offers is essential in a system that has an uneven playing field. The library shares a wide variety of resources that do not simply assist the already advantaged in our society.
599	7/19/2012	Libraries offer an opportunity for people to access information and entertainment that otherwise may not have the opportunity. It gives people a chance to educate themselves or their families, which helps the whole community.
600	7/19/2012	I use the library a lot - reading is a big part of my life, and being able to borrow books is very important to me. It provides a daily service, unlike other local public services.
601	7/19/2012	Access to knowledge affects our whole community. The library is somewhere anyone can go no matter what their income to learn.
602	7/19/2012	The library is the only public service I use. I have a toddler son and I work outside the home so the ability to hold books online is convenient and being able to stop by after work or on Saturdays to check out books is ideal. I have also taken advantage of the free childrens books, one of which is my child's favorite. My husband and I are avid readers and I like the free services of the library so I can surround my son with books and influence a growing love of reading.
603	7/19/2012	It's one "free" and widely, easily accessible avenue to literacy. It levels the playing field for rich and poor.
604	7/19/2012	learning, education, enjoyment, community connections -- these will always be priority for me.
605	7/19/2012	I value reading and literacy very highly
606	7/19/2012	I have a toddler and use the library a lot. I go to story time every week and feel that the program has really benefitted my daughter and improved her verbal skills.
607	7/19/2012	It is very important for everyone to have access to literacy and learning.
608	7/19/2012	It is my prior resource to research and community even if I don't interact with folks there. (If that makes sense.)

		The library provides so many important resources that everyone can use. These services are provided free of charge to anyone that holds a library card. These services help a lot of people out every day, no matter what their financial status is. []
609	7/19/2012	[] When money is short, it is good to know that you can go to a library and get a book. That book may provide an escape to a mythical land, further education, a new recipes to cook, or new crafts to be created. It is amazing what a book can do.
610	7/19/2012	If a person can read, opportunities become available. Personal growth, education, resources. A public library provides that to all consmers at no cost to user. Other public services require qualifying for use, ie, low income or under 18.
611	7/19/2012	I love to read. For people without home computer access, it's vital. It's also one of the few community spaces available and used by wide cross sections of Multnomah County.
612	7/19/2012	We use other public services such as parks and rec as often as the library.
613	7/19/2012	when homebound or blind it is good to have books on tape to "read" books. it is needed for seniors to feel that they are not cut off from the community
614	7/19/2012	I have young kids and love to read and learn, and I want to impart this onto my children. Books need to be revered and available for discovery to all. Libraries are also centers for our neighborhoods and communities.
615	7/19/2012	I'm not sure what other local services I'm being asked to compare it to. But overall, I think the library services are vital for the community.
616	7/19/2012	An educated and informed community is key to the happiness and wellbeing of our city.
617	7/19/2012	Without the basic services provided by city & county I would have neither the time or leisure to make use of the library. I would certainly put the library ahead of the dogcatcher though.
618	7/19/2012	I believe every community requires a good library to encourage reading, knowledge and community involvement.
619	7/19/2012	Access to information is vital to education and knowledge!!!!!!
620	7/19/2012	Everywhere I have lived the library is one of the first places I go. It is a part of my life for information and books. The internet access provided as well as the internet access to the library itself is important.
621	7/19/2012	Public libraries have been the source of continuing education, information, entertainment for over 80 years of my life. Everyone should have that opportunity and the familiarity to enjoy it.
622	7/19/2012	Great resource for books and educational materials.
623	7/19/2012	because library resources benefit children, seniors, & low income adults
624	7/19/2012	Library provides free access to internet, friendly environment to read books, useful materials for my study, and even volunteer work opportunities.
625	7/19/2012	free education for an informed citizenry

626	7/19/2012	Reading level and opportunity to engage with all forms of media determine overall literacy of our society
627	7/19/2012	Because they give all parts of the city access to library resources.
628	7/19/2012	I read a lot. Being able to get books without a seperate fee is important to me. I have used the library since was was a child.
629	7/19/2012	I'm a writer and sometimes rely on libraries for research purposes.
630	7/19/2012	no internet at home
631	7/19/2012	They are not among the most important things because they are not necessary for my survival, but they are pretty important because they offer information to the community who may not have any other place to gain that information. And keeping the community informed is crucial to the communities success.
632	7/19/2012	very. one of the foundations of a community
633	7/18/2012	easily accessible to all
634	7/18/2012	Education and access to educational materials is very important for a healthy society.
635	7/18/2012	Available education to those who seek it but may not be able to access it freely.
636	7/18/2012	Public safety is probably the most important service that government provides. The beauty of the public library is that it offers the same level of information and service to all, regardless of income. Education is the answer to all problems; the library is a part of that process.
637	7/18/2012	Libraries are now asked to fill more gaps than ever - programming that schools have cut, programming and services for a growing senior population, services and programming for unemployed, etc. The need is great, and the services are many - not just checking out books anymore.
638	7/18/2012	access to information that is free and widely available to all of the public, not just the privileged.
639	7/18/2012	High
640	7/18/2012	The library gives me and my daughter access to the whole world through books.
641	7/18/2012	I see fire and police more important as safety issues, while libraries are important. The internet makes libraries a bit less relevant but still a huge help for the lower income and middle class families.
642	7/18/2012	Libraries are a public health issue. They are a public necessity. Food, shelter, and then libraries - and frankly libraries can teach us a thing or two about food and shelter (so they could actually be first in line). [] Libraries provide an incredible sense of security to people. And a progressive people - a health community is one that has access to this kind of security. When you're basics like libraries are met, it allows people to go on and do great things, it inspires people to give back. have you ever seen a sad person leaving with an armful of books at the checkout counter? This kind of happiness... is rare. Public happiness, we should consider the value of this, it may be priceless.

643	7/18/2012	Having free access to print, computer, and internet resources is of varying importance for people in different economic and professional groups. The advent of affordable information technologies in our homes has decreased the necessity for library services for many people, but have not eliminated the need for library services in our society completely. Not all people use libraries anymore, but those who do use them still rely greatly on them for access to materials and resources.
644	7/18/2012	They are extremely important to me. My family uses the library as a place to get reliable information from professionals. The library is an activity, an opportunity to learn, an opportunity to meet new people, a place to share and heal and grow.
645	7/18/2012	I love to get books, we need to have access to the internet
646	7/18/2012	They provide a free service to all.
647	7/18/2012	The library provides education via books and materials that are unaffordable to most of the population. Without a library, a community suffers in many ways. One only has to see how much the Multnomah county library is used to understand how vital this resource is to people. Reading electronically via the internet has been shown to lower retention and be unhealthy for the body.
648	7/18/2012	Libraries provide incomparable resources for everyone - regardless of education or financial station. Their programs also provide invaluable education and instruction for those both young and old.
649	7/18/2012	Our family has depended on the library over the years for free social outlet for our children and us as parents, for computer access (we have no computer at home), and for book and media entertainment/education resources. It has been our main link to the community since moving here 7 years ago.
650	7/18/2012	I use it for reading material and research.
651	7/18/2012	Very well. There is always a multitude of activity occurring. I use it for a number of purposes: work, educational books for myself and my kids, reference material, wireless capability, recreational books. Open 7 days a week is important to me.
652	7/18/2012	I use them all the time.
653	7/18/2012	They are a city service that is part of our education and cultural fabric, secondary only to schools and key infrastructure issues such as fire, police, roads.
654	7/18/2012	I just graduated from PSU and so won't be able to check out books from the college library anymore. This means I'm going to become more dependent upon the public library. It worries me to think that as I'm making this transition that the library may be limited in hours open and resources.
655	7/18/2012	All people can use library services regardless of income level, education, and language

		See my answer above. ☐ ☐
656	7/18/2012	It seems to me that ALL the employees in all the branches are amazingly patient, someone always has time to help with an endless variety of questions and requests for help, and the occasionally inappropriate patrons' behaviors are handled quietly with amazing tact and courtesy. These people are to be commended! Maybe the Oregonian nor more likely, neighborhood newspapers could be persuaded to run a regular profile of "library person/event of the week in a more prominent position.
657	7/18/2012	Its an extremely important, invaluable resource for all people, especially those with little or no income. Its important for our communities, and civilization really, to have free access to books and media of all types to encourage reading, and to further the development of our minds, cultures, and understanding of our world and each other. We need to fight the dumbing down of American culture!
658	7/18/2012	Because it provides diverse resources on site and is a place to go. The feeling of a learning institution has always beer a very secure setting for me, Schools give me that same sense of anything is possible...hope I guess.
659	7/18/2012	Access to books and varied materials to me is a measure of a thoughtful, progressive community and an important reason I chose to move to Portland.
660	7/18/2012	The access the library affords are of great importance.
661	7/18/2012	I was able to get my BFA (through a low-residency program, which means no campus and no library) without having to purchase a ton of books thanks to the Multnomah County Library. I'm also half-way through my MFA at another low-residency program and combined, I've had to purchase fewer than 10 books! That's for 5 years worth of reading-intensive education! Without MCL, I'm not sure how I would have been able to do the readings I needed to do.
662	7/18/2012	Libraries are important because they give access to a wide variety of reading materials especially for those who cannot afford it. Reading is a critical component of education, which is usually critical to personal financial health and independence. I have learned almost everything I know from books, and my education has served me very well (I have a PhD). It is distressing to see elementary students spending time reading silently in the classroom, rather than being taught something, simply because too many students do not read to themselves at home.
663	7/18/2012	These services meet needs in a local convenient speedy manner that could take longer when trying to access resources in another avenue. I enjoy bringing my child here all the time.
664	7/18/2012	providing free public access to information, education, entertainment, and resources is of huge value to a democratic community

665	7/18/2012	The library is an awesome source for all kinds of media and research. I like to check out music mostly in the most recent years. Sometimes it is better to read the written word in a book on paper rather than on line or on a reader device. I love the library. I never linger at the library to do my reading like some. But I like that patrons can stay at the library and do that as well. Did I say that I love the library? I really do.
666	7/18/2012	I love our library system, it works extremely well. I love logging on to search and get a book sent to my local branch. Thank you so much for this wonderful resource!
667	7/18/2012	The online resources are just wonderful. My husband is bedridden, he is able to do research by using the library website. The historical Oregonian and other newspapers online are a wonderful tool for every thing we need.
668	7/18/2012	Because we all use them every day for entertainment, business, education, leisure and we also meet people there and interact.
669	7/18/2012	not as important as services relating to, for example, safety, but still very important.
670	7/18/2012	With school funding decreased, there should be other ways for children to enhance their academic learning and literacy
671	7/18/2012	Because people need a quiet place to relax and the library is the best place
672	7/18/2012	reading opens the door to everything
673	7/18/2012	THE LIBRARY IS VERY IMPORTANT TO ME BECAUSE , IT IS MY SOURCE FOR INFORMATION , KNOWLEDGE AND INSPIRATION.
674	7/18/2012	Reading fiction & nonfiction as a way of understanding the world is central to my life.
675	7/18/2012	Society is stronger when they have full access to information unfettered by government
676	7/18/2012	Education is so important and reading is such a vital part of learning. I can't imagine not having the written word in our lives. We must protect this. Thank-you for caring and asking..I raised my children taking them weekly to the library. I love the library..
677	7/18/2012	because access for all is important to maintain
678	7/18/2012	I could never afford to purchase the books I check out from the Library. Very convenient online services allows me to research books, place holds, etc. Saves me time from shopping book stores.
679	7/18/2012	It is a place where the whole family can go and be together. It helps with homeschooling and since it is open on the weekends, it is really convenient for working parents.
680	7/18/2012	While I have access elsewhere to information and materials I might find at the library, I have no other options for services such as water and sewer, road repair, police and fire protection.
681	7/18/2012	High priority
682	7/18/2012	We need more education dollars, roads fixed and sidewalks and bike trails. We also need to fund higher education so tuition don't sky rocket!
683	7/18/2012	There are other sources for information and entertainment for our household.

684	7/18/2012	I want my kids to learn how to use a library, to enjoy a library. They are an outlet for so much entertainment and joy. I want them to be life long readers.
685	7/18/2012	The library has always been a neutral place for our citizens to gather to learn about, question, and come to appreciate the knowledge base crucial to a free State. Over thirty years ago I was asked to give a speech in New York on the library of the future and the one aspect I had not imagined was the social and political consequences of an unsustainable and "free" market system that has left our citizens poor, powerless, and anything but prosperous. Externalizing the risk and costs of often legal, but immoral actions to our people, and at the cost of massive environmental degradation around the world, continues as Corporations with the aid of governments now seek extreme energy resources most of which are in the territories of indigenous peoples, their and our last stand. The library system is part of a fraying fabric of interconnected people and institutions that need to really grasp the significance of sustainability and its message of seven generations and become advocates and activists.
686	7/18/2012	They have a large impact on the quality of my family's day to day life.
687	7/18/2012	Because at every stage of life, libraries are needed. They are a resource for everyone, especially the under represented.
688	7/18/2012	Local libraries are important because they not only show our children that we value knowledge but an informed society is essential to a democratic society.
689	7/18/2012	Access to information
690	7/18/2012	We are a family of readers. Without a library we could not afford to read as much as we do and we would be less informed citizens.
691	7/18/2012	Too expensive to buy books and cd's so having the library nearby and open seven days a week is important.
692	7/18/2012	Free access to information is a neccessity in our modern world.
693	7/18/2012	I think it would be a shame if this generation grows up not knowing how useful the library is[] but they call it progress
694	7/18/2012	I use the library a lot -- reading is very important to me.
695	7/18/2012	Education, human services, police and fire are more important public services
696	7/18/2012	Very Important!!!
697	7/18/2012	They are the community's educational centers for all ages at all levels.
698	7/18/2012	Libraries are a luxury we can not afford. Parents should be more responsible for their children (they should read to them and they should buy them books. If they can't do either then they should reconsider whether or not they should become parents) and should not rely on outside services like libraries to do their job as a parent. Adults should spend more time with their senior parents instead of pursuing material possessions and in affect trading the time they could be spending with their senior parents for time at work.

699	7/18/2012	Because I read a lot. And I believe we need publicly funded libraries as a foundational component of an educated and involved people.
700	7/18/2012	Print and other media is available to the public with or without library services. Closing libraries up to two days per week would not significantly impact most users.
701	7/18/2012	Part of our educational services. A place where people can get help. I like to read. A place of positive input in the community.
702	7/18/2012	Society should have access to free information.
703	7/18/2012	Access to all citizens
704	7/18/2012	Other services such as fire, police, water/sewer, etc. are an absolute necessity to one's well-being. Libraries, although important centers for communities, do not rise to the level of vital importance.
705	7/18/2012	library Services are not Necessary for life. I would Place More importance on Water, Food, Public Safety and Infrastructure.
706	7/18/2012	the library is part of the community. the program, materials and knowledge offered at libraries assist so many, regardless of age or economic status. it is an important place to gather, learn, and exchange ideas and experience, and a safe place to enrich one's mind and life. libraries are a key component to education, and that is something we should strive to strengthen every day.
707	7/18/2012	The local public library system is very important to me. Reading helps my brain stay healthy and, in my view, contributes greatly to the mental health of the community as a whole! I cannot afford to buy books and I cannot imagine the community without our public library system. (Please Note: I was satisfied with the Hours of Operation just prior to recent reductions in operating hours, specifically the hours of operation of my most used branch, the Central Branch.) In my view, only the funding of our public school system ranks higher than the funding of our public library system, funding for police and fire protection, funding for the building and up-keep of local infra-structure and funding for social services.
708	7/18/2012	I think local library services are very important to the life of the community. Reading helps my brain stay healthy and, in my view, greatly contributes to the mental health of the community as a whole. I cannot afford to buy books and I cannot imagine our metropolitan area without our public library system! (Please Note: I was satisfied with the Hours of Operation of my most used branch, the Central Branch, just prior to the recent cut in library hours and services.) To me, the local public library system is equally as important as police and fire protection, building infra-structure and upkeep of infra-structure and social services. Only our public school system ranks higher than all the rest including our public library system.
709	7/18/2012	Libraries encourage children to read from a very young age and this is so important. Being able to read can influence a person's life. I have fond memories of going to the library when I was a child and even though I had a difficult time learning to read, I now love to read.
710	7/18/2012	Because it's part of the broader realm of education and allowing internet access to those who otherwise might be cut off technology-wise.

711	7/18/2012	First if all you don't define what the other local public services are so i really have no point if reference but the library is important to us because we Homeschool and use the library for a lot of our readings and resources.
712	7/18/2012	Former university reference librarian (UCLA - 70s); retired school librarian and system administrator for library automation (PPS)
713	7/18/2012	Not essential but beneficial The children's book groups are a great (free of charge) place to get my child to interact with other children while in a safe environment learning great skills and having fun.[]
714	7/18/2012	[] My child and I go to the library once or more times a week to browse get new books to read during the week. We are developing good habits with this available outing we do together.
715	7/18/2012	This is a resource that helps to achieve equity. Being able to order materials through the Multnomah County Library makes my job as a teacher much easier. There is a streaming service called Discovery Learning or United Streaming which the Portland Public Schools used to fund.
716	7/18/2012	The school district has discontinued funding this program so I'm hoping to be able to access this service through the Multnomah County Library,
717	7/18/2012	I love reading, but absolutely cannot afford to buy books, even used, even at Goodwill if I could find something worth reading. I think it's vitally important to keep information and resources available to all, not just those that can afford it.
718	7/18/2012	Libraries are very good resource for the community.
719	7/18/2012	They are especially important for those that don't have access to reading materials, research resources, and Internet. Most notably for school children and those for whom English is not the language spoken at home. It is often their only way to access resources some of us take for granted.
720	7/18/2012	Library services are important to me personally because I can check out books I'm interested in reading but not necessarily owning, and I can access research databases (particularly old newspaper articles) both online and at Centra Library. I see the library system as very important, in the broader social sense, in providing access to the Internet to those who cannot otherwise afford it and in providing access to reading programs, job search resources and other essential services that can assist many, particularly low-income citizens, in improving their skills and economic prospects.
721	7/18/2012	Educational resources

722	7/18/2012	I'm poor, and sometimes the library is the only access I have to a printer. I have three kids and the library has the gizmos that the kids like and snappy internet service, so my kids can play the games and use computer and other devices and get a taste of it like their friends. It is very important for them to have similar experiences with technology and know what is going on. I like that the library is a community center where we get to see each other. The library staff is always so helpful and knowledgeable and want to enable learning and knowing. This experience, where someone else wants to help me know, is not available in many areas of my life. It is so encouraging to have someone to help me move forward in my understanding and see that as their job. To help me know and understand and get more breadth of information. What a great service!
723	7/18/2012	The library has always been an important place for me, especially when you have little to no income
724	7/18/2012	Books make an informed citizen
725	7/18/2012	Because they are nurturing. Because they are educational. Because they serve many groups who do not have power, economic clout or political standing.
726	7/18/2012	knowledge is power and everyone has the right to gather their own information
727	7/18/2012	I believe that services such as police and fire are more important but the services offered by the library are a vital part of ensuring everyone has access to resources and I appreciate being able to use these services.
728	7/18/2012	I have children who love to read and learn about the world. I prefer to use the library books instead of wasting resources buying books that will be read in a day.
729	7/18/2012	Having access to free media improves quality of life and promotes literacy across all socioeconomic groups.
730	7/18/2012	Great resource for children and community. Encourages young reader interest in books and learning.
731	7/18/2012	The libraries are important for personal development, entertainment and a sense of community.
732	7/18/2012	Libraries provide a place to go for information that connects us to more than books, more than film, more than computers, more than personal assistance and sharing ideas and resources; it is part of what makes us a community.
733	7/18/2012	free entertainment, free resources. All in book form.
734	7/18/2012	Education (or lack of) affects all other areas of social issues.
735	7/18/2012	Free public libraries are the cornerstone of a democratic society. They allow everyone to have access to knowledge that in a different time would only be available to the wealthy. They encourage individual thinking by allowing us to react widely and form our own opinions. They help to fill the technology gap for students by allowing them to use computers when they may not have one at home. Having librarians who can point us toward high quality information is critical in this time of information overload.

736	7/18/2012	The library offers many different services to people who need them. Libraries are not as important as public safety, however.
737	7/18/2012	Unclear question
738	7/18/2012	open to all, with services for all, it's what makes a community great
739	7/18/2012	It is far more sustainable to be able to borrow books and media than to buy them, which some people can't afford. The materials are key to continuing education, community and entertainment.
740	7/18/2012	Demonstrates a level of investment in the community
741	7/18/2012	A library to me is of great value to me, and a treasure for all in a civilized society. 1. Multnomah County Library provides free materials that promote literacy and entertainment for all age levels and specially to the under-served members of our community.[] 2. MCL also provides essential programs that promote early literacy such as Raising a Reader, Storytimes and Listos para Aprender.[] 3. MCL provides free access to computers, computer classes and labs that are essential for patrons to search for jobs, communicate with others and satisfy their information needs.[] 4. MCL provides programs that promote civic engagement not only for native English speakers but also for new americans such as book discussion groups, Intercambio and Talk Time (english conversation practice for non-native english speakers) and citizenship classes.[] 5. MCL provides a safe environment for children and teens where they can participate in teen councils, teen lounges and get the books and information they need to do their homework as well as participate in family and teen programs that provide cultural engagement.
742	7/18/2012
743	7/18/2012	Libraries are a source of free information, which is essential to a functioning democracy. Libraries work to lessen the digital divide, granting internet access to those who can't afford it themselves. Libraries work to improve social mobility, through job assistance programs, literacy programs, and homework assistance for children who need it and can't get it elsewhere. Libraries are as essential to a community as schools & public safety.
744	7/18/2012	It was important; because of your recent poor decisions; I will start looking else where and start investing in other avenues.
745	7/18/2012	I am an avid reader.
746	7/18/2012	Not so much for me but I can see the impact for others that really need the resources the library provides. A library provides a safe place, resources for people that need use of the computer for job searching, school, as well as having a place that offers reading materials and music for those that identify with the arts.
747	7/18/2012	Although, of course, other public programs are necessary, in my opinion, so is the library. In order to broaden our minds, learn about other cultures and each other, there needs to be an affordable place where information can be obtained and other people can be met.

748	7/18/2012	Significantly important. The library allows anyone of any age and income the ability to learn and use media they otherwise might not have access too. It is vital to our education and culture, and a deep hole would be left were anything to ever happen to the library.
749	7/18/2012	Knowledge is extremely valuable to our existence.
750	7/18/2012	Education is crucial.
751	7/18/2012	Because I believe they are very useful. When I go to the library for a specific purpose, there are few other resources out there where I can find the same things for free. This makes a huge impact on me and the community I am part of. We need our libraries.
752	7/18/2012	I absolutely love to read. My favorite thing to do, especially in the winter, is read a good mystery book. I am looking forward to being able to learn how to get e-books onto my Dopo e-reader-- haven't made time to figure it out yet. I use the 'Hold System', ordering in books done by my favorite authors. I love that system.
753	7/18/2012	I live in North Portland where the majority of my neighbors do not have books and other reading materials in their homes. Libraries, like public parks, provide healthy activities for everyone, but especially for youth whose families are not economically solid.
754	7/18/2012	vitaly important to me and to the community.
755	7/18/2012	Right now, our roads need to be repaired, too.
756	7/18/2012	Because for some it is the only area of access to everything you need to make it in life - books, media, computers, tax forms, voter drop off, help of any kind. I honestly don't know what I would do without it. Everything costs so much. Not everyone can afford a computer or internet access to look up homework topics. And there are real people there too who can help. It actually is like a safe-haven, like a first-aid for minds station, it empowers people, gives them a chance when otherwise they would just be out of luck, say, to find out something about an employer, or learn to improve themselves in some way. I love our library. (the only thing is, it is too small!)
757	7/18/2012	Too much in taxes already come out of my pocket
758	7/18/2012	The access to the vast information they provide assists in the education and development of those seeking knowledge on any given subject... a worthwhile endeavor deserving of support.
759	7/18/2012	because the library is a great public institution
760	7/18/2012	I think the library is right behind public schools. The schools are another public service that does not receive enough funding.
761	7/18/2012	At this point in my life (over 65) the library is very important. It gives me access to books I can't afford to buy, access to DVD's & CD's and the computer, which I do not have the money to purchase either. As more and more services go to online business it becomes more and more important to have access to one. On a realistic level in this belt tightening economy we all must realize and share the burden of limited services. I am totally fine with the Library needing to go to a 6-day week with less hours of service if it will save money.

762	7/18/2012	Literacy sets us apart from other mammals - literature has the ability to open minds and even doors. A society that doesn't value literature is a society that I would argue will not last; for me, personally, books are an integral part of who I am and where I come from. Without my literary history, I doubt I would be the forward-thinking person I pride myself on being today. Save the libraries!
763	7/18/2012	Access to knowledge is very important for any healthy community, and probably delivers more 'bang for a buck' than other public services.
764	7/18/2012	I feel libraries are still a source of public knowledge and a community center for a lot of people. Not everyone can afford to have a computer or access to books and music or movies.
765	7/18/2012	libraries are integral for the community as a meeting place and provides access to information for all
766	7/17/2012	Borrowing books saves money on entertainment and educates me so I'll do awesome on Jeopardy one day ha ha ha
767	7/17/2012	I'm not sure what you mean, specifically, by other "public" services. Like is it more important than garbage removal, water, electricity, etc? No. But if addressing how important services are for a participatory community then I think it's up there near the top.
768	7/17/2012	Libraries are one form of public service to the community. Libraries build communities
769	7/17/2012	so I can place order for my materials online
770	7/17/2012	stated in ? #6
771	7/17/2012	knowledge is key to living a fuller life.
772	7/17/2012	because I can learn more.
773	7/17/2012	I believe everyone should have the opportunity to read and research no matter their income level. Libraries provide critical services to ALL citizens.
774	7/17/2012	Would need to evaluate this in context of other specifically named public services.
775	7/17/2012	Need books, magazines, etc. available to all people, including those who can't afford to purchase.
776	7/17/2012	The library is many things to me: resource for information, books and movies and audio media for borrowing, and a neighborhood community pillar of sorts, this last being an intangible, immeasurable sort of thing.
777	7/17/2012	What public spaces do we have? We have parks, which is public outdoor space and libraries which are public indoor space. Libraries are a community space that everyone can use. Libraries offer access to information which is essential in this information age. I go there at least once a week, usually twice a week. We love books and we love the programs the libraries offer. Not everyone has internet access so the library offers that too.
778	7/17/2012	The library system represents what's left of the idea of the commons. It's something the community shares together. I enjoy checking books out from the library because I like to read and because the taxes I pay to support it are affordable. But I also enjoy the feel of going to the library, of sharing that experience with my community.

779	7/17/2012	A community resource that is safe, educational and a gateway to learning, resources and self-improvement.
780	7/17/2012	I use the library at least once a week, often more frequently, almost always to check out books. I also like to see the library helping parents and children, and others who don't have computers at home. It is important to me that our community offer these services.
781	7/17/2012	I have a 9 year old son and it is a great place for us to go and keep him interested in reading. He is an excellent reader and it is important to support our libraries and to promote reading.
782	7/17/2012	Literacy is paramount to knowledge. Knowledge is integral to an ability to make informed decisions.
783	7/17/2012	Vitally. My son enrolled in the Summer Reading program from age 2-8 and found it very rewarding. We were also able to use computers at the library for research (for my profession, as well as his school projects) at a time when we did not have internet access at home. I'm not sure how we could have endured that period without the library system.
784	7/17/2012	It is a great resource! It is an important place for kids.
785	7/17/2012	Beucase the servicethey provide and heck I wouldn't hand out at the Water office for a few hours a week
786	7/17/2012	Library with core materials are a must. Fluffy materials and extended hrs are not necessarily more important than other services
787	7/17/2012	I use them more than any of the other services
788	7/17/2012	Libraries are a great public resource for general knowledge, internet access and librarians who assist people in getting the information they need, including info on public recources.
789	7/17/2012	Libraries are POSITIVE communty support!
790	7/17/2012	The library is a resource which is key to my education in school and my education outside if school, especially in art, music, and history. the information that I have obtained from the library has influenced my own character as a person and the way I perceive life, history, and current events. It sharpening my awareness, the library has helped to develop me into a more charitable and conscientious individual.
791	7/17/2012	I feel that literacy, pursuit of knowledge, and getting people away from the electronic age is very important. The libraries may also be a gathering point for some communities. I always see people we know when I visit the library.
792	7/17/2012	We use this resource regularly. It is important for our society to be informed and educated.
793	7/17/2012	Sign of a quality community, point of pride, greatly increases readership - benifits society.
794	7/17/2012	They are very, very important to me.
795	7/17/2012	Because of access to patrons who do not have other resources.
796	7/17/2012	I am very happy to support my local library, it is a good source for movies and books that I do not want to buy or rent. I have not been visiting the library as much recently but will be changing that soon to using it as a resource more.

797	7/17/2012	Have always spent my free time reading. Young people need to imagine through the printed word. It is where information is found. In books, on computers, or by talks given there. It is also a place to exchange ideas through page turners. It is a meeting place for groups that need somewhere to gather for a board meeting. Writers can write there too.
798	7/17/2012	I love to read and have grown up using libraries. When I was a poor graduate student, I relied on the libraries for all of my pleasure-reading needs. Now I am able to afford to purchase books, but I still rely on the library especially for travel-related and specialty subjects (ie: chicken raising) books. I am also a community health nurse who works with low-income families, and I see first hand how important these free services are to many, many of my clients with young children.
799	7/17/2012	Fire and police address threats to personal safety. Animal Services and Child Welfare protect the defenseless.
800	7/17/2012	Because it is a free resource, that has great value and is vital to the community--intellectually and to some, socially.
801	7/17/2012	Reading is one of my passions. I don't like reading on a computer. I like the feel of books, smell of books and real text. I can't afford to buy books as I'm a low-income individual, nor do I have the space to store all of the ones I already have! I would be heartbroken if libraries became obsolete. They help build communities and keep us from being too wrapped up in our individual selves.
802	7/17/2012	The library offers a range of services that expand the mind. While public protection (police/fire) may rank the highest, the library is among the top services the public should have access to for it's own good!
803	7/17/2012	The internet is inexpensive now and available to basically everyone. Everything, (almost) that is available at the library is or can be found online.
804	7/17/2012	I am an avid reader with low income. I would not be able to purchase the books that I have access to at the library.
805	7/17/2012	We check out so many books, saving money and clutter.
806	7/17/2012	how did libraries get into movie business, isn't that compition to small rental places
807	7/17/2012	Services are valuable but I don't consider them essential for me as I could find other sources for books and movies
808	7/17/2012	Libraries serve everyone without discrimination, they are filled with incredible resources, they are free to all, they're just wonderful places for items for knowledge and entertainment, they're magical treasurehouses!
809	7/17/2012	Libraries help to educate. Education helps people move forward in their lives. Learn to read. Learn English. Do school work. Do research on topics of interest. Expose to information. Expose to other ways of living. Enrich with music, theatre, art.
810	7/17/2012	I'm a writer and some materials I need, including old newspaper archives for the Oregon Journal, Telegram, etc. are usually not available on line. My wife enjoys reading a lot of fiction, so she visits the library frequently and often has books held if they are not available when she is at the library.

811	7/17/2012	Books open doors to all income levels in a way that no other public service is able to.
812	7/17/2012	It's not as important as clean drinking water, so it doesn't get the highest ranking, but I use the library a lot and I'm grateful to have access to the materials, so it gets a "somewhat important" rank.
813	7/17/2012	place of resource access place of community
814	7/17/2012	I need it almost every day in order to keep learning and to use the internet.
815	7/17/2012	I use them a lot. But of course schools and public safety are more important.
816	7/17/2012	The library is a recognized community hub, a place not just for books and DVDs but also for trainings and getting information to county residents. No other community institution has the same "go to" status for information... and if you can't tell people about community resources, what good are the community resources?
817	7/17/2012	As much as I love the library and find it important I can't put it above other county services that are critical to so many people, especially those with few resources.
818	7/17/2012	They never seem to have the material for which I am looking on hand when I visit.
819	7/17/2012	Free access to information and knowledge is a great equalizer. The public library system prevents these things from becoming luxury items.
820	7/17/2012	I have enjoyed using the local library ever since I was a child - I want future children to be able to enjoy that same experience
821	7/17/2012	An educated public is safer from itself than not.
822	7/17/2012	The library is a "free" service that provides programs and services surrounding literacy on many levels.
823	7/17/2012	Although, we are not using them much now, I anticipate that as my child gets older, we will be using the library more and more.
824	7/17/2012	Literacy and intelligence are an important quality of a free society.
825	7/17/2012	I can't afford to buy all the books that I read, especially newer ones on popular topics that are only available in hardcover. Also, during the times where I lived in areas with poor Internet access, public access through the library was one of my best options - the quiet environment is easier for me to focus in, rather than in a pub or coffeeshop with continual noise and distraction. Also, businesses expect WiFi users to be spending money - the library is a publicly-funded service which allows people of limited financial means to have the same level of access as everyone else.
826	7/17/2012	For reasons already mentioned.
827	7/17/2012	Libraries allow equitable access to information, essential for a just, free society. I wouldn't want the library funded only to lose fire stations or police, but I do believe the library is as important as these services in creating a healthy, vibrant, and safe society.
828	7/17/2012	Top

829	7/17/2012	I check out books and books on CD and occasionally I download a book (something I suspect I will use more in the future). I also get DVDs of movies and TV series. So basically every day I am using something from the library. It is wonderful to be able to go online to request materials I want to check out and then have them delivered to my local branch.
830	7/17/2012	Bring community together - build community. Used by people of many different educational and socioeconomic groups.
831	7/17/2012	Emergency services will always trump all other services, and indeed it's also more important to me that education quality and availability be maintained at high levels than a local library be open when it's convenient for me.
832	7/17/2012	It is a question of making books and resources available to everyone and encouraging people to be educated and informed.
833	7/17/2012	reading is essential to a civil society, libraries make it possible for everyone regardless of income to be able to access information
834	7/17/2012	The library is a great and needed resource for the whole community. Like schools, libraries are a place of learning and exploration, fostering personal growth, sparking imagination in young and old. As a low income household, we have access to services at the library that we could never afford to pay for.
835	7/17/2012	Naturally, safety is most important. Next schools. I'd say libraries are important resources to supplement education, especially for poor and middle class.
836	7/17/2012	Because I think it is essential for everyone to have access to books and educational materials.
837	7/17/2012	It's a way to keep people educated for free and encourage our youth to read and explore. Especially in not so fortunate households that don't have computers or money to buy books.
838	7/17/2012	I've always been a fan of libraries and reading. It's important to our communities to keep libraries funded and open.
839	7/17/2012	I believe libraries are community and media centers.
840	7/17/2012	Very important
841	7/17/2012	Education and access to it is extremely important for our community and our country. Education and awareness build tolerance, acceptance and success and help our country progress and without it we would suffer severely.
842	7/17/2012	A literate society is a healthy society, and the community aspect of a public library brings everyone together.
843	7/17/2012	I judge a community by its library system. I think it reflects an appreciation of education, on-going learning and open-mindedness. I think libraries also serve as community "centers." People use libraries for different reasons - they are a major part of supporting residents. I would be devastated if I did not have access to a good library.
844	7/17/2012	Have been a library supporter & user since I was 4 years old. I would go into a big depression without my local library and its resources.

845	7/17/2012	While not one of the survival public services (fire, police, etc.), the library is an important public service that brings the community together.
846	7/17/2012	So you are able to utilize educational avenues.
847	7/17/2012	Knowing that there is a resource of 'hardcopy books' available in case the grid ever goes down is ver reassuring to me. hope it never happens, but I think it is unlikely that we will be so lucky as to live our entire lives without the Internet 'breaking-down' at some point. For older people who grew up in a 'manual' world it will be less distressing than it will be for the youth, who have grown-up in a 'virtual world', and who have never needed to understand how things work. However, the older citizens will be limited physically in what they can pass-on to the younger generations, so having books is vital to the survival of or civilization.
848	7/17/2012	As a retired person, this access to books, audio books, films, CD's is a major interest and activity.
849	7/17/2012	They allow me to hear, read and see things that I would not otherwise be able to due to financial and spatial restrictions.
850	7/17/2012	Freedom if information. education. community.
851	7/17/2012	I read library books as my main source for reading. I don't want a kindle or other ebook. I read the NYTimes book review, and I can put books I am interested on reserve. When I travel, I can take guides out and figure out what to do and see. My kids get most of their homework research there. Ou family's life! would be greatly diminished without out local library.
852	7/17/2012	people need to have access to information and be able to self educate themselves.
853	7/17/2012	education for children and students
854	7/17/2012	Because the libraries provide such important services to children - pre- and school age - and to the homeless, including job seekers.
855	7/17/2012	Libraries today fill roles that other public and social programs used to, but were eliminated for lack of funding. So many kinds of people use them.
856	7/17/2012	I have always relied on and a steady stream of new books and media, to feel engaged with the world.
857	7/17/2012	I love going there and using the resources. Music, movies, books and tons of information about the whole world at your finger tips.
858	7/17/2012	This question is too vague -- does "services" mean book access, or classes for jobseekers? There are other agencies citywide that offer job seeking help, small business resources, and other services you have listed in this survey. I hope Multnomah County doesn't try to make the library a catch-all center for any services people need -- instead, focus on what libraries do well, and do that as efficiently as possible.
859	7/17/2012	i am a regular library user, for leisure and for research needs

860	7/17/2012	I love the Multnomah County Library because it as a great selection of books and media materials which I access on a regular basis. My life wouldn't feel as rich without access to all these wonderful materials - and it is particularly important to me that I can borrow them. Also, libraries offer community, information, education opportunities, research assistance - so much!
861	7/17/2012	A good community needs a good library system.
862	7/17/2012	I think access to media like the kind that the library provides is important for people who don't necessarily have the means to procure that access on their own.
863	7/17/2012	They're a place for people to grow & expand their knowledge of the world- for free! They're open to all, and they provide so much more than just access to books. They're an important social gathering place in an age when such places are becoming rarer (how many people still gather in the "town square"?).
864	7/17/2012	It depends what you mean by "other local public services". Overall I look to the library for books that I cannot obtain elsewhere economically (out of print books and such).
865	7/17/2012	The library is one of the only truly free resources we have. You can do so much there.
866	7/17/2012	I love the library and feel that reading is a vital part of culture. Reading and the love of reading serves so many areas - the library has always been a place offering people access to knowledge. To close this would be to end an ancient system of access to people to learn.
867	7/17/2012	There's always Amazon.
868	7/17/2012	it will be an inconience but the timing is the thing that confused me. my fault for going on vacation and coming home to this suprise. no pre warning.
869	7/17/2012	Serve all members of the community, improve our livelihood through literature, programs, and promoting community dialogue. Without the library I don't think nearly as many people could afford to purchase books or rent media so they would have limited opportunities to read. At that point the primary readers would be people who can afford to buy books or who go to their college library, which would just exacerbate socio-economic divides that are already pronounced in our community.¶ This just refers to the materials that just about everyone uses. In addition, the library plays a critical role in early childhood development and literacy, skill and language building, and many people don't have internet at home and wouldn't be able to read books online, even if they were available.
870	7/17/2012	Access to books is culturally important to society.
871	7/17/2012	It's accessible & affordable to for everyone, its an educatioanl experience for my children, it's provides a positive learning environment.
872	7/17/2012	I value the library as being a low-cost way to read books and check out DVD's and movies as my partner and I are on a single income and have been for the last 3 months.
873	7/17/2012	I feel that reading and books are an important part of growing and learning.

