Executive Summary

Providing adults under supervision wraparound services is an effective strategy, especially for those classified as high risk to re-offend. These services can include outpatient alcohol and drug treatment. Alcohol/drug treatment addresses a major criminal risk factor and is a necessary correctional intervention if DCJ is to continue to be successful in reducing recidivism. Other services such as mental health counseling, vocational assistance, mentoring, and housing are also essential to provide.

Program Summary

Alcohol and drug treatment services are provided through contracts with nine non-profit providers who are dually licensed to provide alcohol and drug treatment and mental health services. Contracted treatment programs are equipped to respond to culturally-specific needs, to provide mental health treatment, and to address criminal risk factors in addition to addiction to drugs or alcohol.

With the expansion of Medicaid and private forms of insurance, some clinical services previously supported by the DCJ budget will now be reimbursed through health insurance. DCJ will continue to provide funding for clinical services for those offenders eligible for treatment who do not have insurance. In addition, funding is provided to support treatment interventions for criminal risk factors such as antisocial thoughts and attitudes, antisocial peers, impulsivity and poor problem solving skills, anger management and so on. Effective interventions for offenders should integrate addictions treatment with treatment for criminality.

This program offer supports a recovery system of care which includes comprehensive support for recovery in addition to counseling, such as stable and drug free housing, peer mentors, and vocational assistance. A recovery system of care better supports long-term behavior change than does counseling alone.

Without treatment, offenders are more likely to re-offend and/or to occupy expensive jail beds. Treatment has been proven to be effective at reducing recidivism both in Oregon and nationally. DCJ has piloted, implemented and is now looking to expand programs such as the Reentry Enhancement Coordination (REC) program. This program includes treatment, housing, mentors, and vocational assistance and was studied by the Criminal Justice Commission. This program reduced re-arrest by 43% over a matched but untreated control group. In addition, 74% of participants were employed within 90 days and 84% had independent housing at 90 days. For every dollar spent on this program, $6.73 in tax payer and crime victim costs were avoided.
