

Local Public Safety Coordinating Council Multnomah County

What Works in Public Safety

Juvenile Justice Grounded in Youth Development Friday, December 9, 2011, Portland, Oregon

Juvenile Justice Grounded in Youth Development December 9, 2011

AGENDA

When	What	Who
8:00	Registration and Coffee
8:30	Welcome	LPSCC Co-Chairs Mayor Sam Adams and Commissioner Judy Shiprack Attendee introductions
		Attendee introductions
9:00	Introduction	Judge Nan Waller Chief Family Court Judge, Multnomah County Circuit Court
9:05	National Trends in Juvenile Law	Judge Patricia M. Martin President, National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges
10:05	Break
10:15	Good Maladjustment: Interpreting Misbehavior in Light of Brain Development	Jonathan Cloud Consultant, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Project Safe Neighborhoods, Weed & Seed Initiatives
11:45	Buffet Lunch
12:15	Predicting and Preventing Involvement in the Criminal Justice System	Hill M. Walker, Ph.D. Co-Director, University of Oregon Institute on Violence and Destructive Behavior
1:15	Break
1:30	Prevention and Intervention Strategies in Schools and the Criminal Justice System	Thalia González, J.D. Assistant Professor, Occidental College
		Karen Gray, Ph.D. Superintendent, Parkrose School District and other guests
2:45	Break
3:00	Panel Discussion: What Works for Youth in Oregon	Moderated by Christina McMahan Assistant Director, Department of Community Justice, Juvenile Services Division, Multnomah County
		Featuring Judge Martin, Judge Waller, Mr. Cloud, Dr. Walker, Professor González, Dr. Gray, and other invited guests
4:15	Closing	Commissioner Shiprack
4:30	End

Featured Speakers

Judge Patricia M. Martin is President of the National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges. Judge is Presiding Judge of the Child Protection Division, Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, and has served on the bench since 1996. She is a member and past chair of the Supreme Court of Illinois Judicial Conference Study Committee on Juvenile Justice and a member of the Illinois Supreme Court Special Committee on Child Custody Issues. Judge Martin's recent honors include the 2010 Service to the Community Award from the Resolution Systems Institute, and the 2007 C.F. Stradford Award, given each year by the State's Attorney's Office to distinguished attorneys in the African-American community.

Jonathan I. Cloud has over twenty-five years of experience in child, youth, and family case management, program administration, and program development. He is a Trainer and Strategic Consultant for the Office of luvenile lustice and Delinquency Prevention's (O||DP) Title V luvenile Delinquency Prevention training and technical assistance, O||DP's Project Safe Neighborhoods and Weed & Seed Initiatives, and for O||DP's national demonstration project on the commercial sexual exploitation of children. Jonathan is the author of Parenting the Guardian Class: Validating Spirited Youth, Ending Adolescence, and Renewing America's Greatness, which calls for empowering youth rather than controlling them.

Dr. Hill Walker is co-director of the University of Oregon's Institute on Violence and Destructive Behavior (IVDB). Walker's research interests include social skills assessment and intervention, violence prevention, early intervention, school safety, and longitudinal research. Hill Walker received the Council for Exceptional Children Research Award in 1993, and the University of Oregon Presidential Medal in 2000. Walker is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Oregon Social Learning Center and is a consultant to the Citizens Crime Commission, an affiliate of the Portland, Oregon, Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce.

Thalia González is Assistant Professor of Politics at Occidental College. Her research and teaching interests include, juvenile justice, civil rights, the organization and practice of community based legal practice, economic development, and the intersection between law and organizing. Since 2008, Professor González has worked with the North High School Restorative Justice Program in Denver, CO engaging in research on school-based restorative justice practice as a model to improve school safety, promote student performance, and increase student engagement without a disproportionate reliance on suspensions and expulsions.