874	7/17/2012	They have so much to offer on so many levels to virtually every citizen who chooses to use the library from the toddlers to the elderly. The library system here is top notch and it shows with the level of usage it gets. I appreciate being able to utilize the services of the library for free as I feel I am getting a return on the taxes I pay to support the library system. Keep up the good work!
875	7/17/2012	Without education, what would our future look like? Public schools rank right up there for me, too, but the libraries allow us to continue that education in whichever direction we choose and for however long we choose. [] Our communities depend on the library as a resource and for entertainment alike.
876	7/17/2012	An educated population maintains the Democratic principles of our country.
877	7/17/2012	Because police, fire, water and education are in the "very important" category. Libraries are among the public services that fall just below those for me.
878	7/17/2012	Libraries provide access to information, which helps level the learning playing field.
879	7/17/2012	Somewhat
880	7/17/2012	Our family visits the physical library at least once a week and the library website even more often. The library is a vital part of the community. We use it mostly for books and DVDs currently - there's no possible way we would be able to afford to individually purchase all the novels, travel guides, maps, and other materials that the library provides. When I was unemployed several years ago, I used the library daily to look for jobs and work on my resume. The library was so helpful that I started volunteering there.
881	7/17/2012	an invaluable resource for information[] a source of reading and dvd material[] providing a sense of community[] a place to go
882	7/17/2012	They give everyone in Portland a wonderful place to learn about their neighbors, Portland and the entire world by offering every sort of media, books, classes and expert help.
883	7/17/2012	Many other public services have to do with physical survival and I depend on them for that. It is also true though, that libraries help me enjoy and cope with that physical survival.
884	7/17/2012	We use them more than any other public service but equaled by the parks.
885	7/17/2012	Reading is vital for kids and adults. I love to check out new and exciting materials and broaden my horizons.
886	7/17/2012	It's where I access information and learn.
887	7/17/2012	The everyday positive impact they have on a range of people. A healthy library system is a indicator of the value a community places on education and learning.
888	7/17/2012	During the great recession, it's a big help to be able to save money on books and computers by using the library.

889	7/17/2012	I use library services to continue my learning, solve problems, connect with others' and their ideas, do my work more effectively.
890	7/17/2012	Because availability of knowledge to everyone makes a huge difference in people's lives. With the economy the way it is, people seem to be turning to the library and I love it!
891	7/17/2012	I read constantly, both for recreation and for career information. I would not be able to purchase the quantity of materials I have access to through the library. I depend on it.
892	7/17/2012	Library resources can supplement limited school resources. The library provides access to information and entertainment to people with limited funds.
893	7/17/2012	Simply put, accessibility to free information in a socially interactive environment.
894	7/17/2012	I love to read and don't intend to be my own librarian at home. I need a place where I can borrow or get help with finding information.
895	7/17/2012	I am a retired educator and realize the importance of libraries to all ages.
896	7/17/2012	The library levels the playing field for people of all backgrounds and income levels.
897	7/17/2012	not all people can afford to go buy books and have internet. the library offers this and so much more, it is an important community resource
898	7/17/2012	library encourages reading, learning, and all the positive things for people. If we want a better future, we need to fund libraries and schools.
899	7/17/2012	The utmost.
900	7/17/2012	Our family (2 adults and 2 kids) love reading; we love going to story times, finding new books, learning about anything (from Butterflies to the Solar System); etc. especially during the winter, going to the library is part of our weekly routine and the kids (and parents) are disappointed when we don't go.
901	7/17/2012	I do not use them much at this time, but in the past I have and anticipate using in the future. I vote to support library, used a lot when kids small. besides, my immune system is not good with dust.
902	7/17/2012	Hey Mayor Adams: fix the damn streets, knock off the bike path sucking up for votes bs, quit building stuff (the Gibbs street crossing to the river for bikes ??? omg) just to pump up Portland's importance on some whacky list (such as food cart whoopde do) and then start lowering property taxes.
903	7/17/2012	Libraries support a diverse population. They provide a safe place to read, computer access for those who need it, access to books, music, movies to all. They are places for our old folk, our young, everybody has a reason to be there and it is essential we protect this resource.
904	7/17/2012	Every citizen stands to benefit from libraries, and they serve as a location that brings different sections of the community together.
905	7/17/2012	Because as an artist and small business owner having a place to research and borrow books and other materials that I can't afford to buy is very important. Also, I think that it is very important that people of all monetary abilities able to have access to computers and books. Education should be one of the most important priorities in our society and access should be universal.

906	7/17/2012	With schools failing, libraries are the next best way to provide education for those who seek it, yet may not have internet at home.
907	7/17/2012	Safety, infrastructure, schools come first. But i certainly can't imagine a city without a library.[] That would be bleak. I just got some really good history books about african americans in portland,[] that i couldn't have found elsewhere. And i know once we have kids we'll be there all the time. And[] several of my elderly clients use your homebound services.
908	7/17/2012	Library service is a public service that everyone is welcome to use and the more folks who use the library, generally speaking, the better our county is as a place to live and work.
909	7/17/2012	I think it is really important to have libraries as a resource available to the public because it puts a lot of information and materials into people's hands who might not otherwise have access to it. Also, I'd like to preserve actual books in our culture and not transition into a fully digital world just yet. I think it is especially important for kids and juveniles to have access to reading materials. I read a lot as a kid and spent a lot of time at my local library in the summer. I would read everything I could get my hands on - and I don't think I would have been able to read as much without libraries around to supply the material. Reading should be encouraged as much as possible in young people.
910	7/17/2012	Education is paramount in our society.having a "free" outlet to access an abundance of information that is equal to all is very important.
911	7/17/2012	It helps teach my kids the importance of reading and books.
912	7/17/2012	Reading is key to having an educated society.
913	7/17/2012	Libraries help citizens communicate, hence they build community.
914	7/17/2012	I love to read and free access to high quality reading material is important to me. I would never be able of afford to buy all of the books that I can check out of the library.
915	7/17/2012	Because reading is more important to me than most local services
916	7/17/2012	I'm cynical about government these days - I have my kids in private schools, pay a lot out of pocket for healthcare, and generally don't think that government agencies can do a good job with anything meaningful. But the library really, really works for my family, and I CHERISH this public resource.
917	7/17/2012	because they are a public resource that people don't realize how much they use. everyone uses the library in some way, even if they don't realize it -- for public space, public events, public access to information, etc.
918	7/17/2012	Literacy is an incredibly important part of any society. Access to libraries and literacy programs is a great tool to ensure that our citizens are literate thinkers, creators and dreamers.
919	7/17/2012	I think they are very important to a community.
920	7/17/2012	Because free and easy access to books and computers (for everyone) is absolutely essential to a strong democracy.

921	7/17/2012	Libraries are places of learning and broadening horizons. What better place to learn how to love books and discover different worlds? Literacy is a fundamental to a civilized society.
922	7/17/2012	Because we love to visit the library with our young children.
923	7/17/2012	Local parks are also important, but safety - police force - needs to be in place in order to enjoy any other public services.
924	7/17/2012	Availability of help on a variety of levels. Reflection of comments in last section lead me to believe that maybe other public services should share some of the burdens our local libraries try to carry, especially with the use of computers. As a university student, I am constantly having to ask for extended time beyond the two hours, and this is not always granted if there are many other patrons using computers. A possibility would be that children playing games on computers be restricted. Some sites that can easily be seen by others are not educational. It is a tough balance to know how many "activities", including sites visited on the internet, would be considered library activities.
925	7/17/2012	I love reading. The library has books. Also, I haven't really needed police or fire in the past.
926	7/17/2012	There are many options to libraries available, book stores, online stores. They each offer a unique opportunity to discover new books, movies and music. The library option is always the most economical. The movies are often damaged and unviewable, but I love the enormous selection of books.
927	7/17/2012	The library is one of the few equal-access points for knowledge. It enriches lives through materials, courses, and community.
928	7/17/2012	It depends on what other local public services you mean. I find the library to be extremely important and use it frequently.
929	7/17/2012	Local library services define the level of culture and progress within a city. It is a service that provides individuals with an equal opportunity to share a vast collections of resources without regard to income, class, etc.
930	7/17/2012	Very
931	7/17/2012	As a senior it saves me money for books
932	7/17/2012	I am a 54 year that has returned to school I use the library to study in quiet. Do research for projects because everything is on the internet. I order books for research and pleasure reading through the library system. I am not sure what I would do if the library was not open on the weekends.
933	7/17/2012	They are important for me personally for my reading and audio enjoyment, but in so many ways for the general community, to help develop interest in reading among young people, and to assure that the elderly have access to reading materials.
934	7/17/2012	Free access to information is one of the most equitable services we provide as a society
935	7/17/2012	I am home-schooled and borrow lots of academic books and movies from the library.
936	7/17/2012	Our family uses the library at least once or twice a week. We're so impressed w/ materials that are available to us, even books that are not necessarily on best seller lists, but topics important to us (non-fiction).

937	7/17/2012	listen to books on cd while sewing, read books at other times, to expensive to buy so borrow for free
938	7/17/2012	It helps educate and expand minds that would otherwise not have the resources to do so. We all pay taxes to make this work. It is one of the few reasons I still pay taxes, otherwise all our money would be going to killing people and fighting war at home and abroad.
939	7/17/2012	I have always loved libraries for the resources, somewhere to do homework, a place to rent videos and books, and find out about other information like classes and bus schedules. Nostalgic place for me as well.
940	7/17/2012	Obviously, emergency, health, and sanitation services come first.
941	7/17/2012	I use them at least twice a week. I am an avid reader and couldn't begin to afford to buy the books.
942	7/17/2012	I lost my job due to a car accident and resulting disability. Mutcolib has many options for what kinds of materials I can check out (audio, large print, etc.) and offers me the only source of entertainment that I can afford and access since my accident. Even before my accident I educated, informed, and entertained myself with library materials. "No matter how busy you may think you are, you must find time for reading, or surrender yourself to self-chosen ignorance." [] - Confucius[] [] "The more you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go." [] - Dr. Seuss, "I Can Read With My Eyes Shut!"[] [] "A book is the only place in which you can examine a fragile thought without breaking it, or explore an explosive idea without fear it will go off in your face. It is one of the few havens remaining where a man's mind can get both provocation and privacy." [] - Edward P. Morgan
943	7/17/2012
944	7/17/2012	I love the ability to put books on hold, check out Lucky Day items and to know I can access books without having to pay the high prices at book stores. Multnomah Co Libraries are very willing to order new releases and to help with research.
945	7/17/2012	Access to educational resources and the internet are essential to survival today. A lot of people can't afford access to educational resources and the internet at home. Reading is also one of the few pleasures in life that isn't toxic, fattening, illegal, or expensive, so it's a great way to escape from life's troubles.
946	7/17/2012	Libraries are important for providing access to information for all people..
947	7/17/2012	Libraries allow equal access to information and technologies. They enrich the lives of many and provide opportunities for social mobility and enrichmentl
948	7/17/2012	I'm a truck driver and use the recorded books to make driving so much more pleasant

949	7/17/2012	Libraries give the community resources and opportunities that are not available elsewhere. Also provides a welcoming community meeting place.
950	7/17/2012	Libraries help to give knowledge to those who: want to save natural resources, the libraries give us a means of sharing books who are not able to buy materials and books
951	7/17/2012	I spent a lot of time at the library growing up and the reading and community were an critical in keeping me from feeling isolated at home.
952	7/17/2012	Because the library has the knowledge and freedom to explore new topics while being family friendly. Also it provides a local center for those interested in continued education growth or neighborhood activities.
953	7/17/2012	It provides access to so many things many people couldn't otherwise afford.
954	7/17/2012	Because if you can't read and don't have access to reading material you are deprived of learning about yourself and this great world of ours.
955	7/17/2012	Offer books and material I otherwise would not have access.
956	7/17/2012	They are an important source of reading material and dvds that provide an option for learning at home
957	7/17/2012	They form an important rib to the backbone of our community
958	7/17/2012	The importance of resources and the importance of reading for all people. Reading and the importance of it, NEEDS to be stressed to everybody. Without reading you cannot fill out a job application, read a recipe, read a sign...and the library is where we first learn the importance of reading as children; and continue that skill, until we are old. Public availability to all reading materials are one of the greatest gifts we can give to a community. The greater the use of our public libraries, the greater the health of our communities. No doubt about it.
959	7/17/2012	Not everyone has easy access to good reading material.
960	7/17/2012	We read lots of books, I was laid off recently and used the Library to find a job.
961	7/17/2012	I've utilized libraries all my life and believe they are an important part of allowing us all to access literature and continue personal growth.
962	7/17/2012	I am unsure of your definition of other local public services, but if it does include services as police, fire, and health services, I think those should be given priority to libraries
963	7/17/2012	The library gives people a sense and place of community. It keeps them involved. It allows people to use resources in a cost effective way, through thei taxes..
964	7/17/2012	It's a valuable community asset that helps people access resources, including materials, jobs, community events, and services.
965	7/17/2012	The library is very important to both myself and my preschool age daughter because it's an outing that is not determined by weather, it feeds our love of books and reading, and it's a perfect way to fuel her desire to learn more about the world around her.

966	7/17/2012	Entertainment and education materials are not cheap to acquire and the library provides them for free.
967	7/17/2012	access to knowledge is powerful, and everyone should have this access.
968	7/17/2012	It is personally important to me and I think to the community to have free access to information in order to broaden our own education and understanding of our world, so that we may become better citizens and better people.
969	7/17/2012	I confess that I do not use many other public services.
970	7/17/2012	It's one of the few places I have interactions with others in my community.
971	7/17/2012	Reading is the key to an educated public.
972	7/17/2012	I think there are some services like Transit, Water, etc are more important but an educated community is very important.
973	7/17/2012	My kids are school age and this promotes their literacy. My wife and I are book fanatics (and love checking out movies and music too). We save a fortune by borrowing and not buying most of our books.
974	7/16/2012	The library provides a safe place to study, work, and self-educate as well as learning to enjoy the leisurely pastime of reading for fun. There are engaging ways the local library involves the youth and encourages increased literacy. Free access to media, computer resources, classes and skilled staff for better navigation of these resources has been what has made our library system great!
975	7/16/2012	It's important for the benefit of the community.
976	7/16/2012	I am a former teacher and literacy activities are crucial. I also believe community gathering places are important to preserve a sense of humanity. Libraries here are urban oases where people can let their guards down and feel relaxed among others and included in the mix. Plus, the services offered are often gateways into further involvement in the community.
977	7/16/2012	Along with programs for proper waste disposal, I believe that a library system which provides free access to reading material is a major characteristic that separates 1st and 3rd world countries.
978	7/16/2012	Libraries provide free and open access to information to all people, irrespective of their income level, age, or political beliefs. Librarians have provided me with expert help in researching important topics. Libraries also have provided me with access to materials for me and my family that I would otherwise not be able to afford. Libraries, lastly, are for me a key element of preservation of free speech.
979	7/16/2012	I have traveled to many countries in the world and seen many places within America. The more access a place has to information, the better off it is in all respects.
980	7/16/2012	Because unlike me I know there are people who need computer access and help with school or jobseeking and the library makes it easier for them to obtain that information
981	7/16/2012	The Public Library will soon be the only source of Knowledge, Information and Education - which are absolutely vital for the existence of a vital representative democratic governance.

982	7/16/2012	Literacy and free access to information are essential!
983	7/16/2012	The libraries offer so much to so many people. For many, it is their only way to access the internet and use computers. For children, it is often their introduction to the world of reading and other media. I always feel happy when I'm going to the library!
984	7/16/2012	We have a lot of books in our home and we have lots of friends to share books with. Buying books is also an option. It is very nice to have so many books available at the library to borrow. Books are very important, but I would not say they are more important than parks (since we have no yard for the children to play in), or public safety.
985	7/16/2012	This question is hard to answer because it is so broad, but in my mind the highest level of importance to me is police, fire, water department, public schools. The libraries are close behind however.
986	7/16/2012	I use the library for many reasons. I know that not having a library would be devastating and really impact my own personal life. When I think of the impact even Monday closures have on school-age children, it really makes me worry about they way local government prioritizes our budgeting. For many people, the library is like a second home and just as valuable.
987	7/16/2012	Contributes to an informed public.
988	7/16/2012	(a) 'cause my family uses the library.[] (b) 'cause now, just as in ancient times, the Library provides the core repository and management of a society's knowledge. The library is where we read, develop and exercise critical thinking skills, find things out and find out how to find things out.
989	7/16/2012	I depend on the resources provided by the library system on both a personal and small business level. The amount of information accessible (at virtually no cost) is truly impressive and it would be damaging to lose that. I would rather see curtailed hours than cuts in the books, materials, etc. Also, good librarians are a huge asset that are probably undervalued.
990	7/16/2012	They are a safe place for kids to study, they offer pre-school/toddler programs for socialization, they help seniors access different types of media and they loan books for both education and entertainment.
991	7/16/2012	People having access to information is important. I makes for more informed voters, less ignorance, less poverty, less crime, it's all around good.
992	7/16/2012	Very important
993	7/16/2012	I think public libraries are the the only source for education and computer access for many citizens within the county who can not afford otherwise. It is a service we must continue to supply especially for the lest fortunate in the community.

994	7/16/2012	Books and DVDs are a primary source of entertainment and enjoyment for me. As a senior citizen on a fixed income, I could not afford to buy the books and DVDs that I am able to borrow from the library. I learned how to use a computer through classes at the library, and I continue to learn new things related to the digital world (classes on Excel and E-books) at the library. I could not afford to pay for those kind of classes at PCC.
995	7/16/2012	We use the library weekly and sometimes daily. We are on a limited income and love the constant source of new reading material. We always know that whatever new interest our son has, the library will have a book about it.
996	7/16/2012	It makes sense for our community to share the materials the library offers rather than individuals having to buy every book or other resource they need on their own. I learn more and read more because our library is strong and offers virtually every book I want to read. I wouldn't buy all these materials on my own, and I know many members of our community could not afford to pay individually for access to even a fraction of what they use at the library. Our community is stronger and better educated by pooling our resources and making them available to all.
997	7/16/2012	If by 'services' you mean "access to information via books in whatever form" it is critical for enabling a responsible and thoughtful society to stay informed and thoughtful. However, services to maintain public health, safety and order or enable basic commerce are more important. □ □ If by 'services' you mean "access to porn" or "after school care", you are overstepping your bounds and missing your purpose.
998	7/16/2012	I think that public libraries are the greatest way to equalize access to information and educational opportunities in a society where the gap between the haves and have nots grows daily. Our school districts are struggling to meet the demands of a changing global economy with shrinking funding. Our libraries serve to bridge those gaps and much more.
999	7/16/2012	because I use the library all the time, I lost my $60 a month book buying habit when I moved to pdx
1000	7/16/2012	I would rate police and fire before library services
1001	7/16/2012	Because I make use of library resources regularly.
1002	7/16/2012	Not as critical as fire, police, ambulance, health clinics... but very important to my family and certainly used more regularly than services just listed.
1003	7/16/2012	It is so important for children to read and be read to, I don't want someone on a tight budget to have to deny their child books. Books should be available for everyone.
1004	7/16/2012	Education and access to uncensored information are central to a well-functioning, democratic society
1005	7/16/2012	Library represents community to me. I want my community to be educated and resourceful.

1006	7/16/2012	although i have been buying more books, due to the inconvenience of getting all items in a trilogy, i have always greatly valued the availability of books at the library. in times of need, having access to the internet at the library was very helpful, and i know many who use the library in that fashion currently.
1007	7/16/2012	I think of the library as very helpful in so many different ways. They help with research and they provide enjoyment/entertainment. They also help with literacy rates of school-aged children. I've always loved being able to check out a few books, read them, and return them to get some more (and not having to buy any!). I didn't have the luxury in the town I lived in growing up, but I love it now!
1008	7/16/2012	I love having access to everything libraries provide and sharing it with everyone else!
1009	7/16/2012	Because it's a public service that I use. I have no kids, so many of the high cost services don't impact me directly.
1010	7/16/2012	Free access to educational materials and the internet are vital in order for Portland to continue to grow in the right direction -- more equality, more problem-solvers, more opportunities.
1011	7/16/2012	Very high
1012	7/16/2012	The library has always been part of my life; I enjoy reading and participating in the programs it offers. It is a resource center and is a major component of community life.
1013	7/16/2012	My children are gaining a foundation of learning! We could never afford to buy all the books we regularly check out from the library! This means expanded vocabulary and in the long run, smarter kids that can contribute in a meaningful way to our society.
1014	7/16/2012	Everyone deserves access to reading materials and shelter. The library offers a safe, comfortable place for anyone to read, which is a great thing for low income or homeless individuals.
1015	7/16/2012	Close to education and safety.
1016	7/16/2012	use it all the time, mainly for books for the whole family and storytime for my 2 yr old. Could not afford to buy that many books. Being open late/weekend is important because both my husband and I work full-time.
1017	7/16/2012	knowledge should be available to anyone, regardless of income. Library is part of what makes a community.
1018	7/16/2012	Books are extremely important, as well as convenient library branches where you can check out books and materials from any branch. Access is very important also as a research resource for students who may not have access to books, computers, etc. at home.
1019	7/16/2012	Because I believe that people should still be reading books and visiting libraries. It has value that cannot be achieved anywhere else. Computers cannot provide a love for reading the way holding a book feels. My kids are all grown now but when they were young we visited the library every week and they could check out as many books as they could carry. As adults they are now avid readers and very intelligent individuals. As a parent I'm very proud of that and the availability of the public library has really promoted that level of learning.
1020	7/16/2012	Air, water, food, shelter, lack of crime, human services, and libraries.

1021	7/16/2012	The most important to me - I am a senior citizen and don't use other local public services except occasionally MAX.
1022	7/16/2012	The library offers programs across the board for so many different folks, age groups,needs.
1023	7/16/2012	Having access to knowledge is key in creating strong communities. In some households books can be non-existent - having a local library can open the world to children and adults alike. Libraries promote knowledge and curiosity, they spark passion and inspire dreams. When we encourage each other to read - to take advantage of the free books provided by the library - we signal to ourselves and others that we care about history, that we desire a better future, and that we are engaged in our present.[] The library was a haven for me as a latch-key kid growing up, and it is still a more magical, travel filled place than the airport for me as an adult.
1024	7/16/2012	Libraries are accessible to all and cover a wide range of programs
1025	7/16/2012	The library is a community gathering place, and without it, the sense of community would be altered. Also, freedom of information for all!!!!
1026	7/16/2012	Because we cannot afford to buy the number of books that we are able to check out from the library. We have gone to the library every week for almost 30 years. I used the library as a resource for educating my children as preschoolers. My sons continue to use the library as a resource.
1027	7/16/2012	same as my response to #6....
1028	7/16/2012	Libraries are the only completely public service that addresses the intellectual and entertainment needs of non-school age citizens.
1029	7/16/2012	Essential for a literate and informed citizenry, for helping children learn to love to read, for developing and maintaining community connections.
1030	7/16/2012	The library to offers many good things
1031	7/16/2012	Knowledge is power, at least in part. Without access to information or thought-expanding sources of ideas and concepts, people would be at a great disadvantage. It's not fair for information to be only for those who can pay, just as it's not fair for schooling or healthcare to be only for those who can pay. It's truly amazing that we've had the libraries we've had for so long; I hope they can continue in much the same way in the future.
1032	7/16/2012	Libraries make information and entertainment accessible to all members of the community regardless of income.
1033	7/16/2012	It's my main source of entertainment. I don't watch TV or go to the movies. I'd be happy to spend the amount I spent on my old cable bill on the library. Buying a book that I'm only going to read once seems wasteful. I could spend that same amount on the library, and get to reread it if I want later.

1034	7/16/2012	Because the library offers something for everyone in the community. It is a free service so there are no financial barriers for low income or seniors. The library encourages kids to read and they then become better students.
1035	7/16/2012	Information sources free for all, community gathering places, resource help from librarians...
1036	7/16/2012	The library provides life tools.
1037	7/16/2012	I don't read as much as I should.
1038	7/16/2012	This is a place where people of all ages come to learn, read, and research. We as a community need to have the library open early to help facilitate this learning process.
1039	7/16/2012	Libraries are an important part of the community. They promote the written word, act as a gathering place, provide knowledge and resources to people from all walks of life, etc.
1040	7/16/2012	"Democracy cannot succeed unless those who express their choice are prepared to choose wisely. The real safeguard of democracy, therefore, is education." -Franklin D. Roosevelt
1041	7/16/2012	Libraries are the last of our physical and intellectual commons. They are a place as well as a service. They make us all free. We can't have a functioning democracy without them.
1042	7/16/2012	important for everyone to have access to reading and resources that library provides.
1043	7/16/2012	I am a former school librarian (cut due to lack of funding) and I firmly believe that all citizens have the right to have unfettered access to information and literature, no matter their income level or social class. The more access, the more likely our citizens will USE it!
1044	7/16/2012	I love to read and I support the library bonds because I think reading is the key to a well educated populace. Many people cannot afford to buy books to read so the library is a place where they can continue to get materials to read without having to purchase them. It is also a great source of good movies to watch and musical materials.
1045	7/16/2012	I cannot imagine life without reading. In order to read one must have books. To get books one must have a library.
1046	7/16/2012	Information, research and literacy form solid communities
1047	7/16/2012	I'm poor. The library provides a safe, warm, dry place to read and write and access computers.
1048	7/16/2012	I think it's decided by the variety of help provided by libraries, and also other services compared with it.
1049	7/16/2012	It is the public service that I chose to use the most.
1050	7/16/2012	The libraries are so important because they make the entire world available in our small world. Without a library available when I was growing up, I would have had even less opportunity to pursue information on any subject. My family was very poor and the library was my window to the world. The library still represents the window on the world for me and my family. TV offers even less real information and schools are certainly not able to provide everything for knowledge seeking youngsters.

1051	7/16/2012	with budget cuts to schools, libraries help students access the internet, check out books and a place to do research. libraries are also community centers. the midland library is one of the hubs in mid county. a place for people to gather and attend programs, study groups and learn.
1052	7/16/2012	Clean drinking water is pretty nice. Couldn't live without it. Schools are pretty important; perhaps if we provided better support for our educational system our citizens would better understand the machinations of governance and municipal works and these library funding issues would be moot. TriMet is important, but the I have no car, so... Frankly, this is a terrible question because it sets up an adversarial relationship between the Library System and whoever I choose as more important than the Library System. Shame on you. The library is an important part of the overall city/county/state services structure, an inextricable piece of the overall public governance/service structure. For me to envision the Library System in any other way I would first need to envision the deconstruction of our local government.
1053	7/16/2012	Vital services such as police and fire are more important.
1054	7/16/2012	The library is an important source of entertainment and resource information for people on a limited budget.
1055	7/16/2012	They are important because I believe that everyone in our community should have access to quality reading materials and current educational opportunities through the library.
1056	7/16/2012	Alternative resources and technology are becoming more available and more commonly used (such as the internet and electronic books) but I do not think we should eliminate/cut funding for books, learning, children, our local libraries.
1057	7/16/2012	I think all public services are important. Getting health care and food stamps to people who need them are important, but encouraging reading at the local library and active play at the park are equally important.
1058	7/16/2012	Our libraries offer knowledge to all. They support keeping all members of our community well informed and active. They bring neighbors together. They support the arts. They support education. They support families. They offer free services equally to citizens from all income levels. They are the cornerstone to a vibrant, well-informed citizenship.
1059	7/16/2012	Simply because I feel reading is one of the most important tools we have in life; a free public library is an essential part of that.
1060	7/16/2012	Our family loves the library. Not only do my husband and I enjoy picking up material, but my two school age children really look forward to their visits. I would hate to see further cuts to this amazing resource.
1061	7/16/2012	I love to read. When I was growing up, the library was one of my favorite places to go. I want my daughter to feel the same way.
1062	7/16/2012	A place in the community to gather and learn is of utmost importance for keeping that community vibrant.

1063	7/16/2012	It's bonding time and inexpensive entertainment for our family. We also check out items that we wouldn't buy, giving us greater exposure to literature and entertainment. We love our library outings.
1064	7/16/2012	They serve thousands and thousands of people every day.
1065	7/16/2012	It is the one I use the most, and it is a foundation for a free and informed society.
1066	7/16/2012	To encourage love of reading.
1067	7/16/2012	You can get anything answered at the library. Every type of information available ever.
1068	7/16/2012	we need them for education Readers are leaders.[] [] Reading is an essential part of our family values. Our two year old grandson loves his once a week trips to the library. Because of library books and the half hour to hour or more spent reading with his parents he knows the alphabet, can count to thirty and is speaking in full and comprehensive sentences. Thanks to our local library.[] [] Life long learning begins at the local library.
1070	7/16/2012	I love to read and use the library for some types of research and just to see what is there.
1071	7/16/2012	I can't afford to buy everything I need/want for entertainment/education, but I can get it at the library. Provides services for literacy, job seekers, and others who are less well off than me so they can be productive community and school members. If you get what you need at the library, even as a child, you might not need to use other local public services, like jails and the health dept., later.
1072	7/16/2012	It's the one thing that everybody can access; it is open to all. It has something for everyone.
1073	7/16/2012	Not a very good question. at all. Who wrote this survey?
1074	7/16/2012	I value the fact that the library is a resource for everyone in the community. Rich, poor, employed or not, english language learners, old and young. I like it that it is a place that fosters growth and learning for us all. And I like it that it is a place of sharing. The book or video I read today will be in someone else's home tomorrow. It's green! I am really good that the library has bilingual/multicultural services.
1075	7/16/2012	The library provides access to tools that promote learning and growth as well as serve as hubs for the community.
1076	7/16/2012	They are not as important as public schools, police, fire, utilities but libraries augment schools through tutoring programs, provide internet and research for job seekers, and provide services for the elderly. One of the best bangs for the public buck.
1077	7/16/2012	I value literacy, learning and print entertainment immensely.
1078	7/16/2012	We must support all efforts to upgrade our educational standards as we fall behind many countries in a number of areas that affect our way of life and, in fact, reduce the American Dream to a fading hope for so many.

1079	7/16/2012	Libraries are a huge source of knowledge, community, learning and culture - those are hugely important threads in the fabric of any community. They support and relate to many other publicly-funded services: schools, community colleges, security, community development, building businesses, etc. And they're fun and get kids hooked on reading and learning!
1080	7/16/2012	Other services to children are so important. My nieces benefit from speech therapy, WIC, preschool, parks programs, and the library.
1081	7/16/2012	Our 10 year old son literally reads about 5 books a week. The public library is the only way for us to feed his voracious reading appetite. Not just access to books but recommendations are critical for us.
1082	7/16/2012	I'm privileged to have other forms of access to materials (on-line, e.g.). I'm already well-educated and relatively well-off, so I could personally live without a library. But my primary worry about decreasing support of our library is for those in other situations--economically or educationally lower, non-english speaking, families with small children, etc. The library is essential to them.
1083	7/16/2012	Libraries are community centers where information is shared whether it's local, regional, national or global. We keep breaking down our communities to the point there is no sense of support and cohesiveness fades away, which is a sad thing for our society.
1084	7/16/2012	Provide access to materials not able to purchase on own which in turn provides enrichment and learning opportunities not only for me and my family but the community at large.
1085	7/16/2012	Libraries help people seek employment, help people learn to read and are a safe and productive place for kids to hang out
1086	7/16/2012	I grew up with books being the most important source of information and education. Now the challenge is to figure out how to change libraries so they continue to be responsive to their new role in providing information and education to a generation that has rapidly advancing technologies. The future of the library depends on it's relevance to it's users and future users.
1087	7/16/2012	Safety and education come first.
1088	7/16/2012	I wouldn't want to close a fire station or a water treatment facility to fund a library but I also wouldn't want to live in a city without a place where I could easily pick up a book.
1089	7/16/2012	Access to books and other reading material
1090	7/16/2012	I don't buy books or electronic delivery(Kindle, Nook, etc.), the Libraries are my #1 source for research, information and entertainment.
1091	7/16/2012	I think libraries should be funded another way, either charitably or by user fees. Libraries are important, but not an essential government service.
1092	7/16/2012	Reading is very important to me, and my child.
1093	7/16/2012	I value police, fire protection and schools more highly than the library.
1094	7/16/2012	They help people that are not able to pay for all the help that libraries provide. Also part of a communitys livability rating.

1095	7/16/2012	Reading and having access to books is something that I highly value. I think it is a sign of a free society. We would have a greater separation of classes without libraries. Without the library, I would not be able to read a fraction of what I now read.
1096	7/16/2012	Public safety is primary, but then education is a close second (which includes libraries). With good positive resources available in the library and school systems, we would minimize some of the problems we currently face.
1097	7/16/2012	keep reading materials going to encourage reading for all, literacy, and availability to people who don't use or have access to computers.
1098	7/16/2012	I'm an avid reader and environmentally conscious too. Reading and returning the b
1099	7/16/2012	convenience, cost
1100	7/16/2012	Lets face it; If I want to know of something,Who else should I ask?
1101	7/16/2012	It is part of my everyday life. Without a library, I wouldn't be able to access information that helps me live my life.
1102	7/16/2012	Without them, there is no mechanism for access by poor people to cultural and economic resources that are vital to life.
1103	7/16/2012	focus of communitiy [] center of opportunity[] I value what they have to offer
1104	7/16/2012	I do not have the extra money - nor do I think it is sustainable - to purchase books, videos, and music. Having a local shared resource is important to the community of people. Libraries bring people together and provide information that is accurate and cannot be 'googled.'
1105	7/16/2012	An important resource, used regularly, that enriches my family's life.
1106	7/16/2012	I no longer have easy access to an academic library, and with small children, the programs for youth are indispensable.
1107	7/16/2012	Libraries are one of the few free resources used by virtually everyone of all ages
1108	7/16/2012	to maintain a literate society.
1109	7/16/2012	Because they are easy to use for all levels of income.
1110	7/16/2012	Helps with equal access to information and learning despite family economic status.
1111	7/16/2012	I love that my family can go to a wonderful place where we are immersed in literature and reading resources. The level of delight on my children's faces when they find just what they were looking for is priceless. Then the next week, the same level of curiosity and delight returns.
1112	7/16/2012	It's our primary source of books and media. We never buy new books, sometimes buy used books, but heavily depend on the library for our families reading and media needs. My kids are preparing for the battle of the books this summer by reading the list of books this through the library.
1113	7/16/2012	The libraries share knowledge and information to the people, regardless of their socioeconomic status. Knowledge and information are essential to democracy.

1114	7/16/2012	An accurately educated public is central to democracy and new literature, new discoveries in science, good leadership etc
1115	7/16/2012	Should always be funded but basic education and transportation are higher priorities.
1116	7/16/2012	It is much more important, for instance, that adding taxes to pay for arts in the schools which should be part of the normal tax base from the school districts.
1117	7/16/2012	It serves as an equalizer, it matters not what you earn or who you are.
1118	7/16/2012	along with bike lanes and public transportation they are what I use the most
1119	7/16/2012	Public safety is more important than libraries
1120	7/16/2012	Personally for me an excellent library system is very important but looking at the needs of the community as a whole, there are other services which are concerned with health which are also important.
1121	7/16/2012	I'm an avid information seeker. Also, I prefer a book in my hand to an electronic reader.
1122	7/16/2012	It's difficult to answer that question because I don't know what you mean by "other local public services". Libraries are less important than Police and Fire departments but more important than street sweepers. They are less important than the public school system but more important than public art.
1123	7/16/2012	Free and open access to literature and information that the library provides is essential to an educated, democratic society.
1124	7/16/2012	I need someplace to go and something to do during the day. The library provides me that. I enjoy cruising through the library catalog searching for movies to watch. Plus, it's nice to have access to the Sunday New York Times. And the computers are valuable not just for the Web, but for an excellent word processing system.
1125	7/16/2012	I've always loved reading, and when I moved to Portland, it was one of the first things I searched out-- my nearest library. I think it creates a sense of community, and sharing that would be lost almost completely without a local library system. I would be very disappointed to lose such a great service.
1126	7/16/2012	Because we can't afford to buy books and go to the movies all the time.
1127	7/16/2012	Education, community, keeping people reading and up on current events, allowing people (of lower economic status) to be connected to the internet. I live in NoPo and our library is crucial to many people who have no other computer access or job search education. Families and daycares bring young kids in and I see many latchkey kids in the library after school hours. Where else will these folks learn the value of reading for pleasure, be able to access the internet (a major point in the economic divide debate)?
1128	7/16/2012	To expand horizons!!
1129	7/16/2012	People need access to the programs for their well being....for education and entertainment.

