Executive Summary

The Classification Unit is a specialized unit comprised of skilled Corrections Deputies, whose primary function is to determine appropriate housing of adults in custody during an initial interview using an objective jail classification instrument. The Classification Unit staff interview every pretrial arrestee and sentenced offender to determine appropriate housing based upon criminal charge, institutional behavior, risk, and programmatic needs. This process assists in ensuring the safety of adults in custody and the safety of staff while supporting efficient management of MCSO's corrections facilities.

Program Summary

The Classification Unit is responsible for maintaining a classification system that provides housing configurations used to create safe separations for pretrial adults in custody and sentenced offenders of different risk and need levels. Important factors when determining appropriate housing for an adult in custody include; criminal charge, institutional behavior, risk, and programmatic needs. The Unit's primary goal is to operate an objective classification system that provides for separations between violent and non-violent offenders and to facilitate movement through administrative processes from the most restrictive housing to the least restrictive housing in a safe and structured manner. This is a critical element to ensure that the jail meets a reasonable standard of care required by the United States Constitution.

Best practice has shown that utilizing an objective classification process is key. This process creates a structure that allows in custody adults who require special housing or have special needs to be housed in an environment with those of like needs. Adults in custody who create the potential for compromising safety and security are housed in more restrictive environments with enhanced security as appropriate. The objective classification process is also designed to identify programmatic needs and provide adequate services and programs to assist in custody adults in building positive life-skills with the ultimate goal of successful re-entry into the community.

Finally, the Classification Unit is also responsible to provide an in custody disciplinary process that is fair and balanced to maintain proper order in the corrections facilities, as well as to promote human values, individual dignity, and socially desirable changes in attitude and behavior. Holding adults in custody accountable while under the supervision of the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office is critical to maintain a safe work environment for both employees and adults in custody.
