Executive Summary

The Communications Office connects people in Multnomah County to their government and County employees to one another. We do this by providing accurate, timely and responsive information on County services, employees and news. Staff chronicle, curate and disseminate the work of the Board of County Commissioners and County departments. The Office enables citizens to express their needs and ideas by conducting public engagement, providing public records and working effectively with media. The Office also provides emergency and crisis communications.

Program Summary

Communications staff create accessible materials to engage and inform the public through writing, photography, video, audio recordings and graphic design. The Office's overarching value is: "All are welcome here." The understanding is that everyone in Multnomah County and beyond is valued and should have access to services. With that in mind, all our communication strives to provide representation, accessibility and content that is inclusive. All stories, photos, video and graphic design have sensitive and respectful representations of our diverse community and workforce. We are constantly striving to accurately depict the staff, programs, clients, neighborhoods and partners we serve. Accessibility is key to every design, print, broadcast and online product. The effort to reach a full audience drives decisions from language translation, to font size, to video formats. To assure inclusiveness, we begin every task asking: 'Who is most affected?,' 'Who needs to know?' and 'Who is being left out?'' This lens helps us include more diverse voices, challenge our assumptions and be a stronger bridge to the community.

The Office creates and maintains more than 20 websites and amplifies that information on the County's main social media accounts: Facebook, Twitter, Instagram. The Office conducts all media relations and media training. Staff create photos, videos and news stories for multco.us and for use by news organizations ranging from culturally specific newspapers to national and international television networks. The Office works 24/7 to monitor and develop emergency health and safety communications for the public and employees. They support County leadership by developing position statements, op-eds and news releases. Using strategic communications, the Communications staff proactively anticipate issues and advise elected and department leaders and staff on critical concerns. The Office develops public education campaigns and convenes public meetings. The staff receive and complete public records requests. The Office also connects all County employees to one another through the weekly Wednesday Wire newsletter. Staff develops a cohesive voice, style and brand for the organization and maintains those through constant interaction across departments. Key objectives for 2020:

- Increase access to County services by increasing public awareness of programs and initiatives.
- Increase connections to populations with low use of existing communication channels.
- Support Workforce Equity through a comprehensive website, glossary, news, surveys and other engagement.
- Increase professionalism and public confidence in County employees through training on media, social media, photography and design standards.