1130	7/16/2012	Basic services such as water and trash collection are more important in day-to-day life. However, libraries are important for the future as they provide an alternative to pay per use sources of education (as well as literary pleasure) for young and old alike.
1131	7/16/2012	Service use used extensively and provided in a quality manner.
1132	7/16/2012	Access to information is critical in a democracy.
1133	7/16/2012	We must have a good available source of books and information for students, and a place for seniors and job seekers to enhance their skills.
1134	7/16/2012	Because I really count on you guys when I need to print something, to use a computer, or just want to read a new book..
1135	7/16/2012	Access to information and knowledge helps keep the mind healthy.
1136	7/16/2012	The best way to improve one's life is through learning. Learning should be a free activity. Libraries offer this opportunity, to learn freely, in generous, magical amounts.
1137	7/16/2012	because it is a foot print of our culture that has proven to be the financial and educational success of students and families especially minorities. It teaches valuable skills such as research and has a larger pool of material for the public than a school which has limited access.
1138	7/16/2012	because it is the last "free" service that includes everyone.
1139	7/16/2012	Knowledge, articulation, and creativity are essential.
1140	7/16/2012	Local library services fill gaps that other services do not provide. Access to information and culture for all is a necessity.
1141	7/16/2012	Access to books, media, and information is very important to being a well-rounded human being. It helps with learning, teaching, and decision making.
1142	7/16/2012	I have always loved the opportunity to go to the library and check about books about a variety of topics. I have used the library to plan vacations, to read classic novels and to learn about certain animals, places, sports, people and skills. The local libraries have been very helpful to me in completing school assignments, especially research projects, and I was able to save money on textbooks for college by finding a few of my required texts at local libraries. However, some public services are more vital to the safety of the public, so I rated libraries as important, but not the most important.
1143	7/16/2012	Because I'm poor and so are lots of other people. If I only could read books I bought...I'd be a lot less educated and well read. I'd also be extremely poor. I love reading and it teaches me so many things and it does that for lots of other people as well. It provides free information too. I think of all the public services (except firefighters) it is the most important. Certainly more important than the police or food stamps which people take advantage of anyhow...plus the police hassle people more than protect them...sorry this isn't a commentary...anyhow the library is extremely important for all types of people and it has no real downsides to staying funded. It educates people and makes them smart. The library is super good.
1144	7/16/2012	very important

1145	7/16/2012	Because library materials and programs expand the mind and help us grow, and, gives us a place to gather with other people of our communities for learning, practicing, and interacting. Funding should go in this order.[]
1146	7/16/2012	1. Public safety [] 1.b. Police and fire[] 2. Public Schools (if schools are fully funded kids will have better library services in house and will have a lesser need for public libraries [] 3. Maintaining roads, bridges, ect.[] 4. Other spending such as libraries, parks, ect.[] [] If we run out of money before we get to number 4 then we do with out. Just like I tell my kids in the grocery store. If we run out og money before we get to the snack isle then we do with out. Public libraries provide access to knowledge that is key to self-improvement. Free access to educational resources car help the disadvantaged and underprivileged develop knowledge and skills so that they can contribute to society at a higher level. [] []
1147	7/16/2012	If children learn to love books when they are young, they gain a lifelong habit of inquiry. Reading gives access to worlds beyond the local. Reading helps us bridge beyond our immediate experiences to dream of new possibilities and empathize with those in very different circumstances. Innovation comes when people believe new things are possible and acquire the knowledge to make them happen. (Imagine whirled peas)
1148	7/16/2012	Library services were very very important to me while I was in school. Now that I finished my bachelors degree two years ago is still important even if I don't use it as much. I started a family and have a baby and I wanna be able to have my kids enjoy the same great services from the library as I did. [] Resources for kids and programs are a great way to help with education, and I look forward to use those services when my baby will grow a little more.
1149	7/16/2012	Library services are important but rank fairly low compared to k-12 education, feeding hungry people, housing poor people, providing for the mentally ill, ensuring clean water in my tap, treating sewage, etc. I would be ok with even fewer library hours if it meant that these other items were adequately funded.
1150	7/16/2012	It's most important to the lower income members of our community who can't afford to purchase what the library provides (internet, books, etc). Libraries help to bring more equality and leveling of the playing field by giving access to information to those who wouldn't otherwise have it.

1151	7/16/2012	I consider the library to be very important because it serves a wide range of the community with a range of services. The library is first and foremost a lender of books, which can entertain, educate and inspire the imagination. However the library is more than a book lender, it is a part of the community, providing story time for the young, computer access, job seekers resources and more.
1152	7/16/2012	The only way to make our society better is to raise the level of public debate - the best way to do that is to ensure that the citizenry has access to knowledge. That's what the library provides.
1153	7/16/2012	For me, libraries were an exciting introduction to information and culture I would not find again until I attended university. I want that possibility to be there for everyone.
1154	7/16/2012	available, current, and multiple resources, specialized aid/help that I trust, comfortable environment, near my home.
1155	7/16/2012	I frequently use the library to access books and picture files for work-related needs.
1156	7/16/2012	It enriches my, and my families, daily.
1157	7/16/2012	It's in the service of all public good by providing access to knowledge.
1158	7/16/2012	I'm earn a relatively small amount - I'm a teacher - and it would be difficult for me to purchase the items (such as books, cds and dvds) I borrow from the library. Those items enrich my life culturally, and the fact that they're available to me through the library helps me feel that the value I place on them is shared by the County I live in.
1159	7/16/2012	Because the library offers FREE (outside of property taxes) services, materials, and information to EVERYONE in the community. This access is democratic, and I support that. The library is a community hub, and brings together people from various backgrounds. That is democratic, and I support that as well.
1160	7/16/2012	Books/reading equal Knowledge
1161	7/16/2012	Libraries are not only great sources of information via many types of media, they are gathering places for people from all walks of life. Library patrons are a community, whether they actually walk through the door or whether they access library resources that are available on-line. There are no economic, intellectual, educational, cultural, racial, etc. barriers to becoming a library patron.
1162	7/16/2012	Enourmous fund of knowledge and pleasure for the public's benefit- FREE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
1163	7/16/2012	I think schools, roads, and other city activities should be a higher priority, but libraries are nice too.
1164	7/16/2012	I can remember going to "story time" at my local library when I was a child.... I remember learning how to read and play through reading and talking about books. I feel that all children should have that opportunity. People should be able to explore and expand their minds through reading. I would be very sad to see the public library system go away, or change much more than they already have.
1165	7/16/2012	It is important for everyone to have access to information and education, regardless of income level.

1166	7/16/2012	I can't afford to buy books, so i get them at the library, and I couldn't further my education and expand my horizons without the library. Also, i love the opportunities to interact with other parents at story time, i would feel socially isolated with out them, especially as a new parent. Also my daughter gets a variety of books from the library and she loves it.
1167	7/16/2012	Even though I am well educated and have a steady income, I would not be able to obtain or afford the variety of books and materials that I can access through the library.
1168	7/16/2012	8/10 importance level.
1169	7/16/2012	because the library is a haven for so many people. It is for pleasure, but also for school and work related needs as well. It is an equalizer between socio economic status and any other inequality - it offers opportunity to everyone.
1170	7/16/2012	I consider libraries to be a core service responsible for helping eliminate educational shortcomings and fighting illiteracy. In my opinion, core services and infrastructure have been ignored in Portland in favor of "personal agendas". While I hate potholes and poor streets, sewer problems and ridiculous expenditures for an underground under-river sewage tank, out of control building inspections and the erosion of friendly police interactions in favor of confrontation, I don't feel I can affect these services. However, you are giving me the chance to affect library funding, and I strongly support high quality libraries with useful hours.
1171	7/16/2012	Equal access to information is empowering and transcends to other aspects of life
1172	7/16/2012	We can find and enjoy our favorites at the library and we appreciate that...free access for all in our community
1173	7/16/2012	An informed electing body in a democracy is what makes it successful. Reading is how we get informed. And it gets our people off the TV and off from Computers. It helps keep our community in balance.
1174	7/16/2012	Public libraries are a very important part of this community. Free access to books for any and everyone is very important.
1175	7/16/2012	Knowledge is power. Access to information is an equity issue that public libraries address.
1176	7/16/2012	Because it allows everyone access, not just those who can afford it. The library provides critical resources to people (computers, research, media and books, classes) who may not be able to afford them. It's also a community gathering place, even if people don't know one another.
1177	7/16/2012	The Library system competently carries out its mission.[] The other city & county services struggle to reach mediocracy
1178	7/16/2012	The library is key to keeping me connected to my community and knowledgeable about what is happening locally.
1179	7/16/2012	Access to information is vital for a free and fair society. Not everyone can afford to buy all of their own materials, nor is it a good use of resources.
1180	7/16/2012	it's a library. duh.

1181	7/16/2012	The above question is not a good one. You need to clarify what you mean by "Local public services".
1182	7/16/2012	I am on a limited budget, so can't be purchasing reading material. That is my favorite form of entertainment.
1183	7/16/2012	Somewhat important
1184	7/16/2012	Libraries provide the public with resources and opportunities for education and personal enrichment/improvement. I believe these services are crucial for progress on an individual and societal level.
1185	7/16/2012	I think it is extremely important. It is vital to have books be accessible to everyone and our libraries make that possible when they have proper funding and are steel staffed and stocked with as many reading materials as possible.
1186	7/16/2012	I believe that people should have easy access to information to educate themselves.
1187	7/16/2012	For me, the only public services that come above public libraries are ones dealing with education, health and safety (schools, police, firefighters, EMTs, etc.). Public libraries are (or should be) part of the required fabric of our society, along with good schools.
1188	7/16/2012	Well, basic infrastructure repair and education are the most important, but you know what I mean.
1189	7/16/2012	I am teaching my child to read and the library books are indispensable.
1190	7/16/2012	Reading is so valuable to everyone and to learning and developing as a person. Libraries make these opportunities available for everyone.
1191	7/16/2012	If local library provide good services, people would feel more inclined to use them. This will be a great way to for everyone to advance their learning and for society as a whole to become more knowledgeable.
1192	7/16/2012	Every age can use. Anybody who chooses to make use of any of the service can see some benefit.
1193	7/16/2012	I would say they are very important for people who use the library for studies, etc. or for good reading materials--esp. if you can't go out and purchase things you want to read.
1194	7/16/2012	I think the services make a big difference to those of limited means.
1195	7/16/2012	I use the library the most of all the county and city services
1196	7/16/2012	An educated well read citizenry is the foundation of our democracy.
1197	7/16/2012	I was an elementary school teacher for 35 years, and I saw and know how important free access of books and materials are for families, especially the many low income families.
1198	7/16/2012	Because the Library system serves all members of the community.
1199	7/16/2012	Because I am an avid reader and can't afford to buy books. I also appreciate the selection of dvds.
1200	7/16/2012	I use the library materials for myself and for my classroom.

1201	7/16/2012	We (my husband and I) depend on the library for most of our reading material; we could not afford to purchase the number of books we read (we very rarely purchase a book). We are contemplating stopping our newspaper delivery and working in a daily stop at the library in order to read it there.¶ I select and deliver large print books from the library on a regular basis to a friend who has impaired vision -- this is an incredibly important resource for her.¶ We check out DVD's on a regular basis also.
1202	7/16/2012	Libraries are easily accessible and incredibly helpful for low income folks, kids, and other groups of people who don't get any decent help or support from most state-funded public services. Books are important! EDUCATION IS IMPORTANT! If local library services (that obviously help tons of people) are cut further, it denies the importance of equal access to education and resources for self-aid.
1203	7/16/2012	because for the price I pay out of my property taxes, I receive all the books I want to read (in multiple formats), all the DVD's I want to watch (including television series), music CD's, online journals and programs to learn a language, new technology and access to public computers if I need it and even author talks, programs I can take (for free!) and this marvelous system in which I can request something and then go pick it up anywhere.¶ It is a really great value!
1204	7/16/2012	I am a retired school librarian. I used MCL all the time for resources; not only books, but personnel and programs. Your work is exceptional and extremely important especially now when we are experiencing the loss of so many school library programs.
1205	7/16/2012	Serve people who would not have access to this info if not for our library system
1206	7/16/2012	they are some of the only places that I can get online.
1207	7/16/2012	They are very important to me because I love to read and have access to new and old literature without having to buy everything. I suspect however that people in financial difficulty right now need assistance with basic necessities more than the library.
1208	7/16/2012	They are an important support service for low and moderate income households and play an important part in helping public school students become successful. Investing in these kids now is far cheaper for the county than dealing with the expensive aftermath of failure through the social services and criminal justice system.
1209	7/16/2012	Education is first, then police/fire, then library/parks.
1210	7/16/2012	Due to the economy and loss in budgets left and right libraries are one place where young and old can be informed, educated, and welcomed. Libraries provide a welcoming learning environment for all. Libraries also provide internet access to those whom are less fortunate. Even the copy machines are scarce things to find or have access to.
1211	7/16/2012	The library is critical to me as it is resource for my continuing education as a Portland Public Schools teacher and citizen.

1212	7/16/2012	public libraries along with schools are central institutions to a democratic citizenry. Without them, we decline as a society.
1213	7/16/2012	It's a place where everyone is equal in having the access to many resources and knowledge. Without well managed libraries, I can't begin to imagine the effect it would have on our culture.
1214	7/16/2012	free self-education raises productivity and is the primary important economic stimulus and source of self-improvement
1215	7/16/2012	The library is a huge part of our lives. We use it constantly.
1216	7/16/2012	Access to information, especially for those unable to afford it elsewhere.
1217	7/16/2012	High importance I consider the library to be my version of church. I believe all books deserve respect, even books that I don't like/agree with. I feel the written word (in any hard copy format) should be viewed as sacrosanct (but not in a religious sense, I'm agnostic),very much like schools.
1218	7/16/2012	The library provides so many resources to so many people - job seekers, seniors, children, students - everyone at every stage of life can use and benefit from a library.
1220	7/16/2012	Very nice to have, but certainly not life threatening Libraries give a vast amount of resources to the community. Gathering rooms, book readings and activities to the little ones, internet access for job seekers, computers and printers for those that do not have at home. As a divorced dad, my kids now live with their mother. I have great memories singing and listening to books at the Woodstock library. I also used the internet to look for work daily, the computers to type up resumes and the printer to print them and a map to the locations. Thank you.
1221	7/16/2012
1222	7/16/2012	Extreme importance, I DO NOT want to lose my escape from the world, my personal hiding place!
1223	7/16/2012	It makes no sense to buy every book I want to read, therefore I get lots of them from the library. I also think it's very important for people to have internet access if they don't have it elsewhere.
1224	7/16/2012	many children and families need these resources
1225	7/16/2012	I would be lost without a library. I am an avid reader and get much of the information I need to be an educated, well rounded person from the library. I cannot afford to buy new books and count on the library, Tidal Wave and Good Will to keep me well stocked and well informed.
1226	7/16/2012	The library is a community gift. It's a place to learn something new and reinforce what you already know. The more we share knowledge the more we all benefit from the shared knowledge.
1227	7/16/2012	It is so important to have these resources available to the general public for free. As a teacher at a school without a library, I use the Multnomah County library to serve my students' needs. Thank you!
1228	7/16/2012	It's how I get my reading material
1229	7/16/2012	While I do consider the library services to be important, there are other, more vital social services offered by Multnomah County that I would rank above the library due to the life-or-death end results that they have.

1230	7/16/2012	They provide free books for a certain amount of time and cds.
1231	7/16/2012	It's in my blood. I READ.
1232	7/16/2012	I use our neighborhood library frequently and appreciate its convenience and availability of materials. The many outreach and other programs seem like luxuries to me, especially in these trying economic times.
1233	7/16/2012	There is no substitute. Local library services are vital in improving the well being and imagination of society. Money should never be a constraint on public information...personally, I'm appalled it's even considered.
1234	7/15/2012	Many people can't afford other options for learning what is happening in the world, and educating themselves on what is happening here at home. TV (which most use) does not give unbiased views or necessarily the true views. □ □ Free libraris are important to the mental growth of everyone, not just those that can afford college, internet, etc. Libraris allow all levels of people the opportunity to continue to improve themselves.
1235	7/15/2012	Libraries provide a safe place for people to access reliable information, to gain critical skills for success & promote literacy & community cohesion through events. When people have access to gain skills through workshops & knowledge through books, magazines & internet access, they are able to make more informed & healthy decisions for themselves & their families. This may, in turn, decrease the need for other social services, keep the need for other services from increasing, or, at the very least, help people gain knowledge of how to access & best utilize other public services available to them.
1236	7/15/2012	i want to know it's there
1237	7/15/2012	Great resource
1238	7/15/2012	I am a supporter of education and arts. I have always been an avid reader. I currently volunteer at the library in the Read to the Dogs program. I am very aware of the need to provide an avenue for education to promote better readers and personal confidence. I am aware of the excitement in reading, learned awareness of the "world" we live in through exposure to books, periodicals, computer programs and staffed library programs. Interaction between librarians and other staff members is critical in opening up a comfort level in personal exploration of knowledge. During my volunteer hours I see children and adults on computers..challenging games, job searchers, homework..the full spectrum. I see readers of all types/levels. I also see a safe haven and comfortable friendly environment. I receive tremendous enjoyment during my time at the library. The best days are the ones where I feel the children have made a wonderful step into the world and have begun to learn the magic of reading.
1239	7/15/2012	When school is out, the library is the place I get all my books and media. It is not the most important public service to me, but it is pretty important, and I would hate to lose the library system.

1240	7/15/2012	Because I love to read, because books contain knowledge, because we don't want to have an ignorant populace and everyone should be able to access books, including those who can't afford a Kindle and having to pay for books. Libraries are a foundation of democracy.
1241	7/15/2012	This is the of research an learning.
1242	7/15/2012	The freedom to pursue knowledge must be as available as possible to people of any economic level if any equity is to exist in our society.
1243	7/15/2012	There are books that I cannot effectively get any other way.
1244	7/15/2012	Our libraries are invaluable resources that offer services to a very wide spectrum of the community. They are so much more than a repository of books and information; they have programs and services for everyone and reach out to the most vulnerable as well as the advantaged. We in Portland have one of the best library systems in the country - maybe in the world - and we should be proud and be willing to continue supporting it.
1245	7/15/2012	I understand the value of free access to information. With the internet, and easy access to all information, much of which is unreliable and inaccurate, students and adults seeking accurate sources is vital to a free and educated society. The quality of our library in the most populated county in Oregon is crucial. People of all economic levels, ethnic and economic backgrounds, children acquiring literacy skills, seniors seeking assistance and information, educators and people who provide important services to all segments of our society depend and trust the library to provide the high level of service and wide access to its libraries. Investing in literacy is a wise economic investment, as the library plays a vital role in creating productive citizens in our society.
1246	7/15/2012	culture is vital
1247	7/15/2012	I believe that it is very important for society that everyone, regardless of economic status, to have access to information, knowledge, education and the enjoyment of reading.
1248	7/15/2012	quality of life for "low & low-middle" income people important computer access for "lower & low-middle" income job seekers (especially Mondays)
1249	7/15/2012	First, define "other local public services." Do you mean constant availability of electrical service, sewage service, clean drinking water service, health care-giving services, police protection (and its attendant corruption) services, etc.?
1250	7/15/2012	Libraries are open to everyone. They try to provide whatever information people need. They have something to offer absolutely everyone.
1251	7/15/2012	Access to books and community services is very important. Teaching kids the importance of reading is essential.

1252	7/15/2012	I prefer to read books electronically (Kindle), and prefer to own what I read. I prefer to collect physical versions of music myself, so I only occasionally have checked out some CDs that are hard to find (no longer in print, etc.). For movies, there are too many "on demand" and "streaming" options to make checking out from the library worthwhile. I have a computer at home so I don't need those services at the library (nor for job search assistance, etc.). Perhaps if the library made their facilities available for private meetings, with later hours, my condo homeowners association could rent a meeting room there in the evenings, but we've checked and what's available doesn't work for our needs so we go with nearby community centers instead.
1253	7/15/2012	Libraries stand out for me because they offer not only education but also relaxation resources. No other community service is quite so positive in my view.
1254	7/15/2012	one of the most important public services (second only to education)
1255	7/15/2012	I think the library is very important because learning is very important and some people don't have access or can't afford the resources (like internet service). That is especially the case when someone loses their job and needs to job search and let's say can't afford the internet service. Everything is webbased these days and the computer becomes more and more important. For the same reason I so appreciate that we have books and that not everything is electronic. There is something special about turning the page instead of pushing a button.
1256	7/15/2012	All that is known or can be known is free for all - or free after taxes, including the property tax that renters pay to their landlords. []
1257	7/15/2012	You just can't beat that! do not use it often
1258	7/15/2012	I am a regular user and think it makes much more sense for people to check books out of the library than to buy bunches of books to read once and then put on a shelf. Reading is important to me and important for the community.
1259	7/15/2012	THE LIBRARY IS MY NUMBER ONE SOURCE FOR SELF IMPROVEMENT, JOBS, LOCAL INFORMATION INQUIRIES, ENTERTAINMENT, YOU NAME IT, ITS AT THE LIBRARY!!!
1260	7/15/2012	I am a lifelong avid reader. I couldn't possibly afford to read as much as I do if I had to purchase every book I read. I have an e-reader now and it's great to be able to get books online, but many older books are still only available in hard copy. The library makes nearly any book available to me at no per copy charge. That's amazing and valuable.
1261	7/15/2012	convenient source for knowledge and culture
1262	7/15/2012	We use the services very frequently
1263	7/15/2012	HAVING ACCESS TO THE BOOKS AND PROGRAMS OFFERED IN MY NEIGHBORHOOD IS AN IMPORTANT AND REAL USE OF MY TAX DOLLARS, VALUE. IT IS A TREMENDOUS RESOURCE

1264	7/15/2012	Because all families and individuals should have access to books.
1265	7/15/2012	Access to reading material, information and computers is very important for learning, staying informed and entertainment.
1266	7/15/2012	Well a library is never as important as police, fire or roads. But it is pretty important because it is a public service that anyone can have a positive experience with voluntarily. If the libraries were terrible, it would be harder to make the case that public services are important and can be competently managed. I want to maintain/improve our library system so that it can be used as an example to the skeptics of government how well the public sector can function.
1267	7/15/2012	Access to Information is needed for a society to function.
1268	7/15/2012	The library serves an important role in the community
1269	7/15/2012	free public access to the collective knowledge of human history.
1270	7/15/2012	I use it very frequently and it is a place open to all.
1271	7/15/2012	This is a hard question to answer. I don't want to say that getting the books I want is more important than fire services, garbage services, etc. but being able to read good books really helps my quality of life.
1272	7/15/2012	Libraries is a place for peace and exploring
1273	7/15/2012	Not as important as public health and safety, but very important for the quality of livability in the city
1274	7/15/2012	Availability of books for those that are unable to afford them. Of course, police, firefighters, etc are the most important; however, for me personally, I feel like these services are like life insurance. You pay for it and hope you never have to use it.[]
1275	7/15/2012	[] I have used services at the library much more frequently. This is a service that I want to use and enjoy using all the time.
1276	7/15/2012	Because it is an important way of knowledge and healthy entertainment for our society.
1277	7/15/2012	At the library you can access information & resources with which you would not be able to find at any other place.
1278	7/15/2012	Maybe not that important for me personally who has expendable income and internet access, but extremely important for folks whose only access to information is through the library.
1279	7/15/2012	An excellent resource in the community.
1280	7/15/2012	I am a retired elementary teacher/librarian. I am a heavy user of the Multnomah County Library. I know the great impact libraries have on learning and using various media forms for enjoyment for children and adults of all ages.
1281	7/15/2012	I love reading and count on the variety and availability of the library book selection. I am also an art teacher and my educator card allows me to check out books to use as a teaching resource for students. And as a mom I deeply value the childrens section and programs for kids, particularly storytimes.

1282	7/15/2012	I don't mind that there are reduced hours but I'd like to see that the hours that the library is open allows actual public use - such as being open late hours (after 5:00 pm) for a couple of days a week so families can actually get there after work and school to use. Libraries only open from 9-5 don't really service the needs of the community; sorry - nice for workers but not very functional for a community.
1283	7/15/2012	free dvd internet printers
1284	7/15/2012	I rely on the library for internet, for research materials, and entertainment.
1285	7/15/2012	Not only does the library give me access to books that push me mentally and escape from daily life it is somewhere that I can get books on topics I am teaching the kids I work with. Reading broadens your world and improves brain function. Everyone deserves to have access to great books and information.
1286	7/15/2012	It is a service that my family uses frequently, I am the mother of three boys, and we can walk to our local branch library. Over the years, our need for various services has changed, but I appreciate the cradle-to-grave support Portland's library system has provided my family.
1287	7/15/2012	This is an idiotic question, as is 7. While waiting for an ambulance at a collision, a library does not seem critical. But ambulance use is occasional; the two incomparable in these terms.
1288	7/15/2012	public access to information, community building
1289	7/15/2012	need to keep mind occupied Public safety comes first
1290	7/15/2012	Libraries and accessibility of current resources pretty much next Maintenance of infrastructure in the middle Entitlement and "something for nothing" programs last
1291	7/15/2012	For people who can't afford to go anywhere else, it is extremely important, therefore I think it's very important.
1292	7/15/2012	Not essential to the community, but important for the long term
1293	7/15/2012	Libraries provide a wealth of materials and services that help each member of our society. Without a public library system in place that everyone can use, our society would have a very difficult time being as intellectually, morally and spiritually sound as it is now. Public libraries help provide a backbone and proper foundation that helps a society remain civil. It's very difficult for any human being to know what's right and wrong unless they can research for themselves what is correct. A proper library has materials that anyone can use to find information that they need for just about anything. And, just for fun, libraries also have great entertainment value with their collection of music CDs and DVDs, etc. Libraries also help people get the resources they need to find jobs, do research for a book they may be writing, and many other wonderful things.
1294	7/15/2012	Fixed income, avid readers
1295	7/15/2012	Provide learning materials to me and my community.

1296	7/15/2012	In a democracy it is paramount that the citizens have access to resources for informed decision making. The library acts as such an equal access depository. In addition it plays a vital role in life-long learning, a core value of our society.
1297	7/15/2012	Because I love to read and the library is invaluable to me.
1298	7/15/2012	Educational and media access for all
1299	7/15/2012	Reading without buying books and using computer access are pretty basic amenities I greatly appreciate having full access to. Thank you.
1300	7/15/2012	Healthy libraries and free access to information is a foundation of civilized society and an important part of the commons, especially as society grows ever-more complex and dependent on information access.
1301	7/15/2012	Reading and the ability to read is very important to me and my family. Reading should continue past the school years and through out your life. The library is an essential part of this.
1302	7/15/2012	Police and Fire come before library services. However, library services should come before unemployment for some people. If they accessing resources at the library, they might find work.
1303	7/15/2012	Active libraries can help breed a collectively informed population. People having the resources readily available to educate or better themselves is like a rising tide lifting all ships.
1304	7/15/2012	The library is a resouce which can be used by anyone in the community. It answers so many needs for a large variety of people. It is vital for job seekers and students, and just as vital for other who enjoy its large selection of books and other media offerings. We enjoy being able to go to the library on any day of the week.
1305	7/15/2012	They are very important. We specifically moved within walking distance of a local library. We use our library all the time.
1306	7/15/2012	Most important for computer access
1307	7/15/2012	I like to be able to count on the library when I want to use its services...no surprises, ok?
1308	7/15/2012	This is a service that speaks directly to what makes this country. A service that is available to all of its citizens regardless of economic status. That libraries provide these many services for free is most important, if we live in a true democracy.
1309	7/15/2012	The public libraries offer access to information. It is a great leveler in a society where literacy and access to information is linked to income and status within society. If you have no computer at home because you can't afford it, that creates an obstacle to being able to access the benefits of this society.
1310	7/15/2012	Public libraries offer a vast universe of information to all people -- not just those who can afford to own books or computers at home or pay for an education. The public library is a defender of our freedom by providing access to knowledge we might not otherwise have.
1311	7/15/2012
1312	7/15/2012	Libraries make us informed human beings.

8

1313	7/15/2012	the public library is one of the true democratic institutions in American society. Everyone has access. Anyone can walk in the door and have access to books and information
1314	7/15/2012	The library does so many things for people. It brings books more education and the children get the most use of it which is good.
1315	7/15/2012	It is accessible to EVERYONE
1316	7/15/2012	Many people have no access to computers, books without the library. Access to information and discovery enriches the whole community.
1317	7/15/2012	It's the service I use most frequently of all, with the possible exceptions of the streets and sidewalks and the Portland Tennis Center and the parks.
1318	7/15/2012	Education
1319	7/15/2012	For lower income families, public libraries may be the only place (outside schools) they have access to books and other media free of cost.
1320	7/15/2012	Because they provide access to knowledge, creativity, and help free of charge to ALL people.
1321	7/15/2012	Utmost. Up there with the biggies.[] Fire Dept., Police, Schools, Libraries.
1322	7/15/2012	I use the library consistently and having access to books and other resources through the library saves me quite a bit of money.
1323	7/15/2012	It is a free and unbiased resource for the community.
1324	7/15/2012	Literate individuals participate actively in society to contribute to improve the economy, opportunities and social fabric of a vibrant city. The library is an essential function to support equal access with its resources for all ages and accessibility.
1325	7/15/2012	water, sewer, fire and police are fundamentally necessary to survive. Books are very necessary to an acceptable life, but not before the need for water etc.
1326	7/15/2012	We have current serious needs of Oregonians that do not have enough food to eat, housing and employment; not to mention apparent under-funded education and job training. Perhaps Libraries could get involved with some of that? I'm not sure how that could happen but they are one of our community service sites.
1327	7/15/2012	The education of a society is how we can have a well functioning society. All people deserve free access to the world of books, media, computers etc. It in the end makes for a smarter and healthier and better, democratic society..because people are encouraged to read learn, discuss, participate.
1328	7/15/2012	I read and write daily. The library is a great resource for both of these activities. what are all of the true sayings:[]
1329	7/15/2012	A library will get you by when there's no money better than money will get you by with no libraries.[] and[] a book is a gift you can open over and over.[] They're both true

1330	7/15/2012	I think libraries can save lives in different ways than police and fire, etc. but in ways that are equally important.
1331	7/15/2012	The city can survive without it, but it significantly improves the quality of life. Some people rely on it for internet and educational and reading materials. Access to those resources should not be only for those who can afford to purchase them.
1332	7/15/2012	I and my family have used multnomah county libraries heavily since the fifties, and want to continue as long as possible. Reading is extremely important.
1333	7/15/2012	Because of the educational, cultural and community resources it providers for everyone including those that may not have access otherwise. Because I believe in libraries!
1334	7/15/2012	Because I use the library! Because other people--children, the aged, the poor-need them even more than I do
1335	7/15/2012	The library provides a huge range of services to people throughout our community. Few other public services touch as many people with as much value. The library is the foundation of a free and informed society.
1336	7/15/2012	Please see my previous comments. Libraries are the link to other public services, especially for those who lack education and other resources. And they open the world to all people. Anyone can walk into a library, and if they don't know where to start, ask a librarian, who can help them find what they are looking for.
1337	7/15/2012	Books are the foundation of education. I firmly believe that our youth need access to books to help our society grow.
1338	7/15/2012	I am a retiree, but I have my grandchildren visit often and also love the option to read thru the library, rather than spending limited funs on reading materials.
1339	7/15/2012	Basic public services like infra/structure, public safety and the like should be at or near the top of the importance list. Then schools, public assistance, followed by the library and parks
1340	7/15/2012	Before I had a working computer, I depended on the library for all of my online access needs. Two hours a day is paltry when you need a computer to keep current with email, job searches, and long-distance connections in today's wired world. I rely upon the library as a source of information on any topic or issue. I can connect to information from home, at times of my choosing. I also continue to value print materials very highly. I even learn from posters, brochures in the library lobby!
1341	7/15/2012	I DO NOT want all my news, information, consumer advice, etc. to come from hyped, fast-talking media. I want to choose materials that I can read/studyreview in a more methodical, slower-paced, thoughtful manner. The library is the primary source that enables me to do that.

1342	7/15/2012	They are a resource that serves many people. They provide access to educational material that may not be available to some folks. It enriches one's life.
1343	7/15/2012	I am an avid reader and love the community role that libraries play.
1344	7/15/2012	The health of a community can be judged on the literacy level of its people. Little ones need the opportunity to enjoy books at an early age and seniors need to have the access (mailed, on line) to materials. Plus, it is a nice place to hang out and meet friends.
1345	7/15/2012	Fundamentally, emergency services trump all others. But libraries are relatively high on my list. The internet has taken away much of the reference materials usage that I went to the library for in the past. I'm not attracted to ebooks so I use the library for books I don't want to purchase.
1346	7/15/2012	Literacy and knowledge are essential for a democracy.
1347	7/15/2012	I think local public safety and infrastructure (e.g. water treatment) are probably more essential on an everyday basis but libraries are great community and education builders and are the only place I can think of where knowledge and resources are available to people of all incomes and ages.
1348	7/15/2012	Because libraries give access to information to everyone. Exploring information can lead to gaining knowledge. Knowledge is only one attribute of what makes a strong community member, but it surely opens the door to the possibility of tolerance and self-confidence. We have a responsibility to each other to support our development as people. Libraries are one venue for that support.
1349	7/15/2012	Equal access to information for all income groups.
1350	7/15/2012	Because it is an outlet that isn't available elsewhere.
1351	7/15/2012	Everyone should have access to books, magazines and other media.
1352	7/15/2012	I don't even have kids and am not a senior citizen or struggling financially but I highly value libraries because they offer an essential educational tool to people who might not have other such outlets for exploring their creativity, valuing reading, and gathering with others in a positive, educational, but relaxed atmosphere. Without this there are communities that would be more at risk for under-education, lack of social interaction, and lack of a place to explore their own creativity and learn from others just because they want to.
1353	7/15/2012	If you are asking me to rank compared to fire, police services...teachers...?[] Libraries give more than what I pay for fire, police services...I would rank teachers first..
1354	7/15/2012	Question 7 is a BAD question and not reasonable to answer without the context of what other local services you're asking about. Water, sewer, and public health are more important than the library, but water and sewer aren't county funded.
1355	7/15/2012	I own a book and magazine store I can do research easily.[]
1356	7/15/2012	Make my community one of quality.[] A great place to bring children.[] Free books to read.

1357	7/15/2012	Central neighborhood resource.
1358	7/15/2012	We use the library regularly for at least half of our entertainment. Plus it's nice to be a part of a community, to feel like everyone is helping each other by supporting this institution.
1359	7/15/2012	All my family are readers and books are very important. Maybe not as important as fire and police protection but one of the highest in personal happiness
1360	7/15/2012	Reading is important. Although I have access to books, not everyone does. Libraries provide 'free' access to everyone Libraries are part of the type of society in which I wish to live.
1361	7/15/2012	Because libraries are important since they hold a great amount of information thats vital to people in the community.
1362	7/15/2012	Information, whether for entertainment or enlightenment is a priority for me and my family. It is how we take steps into a wider world. with no work and everyone stretched to their financial limits it is a luxury to be able to still read books or do research
1363	7/15/2012	when you cannot afford to buy what you need.[] []
1364	7/15/2012	One of the last "so called" free pleasures left in life form so long ago. They provide resources that enrich the community socially and economically.
1365	7/15/2012	Libraries are important; but keep in mind the role of government and their services: Public Health, Safety and Welfare. Libraries are important and they serve a role to the community. They give access to books and other materials to the public. Libraries are good resources to keep informed of the latest community events, new books and computer access to some. However, if I had only one dollar to spend, I would think twice giving it to the library system over the fire department. Also, with many people having personal computers or smart phones, computer access may start decreasing. Computers are cheaper by the year, so using poor v. rich people will not work. Audio book and e-books are easy to download, that may be the way of the future. Andrew Carnegie is no longer building libraries for small rural communities. It is time to get back to the basics.
1366	7/15/2012	We actively use the library as a resource for books and movies for our family. See my previous answer! Also, just because the library has been important in my personal development. I remember getting my first library card and loving going to the children's room in the central library. I spent days there in high school researching for papers, or reading treasures I found through browsing. I learned about the history of Portland through the newspaper archives and checked out many many plays and librettos for practice and pleasure. The library played a fundamental part in my life and I hope it can continue to do that for others.
1367	7/15/2012
1368	7/15/2012	The value of libraries is incalculable. Just look at those counties in southern Oregon who have shut theirs down. Where do school kids go to research projects or access computers? Those people have put themselves at a disadvantage for the present and future!

1369	7/15/2012	I am a much bigger reader than anyone else in my family (2 adults, 2 children), but am often busy and don't often get to visit the library anymore. Even though I can't get there very often, many people do go to our branch and it is an important part of our local community I feel.
1370	7/15/2012	There is a sense of community in a library that I just tapped back into after several years. The library seems especially important here in Portland where there are so many people who depend on it in a very real way for a sense of connection.
1371	7/15/2012	Because with kids, it is a great resource. My children have always loved going to the library. They read a lot because of the constant access to new books. They like checking out movies, as well. When they were pre-school, we spent many hours there using the computers, looking at books, etc. Now we go there at least once a week to check out new books. My kids always have holds on books. They also do the Summer Reading Program.
1372	7/15/2012	Access to information is one of the basic tenets of our society.
1373	7/15/2012	Right behind police and fire protection
1374	7/15/2012	where else am i able to educate myself, my kids, and my community with such convenience? (aka not the internet - hard copies are so important for really engaging with the material, and i simply could not afford to read and get what i do from my local libraries anywhere else.)
1375	7/15/2012	I love the libraries- but I see alot of abuse in them..[] [] I think just being open 5 days a week should be efficient. Something like Tuesday thru Saturday so it includes one weekend day. While I literally LOVE our libraries, they are not as essential as supporting our police system etc.
1376	7/15/2012	The library is a great, free resource for everyone to use. It improves the general standard of living for people and enhances education and cultural improvement.
1377	7/15/2012	They are the mark of a civilized society and they make resources available to the poor that are otherwise not available. My only source of reading material as a child was a tiny rural library, so I know.
1378	7/15/2012	We go to the library weekly, it is an outing that my children love, to pick out books and movies. I checked out the BOB books and now my son is reading too, a key tool we use for teaching him to read that we did not know about until we found them at the library. We see our friends there, our family too. We attend the holiday festivities and other activities. I am able to read, watch, and listen to items that we could not afford on our limited budget. By checking out items, I have expanded my own learning in childrearing, budgeting, crafts, and making our lives better. I cannot say enough how important the library is to our family. It truly is the best library program I have ever seen in any of the cities I have lived and we absolutely love it.
1379	7/15/2012	They provide a place for students to study, relax, and learn without getting into trouble elsewhere. Also, they provide lots of visual and audio material at no cost to people who want to enjoy books, movies, or CDs but don't have the money.

