Executive Summary

Juvenile Field Probation (JFP) services are divided into specialized units designed to address the unique needs of each youth population. Specialized units serve youth involved in serious person felonies, gangs, sexual offenses, weapon related charges, and victims of commercial sexual exploitation (CSEC). Juvenile Field Probation holds youth accountable through specialized supervision and sanctions, restorative opportunities, skill building, mentoring, and positive developmentally appropriate activities.

Program Summary

Juvenile Court Counselors (JCC) develop probation case plans, enforce court ordered conditions, and address victim restitution and restoration. In addition to holding youth accountable for repairing harm, JCC's coordinate treatment (e.g. mental health and substance abuse) and interventions designed to address and prevent further delinquent behavior. Skill building, mentoring, educational advocacy, and the incorporation of pro-social developmentally-appropriate activities are all used to counteract gang involvement, sexual offending, and other harmful behaviors leading to further involvement in the justice system. JFP focuses on the highest risk youth by utilizing Functional Family Probation Services (FFPS), an evidence-based case management model that has proven results in reducing recidivism and promoting accountability and positive youth development among justice-involved youth. Probation's use of FFPS increases family participation in the youth's supervision and treatment, and youth have increased success on supervision when family members are actively participating. JCCs refer youth to interventions including intensive family based counseling, specialized youth treatment, culturally appropriate services, job readiness and employment opportunities, positive peer influences, and community support systems.

JCCs are an integral member of the Community Healing Initiative (CHI), which uses an interdisciplinary, culturally specific approach to develop and implement plans for positive youth development, family support and community protection. JCCs also collaborate with police, adult parole-probation officers and the community to gather intelligence that helps with intervention when delinquent behavior is present.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. Juvenile court counselors have suspended non essential home visits and utilize Skype, Facetime and phone check-ins with justice involved youth and their families. They continue to provide in-person supervision to youth whose behavior presents a high risk to community safety. Regular in person meetings will resume in FY 2022 when it is safe to do so.
