Executive Summary

Providing adults under supervision wraparound services is an effective strategy, especially for those classified as high risk to re-offend. These services can include outpatient alcohol and drug treatment. Alcohol/drug treatment addresses a major criminal risk factor and is a necessary correctional intervention if DCJ is to continue to be successful in reducing recidivism. Other services such as mental health counseling, vocational assistance, mentoring, and housing are also essential to provide.

Program Summary

This program offer supports a recovery system of care which includes comprehensive support for recovery in addition to counseling, such as stable and drug free housing, peer mentors, and vocational assistance. A recovery system of care better supports long-term behavior change than counseling alone.

Without treatment, offenders are more likely to re-offend and/or to occupy expensive jail beds. Treatment has been proven to be effective at reducing recidivism both in Oregon and nationally. DCJ has piloted, implemented and is now looking to expand programs such as the Reentry Enhancement Coordination (REC) program. This program includes treatment, housing, mentors, and vocational assistance and was studied by the Criminal Justice Commission. This program reduced re-arrest by 43% over a matched but untreated control group. In addition, 74% of participants were employed within 90 days and 84% had independent housing at 90 days. For every dollar spent on this program, $6.73 in tax payer and crime victim costs were avoided.

Over the next year we will begin restructuring the Adult Services Division (ASD). This will result in combining programs to better serve our population, realigning supervision practices to meet their needs, and centralizing support services. This restructuring will include a focus on providing upfront assessments to help determine the needs of the offenders and ensuring those needs are met by providing a variety of wraparound services. These include housing, employment assistance, mentoring. Availability of these services made available through this program offer will be a key piece of the ASD restructuring.
