The Regional Arts & Culture Council (RACC) connects artists and creatives to opportunity and access. An independent nonprofit organization, the RACC supports the creative economy in greater Portland by equitably providing funding and services to artists and art organizations; managing and growing a diverse, nationally acclaimed, public art program; and developing enduring public and private partnerships. Through advocacy and engagement, RACC is building support for our community of artists, arts education, and arts and culture. The board provides organizational leadership and advises on political issues, oversees RACC's fiscal policies and budget processes, is responsible for review, recommendation, and oversight of RACC policies and procedures, and oversees policies, sets goals and provides curatorial guidance for the selection, placement and maintenance of works of art. Why are you interested in joining the board, and what relevant experience would you bring?*

Arts and culture help spark conversations, spur social change and make our community strong. But too many of our residents – including communities of color, immigrants and refugees, and people with disabilities – experience vast disparities in terms of access to publicly funded services, including arts and culture. RACC is committed to ensuring that everyone in our region has equal access to arts and the fundamental right to express their culture through the arts. What experiences, perspectives and values would you bring to RACC's equity work? *You can view RACC's equity statement here: <https://racc.org/about/equity/> **

Please describe your current and past community involvement. What organizations, issues and communities have you been involved with?*

Optional: If you wish to submit a resume, you may email it to community.involvement@multco.us.