1380	7/15/2012	Books are the core of learning and a healthy society. It's also a gathering place for the community. It provides resources for all classes of society.
1381	7/15/2012	The library provides many services that we could not afford otherwise.
1382	7/15/2012	I love my library! When I want to learn about something I just check out a book on it. I can't afford to be buying books, nor do I want to clutter up my house with books I might read once and then never look at. I save money and get to read about things I'm interesting in.
1383	7/15/2012	It is sad when people do not have access to the basics like papers and pencils; it is even sadder when they do not have access to books, cds, dvds, magazines, and all other resources the library offers. Libraries are a staple of civilization.
1384	7/15/2012	The Albina library is where community involvement starts. It is where we learn about events, parks and recreation, outreach programs, small businesses, and more. It is where we teach our children to read and learn about things they love. It is where we vote, where we count! It is our hub.
1385	7/15/2012	we use them all the time, it is a great service
1386	7/15/2012	I can not afford to buy all the books and magazines that I want to read. Most books that I read are not something that I need on my bookshelf. I think that the internet is oversold and not as carefully researched as published books and magazines. The library is where the community can go to learn about whatever interests them or to keep current with what is going on. Most news broadcasts on TV are a joke in the amount of coverage they allow for a story. The library does not have sponsors that determine what is on the shelves and what is important and what is not.
1387	7/15/2012	I enjoy going to the library but often find that the most popular materials are already in use so that discourages my patronage.
1388	7/15/2012	Because my children and I frequently visit the library and it is a treat for my children. We enjoy getting them new books because we frequently read to them. I also like that I can check out DVDs which I do often.
1389	7/15/2012	Available to everyone equally at no cost.
1390	7/15/2012	They are at that level to me because kids and adults get to check out book movies and the library has programs for kids and teens.
1391	7/15/2012	The local library is a hub for resources, interaction and community engagement. I have access to voting materials, critical local issues as well as a way to gather information for things that I find relevant.
1392	7/15/2012	Police Fire first.
1393	7/15/2012	my ten year old daughter is an avid reader, I use the library as a resource, I like the idea of the general public using the library to keep themselves educated regardless of their income
1394	7/15/2012	My children, especially, use the library. The atmosphere is very conducive to reading & studying.
1395	7/15/2012	The internet is so readily available at my home and I use it most of the time for research etc.
1396	7/15/2012	I was raised to respect the library as much as the temple...don't want to lose that.
1397	7/15/2012	Libraries are hubs of information and vital to an alert democracy.

1398	7/15/2012	The library system in Multnomah is a wondrous asset. However, I would say that police, fire and medical services should take first priority. I felt that listing libraries as "very important" might cause confusion on that point.
1399	7/15/2012	Because it gives everyone access to reading and entertainment, regardless of income.
1400	7/15/2012	All public services are imporant
1401	7/15/2012	Fulfill varied and crucial intellectual, educational, economic needs
1402	7/15/2012	It is the public service I use and enjoy the most.
1403	7/15/2012	i use the library all the time, it is like a secind home to me.
1404	7/15/2012	My family uses the library services regularly - it is both a destination (the little kids use the story hour and enjoy visiting the library) as well as a way for us to access a wide range of books (there is no way for us to buy all the books we borrow for our kids). Our older daughter borrows books that help her improve her reading skills and solidify her love of books and reading. She also loves the books on tape, which we take on trips with us.
1405	7/15/2012	I use the library a lot myself. I also think it is very important for people on limited budgets so that they have access to books and materials. As an educator, I think it is an important resource for children and families to promote literacy.
1406	7/15/2012	As I mentioned before, the library is a community hub for services and for social gathering. Since all of the services are free, it's very accessible to the entire community. In this way, I think the library can serve as an "entry point" for people to access services - like job searching resources and classes or English Language Learner classes - easily and without stigma, whereas people might be more reluctant to access services from other social service organizations. The library could potentially connect people to other services, but the services provided are already a starting point. In addition, I think literacy at all socio-economic levels is important to the future of a community, and the programs for kids and families lays important groundwork to make this a reality.
1407	7/15/2012	I believe schools- programs and repairs are a high level of importance. Libraries are close behind.
1408	7/15/2012	I love books beyond all measure they can be so many things teach, comfort, adventure.
1409	7/15/2012	books and media are important for kids and myself. I can't afford them otherwise. one of the most green things you can do is reduce and reuse. libraries do that.

1410	7/15/2012	I have a young child and to be able to go to the library and check out new/old books for me is very important. I don't have the ability to or want to buy all of the books or dvd's for him. I like that we can try out new things for free (which is a rarity). ☐ I like the feeling of it being a community center also with classes and computer access. The story-times and classes have saved my life in so many ways. I enjoy going every week just to get out of the house and know we are doing something that is good for both of us. Reading is so important for his development as well as being part of a community. It also teaches him to respect things that do not belong to him and responsibility in returning things on time.☐
1411	7/15/2012	Before I had children, I used the library mainly to study and use the computers. The library kept me up in my studies when I didn't have a computer and sane when I needed to study out of the house!
1412	7/15/2012	I believe in the fundamental right of all adults and children to have access to information. It is the foundation of democracy.
1412	7/15/2012	Somewhat important for me, but even more important that all citizens have access to knowledge and information and Internet access as government service provided for the common good.
1413	7/15/2012	I think librarians are an important resource because they provide access to necessary resources available to everyone regardless of ability to pay.
1414	7/15/2012	It is a community gathering place. ☐ Would like more classes and community group meetings at the library ☐ The library provides access to the world through being able to order any book. ☐ Maybe the library could earn money by renting out their spaces to other groups during their closed times.
1415	7/15/2012	It is the public service that is constantly and consciously a daily part of our lives. We love the library!
1416	7/15/2012	I have been visiting the Multnomah county libraries since I was a child. I have the app on my phone. I order books and bring my children regularly. I raised my kids at the story hours from infants to toddlers. Reading is a part of the fabric of life in Portland and the libraries are award winning.
1417	7/15/2012	I am an avid reader and if I had to buy every book I read I'd go broke (I'd just read much less frequently). As a child, my parents helped me develop a library "habit" and I would absolutely say it's just part of who I am - a frequent library patron. I also volunteer full time as a art teacher at a public school in a low-income area (5 days a week) and being able to borrow books that are relevant to my lessons is key - as someone who essentially works for free, I certainly could not afford to buy books for my classroom.
1418	7/15/2012	I actually use the library. All the time. It greatly improves the quality of life in portland and it is free. Libraries are one of the best things going

1419	7/15/2012	The medical information that has literally saved my baby sister came from the family reading through everything we could find at the library, not from her clueless doctors. The only access we have to computers for looking for and applying for jobs and doing resumes is at the library. Also for emailing business and family contacts, or researching places or events that may no longer offer their information off-line. We cannot afford a newspaper subscription and read the Oregonian and national newspapers there. I see the libraries providing every single socially useful service the public schools provide (with the exception of the free lunch program) and providing it to all ages. My family homeschooled in part because we believe a higher quality education can be gotten from such community resources as the library. We have lived in many extremely small and/or poor midwestern towns where the only "public services" were fire, police, schools, roads, the post office and library. Quality of all these services usually varied according to quality of the library, making me believe that investing limited resources in library service yields returns in other civic arenas. Libraries provide for me the solace some find in church. I work with at risk youth and many of them find their only calm inside a book. Where else are people going to find something to read? the one national book chain left? with I have no kids and pay huge in my property taxes for schools. But I DO USE THE LIBRARY and that is something of value to me when I pay my property taxes..along with police and fire depts.
1420	7/15/2012
1421	7/15/2012	The library represents accessibility and freedom of information. It is a wellspring of opportunity for those seeking to better their circumstances, develop their character or intellect, deepen their interests or explore new ideas.
1422	7/15/2012	The library is a huge part of the community for lots of different folks--from after school programs for kids to job seekers to seniors. Since all of our other resources have been cut, the library has partially filled the gap for low income people.
1423	7/15/2012	They allow students to use books to study.
1424	7/15/2012	I suppose we take fire and police protection for granted; they would be very important, i.e., emergency services. Children's welfare is very important, too, so when you consider life and death decisions, where do you draw the line for how much and what is too much? After "vital" services, libraries would be high priority for us.
1425	7/15/2012	I believe providing all community members access to library resources is very valuable. In addition, libraries act as community gathering hubs, another valuable service they provide.
1426	7/15/2012	Police, fire and similar services, and education itself are the only things to be rated higher.
1427	7/15/2012	They're one of the few things that encourage enlightenment in today's society.
1428	7/15/2012	It is local and free and supports my neighborhood.
1429	7/15/2012	It is and important part of a healthy democracy and a great resource and opportunity for those of limited means
1430	7/15/2012	Literacy is valued. Having access to free reading material provides enjoyment, learning, and an activity that doesn't cost money.

1431	7/15/2012	Although I do believe that libraries offer a number of services that are important and should continue in their efforts to promote reading in children of all ages, I have worked in the social service delivery system of Multnomah County and see the desperate need of many of our citizens for basic survival services. I would hate to see those services lose money, so that the libraries have a guaranteed funding source.
1432	7/15/2012	Education is important.
1433	7/15/2012	it is important to have access to reading materials for me to help me get into grad school, I use inter-library loan often and many informational books in the non-fiction section
1434	7/15/2012	Because libraries help stimulate the mind and encourage young people to explore through reading and learning
1435	7/15/2012	I don't have much money. Certainly not to buy all the books I want to read or music I want to listen to.
1436	7/15/2012	I think its a place for a lot of kids to go who like reading and it is a nice place for a lot of adults to read and research when needed.
1437	7/15/2012	It promotes education no matter what your income level
1438	7/15/2012	It is used by the community
1439	7/15/2012	emergency services (fire, police, ambulance) are most important, followed by schools
1440	7/15/2012	I use information from the data base for my volunteer civic work.
1441	7/15/2012	I think libraries are very important. I think schools, public safety and public health might be the only things of higher importance.
1442	7/15/2012	Hardly ever use library, internet make library less useful.
1443	7/15/2012	I'm willing to vote for a levy for it. They are a lifeline to people without ready access to funds for a bookstore, and I remember from when I was a kid, a door to a wider world.
1444	7/15/2012	Because of how much a use the library and value what it has to offer both me and my family as well as the huge range of people who also use it.
1445	7/15/2012	free and universal access
1446	7/15/2012	I'm a lifelong learner
1447	7/15/2012	We need a good, safe, free local library to help today's kids be successful tomorrow. We need people who can read, think, vote, and live intelligently, not welfare recipients with an attitude of entitlement.
1448	7/15/2012	Because librarys hold information about the present and past, current events and if your not a student at a college then your not able to check out books.
1449	7/15/2012	internet access
1450	7/15/2012	It offers education and self improvement opportunities for people like me who don't believe in formal schools.
1451	7/15/2012	I wouldn't put the importance of the library above fire and police protection, of course, but it's way up there.

1452	7/14/2012	My husband and I read a LOT and most of our reading material comes from the library. Also we place high value on the effect our library services have on the community.
1453	7/14/2012	access to information and reading for entertainment are two very important facets of american life.
1454	7/14/2012	I cannot imagine a community without a good library
1455	7/14/2012	Times are hard, growing up, I didn't have access to a community library. The only books I had access to, came from my school or had to be purchased. My family couldn't afford to buy all the books I wanted to read. Which hindered the growth of my education and reading ability. I love to read now, especially using the online library.
1456	7/14/2012	Police, fire, clean water and perhaps some other services exceed this one. Pleasure[]
1457	7/14/2012	source of information[] great reading program for our grand children in the summer.[] Provides reading material for many people who couldn't afford it.
1458	7/14/2012	Only behind police, fire, sanitation, etc.
1459	7/14/2012	Libraries benefit all who access them. Other public services only benefit those who ride bikes for dedicated bike paths, green bike lanes, or community leaders personal projects to get re-elected.
1460	7/14/2012	Keeps us part of the community.
1461	7/14/2012	Helps the community to grow.
1462	7/14/2012	Knowledge is power
1463	7/14/2012	The I enjoy ability to check out books, attend book discussions, and feel a sense of community. The love of reading helped me through many trying times in my life, and enriched it beyond anything I have ever done. I started going to the library as a very small child, to get books for my very poor and busy mother. As a result, I started reading and literature and books became a passion.
1464	7/14/2012	They provide access to technology and materials only accessible to a certain level of income. Also they are an important community gathering place where information is shared, communicated, and learned.
1465	7/14/2012	I don't know what other "public services" you are referring to. If you mean police and fire? Then libraries are not as important.
1466	7/14/2012	The local library is way to become an expert is through public research. this involves looking through books and periodicals, doing searches of online databases and gathering any other already public information you can.
1467	7/14/2012	Free access to information, resources for children/job-seekers/parents. Simply a nice place to sit and read a book.
1468	7/14/2012	There is no democracy without full access to information and education.

1469	7/14/2012	We must make available resources and activities that promote learning and a sense of community for EVERYONE, regardless of age, race, income, etc. Libraries are also very peaceful places to hang out.
1470	7/14/2012	access to books, videos, music, and children's programs are very important to my family.
1471	7/14/2012	They have so many important qualities for so many people that cannot be found anywhere else! Especially for people who do not have a lot of money.
1472	7/14/2012	I use them constantly. I am there at least once a week on my own and once a week with my grandchildren.
1473	7/14/2012	The Library is a vital public resource not only to this city but society in general. Free access to information and the knowledge it brings is paramount. Its important to me because I like so many others I know couldn't afford to read all the literature I find at the Library, could afford to watch all the documentary's and interesting, hard to find movie titles I enjoy here. Its just part of my life. To have a quite place to go, to be, to read, to educate in some way, myself, in a way I wouldn't be able to d otherwise.

1474

7/14/2012

one can only make informed decisions if they have access to all the information for the topic at hand[]
[]
as long as people think lying is ok (i.e. until eternity), public libraries will always be needed to (theoretically) provide what is (hopefully) a neutral counterbalance to people's natural inclinations :)]
[]
is it any better to rely on multinational corporations who only care about selling a product?[] is it any better to rely on television programming that only cares about entertaining us and getting more viewers?[]
[]
there is nothing wrong with either of those things, but it is foolish to think their goals coincide with an educated public. one can argue it is in their best interest the public not be educated or informed.[]
[]
what other outlet besides libraries is there for accurate information?[]
[]
if not libraries, then what is the alternative?[]
[]
a world where information can only be accessed by those who pay the proper bribe amount[] is a scary world indeed, and one that many people in many fields would love to see be the only possibility;[]
[]
knowledge is power;[]
[]
especially in the current political, economic, and social climate,[] libraries are needed more than ever[]
[]
it is less that "libraries are fundamental" and more "who else can even be half-way trusted to provide the services libraries do?"[]
[]
what could be more important than access to information without (for the most part) someone[] deciding what you are allowed or not allowed to learn?[]
[]
food? shelter?

1475	7/14/2012	The library is where I come to find books, to connect with others in the community, to find out things that are going on in my neighborhood, to enjoy watching children and adults engaged in learning. We need to make sure people are clothed and fed but we also need to make sure we are feeding their souls as well - that is what the library does. Whether you are homeless or a single parent or a senior or someone with the day off, the library is a refuge where you can engage in study, recreational reading or just soaking in the spirit of the place. And, of course, free libraries are the foundation of an informed population and essential to preserving our democratic traditions. We have been given a unique gift in our free library system and we have a responsibility to preserve and pass on that gift to future generations.
1476	7/14/2012	Library services are essential to fostering education in parts of town that traditionally do not have many resources.
1477	7/14/2012	Sewer, water, garbage, police, fire, roads, building code enforcement, utility regulation, human rights protection, etc. are often taken for granted. They are essential services. Although I love the library, and am very proud of MultCoLib system, and I am happy to pay the current level of tax, I feel the library necessarily has lower priority than essential services. I think this is not a good time to ask for increased funding. I think it IS a good time to look carefully at programs and preserve those that are most "essential" for servicing ALL the city's residents, not just those who have political weight, and to mothball the rest for resurrection during better times.
1478	7/14/2012	Because being able to read is one of the most important skills a person can obtain. I recently retired after nearly 40 years as a librarian in public and community college libraries. We learned in library school that the free public library is the foundation institution of an informed and educated populace. Well, my experience illustrated that it is that and much more... children learn to love reading in their public libraries, young people do school assignments and find the thrill of trying on other realities, adults continue to learn and explore the world through reading. People finding jobs or needing to change careers desperately need their public library. Public libraries are the ONLY public institution that invites all people (young and old, rich or poor, clean or dissheveled) to come in, sit in a warm/cool dry place, and read or just be quiet for a while. Public libraries no longer offer all services for free, but being able to find needed information without being judged and without having to personally pay someone to help you find it, is one of the most important inalienable rights humans have, or should have. We must not let this resource be eroded further. We have SO few things left in our world where the quality of the service available is the same for both rich and poor....public libraries are truly THAT important.
1480	7/14/2012	Reading is key to success
1481	7/14/2012	Because all members of the community can participate in library services, essential for any democratic society.
1482	7/14/2012	More important is public safety but libraries are important community resources which keeps neighborhoods involved and visible
1483	7/14/2012	Firefighters, schools, and police are more important.

1484	7/14/2012	An educated populations prospers and makes good political decisions
1485	7/14/2012	We need the resources of fire and police first, but I would put libraries before parks. Lots of learning and entertainment take place in the library. It is a place where a variety of people come and rub elbows. It is a safe and accessible place to get out in the community.
1486	7/14/2012	Emergency always comes first;
1487	7/14/2012	providing free wifi and all things are served well.
1488	7/14/2012	Because the library [] 1. helps people pursue their interests and enlarge their knowledge[] 2. supports education.[] 3. helps job seekers[] 4. helps newcomers to this country[] 5. provides excellent programs for children and adults (e.g., puppets, storytelling, Bug Chicks, racism discussion, etc.)
1489	7/14/2012	I judge based on the number of people I see at library events and in the library, even on weekend mornings and evenings.
1490	7/14/2012	In this economy, many people cannot afford to have home computer access or be able to buy books for entertainment and education. I was unemployed briefly last year and I used the library EVERY day to help in my job search and to learn new skills. I don't know where else I could have accessed those things.
1491	7/14/2012	used the most by my family. no other services identified for comparison.
1492	7/14/2012	They are integral to maintaining our culture and feeding knowledge
1493	7/14/2012	Because I use it so frequently, and it is where I get all of the books I use to learn, and for school. I wouldn't succeed as well in school without the libraries, where I can find what I need, and get help.
1494	7/14/2012	It is such an amazing public benefit to check out books and materials at the local library. This benefit is something most of us grew up with and took for granted. I hope this does not change and local libraries continue to exist for many generations of children and grandchildren.
1495	7/14/2012	Literacy should be a fundamental imperative. Closing libraries only breeds ignorance.
1496	7/14/2012	serving the people of all ages, races and languages, access internet, using computer, games, place to hang out
1497	7/14/2012	I am an avid reader and a proponent of teaching kids to read.
1498	7/14/2012	everyone should have access to books and other materials

		Police and fire, and even running the city government, maintaining roadways, etc are all top priority. These are "needs" for a city to be efficient and functioning.[]
		[]
1499	7/14/2012	To me the library is not quite as necessary as these people. However, it would be number one as far as a "want" to have in a city. []
		[]
1500	7/14/2012	These are tight financial times for many people and cities. I am in full support of shortened hours, and even shortening them more if need be, rather than closing them or trying to squeeze more money out of people, governments, or districts.
1501	7/14/2012	Access to so many resources, for free, and of use to all different kinds of people. I am a mother, a grandmother, a (retired) teacher of over 35 years, and now a tutor. There was not a day when my students did not use the school library, and they and their parents were encouraged to use the public library in the off-school and vacation days. I want children to grow up to be curious, excited about reading and gaining knowledge and finding out for themselves, as well as simply deriving pleasure from reading poetry, fiction, magazines etc. he library has it all at their fingertips.
1502	7/14/2012	I am living under a roof, only because I have made friends over time. I have no internet access at the house and need it to find a better way to support myself!
1503	7/14/2012	Culture starts with reading. Reading is the key to success. Reading as a lifelong habit creates engaged citizens. Etc., etc.
1504	7/14/2012	BECAUSE THAT IS WERE I SPENT MOST OF MY DAYS.
1505	7/14/2012	It's a community knowledge and enjoyment resource not available elsewhere (eg., Barnes & Noble and Amazon have books, but not for free loan in a community setting.)
1506	7/14/2012	I am allowed to borrow media that, otherwise, I would not have access to, because I cannot afford to buy a book, etc. every time I'd like to reference one. Staying up to date on ideas and continuing my personal education is one of the most enjoyable and valuable activities I have.
1507	7/14/2012	Access to good libraries, and therefore information is vital to the richness and viability of a city. Good libraries go hand in hand with good education. The standard of living in a community will deteriorate without libraries.
1508	7/14/2012	The library is a service that impacts me personally. I may not be aware of how an agency like Health and Human Services or Child Services impacts me because I don't have personal interactions or needs that are required of those entities, whereas I utilize the library on a semi-regular basis.

1509	7/14/2012	The free use of books and media helps us stay connected to what really matters. Money and government will always try to take these things away and divert the public's interest into what it sees as important. We are losing more and more of our free privileges as citizens. There is less places for community to meet on all levels of background: ethnicity, class, age. It is harder to feel connected to one another with the high volume of cars, shopping malls and freeways. Big Business and Big Government will continue to divert money to making a grey world. What is important is that we continue to work hard toward making our communities safe and open for all to enjoy. Public Parks, Libraries, and other Public Services will always be cut if we don't stay clear on what is really important. The Government is not always interested in the Public's best interest. We have to stay strong to keep our communities and children our first priority.
1510	7/14/2012	Knowledge and access to it is key to citizen wealth. I lived in Longview, Washington, where library membership costs $100 + per year, and the resources even then are shabby. It doesn't take too much neglect to rekindle the Dark Ages...
1511	7/14/2012	Libraries provide a place for yong children and adults to continue their learning after they are out of the classroom. Targeting Library funding is just one more step of dummying down America.
1512	7/14/2012	In this economy, the lower income folks desperately need these services. Access to the library is one of the back bones of democracy. We are on a tight budget, do not have the Internet at home or the ability to rent videos or buy books. In order to succeed in society, you must have Internet access on occation. Having libraies open 7 days a week is vital. I work, my husband works, we have a child, we are on a fixed income. The library offers us services (like checking out books) that we would otherwise not have (as we cannot afford to buy them). On the days I do have off and can spend with my child, we love to visit the library. We've gone to various Baby storytimes at local libraries. I can usually find a library with a storytime that suits his age and our scedules. If there were limited library hours this might not be possible. I work hard so that my child can have a good interest in books.
1513	7/14/2012	The library helps me do this. On hot days, I know some people go to the library because they can stay cool. The library as a space for people is equally important. People use the library in so many different ways. They all have value even if others don't understand because they are too far removed from "needing" the library. I wish I could better represent the people I know who use the library, but cannot advocate so well for themselves. Please consider these important citizens of our population too.
1514	7/14/2012	the resources at the library are used by our family more often than any other public services
1515	7/14/2012	they are a place where people can have easy access to books and other real (as opposed to the internet only) physical objects that provide opportunity for self-education and entertainment.
1516	7/14/2012	Access to information and learning must be available to all socio-economic levels.

1517	7/14/2012	Although I have a personal computer, I feel that the computer access is such an important community asset whether for students who need to do homework or those who are unemployed looking for work. As a student, Central is my favorite place to study and I love having access to the wide variety of material and the online research databases. I think the programming for children is also excellent.
1518	7/14/2012	I don't buy books very often if at all these days. I do research when I have to and I've also disconnected my satellite dish and don't have cable so i use the videos selection and hold service for movies I want to see.
1519	7/14/2012	I would say that basic services such as safety (police) ,or fire would outrank libraries. There comes a point when services may have to be cut or hours reduced to live within a budget. Our household has to do that and adjust and sometimes do without. Citizens are not an endless source of $.
1520	7/14/2012	I believe it to be a very democratic institution imperative to a happy and productive society
1521	7/14/2012	I love the library. But if I had to select among fire and police services, and health care for those who cannot afford it, I would have to do so over library services.
1522	7/14/2012	They are not something more that is desperately needed, that remains available. Many activities have been dropped that I love, as there is no way to "squeeze them out of the budget." The library is a window into multiple worlds. I am still able to follow interests via books, even as classes become too dear. TV leaves nothing to the imagination, feh! I like to create in my head as I read. Sometimes my book flat-out one-ups follow-up films:)
1523	7/14/2012	Libraries are at the heart of Portland. They help build and sustain a culture of reading. They are available to all income and cultural groups. They are a treasure that must be protected.
1524	7/14/2012	Leaders learn from the library at a young age.[] Get 'em young and keep 'em for life.[] I'm Old School.
1525	7/14/2012	Access to books and computers is important in creating a more informed & knowledgeable society
1526	7/14/2012	Local libraries should reflect the heart of the community which they serve. I've always found that a healthy library where people can come together reflects a healthy community or town. Every time I've had to move to a new state or town one of the first things I do is find out where the library is located and in what shape it is in. They provide so much to everyone living in the town. It's so much more than just books or movies. More funding needs to be provided to keep our libraries vibrant and active for everyone.
1527	7/14/2012	Um, I'm resourceful. I can find your services in other venues. However; local libraries makes these type services more convenient.I mostly care about the individual(s) who not have means and resources and is dependent on local libraries for whatever reason.
1528	7/14/2012	Because it's a great public resource.
1529	7/14/2012	I rely on the library for current books and movies as well as a place to feel part of a community.

1530	7/14/2012	It provides access to numerous resources at no cost to anyone. That is a right
1531	7/14/2012	Libraries make literature, music and film available to all. They create a sense of community. They are simply a vital asset in any civilization.... Libraries offer resources that need to be available to everyone in the community regardless of socioeconomic status.
1532	7/14/2012	It's necessary to have places where people can utilize shared resources for learning and recreation and that is supported collectively. Libraries offer unique services that enrich people's lives. It's important to have a place where you don't have to pay to use.
1533	7/14/2012	For children and youth, the resources are less accessible and wide spread.
1534	7/14/2012	Because access to intellectual material via a free lending library is the keystone to an intelligent and civilized society. Information enables.
1535	7/14/2012	I think reading is an essential and important aspect for learning. Reading gives freedom to those who want a better future for themselves. In life you must be able to read to get ahead in anything you want to pursue.
1536	7/14/2012	It is one of the few free access places in the city. And it is great place to get introduced to new reading material!
1537	7/14/2012	Books, media and information at no cost. The ability to access those items and not consume/purchase them.
1538	7/14/2012	Because written and electronic resources should be available to all people.
1539	7/14/2012	Because the library has been a part of my life. I learned how to read and become involved in books by my parents taking my sister and I to a public library. The libraries stayed with me my whole life. That's how I read many of the best authors (Bill Bryson, R.A. Salvatore, E.E. Cummings, Richard Dawkins, O Henry, and so on). I could stay in a library for hours and never get bored. Not to mention, I like to travel to far away places and whenever I need information in that far away place or I'm bored and need somewhere to go, I go to the library. It's truly a gift and I don't believe plastic computers and the internet will last forever so let's hold on to this precious resource.
1540	7/14/2012	I feel that libraries are detrimental to the fabric of our communities. If, as a society, we stop reading or no longer have easy access to literature, (especially for our kids) the other social service demands will increase exponentially along with the costs of those services.
1541	7/14/2012	Computer access; can read widely without having to buy the materials; enrichment for my grandson
1542	7/14/2012	Personal reading is a daily activity in my life even if I only have time to do so at bed time. I also read to my two year old every day even if there is only time for a bedtime story. My personal opinion is that the average person spends too much time using electronic devices. I want to instill the same love of books and reading in my son that I have enjoyed since I learned to read. My hope is that libraries and hard copy books aren't obsolete before he is old enough to read.
1543	7/14/2012	Without the support of public services such as police, fire, medical, transit and others, the library system would not be capable of being used/needed.

1544	7/14/2012	I am an avid reader. I have many fond memories of the library growing up. If we could spark an interest in reading for pleasure, as well as learning, I think that people would realize what a treasure the library is.
1545	7/14/2012	because they are a resource for all citizens, especially those with limited incomes
1546	7/14/2012	I would be unable to get reading material.
1547	7/14/2012	Libraries provide something for everyone. Probably one of our most important public resources.
1548	7/14/2012	I very actively use the library, and would not be able to afford to read and learn the things I do without it. I do not as actively use other local public services. This is not to say other local public services are not as important or even more important than library services, but library services are definitely very important to the community and to me, and should be considered as such.
1549	7/14/2012	It's improves life.
1550	7/14/2012	Well, I'd have to put things like law enforcement, the fire department, and other public health and safety ahead of libraries, but educational needs and access is definitely the next priority for local government.
1551	7/14/2012	Availability of information and learning materials. Yes, the internet isn't everything!
1552	7/14/2012	After essential services such as police, fire, garbage, etc very important.
1553	7/14/2012	Because the library is big part of our everyday lives, a big part of the life of my children. Reading is the biggest part of their education and the library has been instrumental in promoting that sort of growth.
1554	7/14/2012	Libraries fulfill both a personal and a community function. I consider education to be a life-long adventure, and public libraries are an easily accessible source of the information (as well as entertainment) that keeps my mind active and of services/resources which contribute to a higher quality of life. Libraries also provide the community with information and services vital to a free and democratic society.
1555	7/14/2012	It's not only me but all the people who want access to all the libraries have to offer without having to pay for each one.
1556	7/14/2012	Like all public services, the library is still a critical part of our community and culture. Just like Portland Parks and Recreation, as well as other local public services, encouraging the public to read (especially youth), and build a community in Portland is just as important.
1557	7/14/2012	I use them regularly, but they are not life and death issues, like health clinics, jails, police and courts.
1558	7/14/2012	The local library services are keeping our minds open and going to the library is a very social experience.

1559	7/14/2012	I grew up going to children's programs with my parents and doing the Summer Reading program every year. In elementary and middle school I was able to read all the books I wanted with my membership, and in high school I went to the library to do research for school reports. Now that I am in college I still go to the library whenever I can to check out books, and try to volunteer some of my time over the summer. The library has given me many good memories and taught me a lot.
1560	7/14/2012	I am 80 and they are the source of many hours of enjoyment with books and audio books
1561	7/14/2012	It's the only thing i care about, in the world.
1562	7/14/2012	Support community connectedness[] provides access to services and resources that may not otherwise be available to some, particularly the elderly[] Can help establish life-long learning and reading in the young[] Healthy and inexpensive activity for families
1563	7/14/2012	Literacy and education are part of the bedrock of a healthy community. Our city's continued cultural and economic growth are endangered with each new cut to library and educational services.
1564	7/14/2012	I use the library more than any other public service except for public transportation. I think the library is a significant asset for students, children, families and individuals because it offers a service that is accessible to all individuals regardless of culture beliefs and values. People from various socioeconomic backgrounds use the library.
1565	7/14/2012	Because without access to free education, this is one of the only hopes to get ahead.
1566	7/14/2012	Libraries have been a staple of my life since I was a small child. They offer a range of services from entertainment to school research to job hunting. Just as visual and performing arts are part of the fabric of our culture, so are libraries.
1567	7/14/2012	A democracy and our freedoms rely upon an informed citizenry.[] Libraries are the foundation--for most of us the best or sole source-- of public access to knowledge and current affairs.[] Most people cannot afford to privately buy the range of books and services provided by our libraries.[] Libraries provide a major part of our family's recreation.
1568	7/14/2012	Very important. It is an integral part of information gathering at no cost, which is great for folks on limited or fixed incomes and young people. Without the library, they would be at an even greater disadvantage than they already are in a society that is progressively turning their collective backs on those who fall into these categories, even if they belong to them themselves.
1569	7/14/2012	First. Without them, civilization takes a huge hit and becomes, less so. And as a teaching place for children to learn the value and delight of reading, and to research.
1570	7/14/2012	this is the one community resource i use
1571	7/14/2012	Reading is one of my favorite hobbies
1572	7/14/2012	I used the public library daily.

1573	7/14/2012	very important for me
1574	7/14/2012	It's like one-stop shopping. So many resources and alternative resources in one spot. In this day and age of technology, I have found it overwhelming at times to have so many options. I'm pretty old school that way. Simple is always better for me, and to be able to go to one place that serves so many needs is a Godsend.
1575	7/14/2012	TO HELP PEOPLE COPE IN TIMES OF STRESS: LEARNING/TRAINING RESOURCES, EDUCATION THAT SCHOOLS CAN'T OR WON'T PROVIDE, ENTERTAINMENT, RELAXATION.
1576	7/14/2012	I have a hard time saying they are as important as schools, public safety, and health services.[] [] But the library is very important an on a level with transportation services. Libraries have always been a valued resource in US society. They provide necessary materials for people who would not have access otherwise, that allow them a certain level of success. Libraries are widely used and appreciated amongst people from all backgrounds. One group that does not utilize the resources as frequently are young adults who have their own technological resources and don't seem to read very much. If there is anyway to reach that group, believe it would be helpful.
1577	7/14/2012
1578	7/14/2012	Free and easy access to books promotes literacy and effective democracy
1579	7/14/2012	Libraries are a free mode of distributing knowledge and entertainment to all residents with few restrictions. It is especially important for people with low incomes who cannot afford to purchase books and other material. it is the only public service that I can think of that I use (other than, say, street lights, and things of that sort).[] []
1580	7/14/2012	Isn't interesting that all the other tax money that the 'government' spends on "local public services", in my name, is of little avail to me,
1581	7/14/2012	We are new retirees and new to Portland. We believe it is important to have an informed community with access to resources that the library is perfectly able to offer.
1582	7/14/2012	I use it the most compared to other public services.
1583	7/14/2012	I love libraries, have volunteered at them, and care about them very much. I would happily pay more to support them in whatever way I can! Thank you.
1584	7/14/2012	Keeps something positive in the community
1585	7/14/2012	Information is power, and reading is a resiliency factor -- libraries equalize access to bettering oneself, and to a wholesome leisure activity.
1586	7/14/2012	Libraries are like parks in that they are the least discriminatory of public spaces. They provide free resources for all people and encourage self-education, volunteerism, and a sense of community. The Library is indispensable.

1587	7/14/2012	I have always loved libraries, probably because I have always loved books, and I also love the idea of sharing books and other media among many people. I have a deep emotional connection to any library, but especially to our Multnomah County Library. It is so easy to find and reserve books, movies, music; it is easy to find a local branch to use it is such an easy-to-use resource, available and friendly, and I always have such a good feeling going into our libraries. The Multnomah County Library is an important part of our community, and building community is particularly important at this time in the world, in my opinion.
1588	7/14/2012	The is a resource I use all the time. This is a resource that the public utilizes. Multnomah County Library is the reading program I began when I was in elementary school. I spent countless hours at the Belmont location when I was young in the 70's and 80's. During the summer when my parents were working, my sister and I could go there for all the programs. I cherish books because of the library.
1589	7/14/2012	Our population needs to have access to educational material.
1590	7/14/2012	Libraries are a vital resource for people of all ages to access reading materials as well as other services that are offered without cost to the individuals.
1591	7/14/2012	FREE ACCESS.
1592	7/14/2012	I've had the privilege of using the library system here and in CA and PA all my life. It's good for community and good for education of the populace
1593	7/14/2012	The strength of our libraries is as important as the strength of our public schools. Libraries provide services to all segments of our city's population, a community for the lonely, an opportunity to learn, research and escape in a common place. I love libraries. I visit them when I travel. I love the activity and atmosphere they provide for learning.
1594	7/14/2012	The internet may be a good starting point, but if I really want to research a topic, there's no substitute for a wide selection of books to go in depth and get specific. Besides, I usually have to skim several to find the one I really need to buy for personal use, and Mult Co lets me do that. On top of that, there's no other way to get our youth to start reading than to provide free access to a library. Mom and Pop can't afford to supply young readers appropriately and can't provide the broad range of topics a child (or grownup!) may stumble upon in the stacks and find a life-long love!
1595	7/14/2012	I put them behind police, firefighters, and public schools.
1596	7/14/2012	Gives a way for people to access resources, information, and tools to help them improve themselves. Plus it's "green"...reuse at it's best.
1597	7/14/2012	A library is a valuable asset to a community. I cannot imagine not having access to a library. It was part of my growing up, visiting the library regularly to get books; using the reference librarians to help access information; a gathering place for events and to feel welcome for those who are isolated. I visit libraries when I'm traveling, as they are great sources to learn about what is going on in a local community, thanks to their bulletin boards or places to pick up brochures, perhaps use a computer, and are also a haven if weather is inclement or I simply need to use the restroom!

