Project Clean Slate for Juveniles	Roy stated this was an award winning program (with only 6 staff) which allows qualifying individuals to help remove some of the barriers to employment, housing, driving and other opportunities that have assisted over 8,000 people since July 2005. They are currently limited to Multnomah County folks only who must attend mandatory personal and community responsibility classes ($200) and be sincerely dedicated to changing their life course. Approved clients will be required to perform community service in exchange for all or part of the delinquent traffic fines, must be	If you have questions or need more information, contact: Roy Jay Operation Clean Slate 4300 NE Fremont Street Suite 220 Portland, OR 97211 (503) 244-5794 Projectcleanslate.com

Rob Halverson Community Justice Manager Department of Community Justice	Research Partner - Bill Feyerherm will conduct a 3-year evaluation The concept of the intervention team at case level involving police will be a "wraparound" type intervention and blend easily with the new Functional Family Probation Services model. There will need to be a community gang assessment completed to get an idea of what is currently happening - this assessment is mandatory for all OJDDP grants. By receiving this grant, we will be able to take a slightly different approach in getting all stakeholders involved in case planning since it will be a coordinated effort combining both planning and implementing at the same time.	JSD Youth Development Services Juvenile Service Division 1401 NE 68th Street Portland, OR 97213 (503) 988-4603 rob.p.halverson@co.multnomah.or.us http://www.co.multnomah.or.us/dcj/jcj.shtml
Need for Joint Case Staffing for Cross-Over Youth Abbey Stamp Court Improvement Coordinator	The team that implemented the Crossover Youth Practice Model (CYPM) continues to meet twice monthly. One of the meetings is with Jerry Burns (DHS), Dave Koch and Judge Waller. Here, the team staffs challenging cases. The staffing both moves the case along and helps identify system obstacles for crossover youth. For example, DHS, DCJ, OYA and the Court are discussing placement barriers for crossover youth. Our agencies pay different amounts for the same service, some child welfare placements will not tolerate acting-out behavior, etc. For questions about staffing or getting involved in CYPM implementation and barrier busting, call Abbey. Attached please find information a one-day symposium, "Safety, Fairness, and Stability: Repositioning Juvenile Justice and Child Welfare to Engage Families and Communities" on Friday, May 13, 2011. The symposium is put on by the Center for Juvenile Justice Reform at Georgetown University. http://www.ncjfcj.org/content/view/1395/347/	If you have questions or need more information, contact: Abbey Stamp, LCSW Juvenile Court Improvement Coordinator Multnomah County Family Court Services 1401 NE 68th Avenue Portland, OR 97213 o: 503.988.3383 c: 503.816.1609 f: 503.988.3494 abbey.stamp@co.multnomah.or.us

Open Discussion David Koch Deputy Director Juvenile Service Division	This is a reminder of the ... Functional Family Probation Services (FFPS) Introduction Event WHAT: FFPS is a case management approach that reorients the focus of juvenile justice workers charged with supervising youth in the community. Drawn from key concepts of the Blueprint program Functional Family Therapy, FFPS integrates assessment, supervision and intervention by clarifying the probation officer's role and how it changes during the course of supervision. FFPS answers juvenile justice workers questions about:	If you have questions or need more information, contact: David Koch Deputy Director Juvenile Service Division 1401 NE 68th Street Portland, OR 97213 (503) 988-4171
