Returns are net of fund operating expenses, which are deducted from fund assets and include management fees, distribution (12b-1) fees, and other expenses. Returns are not adjusted to reflect HRA VEBA Trust's annualized administrative fee of approximately 1.10% for this reporting period. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Current performance may be higher or lower than the performance shown below. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that your account value, when withdrawn, can be worth more or less than its original value. More information, including fund fact sheets, is available at hraveba.org.

Generally, higher potential returns involve greater risk and short-term volatility. For example, small-cap and mid-cap funds can experience significant price fluctuation due to business risks and adverse political developments. International funds can experience price fluctuation due to changing market conditions, currency value, and economic and political climates. Bond funds invest in "fixed income instruments" and share prices and/or yields can be affected by periods of declining or rapidly rising interest rates. Funds are not insured and are not backed by the U.S. government, and their value and yield will vary with market conditions.

should reflect an allocation of approximately 80% of the fund's assets to common stocks and 20% to bonds.

In most cases, prospectuses are available at each fund's respective website. Prospectuses contain more complete information, including fund risks and objectives, fees, charges, expenses, and other information about the investment company that should be considered before investing. Please read prospectuses carefully before making an investment decision. You should consult with a personal financial advisor before making an investment decision. HRA VEBA Trust's Board of Trustees, plan consultant, and customer care center do not give investment advice.