1598	7/14/2012	knowledge is freedom and makes for a strong community and society. Not everyone has the funds to purchase resources (be they books, cd's, dvd's or technology in the form of ipads or computers)
1599	7/14/2012	sewer & water systems, maintaining roads & traffic safety, police & fire are vital to our community.
1600	7/14/2012	Other than highway systems and water/sewer, the library is the one I use the most.
1601	7/14/2012	I like to read a lot so the fact that I have access to some many book or DVD's is important to me.
1602	7/14/2012	Libraries give everyone equal access to knowledge.
1603	7/14/2012	Education always important. Especially in difficult economic times. Libraries can fill in the gap for students and families in all stages of life.
1604	7/14/2012	Books can change your life. Help you get through all stages, and phases. Buying them can be cost prohibitive and is not ecological. I use books everyday. I don't use all services everyday.
1605	7/14/2012	I use the library weekly. Part of the reason I use it so frequently is that we always have the newest books. I also check out CDs and DVDs on occasion and do this because of the up-to-date selections. Our library is much better than that of other communities in which I've lived, and the main reason is the accessibility (hours and locations) and current resources. The ability to reserve items online for pickup at my branch is the most important feature to me - if we lost that, I'd use the library system a lot less.
1606	7/14/2012	General literacy is critical
1607	7/14/2012	Libraries serve the entire community across income, language, age and location barriers
1608	7/14/2012	Only source for some services
1609	7/14/2012	As I stated before, education and information should be accessible for everyone, regardless of economic position.
1610	7/14/2012	I have the financial ability to buy what I need and find the Kindle reader extremely useful when I travel. However, I feel that the avenue to a better life is education of any kind. I also come from rural North Dakota. The library was our only source of books and community information. For people in low income, the library is free education and social networking. The ability to use media to find work or understand your finances or learn Spanish is priceless. The avenue to tolerance and understanding the world is made up of millions of lifestyles leads to communities getting along and working together better. I could go on and on....but I can't imagine a city without a library.
1611	7/14/2012	Libraries educate and bring the community together. Also, it is important for youth and people of all ages and income levels to have regular access to books. Without libraries, some of today's voracious readers would be unable to afford to develop that skill and passion.
1612	7/14/2012	I use the library almost every day because I'm an insane reader, so I personally would like them to have more funding, but there are a lot of government programs that I don't use that are probably more important for people who are desperately in need of help just to survive.
1613	7/14/2012	see answer to question 6

1614	7/14/2012	I need to have an educated public that starts at the school level. Library will always fall second to that system.[] There are only few in society that are self directed to learn on their own, ie at the library. The majority need the school system to help them acheive education.[] The library system is an EXTRA in society, not a primary need.
1615	7/14/2012	We would never be able to afford to buy all the books we read. The summer reading program is a something my son looks forward to each year. I love just being at our library--the building is beautiful, the people are nice, and the multnomah co library system has sooo many good books. I get help with research, my son uses the homework research site. It's a big part of our lives.
1616	7/14/2012	I live with chronic pain and spending time researching on the library's free databases distracts me from my pain. I am disabled and do not make enough money to buy the books I want to read. I can often find books that I want to read at the library especially new books.
1617	7/14/2012	They provide information (books, cds, reference material, computer use, etc.) for people who can't afford to pay if we had to be charged a fee to use the library. Plus it provides a place for children to get access to information, learn to read, use it as a resource for school work. Also provides air conditioning on the few days we get really hot weather here in Portland.
1618	7/14/2012	It is the one place where a search for information can open new pathways. Browsing the internet is only looking for what you already know. In the library, books and media are put before us whether we look for them or not presenting new ideas and perspectives that doors to the world. [] Being able to easily confirm information in preserved media so fact checking beyond the blogs is easy and certain. All the tools are in the library for valid information.[] We could not possibly afford to buy all of the books we are interested even if we waited for the second hand market. We are pay far less in taxes for the library then we would pay for books and as we said new ideas are always right there.
1619	7/14/2012	Keep educational access to all[] Brain involvement[] community involvement[] gathering of minds
1620	7/14/2012	I can't support my reading habit.
1621	7/14/2012	Our public library system is one reason the US has remained the world leader.
1622	7/14/2012	In hard economic times it is more important than ever that people have places of assistance, learning, and resource. Multnomah County ibraries have helped me at every stage of my life thus far: learning to read and developing a love of reading as a chile, getting homework done, applying for jobs, tax information and forms, college placement assistance- the library is invaluable.
1623	7/14/2012	Libraries serve everyone equally -- everyone!
1624	7/14/2012	Because I like to read and I don't have much money to purchase books from the bookstore.

1625	7/14/2012	I had a very dark time in my life. I was depressed, unemployed, and had insomnia, which gave me a lot of open hours to lay stuck in my apartment and find ways to hate myself and my life. The public library helped save me from myself. I went every day just to make myself get dressed and leave my apartment. It was free, and I could check out books and movies to fill those hours with things that were entertaining and constructive.
1626	7/14/2012	I appreciate the amazing up-to-date resources for study and awareness.
1627	7/14/2012	I use the library frequently to check our books.
1628	7/14/2012	Libraries reach the entire range of the population and provide a wide range of services that are essential to the well-being of the civic community.
1629	7/14/2012	I love being able to check out materials that are shared with the community without all of us having to purchase them. It puts a whole world of information in our hands that we would not have otherwise.
1630	7/14/2012	Police and fire are more important. Safety first.
1631	7/14/2012	I no longer buy books and I am a voracious reader. The librarians are knowledgeable and helpful. In a time where we have cut back our personal expenditures, it's also been wonderful to be able to borrow movies, since we can no longer afford to go out. But mainly, LIBRARIES ENCOURAGE THINKING!!!
1632	7/14/2012	Reading is the foundation for education and growth in life.
1633	7/14/2012	Funding schools, police, Fire stations, then libraries. That is the order of importance to me.
1634	7/14/2012	Public safety is my top priority, health and human services second
1635	7/14/2012	Access to information, opportunities for adult and child literacy, community meeting place. Most important, this is one of the top public library systems in the US, and working towards my MLIS, I want to be able to come back and work here.
1636	7/14/2012	Access to information that allows people to better themselves.
1637	7/14/2012	to show the children the importance of books and knowledge
1638	7/14/2012	The library is an integral part of my life now...and always has been when I was younger raising children and as a child myself. I use it for keeping up in the world...newspapers, magazines, books. It is a wonderful resource. I would be lost without it!
1639	7/14/2012	Letting the kids with not as much have a chance at learning.
1640	7/14/2012	Because I know how important they are to our community. They are a great resource for learning and bettering our community. I appreciate the services they provide and think they are imperative.
1641	7/14/2012	Part of education and an educated community.
1642	7/14/2012	My family uses the library a lot for many purposes. It is part of our community.
1643	7/14/2012	because we love to use the library resources.
1644	7/14/2012	HANDS ON KNOWLEGE
1645	7/14/2012	Literacy and cultural understanding are the foundation of democracy.

1646	7/14/2012	I am able to check out books, movies, TV series and CD's, all of which enrich my life. On occasion I decide that I really want my own copy of something that I borrow from the library and am then able to purchase it, confident that it is something I am really going to treasure.
1647	7/14/2012	I'm biased because I'm also a librarian (although not in Multnomah Co. Libraries), but libraries represent the most idealistic aspect of democracy and the resources for anyone, at any place in life, to better themselves with minimal monetary cost. They are absolutely essential to society.
1648	7/14/2012	See previous comment.
1649	7/14/2012	We use the library frequently
1650	7/14/2012	I don't know really how to gauge the impact of something like library services compared to other public services. I do however feel that it is vitally important to have institutions for intellectual development and information and community resources for the public. School age children who need materials for school. The schools have gone to eliminating libraries, so students need convenient local access. □
1651	7/14/2012	□ This is an important resource for all ages. People on fixed incomes need the access and ability to read, for information seeking or personal entertainment.
1652	7/14/2012	Not as important as police, fire, schools, street repair/maint., parks, etc. but more than many smaller depts.
1653	7/14/2012	Not as important as 911 but I'd like to be able to visit a library with current resources on at least 1 of my days off during a week.
1654	7/14/2012	They are a community center. They are a resource that people of all backgrounds, socioeconomic statuses, interests, etc. can appreciate and use.
1655	7/14/2012	Reading is and always has been a huge part of my life. I'm also aware that many individuals or families do not have access to books or other entertainment outside of libraries. I think libraries are just as important as safety within a community because they further one's education, awareness of social issues, and provide entertainment.
1656	7/14/2012	I value books and learning and I enjoy reading as a hobby.
1657	7/14/2012	We go there all the time to check out books and use storytime as well as some of the computers for games and stories. Reading is such an important part of life I rank it right up there with schools and roads and parks.
1658	7/14/2012	Resource for reading for people that don't have money to buy books but enjoy reading
1659	7/14/2012	My 6 family members have become voracious readers, and the library supports this while we don't have to buy every book that we want to read.
1660	7/14/2012	I consider the state of a cities libraries to be a reflection of the city and the values of the citizens.
1661	7/14/2012	I believe reading and academic exploration are crucial to all people in all walks of life. Libraries are great places for people to find these resources and build community.

1662	7/14/2012	It is important to the cultural, educational and spiritual needs of the community. It helps improve the local economy as people become more educated, by accessing library materials, for new jobs that are created. It is a resource for elderly and poor to locate free material that they could possibly not afford.
1663	7/14/2012	Literacy, learning, the ability to think rationally, cogently are part of what makes any society vibrant, self renewing
1664	7/14/2012	place of community.
1665	7/14/2012	I can get information from my neighborhood library. It's in walking distance, that saves time and energy (additionally it's environmental protective).
1666	7/14/2012	I believe that these types of services are positive and have a beneficial effect on our society. Libraries are useful for people in ALL stages of their life, most importantly for those needing the assistance with job searches and improving their education.
1667	7/14/2012	All of the services they provide, including those that are not readily available elsewhere.
1668	7/14/2012	I have a heart-felt fondness and deep sense of appreciation for what libraries (all types not just County) represent in my life. However- my use of the county library was almost exclusively in checking out and reading books and occasional research activities. I did not and still do not have easy access to the Central Branch downtown. ¶ ¶ Regarding the next upcoming question-- much in the same manner as the other question rating the various importance of services I disagree that the possible options are limited to the the choices presented. To that end your survey is very limited in its accuracy at least of what I might answer- in my opinion as a concerned "outsider" there is a way to do much better than those choices with what is currently available. I see some of this survey as symptomatic and representative of a lack of creativity in finding solutions... and while I am quite sympathetic to the idea of a "Library District" (but because I don't trust the current decision makers) I think that upper management feeling the periodic "pressure" of public accountability and making the most out of a limited resource is appropriate.
1669	7/14/2012	I can't afford to buy books. If I want to read something, I have to check it out at the library. I also can't afford to take classes, so if I want to learn how to do something, I rely on the library as a resource for that knowledge (information on the internet is scattered and unreliable). Whenever I don't have internet access, I use the library. As a person building a small business, my internet connection is crucial for communicating with my clients. If something happens to my computer, I would be completely dependent on the library for me to keep in touch with my clients.
1670	7/14/2012	When I think of other public services such as transportation and police, I think they are a bit more important, especially with the information that is available on the internet.

1671	7/14/2012	1. To have access to interesting material which broadens my outlook and enhances my life.[] 2. To have this access in a very affordable way so that I can stay within my financial budget.[] 3. To broaden the mind of others - education is the key to a happy community[] 4. To experience community in a positive way when I go to the library and see others enjoy this facility as much as I do which, I believe, makes our world a better one with people who respect and care for each other in this love of learning and expansion through the utilization of what the library has to offer.
1672	7/14/2012	It's the only public service we actually use on a weekly basis
1673	7/14/2012	I read a lot and am not wealthy.
1674	7/14/2012	Everybody loves the library. We all grew up going to the library and having our minds awakened to the magic of books. Libraries bring together people from diverse backgrounds and incomes. It is useful and nostalgic.
1675	7/14/2012	they are the only way I can read important books that I can't afford to buy
1676	7/14/2012	open ability to learn what and when at my own pace
1677	7/14/2012	they are free and can be equalizing.
1678	7/14/2012	Libraries come second to schools which are most important to me. It is vital that our young people get a good education.
1679	7/14/2012	i dont even know what this question means
1680	7/14/2012	Having the opportunity to read many books and listen to CDs without the expense of buying them is very important to me, but also for the community as a whole.
1681	7/14/2012	So peoPle can get to them easily and locally I am an educator! I believe in books for all people, especially the children, and the young. As a senior citizen I am still excited when I read a good book! Books are our friends, they take us around the world, and to other cultures. Books introduce us to new ways of thinking; show us various aspects on certain topics. Books are the best learning materials around!
1682	7/14/2012	As a student and community member I feel the library is necessary for my academic needs and also for others social well being
1683	7/14/2012	Libraries give us the opportunity to grow and become better people. When we are exposed to new ways of thinking, we often become better people and more conscious community members.
1684	7/14/2012	Local Library services are more important than somewhat but that was the best available choice. They rank second to Police & Fire.
1685	7/14/2012	Well not as important as Police and Fire, 911 system, road maintenance and general city maintenance. the library is a very good thing to have and I value it very much.
1686	7/14/2012
1687	7/14/2012	we dont have much income and checking out books and dvds are all we have and its free

1688	7/14/2012	Books present knowledge to all age groups, and knowledge is of primary importance to juveniles, to youth, to young adults, to adults.[] [] Knowledge enables creation of the life you choose to live and have.
1689	7/14/2012	Local libraries support what we Americans consider fundamental rights: access to information, education for all. They have the friendliest presence of all public services.
1690	7/14/2012	I like the universal access to information as a public service
1691	7/14/2012	The public library system has been dedicated to being the gateway for access to information since Benjamin Franklin. It's a part of our history, our culture, and our heritage. It is vital for neutral access to information.
1692	7/14/2012	They are a central part of a community. They help people become better people by providing the resources they need to do that.
1693	7/14/2012	I have always gone to the library when I am feeling low on funds to purchase books. So it makes books available to those of us who cannot afford to buy them. It strengthens the community that uses its services
1694	7/14/2012	Whenever I go there there are many people using the computers and reading newspapers and keeping up with what is going on. This tells me that many folks do not have computers and access to current events and help in finding jobs or all the info that is available online.
1695	7/14/2012	I rank the importance of a good library system just after police and fire services. For me, a library system is at the foundation of what it means to be civilized. Arts, sciences, current events and entertainment support our humanity.
1696	7/14/2012	I'm not a big library user at the moment because I've started a business and I'm hyper-focused on that and I buy books when I need them for it. However, I have been an avid reader my whole life and have always used libraries, especially when I've had harder economic times and when I was in school. Public libraries are an invaluable resource!
1697	7/14/2012	libraries provide education, which is critical for any society/community to thrive
1698	7/14/2012	Provides unbiased, available to all, access to information which helps educate, empower, and ultimately improve people's every day lives.
1699	7/14/2012	I use it quite a bit and would feel lost without it.
1700	7/14/2012	Knowledge is a cornerstone of our society.
1701	7/14/2012	In order to rid ourselves of ignorance and find solutions to any problem, one must be educated. Having a free public library system supported by taxes provides a means to that end.
1702	7/14/2012	The library enriches our lives.

		Very important. [] []
1703	7/14/2012	I am an avid reader and usually take out audio books as well as the hard backs. My only complaint is that when I take out an audio book many times there is a disk or disks that have skips and I may lose a very important part of the story line.[] []
		I love my library. It makes it possible for me to read books I could not afford to purchase.
1704	7/14/2012	Library services are very important to me because it's free knowledge to the community. It's important for our youth to be allowed access to books or computers to gain what they do not learn in school. I love going to the library because the atmosphere is perfect to instruct my autistic son in his reading, writing and math. It's important as a mother to have a free place for me to instruct my son. I also love to read. Knowledge is so much important that other things.
1705	7/14/2012	I rely on the library for new books. Being a senior citizen on a limited income it is great to be able to read new books as they arrive. Buying them would not be an option.
1706	7/14/2012	Because of the opportunity for reading almost anything I want to, awareness of new technology, and some of the cultural offerings
1707	7/14/2012	because it's been so helpful!
1708	7/14/2012	Library is important for books and research for students. All the other programs - like free internet - has made the costs soar.
		It's the tax based resource that I use. Police are important, but since I am not a criminal and don't hang with criminals, they are not central to my daily life. Same with fire, social workers, et al. I don't want to discount the necessity of law enforcement, public safety or social safety nets, but the library is the great equalizer. You can not apply for many jobs without internet access since you can only apply on-line these days. Many people who need jobs don't have internet access. The financially secure and educated support the library for the most part for their own enjoyment and as well as a safety net. And there are many people who are supported by the library system. New readers, mothers who need to get out of the house with their new readers. Elders who can only stay in touch with their grandchildren via e-mail and are clueless. Keeping kids engaged with reading thru summer reading & read to the dogs. So much more than I have the capacity to mention here
1710	7/14/2012	Libraries provide access to information and literature to all residents regardless of income, creating opportunities to increase literacy and expand social well-being by meeting community needs.
1711	7/14/2012	Libraries mean free and available books and internet access. Many people cannot buy books, or computers, or internet access, and the library is the only place to access these things for free.
1712	7/14/2012	information resource and entertainment

1713	7/14/2012	I am an avid reader and also a teacher that understands how important the library is to the children in our community. School libraries are sadly disappearing and children need to have a readily available source to literature.
1714	7/14/2012	That can be summed up in one sentence: I do not believe that the importance of literacy can be stressed enough.
1715	7/14/2012	My family depends on it for intertainment an school work support
1716	7/14/2012	Mazlov's hierarchy of needs applies.
1717	7/14/2012	Information can be obtained from other sources. Police and fire protection, street maintenance, etc. cannot.
1718	7/14/2012	Public safety is the most important use of public money. After that, the library and parks systems add the most to the quality of life and opportunity for our children.
1719	7/14/2012	There is no other place to get free loan of books to read. The next option is a used book store but the book needs to be purchased.
1720	7/14/2012	I read a lot.
1721	7/14/2012	The frequency at which I use them. And: The government is not merely a utilitarian institution.
1722	7/14/2012	this is most important for thows without income and who need the free services. I know friends who would be much worse off without it. Nolage is power and if you can't get it then your life is much less promising. I rember when I was un empoyed that librарys where a major help for me to servive.
1723	7/14/2012	Access to literary material and other media is vital to the success of each individual within a society and the society at large. Without the library many disadvantaged individuals would not have access to these resources.
1724	7/14/2012	They would be very important but health and other infrastructure are more important.
1725	7/14/2012	I love to read, either hard copy books or electronic. Now that I'm retired, I have lots of time to read as much as I want.
1726	7/14/2012	access to books (more in-depth info than internet searches)
1727	7/14/2012	They make it easy to get information and access to quality literature at low cost. The open the world to people at all income levels.
1728	7/14/2012	I love being able to read books and not have to (1) pay for them outright (2) have them collect dust in my house forever. Having grown up without much money, I see the ability to access data and check out books for free as a very important educational tool for children in lower income neighborhoods.
1729	7/14/2012	I guess I just cannot imagine not having libraries to attend. I always went to libraries. I have friends who never step foot in a library so only to people who use the library it will be of important.
1730	7/14/2012	I don't live too close to one and rarely use them.

1731	7/14/2012	I'm one of those who consider the public library a sacred trust in a democracy. Access to information and the tools of learning and self-improvement can never be restricted to the already-haves of this country if the promise of the American Experiment is to be achieved. We still may not get there, but ignorance will surely sink us. All hail Benj. Franklin and Andrew Carnegie.
1732	7/14/2012	Starting to use other media, internet, and kindle. eye-sight is getting weaker, so reading of books require a magnifying glass.
1733	7/14/2012	I love to learn, and I love to read. I learn all kinds of things by reading--even more than from taking classes.
1734	7/14/2012	this is how my family and i keep a healthy rotation of media having to purchase it, which would be outside our budget
1735	7/14/2012	I value public education. A library provides materials that educate all citizens.
1736	7/14/2012	Libraries are for the distribution of ideas
1737	7/14/2012	Portland has a great library service and I think it is important to my community!
1738	7/14/2012	A great Library with the great services our library currently offers for a variety of constituents shows to new and potential citizens and business that Portland is a city that values all citizens and is committed to keeping families in the city.
1739	7/14/2012	My selfish reason is, I LOVE to read! I love the resources available and I love the programs provided that help excite our young people about reading as well. A local library is such an important tool in the educational process. I do think police and our emergency services are equally as important, so its hard to say one is more important than the other.
1740	7/14/2012	Free access to information is something I value.
1741	7/14/2012	Literacy and being informed are two of the most important qualities/skills in a democracy
1742	7/14/2012	I am a reader and cannot afford to buy books. I get on the que for a new book and then pick it up at my local branch. I read the librarian recommendations that are in the library
1743	7/14/2012	somewhat important
1744	7/14/2012	I've grown to depend on library resources Literacy is vital to a society.[]
1745	7/14/2012	But basic needs--safety, housing, food--must be a higher priority for our tax dollars.[] Take a look at Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs.
1746	7/14/2012	Almost everyone uses the libraries, thats why.
1747	7/14/2012	I do not have a lot of extra money to spend on books, CDs, DVDs and crosswords. The library provides all of these things for me and helps me maintain a very high quality of life. The library makes me happy.
1748	7/14/2012	Very important!!!! I like being able to borrow books without having to buy them. Libraries are an amazing resource! I fee I've benefited greatly from having access to materials I otherwise wouldn't know about, or wouldn't be able to afford

1749	7/14/2012	My family loves to read and I dont want to spend money on books all the time. Checking books out is a good way to reduce, reuse and recycle
1750	7/14/2012	I see it as a place of learning, as well as community-building. Reading for pleasure is a great joy, in my life, and I have counted on the library, wherever I've lived, to offer interesting and informative books from which to choose. For new immigrants, it is often the only place where they can easily access computers and ESL classes.
1751	7/14/2012	I no longer buy books - they are a great source of entertainment and increase knowledge.[] I am not interested in Kindle - it bothers my eyes. I cannot imagine a world without books.
1752	7/14/2012	Very important
1753	7/14/2012	we not only use the library services ourselves, but see the level of involvement by seniors, students, and young families in our community![] it is one resource that seems available to anyone regardless of economic situation
1754	7/14/2012	I don't use them much but when I do, it's very.
1755	7/14/2012	It is a place to educate yourself at your own pace and gain knowledge of the world that we live in.
1756	7/14/2012	I believe the public library is one of the few places in society where the doors are open to all members of the public regardless of age, belief, culture, gender, mental capacity, etc. They are also one of the few government services that provide, life enhancing value to all members of society, not just some, free of the taint of corporate and commercial influence. Please do what you can to keep them this way!
1757	7/14/2012	literacy and access to information are key to a civil society
1758	7/14/2012	public service - continuing education is immediately available
1759	7/14/2012	It gives the folks a nice place to go when it rains and such, don'cha know?
1760	7/14/2012	Because they provide NMR with knowledge and entertainment on a constant basis.. Because the written word needs to continue to be read, through the generations.
1761	7/14/2012	I love my library and am a regular user. However, I am much more concerned about homelessness and the needs of people with mental illnesses, cognitive issues, as well as addictions. I would rather see the County work with the City to increase investments in affordable housing, prevent homelessness, and ensure mental health and substance abuse treatment.
1762	7/14/2012	They improve communities and provide integral functions to the community.
1763	7/14/2012	Libraries provide the general public a free way to educate themselves. PCC is great but you have to have the time and the money.
1764	7/14/2012	When I was a child, my home life was chaotic. The library was a safe and quiet place to go that was free, where I could spend time looking through beautiful books. And I could take some with me to help me forget some of the hardships at home. Through books I could live a million lives! I have loved books ever since. It is extremely important that public libraries stay open to offer free books and services to all who could not afford to purchase the books they wish to read.
1765	7/14/2012	because I do enjoy having this service available

1766	7/14/2012	Libraries offer a service to everyone regardless of income. I think they are especially important to those who cannot necessarily afford an up to date computer system or electronic devices at home.
1767	7/14/2012	My family uses the library on a weekly basis, mostly to check out books, CDs and DVD also electronic books. It is extremely important to the four of us.
1768	7/14/2012	It's important to me to be able to get all of my research material in one place. It saves time and money. I do not want to purchase material that I only need for research or one time use. I'd much rather check out what I need at the library, it just makes more sense.
1769	7/14/2012	I really enjoy using the library for my children - they get exposed to a much larger selection of books, and varied books which increases their enjoyment of reading. I use it for myself only occasionally, usually we just go to the children's section.
1770	7/13/2012	Library offer an opportunity for everyone to learn new information whether it is for pleasure, work, or to gain new information and knowledge. As they say, "Education is power."
1771	7/13/2012	I can't think of any other public services I use. I love the library for being about to check out materials at no financial risk to myself. I might not read as much if I had to buy more of my books.
1772	7/13/2012	They are awesome for cheap entertainment. Our library system one of the best.
1773	7/13/2012	Libraries are natural place-based reservoirs of information that many times help to coordinate and facilitate access to other Federal, State, City and County services. They are also places that actual services are being dispensed that don't fit the conventional idea that libraries are places that just lend out books. They are an integral part of the infrastructure for services delivery. One more element that makes libraries unique and important are that they can be a safe place where the "laying field is even". I believe our libraries are a place where everyone is welcome and, based on our branch locations, most people have access.
1774	7/13/2012	The library is where I get all of my parenting books as well as attend children's activities.
1775	7/13/2012	Because one i love to read and if there were no libraries i would know a small fraction of the knowledge that i know and i would have had a very sad childhood and life. and it is great for research and everything.
1776	7/13/2012	The library provides important resources to a community that otherwise would not be able to afford access to them. It also serves a local gathering space for all ages.
1777	7/13/2012	I like that there is a place to go to share information, books, and other media.
1778	7/13/2012	Because everyone regardless of their socio-economic status has access to materials.
1779	7/13/2012	The library is extremely well-run and has access to virtually any book that I might want to read. It also is a fantastic resource for my children.
1780	7/13/2012	I use the library system to read the books and watch the TV shows and movies I want without having to buy them. I don't need that as much as garbage removal or transit, but enough to consider it an important public amenity.
1781	7/13/2012	Because I love to read, love access to the books, and find the staff outstanding!

1782	7/13/2012	The public library is open more hours than college campus libraries.
1783	7/13/2012	Almost nothing now. But as a kid I used to love going to the library to use the computers or check out books and movies!
1784	7/13/2012	Although I may not use the library regularly most of my friends do. Many of them are lower income earners. It is very important they have the ability to access information (periodicals, literature, computers).
1785	7/13/2012	Having resources available to everyone is important to me. For me, it is also a way to save money and use resources wisely by not buying books that I might only read once.
1786	7/13/2012	I loved taking my child and nieces and nephews to library programs when they were young. They have all grown up to love reading and continue to visit the library. To see children excited to read and learn is priceless. Having volunteered at school libraries, myself, I know how much work goes into maintaining a well run library and I appreciate having the privilege to use Multnomah County Public Library. I feel that library services are very important because it gives everyone access to endless learning no matter what race or economic status.
1787	7/13/2012	At least as important as police and fire.
1788	7/13/2012	Because a library has not just one, but SO many new experiences, discoveries, and opportunities available for anyone who can read. Picking up a book can make up for deficits in education elsewhere, or can broaden horizons, and is also just so useful! Young, old, social and other status -- everyone can get something "out of" the library.
1789	7/13/2012	Not as important as water. But an educated public will produce greater results than redistributed of wealth.
1790	7/13/2012	A democracy needs a well informed public. Corporate media only feeds people propaganda. People need other sources of information besides TV and newspapers.
1791	7/13/2012	being unemployed and no computer at home its only way to find job
1792	7/13/2012	I feel the library has become a very important part of my families lives recently as we had our first child over a year ago. The library has given us a place to go and experience activities that are helpful as well as helped us make friends in our neighborhood. I feel the library is a service that anybody can use.
1793	7/13/2012	The basics (public safety) are most important, then library services
1794	7/13/2012	Without the libraries I could not engage in many activities I find rewarding.
1795	7/13/2012	Because they provide me with resources that I use for school as well as educational movies/ cook books/ fiction/ biographies and in addition, they have many valuable programs and community information. The library is the center of any community.
1796	7/13/2012	It has help and information that is needed.
1797	7/13/2012	See previous note.

1798	7/13/2012	The library has always been a part of my life from when I was a small child. Books are a very important part of a child's development. Not everyone can afford to buy all the books they need. Having access to an (almost) unlimited selection gives everyone that equal advantage. Libraries are also one of the few remaining centers of communities that are available to everyone. When I first moved here from NY, the library was one of the first places I checked out for events and programs that would enable me to meet others.
1799	7/13/2012	Libraries are a place to foster community and common interest, as well as interest in self-education and self-betterment. A community that can work to improve itself is better off than one which requires assistance in maintaining itself. This is of utmost importance in my way of seeing things.
1800	7/13/2012	The library goes hand-in-hand with education for our kids. There is so much to learn from the books there - raising kids who love to read will not only teach them reading and comprehension, but they can learn about the lives of others, learn to embrace differences in cultures, learn to be empathetic, and learn about this world we live in. Books and the library are critical for raising an aware citizen in this global economy.
1801	7/13/2012	I need water, but I want the library.[] It would be nice to have everything available all the time, but I am more concerned about the quality of the library.
1802	7/13/2012	I rank education as a very high priority for a person's success in society and believe that libraries help provide a very strong foundation. Libraries provide so many embedded services - children's programs that foster social interaction, job-search help, book groups, English language assistance, and FREE access to all of these things, IN ADDITION TO books, music, videos, magazines and other media.
1803	7/13/2012	Because they are competing with services that are important to me
1804	7/13/2012	I grew up in the library, and I was a teacher. I could really see the difference between families that didn't or didn't visit the library. I once had a Spanish-speaking parent thank me for encouraging her son to get a card--she didn't realize the library had great materials for adults, too. How great for children to see their parents, reading too. It is also a great equalizer of the digital divide. Many more reasons--we use many of the resources about home repair, etc. to save money and do it ourselves.
1805	7/13/2012	Because, with the (theoretical) exception of police, fire, and rescue services, libraries are the only public service that are available to everyone regardless of age and economic situation. This statement would be difficult to defend in a debate with someone working for other local public services, but it is how I feel.
1806	7/13/2012	We love to read and want to instill that value in our children.

1807	7/13/2012	The library provides tools (books!) for research and brainstorming that have been instrumental in my ongoing job search and my day-to-day life. The internet is fine, but books are a unique source of creative inspiration. There is no substitute for a half dozen books laid out on the dining room table. I can flip through a dozen examples of resumes in the time it takes my computer to load two or three.
1808	7/13/2012	Because there are also book stores, the internet, etc.
1809	7/13/2012	I use the library all the time as a resource to save money, educate myself and entertainment.
1810	7/13/2012	Because libraries help everyone in a respectful and positive way. They connect users with information which usually means empowerment. They are the last bastion of democracy. They are the community center.
1811	7/13/2012	access to books and magazines and the internet which lets people know whats going on, educate the people, thats always good.
1812	7/13/2012	The only library service I know of is that they provide media to the public. With the internet a wealth of media, a library is typically a nice place to bring my laptop and go online. So, that level of service is only somewhat important, as I can go to internet cafes and such to get the same thing.
1813	7/13/2012	All people are naturally curious and want to learn; it is vital for our citizens to keep growing, esp. Young people
1814	7/13/2012	Everyone needs access to books and other reading materials. If we are not educating our citizens, we are not doing our job. Some students in this area do not have a lot of books at home and rely heavily on the local library.
1815	7/13/2012	I practically lived at the library all through middle and high school, and would be really sad if it couldn't be the same for other people.
1816	7/13/2012	Can't afford to purchase books, so it's my only source for obtaining books for free.
1817	7/13/2012	Libraries are a way for everyone of every economic level to have access to books.
1818	7/13/2012	proximity.
1819	7/13/2012	Fire and police always come first.
1820	7/13/2012	As the public schools are rapidly closing their libraries it is becoming much more important to have access to local public library services available to students. The help of librarians and other staff is also very important to help students learn how to use libraries. These are skills that will help a person for the rest of their life.
1821	7/13/2012	information
1822	7/13/2012	knowledge is important to everyone!
1823	7/13/2012	It is a convenient and complete source for reading and multimedia that I use often.
1824	7/13/2012	One of the top ones.
1825	7/13/2012	Extremely important
1826	7/13/2012	Access to information
1827	7/13/2012	It is usually a safe social place, one in which the citizens see one another.

1828	7/13/2012	I think certain things like police provide a basic level of necessity as far as public services goes but libraries provide that second tier of importance which is educational enrichment and information access, something essential to the development of the next generation.
1829	7/13/2012	The library is of the utmost importance. Without libraries our community would not have access to opportunities and resources. The population who would bear the brunt of this would be the poor, the young, the unemployed, the folks who have no where else to go. The library is a vital resource for our community. There is no question about that.
1830	7/13/2012	I don't use the other public services. I suppose I could use the age and disability services when I get older. Everyone can use the library, rich-poor, smart-not so, young, old,-in-between, working-not working. It transcends our differences, it is for everyone.
1831	7/13/2012	Helps with daily education
1832	7/13/2012	Keeps me sane. And I can not afford to buy books.
1833	7/13/2012	Libraries are important for continued education, social connections, sense of community and they provide resources to all in the community. But compared to fire, police, health, utility services, they are not in the category of "life and death". But, they are important to the larger community and can be safe havens for some who have little else.
1834	7/13/2012	Libraries are a crucial resource for everyone in the community. They affirm everyone's right to information and support people in becoming engaged members of society. Libraries help to level the playing field between those from different socioeconomic backgrounds by providing services free of charge.
1835	7/13/2012	They are helping so many people who don't speak English (I think) to learn how to use computers and utilize community resources so they can better fit into the community. And then all the kids - they have great reading programs and clubs, and the kids just love them, and learn to love LEARNING. As senior citizens, my husband and I live on a very limited income, so we don't pay for TV, and therefore, books and the free cds we borrow are a big part of our entertainment. Keep up the good work!
1836	7/13/2012	I love the library. If I weren't a student and using the school library all the time, I would be at the public library. Before I returned to school, I used the library often. I always put books on hold and rely on the library as a resource to obtain reading materials. I only wish there were more copies of popular books and that I didn't have to wait so long for a book on hold to become available. Currently, I'm a student, so I haven't had the capacity to read leisurely as often as I would like, but I'm the type that has her library card memorized. I may not always spend a lot of time in the library itself, but I'm often in and out picking up books, movies, music, etc.
1837	7/13/2012	For my sanity, keeping my mind active, enjoyment of free time.
1838	7/13/2012	It's a place for community, for learning, for helping.

1839	7/13/2012	I'm homeschooling my child, so libraries are vital places to allow my son to gain access to the needed materials that will shape his education.
1840	7/13/2012	Because it just is !
1841	7/13/2012	Because it is a place of free education and community involvement.
1842	7/13/2012	because they are free services, which are reliable, full of various resources and a play a major role in the importance of literacy and reading
1843	7/13/2012	Education improves everything. Will for education should be driven by impetus and choice, and public libraries democratize information and technology. I believe we become more aware and compassionate toward being socially and mentally flexible the more we are exposed to. Without libraries, too large a percentage of our population is denied access to information, and maybe more importantly modern technologies like the internet and search engines. Now, if we could add to the library some kind of service that helps the general populace with critical thinking and triangulation/validation of information skills, that would would be an incredible win for society. Spike the water supply with curiosity? :)
1844	7/13/2012	They are a life-long learning resource open to all, and that has never been more important than in the uncertain economy we have now, when people must have access to knowledge and resources as they move and change jobs.
1845	7/13/2012	Learning and knowledge are the foundation of society. Keeping access to books and information for all people is extremely important.
1846	7/13/2012	I am a teacher (another threatened public employee), and I believe that key to an informed citizenry is access to many resources of information and ideas.
1847	7/13/2012	Libraries help all people to be on "equal ground" and gain access to invaluable information and resources.
1848	7/13/2012	if kids don't learn to read and enjoy it, we are screwed as a culture!
1849	7/13/2012	Libraries are shared resources that are even more important during times when some in the community may have difficulty paying for these services. Libraries are sources of education for all.
1850	7/13/2012	Because I am a compulsive reader and read everything of interest in my library growing up (very small in a small town) and Multnomah County libraries offer a chance for people to connect with other people and with the world at large through their offerings.
1851	7/13/2012	I love to read and belong to two bookclubs and can't afford to buy the books.
1852	7/13/2012	Libraries bring communities together. [] People still need the chance to experience reading, written material hands-on, not just from computers, electronic devices. Without libraries, where else will one have exposure to actual books, etc...?[] []  I say leave property tax increases out of library funding and just charge a $30 per household yearly membership fee (or appx.). I'd rather just pay a once a year fee and be done with it.

1853	7/13/2012	Literacy is the foundation of civic engagement, good health, and prosocial behavior.
1854	7/13/2012	Outside of public safety, library services offer the most good per dollar of any publicly funded group. They enrich the community and offer resources to people of lower socio-economic status that they otherwise could not attain. I am routinely surprised how many people do not make use of this service that their tax dollars went to fund.
1855	7/13/2012	Many can't afford to buy books, a computer, etc. and must have this access. It's part of the freedom of being a citizen (or not) of the U.S.A.--being educated so we can be free, so we can read, choose and exercise our rights. Reading is power.
1856	7/13/2012	Because the library is, has, and always should be the cornerstone of any community.
1857	7/13/2012	I place a high level of importance having access to the books, CDs, & DVDs, Inter-library loans, and sheet music to grow as a more informed, more skilled, more culturally aware person.
1858	7/13/2012	I am an avid reader, as is the rest of my family.
1859	7/13/2012	I think it's important for everybody to have access to knowledge and research.
1860	7/13/2012	The library is the one of the only services that is truly available to every member of the community. Police and fire services are critical, but most of us hope to never need them. Schools are also critical, but many families do not have children. Utility services are important to everyone, but they are for maintenance of life, not improvement; they are also largely unresponsive to community input and local needs. Libraries serve anyone and everyone and truly care about the needs of the whole system and their local neighborhoods.
1861	7/13/2012	They're important to me because I use the library very often, but I think more importantly having the library and its services available is important to the community.
1862	7/13/2012	The ability to read and learn is important to everyone rich or poor. We need to provide the services of the library to all.
1863	7/13/2012	We use the library each week for activities, getting new books, putting books on hold, perusing the kid's section...it's a central part of our life as a young family.
1864	7/13/2012	Library is foundation of democratic process. Equality and commun - ity - ism (!) as it was intended!~ YEAH! Call it "socialism" call it "co-op" call it "government" call it PUBLIC - TOP IMPORTANCE!
1865	7/13/2012	In this age of regressing civilization. Books are the gatekeepers of knowledge.
1866	7/13/2012	I'm really sorry but I think that libraries will be obsolete in about 15 years. Even homeless people have cell phones and tablets now.
1867	7/13/2012	Libraries played a big part in my love for reading. I always had a few library books checked out at a time when I was growing up. Now I really enjoy the online services. It is nice to be able to download books onto my computer and read/listen to books.
1868	7/13/2012	convenience services
1869	7/13/2012	They help keep people educated and literate.

