What Does the Hands of Wonder Program Do?

The Hands of Wonder Garden Program is part of the Juvenile Services Division Community Interface Services Unit. This program encourages youth to meaningfully reflect on the ripple effect of their actions, both in negative ways when they cause harm and need to take accountability for it, and in positive ways in giving back to their community. The program also teaches youth valuable job skills that will prepare them for employment in their own community. Each day youth are able to earn incentive money by participating in a curriculum designed to teach youth about the impact of their actions, chart a course for making things right, and give youth tools to make better choices in the future. Youth also learn about organic gardening and related skills. Hands of Wonder is an opportunity to leave the system with an improved attitude, sense of belonging, and strengthened social bonds that serve as a new foundation for youth to be healthy members of our community.

The Community Interface Services Unit provides diversion opportunities for youth through alternative interventions in place of juvenile legal system involvement. CIS also partners with community organizations and other systems serving youth to maximize effective services and positive outcomes for justice-involved youth through removing barriers to education, employment and treatment (when needed).

Internship Description:

This internship position will provide a wide variety of technical and paraprofessional duties. The intern will assist staff teaching youth gardening, growing, and harvesting produce, as well as support staff in leading restorative justice based circles and activities. This will happen either virtually or in-person depending on COVID restrictions at the time of the internship. Interns will help youth by role-modeling proper workplace communication and ethical practices, as well as serving as mentors and supportive adults. We welcome students who are excited about working with small groups of youth ages 15-18 who have experience or interest in restorative justice, and gardening/farming and would like the opportunity to work with justice-involved youth while getting their hands dirty.

Additionally, work will also include participation in the development of a Youth Justice Advisory Council. The Youth Justice Advisory Council will be the official youth policy body advising the Juvenile Services Division, made up of young people who are currently or formerly involved in the juvenile justice system. This will be a new Council that strives to provide a voice for youth in the Juvenile Services Division's work.

Responsibilities include:

- Support the preparation and delivery of restorative justice circles and/or activities on topics such as personal values, hope, empathy, and strengthening our communities.
- Assist and participate with staff in instructing youth in gardening/farming related tasks (i.e. weeding, planting, nurturing and harvesting vegetables and herbs).
- Maintain and update files
- Promote positive community relations and customer service with system partners, providers and other organizations to maximize collaboration and partnership
- Prepare project reports, progress summaries, spreadsheets, general letters and other written material.
- Attend and participate in staff meetings and training/workshops, which provide for an increasing awareness and general knowledge of restorative justice practices, juvenile justice systems and policies.
- Schedule and coordinate off-site volunteer activities for program youth with new or existing partner organizations.

Education and Experience Qualifications:

- Experience working with or personal lived experience with justice-involved youth and/or youth with mental health or substance use disorders.
- Ability to operate or learn to operate job related gardening/farming tools.

- Skill to effectively communicate both verbally and in writing to share information and to receive work assignments.
- Skill in active listening, interviewing, and the ability to interpret nonverbal communication.
- Excellent customer service and ability to work with the general public, co-workers, and clients representing various diverse backgrounds.
- Ability to prepare clear, concise, and accurate reports, correspondence and other documents for various audiences.
- Ability to exercise good judgment, diplomacy, and tact in dealing with sensitive, complex and confidential issues and situations; and deal professionally, compassionately and calmly with individuals that may act inappropriately, be verbally abusive, hostile and/or in crisis.
- Ability to adapt to changes in work environment, work assignments and/or changes in priorities.
- The selected student must be able to successfully pass a background investigation, performed by the Department of Community Justice. This process can take up to 4 – 6 weeks to complete.

COVID-19 Vaccination Requirement: To protect the health of the community and employees, Multnomah County requires employees to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 or have an approved medical or religious exception as a qualification of employment.

The rule applies to all employees, as allowable by law. Candidates who receive an offer of County employment must provide proof of vaccination upon hire or submit an exception request prior to their start date.