1870	7/13/2012	Neighborhood libraries are a hub for the neighborhood, provide easily accessible info for our daily lives via posting of neighborhood activities/resources, and reading material of all kinds. Would not like to think about what it would be like to live without this critical resource
1871	7/13/2012	Libraries are one of the most accessible sources of knowledge and resources available for members of a community, regardless of their race/class/gender/economic level. Schools and universities are closed off to many individuals and bookstores cost money as well. If you are house-less and broke, where are you supposed to access the internet, read a book, or even just relax for a couple hours without being harassed or thrown out for "not buying anything." The library. We desperately need libraries.
1872	7/13/2012	I think public education, public transportation and public safety are higher priorities. The public and private schools have libraries serving their students, so that population is being serviced. (For example, because the Portland State University Library (also paid through our taxes) is only blocks from the Central Library and the Oregon Human Resources Offices, a cooperative computer use arrangement could hypothetically meet some needs of the downtown population to free up funds for the branches.)
1873	7/13/2012	Given the wretched state of public education in Oregon, the public libraries -- like local art and science museums and the zoo -- are the key sites where real education takes place.
1874	7/13/2012	I use the library and love it, but I sense that other people rely on it for more than just borrowing dvds, cds and comic books. I see people at the Kenton Branch using computers to fill out employment applications and getting OLCC cards and stuff. I use the library to keep up with music and movies and new books, but it bothers me to think of people losing access to important help.
1875	7/13/2012	I am an avid reader with a young child that I am also trying to impress reading upon. I am not wealthy so being able to check library books out for free is great!
1876	7/13/2012	Libraries facilitate a community's need for knowledge through self-determined education.
1877	7/13/2012	I have been an avid reader my whole life. It is a very important part of learning and staying informed of the myriad of changes in our daily lives. It also provides a very personal form of entertainment, which is important in everyone's lives to combat stress. I am a movie lover as well, and enjoy watching Cable TV series on DVD, as I don't have Cable. At this time in my life, I am unable to afford to buy books, or to rent movies, so the Library is my lifeline. I feel very lucky to be able to use the library system.
1878	7/13/2012	Education is necessary to have or gain personal, professional, and political power. Everyone should have access to books and literary resources.
1879	7/13/2012	I feel like libraries are a great way to reduce, reuse and recycle items that our entire community has a need or want for. It allows me to offer my child a variety of books and programs at little to no (on site) cost. I wouldn't likely provide that level of variety if the library didn't make it so easy and affordable.
1880	7/13/2012	I'm not able to purchase books or have access to online books.

1881	7/13/2012	I think having access to books and the knowledge provided by libraries is priceless. It is so important that people of all ages are able to access this kind of information and resources.
1882	7/13/2012	They are essential to many in our community. For others the library services offer a relief from the stress of everyday life.
1883	7/13/2012	It's good for the community
1884	7/13/2012	My previous answer covers it, but again: our schools are our future, and we have to invest in them to see an educated, skilled, engaged citizenry in 10-20 years. Our libraries are right NOW. They are our community classrooms, where anyone can find the resources to continue, complete & augment they education they already have. [] Our libraries connect neighborhoods, providing a central, safe, affordable space for getting information, civic access, and individual enrichment; just as we want to avoid 'food deserts,' in which neighborhoods suffer a lack of access to affordable, healthful food, if we create information/access/literacy deserts, we are abandoning a vital civic responsibility.
1885	7/13/2012	My life is made better by the services provided by the library. They give me entertainment in the form of books, resources for learning, ways for my daughter to learn and grow, and connect me to my community in a way that no other public service does.
1886	7/13/2012	because we use the library often, online and in personal visits
1887	7/13/2012	More centered in the community
1888	7/13/2012	Books contain our written cultural history. They provide a wealth of knowledge about our ever-evolving universe. Communal access to literature, research materials, and programs which foster a love and appreciation for reading are necessary to preserve the written word in an exceedingly digital era where info converted to data in a harddrive can so easily be altered, erased, and potentially lost forever.
1889	7/13/2012	Equal access, opportunities for all.
1890	7/13/2012	My mother is a librarian and I grew-up visiting the library very often. You offer invaluable services to the public, and offer a special space for people to enjoy many different services including the value of reading, internet access, and a wealth of information that most people don't even know is available to them.
1891	7/13/2012	All public services are important Very important to shut-ins.[]
1892	7/13/2012	Very important to those without computers or computer skills.[] Very important to people on fixed incomes who have no other form of entertainment.[] Very important resource for all seeking knowledge.
1893	7/13/2012	As a mom with small kids, I go to the library often. I think libraries teach kids about community, economics, and literacy.

1894	7/13/2012	i am a kindergarten teacher and use the library often to get books for my classroom and for my own enrichment
1895	7/13/2012	I enjoy Portland Parks and Receptions
1896	7/13/2012	Our libraries are a last hold-out of our truly democratic institutions, providing access to information for all citizens.
1897	7/13/2012	Libraries are the best thing since (and before) sliced bread.
1898	7/13/2012	I value reading, education, and accessibility of resources.
1899	7/13/2012	I personally use the library a lot and I believe that everyone should have that opportunity. Access to information and entertainment is a great enhancement to a life. The library may be the only affordable information/entertainment/learning resource for many limited-income, limited-mobility citizens. It allows access to so much of value, and without straining the budgets of already overburdened families, seniors, the unemployed and underemployed. Times of economic upheaval are the very times when free options like the local library become even more valuable to ALL of us.
1900	7/13/2012	For many people the library is a place to learn, relax, escape in a book. If the library has to cut hours, fine, but please DO NOT CUT SERVICES!
1901	7/13/2012	my only computer access, and I like the computer
1902	7/13/2012	Reading is essential, and libraries make that access possible regardless of income.
1903	7/13/2012	Libraries are important community space and public service because they offer the opportunity for further community education and engagement. Libraries are great work spaces and a place where people can use a computer, particularly someone who cannot own their own. The materials for rent are invaluable for families, students, etc. A great public library is a tremendous public asset.
1904	7/13/2012	Improves sense of community, facilitates diversity as so many different types of people use the library. Important for my children to see how books can serve us-- teach us, entertain us, etc.
1905	7/13/2012	It provides a way to find reading material that I otherwise could afford to purchase, motivate my children to read
1906	7/13/2012	this is not a service/need offered by any other entity; safe and free public/community space in a time where this is increasingly uncommon
1907	7/13/2012	Supes important. Numero Uno.
1908	7/13/2012	The library is a resource that the community cannot be without.
1909	7/13/2012	we actively use the resources at the library all year long, especially during those rainy winter months!
1910	7/13/2012	Free access to information is hugely important for communities.
1911	7/13/2012	I would put libraries and education right below public safety (fire & police).
1912	7/13/2012	My first priority for public services is health and safety (ambulance, fire, police), followed closely by education, of which I believe both schools and libraries are an important part.
1913	7/13/2012	Public libraries, publicly funded, are the only source of information free of corporate interference and control -- and the only place poor people can freely access that information.

1914	7/13/2012	Learning should be available to all in a developed society. Libraries should be the continuing education source for all adults regardless of that persons income. We cannot lose that.
1915	7/13/2012	provides a community gathering places for intellectual engagement, services that many cannot afford and for children a love of life long learning
1916	7/13/2012	It's my primary entertainment source with the ability to check out books and movies.
1917	7/13/2012	Free access to books and other media is critical - particularly for students and children in low-income communities.
1918	7/13/2012	I adore books. There is nothing like holding a book in your hands to read.
1919	7/13/2012	Libraries represent society's center for learning and discovery. Their presence and usage indicate a city's intellectual prowess. They inspire us to grow, develop, and share our knowledge. When I visit a new city, I like to visit its library. It gives me a sense of the local culture.
1920	7/13/2012	Society is in a greater mess without life-long learning.
1921	7/13/2012	In addition to incorporating reading and learning into my young family's life, it helps build community.
1922	7/13/2012	It is hard to compare without a more specific question. Probably not more important than water or sewer - but still somewhat important, regardless.
1923	7/13/2012	I utilize the library more often than any other public service.
1924	7/13/2012	It's by far my biggest (and cheapest) source of reading material and movies.
1925	7/13/2012	Libraries are so very important, but it's really difficult to prioritize them over things like Safety Net, TriMet, Affordable Housing, and making our city and county function.
1926	7/13/2012	I do not travel too far off course as I am trying to maintain some what of a normal schedule.
1927	7/13/2012	When I was a little boy, my mother took me to the local library. She got me a card and took me to the Children's section. She said I could look at any book I wanted. There were picture books, story books, and all sorts of posters for children. Stories and pictures of places and things I never knew about. Once I realized that I could look at and borrow any of these for free, my life was fixed. I became a reader and never stopped.
1928	7/13/2012	Libraries have always been the single most important community resource for my family as a homeschooling parent and an avid reader. Right now I don't use my local branch as much I plan to in the future having just moved to Portland.
1929	7/13/2012	Libraries are very important to local communities.

1930	7/13/2012	Knowledge is for all, public libraries are a public trust, access to information and loaning of books has been a hallmark for American democracy. Many famous authors write about the public library as the first place they learned to read and discover ideas not available to them otherwise. My 9 yr old son says " the library is very important because kids can learn stuff by going on the computer, and play games . I can go to the library to check out books on reptiles, or I like to check out books about rocks. People need to research things like about cooking. There are children's books like Harry Potter, and you can check out novels like Percy Jackson. You can mostly find any book you want at the library."¶ It would be very cool to elevate the upbeat PR, posters, radio ads and TV ads about the library system being for everyone. Make the public library a household name again!
1931	7/13/2012	Throughout my life (67yrs) I have used the library as a source of sanctuary, resources, learning, teaching and personal enjoyment.
1932	7/13/2012	I use the library quite a bit and it is very important for me that the tax dollars I use go to something like this. I can't afford to buy the amount of books that I read in a month, and the library allows me to read things without having to try to sell them afterwards. I also like that libraries are wonderful in the ability to not have to buy a book you only want to read once. Also, the community programs are INCREDIBLY important.
1933	7/13/2012	Because I am an avid reader.
1934	7/13/2012	Libraries promote literacy. Literacy is vital to a thriving local community in all respects.
1935	7/13/2012	There's nothing more fulfilling than feeling a book in your hands and allowing the mind (regardless of age) to explore the universe.
1936	7/13/2012	Access to information!
1937	7/13/2012	for education for the public - everyone should have access to books and learning.
1938	7/13/2012	I use the library at least once a week, and often two or three times a week. I would certainly not have near the access to reading material that I have through the library if I had to rely on getting reading materials from bookstores. Though I do not have any children, as a child my family used the library frequently and having access to a wide range of books certainly improved my knowledge of the world and well as giving me a solid foundation for going on into higher education programs. So while I don't use the children and youth programs, I think they are important and am willing to pay more in taxes to support them as they have a broader social benefit. Likewise, while I don't use the computers at the library as I have my own at home, computer literacy and access is now a key part of our society and the library makes it possible for people who can't have their own computer to participate fully as citizens.

1939	7/13/2012	So much of today's society and culture isolates us. Libraries do the opposite. They get us out of our cubicle worlds and connect us with resources in a local setting where we can both independently access information as well as get help doing so from trained library staff. I think of libraries as community centers that draw people together who seek information or entertainment. They encourage and model reading, especially for young people, and offer real, tangible, hard copies of everything from the classics to comic books. This free resource allows anyone--ANYONE--access to these things, without prejudice, and thus people poor and rich, young and old, of all color and stripe, are all on equal footing. What else in our society can you say that about?
1940	7/13/2012	I'm a retiree on a fixed income that loves to read.
1941	7/13/2012	I use the library often and love to see how well used it is by children, parents, and all other readers.[] It is the most important anchor of the neighborhood.
1942	7/13/2012	need the library outreach coming to The Heights at Columbia Knoll!
1943	7/13/2012	As outlined in the earlier question, the resources are invaluable. And having a space to go to for free, where I can have access to literature and information, internet, and a safe, quiet, and free place to work.. for me that's what the library is. The library is a vital community resource, especially for those who cannot afford to spend their time at coffee shops and the like to achieve a similar sort of atmosphere.
1944	7/13/2012	Education is my highest priority. Libraries are the cornerstone of that.
1945	7/13/2012	Sometimes it's just good to change the venue instead of working alone.
1946	7/13/2012	The library functions as a community center and a learning center all at once. It gives people access to positive things that they may not generally have access to. The library should be seen as a safe place for people to go for classes, reading, any number of things. To limit the library's function and accessibility is to limit the amount of use that the library gets. If individuals are on the fence about using the library and the day that they visit the library is closed, that is potential for them to walk away and move on to. See answers in #6[]
1947	7/13/2012	Also for the Head Start program (non profit) we rely on the library for teacher/classroom resources,Raising A Reader program and the librarian visitor that reads to the children.
1948	7/13/2012	We do not want further property tax increases.
1949	7/13/2012	Money saving and education purposes
1950	7/13/2012	I need a place to have tangible discoveries in learning.
1951	7/13/2012	Because of the help it gives the community
1952	7/13/2012	Access to the library system can help level the playing field for the have nots.
1953	7/13/2012	The library helps those that can't afford new books or haven't any computer access. It saves me money, time, and allows me to do much more thorough resurch then the internet alone.

1954	7/13/2012	As an educational resource very important. As a way to provide access to information, very important. As a way to provide entertainment, of low importance. [] [] The wording on this survey is skewed. It connotes little in the way of altering services to work in alternative ways w/ existing funding. As I explained before the library is a hub for many people...Some people don't have computers at home and where technology is concerned they have to fill out specific forms that they can no longer do in person. This sets people up for failure! Children might have parents who don't read or foster their reading and the library is a place for kids to take responsibility for their learning and research for school projects.[] []
1955	7/13/2012	I am a director for a school in NW Portland and we have a woman we call "Library Susan" come to our school every month to read, sing songs and do finger plays. The families at my school including myself are extremely upset that the funding has been cut to support her school visits. The children LOVE her and can't wait for her visit monthly. Now she won't be coming and this is a real shame. Shame on the library system, our legislation and whomever is in charge of eliminating the funding for this program. I sure hope he or she can sleep at night knowing that kids are missing out on opportunities to hear wonderful stories, sing songs and become empowered by books!!!! These children are our NOW and our Future and I think we are forgetting this. Let's promote illiteracy, ignorance and lower the bar for our children. Think about how this will effect our future!!
1956	7/13/2012	i'm isolated from the mainstream; includes media exposure
1957	7/13/2012	our library has been a huge asset to portland. i brag to my friends in other states. they cannot believe what i can get from our library with just a bit of patience.[] i can keep reading and watching media without breaking the bank!
1958	7/13/2012	Not necessary like schools, police and fire, but without the library I'd be reading a lot of the same books over and over until I could spare the money for a new book. The library is vital to imagination and knowledge.
1959	7/13/2012	They're free books. I would be broke if I had to pay for all the books.
1960	7/13/2012	Libraries are the bastions of providing resources for illuminating the best aspects of the American culture(s), support the community in learning and asking questions, a peaceful haven of parallel and interactive literacy experience in connection with other people--which will become even more critical as high tech, hyper-drive, non-oral culture increases even more.
1961	7/13/2012	I like civilized society with intellectually people most prevalent.
1962	7/13/2012	literacy/ education/ self dev./ general knowledge
1963	7/13/2012	EVERYTHING is available at a library. Either through a book, pamphlet or employees help!
1964	7/13/2012	Resources should be available for those who want to improve their lives. Anyone can use a library--I want to support any way to help those in my community who take the initiative to educate themselves.

1965	7/13/2012	I have a good education and a good job. I wouldn't have either of these without having had regular access to public libraries from a very early age. The libraries are more than a collection of books and media. They support lifelong learning and now provide essential educational services that are no longer easily obtainable elsewhere such as career pathway education and English language training. As public budgets are cut across the board, libraries have become an increasingly important resource for the community. As a member of the community and lifelong beneficiary of public libraries they are of utmost importance to me.
1966	7/13/2012	I do not want to pit one important local service against another. Most, if not all, local services are very important. We should be paying for them collectively. I am willing to pay more in taxes to make this region a better place to live now and for future generations.
1967	7/13/2012	The library provides a service that no one else can - they empower people, embolden them, through reading and learning, to learn and grow and better themselves, and all without charge. It's an amazing thing, the public library.
1968	7/13/2012	I love books, reading and the library environment.
1969	7/13/2012	Informed, educated, connected, enabled populace.
1970	7/13/2012	Education is supremely important.
1971	7/13/2012	They are high importance as it is a form of my entertainment.
1972	7/13/2012	Great way to have access to supplemental education. Assists me to be an active member of the community rather than an isolated citizen ordering books off of Amazon and reading them alone.
1973	7/13/2012	Public access for reading and learning are vital to all communities, states and countries.
1974	7/13/2012	Its a key community resource available for everyone in Mult. Co.
1975	7/13/2012	Not as important as trash pickup or safety but still high in importance
1976	7/13/2012	Enhances education by supporting reading skills that are essential for success in our society. The library provides this for no cost, so it supports all citizens who desire to further their education.
1977	7/13/2012	Constant source of knowledge and self-education on any subject as well as, arts and entertainment.
1978	7/13/2012	I am a librarian so obviously I'm biased. That being said the library is a place for the community to share ideas, find a new passion, read a novel, it's important to have a place in society where everyone can find something and I would say that is what the library of today is.
1979	7/13/2012	access to literature, information and the sharing of knowledge is the foundation of a free society.

1980	7/13/2012	I hate to say it, but they make up for some of the deficiencies in the public school system. Also they serve social work type functions for the elderly and the homeless that are provided with dignity and respect. I forgot to mention before but I enjoy the library book carts that come to my senior residence, Westmoreland Union Manor very much. Libraries are about so much more than just books! i have been attending the children's programs at Gregory Heights with my grandchild since he was an infant. Now the library seems like a second home to him and his friends, many of whom he met at Book Babies. He is a phenomenal reader-going through all the Harry Potter books though he is only seven. He reads piles and piles of kids books every week. Another function of the local libraries is multicultural community building. Nobody does it better!
1981	7/13/2012	provide public space and knowledge. I think these are the fundamental building blocks of a good community/neighborhood. I also really enjoy and use libraries more then other public services.
1982	7/13/2012	Community need Fire and Police are #1 Utilities (electricity, gas) are #2
1983	7/13/2012	Everything else is just a bonus for a community. Would it be missed if there was less? Of course, but we are in a recession folks and everyone is hurting. Be in solidarity with the community you serve. We can't afford more and more taxes.
1984	7/13/2012	everyone should have access to knowledge, whether that is in book form or internet access.
1985	7/13/2012	Library services are critical to keeping the their community education and engaged. Education equalizes opportunity and is the one thing that I believe can truly change our societies to become more civil and respectful. The library above any other service in the community enables this education for all its patrons.
1986	7/13/2012	Libraries are good ways to learn about pretty much anything at no cost.
1987	7/13/2012	the availability of reference materials, books, books-on-tape, movies is immeasurable. many of us cannot afford to purchase these items. Since you don't provide for general comments in this survey I'll make mine here:
1988	7/13/2012	I love our libraries dearly, but I don't think they need to be open 7 days a week (maybe not even 6 days a week), particularly not in times of difficult economic and budget conditions. People who want to use them will adjust to their available hours. I would vote lower except for the potential that libraries have for being public fora at a time when our society needs it all the more. Otherwise, I appreciate services provided for children and the needy (particularly internet access). I think the value of book resources has declined and will continue to deminish into the future, so unless the library does more to be an open resource for the general public to gather to advance intellectual pursuits, by opinion of their value will likely continue to degrade.
1990	7/13/2012	It is a service needed to educate our citizens for the new world of work that we find we need today.

1991	7/13/2012	My son is a year old. I don't know how I would have coped with being a new mom without the library. The Hillsdale library Book Babies and Tiny Tot programs have been so important to me.
1992	7/13/2012	We rely on the library for reading and media-based materials. Libraries offer easy and free access to these materials for everyone
1993	7/13/2012	I use the library more than other services (unless you regard water and sewer and police and fire department as services . . .)
1994	7/13/2012	I am of a generation that grew up using the various services of the library. It began with children's services □ Progressed through research, classics reading, job search, ebooks, etc. The library has been an integral part of my life from childhood through senior years. I still go there to browse the stacks for whatever catches my eye. I also participate in library2go.overdrive.com and download ebooks.
1995	7/13/2012	I think literacy is essential for the population. Availability of free books and media is essential to keep the population reading and staying informed....regardless of income and living situations.
1996	7/13/2012	For the community aspect. It's fun to take a trip to the library and explore your options.
1997	7/13/2012	we use the library, our neighbors and friends use the library, our school uses the library...the use is comparable to public safety, roads, and community programs
1998	7/13/2012	very
1999	7/13/2012	Fair, equitable access to good information is a foundation of community health and vitality.
2000	7/13/2012	Libraries offer many helpful free and low cost services. Services that many people might not even know they have access to.
2001	7/13/2012	Because I use the Library
2002	7/13/2012	My children and I are huge readers. The library gives us free access to the stacks of books we read each week. The library has created book lovers out of my children.
2003	7/13/2012	After basic safety, shelter and health comes education. Libraries are the key to self-directed education and life-long learning.
2004	7/13/2012	Having a local library gives our community a central hub. A place to go for resouces, entertainment, learning. It is a destination.
2005	7/13/2012	It provides access to technology for those who can't afford it at home, and genuinely contributes to our sense of community here, in addition to the regular library services offered. When we go, we always see a nice diversity in age, gender, ethnicity, etc. The library is a hub for each area it's in.
2006	7/13/2012	we need to be informed to better make decisions and choices
2007	7/13/2012	Police and Fire services are more important.
2008	7/13/2012	The library has been a place to work, research, study and seek a silent place to read and reflect all my life. The exchange of books, ideas, and quality resources for kids, adults and seniors is vital to our educated populace.

2009	7/13/2012	I can't afford to buy every book I want to read or listen to, the library enables me to read as much as I want about anything I want. The digital download for audiobooks is a life saver for me, I work from home and listen to books constantly while I'm working.
2010	7/13/2012	Because I care about books, getting books and reading them, and the library allows me to do that.
2011	7/13/2012	Because they provide us w/ access to many things beyond what individuals could access; because they help w/ literacy, w/ job seeking, w/ reading programs, etc.
2012	7/13/2012	Because the library is available to you at any income level, and a fantastic resource from relaxation to job search.
2013	7/13/2012	it is the source of everyday living
2014	7/13/2012	Sorry, it's hard to answer the previous question, because I'm not sure what public services being referred to here. If you're referring to emergency services, sewer, water, public parks and services like that, I would say at this point, with the web-enabled society, the library has become not at all important to me in comparison.
2015	7/13/2012	reading, quest for knowledge are important pillars of a democratic society
2016	7/13/2012	Because I strongly believe in the importance of free learning and education!
2017	7/13/2012	I grew up in poverty and worked my way through school. I literally had no books at home and no one read to me. When entered Kindergarten, I didn't even know the alphabet. My community was rural and my home life riddled with difficulty. As an adult, I became reliant on the library system, especially because I could not afford to purchase books and media. I have played intellectual catch-up all these years since, and the library has been my main source. Public libraries are a place where people can be equal and I believe them to be foundational to democracy. I am so proud of this library system. It is truly one of the best in the country. Even as the way people generate and take in information shifts, there still demands a place for the actual activity of this exchange and the physical presence of its source.
2018	7/13/2012	I want my children to have access to libraries and to use them as a resource.
2019	7/13/2012	In a democratic society information is critical to the common good. Furthermore information and a well informed community creates employment and a healthy lifestyle.
2020	7/13/2012	We need to maintain, or regain, our once proud level of basic knowledge. The library, properly used, has been an integral part of enhancing the knowledge base and supporting a once-proud educational system. Now that system seems to be failing and we continue to fall further behind other nations. The library could play a key role in garnering a position of respect.
2021	7/13/2012	I read daily, and the library has a great selection of books.
2022	7/13/2012	Libraries provide basic reading services; they keep reading a key skill and activity for young and old. They also provide a community center for a large variety of people---diverse ages, ethnic background, education level, and more.
2023	7/13/2012	They are less important than schools, but perhaps equally important as parks but probably less important than the historical society, all of which I'm funding through levies.

2024	7/13/2012	Even though education and information is of extreme importance, emergency services and public safety is still most critical. Without library services, those lacking financial access to reading and computer access may not have the same opportunities as their wealthier neighbors. Public educational services level the playing field for neighbors.
2025	7/13/2012	I loved going to the library as a kid and plan to take my kids someday (when I have kids). I wish I used the library more often now, but it's just so easy to download books to my iPad and I don't read very much anymore so it's relatively inexpensive anyway.
2026	7/13/2012	being able to use the materials on loan is very important for the community--especially with this economy
2027	7/13/2012	Libraries promotes tolerance through literacy and community connections. It provides us a community gathering place when our world is becoming increasingly isolating with our digital technology.
2028	7/13/2012	We use our library alot because it helps in the education of our daughter. I also use the library alot in my work; I am a social worker.
2029	7/13/2012	They give access to information, books I would not be able to afford to buy to get access to, the enrichment in my life is invaluable.
2030	7/13/2012	The library can be a hub for information and education of the local community.
2031	7/13/2012	Public libraries are the heart of a democracy as they provide access to information that might not otherwise be available to everyone.
2032	7/13/2012	The library is an endless source of education and entertainment for my family. There is no acceptable substitute.
2033	7/13/2012	Access to books and computers for those people that cannot afford them is very important to allow people to read, educated themselves and use computers for job seeking/resume building and research topics.[] Education is the basis of a good community.[] The library is also where education for small children starts.
2034	7/13/2012	I believe that a strong library helps to build a strong community.
2035	7/13/2012	Enjoying checking out new books without having to buy them.
2036	7/13/2012	Having books and media available to use is an amazing resource. It's allowed us to save money and save space in our small house by being able to check out books and other media. I love that I can go online and request a book and be able to pick it up at my local library. I don't think the reduction in library hours will have much impact on me since I can always check the hours of operation online before I visit.
2037	7/13/2012	Nice, but less important thn fixing potholes, or maintaining law and order.
2038	7/13/2012	Available libraries are a hallmark of a just, free and open society.
2039	7/13/2012	It's where I get all my reading materials and other access to information on classes or events that I may be interested in taking part of.

2040	7/13/2012	Builds community. Resources for all people regardless of income.
2041	7/13/2012	There are other essential public services that, I think, take priority over the library. But for continued learning and public awareness of current events, I feel the library is an indispensable.
2042	7/13/2012	they serve so many functions in the community!
2043	7/13/2012	Literacy is so important in helping people get ahead.
2044	7/13/2012	I want to live in a civil-democratic society. Impossible without libraries!!!
2045	7/13/2012	Gives all levels of income access to materials that might not be attainable otherwise
2046	7/13/2012	The library is an accessible community center. Many of the other services are accessed in an emergency or by a select few. The library is for all.
2047	7/13/2012	Libraries offer a wealth of knowledge and that's valuable to everyone in the community. For the services they provide. Not everyone has access to the best school, but anyone who can learn to read can educate themselves through books. It is a fun/no pressure place where kids can go that encourages them to learn, and where they can spend time productively, stay out of trouble, have positive experiences. Getting resources to home bound individuals and seniors is also important. Who else is going to do it? In short, it makes education in various forms available to everyone.¶
2048	7/13/2012	Having said that, although it is desirable to have full hours and programs, it is not absolutely necessary to have 7 day per week open when people are struggling financially in this economy and funding is needed for other important services as well. In the long term, I think a library district would be great. In the short term, I don't think the public can cope with more taxes.
2049	7/13/2012	Introducing my young children to literacy and building their literacy skills and providing library materials to my class of English learners.
2050	7/13/2012	Libraries are an important service that gives our community an inexpensive way to share books and media. I believe that the children's reading programs do encourage our young people to read and get educated, especially in those families that do not inspire their children at home.
2051	7/13/2012	I read a book per day.
2052	7/13/2012	Our local library has allowed my child to grow into a strong, regular reader.
2053	7/13/2012	Because library is my main source of knowledge and entertainment. I feel restricted and missing this service when I leave outside of the country. By my observation, children with poor library system do not love reading and spending their pass time in useless activities.
2054	7/13/2012	The library is a secure place to take your children and yourself and expand your literary horizon. I'm broke. But at the library I can tell my children to pick any book they want. They love it and I love that they are excited about reading. My daughter is dyslexic she hates to read, but the offering of any book she wants excites her enough that I can get her to read. Willingly. And when my laptop is giving me the blue screen of doom the library offers me a place where I can continue my job search in peace. I'd be lost without that haven.

2055	7/13/2012	because this is the free place anyone can go to learn about any topic of interest and to grow their abilities to become better citizens
2056	7/13/2012	because it evens the field it is important that everyone in our community has access to information not just those who can afford new books, subscriptions and internet access
2057	7/13/2012	learning and education at its most fundamental basis occurs within spaces that promote unity and potential collaboration between people (whether across the table or across the oceans)...libraries can facilitate a dynamic relationship for the individual with the public place of a city
2058	7/13/2012	Community gathering spot, a good place to bring children to start reading
2059	7/13/2012	There are of course other important services such as Police and Fire services that protect public safety, but the library also should not be undervalued. I use its resources frequently to help me with my research for my business. It's important to have access to knowledge for our children. I enjoy coming to the library and picking out a book with my child. I believe reading is a lifestyle that needs to be taught, and is an important part in helping a child bond with their parents and learn about our world.
2060	7/13/2012	Nothing is more important than access for all to free use of books and a place to read and enjoy learning.
2061	7/13/2012	Because literacy is important! Literacy is declining in this country, and that is a shame. In addition, libraries provide a place where children can have access to books, and the more kids read, the better citizens they become. I could go on and on, but suffice to say that libraries are one hallmark of a functioning society, and as they go, so goes the city and country.
2062	7/13/2012	With all the services our local government provides, education is the most important to me. Not just schools, but libraries as well. A library is a place that children can go to discover what a joy reading, curiosity, and self-reliance can be. In my view, it plants the seeds of determination for them to be free-thinking, independent adults who will not only lead better lives, but contribute to the local economy. Regardless of how much people actually use a library's services, it should always be there in at least some capacity for those who want/need it. These are the kind of things that make me proud to be a taxpayer.
2063	7/13/2012	when you can't pay for your own books slash computer, the library gives you the opportunity to read and use the computers.
2064	7/13/2012	My family has been using library services more frequently in the past few years than other other local public services outside of Portland Parks
2065	7/13/2012	The library is a cornerstone of our community and has services of vital importance to all ages and cultures. Maintaining access is key.
2066	7/13/2012	I love reading and am too poor to buy books or own a printer/copy machine. I use the library fairly often.
2067	7/13/2012	helps with kids and learning to read and look at books

2068	7/13/2012	Libraries make ideas of all kinds available to everyone of all kinds. They inspire opening up, instead of closing down. Without libraries, other public services would have no foundation to build on.
2069	7/13/2012	Libraries were were I first learned to read for myself. The books there filled my head with ideas and liberated my mind. They have brought me endless comfort by letting me know that I am never alone in my human experience.
2070	7/13/2012	The library is one of the only purely good things most people can agree on. It's the only place I go on a regular basis where I encounter and mingle with all sorts of people without strife. Also, I'm dependent on it for so much. I could write pages about how good it is for my family to have access to so much literature and music and film. We don't watch television or whatever it is normal people do, and I have injuries that prevent me spending a huge amount of time in the parks (though we love them too). We never have money and we aren't particularly well-educated people. We'd be frighteningly more crass and unhappy without the public libraries.
2071	7/13/2012	Information is power. Without this resource people would be forced to buy books or go without if the books if they are too expensive. [] []
2072	7/13/2012	Where would people who want to better themselves begin, especially those with limited means? I visit the library at least once a week and use the website daily. It's a great value from practical, educational, and entertainment perspectives.
2073	7/13/2012	The old cliché: reading is fundamental. Many people cannot afford to buy regular books and depend of the library to provide their reading material. As a student, I depend on the library to provide study material that I cannot get at the college library. I also depend on it as a place to study and use the internet.
2074	7/13/2012	It provides education, entertainment , fun for my family and our community.
2075	7/13/2012	I have mostly found the library my first and best starting point in all the services and great for getting information.
2076	7/13/2012	Because I read free material on the Internet.
2077	7/13/2012	Access to ideas and information is critical for a free society. even if you don't agree with the ideas available. In fact opposing ideas are at least as important to be exposed to. It makes you think. It makes you evaluate your beliefs. I do not mean the library should become a political soapbox for anyone but unusual, strange and unpopular points of view should be available to be examined.
2078	7/13/2012	While the library system is enjoyable and helpful I don't feel that it impacts our basic needs such as food, shelter. and safety.
2079	7/13/2012	I enjoy reading and sharing books with my grandchildren. Th library has an excellent selection, and I value that. I like being able to get almost any book I want from the library, though sometimes I get impatient waiting.
2080	7/13/2012	Because I am a weekly user of the library.

2081	7/13/2012	So i have a library to check out books to read
2082	7/13/2012	I believe people who are disadvantaged are given a gift with all the resources the Multnomah County Library systems offer. I believe our library is one of the best in the world, a treasure to care for, and respect. I grew up using the Central Library. I rode the bus there at age 6 all by myself just so I could check books out! Preserve the libraries of Portland!!!!
2083	7/13/2012	Because i love the library
2084	7/13/2012	I use the library all the time and feel that we should all continue to have access to all that the library provides the community.
2085	7/13/2012	It depends on the "other public service" you refer to. In tough budget years, roads can be neglected more easily than access to health-care and well deployed fire crews, for instance. So, education support is far more important than keeping up with vigilant road maintenance but cannot trump emergency services.
2086	7/13/2012	I view the services as an outlet that is direly needed for most people
2087	7/13/2012	#7 is a poor question. You ought to state which programs you want us to use for the comparisons.
2088	7/13/2012	Really, to get the best data it seems like you ought to give examples of other public services. . . In general, I think public libraries are fairly critical to American society. Public libraries ensure a more even playing field among citizens, making education and entertainment accessible to all. Also, the programs for children and young adults go a long way toward filling some of the gaps in our underfunded public schools.
2089	7/13/2012	I think libraries are great. I think Portland has a fantastic system. I also seem to be asked to vote on some kind of new levy every other year that adds 1-2$ to my tax bill. I am happy to fund the libraries but am shocked to hear that despite the levies always going through libraries still have to shorten hours. Maybe a stronger look at what programs are effective is in order?
2090	7/13/2012	Because I believe in the importance of literacy, learning and literature. I also believe that these services should be available to all people at all times for no real cost. Learning and research should not be limited to those with money.
2091	7/13/2012	One will never live long enough to experience everything in this life. Reading about true life adventures teach us many things, history learned well is rarely repeated. learning needs to be a life long goal, it keeps the brain engaged and able to solve problems. It is much better to be apart of a solution instead of being apart of the problem.
2092	7/13/2012	It's a free resource that helps in an unlimited number of ways!
2093	7/13/2012	I use libraries very often. I use them primarily for reading material, second for research, third for audio and video media.
2094	7/13/2012	The local library is a resource and tool for the public to have access to a wide range of information and knowledge.
2095	7/13/2012	Water, sewer, and roads would top my list. There are plenty of used book stores of which some may elect to become lending libraries. More books are becoming available online.

2096	7/13/2012	The services that are more important are fire, police, and those that help those in need. Libraries are very important because they are a resource for printed materials. Soon everyone will be using all digital media and we will lose our gathering places for families and everyone else to obtain the written word.
2097	7/13/2012	I am an avid reader and music fan and I feel that access to current media is an important social service.
2098	7/13/2012	knowledge is power and reading helps provide positive, healthy diversions for people. Also libraries are good community gathering places and provide no or low cost access to systems, training resources, and books
2099	7/13/2012	Libraries allow free access to education. Education creates a stronger population, one that can more easily stand unsupported.
2100	7/13/2012	They are at this level of importance because they build community, they are a meeting place, social network, free, provide a place for people to learn, they are safe, and they offer a opportunity for people to better themselves at their own pace, outside of an expensive school setting. They are an inspiration for children and young adults and offer them the valuable opportunity to engage in their community while learning to volunteer and provide a service. They are multicultural, people of all cultures can seek help, resources, and find our how to navigate within their community. Free, public libraries are invaluable. We visited Argentina, SA last year and the library in our town was dilapidated, dusty, out of date, and hardly used. Many, many people there cannot even read. I feel our public libraries encourage and promote literacy nation wide and are responsible for much of our countries success.
2101	7/13/2012	I work in a library and understand the level of importance. I'm a daily user and appreciate all that libraries offer.
2102	7/13/2012	Hollywood Library serves many aspects of our community. I regularly see many students from Grant High School at the library after school hours as well as families with young readers toting stacks of books in and out of the library. Is anything more important than stimulating the reading skills of young children? I would be much better off today if I had developed strong reading skills sixty two years ago.
2103	7/13/2012	this is where I learn and without the library I would believe everything I read on the internet...

2104	7/13/2012	Reading helped me through a difficult childhood and allowed me to gain information and knowledge that my formal education failed to provide. Libraries have sustained me through times of deep financial difficulty as well. I see others like me every time I go into a library; families who couldn't purchase books for their children happily reading and checking material out, people sitting alone reading for personal education, youths disappearing into books as an escape from the world for awhile, people for whom the library is a valuable part of their weekly routine. I see seniors who can read their favorite magazines without having to stretch fixed incomes to subscribe to them and students who are able to access more printed matter than their schools could ever provide. Thanks to free access to online encyclopedias and the OED (among other things), educational augmentation need not be a matter of income. Local libraries are as important as a strong school system and when the schools cannot be strong, even more important, because then the library provides resources the schools cannot.
2105	7/13/2012	libraries provide us with the freedom to self educate, freedom of information, community space, shelter from the elements. the library is one of the only place we can have access to these resources without having to go into debt to obtain them.thank you very much. no budget cuts!!!!!!!!!! tax the corporations not cut our library resources. dismantle globally renew locally. OCCUPY!!!!!!!!!!
2106	7/13/2012	I use the library for books, movies, and music for myself. However, I am also a teacher, and I use the library for research materials for my students. I appreciate having librarians come in to do book talks and love the resources you offer to my 8th graders. There are very few other community resources that I use more than I do the local library.
2107	7/13/2012	Important for educational activities for children, job seeking, love of reading, etc.
2108	7/13/2012	We love books!
2109	7/13/2012	I am a teacher and I use the library to supplement books in my class room. My students also use the public library--many have very few books at home. The library system is a foundation of democracy.
2110	7/13/2012	If there were no libraries, I don't think I'd read anywhere near as much as I do now. The library is a safe haven where I can go to focus and work; I can use the internet there, find a random novel, flip through the cds, or pick up my holds. It's a quiet building full of books and helpful people. The fact that I can access pretty much any media I want is, I think, absolutely vital for maintaining a community full of intelligent and connected people. It also provides books for young children, who probably don't have the money/initiative to buy books for themselves.
2111	7/13/2012	It is critical that reading material be offered to everyone in a civilized society to encourage critical thinking, awareness, evaluation, creativity, and imagination.
2112	7/13/2012	Free computer services & educational programs for all
2113	7/13/2012	Because it provides an easy access to a lot of information at one time. In this way, one saves on money.

2114	7/13/2012	Because this is where I take my children to learn how to read & find books about things they have questions about that we can't answer at home.
2115	7/13/2012	They help kids who don't have library's in there schools. Or If they don't have any books at there house
2116	7/13/2012	I see the library as being vital to the community as a source of learning, knowledge, research . . . the art department alone is a treasure trove with information one would be hard pressed to find elsewhere.
2117	7/13/2012	I appreciate being able to borrow books & DVDs rather than purchase them.
2118	7/13/2012	i view the library as community and education. I can see that safety / basic needs may be more important, but i like to think my taxes go to the library.
2119	7/13/2012	Free access to books and other materials. Our family loves to go to the library and check out several books at a time. Invaluable.
2120	7/13/2012	Libraries are very important in a community, especially to those who do not have computers at home, or other access to books or other media. They are also places for the community to gather to learn. We need to understand that civilization as we know it depends on library for knowledge and vitality.
2121	7/13/2012	Poor and underprivileged children and adults can get free information if they have a desire for knowledge. Those of us who are not poor appreciate not having to have huge personal libraries for research or books that one wants to read jus once or twice. It conserves resources to share books.
2122	7/13/2012	We get almost all of our entertainment, reading, and educational material from the library.
2123	7/13/2012	My local library is a hub for our community in every sense. My children learned to love books at home, at school, and at the library. The library is a safe haven for all, where all are equal and have equal access to its resources.
2124	7/13/2012	Very important, I consider education and libraries to be the fundamental building blocks of social and economic improvement. Without them then we can't raise the bar for everyone.
2125	7/13/2012	The library plays an outsized role in my life at present, and has done so since my early childhood. My family leaned heavily on the library system for early-childhood literacy and never diminished that level of use since. I'm still a student of sorts and conduct my studies outside the university, using the public library as my home base. More generally, I strongly believe that a literate population is the best bedrock of a society.
2126	7/13/2012	The library fills in so many gaps in services. [] Most importantly, the library provides resources for every style of learning, so all members of our community can guide their own education.
2127	7/13/2012	Access to a wide range of materials that I could never hope to accumulate or access on my own is invaluable.

2128	7/13/2012	I am not sure to what you are thinking of comparing the library. Do you mean police and fire departments? Personally, a library is very important to me because I love books and enjoy movies.
2129	7/13/2012	I started taking my children to the library as young as two years old. Enjoying books together is a nice way to spend time as a family and it's far more budget friendly than bi-weekly visits to Barnes & Noble would be. Reading regularly set my children up for success in elementary school.
2130	7/13/2012	They provide opportunity for education, community, and entertainment to every citizen regardless of income and access ability.
2131	7/13/2012	Because the library is a place that has something for everyone. My entire family goes to the library at least once a week, and each of us has different reasons for being there, but all of us leave happy because we found what we were looking for.
2132	7/13/2012	Reading is essential and that everyone have free access to books. Reading keeps your imagination moving. It connects you with diverse subjects.
2133	7/13/2012	Knowledge is power.
2134	7/13/2012	Democracy doesn't function with out information. Libraries provide access to information. More than anything else knowledge and ideas should be shared and available to everyone. Libraries are not just a repository for these things, they facilitate their dissemination whether it's as archaic as text on paper or up to date video on-line. Thoughts are useless unless they are shared and rethought by others.
2135	7/13/2012	Books are needed for a free society to function and perform.
2136	7/13/2012	Our family reads and takes advantage of the offerings of the library! We love to share books.
2137	7/13/2012	Compared to fire/police/emergency services, libraries rank below these. However, they are very important for everyone to gain access to media, books, classes, no matter ones age or social strata.
2138	7/13/2012	I regularly reserve and then check out books for myself and my kids -- it is an almost daily activity. My 8-year-old son asked me about the origin of electricity a few days ago, and we went into the Hollywood library, found a stack of books on Benjamin Franklin, and have been reading ever since. To me, that ability to be curious and then find answers is as vital as the garbage & recycling service that visits our house every other week. The poetry, stories & art in books is an incredibly valuable resource.
2139	7/13/2012	Because literacy empowers everyone to achieve more. It is critical to a healthy society.
2140	7/13/2012	Reading is a great past time that is good for the soul and the mind.
2141	7/13/2012	Knowledge is power!

2142	7/13/2012	For many of my students, public libraries and their programs help them maintain their literacy over the summer. They also provide my students' families with resources like the internet, language learning, children's and young adults' fiction and non-fiction books (schools really limit the number of books our little readers can check out), and a place to go for fun as families.¶ For me, the libraries provide books to use when I teach in the public schools and articles and books on loan for professional research.
2143	7/13/2012	because I have two kids,and they like different books,they want to use the house computer at the same time.library is the best choice. Libraries are an important tool for my family to access materials to help us learn new things, perform research for home and school, and it is a gathering place for our community. My children are avid book readers, and the library gives them access to books they would never know about if they just did internet searches. I have a Kindle, but nothing compares to the smell and feel of a good hard copy book. I read dozens of books a year, and wouldn't do so if I didn't have access to the library.
2144	7/13/2012
2145	7/13/2012	Knowledge is power.
2146	7/13/2012	clean and safe streets are primary importance (police/fire/maintanence), then services including libraries
2147	7/13/2012	Libraries are an integral component of an educated, literate citizenry -- and access to the services and information that libraries provide is one of the great equalizers in our increasingly inequitable society.
2148	7/13/2012	I don't access public services or library services. I feel it is more important in this economy to fund public services over the libraries. The library is important for the very young and the elderly who are on a limited budgets and cannot afford internet and to purchase reading materials. Students utilize the internet at home more than going to the library for their homework. Saying that, schools may continue to require book searches for research papers.
2149	7/13/2012	All kinds of knowledge bring power of thinking, of questioning to new conclusions. Libraries give access to this for all citizens of all ages. It is one of the factors that strengthen our society as a whole. Not only the rich get to read, or have access to the cutting edge of knowledge.
2150	7/13/2012	An educated and literate citizenry is essential to a healthy community.
2151	7/13/2012	As a low-income single mother of two school age children thelibrary is a saving grace for my family. I used books from the library and articles from databases for research papers while I was taking classes at Art Institute of Portland. The online search and being able to have books sent to my local branch was extremely helpful. My kids always have a book to read because our library is open and accessible.
2152	7/13/2012	Libraries help keep the population well-informed and cultured.
2153	7/13/2012	I'm not sure if you are talking about comparing library services with fire and police? What "other public services" are you speaking of?

2154	7/13/2012	I read. Books are expensive to buy even used unless you are a collector. I read and can't afford to buy. I have used libraries all my life.
2155	7/13/2012	Because of the very visible need for the library services as evidenced by the high usage.
2156	7/13/2012	Well, I think safety like police and fire fighters would come first. Then public education second. (Although I realize this is mostly funded differently.) Then it is a balance of importance between road maintenance, parks and rec, and library services.
2157	7/13/2012	Libraries provide access to information, knowledge and entertainment - to all.
2158	7/13/2012	Books that low income folks can't afford
2159	7/13/2012	I love books and libraries not only provide books, they provide a culture in which to fall in love with books even more. They also provide an equal opportunity and cheap solution for higher education, which is extraordinarily rare in the United States.
2160	7/13/2012	I am an educator so I believe libraries allow at risk youth and low income families to have the tools they need to better their lives.
2161	7/13/2012	I am a student and often get books there that are not available at PSU library.
2162	7/13/2012	We use the library a lot. With being able to place holds on books throughout the system, there is a lot of resources within our reach, and we appreciate that. We go to the library for many things from house repair, to house projects, cooking, history questions, and light reading for enjoyment.
2163	7/13/2012	I assume fire and police are public services so obviously there is no comparison. This is not a well-designed question.
2164	7/13/2012	If you dont read your losing more than you could ever know.
2165	7/13/2012	People need to be educated and the people who cannot afford to buy a computer or internet service need a helping hand (which is fine with me). If a person cannot read, he/she can't do very much in this society so any institution that helps prepare people for the real world is necessary and cannot be taken for granted. Like I've already written, the system and set-up are great and placing holds on books and having them transported to other branches so a person doesn't have to travel all over town is absolutely great!
2166	7/13/2012	the portland libraries are very diverse in their offerings to the general public who needs such services for various reasons.although not an issue for myself,being open either longer hours for the folks that work or being open more days seem to be the issue. The libraries offer alot of services that I feel should be funded by the users.Use fees...its what the parks had to do and maybe that should be how you fund more hours.either that or reduce services like all of us have had to do.tighten your belt...we all have had to do it.you cant expect the taxpayers to keep paying more..we are being taxed to death as it is to support the many programs you offer to folks that dont pay any or no taxes at all.
2167	7/13/2012	police and fire, public health are higher priorities library is 4th on that list
2168	7/13/2012	because well informed people typically make better decisions, and everybody deserves the opportunity to be well informed.

2169	7/13/2012	To be knowledgeable and educated and concerned comes right after being alive, sane, and healthy.
2170	7/13/2012	Libraries hold an invaluable element of resource and education material. They provide opportunities for advancement and learning that are not found anywhere else in our society. They are of vital importance to our entire society, from young children to the elderly.
2171	7/13/2012	Libraries are designed to give to the public without a high level of quid pro quo. They are gems within a dwindling system.
2172	7/13/2012	For me and my household. They could be closed and I would never miss them. I usually buy a book We usually buy books and movies and music if we want it bad enough.
2173	7/13/2012	I like to have the resource but don't use it much, so even though, conciously, I think it is important, I'm not sure how important it is to me subconsciously.
2174	7/13/2012	I am a content provider.
2175	7/13/2012	Literacy for my children and personal growth for myself.
2176	7/13/2012	Because they are greatest free university and educational institution.
2177	7/13/2012	People need access to books and materials. Libraries help to educate our communities. I use the Raising A Reader program with families I work with and it's great to get them involved with reading to their children. There is no replacement for the knowledge and resources libraries offer our communities.
2178	7/13/2012	It isn't something I use every day, but I'm glad the library is there for when we need it. I also think it serves a good purpose for those less fortunate.
2179	7/13/2012	Keeps children off streets and interested in reading and leaning
2180	7/13/2012	Without the library, I would have to purchase the books and media I use. This is an expense I could not afford. I used the library for computer access until I was able to get the internet at home. For some people, it is the only way they can interact with the digital age.
2181	7/13/2012	The library is my home away from home. I'm a voracious reader and enjoy holding a real book in my hands.
2182	7/13/2012	Only schools, police and fire departments rank above it.
2183	7/13/2012	I don't necessarily use either of those services - other than checking out books. I understand that they can be of great importance to others, so I would hate to see them cut too drastically, but I have never made use of those services personally.
2184	7/13/2012	they provide equal access to information to everyone - they are an important equity component of our society
2185	7/13/2012	It provides education and community support for free for those who otherwise don't have access.
2186	7/13/2012	Library services are somewhat important when compared to other local public services. They are very important when compared to some of the things the county waists money on. Public safety is always the top priority.

2187	7/13/2012	I use the library as a resource center and for most all my reading and a lot of my video needs. It would be very sad to lose the benefits of the country library system.
2188	7/13/2012	Libraries are a tangible, visible service however many other local public services are more important to me even though they are behind the scenes.
2189	7/13/2012	I visit the library regularly through my work and in my free time- for me it is the main connection to my community.
2190	7/13/2012	I think literacy is very important in the home, and therefore I provide books for my child through purchases and gifts.
2191	7/13/2012	They provide access to materials, learning for those who do not have the income to purchase iPads, computers, etc... they provide a "place" for children to congregate.
2192	7/13/2012	They allow everyone, regardless of circumstance, access to information, education, and the literary arts.
2193	7/13/2012	Because I cannot afford to maintain a library of this size on my own
2194	7/13/2012	My family reads a lot, and I listen to audio books constantly because I work from home. It's very important to me to have fresh and new reading materials regularly for entertainment and enrichment.
2195	7/13/2012	I use the library for work and personal reasons. With the wide variety of books, DVDs, CDs, and magazines available, it saves me a lot of money and allows me to access materials I couldn't afford.
2196	7/13/2012	Because people of all ages utilize them. They are a free, educational resource that EVERYONE can use. Books, media, computers, etc., why would anyone NOT want to take advantage of all the options our local libraries offer us?
2197	7/13/2012	My local library was one of the things that saved my childhood. I rate the library system very high on my list of personal importance.
2198	7/13/2012	Allows free access to books! I am reader, always have been and I can't afford to buy all the books I read. I also love sitting in the library and reading-- I don't have the same distractions I have at home or the office.[]
2199	7/13/2012	I am a faculty member at PSU and I can get resources through the library that I can't get through the PSU system. I also use the library more than I use any other city resource.
2200	7/13/2012	I personally use the library frequently. I don't buy books. And they are important to families with young children.
2201	7/13/2012	They're part of what makes Portland a great place to live and a book lover's paradise.
2202	7/13/2012	I'm a writer. My livelihood depends on access to reliable information.

2203	7/13/2012	This is a democracy and that should mean anyone who desires access to knowledge should have it. Libraries provide this. What kind of a nation will we be if we cannot have access to books or to the internet? What fun is learning if it is not self-directed? The school system strips people of creativity. It just prepares them to fit into the workforce or military and I believe drains creativity and the love of learning. The library is everything schools are not. No matter how poor you are, you can and should have access to the library. The quality of my life would be poorer without the library. The books I check out connect me to the world. Money should go to libraries. Schools are outmoded institutions. Slow to change. The library keeps pace and is a community center. A poor kid has a chance with access to a good library. Warren Buffet once commented he learned much about investing reading the books on investing as a child at his public library. The library stimulates thinking. The schools dumb you down and rob you - look at what college tuition is? A joke.
2204	7/13/2012	libraries are public commons--a way to share resources and for more people to have access to more resources
2205	7/13/2012	Because they cover so many services in one place
2206	7/13/2012	Everyone can use the library, no matter what your economic status is, education level, or age.
2207	7/13/2012	I rarely use any public services in Portland.
2208	7/13/2012	Education should be our number one priority as a community and our local library offers a wide range of options for free so it is accessible to all people. Children thrive there, teens have a safe environment and seniors can continue socializing and being involved, not to mention the amount of media available and all it's benefits.
2209	7/13/2012	Because local libraries provide me and my whole family with access to a wealth of books and media that we otherwise would not be able to access. We are a low-income family and it is not an option for us to buy such things on an individual basis.
2210	7/13/2012	Libraries enable literacy which is critical for children to become productive, engaged adults, and for adults to be stimulated and engaged community members.
2211	7/13/2012	Reading, writing, culture and learning how to function in the world make us human
2212	7/13/2012	I love to read!!! Literacy is extremely important, and access to all types of books (and content) is extremely important. Knowledge is power.
2213	7/13/2012	When all else fails hard copies will always be our best resource for recording history. Libraries are the best place for keeping permanent historical records and a resource for information. With economic fluctuations many will not have the resources to access information they need except through a program that is available to the community.
2214	7/13/2012	I think the local public services are more important and then we want the library opened 7 days a week.
2215	7/13/2012	Reading books is very important. It's the gateway to knowledge and new worlds.

2216	7/13/2012	A thriving library system is a reflection on the community in which the library resides. Libraries help children/teens develop a lifelong love of reading. Libraries help adults stay lifelong learners. They help job seekers prepare for work by using the computers to search for jobs, write resumes and cover letters, check out books about job interviews. They give people a place to go to be part of the community by taking part in library sponsored classes and programs.
2217	7/13/2012	Literate citizens make for a happier community.
2218	7/13/2012	every member of a democratic society should have access to knowledge and have a way of becoming/remaining informed...
2219	7/13/2012	Unless you have an unlimited amount of resources,being able to read current novels is a luxury not all can afford. It is important to keep learning,exploring, and growing. Having a library that is open all week and has an easily accessed waiting/hold list is very important and appreciated.
2220	7/13/2012	Access to printed materials, community programming, and the Internet are essential public services that encourage literacy, citizenship, capacity building, and appreciation of public space.
2221	7/13/2012	knowledge is power... [] Libraries are the place that anyone can access to gain knowledge to better their lives.
2222	7/13/2012	Books provide a people with quality of life. Children can learn from the library. People can find a job at the library. Knowledge should not be divided by class lines and public libraries allow all to have access to their shelves.
2223	7/13/2012	Very important
2224	7/13/2012	Libraries are a cornerstone of any civic minded society. They offer services found nowhere else. Also librarians are awesome and I love reading!
2225	7/13/2012	Knowledge is power. Without access to the knowledge out in the world many will not have the opportunity to improve themselves. It is also important to continually allow people new experiences and what better way then to have access to information about new activities and stories to enjoy.
2226	7/13/2012	they are the service I use most and are the most important when it comes to getting books into the hands of kids
2227	7/13/2012	Good utility services, including roads and transportation, at reasonable costs are more important to my day-to-day life than the library is.
2228	7/13/2012	because they are such a rich source of information/diversion
2229	7/13/2012	Libraries are not just a community resource for access to information, they are a vibrant social hub for the community. They provide a special service that has no real substitute in the community.
2230	7/13/2012	The library provides affordable resources to people of all backgrounds. It is so important that people have access to these things!
2231	7/13/2012	i am a teacher and use the library's resources for my personal needs (current titles, movies, etc.) but also utilize the library system for the children i work with.

2232	7/13/2012	My family lived in a city overseas where only wealthy people had access to libraries and, hence, books. Witnessing that discrepancy made me realize that the public library system is one of the most important institutions in our country.
2233	7/13/2012	I've seen societies that fall into illiteracy. I'll spare you the lecture, but illiteracy really is a crime.
2234	7/13/2012	Library provides current media for me... both printed and video.
2235	7/13/2012	because books mean the world to my family and I. We sometimes go to the library 2 or even 3 times a week.
2236	7/13/2012	Easy access to so much information, range of books available, self-service check out, "hold" service
2237	7/13/2012	Literacy is important; free access for the public is important
2238	7/13/2012	I grew up using the library - free, public access to information and culture is essential to an inclusive, democratic civilization.
2239	7/13/2012	Every age group uses the libraries. Not every age group uses other social services such as the parks. However, the police and fire department should remain at the top of the priority list.
2240	7/13/2012	High
2241	7/13/2012	The library provided wonderful learning dvd media for me and my son.
2242	7/13/2012	A love of reading is on the short list of the most important things I want to teach my 3 children
2243	7/13/2012	reading and learning should be free!!
2244	7/13/2012	Reading, staying informed and engaging in education are important contributors to any thriving community.
2245	7/13/2012	i use it a lot I would say very important but I do think that police (and the whole legal system), fire and schools rank higher, so libraries and parks come in a little lower. I have to say though, I think libraries rank MUCH higher than things like bioswales and bike lanes in the streets... it bums me out to see money going towards these things when the libraries aren't able to be open 7 days/week.
2246	7/13/2012
2247	7/13/2012	because I use them more than any other public service
2248	7/13/2012	I have young children and I want to continue to foster their love of reading
2249	7/13/2012	One of the last places you can get information for free. Well not free, (taxes) but you know what I mean.
2250	7/13/2012	Access to accurate information and knowledge are necessary for a democracy.
2251	7/13/2012	I'm teaching my children that libraries are a way of life. We visit them every week and get excited about new books.
2252	7/13/2012	I think healthcare is more important. But I do think education, including libraries, is of utmost importance to a functioning thriving society. I wish people would use them more! (I should take my own advice)....
2253	7/13/2012	because they are

2254	7/13/2012	Because they are very important but there is only so much to go around. Police, fire, roads, schools should be first.
2255	7/13/2012	Paid my taxes! Society needs books to read. Especially in the Portland area (people are always moving in and out of the city) not everyone can afford to buy or store a great many books of their own so libraries are a crucial resource. I grew up going to the library in my hometown and my Grandmother was a librarian at the Central Library downtown for about 20-30 years. Libraries provide shelter away from a noisy home on a cold or hot day to relax and read, and invite browsing for hours in a way that a bookstore does not. Librarians themselves are often a great resource, although I admit that over the past few years the quality of the books on the 'librarian recommended' shelf has gone to astounding lows. Books have been around thousands of years in different mediums, and I hope that the print form is not done away with completely. Books connect us with our history, the future and fire the imagination in a special way. We are all (supposed to be) equal in the eyes of the library and the books, as long as we have paid any late fines. The library is a soothing place to read, gather information and materials from, find a group activity to suit many age levels, and discover something new in life. Fire and Police and Mental Health and Legal and every kind of public service; they are all facing major budget restraints and reductions, and most could be called at crisis point at this time. We need to come together
2256	7/13/2012	It's a place where everyone in our community can use the resources, and interact. It's the most democratic place in our community.
2257	7/13/2012	Because schools, roads and public safety are "core" functions that must be prioritized
2258	7/13/2012	Not too much for me but, more so for the younger generation.
2259	7/13/2012	Because it keep kids off the street
2260	7/13/2012	Libraries are absolutely critical to empowering U.S. citizens. This in turns makes the country stronger. The library is corner stone of literacy, education, community and joy.
2261	7/13/2012	We are a reading family. My husband and I love to read and are doing our best to build that love in our two nine year olds. Would be hard to afford the number of books we all go through if we had to purchase them. Also, the library provides a healthy community gathering place and a fun outing for our kids.
2262	7/13/2012	Besides the practical uses-education and computer access for lower-income folks, access to public records, etc, libraries have symbolic meaning. What does it say when we start closing down the places where our culture, history, and imagination are kept? All the great civilizations of the world had libraries. The destruction of a library often is used to date the official end of that empire or city. Libraries have been there for me when I had no money to enjoy other activities.
2263	7/13/2012	Reading is an important activity for me. I used to buy books but later found that I had boxes of books that once read were never used again. So I began to just check them out of the library. I also enjoy helping my daughter with research for her school projects so I use the library for that all of the time.
2264	7/13/2012

2265	7/13/2012	The library is a democratizing force in society that allows people to educate themselves. If they can't afford a PC at home, they can use one at the library. If they need help obtaining tax paperwork, or need a place to drop off their ballot they can do those things at the library. If a person can't afford to buy their child lots of books to promote early literacy the library helps.
2266	7/13/2012	Our family uses the library weekly. We only check out books and do not use the other services but appreciate being able to read the books and return rather than buying them.
2267	7/13/2012	I feel they provide a community center for neighborhoods. Great resource for all ages and incomes and backgrounds. Helps us access high quality info for "free"
2268	7/13/2012	I am a school librarian. The local library provides access to databases that allow me to teach my students how to complete research in an effective, efficient and ethical manner.
2269	7/13/2012	I enjoy the books and CDs that I check out from the Library. But police and fire, and services to the poor and homeless are more important than the Library.
2270	7/13/2012	I think Americans should have access to all information. If computers crash there are still books available to us free of charge. I hope we never see their demise
2271	7/13/2012	The local library provides access to information that most people otherwise wouldn't have the means to purchase themselves. Libraries with flexible hours and access to current/classic materials as well as internet access should be considered a civil right in our country.
2272	7/13/2012	I have always loved books, and books and libraries have a special place in my heart. However, taxing someone who can't afford to have a home or to eat so that patrons can have free music downloads doesn't see a proper priority. There is also so much information available for free online that there isn't time to visit the library and peruse an even greater selection. Providing a positive experience with books for children, providing resource and research materials, and providing internet access for those unable to afford it are good missions for the library today.
2273	7/13/2012	I think it's really important--for social justice, entertainment, equity, and so many other reasons--that people have access to literacy. And libraries are fundamental to that.
2274	7/13/2012	Love books, can't afford to continually buy them.
2275	7/13/2012	I see Public libraries are as valuable to American citizens as hospitals !
2276	7/13/2012	I take my 4 year-old son to the library once a week. Not only is it an amazing place for us to get access to all kinds of free books, CDs, and occasionally movies, it also is a wonderful place to hang out, surrounded by people of all backgrounds and income levels, in a beautiful environment, with friendly, helpful staff. Without even needing to be told, he has come to think of books as an intricate part of our vibrant city life.
2277	7/13/2012	It is the one place where people can go to do real research. Get lost in wonderful worlds and get away from the noise of the city. It is a place to hide from the troubled and dangerous world. It is a place to get away from bad influences. It is the place to go in any city in America to just get away from it all. It is the only resource that the city can provide that all walks of life can enjoy and take something from.

2278	7/13/2012	Because "knowledge is power" and I say "power to the people." The media seeks to make us ignorant and we must have a place to seek truthful information. Also, those programs for people seeking employment: if they are working and being used, seems like a great aid for those that have limited resources.
2279	7/13/2012	Great easy source of information and entertainment
2280	7/13/2012	Safety concerns aside, I believe education (and libraries are a HUGE part of this) is essential to the welfare and future of our community
2281	7/13/2012	everyone needs the Library
2282	7/13/2012	its the only place i actually feel at home and have fun in, i love reading and i think that librarys (unlike several places) actually contribute to minds young old and still matureing
2283	7/13/2012	An educated society is one that "costs" all of use the least in the long run. Libraries are a cornerstone of education.
2284	7/13/2012	People must have access to information, books, knowledge, social contacts. Libraries provide all of that.
2285	7/13/2012	Nothing beats a good book/read. Being exposed to current writing, research, scientific advances, current events, etc. TV, (except PBS/OPB) is, in my opinion seldom worth watching. Mostly drivel
2286	7/13/2012	Great resource for my family
2287	7/13/2012	1) access to information 2) communiity resource 3) access to media other than books 4) programs for kids & seniors - gathering place for those with little money (community)
2288	7/13/2012	Provide a source of information not otherwise available
2289	7/13/2012	They make the most broad-based, democratic, contribution to the community. They serve the greatest range of the population. They contribute to the education of our citizens. It is one of the best uses of tax money -- a contribution to the health, vitality, quality of life of our neighborhoods.
2290	7/13/2012	We need the police, fire and road crews. Then the Library should be close, but the kids now a days are just that interested in studying. More likely the top 10%. The rest just don't want to study or are just to lazy.
2291	7/13/2012	Society needs free access to reading materials. Otherwise it slips into a state of ignorance and hatred for the unknown.
2292	7/13/2012	Libraries are how the world should be in every aspect. Free, helpful, open. They're one of the few true gems left.
2293	7/13/2012	I use them often, they benefit so many people, they´re well used and function well, and they fill needs that would be very hard to meet efficiently through other methods.
2294	7/13/2012	I love the library, but it is more of a luxury/convenience to me than a necessity. I do think it is an essential institution.

2295	7/13/2012	I believe everyone should have access to books and knowledge. I, for one, can't afford to buy all the books I want to read so I like the access. I also think it is important in this day and age for everyone to have access to a computer even if they can not afford one.
2296	7/13/2012	Libraries remain important because they provide free access to information that cannot necessarily be found on the internet or through other resources. They also connect communities and help people in their personal learning process. They connect all forms of media - literature, music, film, and paperless - and all people easy access to almost limitless media. They also preserve books, music and film that can't be accessed on the internet or are not in digital form.
2297	7/13/2012	If you go to the library and ask them a question, they will do what they can to point you in the right direction. Libraries are about service. Other public services are more specific. They have one end goal. A library's goal is to get the patron the information needed.
2298	7/13/2012	Library contents and services provide intellectual resources to individuals in communities. they therefore foster independent thinking and facilitate independent researching. In the present era, where education is becoming more rote inculcation oriented (providing test-question answer information to cater to comparative measuring, instead of comprehension developing intellectual cogitating, to generate individual constructions and correlations from putting subject matter together, somewhere individuals may do what is necessary for individual thinking, but is not encouraged, and to go to research to determine what of what is provided as "knowledge" is knowledge, and what is bull-shit, is absolutely necessary.
2299	7/13/2012	I prefer not to buy books and movies, and almost always use the library for these. I occasionally attend special programs or classes, though these are not as important as say, emergency services
2300	7/13/2012	whoo, big question. I don't have time to give this the attention it deserves, but suffice to say that everyone should have access to the wealth of accumulated human knowledge. For free. Libraries, in my opinion, are one of the few things the government has the right idea on (except for the fact that they're cutting your funding. That is ridiculous and the decision-maker should be ashamed)
2301	7/13/2012	My daughter loves going to the library. It is a great way to introduce her to reading. I like to take books home too.
2302	7/13/2012	Libraries help create and maintain an informed citizenry regardless of class and income level. An informed citizenry is paramount to a functioning democracy.
2303	7/13/2012	I used to be a teacher and I know that many families don't have the resources to buy their own books to build a home library. The public library therefore is a very important resource that provides all families access to books that support early childhood and ongoing literacy.
2304	7/13/2012	investment in educational material and access to learning resources strengthens the community
2305	7/13/2012	Education

2306	7/13/2012	Libraries make reading more accessible to the masses. Literacy is an essential tool in succeeding in today's society.
2307	7/13/2012	Because many people, especially the poor like myself (a senior) and other ages need this service.
2308	7/13/2012	Our libraries are superb resources available to all, regardless of income.
2309	7/13/2012	libraries are community
2310	7/13/2012	we need open and free access to information in this information-driven society.
2311	7/13/2012	Because to some people local library services are more convenient. And it's nice to know that there are other people like you who need help at our own local libraries.
2312	7/13/2012	It would be nice to have more programs to ease homelessness and mental illness - those are basic life issues we should be addressing.
2313	7/13/2012	Because they provide free literature to help people learn and excel if they choose.
2314	7/13/2012	Access to books & knowledge is a basic value of a civilization!
2315	7/13/2012	I personally don't use the library too frequently b/c I can afford to buy books, but I don't think books, internet access, and reading programs for kiddos should be available to only those with disposable income! Free library access is vital for the overall health of our communities and for fostering reading appreciation.
2316	7/13/2012	In addition to free resources, libraries are a place where we are all equal. Even if you can't afford to rent a movie or buy a book, you can still watch and read, then participate in the collective dialogue.
2317	7/13/2012	i am an avid reader with a limited budget.
2318	7/13/2012	It's an amazing free public service, and it's totally underused- access to computers, books, magazines, cds, books on tape, classes...
2319	7/12/2012	I rely on them very much for books for my child and myself.
2320	7/12/2012	Libraries have something for everyone
2321	7/12/2012	I'm not sure if "services" includes the loaning of books and other materials, but if it does, it is extremely valuable for all in the community. If "services" means extra programs and groups that the library does, then I'm not sure, I've never tried to access those services through the library vs. other organizations.
2322	7/12/2012	I love all that the library offers. I would hate to see any of it disappear!
2323	7/12/2012	There is no substitute for information source than that of libraries.
2324	7/12/2012	Libraries services "should be" an economical way to allow the general public access to knowledge and educational resources. They enable people to be more self sufficient and better manage their lives.
2325	7/12/2012	The public has equal access to resources via a library, specifically computers, books, music, etc.
2326	7/12/2012	The library is a vital resource for students to access resources, to those seeking employment, for senior citizens and for all that enjoy reading.

2327	7/12/2012	On a limited income, I don't buy books, movies, magazines and music as often as I used to do. The library allows me to enjoy a greater variety of material than I would buy "just to see if I like it".
2328	7/12/2012	Because education is a lifelong process! When we cease learning about our world, our brain ceases to be effective. Zombies everywhere = scary!
2329	7/12/2012	I think access to reading material helps develop reading ability, which leads to an increase in the gaining of knowledge.
2330	7/12/2012	Important, but schools are the most important to me
2331	7/12/2012	I feel it is a privilege to have access to all that the library has to offer, but not a necessity
2332	7/12/2012	The library makes materials and other resources that I could not otherwise afford available. Library programs help people learn parenting skills and help young people become more independent learners. These programs help society in general and are more cost effective and appealing than remedial solutions later.
2333	7/12/2012	I cannot afford books for my family.
2334	7/12/2012	Books are very important for your continuing education and knowledge base.
2335	7/12/2012	Because there was a time when I frequented often for use of most resources.
2336	7/12/2012	Because access to reading materials shouldn't be limited by economic status
2337	7/12/2012	it's a high priority but not the highest priority--basics of food, shelter, safety, and health care are higher.
2338	7/12/2012	I think our libraries work at a sweet spot where sustainability, education, and community building intersect. Having a library in my neighborhood allows me to buy a lot fewer books, inspires me to go for a walk and maybe run into my neighbors. I also get to browse books and pick up some that I normally wouldn't but, but since they are free, I am more open to reading them.
2339	7/12/2012	I see libraries as a way to stay connected to information which is key to successful functioning of our society. Information is the key to success at so many levels -- you could write for days about this topic. I basically see the library as a key component of education which is necessary to eliminate problems like poverty, hunger, illness, social problems, etc, etc How we educate our citizens is key to how our society functions. The library is a place of equal access for all to these rich resources that allow each of us to tap into our potential.
2340	7/12/2012	With the high cost of books, DVDs, and CDs, it's nice to have access available, without any out of pocket expense. The amount of material available to the public is amazing and having the latest new release of books, DVDs, CDs is an extra added bonus. Even if we have to request something from another branch, it is available usually within a week, as long as it isn't in "high demand". The Gresham branch is clean, well lighted, very organized and plenty of seating available for those who want to stay a while and read or use their computer. <input type="checkbox"/> The staff are more than willing to assist anyone looking for material or make a suggestion of an author the person might like to try, especially parents with little kids, who have run out of ideas.
2341	7/12/2012	They are free.

2342	7/12/2012	As a senior citizen i get to mingle with people, read books that I could not afford to buy, excuse to get out of the house. Yeah!!!
2343	7/12/2012	Important for all ages and economic groups to have access to literary materials
2344	7/12/2012	Reading and being exposed to a world of ideas seems vital to our community and to ourselves I have been so grateful to have the library here as a resource. When my children were little I home schooled them and the library played a central part in their schooling. All three of my children are avid readers, all three are writers of one sort or another. I know the library contributed to their overall conscientiousness and integrity, imagination, and knowledge.[] Aside from the sweeping access it provides of books and resources that would be impossible to find available to the 'average' person- it represents to me the best in our culture. People come here to build their lives, seek and give support, share ideas,. The fact that it is built on a foundation of trust in the citizenry to borrow and return, and otherwise be responsible for what is offered brings out the better sides of people. The library is the heart of a community.[] Here is a song that I wrote once- a lopsided song with one verse and three choruses:[] [] I never know when you walk out that door,[] Just when you'll be coming back-[] I feel pretty sure that your[] heart is pure but your[] brain goes off the track...[] [] It's another Brain Derailment![] and it's looking pretty bad,[] If I had a dollar for every wreck you've had I could[] House the homeless, and spare the redwood trees,[] And keep open seven days a week[] all the[] closing public libraries.[] [] It's another Brain Derailment etc....[] I could feed the hungry and cure all disease-[] and keep open seven days a week[] All the closing public libraries[] [] It's another Brain Derailment...[] I could hire a full time chef,[] buy a cottage on the beach...[]
2345	7/12/2012	It's another Brain Derailment![] and it's looking pretty bad,[] If I had a dollar for every wreck you've had I could[] House the homeless, and spare the redwood trees,[] And keep open seven days a week[] all the[] closing public libraries.[] [] It's another Brain Derailment etc....[] I could feed the hungry and cure all disease-[] and keep open seven days a week[] All the closing public libraries[] [] It's another Brain Derailment...[] I could hire a full time chef,[] buy a cottage on the beach...[]

2346	7/12/2012	My original, three paragraphs disappeared a few minutes after writing them, unfortunately: [] In brief, libraries are the most important educational community resource available to all age and socio-economic and cultural groups and need to be available daily, at every branch, ever updated and expanded.
2347	7/12/2012	Libraries are universal access to information and knowledge. Plus a pillar of the community.
2348	7/12/2012	A vibrant library, with tax-supported services, provides education/information as well as entertainment/recreation, to all residents, regardless of income, education level or other demographic factors.
2349	7/12/2012	Compared to what other local services? Your question is vague and misleading. Compared to police and fire? Well, let's work on putting better survey questions together. Is this a high school project for extra credit? You also have spelling errors in your advance piece. Good grief!!!
2350	7/12/2012	There are other more immediate needs that social services provide (food, housing, emergency responders), but encouraging literacy and providing resources for job-seekers, language learners, and readers of all ages is important for the health and success of our community. A literate and engaged population is necessary for a functioning society.
2351	7/12/2012	Education ranks highest for me. Children should be our most important concern.
2352	7/12/2012	The library provides internet access to people that cannot afford home access- hopefully they use it for personal betterment rather than mindless entertainment. I think it is a neighborhood asset to have a place outside of school where children can read and be read to. I don't like to purchase and store books unless I know I will read them several times so I appreciate having access to the library's collection.
2353	7/12/2012	I want to choose "very important" for myself but in these difficult times, I think services to those experiencing homelessness or unemployment are more important.
2354	7/12/2012	Internet
2355	7/12/2012	I use the library several times a week and check out many items
2356	7/12/2012	Safety net services need to come first - critical services to poor are not being delivered at an acceptable level. Library needs to reduce its mission to core services like every other government service. It cannot be held harmless.
2357	7/12/2012	I have small children that I homeschool on a tight budget.
2358	7/12/2012	For people on a limited budget it's great to know one can go to the library check out resources books tapes videos music and read about the things we want to know about without having to go to a book store and buy them. It's great for the little ones to check out books learn to read and go to story time libraries are NEEDED
2359	7/12/2012	Many of the resources are available elsewhere.

		I am the son and brother of librarians so I am extremely prejudiced. That said, I LOVE to read.[]
2360	7/12/2012	And, I strongly believe that the failure of those of us who do love books to communicate our love of reading is a serious issue in many aspects of modern society and culture.
2361	7/12/2012	Knowledge is power, being able to get lost in a book is essential therapy for many people.
2362	7/12/2012	They are the most tangible form of community we have here. Access to information and imagination available to ALL with no discrimination.
2363	7/12/2012	Very very important
2364	7/12/2012	As a stay-home mother living on a somewhat limited income, I need a way to introduce my child to as many books as possible - not too mention keeping my own intellect stimulated. I also think it's a sign of a well-educated community when the library is thriving.
2365	7/12/2012	Libraries are the major local source of information for residents
2366	7/12/2012	I think it's a wonderful service to our community, but I do not want to spend anymore money than I already do to enjoy this service.
2367	7/12/2012	Because we taxpayers traditionally value our library services enough to support them, but could soon tire of this if their tax $$ investment in the system does not provide reasonable services. Closing all libraries on Mondays, which allows all library employees a 3-day weekend is not too appealing when you have the option of tweaking your calendar to better serve the community with a relatively easy fix (i.e. keeping at least one east county, west county, north county and south county library open at all times). I think that is most important to most users of the system as opposed to entirely closing a weekday access to the public.
2368	7/12/2012	Libraries are a basic service, secondary in importance only to safety, utilities and infrastructure
2369	7/12/2012	But I think with cut backs in the school system, it is another avenue for students to use.
2370	7/12/2012	I use the library alot
2371	7/12/2012	They are generally less important to me than schools, and services that save lives.
2372	7/12/2012	It is a treasured resource for education and community spirit.
2373	7/12/2012	Because we use the library as a family. All five of us use it on a daily or every other day basis. I also use it as an alternative to a home office sometimes. We don't have tv, home phone, or internet so we rely on the local library for a supplement.
2374	7/12/2012	Free access to the community
2375	7/12/2012	I have recently discovered that the wealth of information and assistance for those without personal pc's is incomparable. As a writer, I can write to my heart's content and send off articles to many prospective publishers, friends and families. Also, if one does not have a phone or TV it is also a way of communicating on an international level as well as some entertainment.
2376	7/12/2012	opportunity for everyone to access books and learning, get part of the community, makes a level playing field for any motivated though poor parent, any kid who works hard.

2377	7/12/2012	The availability of books and other library research tools are essential to maintaining an informed, curious, self- or otherwise educated community since libraries allow people to design their destinies by infusing people with ideas that empower them with abilities they need to think, learn, work, share, and live productively. All in community benefit from a well-used, easily accessible, well-funded library.
2378	7/12/2012	I want my child to be engaged and actively reading and learning, and i think the library helps with that.
2379	7/12/2012	We live in an information age yet people are becoming less literate (or failing to become literate in the first place). All our citizens need access to all forms of literature and information as well as trained experts (librarians) to help them access the material.
2380	7/12/2012	Being able to go to the library and check out/view old and current materials helps inspire, motivate, heal, comfort and educate people. If people spent more time at the library AND spent more time reading/learning, our world would be a more educated, peaceful and joyful place.
2381	7/12/2012	No reading no learning, no incentive to advance leads to low self esteem, leads to ascellerated
2382	7/12/2012	Because they are resourceful and useful. As in all things there is a hierarchy. The hierarchy includes: some where to live, refuse collection, sewage disposal, provision of: water, roads, gas, electricity, emergency services, etc. They are all competing for Local Authority funds. One hopes that Local Authorities raise funds at a level and for purposes that it believes the majority of the local community will support.[] [] After the essentials have been taken care of, the perception of what should be included at any one level of the pyramid of services becomes much broader, subjective and tends to be related to individuals circumstances eg: people with/without children, old people, rich/poor people etc.[] []
2383	7/12/2012	The Library Service has to compete in the area of General Education and other similar services. General Education is only one area funded and administered in part by Local Authorities. The others are alluded to above. There are hierarchies within the domain of individual Local Authority service areas and they need to be balanced in the light of available funds. This may mean that a priority one in the area of say, Housing may be at the absolute top of the list but a Housing priority 3 may be equal to say, a General Education priority 1.[] [] In order to get tax payers' support Local Authorities must convince tax payers that services are well managed. However, important a service may be (eg law and order), tax payers will not willingly support it if it is perceived as inefficient. [] [] Local Enterprise, which helps generate Local Authority funding, is also very important. It is generally and thankfully, more self sufficient but can still benefit from Local Authority support.[] []

2384	7/12/2012	They serve such a basic need for information, etc for everyone. I think they are great for supporting literacy for kids.
2385	7/12/2012	we have no policing of our neighborhood, despite some of the highest assessed values in Mult Co. If we can't keep our property safe and our families safe, we can't begin to think of library expenditures.
2386	7/12/2012	For all the reasons in the previous questions, answered from 1 through 6.
2387	7/12/2012	Libraries are one of the great democratizing agents. And one of the other such agents -- public schools -- is going downhill quickly!
2388	7/12/2012	Empowerment through self-education being freely available - something I deeply value.
2389	7/12/2012	Libraries provide a service to the community that cannot be found anywhere else, regardless of your socio-economic status or neighborhood.
2390	7/12/2012	Because I use them ALL the time. I'm keeping my brain alive by reading ... maybe some of my medical coverage should go to our library system???
2391	7/12/2012	It's important for an informed public to have access to public libraries. While libraries are not "free," they cost very little per taxpayer and give everyone, rich and poor alike, access to a wealth of information. Both individuals and society as a whole benefit when access to books and other information are available to anyone, regardless of whether they can afford books.
2392	7/12/2012	An educated public is essential to a democracy. And I love to find books, discover new authors, and research questions.
2393	7/12/2012	I get nearly all my reading material and videos/movies from the library
2394	7/12/2012	they are important to quality of living but not as much as Police, Fire, and School. I do think they go hand in hand with schools.
2395	7/12/2012	We have learned so much from the young readers group. I've learned of resources, met parents and learned how to read to a baby and toddler. Plus my kids have grown up going to the library and love reading and being there.
2396	7/12/2012	Access to resources for our kids, and a chance for them to meet new friends.
2397	7/12/2012	I appreciate borrowing movies and using the Internet. It seems many people use the library to do research or just to study.
2398	7/12/2012	There are certain services that are more important - police, fire, infrastructure - but libraries and parks are important in other ways - in the health of our community.
2399	7/12/2012	Makes a community more knowledgeable and therefore more diverse and interesting. Also for those that can't afford a computer in their home it is a way to access it for research, school, job search, and many of the other uses computers are needed for.
2400	7/12/2012	Literacy is very important in today's society, and there need to be resources available to each and every person in the community. Local libraries provide sources of information and skills that are valuable in educating people. With school libraries being cut also, it is imperative that public libraries remain strong so that kids and adults alike can access books without having to buy them.

2401	7/12/2012	People need to get their basic needs met, of food, shelter, healthcare; education is also essential, and I include the libraries as part of our education system, but more as a secondary/supplementary part.
2402	7/12/2012	I love libraries, period. But I go to one all too infrequently. However, as a caring person, I can understand why libraries are a vital asses to a well'read citizenry and many of the services lirbrarties provid are very important.
2403	7/12/2012	Important
2404	7/12/2012	Used daily
2405	7/12/2012	Libraries keep people learning. I'm a fan of intelligent people.
2406	7/12/2012	I love to read and it's great that I don't have to buy every book I want!
2407	7/12/2012	make Portland an attractive place to live; provides community center; libraries are cool as a preschool teacher I am continually impressing upon the parents of the childern I teach the importance of literecy in the future of their children. Many are low income and the library is the only place they can obtain the resources they need to improve the literacy skills of their children
2408	7/12/2012	They serve as neighborhood hubs
2409	7/12/2012	provides entertainment, learning possibilities, and way to keep up with current issues
2410	7/12/2012
2411	7/12/2012	I love to learn new things. The library has materials and resources that help me learn practical as well as information of interest to me. I do not have to depend on sometimes undependable Internet sources. The library is also a community center where neighborhood residents come together and share in something valuable to each of them in their own way.
2412	7/12/2012	Safety services should come first.
2413	7/12/2012	I rely on the library for my internet needs (don't have internet at home), my academic needs, and my entertainment needs. I feel inspired and fulfilled spending time in a place with other people of my neighborhood reading books, exchanging stories, and fueling our collective word-hungry hearts.
2414	7/12/2012	Heavy reader on a tight budget.
2415	7/12/2012	education is very important, freedom of information is very important
2416	7/12/2012	One of the few things that are free, provide everyone the opportunity to take an adventure by reading, provide internet to those who don't have computers, and close to my home
2417	7/12/2012	because i go to a new library for like 2 day
2418	7/12/2012	Because I want to read a book not a computer,notebook, kindle etc etc - I spend all day at a desk
2419	7/12/2012	I use the library at least twice a week. It is a valuable resource.
2420	7/12/2012	Libraries are the last true "public access" place. Anyone can go, regardless of...anything. It can be a safe haven for someone just needing somewhere to hang out, or provide resources for just about anything you could need.

2421	7/12/2012	Library services are great, and I am one who still loves to read a real, tangible book. However services related to public safety rank far above library services for me. With Portland being so anti-car we need to focus on transportation issues as well, since Trimet is tanking. If people are not safe, and cannot get to work, then they ultimately will not be owning homes which pay for the libraries. Libraries are a fabulous luxury, and we should feel very blessed to have as many as we do ... no matter how many days a week they're opened. (speaking of which, why not have off-set open days/hours, so some facility is open on any given day. Just because a library is only open 5 days/wk doesn't mean that they all must be open on the same days of the week.) Just saying ...
2422	7/12/2012	Because we are a democracy, and a democracy can't function without an educated public with access to information. The more readily available writing of all kinds is, and the more pleasant the environment associated with it, the more likely people are to develop an interest in reading and all that comes with it.
2423	7/12/2012	Usage.
2424	7/12/2012	just below essential services. Very important.
2425	7/12/2012	Because mosy people can no longer read write or spell. Being an employer it is sad how stupid our young adults are becoming.
2426	7/12/2012	The library gives me access to materials and information which would be denied to me otherwise. Employees are very helpful in my searches.
2427	7/12/2012	Libraries allow the public to access information.
2428	7/12/2012	Education and access to information are very important to me. I believe local governments are responsible for making those elements available. I love to read, but can't afford to buy books.[] []
2429	7/12/2012	Access to information is extremely important for a functioning democracy. Middle and working class people especially need libraries to improve themselves, for fulfilling leisure, and for the opportunity to become better-informed than broadcast news allows them to be.
2430	7/12/2012	I feel they are a vital resouce for everyone in the community
2431	7/12/2012	education/dissemination of information and ideas are very important
2432	7/12/2012	Libraries give a level playing field to everyone - no discrimination because of who you are, how much you are worth - anyone is welcome.
2433	7/12/2012	They rank with schools as social institutions that promote knowledge and learning, which are the foundation of a democracy.
2434	7/12/2012	Can't imagine the community without a good local library. Multnomah County seems to be doing a fine job, though the travel section at the Albina Branch is rather deplorable.

2435	7/12/2012	I see you're turning this survey into an opportunity to gather data about my use of the library, but what I want to tell you is that I feel absolutely blindsided by the decision to close the library one day per week! No one said anything about it as I was being asked to pay higher taxes - which I did support (now I wish I hadn't - I certainly won't next time). Why don't you just ask for the money you need to run the library? Don't ask me to pay and then withdraw services! Your actions strike me as underhanded and treacherous - probably not intentionally so, but that's how they strike me. I'm certainly not giving any more support to the library until I get some assurance of EXACTLY what services you intend to maintain in future. You've badly damaged your credibility.
2436	7/12/2012	I love to read and to share the joy of reading with others.
2437	7/12/2012	Free and accessible books and educational materials are a MUST HAVE to thrive in today's society. We need to be able to provide and attain knowledge for free in order to progress and sustain ourselves and our communities.
2438	7/12/2012	Encourage literacy and learning.
2439	7/12/2012	Personally, I use the library to check out books, movies, and cds, and to download from Freegal Music. I could probably afford to buy or rent these materials if that were the only option. Not everyone has enough money to do so. The contribution of the library system to the overall betterment of the county's residents is what is so important.
2440	7/12/2012	important for less fortunate citizens to have media and computer access
2441	7/12/2012	Of the public services I use most, the library is just behind transportation. I really value the ability to check out a book - almost any book I am interested in - and give it back. It's free and seems to be used by people of all different demographics, which I appreciate. My son loves to check and books and bring them back for other kids to read, and he loves the story times. The summer reading program helps me remember to sit and read to him, even as he gets older and more active. I love the library!
2442	7/12/2012	this is where I get my reading / viewing material
2443	7/12/2012	While I was in school, the library was a wonderful resource for my research, and many other students, from young to old, benefit as well.
2444	7/12/2012	not as important as services that save lives, but important to have free access for everybody and to assist with education, learning and provide support services for elderly and the young. Also important to preserve our culture.
2445	7/12/2012	See my earlier comments.
2446	7/12/2012	Our public library offers a good array of services to all residents--our public library is a truly democratic institution to educate and inform its patrons.
2447	7/12/2012	The Library is an amazing resource. I and my family have spent many hours fillid with reading and movies, also research for school assignments. Now as I head into my senior years, I am excited on all the books I can catch up on, and check out senior functions and hopefully volunteer some time, to give back! I love the Libaray!

2448	7/12/2012	reading is good
2449	7/12/2012	The libraries provide a service to all citizens. It is accessible and can help people better thier lives through the variety of resources available. It is a place where everyone can participate no matter what their socioeconomic status.
2450	7/12/2012	literacy and knowledge is the foundation of a healthy community
2451	7/12/2012	I check out four or five books every ten days. I belong to a book club and I get the recommended book from the library instead of buying it.
2452	7/12/2012	They are the basis for a literate society.
2453	7/12/2012	Fire, safety & emergency workers, and schools rank very important Public health & environmental services are somewhat important too
2454	7/12/2012	Our family uses the library system for education, entertainment, information, culture, and professional enhancement. At any given time our house is filled with dozens of library books, CDs, and DVDs. Along with the Internet and public radio the library system is our essential connection to the world. We are grateful for the level of service we get, but wish that the libraries could acquire more materials and stay open longer hours.
2455	7/12/2012	as a family, we use the library very frequently, especially due to it's location by schools and a park. but I would consider other public services like public safety services higher.
2456	7/12/2012	I love to read.
2457	7/12/2012	Public libraries provide access to educational resources which improve collective intelligence and cultural awareness within our community.
2458	7/12/2012	Police, Fire department, etc are admittedly very important and respond to critical needs and crisis. While the library provides a much quieter service it is offered to a much larger group of people that are not in an emergency state in their lives. the education, resources, computer access, support, all build the capacity for us to have a strong community in another way. The presence of libraries increases the ability for those who are unemployed to find jobs, which has a variety of positive effects on our community. Libraries also offer resources to low income folks who may not otherwise be able to access it on their own: computers, classes, books, etc. Libraries also create a strong community through connecting people through its various services. The process of having shared resources also has a HUGE environmental effect in that it saves the need for everyone to have their own personal copy of something. Rather it is shared among many people. The book Seven wonders for a Cooler Planet recognizes the library and its shared resources as potentially having one of the largest environmental impacts on our world.
2459	7/12/2012	They are a key resource for those that are more self-reliant. They provide access to other resources & information that get used in a variety of ways.

2460	7/12/2012	I rely on the library for mostly recreational use, checking out books and movies for pleasure. I have used it to supplement and sometimes replace expensive text books when I was in college and I've used it for access to language books and dual-language books when I volunteered with ESL students. I think the fact that it's there and offers such a wide range of materials makes it immensely valuable to the community.
2461	7/12/2012	Libraries encourage students to read. Reading encourages students to learn, both in school and outside of school.
2462	7/12/2012	Reading is so important and free access to books makes reading possible for many that wouldn't otherwise have it.
2463	7/12/2012	The library resources are incredibly important for low income people and families. They are probably our second strongest resource for improving literacy across classes, after our public schools. I worked as a teacher in East County and most of students' families could not buy books, but they were avid library users. The library was the only model of book and media literacy outside of school.
2464	7/12/2012	Access to info is vital in this day and culture. Computer access and abundant current reading materials is crucial for the citizens who live in an urban environment like Portland. Staying connected to our culture and regular access to the internet and research materials keeps our people vibrant, informed, educated, current, and skilled.
2465	7/12/2012	because I use it a lot.
2466	7/12/2012	I think our library is so very important to me because it represents a way for someone to move towards the American Dream, or to enjoy a part of it, by providing access to education and information. Reading and critical thinking are crucial skills in today's world, but they have to be applied to something to be of use. Our library system fills that void, providing a necessary service to our community. Forget "Bread and roses," it's "Bread and books" nowadays.
2467	7/12/2012	Libraries are invaluable resources.
2468	7/12/2012	I cannot progress, being from Scottsdale AZ, with the books they have there. Yours are better.
2469	7/12/2012	Because I use it constantly.
2470	7/12/2012	I don't have internet access @ home and I can't afford to buy or rent movies and books. It's also a cornerstone for any community as well as for families and children. I think libraries are one of most important things for our country to help us learn and grow.
2471	7/12/2012	I believe libraries make up a core component necessary to an educated citizenry. And, I love to read!
2472	7/12/2012	SERVICES not so much. For job hunting, as an example, there's worksource. For small business there's Fed Ex Office, etc.[] I read ALOT, and appreciate libraries. I feel we should be teaching their value to our young people so they grow to be better educated. One who reads is smarter than one who doesn't.

2473	7/12/2012	Because they offer equal opportunity and access to all demographics for reading materials and the internet.
2474	7/12/2012	Reading and access to other media are educational are very important.
2475	7/12/2012	Libraries provide basic services that are hard to come by for many people.
2476	7/12/2012	Having access to a variety of ideas and information is important to our culture.
2477	7/12/2012	I use the library occaisionally but really appreciate that I don't have to buy every book that I want to read and also an have access to a wider range of materials than I normally would.
2478	7/12/2012	BUT shoud work VOLONTIR - from welfer !!! We do not wont pay TAX and work for lazy people . All welfer peapl shoud work ! Tough to say - you should have provided at least several examples of what 'other local public services' are. [] Swimming pools? portland doesn't have any, but I would rank them more important[] Parks? about the same, but probably cheaper than libraries so less of an issue[] Saturday Market / Food Pods - definitely more important than those[] [] Most (all?) other public services provide no educational benefit across the spectrum.
2480	7/12/2012	The library has always been a vital resource to me. Reading, research, job hunting, internet access, a reference librarian available for help, a quiet place to relax and read and expand the mind. I also think it's vital that people are able to educate themselves if college is not affordable and the library has resources to get some college level education. The library makes resources available to all, not just the elite or wealthy. Who can afford to have their own personal library at home? Only the wealthy. Funding goes to harmful things in this country like subsidizing aviation fuel and tax-free aviation fuel which contributes a lot of fossil fuels toward global warming. The library is an important resource for finding out about what's really going on, where our tax dollars go, and what we can do to fight it, so the government works for the people, not against them.
2481	7/12/2012	Well, my family and I love to read and wouldn't be able to read nearly as many books as we do now w/o our local library.
2482	7/12/2012	It is very important the everyone has access to books and information no matter what their economic status is or where they live! Not having local public library's would be a way of censoring information from underprivileged individuals.
2483	7/12/2012	My son goes to the library nearly every day, especially in the summer. It is a great way for him to get exposed to many great authors and books, and he loves it.
2484	7/12/2012	Because I am afraid that if libraries start closing future generations won't appreciate reading at all and tangible novels will be a frivolous thing for the rich. Feeling the physical pages of a book is one of my favorite parts of reading and if I didn't have access to real books any more I probably wouldn't read, and that would break my heart.

2485	7/12/2012	Communities need good libraries. All local public services are important, though. This is a terrible question to have to ask.
2486	7/12/2012	Education is the best way to serve our youth. We need to educate and help our youth function in life and the library has the facilities for most programs and ways to benefit. For those that can't afford to buy, the library is the only option.
2487	7/12/2012	Literacy and the ability to locate information is critical to our society. Reading is very important to our family. We are also trying to teach our children not to over consume. Sharing books a the library addresses both of these areas.
2488	7/12/2012	We could go to a bookstore and buy, but we enjoy our trips to the library as a family even more. My older son is also learning patience by putting books on hold rather than the instant gratification of buying.
2489	7/12/2012	Because they are services I use on a regular basis, they make literature and other resources accessible for everyone in the community, and they are a cornerstone of a free and democratic nation.
2490	7/12/2012	I won't rank library services on the same level as police, fire and other basic infrastructure. However, I consider libraries a standard of community-provided services. If communities stop supporting their libraries, whether they realize it or not they are saying "no" to local education, social services, and community engagement.
2491	7/12/2012	So vital to our community Because we use it. Our kids love getting kid DVDs and we like to check our CDs. (rather than [] pay for the music on itunes.)[]
2492	7/12/2012	However I do see how libraries may slowly become more irrelavent in our society as all these same kids movies can be found on streaming Netflix or somewhere else online. No one buys CDs anymore as music can be bought online. However again, since it is free, we still check out music from the library for our iphone/ipods. The e-reader trend is growing, so hard copy books are becoming old-fashioned and not environmental. The cool thing is that the library is staying up with the times by offering digital media/ebooks/etc.
2493	7/12/2012	I am at the library almost daily no matter where I am living. In my purse there are 4 library cards. Local library services are important to DEMOCRACY!!!! Public education and libraries, public transportation, parks, and sidewalks are the cornerstones of my life. I have lived in New York City and in Portland.
2494	7/12/2012	Because anyone can use your services, other (public0 services require you to be a part of some kind of program
2495	7/12/2012	I grew up going to the library so I know it's a great resource, and I still use it regularly even though I have a kindle.
2496	7/12/2012	it's ridiculous to ask us to choose between services--change the system to prioritize all social services.

2497	7/12/2012	They're one of the more common services I use, but other services would be much harder to do without (water, sewer, garbage, police, fire, etc.)
2498	7/12/2012	I value reading.
2499	7/12/2012	I cannot imagine my life without the local libraries that have sustained me throughout all the stages of my life, from childhood on up to my current adult existence. It is a place where I can check out new books, CD's, and movies, join a community group based on a shared interest, and it is a place where I know dedicated people work to educate and support their fellow humans. A world without libraries is a world not worth living in (or on).
2500	7/12/2012	I believe it is important for the community to have free access to reading materials, multimedia, and publications such as magazines and newspapers. It is also important to have affordable access to printers, copiers and the internet. Most people cannot afford to have these things in their own homes. We are maintaining an educated and literate community by keeping the libraries open. Not too mention is great to share materials. There is no need to own all the books and media documents we use in a lifetime. We can reduce material usage by sharing materials at our local libraries.
2501	7/12/2012	The library provides many free services that are accesible to all citizens. Having several branches in town assures access by all.
2502	7/12/2012	"Knowledge is power" Need a legitimate authorized source of information.
2503	7/12/2012	Existence and use reflect the values of a civilized society.
2504	7/12/2012	Great resources and networking gathering for social and cultural lectures on up to date information.
2505	7/12/2012	Libraries are the foundation of an informed and education community.
2506	7/12/2012	It's important to have access to books and reading, most people can't afford bookstores and libraries are so beneficial in so many ways as well as for access to computers for those who don't have one.
2507	7/12/2012	Because literacy is critical to personal and professional success, and libraries are spring boards for programs that help the young, differently abled, unemployed/underemployed, immigrants, non-native speakers access skills and resources they desperately need. Libraries also represent a communal gathering place or "third place" desperately needed in modern society.
2508	7/12/2012	Education is key to a healthful community. Libraries provide easy access for all demographics.
2509	7/12/2012	Because they draw on resources you don't have. I want a library - one that has all the newest releases, is open 6 days a week with evening/weekend hours and has a good website (yours is fantastic). Everything else is fluff and can be obtained elsewhere. let those who use things like story time pay for them.
2510	7/12/2012	education

2511	7/12/2012	Learning to read and having a place to get books is important for development, regardless of age. Reading teaches kids, specifically those at a young age just learning about books, many things - creativity, self-control to actually sit for an extended period and get immersed in a story, empathy, and the obvious phonics and vocabulary skills.
2512	7/12/2012	I cannot afford to purchase most of the material I like to use. As a senior, I need help and services to keep me in my home. []
2513	7/12/2012	Library services allow me to have access to books, DVD's, newspapers and computers that I wouldn't have if the library was not there.[] Not having the library, would limit my access to the world around me.
2514	7/12/2012	because that is wear i learn and find good books in a nice library and, because at the library kids can learn the value of a good book.
2515	7/12/2012	Library services are very important but the wording of the question implies I should rank the library among other services and health care, snap benefits, and the like are more important because they provide food and medicine to people who can't afford it. Otherwise, go library! Yay!
2516	7/12/2012	I have used library services for over 50 years; holding a book in one's hands out-entertains tv and computer screens for the growing population of seniors, and children must have the opportunity to learn the same appreciation for real books.
2517	7/12/2012	because education is the only way to get ahead, and I don't mean just schooling. I think that knowledge is what the library is all about. It helps level the playing field. I may not need the library for say, internet or computer skills to get a job, but my neighbor does. A way to get ahead should be available to all members of the community.
2518	7/12/2012	It is a place one can come to research, relax, and have a self-paced learning environment. That is important to all citizens. It is also important to child for an outlet to grow and stay off the streets!
2519	7/12/2012	Education is key to our society. The library is key to education, particularly pre-school age reading--which is critical and not addressed by the public school system.
2520	7/12/2012	The range of services, the affordability (which is pretty much "free"), the audience (everyone) and the quality are unmatched by any other public service.
2521	7/12/2012	Reading is essential to a free and democratic populace.
2522	7/12/2012	reading is important to us all I feel that reading and its attendant power are keys to a fuller, richer life. Books unlock doors into the world in ways beyond description. On a more basic level, reading skills are crucial to finding and keeping employment and to helping families understand their environment and feel empowered to participate in society and its privileges and responsibilities.
2523	7/12/2012
2524	7/12/2012	It's where I got most of my information and entertainment.
2525	7/12/2012	Reading is one of my favorite hobbies, yet I have no need/wish to accumulate and store books through purchase.

2526	7/12/2012	Library services cross all cultural and socio-economic boundaries. They allow everyone access to information and entertainment to improve their lives. They are able to strengthen communities, and connect people and ideas. They support the lifelong learning needed for people to be able to function in a technologically complex world. They are one of the few places where diverse members of the community can interact in positive and meaningful ways. And I like to read.
2527	7/12/2012	I don't have the budget to buy books and I read a lot. ALL of my books come from the library. Disappointed on how difficult it is to access e-books.
2528	7/12/2012	Very important - I love books, learning, and movies!
2529	7/12/2012	They are the key to an equitably engaged and intelligent citizenry.
2530	7/12/2012	computer access
2531	7/12/2012	Libraries are central to an informed citizenry, which is critical to democracy's success.
2532	7/12/2012	The public needs a place for children to read and to socialize. The public library needs to meet these too needs by being opened LONGER during the summer.
2533	7/12/2012	Libraries, along with public schools, are the life blood of democracy. They give everyone the opportunity to educate themselves, enrich and enhance their lives, and feel part of a local (or larger) community. Libraries are one of the greatest contributors to keeping the level of discourse elevated, enabling society to operate in a fair and just manner.[] [] I LOVE libraries! ...and I am especially proud of Multnomah County Libraries! The libraries and the library system have been and remain a "Central" (get it?! ;) element in the positive development of Portland and the County. Yay!
2534	7/12/2012	Libraries are a great source of food for the mind; an intellectual supermarket.
2535	7/12/2012	Library services are very important to us as a family.
2536	7/12/2012	Access to information
2537	7/12/2012	Obviously not life and death but very important to quality of life
2538	7/12/2012	Just because it is the public service I use the most.
2539	7/12/2012	Libraries keep our culture educated. We don't want to become a bunch of dummies.
2540	7/12/2012	The central branch is the closest to me so I'm lucky! Everyone should be able to use the library so local libraries are important for those who need them.
2541	7/12/2012	Very good value for tax dollar spent. System is one of best in nation.
2542	7/12/2012	Reading is important. A public library provides access to all regardless of age, class or anything else.
2543	7/12/2012	I use them for books and movies and television
2544	7/12/2012	Local libraries are extremely important to keep educational material, internet, and intellectual stimulation available to everyone not just those with the most money. Without libraries the quality of life here would greatly be inhibited.
2545	7/12/2012	If you are comparing it to Fire Dept and Police Dept. then it is at the somewhat important level.

2546	7/12/2012	I borrow books quite often
2547	7/12/2012	libraries are a source of information. we all need more information to make decisions, to be informed (duh), to see other members of our community that we might not otherwise, to learn new things, etc.
2548	7/12/2012	The library is the educator to all. It promotes knowledge and truth without which our civilization devolves into barbarism.
2549	7/12/2012	Because, as I am now newly retired, I read a lot of library books.
2550	7/12/2012	I spend a lot of time there
2551	7/12/2012	love of reading and social interaction
2552	7/12/2012	Because a library offers unlimited resources
2553	7/12/2012	While they are not vital to my day- to -day life, I certainly use them and appreciate them.
2554	7/12/2012	the labraries help those who don't have the resorces to learn or gain knowlage.
2555	7/12/2012	While the library is very important for many reasons, I feel that fire and human services are more important.
2556	7/12/2012	They help kids and adults to read. They are current with modern technology to keep citizens[] informed. They offer services for people with little means to keep up and improve themselves.
2557	7/12/2012	I use the library a lot and it has been a tremendous resource for my family
2558	7/12/2012	They are not more important than fire and ambulance services or police but i feel they are right up their with service to the public: they support education, they offer education not always available to people and they are a tremendous informational source for all inspite of computers! They offer entertainment to people who might not otherwise have available such enriching and enjoyable opportunities. They are a tremendous support source for Mental Health and Human Development...and they are a safe haven for many.
2559	7/12/2012	Reading is knowledge and power. It's important that everyone has access to the libraries and that they all are given tools to read.
2560	7/12/2012	Besides the fact that I worked mostly in public libraries before I was diagnosed with MS, I remember being taken to early readers book clubs at a young age at the libraries. The library has always been an integral part of my life, and I believe it needs to be for the youth of today's and tomorrow's experience because learning will always be a vital to life.

2561	7/12/2012	I went to college in Boston, and frequented the public library there. It was an elaborate, massive building in the heart of the city. Engraved on its front facade were these words: "erected for the diffusion of knowledge and the benefit of the people." It had been built in the 1880's, spurred by the wealthy elite of the city that still believed in those words and the power to transform civic society in a positive way. However, the building now is neglected and disorganized. I was surprised that my own local library in Portland was in much better condition and management. It shows that even in the bastion of American literacy and progress the library was not immune from the pitfalls of a society in decline. Libraries are not only places of wisdom and knowledge, they are symbols to a societies values and future. They must be fought for to the last.
2562	7/12/2012	There are lots of other sources of information. Libraries full of books are an anachronism.
2563	7/12/2012	It offers access to information that may otherwise be difficult to obtain. It further serves to reinforce the community because it acts as a common ground for all different types of ethnicities, ages and life experiences. It supports the idea of raising the bar from mediocrity.
2564	7/12/2012	I used internet resources and I have a kindle but I also enjoy reading books and prefer checking them out over buying them. Also the easy access to resources for jobseekers, seniors and children.
2565	7/12/2012	Because the library can be and many times is the source to find out about and contact "Other public services.
2566	7/12/2012	I read a lot.
2567	7/12/2012	access to information is important to a free society.
2568	7/12/2012	I read every day, a book a day if I can, no matter what else goes on in my life. This is how I learn about the world.
2569	7/12/2012	I am a (computer) consultant and see the library as a critical work location when I am not actively employed.
2570	7/12/2012	Because I use the library in Gresham all the time. Usually several days each week for books, videos, and the computer. I'm on SSD, and it's a source of entertainment for me that is free, and educational. I don't know what I would do without access to it.
2571	7/12/2012	free resource and public space
2572	7/12/2012	I didn't make it very important only compared to police and fire services. But local public library services are very important!
2573	7/12/2012	Libraries are important resources for the community.
2574	7/12/2012	Access to the knowledge is access to a better life.
2575	7/12/2012	Somewhat important, becoming moreso. Especially good online and mobile services for account access, interlibrary loan, and branch hours/access.

2576	7/12/2012	I prefer not to buy books, or have internet or a computer at home. I would much rather use these things at the library and share this resource with others. I want a clean, safe, quiet and comfortable place to spend time. Libraries are one of our greatest public resources and I use libraries extensively. Please keep the hours open longer and keep buying books, movies, magazines and such for public use.
2577	7/12/2012	Libraries have been an important part of my life since I first printed my name on that paper card with the little metal plate. Free access to knowledge (and thats really what a library is - a house for knowledge) is vital to any community.
2578	7/12/2012	Because I have been a reader all my life, and now that I am a retired senior, I especially appreciate access to a library that I can walk to.
2579	7/12/2012	Computer access for job seekers
2580	7/12/2012	Research is an important part of my profession, and I frequently use the library for background studies.
2581	7/12/2012	I'm 33, grew up in Portland, and I've benefited so much from our libraries' wealth of resources. It's AWESOME. I hope everyone can access these resources, and all the enrichment that comes from them.
2582	7/12/2012	(The form's button isn't working - I wanted to select very important) <input type="checkbox"/> Libraries are a source of hope, education, dreams, and assistance. They are also great venues for public meeting spaces and classes.
2583	7/12/2012	Nothing is more important than education, learning, developing understanding of the world, stimulating one's mind, developing one's potential through reading, research, community, and respect for those with whom we live in our local and global communities. These skills and qualities come through books and information found in libraries.
2584	7/12/2012	They provide education, access to information and computers which are all essential for modern life and can be difficult for low-income families to access otherwise
2585	7/12/2012	they help equalize the community
2586	7/12/2012	The library is important to the public and their children. It gives our children a safe haven to go to while parents work and to learn from the books about our history, culture and others culture.
2587	7/12/2012	Schools are suffering just as much if not more.
2588	7/12/2012	I am a mother of young children and having a good, public neighborhood library is important to their education and healthy development as kids -- it's especially important for the neighborhoods in the summertime when kids are not in school and need something GOOD to keep them busy (rather than getting into trouble).
2589	7/12/2012	Because in this economy, food, housing and health care are of greater importance to greater numbers of people.
2590	7/12/2012	I use the library and the online download system very often. This is without a doubt the public service that I use most and am most grateful for.

2591	7/12/2012	The library gives me access to a wealth of information, media, and materials I would not be able to afford to pay for. It employees people who are willing to help me navigate difficult electronic sources. It is a place where I can connect with my community. It is a place I can browse in (a rarity in these days of shopping online). It offers me materials in any format I prefer (print, recorded, electronic, etc.). It has an awesome zine collection that is probably one of the best in the country and is something that is of value to our community. I can connect with librarians in any way I want (in person, email, phone, chat). I could go on....
2592	7/12/2012	The staff has been very helpful to me.
2593	7/12/2012	It is an important way that we have access to information that is of benifit to a variety of people. Whether it be looking for ways to improve in skills, hobbies, education, or even just the practical day to day 'how to' information, it can all be found at the public library. The library also provides reference material for recreation and entertainment. These are all made available at no cost, which is so necessary especially in times of economical difficulties. In addition to this, the public library is a great place to introduce children to the joys and excitement of reading and learning.
2594	7/12/2012	You do not state examples of "other local public services." If you mean police and fire, obviously they are more important, though I have never personally needed to use the for an incident. I personally use and see others use the Central Library every week, and I feel my tax dollars are well spent here in the same way that I believe that they are well-spent when I see hundreds of people using Forest Park or the Waterfront Esplanade. The libraries and parks are places where people can enrich their lives in a healthy way, and they are enjoyed by a wide variety of people from all walks of life....truly "public."
2595	7/12/2012	It seems everyone should have access to books for free. How horrible it would be to have to pay to enter a library or not to have them at all! Or even to have the hours so limited that anyone could not visit with their schedule.
2596	7/12/2012	Knowledge is power! The library is a great gathering place for the community year round, and its primary function is centered around one of my favorite things--BOOKS!
2597	7/12/2012	We depend on the library as a safe place for my daughter to have regular interaction with her dad (visitation). by coming to the library weekly, we have a great place to be regardless of his ability to show up. cutting back on hours is limiting our options for meeting with him. we also rely on the library for internet access, computer access (including printing, etc...) I enjoy the large selections of books on a wide variety of topics.
2598	7/12/2012	Not necessarily for me, but for all who use the library. It is one of the few public services we have in times of well being or in need.
2599	7/12/2012	I am a life-long learner and big reader. I could not imagine life without the facility.
